Await Instructions from Village Commissioners; May Take New Site

Drill Near Reservoir

After drilling 275 feet through clay oil, Dumber and Sons, contractors for the well which is to supplement Northville's water supply, have abandoned the project until a meeting of the village commission is held.

The test well, located near the water reservoir, was abandoned Saturday. When drilling at that depth saved indications of water vein.

Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery stated today. "On the other hand, it may save the village money if a test is made some other place."

Drilled for 3 Weeks
Drilling has been going forward at this particular site for about three weeks. The State Department of Health approved the site, although State engineers were sent out to survey the location.

Joan Koldyke, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Koldyke, 1648 West Eight Mile road, is all packed for the 6,000 mile trip to Alaska and back which gets under way Sunday, July 9, when she leaves with 31 other boys and girls from Detroit.

They Didn't Give Up
Originally planned as the Buchanan trip, these 32 boys and girls felt they would give up when it was learned in the spring that no provisions had been made in the late George Buchanan will for the continuance of the annual trips.

Somehow they've managed to earn or borrow the third of the trip's cost, which was to have come from the Buchanan fund.

Joan is 10 years old, 115 lbs. She has 175 chickens. Now she has 175. She keeps between 50 and 60 hens during the winter months, averaging from 45 to 50 eggs daily. These she sells to her 12 regular customers.

TRAINING SCHOOL SUMMER PROJECTS GET UNDER WAY

Big Parade on Grounds High-Lights Fourth of July for Children

Some 800 boys and girls began their summer vacation Monday, July 3, at the Wayne County Training school.

Having finished their 10-month school period, the children will be busy during July and August with recreational activities.

Have Parade

A gigantic morning parade involving almost all of the children was staged July 4, followed by Field Day events in the afternoon.

The 45 cottages were represented by floats which had been made by the boys and girls during their spare time and under the guidance of the cottage supervisors.

The children appeared in costumes in keeping with the theme of the floats.

The parade in America from the early plating of the modern Chalmers. The float began with an early model train with cars and ended with a monoplane.

Following the parade were the residents of the cabin dressed as pioneers, Indians, cowboys and pilots.

Interest in building floats has been keen, indicating a creative ability on the part of the children.

Give Pep Yells

Songs were sung by the children following the parade, one member of each cottage leading his group.

Northville, Michigan, Friday, July 7, 1939

Paraphrasing the motto of Michigan, "If you seek a delightful peninsula, look about you," may we suggest that if you seek a delightful village look at Northville. Consider the green trees, the hills, the beautiful yards and gardens, and withal the glory of the colorful flowers just now most gorgeous.

Foolish Cycling . . .

Bicycles, bikes and more bikes, day or night everywhere are cycles of some sort to worry the careful and conscientious motorist. How often has your heart hit your palate as some youngster coasted into the road and frisked away unaware of the lurking danger. Our children are no different than others, but will we have an accident and some child be hurt before we apply reason to bicycling in Northville?

With the close of school bicycles become more and more numerous as boys and girls seeking vacation-time pleasure, will oil up their wheels and go on long jaunts unknown to their parents, or if known by parents, insufficiently warned of the dangers to bicycles on county roads. A few parents will heed and will warn their children—but all too few.

Accidents in the county have been steadily increasing this month and boy and girl bicycle riders continue to ignore traffic lights and stop signs their summer vacation may be marked by death or serious injury. Boys and girls should also be cautioned to forget playful antics while on highways, such as swerving in and out and riding with no hands, etc.

Night bike riding is undoubtedly much more dangerous than riding in daytime, and cyclists are urged to install proper lights and reflectors. Recently a motorist was driving on Schoenherr road about 11 p. m. at a good rate of speed when suddenly his headlights showed a bicycle before him without lights or reflectors. In an effort to avoid hitting the cyclist, he swerved his car and ran into a ditch, hitting a concrete culvert. His injuries were of a serious nature while the responsible cyclist left the scene not knowing the harm he had caused.

Take a hint, parents and cyclists, and do all you can to avoid grief, injury, anxiety and possible death to your loved ones during the coming summer vacation.

When we thought of the Eagle screaming over the nation on Tuesday, July 4th, we wondered what difference it would have made to this country if Benjamin Franklin had been successful in making the wild turkey the national emblem.

Tradition . . .

Tradition is just as important to democratic peoples as is their bread of life. It is only when a people lose faith in their principles and traditions that new orders and principles come into being. That new orders without proper tradition and custom can bring on much misery and discontent is very evident in some parts of the world today.

Our traditions, ceremonies and customs are not simply forms of pomp and display. There is a deeper meaning to all this which is more than veneration of custom. It is a constant reminder of the system under which we live. A reassurance that the rights that are ours will always be secure for us and ours.

