These allotments will be mailed to the farmers as soon as the office work is completed. All farmers are urged to inspect their allotments and to make any appeals to the county office promptly so that any changes or corrections may be completed at an early date.

Armstrong, Casterline, Vradenburg Get Model Planes Ready for Flight

Three Northville model plane enthusiasts will enter the Twelfth National Championship Model Airplane meet to be held July 5-9 in Detroit. They are Fred Casterline, Clark Armstrong and Al Vradenburg.

First Gas Model
Although he's been making rubber band models for the past four years, Clark has just completed his first large gasoline model and will enter a model meet for the first time.

Fred has a new model plane ready for demonstration. It is smaller than any he's entered in contests to date. Fred may enter two planes in the Detroit meet. He's completely remodeled and revamped an old plane to such an extent that it's practically new too.

Exchanges Sponsor Meet
This year the 26 Exchange club, which compose the Detroit Metropolitan Council has joined hands in the sponsorship of the Meet. More than 1,000 model plane enthusiasts are expected. The contest committee of the Meet management and the sponsors are doing everything humanly possible to make this year's Meet even more successful than the last one. Two years ago, Fred placed second in the Toledo Meet. That same year, he placed fourth in the State Meet at Lansing.

If he doesn't have to work, another model plane enthusiast Al Vradenburg will enter his model in the National Meet.

According to Fred, the plane that can stay in the air the longest for the three-flight average will be the winner. Each contestant must give a demonstration before the flight. The plane must be glided from six feet in the air and landed without damage or nosing.

WALLED LAKE BOARD SIGNS NEW TEACHERS
Teaching Personnel Completed; Faculty Members Attend Summer School

By C. E. HUTTON
Six new teachers will be added to the present personnel of the Wall Lake Consolidated schools faculty with the start of the fall semester, according to an announcement made Monday by Sup't. C. A. Hoffman.

Three Ypsilanti Normal school graduates have already received local contracts to teach in the lower grades. They are Helen Liqon of Dearborn, sixth grade; Hazel Robinson of Reading sixth grade, and Willemine Young of Holly first grade. A Brazilian vocal music instructor and two grade teachers will also be added bringing the total number of teachers to 36, for the three schools of the system.

The third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be divided into two sections each, beginning with the fall term. Teaching arrangements and schedules are to be arranged, according to Mr. Hoffman. An important change will be the appointment of Floyd Chever of the high school faculty, as principal of the Union Lake school.

Several members of the faculty will attend summer schools during the next two months. Miss Letha West goes to Ann Arbor and will later spend two weeks at her home in Corning, Ia. George Carpenter, principal, will attend the Educators' Conference at the University of Michigan, and will complete two weeks of summer work at the local school, before touring Canada.

The Eastern States with his far Waldo Proctor, agricultural teacher will supervise a local practice program, accompany the local F. (Continued on back page)

JULY FOURTH CELEBRATION DRAWS 20 CARS

Tim Doolittle, Radio Personality, Will Be Featured; 3 Bands Will Participate

Legion Is Sponsor

With an expected attendance of ten to twelve thousand, everything looks rosy for the big Fourth of July Celebration at the Northville fair grounds. With every effort of the American Legion Post, the Women's Auxiliary, the Drum and Bugle Corps, and the hearty cooperation of the businessmen and citizens of the community focused on this big event, and the wonderful reception of the celebration throughout Wayne county, things really point to a big day and worthwhile thrills and entertainment.

Drum and Bugle Corps Play
The country has been flooded with advertising; surrounding towns have been visited by the Drum and Bugle Corps advertising the day. Tim Doolittle has broadcast the event over the radio; racers have spread the news. And all in all, the estimate of 10,000 attendance may easily be upped to nearly 12,000. So be sure to come early, to get your seats.

Listed among the events of the day are midget auto races. Nearly 20 cars have signed up for the events and over 200 miles of racing is on the card. Concessions, galore, have been asked to come and help swell the program of the day, nothing will be missing. Day and night carnival, will get away to a big start Saturday and remain over the big day.

Lead by the prize winning color band of the Charles Young Legion Post of Detroit, the Drum and Bugle Corps and the Northville high school band will be there to keep things lively all along the line, and with three bands vying for attention watch them do their stuff.

