Who Will Ask Protection?

Tragedy struck close at home last week when three Northville youths narrowly escaped death at an unprotected railroad crossing north of the village. Two of these boys lie on hospital cots thinking, waiting and hoping for happier days to come.

Have you ever suffered the agony of auto injuries, or cast your eyes upon the bruised, racked, broken and bloody forms of crash victims? If you have you will not need urging to join with us in asking protection at the tragic crossing. If not, spare yourself unpleasant dreams, take our word and join with us.

By a queer coincidence other crossings on the railroad are protected. The scene of the tragedy, more obstructed, more dangerous, because of angles, trees, bridge, and elevation of the road bed is unprotected. The creek adds hazards by often clothing the crossing in mist or fog. And therefore by deduction or any process of reasoning this crossing should be protected.

And kind friends, here's the rub. The crossing is outside the village, just over the line in Oakland county. And it is up to the solicitation of L. B. Rice, of Plymouth, of the Automobile Club of Michigan the railroad company agreed to concur in a request to provide protection at this crossing if proper application were filed according to law under public act 250 of 1931. We hold in our files copies of this concurrence on the part of the Pere Marquette. So what? And it is our move.

Under law the cost of the protection is assumed jointly by the railroad company and the county. The crossing being in Oakland necessary requests must of course come from Oakland county people. Undoubtedly if the matter were properly placed before the Oakland county authorities they would concur in the request, to the end of proper protection at the point in question. Certainly there is little defense, and few reasons for opposing such a reasonable request. Who will take the first step?

How many accidents, near accidents, and tragedies have occurred in the last three years at the unprotected crossing north of town on the P. M. R.? We know parents who can make an authentic reply.

America's food market belongs to the American farmer.

Can Take It

In a campaign of vilification the Michigan Digest included our friend and neighbor Elton Eaton of the Plymouth Mail. Nor is our good neighbor editor and legislator alone in the campaign, for Muel Defoe of Charlotte, and Vern Brown of Mason, and others have suffered the same ungenerous and unwarranted attacks. We believe that such mud-slinging, political tactics can only tend to increase our respect and admiration of three slandered men and their ability to take it.

Wonder how that Detroit trade will work out? The St. Louis Post-Dispatch comments "but how did the Browns happen to overlook Henry and Edgel Ford."

Michigan Days

Governor Dickinson has officially proclaimed the period, June 1 to 10, "Michigan Days for Michigan Prosperity."

During these ten days, the State's leading retailers, will conduct an unprecedented statewide drive to increase consumption of the quality products of Michigan's farms and factories. All residents of the Wolverine state will approve of the threefold objective set by the committee sponsoring the campaign.

- Jobs for Michigan Workers!
- Markets for Michigan Products!
- Savings for Michigan Consumers!

Michigan is in a strategic position to benefit from this concerted drive toward prosperity. Current indices for virtually every industry indicate a brightening of the State's business horizon. More men are at work than in 1938, their earnings are greater, and their dollars buy more of the necessities and luxuries of life. As one of the nation's key industrial states, Michigan is thus in a position to make a lasting contribution to national recovery.

Elements in the State's economic life have indicated an awareness of the opportunity offered the State by "Michigan Days." It has been endorsed by business stores. "Michigan Days" has been endorsed by congressmen, state officials, consumers, farmers and business men. Like Governor Dickinson, they have hailed the drive as a "public spirited movement."

We agree with Governor Dickinson that the State should seize upon this opportunity to stimulate economic recovery. That all Michigan citizens should "give their wholehearted support to this drive that may succeed in its purpose of creating prosperity in our State."

We further believe that "Michigan Days" should be made an annual event, to keep the ball of Michigan prosperity rolling.

The Agricultural Department estimates that there are today 11,362,000 employed on American farms, as compared with 9,960,000 a month ago.

Month and a half to go the federal deficit for the year has passed the $3,000,000,000 mark. The federal debt now has passed the quarter billion mark.

May seem the average cloud is said to weigh 300,000 pounds. The weight of the silver lining.