The salute and respect to our flag is a salute to our rights and a reminder of our liberty by national unity.

Why Work Is Scarce . . .

(From Motor Wheels News, Lansing, Mich.) If we're looking for reasons why industry is not expanding and providing more jobs for the unemployed, here's one that speaks for itself in tones loud enough to be heard by even the most indifferent observer.

The Standard Statistics Company has just released a report showing that last year 80 representative corporations paid a tax bill of $203,682,715, and that after paying this tax bill, these companies had an aggregate net income of but $133,685,202.

Reduced to more comprehensible figures, this means that the various governmental taxing agencies took $20 for every $13 paid to stockholders. Nor does that tell the whole story. Some of these taxes must be paid whether the corporations are operating or not.

Now, it is a well-known fact and a sound theory that employees do not work for fun. And it is just as sound a theory that investors do not put their money into industrial concerns just for the fun of it either.

And that just about completes the circle. People will not invest money in a corporation whose enormous tax bill prevents the payment of dividends, and without such investments, industry is certainly not able to expand and provide more jobs for the unemployed.

If you want good neighbors, be one. Northville, a city of homes, hospitality and neighborliness offers all good citizens the glad hand.

The importance of the communal forest in most of the European countries is illustrated by the fact that more forest land is owned by the states and federal governments combined.

Real Diplomacy . . .

We insist this true. A daughter was born to an Atchison couple. The mother chose the name Violet. The husband didn't like that name. But the husband was tactful and said to his wife, "I think Violet is the prettiest name in the world. The first child I ever had with had the name Violet." The mother named the new Baby Sallie. Fifteen Years Ago

A fire caused from pans of oil becoming ignited in the building occupied by the Northville Auto Service caused an alarm to be turned in Wednesday afternoon.

It required 34 hours for the 400 pound cake of ice to melt in front of Kligger's store. The handsome big cake was the product of Northville's own artificial ice plant and it attracted a great deal of attention.

Last Friday night while Joe Miller was quietly sleeping in his easy chair about 16 of his neighbors and friends dropped in on him and it took Joe about two minutes to remember that it was his birthday.

The need of a husky night policeman employed at a good salary is apparent. The council could seemingly make such an employment with good grace, lest law and order be forgotten by night visitors to the village. The rowdyism and vice took at midnight Saturday along the main residence part of the town was an outrage.

The Rev. Cora M. Pennell unred in marriage Thursday evening two former Salem young people, Neil Currie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Currie of Salem, and Miss Beulah Habbe of near Ann Arbor. The wedding ceremony was held at the bride's home. Neil was a graduate this summer of the University of Michigan engineering department.

The Willing Workers Circle of the Federated church will hold their regular meeting with a picnic luncheon at noon at Riverside Park, Plymouth, Tuesday, July 11. Meet at the church at 10:30 a. m.

Over 20 women of the Aid surprised their pastor, Mrs. Cora M. Pennell, last Thursday the occasion being the anniversary of her wedding day. A cooperative dinner was served at noon and the afternoon was spent visiting.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred J. Sauer, Detroit, were Sunday evening callers at the A. C. Wheeler home.

The three daughters, Neida, Anna Mae and Tylla, of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hoover, were baptized by immersion at the Northville Baptist church last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Hoover of Ohio, grandfather of the girls, officiated at the baptism. Friends of the Federated church witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hammond and family spent the Fourth at Northville, where Mr. Hammond assisted in the American Legion celebration.

Leah Curtis, Northville, was a dinner guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whittaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lyke are building a new home on the Six Mile road, just east of the village.

Gov. Long Promises Louisiana Purge

Earl K. Long, recently inaugurated governor of Louisiana and brother of the late Huey ("Kingfish") Long, has promised the state a "ruthless purge from within." Long, former lieutenant-governor, replaced Gov. Richard W. Leche, who resigned because of illness, postponed his resignation when Dr. James Monroe Smith, president of the state university, disappeared, and then announced his final resignation. Smith, accused of embezzling $100,000, had previously quit his post. Long is pictured here with his wife, an ardent movie camera fan.

Congressional Comment
 by Representative George A. Dondero
 7th Michigan District

Double Talk: Through all its apparent nonchalance regarding the national debt, the desire of the administration to formulate an accounting system to minimize the effect of New Deal expenditures of borrowed money or conceal the truth of our fiscal condition from the people, keeps coming to the front.

The "double digit" system seems to be particularly fascinating, and President Roosevelt employed this method in January when he listed $16,461,000,000 of the $28,274,000,000 added to the public debt from July 1, 1930 to June 30, 1940 separately as representing durable improvements loans and investments.