In the Evening
In the evening Tim Doolittle will entertain the big crowd as only Tim can do it. He'll lead the fun of his will want to see him in person and beat the big program. Then the drum corps will play. Everybody will want to cheer into that or watch it and what fun it is for everyone whether watcher or participant.

Fireworks
The Legion boys have spared no time and effort to get the best fireworks, that come out any and they will be worth the price of admission. Set places, and aerial flares and every conceivable type of noise and display will be shown.

Free Car at Eleven
And at eleven o'clock those donors to the Drum and Bugle Corps will want to be on hand to see who wins that Bantam automobile that will be given away. To raise money for their work the Drum and Bugle Corps is sponsoring the Bantam car project, and will give the car away to those qualifying in it. It will be present at the time or someone else may drive the car away. See the advertisement of the project in this issue of The Record. See the car on display and be on hand Tuesday night at eleven.

A Token To Our Dairymen

As token of good will to the many excellent dairies, and farms in and about Northville, let us remind you that June is National Dairy Month. Gov. Dickinson milks a cow on the capitol lawn to signalize our great stake in this Michigan industry. To emphasize the movement 85 sales chains are cooperating with the national food chains, the national dairy council, farm organizations, manufacturers, distributors and producers to make June of 1939 a great dairy month.

Why not celebrate with a large flowing bowl of good cool milk this week end? And maybe a few pertinent facts concerning the stake of our people in this great industry might be informative and interesting:

Nine hundred thousand or the 24 million dairy cows of the nation reside in Michigan.

The per capita consumption of milk and dairy products is: Milk - 153 quarts; butter - 17 pounds; cheese - 5 1/2 pounds; ice cream - 2 gallons; canned milk - 15 pounds (we are a little short on ice cream just now).

Three-fourths of the farms of the nation contribute to the country's milk supply, and the cash farm income in 1938 was $1,430,000,000 - the largest cash crop of the year.

The 50 billion quarts produced placed side by side would circle the globe 120 times.

Dr. E. V. McCollum, noted scientist says, "The people who have achieved, who have become large, strong, vigorous people, who have reduced their infant mortality, who have the best trades in the world, who have an appreciation for art, literature, and music, who are progressive in science and in every activity of the human intellect, are the people who have used liberal amounts of milk and its products."

So lift your hat to the milk man when he comes in the wee hours. He is a worker, a builder, and an industrious and essential citizen in our midst. The dairies in and about Northville are worthy of your patronage, and esteem. A guardian of your health, a strength builder, and hard worker, your Northville dairyman merits your appreciation and patronage.

A sure sign of a growing community - Northville's school census shows an increase from 759 in 1938, to 803 in 1939 - a gain of 44.

To H. G. Marburger, for years of faithful service; for quiet constructive work with the Ford Motor Car company since 1903, and years of good citizenship in and about this community we offer congratulations

It isn't the size of our community that counts, it's the spirit - witness the coming Fourth of July Celebration, and the preparations for the Northville Fair - and Northville surely has the spirit.

For as much as we, and more, but what more can be said to that loyal band of Northville women who through constructive work and the health and growth of children of Northville. Yes, the milk maid and myriad of good results are certainly worthy of commendation to those who made such work possible. List the Mothers' club among those whose names are to be found on the Northville Book of Good Deeds

Can you count with us the new homes under construction in this community?

Remember the Wisconsin boy who was so given that he dropped a two dollar bill in the fare box of the street car, and wrote home that this was a great state because newspapers were free. Yes, he helped himself to the boxes of The Detroit FREE Press for three weeks before he got wise.

Two Northville boys are attending the Wolverine Boys' State at East Lansing. These boys are a part of the great work that is the answer of the American Legion to anti-American activities, all too prevalent in our midst. The Legion is figuring on the forward look and the long pull of the next generation to know, live and honor America in both word and deed.

Hurrah, Northville children will have a safe place to swim this summer - thanks to the forward look.

Funny how some foreigners can want to be citizens of America so abruptly. Over Wayne way the Stinson Aircraft has just received a large government contract, and as Uncle Sam specifies that workers on the contracts must be American citizens, a lot of hitch hikers, who for years have thumb-rides and noses at citizenship suddenly get wise. It's a funny world, isn't it?