Northville's Vanilla Comes from These

In equipment such as this is produced the extracts that have made the Northville Laboratories, Inc., leaders in its field. Two and four fold vanilla extracts are made in the glass-lined percolators pictured above at the left. Between processing and bottling the extracts are kept in glass-lined storage tanks similar to those shown at the right.

The local plant is one of the state's many industries to which attention is being directed during "Michigan Days for Michigan Prosperity," June 1-10.

300 TAKE PART IN MEMORIAL DAY PARADE

Rites Honor Dead in Two
Village Cemeteries Tuesday Morning

Scott Is Speaker

Solymn Memorial Day services, honoring the memory of Northville's heroic dead of all wars, was climaxed Tuesday by a colorful parade and special ceremonies.

Ideal weather and the general participation of all patriotic organizations, led of course by the Lloyd Green Post of the American Legion, made the occasion exceptionally appropriate.

Sunday, the members of the Post, in their bodies, attended divine worship at the St. Paul's Lutheran church at the invitation of the pastor, the Rev. E. E. Rossow. Tuesday at 10 a. m. the Penman-Allen theatre was filled for the program, and then nearly 300 community builders joined the parade to Oakwood and Rural Hill cemeteries for the rites of the day, paying tribute to soldiers and sailors who have given their lives in the service of their country.

At Lutheran Church
Addressing his remarks, particularly to the Legion, the Auxiliary, and the Women's Relief Corps who attended in a body, Mr. Rossow paid fitting tribute to the full meaning of Memorial Day Sunday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran church. Special music further marked the occasion, when a trio composed of Miss Selma Schmitt, Mrs. Arthur Miller and Mrs. John Buchner sang "Morning Service."

At the Penman-Allen theatre, Commander A. G. Carlson introduced the program of the hour. Following the prelude played by Guy Filkins, and the advancement of the colors, an invocation was given by the Rev. Dr. Joseph Schramm of Our Lady of Victory church; Julian Thiemme gave Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Miss Evelyn Ambler sang sweetly, "The Phantom Legion."

A special feature of the hour was the reading of "The Service Flag" by Marilyn Cavel, supported by a window on the stage displaying a service flag and lighted lamp, that spoke of three sons in the war. Gold Star mothers and sisters, the president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Floyd Lanning, and the acting president of the Women's Relief Corps, Mrs. Dean Griswold, were presented corsage bouquets by the commander of the post in special tribute.

"Sleep Soldier, Sleep," was given by the male quartette composed of Leslie G. Lee, Carl Bryan, Ray VanValkenburg and Cecil Gages.

Walter H. Scott, chief attorney of the Veterans' Administration, delivered the address of the day, and reminded Americans that while liberty and freedom were being trampled to death across the seas, it would do credit to our people should they solemnly review the year just passed, and find much of complicity to their attitude of calmness. Government and economies have failed to keep pace with science, and in this of help keep an even keel in the battle.

BOARD OF EDUCATION APPROVES SCHOOL'S APPRENTICE PLAN

The apprentice plan, adopted by the Northville high school this year for the first time, has been given approval for another year by the board of education.

Headed by E. V. Ellison, 11 boys have been placed in apprentice positions since school started in September. Two have dropped out, but Mr. Ellison expects to have 15 boys in that particular field before the end of the present school term. "We have several prospects in view, knowing that there are other business men in the community who want to benefit themselves in this way and at the same time aid boys who are seeking work through the apprentice department," comments Mr. Ellison.

It is understood that the board agreed to have the apprentice plan a second year because the members felt the plan had served a definite community need.

In addition to supervising the apprentice members of his class, Mr. Ellison has established an odd-job bureau. In this manner several village housewives have been able to get boys and girls to assist with window washing, washing houses, beautifying lawns and other jobs. "If the townspeople want this type of service, all they have to do is contact us. We'll also be glad to help any unemployed young people find work," affirms Mr. Ellison.

Amerman Says Clinic Committee Will Meet

Mrs. Willard E. E. Johnson, Mrs. John L. Senberger, Mrs. W. H. Johnston and Supt. R. H. Amerman attended a meeting Thursday, May 25, in Plymouth to make arrangements for the dental clinic which is to be held in the two communities during the summer months under the sponsorship of the Children's Fund of Michigan.