Recently Professor Alvin K. Hansen, who advocates that the Federal government adopt a double system of accounting, in testifying before a Congressional committee, used a chart showing how the debt of $30,000,000 accumulated by the present administration could be made to appear to be only $3,182,000,000. This is pretty fast debt liquidation no matter how you look at it. The only trouble is that we still owe all these billions whether the government bookkeepers add up one two, three, or even a dozen, columns of figures.

At the present time national debt figures ordinarily given do not take into consideration contingent liabilities. These contingent liabilities are those which the Federal government may or may not have to pay eventually.

The American public has become used to broken promises. Must it now become accustomed to deceptive methods of government accounting?

Adjournment of Congress: Date for the adjournment of Congress hinges upon several possible developments, not all of them domestic. Many thoughtful Members of Congress privately express fear of what may happen in foreign affairs if Congress adjourns leaving the full power of manipulation in the hands of the President and his advisers. Reports from back home appear to justify this apprehension. It is becoming evident that the New Deal advisers fear they have over-reached themselves in the recent barrage of war propaganda. When it was learned that the people were becoming alarmed, the war talk suddenly subsided. It now appears, according to Washington observers, that the strategy is to get Congress out of the way as quickly as possible to eliminate competition for front pages and then approach the war propaganda from a more cautious angle. This uneasiness over the foreign situation will have much to do with the date of the adjournment.

In the Side Door: If you can't get in the front door, go around to the side. President Roosevelt withdrew the nomination of former Rep. Amelio to the Interstate Commerce Commission when it became apparent that the Senate would not confirm his appointment because of his radical views. Later it was announced that Atty. Gen. Murphy had added the former Congressman to his staff.

Three Generations Must Pay: Speaking before the American Iron and Steel Institute, Senator Millard Tydings, Maryland Democrat, scored the administration spending policies, pointing out that "it would take three generations, or sixty years, to bring down our national debt to where it was eight years ago if it were reduced $500,000,000 a year."

Walled Lake News
 By C. E. Hutton

Swimming classes sponsored by the Oakland County Red Cross will be resumed Monday, July 10, following last week's adjournment, according to Mrs. Kenneth Wacker, township chairman. The classes afforded opportunity for children and adults to receive instruction in swimming and life saving from competent teachers, without charge. Lessons are provided for beginners and advanced swimmers, each Monday from 10 to 11:30 a. m. at East Shore Beach, and will continue for the next eight weeks, provided satisfactory public interest is indicated through attendance.

Walled Lake and other nearby resort areas drew their largest attendance of the season over the week end and the July 4 holiday, according to reports, while road traffic throughout this section reached a new high for the summer. The three local public bathing beaches, proved to be the most popular centers, while fishermen provided capacity patronage for the various port diversities. Special events at the Walled Lake Park on the Fourth were offered to crowds throughout the day, with fireworks at night as the feature attraction.

Special guards at the beaches kept mishaps at a minimum, while extra traffic officers, assisted Deputy E. L. McQuern in handling the thousands of cars that made up the unusually heavy, road traffic.

The new B and M Recreation room enjoyed the patronage of people of the community at its opening, Friday night. The new equipment, including four new bowling alleys and three billiard tables received much play throughout the evening, and brought forth general commendation for the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. William Glover. A sandwich and soft drink bar was also well patronized by those present.

Plans are under way for the second annual "Moonlight Festival" to be given by the Civic Welfare club, July 19, on the lawn of the J. L. Taylor residence. A program of considerable variety is being prepared, and includes band music, a bathing beauty contest, a pitrebug contest, and several special attractions. There will be many booths, providing novelties, lunches, drinks, baked goods and other merchandise.

The concluding program of the ten-day vacation Bible school was presented Friday evening to a large audience at the Methodist church. The exercises included a review of the work which had been accomplished by the children during the term, by children from the fourth to the ninth grades of public school. Nearly 60 took part during the evening's program, featured by the dramatic pageant based on the school theme "Our Father's World." Singing and recitations were given by the younger classes, and an oral examination of the entire school on their Bible lessons was conducted. The entire program disclosed exceptionally fine work by the classes, and by the faculty in charge, headed by Mrs. Frank N. Miner.

Dr. and Mrs. James E. Busby of Newark, O. were guests Sunday and Monday in Northville. They were accompanied home by their two daughters, Irma Jane and Joan, who have spent the past two weeks at the Lawrence home.

Percy C. Angove is to be the United States and State of Michigan delegate to the Fourth World Congress of Workers for Gripples to be held in Bedford college, London, England. Mr. Angove is scheduled to appear several times on the program. Following the conference, he plans to spend some time with the members of his immediate family in the western part of England, County of Cornwall, whom he hasn't seen in 23 years.