Once again Northville breaks into the headlines of the great metropolitan press... Witness - double streamer headline of The New York Post of June 5 - CON LANGFIELD, VANILLA KING, WELCOMED TO NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR.

The Scout Oath

Is your boy a Scout? Read the Scout oath and ask yourself if your boy wouldn't gain by exposure to such ideals.

On my honor I will do my best, To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout law.

To help others at all times.

To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight.

That is the background of the Northville boys who at the court of honor last week. Scouting is remarkable.

TILL DEBT DUE US PART

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

One Year Ago

Richard Loomis' troopers, N-1, took 161 of the 316 awards which were distributed among the 11 troops in the district at the Court of Honor, June 16.

Councilmen voted Monday evening to apply for a $4,780.80 project which if granted will provide for the widening of the driveway from the Rural Hill cemetery entrance to the bridge.

Miss Marion Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder of 12 Mile road, became the bride of George Beasley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beasley of Northville, in a pretty out-door wedding Wednesday evening, June 22, at the bride's parents' home.

Ten Years Ago

Workmen have nearly completed the removal of the two-story brick structure at 135-147 E. Main street, where Walter Ware and Thomas McCurdy plan to erect just as soon as the ground is cleared a new store building.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lute are the parents of a daughter born last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Forney very pleasantly entertained the members of the graduating class of the high school at their cottage at Half Moon lake, Sunday.

Two Northville boys were among the University of Michigan graduates this season. Scott Northrup and Karl Blackburn having graduated from the University with A. B. degrees.

Fifteen Years Ago

But few towns the size of Northville can boast a better equipped theatre than the Alhambra, and the recent repairs and improvements have made the ideal play house very attractive.

Northville is to have a community play ground this summer provided the parents of this community will cooperate by having their children attend. The enterprise is being supervised and directed by A. K. Miller, Northville's efficient physical director.

T. R. Carrington is building a new residence on Rogers street, just south of D. B. Bunn's home.

Twenty Years Ago

The Northville Woman's club has presented the high school and the Ladies' Library, a handsomely framed picture of the historic old stone school house, the first school building in the village limits of Northville built in 1833.

The marriage of Miss Grace Barber to Earl Stanbro of Salem, took place Saturday, June 21.

George Grinnell has broken ground for his new home on Cady street, and A. C. Balen has begun the preliminary work for two residences on his property on South Wing street.

Thirty Years Ago

No one should forget Northville's big 4th of July celebration this year. The new fast race course will be formally opened with "some fast driving and to keep the crowd busy there will be on the inside ring series of ball games in operation."

For some reason the water works reservoir is unusually low for this time of the year and in case of a big fire Northville would be without proper fire protection.

Jarvis Dubuar was a Base Line worker Monday. He got right down on his knees and weeded onions.

A new iron and cement bridge is being built over the river near Rural Hill cemetery. It is a much needed improvement.

The Detroit Horse Show Association June 16, 1939

Editor: On behalf of the Detroit Horse Show Association I wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation given this elite enterprise through your paper.

All you did was very helpful and made it possible for a great many people to enjoy this worthwhile exhibition.

Sincerely yours,

MICHIGAN NOTABLES WILL BE INVITED TO ATTEND FAIR

Dr. L. W. Snow Backs State-Wide Home-Coming Project

Plans for a homecoming of Michigan's sons and daughters from all parts of the world in connection with the 90th anniversary of the Michigan State Fair, Sept. 1-10, are being carried forward under the direction of Hal G. Trump, president of the Adcraft club, who was named chairman of a committee of 100 native Detroiters. Governor Lufen T. Dickinson is honorary chairman. Dr. L. W. Snow, manager of the Michigan State Fair, stated yesterday that extensive plans are being made to make the return to Michigan movement in connection with the 1939 State Fair a project in which each community in the State would share, for with the return of the native sons to Detroit.

Dr. L. W. Snow

It is natural that they will visit their home towns. Thus the affair will really resolve itself into a series of state-wide homecoming parties.

A state-wide, and larger a world-wide organization is to be recruited for the purpose of making this 90th anniversary homecoming one of the most outstanding events of its kind.