Supt. G. A. Smith of Plymouth, has been asked to serve with Mr. Amerman as a co-chairman of the joint committee. Details for the clinic were worked out Thursday, with the date, June 27, set for the Plymouth clinic opening.

Northville will be given dental clinic and sometime in August. Both school and pre-school age groups will benefit.

The Northville committee is meeting this afternoon with Mr. Amerman to further the plans for Northville. "We plan to ask other persons to serve on this committee too," Mr. Amerman said Wednesday.

EXCHANGITES WAGE WAR; WAVE TRUCE FLAG-- IN CHURCH HOUSE

Despite the urgings of Memorial Day orators across the nation Northville Exchange members went to war Wednesday noon and came back safe and sound in limb and wind, led by "General" Robert K. Leary, in the Methodist church house.

Not a full-fledged battle of armaments, but rather one of arguments for and against American participation in European troubles was this short-lived expedition, scheduled as the regular program of the day.

Consensus dwelt on the belief that current war scares and crises in Europe are "just talk," that the United States had better solve domestic problems before it goes abroad on a mission of salvation, and that we should practice "good neighborliness" with Mexico and South American neighbors to meet the threat of European domination. A majority expressed belief in armed preparedness, though a minority declared extravagance of the present arms race.

"General" Leary opened the program with a comprehensive outline

B.C. STARK SETS 1939 TAX RATE FOR VILLAGE

Jump of $2.44 Is Noted To Cover Extra Expenses in Northville Budget

Council Yet To Act

B. C. Stark, village assessor, has established the tax rate for the Village of Northville for 1939 at $20.78 a thousand valuation.

This is an increase of $2.44 over last year's rate. "Made necessary to cover the $4,000 increase in the budget, which councilmen accepted a few weeks ago."

The jump in village expenditures has been allowed by the council to cover the cost of oiling the unpaved streets of the village and for the sinking of a well to supplement Northville's water supply, which has been found inadequate by the State Board of Health.

No Property Increase
Councilmen have not yet had an opportunity to act on Mr. Stark's recommendation for a $20.78 tax rate. There has been no increase in valuation of property during the year. Mr. Stark has the valuation figure set at approximately $2,500,000.

It Might Not Have Happened Here

"You may say to Mr. Rice that if the village or county authorities will file a request with the Michigan Public Utilities Commission under Act 250 of the Public Acts of 1931, the Pere Marquette Railway Company will concur." This paragraph is taken from a letter dated Feb. 21, 1939, signed by W. B. Bachman, of the Detroit Automobile club, and refers to a request sent by Mr. Rice asking for a flasher at the crossing north of the village.

The concurrence was from the office of John C. Shields, General Solicitor of the Pere Marquette Railway.

Mr. Bachman's letter continues: "That simply means that the Pere Marquette will pay their share if the county or village pays theirs. You see, these flashers are put up at a split cost."

"Investigation of the crossing would indicate that the trees on the county road are a great factor against safety at the crossing. If the county or village would trim or remove the trees and have the County Road Commission place reflector disks on the road side about 100 yards from the crossing, perhaps it would help very much."

Northville's high school has been placed on a three-year accredited list by the University Committee on Relations with Secondary Schools, according to a statement issued this week by H. C. Koch of the University, following the inspection given here May 18 by Prof. Ralph W. Hammett.

From is noted
This is the first time in the history of the school that Northville has been given more than a two-year rating, indicating that progress has been made in the past two years along educational lines in the school system.

In releasing the rating announcement, Principal G. V. Harrison said that improved study habits went a long way toward bringing about the three-year approval. "We've changed over to 55 minute class periods, which allow for supervised study, he commented.

Poppy Day Response Exceeds 1938 Sale

The response for the poppy sale exceeded the sale of last year. Exactly $251.00 worth of the red paper flowers were sold in Northville, where the goal was the sale of $200. The community fell short just about 100 of its goal.

