Bring New Sparring Partner for Louis Fight Preparation

By C. E. HUTTON
About 1500 fans of fightdom were in the fairgrounds grandstand to greet with cheers and heavy weight boxing champion Joe Louis as he came into the town for his second Sunday afternoon exhibition, Sept. 3.

The increase by a thousand over the number of spectators present the week before, brought smiles to the face of "Jersey" Jones, publicity department for the bout, who estimated the Northville gate.

PLAY BALL
A ball game between the Joe Louis Brown Bombers and the Tom Edmondson Ford team will be played at 5:30 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 17, at the fairgrounds.

Thus far to be on a fairly even keel with the boys of Pontiac Lakes and other former training centers. The Monday Labor Day crowd failed to reach expectations, however, due to rainy weather in the morning which carried a threat until nearly show time.

The champ's Sabbath and holiday workouts were increased to six rounds each, partly as a compliment to the increased audience and partly to introduce a new sparring mate, Eugene Harrison, a 175 pounder, who is expected to give a good fight to an opponent of Harrison's tactics, which are said to be quite similar to Bob Pastor's, has been felt in the Louis camp during the past few days.

To the boys "in the know" the highlight of Sunday's session was the literal upset of George Nicholson, the camp's favorite sparring partner, who until Sunday had withstood some 250 rounds against Joe without losing the canvas. Joe brought things to a figurative head when he slammed over a right and followed with a left hook to George's chin. All 250 pounds of Nicholson fell gravely back on his heels, and Jack Blackburn then called time, a few seconds before the end of the round. Nicholson was back again Monday, none the worse for wear.

Social Security Official Speaks

E. E. Pollock, manager of the Social Security Board field office at Lansing, will be the guest speaker at the Northville Rotary club luncheon at noon, Tuesday, Sept. 12. Mr. Pollock will discuss the Social Security Act, and the recent amendments made by Congress.

Mr. Pollock's experience with the board included years of training in the school in Washington, D. C., as a member of the staff and as an active field manager during the last two years.

BOWLERS TO MEET

Nation's History Traced by Stamps

Charles R. Lockin Gives Pictorial Tour with Stamp Collection

Speaking upon his hobby, Charles R. Lockin of Northville, took the members of the Northville Rotary club on a pictorial tour of the early days of this nation's history through the display and stories told on the postage stamps of his collection.

Mr. Lockin, a stamp collecting enthusiast, provided a most interesting half hour as he followed the history of America from Columbus through the colonial days, Revolutionary War, and the early days of the Constitution. Each Rotarian was provided with a special set of stamps for his use as Mr. Lockin described the several stamps and placed them in the proper period of American history. The discourse was most interesting and informative.

Village Is Free of Car Accidents during Holiday

Five Persons Are Injured in Head-on Crash on Novi Road

Although the Village of Northville was free from accidents and traffic violation disturbances over the holiday week end, an accident occurred north of the railroad on Novi road at 10:30 p. m. Monday, Sept. 4, which injured five persons.

Cars driven by C. Reading and William McLain, both of Walled Lake, collided in a head-on crash, which seriously injured Mrs. McLain, who was given first aid at the Plymouth hospital and then taken on to Ann Arbor. Mr. McLain suffered severe head cuts and leg injuries. His two children, other passengers in the car, were not hurt.

Mrs. Reading received a bad left eye cut. Her head was also severely cut. With Mr. Reading, were Mr. and Mrs. E. Poole. Mrs. Poole sustained a crushed chest and broken jaw. Mr. Poole has a nose cut and other injuries. They were all treated at the Plymouth hospital. The Ray J. Casteline ambulance was called to the scene of the accident.

Chief of Police Earl Montgomery reports that despite the heavy traffic Sunday and Monday which was created by the Louis bouts which drew a large number of fans, there were no traffic accidents inside the village.