The project includes an effort to enlist the return to their home state of scores of notables who have won fame elsewhere. Among them are Ray Stannard Baker, Edna Ferber, Clarence Buddington Kelland, Gene Markey, Rex Beach and Arthur Pound, authors; Liberty Hyde Bailey, agriculturist; Norman Bel Goddard, designer; William Edward Soering, J. Norwood Darling (Ding), writer and cartoonist; Webb Miller, newspaper correspondent; Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney; Donald Francisco, advertising executive; Col. Charles Lindbergh, aviator; Colleen Moore, actress; Floyd B. Odum, financier; Scott Turner, mining engineer and many others.

Smaller Arthur H. Vandenberg, Michigan's favorite son, also will be among those invited to participate in the homecoming. The organization committee which launched the project includes Harvey Campbell, secretary of the Detroit Board of Commerce, Robert Oakman, Councilman Hummer Piskert, Oscar Weber, Bert Wenuth, Milton Grinnell, Dr. Snow and Mr. Trump. Secretaries of all the Michigan Chambers of Commerce will be invited to organize committees in their respective communities to participate in the drive to bring back Michiganders to their native heath.

State Promises Good Fishing This Season

Reports of good prospects for fishing on the opening of the season June 25 are coming from all parts of the State to the department of conservation.

Factors pointing to good catches for lake fishermen include no unusual amount of fish mortality during the winter and no extraordinary losses following the spring break-up of ice.

Concern over the late cool spring causing delay in spawning was dispelled when casual surveys by officials of the fish division of the conservation department led them to conclude that the bass and blue gills will have generally finished spawning in most lakes by opening day.

For the sportsmen who are rigging up their gear to get going at mid-night for a fast start at bass casting and trolling or for setting out for bluegills at daybreak June 25, there is a word of caution needed. Standing up in the boat while casting, changing seats in the boat, loading and unloading—all provide hazards that take a number of lives each season.

Fishing is always dangerous—that's the reminder which state officials hope will be kept in sportsmen's heads and not just pasted in their hats. People get careless and this is not confined only to first-timers. The experienced hands are guilty of rocking the boat because they think they can get by with it while getting that extra bit of "English" on a cast.

A lot of grumbling about poor catches will be avoided if an ordinary measure of fishing experience is practiced. Early morning hours and late afternoon and evening periods will find the people out on the water who do not need to protest—because that is when the fish are there, ready for action. The fellow who sits all day in the sun might better be taking a nap under a shade tree on shore.

Northville's two hardware stores, the Northville Hardware, Inc., and the Hammer Hardware, have fishing tackle, rods, bait and licenses for the fish enthusiasts.

This "flying machine" was constructed from his original plans.

The Farmers' Corner

By E. I. BESEMER, County Agent

The melon house will cause damage to muskmelons if not controlled while they are small and few in numbers.

If a few vines are infected early under 4 or 5 inches of soil in the old hill, do not carry to field margin. After badly infected vines are removed adjacent vines carrying light infestation can be sprayed or dusted to prevent spread. Prompt action and careful work is necessary to establish control. Spray with 1 pint nicotine sulphate in 100 gallons of soapy water or pyrethrum or derris dust by manufacturers directions. For small amounts 1 teaspoonful to a quart of water. Dust with 4 per cent nicotine dust or 3 per cent otene dust or 1 1/2 dry pyrethrum dust or other pyrethrum mixtures. Blow dust under an apron. Send for Extension Bulletin 199 Controlling Plant Lice on Field and Garden Crops.

The spring canker worm is causing considerable damage to shade and fruit trees that have not received sprays of a stomach poison.

Trees receiving an arsenical spray early in the season do not suffer from the attacks of spring canker worms. Spray with plenty of pressure for results. Use 2 lbs. calcium arsenate or 3 lbs. of arsenate of lead, with skim milk in each 100 gallons of spray.

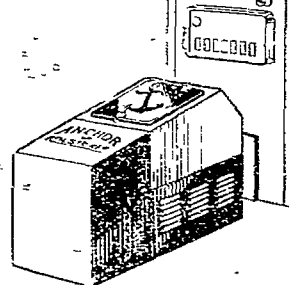

Spray or Dust For cabbage worms and aphids: Use Derris or Pyrethrum Sprays or Dusts.