A corps of Legion men and workers stood on vantage points in the village all day Saturday, taking the money the loyal villagers placed in the canisters in exchange for the poppies.

"We're truly grateful for the response we received this year," comments Mrs. Charles F. Murphy, who with George Summons, headed the sale this year. All of the money will be used in Northville for rehabilitation work among the Mayoury and Eastlawa ex-service men, and for the child welfare program.

Speech Class Play Proves Successful

May 23, at approximately eight-thirty, Miss Estelle Griffiths' speech class presented "A Message from Khufu".

The cast was made up of the following persons: Professor Hardin, E. K. Starkweather, Herman, Harry Sommer, Butch, Junior Holt, Ben, Cecil Nelder.

The plot of the play centered about the tomb of Khufu, the ancient Egyptian general. The four men are in the tomb as Professor Hardin tells the others to remove the lid of the general's coffin. After removing the lid, they find a large emerald. Butch kills the professor, and takes the emerald out of the coffin. Then Butch and Herman are killed by a mysterious vapor arising from the emerald.

Ben places the gem back in the coffin and the tomb door. "Which had closed when the gem was stolen, opens and Ben gets his freedom through this door, thus ending the play."

Grade Notes

This is a selection on "Frogs" written by Eddie Lanning, who with the rest of Miss Margaret Carpenter's third grade has been studying about this amphibian.

"Frogs are hatched out of what looks like a mass of white jelly full of black dots. Then they are small and black. They grow bigger and have long tails. Next they turn green. Then they get their hind legs. Their tails grow shorter. Soon their tails are all gone. Then they get their front legs. Now they are full-grown frogs. They hop up on land. They hunt for food and play about."

"Soon their skins loosen up and rip down the middle. They take them off. If they are on land they will eat them up. If they are in water they will let them float away. They do this several times a summer. Next comes winter. They dig themselves into the mud in the bottom of the pond. They sleep under the mud all winter. When spring comes again they will crawl out and find mates. Then they lay the eggs in the water. After that is over they go into their eggs. You already know what they look like. The young tadpoles do the same as their parents."

Efficient Seeing

Devoted to Eye Welfare for Everyone

EYES THAT CAN'T KEEP A SECRET

Frequently, you can go to your physician and tell him what is the matter with you. Many of the ailing person, who can very nearly diagnose his own ailment.

But with your eye-sight, you are stumped. You can tell easily enough that you have a head-ache, you know when your print blurs, and when you cannot see to do your sewing or other close work. You know when you are nervous and "fidgety." All these things you are aware of. BUT—you cannot go to your optometrist and tell him what is the matter with you. He can very nearly diagnose your eye-sight, but he cannot tell you what to do about it. That is the most important fact of all.

found more and more ways of making your visual system yield its secrets. We seldom meet a pair of eyes that can keep a secret from us nowadays. We have devised a series of visual experiences, from which we derive a syndrome of symptoms that tell of your innermost and deeply-hidden visual condition, a condition that was hidden even from you, yourself.

This is a triumph. Realize with us that decade or so ago, all we could find out was if you could see well at a distance or not. Now we have found ways to ferret out nearly all of the visual complications that people have, and we have a own case. It's a different situation now. Year after year, optometrists have of all.

Salem News

By MRS. C. O. HAMMOND

Over 125 persons attended the banquet sponsored by the P. T. A. Wednesday evening, May 24, in honor of the eighth grade graduates of the Salem Union school.

The dining room was beautifully decorated with blue and gold, the class colors. Favors were miniature diplomas. After a delicious dinner served by the seventh grade pupils, the program was opened by C. O.

Hammond, the P. T. A. president. N. G. Currie was presented as toastmaster. Ruth Granger gave the valedictory. Marvin Bauman the class history. Shirley Mack the class prophet. Gifts were presented by Frank Holman. After the class song by all, Arthur Secord of the University of Michigan speech department gave the address on "Handicaps".

The committees in charge of this successful affair were: Mrs. Helen Irwin, program; Mrs. C. O. Hammond, kitchen; Mrs. Arthur Hardisty, dining room; Mrs. Tennant and Mrs. Waid, tickets; and Mrs.