Early Plans Made for Trek to South

Society is preparing for its busiest season in the Sunshine City as the travel tide turns from eastern shore and mountain resorts into this direction and as private and public schools prepare for next week's openings. Hundreds of graduates are in St. Petersburg, Fla., for the fall opening of the Junior college Sept. 13, and autumnal fraternity dances.

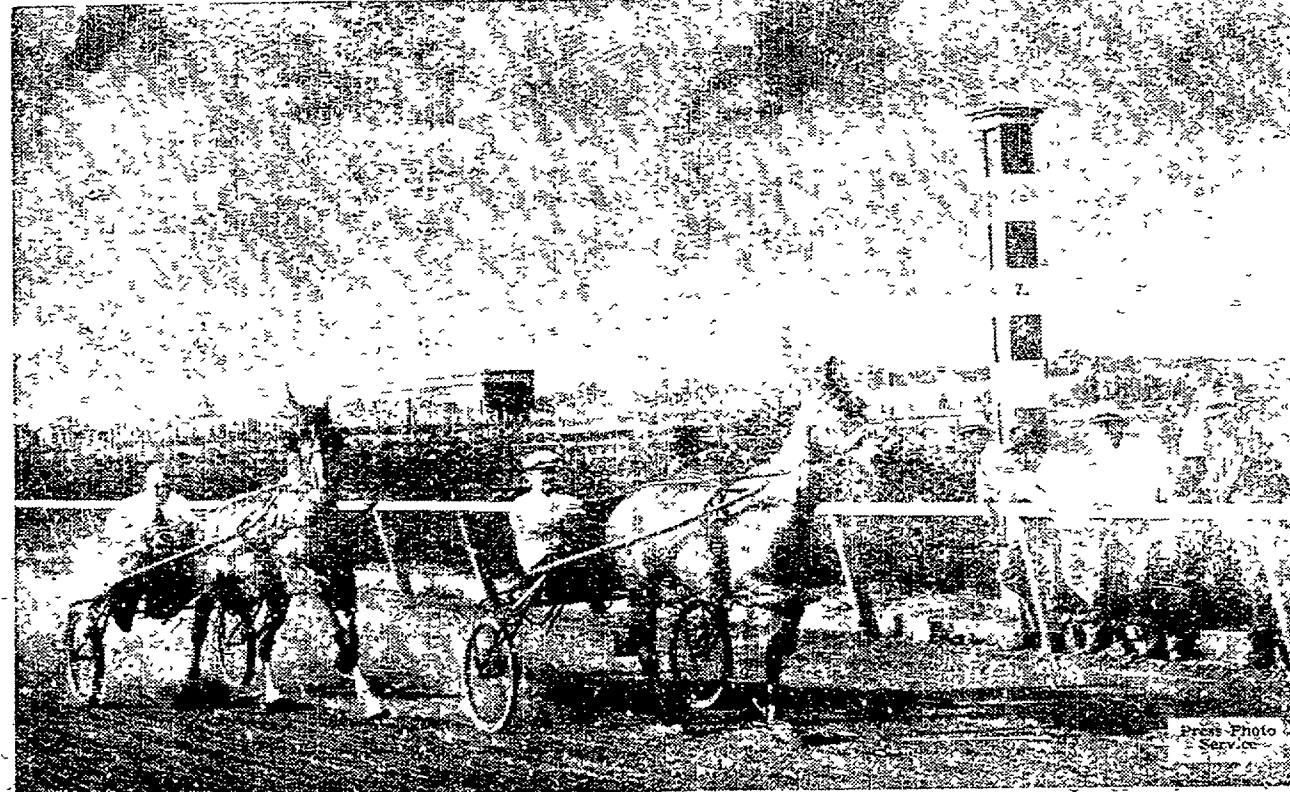

The Northville-St. Petersburg group were entertained Thursday at the Lakeland Golf Club by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brooks.

Included in the party were Mrs. C. C. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Northrop, Mr. and Mrs. Dayton B. Bunn and Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Richardson.

For men who are seeking work there are three farm jobs open. And some high school girls who want to pay her way through school this year, will do well to answer an attractive advertisement for a helper in a doctor's home.