For flea beetles: Weekly applications or oftener of 2 oz. calcium arsenate to 3 gallons water or dust with 1 lb. calcium arsenate to 12 lbs. of gypsum or lime.

For cucumber beetles: Use 1 lb. calcium arsenate and 19 lbs. gypsum (fine grade agricultural).

For aphids on roses, nasturtiums and other flowers: 1 teaspoon Nicotine Sulphate 1 quart hot soapy water. This is a contact spray and the insect must be hit for the spray to be effective.

Douglas Haddock, 14, of route 2, Walled Lake, was involved in an accident late Friday night while driving on East Lake Drive, when he struck Lorraine Namy, 19, who Miss Thelma Kent spent a part of this week in Detroit, where she attended the graduation of her cousin, Miss Virginia Kocher.

James Bradley of the Gaffney restaurant is recuperating from an appendectomy performed in the University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Miss Ernestine Grace was graduated from Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti, Monday with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Miss Dorothy Rendell was a Sunday night guest of Marie Brayman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grace attended baccalaureate and commencement Sunday and Monday at the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

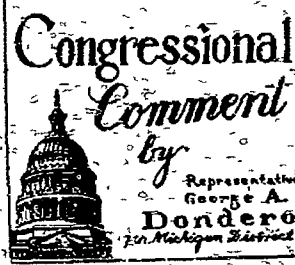

Gerald Trotter is attending the School of Cosmetology, Detroit.

Miss Dorothy Rendell has gone to her home near Milan for the summer vacation.

There were quite a number from Novi who attended Nancy Brown's sunrise service Sunday at Belle Isle.

Mrs. Art Trotter, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Smith of Ann Arbor, left Saturday afternoon for a week in New York, Boston and other places in the East. They will attend the World's Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Flint and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Banks returned last Thursday night from a 10-day trip to New York and Washington. They saw the King and Queen at the World's Fair.

Last week a portion of my comment was devoted to a brief discussion of the attitude of American labor and the public generally toward war. This week I wish to present the attitude of American business by quoting excerpts from a statement issued by the National Association of Manufacturers. I quote:

The National Association of Manufacturers is unalterably opposed to war. The devastation of modern war is an embracing of it takes a staggering toll of human and economic forces. No sensible person believes that profit can come out of the wreckage of human lives and economic dislocations. Progress comes through peace, not war.

Free nations have everything to lose in war. Free institutions are reared through peace and cooperation. Conflict destroys them. American industry wants peace. This purpose has been frequently and forcibly declared in the previous platforms adopted by the Congress of American Industry.

"Happy homes and steady jobs, the ideal of every American, can be achieved only through the pursuit of peace. The Republic is now at peace. May the God of nations preserve us from the calamity of war. In my judgment the attitude of the American people, American labor and American business and industrial leaders is proportionately reflected in both Houses of Congress."

It is unfortunate that utterances have been made which have created a feeling of concern and caused our people to feel it necessary to speak in a protective mood. Their almost unanimous voice, however, should serve to curb further utterances of a provocative nature.

The statement issued Jan. 1 by the Treasury Department contains some information which should be kept in mind at this time. I refer to the tabulation of the debts owed the United States by foreign nations. The U. S. Treasury listing follows:

Belgium	$ 400,680,000
Czechoslovakia	91,879,671

With our own national debt fast approaching 41 billions and foreign nations owing the American people 11 billions since the World War and immediate post-war years, it would seem that it is about time to give some official attention to the liquidation of debts instead of talking in terms which can only mean added billions in debts.

Here's The Difference

Railroads operate on their own roadways, built and maintained entirely by the railroads.

Out of every dollar the railroads take in, taxes take 9 cents, and their rights-of-way take 23½ cents—a total of 32½ cents for roadways and taxes.

Highway motor carriers operate on public highways, built and maintained by taxpayers.

Out of every dollar taken in by the certificated motor carriers, 7½ cents (I. C. C.) goes for taxes of all sorts—and this represents all they pay for roadways and taxes.

Barge lines which operate on our inland waterways—the canalized rivers of the country—operate on "roadways" built and maintained by taxpayers.