George Bennett, decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Don Granger entertained visitors from California last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huff, Ypsilanti, spent last Friday with Mrs. Anna Young.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hammond and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foss at Northville, Sunday.

Mrs. John Herrick has recuperated enough after a recent serious operation, to be brought home and is much improved in health.

Memorial services were held at the old church at the Walker cemetery on Memorial Day. A group of Daughters of America, Detroit, were visitors that day. Each year the old church is opened to hold services in honor of the old Civil War veterans and the many prominent citizens, including Alvin Sarah Stanbro, who died a little over a year ago.

The Salem Union school picnic was held at Riverside Park, Plymouth, last Sunday with an attendance of over 100 people.

The Willing Workers class of the Federated church will hold their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Cora Pennell on Wednesday, June 14, in the afternoon with a silver sea. All the women in the community are invited.

John M. Toolin, president of Central Western Division of Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., directs advertising for Michigan Prosperity in "Michigan Days"—10-day retail campaign opened to expand markets for Michigan farm and factory products.

A & P Co. Spends $26,000,000 Annually for State's Products

Spending more than $26,000,000 a year for Michigan farm products, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company ranks as a leading factor in the Wolverine State's prosperity.

John M. Toolin, president of the company's Central Western Division declared. The A & P is vigorously participating in the "Michigan Days" campaign.

Many products of Michigan farms and packing plants will be featured in the A & P stores during the Michigan Days campaign from June 1 to 10. This is in line with the company's dual policy of providing markets for the produce of local farms and offering savings to consumers.

The A & P stores and super markets in the state pay rents totaling almost $1,000,000 annually to Michigan landlords.

Total wages paid to Michigan residents employed by the company amount to more than $6,000,000 every year. Approximately 12 cents out of each dollar consumers spend in A & P stores throughout the State end up in the weekly pay envelopes of its Michigan employees.

One of the heaviest taxpayers in the State, the A & P contributes $475,000 annually to the coffers of State and local governing bodies.

The company has always been a firm believer in the value of newspaper advertising to the need of food distribution. Last year the company expended $21,000 for advertising purposes in this State.

Mrs. Marshall Herrick, the Misses Drucilla and Bonnie Macintosh spent the week end in North Branch at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Macintosh.

FACTS FAVOR FORD

1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range—and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.

2 The structural strength of the Ford car—frame, bracing, axles, body—makes not only for safety, but durability and long life.

3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.

4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.

These four points—power, strength, safety, comfort—are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.

With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.

You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see—quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

Boxes around Horse Show Ring Are Center of Social Activity

When horses have a day in the ring, that means that around the ring there will be just about everyone who admires fine horses and just about everyone who admires the people who admire the horses. That does take in everyone — just about anyone.

A number of Northville folk took boxes and graciously entertained friends throughout the two days and stopped to chat, many coming from out of town for the event.

Social focus points among villagers were the boxes of John J. Hettche, Harry B. Clark, Russell Walker, C. D. Ragdale, Harry Marburger, Ben T. Steers, Miss Reva Schrader, Northville Saddle Horse association, Miss Evelyn Ruth Grenham, Scott Cole, John L. Nelson, L. D. Reat, Mrs. T. Glenn Eddy, R. P. Washburne, E. Z. Wood, R. P. Colman, William E. Dowling, Nate S. Shapiro and Mrs. William Rayle Brown.

Despite overcast skies, the reserved boxes were filled both days by loyal horse enthusiasts. The show went on between showers. When the rains came, spectators, horses and officials deserted the ring for shelter in the club house and stables. Even the trophies and the speaker system were put under cover. But when the sunny skies returned, out came the spectators and horses. The officials, the trophies and the speaker system and the ring was again the center of activity — a colorful sight it was too, with summer clothes making the first appearance of any importance of the season. Brilliant rain coats dotted the boxes as they were brought out to salvage smart summer attire, with cotton frocks and hats taking a prominence which gives promise of a successful cotton season.