Out of every dollar taken in by these inland waterway freight carriers slightly under 2 cents goes for taxes of all sorts—and this, too, represents all they pay for "roadway" and taxes.

Thoughtful people now believe that forms of transport which operate on and by means of facilities provided by the taxpayers shall pay for the use of such facilities and shall be on an equal basis as regards taxes—real taxes to be expended for the general support of government.

Laws now before Congress aim to remedy the present inequitable situation in the American transportation industry.

In substance, they call merely for a square deal for the railroads.

And a square deal for the railroads means a square deal for the taxpayers, too.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

LANSING—Michigan seems to have a weakness for state boards.

It is true the state has as yet no trustees of vashinas or tooth-brushes, but if we keep on as we are going there will be nothing from fish eyes, to fox tails that will not be superseded by a board.

With almost prophetic foresight, Chase S. Osborn made this comment in his first message to the state legislature as Governor 28 years ago.

A glance at the legislative record at Lansing for 1939 reveals the following examples of what former Governor Osborn had in mind.

Milk Price Board

Signed by Governor Dickinson is to establish a debt retirement fund as recommended by the late Governor Fitzgerald.

"Pay-as-you-go"

Governor Dickinson, thirty years near Charlotte, insists firmly that the legislature must balance the budget.

This "pay-as-you-go" principle, he points out, was an integral part of the Fitzgerald program which also proposed to accomplish it without resorting to new taxes. The legislature has several choices to make when it convenes for the special session scheduled for early in July.

1. Reduce authorized expenditures for schools and welfare to meet Dillman's budget requirements.

2. Maintain present appropriations and impose a new tax or two.

3. Raise the sales tax from three to four per cent, a tax on amusements or tobacco, a state income tax. (These have been suggested by state officials, or legislators in the past few years.)

4. Grant Governor Dickinson the same appropriations-cutting power that the 1937 legislature handed to Murphy.

More Liquor Control

While it is doubtful that any step will be taken to remove the state from the business of control of sale of liquor, through state-owned stores, as the late Gov. Fitzgerald once recommended, the legislature may do something about the discriminatory tax on California and other out-of-state wines, proposed licensing of drinkers, and new restrictions on roadhouses located outside corporation limits or municipalities.

Providing the state commission has legal authority to do so, Com. DeLoe proposes that it effect the following reforms by administrative action:

Reduction of the number of licensed liquor outlets by one-third.

More police supervision of roadhouses.

Better enforcement of present liquor laws and regulations.

Van Wagoner Fares Well

While the $5,000,000 annual highway appropriation from general funds was eliminated, the legislature turned down proposals to strip Van Wagoner of his up-state organization by turning back maintenance of state trunk highways to counties and to have the state highway department pay part of the cost of lighting state roads inside municipalities.

Loren D. Dickinson, 80-year-old governor of Michigan, shows present-day upstarts how baseball was played in his day. He struck this catching pose when he participated in the Old Timers' baseball game in Detroit recently.

When once you have chosen let that part remain forever settled, and give plenty of thought in preparing your choice for domestic use. Even poor varieties are somewhat made sweet and tender by garnishing with patience, sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses. Wrap well in a mantle of charity, keep warm with constant flow of toothsome edibles. When thus prepared they are warranted to keep for years.

Jobs hard to find?

Perhaps the 337 men and women graduating at Michigan State college this spring are unusually enterprising, yet it is a satisfaction to college authorities that one survey by division deans and another by students indicates at least half of the seniors are leaving the campus with jobs and positions.

Veterinary science as in 1938 reports its 35 veterinary graduates and 12 medical biology graduates all are leaving with assured employment.

In agriculture, reports Dean E. L. Anthony, all but one-third have obtained positions or are returning to home farms, while forestry graduates have found about 50 per cent employment. Those who have studied in vocational agriculture have found nearly 100 per cent placement in teaching positions and women majoring in home economics education were equally successful.

One less than half of the 96 graduates in the chemical, civil, electrical and mechanical engineering departments have obtained employment or have excellent prospects, reports Dean H. B. Dirks.

In the comparatively small department of entomology, four of the six majors are placed, one is physically disabled and the other is returning to his home farm. In animal husbandry, 37 of 38 graduates, 28 were placed before graduation.

When students earlier in the term interviewed 255 typical graduating seniors, it was found that 42 per cent of the men were certain of employment, four-fifths of them in fields in which they specialized, and 34 per cent of the women had obtained employment, practically 100 per cent within the field of their major studies.

SIX RULES INSURE HEALTHY CHICKENS

When chicks come out of the brooder house they enter the most critical period when their treatment determines whether they will be profitable to the flock operator in the fall and winter laying season.

Farm work may be pressing, admits J. C. Moore, poultry specialist at Michigan State college, yet he believes attention to six major points will pay dividends this summer.

One involves feeding. Chicks should be given credit for high intelligence. With free access to a suitable growing mash and scratch grain the growing birds will balance their own diets. As they grow older they will eat more grain and less mash, allowing them to develop before the protein in the feed excites egg production.

Clean fresh water is pointer two suggested by Moore. A green succulent range matched with mash, grain and water take care of feeding.

Four health pointers suggested by Moore include vaccination if any fowl pox has been present in the flock or in neighboring flocks. Another suggestion for health is to move water fountains and feed hoppers frequently. Some poultrymen put these supplies on wire stands to help prevent infection.

Pullets ought to be reared away from the present laying flock and their range should not have had poultry in the past two or three years.

Sixth pointer is to avoid crowding. July and August are critical months in housing, for the pullets are growing and need more room at night. An outdoor summer shelter for roosting, Moore says, can be constructed with materials costing about $20 and sizeable for 100 to 125 pullets. Lice and mite treatment on perches may be necessary if these pests show up.

BLAME RED FOX FOR CHICK LOSS

A certain sly fox somewhere in Kalamazoo county, likely is rednecked laughing at efforts to control his chicken killing raids.

Nearly 100 half-grown chickens on the Ecology demonstration farm operated by Michigan State college near East Lansing have had their heads or throats nipped fatally by the marauder. Although he times his early morning raids almost by the clock, the fox is "just too smart," in the opinion of C. M. McCarty, farm superintendent.

Listen to this and decide whether to laugh with the fox or sympathize with McCarty: Monday, May 22, 31 small chicks either had their heads lopped off or their breasts torn at 4:10 a. m. in early dawn. Some were buried with their feet sticking out of the ground, evidently so that Mr. Fox could return for them if live one were not later available.

Tuesday, May 23, farmhand watched flock and no damage resulted. Wednesday, May 24, farmhand stood at west end of coops with loaded shotgun. No sound in early dawn except squawk of a goose on the nearby wildlife sanctuary. Yet at the south side of coops the fox left 22 dead chicks, caught as they came out of the chicken house.

Then for six nights a watch was maintained and no fox showed up to reward the marksman. McCarty spent two of those nights perched on the ridge of the chicken coop.

The watch was relaxed and the fox came back to get more chicks. Later on the farm is the erection of an automatic carbide gas cylinder. This is set up on a tall pole and timed to explode at intervals. The device has proved successful in scaring birds away from ripening fruit in Michigan orchards, but this is its first appearance in early dawn fox patrols. McCarty is hoping for no more raids.

FRUIT FLY SPECIES HARM STATE CHERRIES

Two species of cherry fruit flies infest Michigan cherries — namely, the earlier-maturing, dark-bodied species and the slightly later white-banded fruit fly. Both species affect cherries along the entire western coast-line and are undoubtedly in other parts of the State, as well.

The date of the completion of the first spray is June 24. It is, furthermore, recommended that the second spray be applied two weeks after the first spray; in case a period of two weeks elapses between the emergency of the fly and picking time. Additional sprays may be required if poison is washed off by heavy rains. All other fruit trees except peach, interplanted or in close proximity to the cherry trees should likewise be sprayed along with the cherry trees.

Directions — for Spraying: Sour-canning cherries which are to be thoroughly washed should receive a spray containing 2 pounds lead arsenate in 100 gallons of spray.

For sour cherries the spray may consist of 3 pounds of lead arsenate added to the spray containing fungicide.

These sprays are recommended only for use on cherries that are to be thoroughly washed preliminary to canning or freezing.