Clark's Are Hosts Sunday — Following the Horse Show classes Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark opened their country home on the East Eight Mile road to the members of the committee and a few additional guests.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ada M. Johnson

This community has lost another of its older residents at the death Friday, May 26, of Mrs. Ada M. Johnson at her residence on Wing street.

Although partially confined to her home during the past several years, because of rheumatism, she has managed to visit close friends and relatives and Apr. 1, attended a family dinner at the home of her daughter in celebration of her eightieth birthday. To the very last, she retained a vital interest in life and in the everyday happenings of her friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Johnson was first taken ill Sunday May 21, but appeared so rally only to suffer a second recurrence of her illness Thursday evening from which she never recovered.

She was born Ada M. Simmons, eldest of five children given to Angele and James Morrell Simmons, one of the pioneer families of this community, Apr. 1, 1859, on the old family homestead in Livonia township, where she spent her early childhood and young womanhood.

She was married May 13, 1880 to the late Dr. W. G. Johnson and the next 45 years of her life were spent at their farm residence south of Northville, where their only child, Mrs. Harry R. Lush, was born.

Shortly after the death of her husband in 1924, Mrs. Johnson moved to the present residence at 121 North Wing street, where the last years of her life were spent.

Funeral services were held last Sunday afternoon from the home of her daughter at 230 Six Mile road Northville, the Rev. McWilliams of Redford officiating. Interment was in the family crypt of the mausoleum at Rural Hill cemetery.

The deceased is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Harry R. Lush, a grandson R. Blake Northrop, two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Miller and Mrs. Clara Simmons (deceased), a brother, Elza Simmons, and a host of other relatives and friends, who will miss her ready friendship and cheerful interest in all.

The door has opened and closed again. And a dear friend has gone away. And we do not know now or we guess.

How far her steps may stray. But this we know and thus we believe. And none can say us nay. That somewhere, sometime when God will. We'll meet again some day.

Yes some place in the great Beyond. Where she has gone to stay. And meet old friends who left long since.

We seem to hear her say. Now don't you worry nor don't you grieve. For I'm not far away. And sometime when God says the word. We'll meet again some day.

Schrader-Haggerty Takes Sunday Game from Northville

To the tune of 8-5, the Northville Merchants' team suffered its second defeat of the season May 21 to the Schrader-Haggerty team of Plymouth.

"The loss was largely due to the mistakes made afield," comments Manager Dave Hay, who says that Northville started off well, scoring three runs in the first with some "good solid hitting."

Plymouth came back with one in the first, two in the second, and one in the third. Three hits in the fifth netted two more runs for Northville. Moirer tightened up then, holding Northville, for three hits for the remainder of the game.

Schrader-Haggerty put three more runs across in the fifth and one in the sixth, ending the scoring for the afternoon. Northville's five runs were well earned, while four of Plymouth's were of the unearned variety," asserts Mr. Hay, who gives credit to Bishop for being the star of the day with a triple, double and two singles and some sparkling plays at the short stop position.

Destefano is credited with two out of three. Haggerty with two out of four, was right behind him. Haggerty was unlucky in not getting a hit, but was a tower of strength in left field, pulling down several well hit balls.

Darrell Bulmon's catch of Schrader's long fly to deep center was a "fencey" taking the ball over his shoulder. While going at top speed, Bulmon started on the mound for Northville being relieved in the fifth by Westfall. Bulmon gave up nine of the 12 hits gathered by Plymouth.

Pasture for dairy cows during the summer months usually dwindles down so it is not furnishing enough feed for best milk production.

The dairy extension leader, Grant-Dairy Cows - Pasture states "It is a strong even though widespread belief that a cow on pasture, or alleged pasture, can get along without grain. She needs some grain even on good pasture, needs plenty grain on poor pasture. Just being outdoors in a field doesn't cancel the need for real food nutrients. A cow run down in flesh due to skimp summer feed, is an expensive article to re-upholster in the fall.

To tide over the remainder of the season Sudan grass sown now, corn planting time, gives pasture in six weeks. There is no known case in Michigan of prussic acid poisoning. Rye sown in mid-August will give