Even a dog gets a break this week in the classified section. A village thinks enough of his stray black spaniel that he is advertising for her return.

Harness Racing Is State Fair Feature

Harness racing fans are being thrilled this week at the Michigan State Fair where the sport is undergoing a revival beneath the watchful eyes of Andy Adams, the superintendent of the fair, and Dr. L. W. Snow, Northville, the secretary manager of the exposition. These horses are the first harness horses to set foot on the Detroit track since 1931, and are Whirlies with Lloyd Dink of New Haven, and that 12-year-old wonder horse, Leonalee with W. Baldwin abroad.

Leonalee is from the Baldwin stable at Northville. After peeing for six years during which time she never finished out of the money, she is trotting to victories this year.

Councilmen Plan Special Meeting To Consider Bids

Commissioner George Hicks Named To Study Pump House Plans for Park Site with Engineer Murdoch

Want Full Council

Members of the village commission will meet in special session at 8 p. m. Monday, Sept. 11, to consider the pump bids which have been submitted by the Peckless Pump Division, Ford Machinery corporation of Detroit, the William A. Daley, Inc. of Detroit, and E. H. Seilly of Plymouth.

The bids from these three firms were read Tuesday evening, Sept. 5, when the council met in regular session, but as Commissioners Arthur G. Owen and J. W. Perkins were absent, no contract was entered into with any of the companies.

Plans for a pump house to be erected in the Village Park were studied by the councilmen. The plans were designed by Engineer Russell Murdoch. Commissioner George Hicks was named to make a thorough investigation of the needs of such a building and to make further study of the plans with Mr. Murdoch. Commissioner Hicks will make a report of his investigation at the next meeting. Mr. Murdoch's suggested plans for the pump house call for a building 12 x 14 feet, with gabled roof and cement floor, large enough to house a pump that will have a 800-gallon a minute capacity, although a pump that large will likely not be installed at this time.

Want Ad Section Contains 'Good News'

Everything from a "well mannered" cow to Venetian blings are being sold this week by alert Record subscribers through the classified section of The Northville Record.

Parents of active boys and girls who have been on the lookout for a good used bicycle for sometime, may find just the buy this week. There's a boy's bicycle for sale for only $3 and then there's a fleet of 100 25 bicycles, priced at $15 each.

If a potato digger is what is needed to make the home a happy one, a Walled Lake resident has one that he wants to sell - to make his home happier.

It's about hunting time. There are some gun bargains listed this week.

It has been a good many weeks since there have been so many apartments listed in the For Rent section of the classified page. They are from two-room affairs to six-room apartments.

For men who are seeking work there are three farm jobs open. And some high school girls who want to pay her way through school this year, will do well to answer an attractive advertisement for a helper in a doctor's home.

Even a dog gets a break this week in the classified section. A village thinks enough of his stray black spaniel that he is advertising for her return.

41 Men Report for Football Practice with Smith-Walker

SUMMER SWIMMING SCHEDULE STOPS

Scoutmaster Richard Loomis announces that the swim schedule at the Lawrence pond has been discontinued because of the dropping of school and the drop in temperature.

During the season, three boys passed the Junior Red Cross Life Saving test. They are Robert and Douglas McCluskie and Carter Church.

Twenty of the beginners have been given "swimmers" ranks. The average attendance during the summer weeks was 40, says Mr. Loomis.

Two Exchangites Receive Honors

Pins Are Presented to Dr. H. I. Sparling and Charles A. Dolph

Dr. H. I. Sparling and C. A. Dolph were honored Wednesday at the Northville Exchange meeting by receiving national recognition in the membership contest staged by the organization. Regulation wing Exchange label pins were presented in recognition of the work of these two Exchangites in bringing two new members into the organization.

The citation was signed by W. J. Elbert, national president. Tom Edmondson, representing the national organization, presented the pins.

The program of the day consisted largely of an open forum discussion of Northville, its future as a residential and small factory city. Thought was given to the matter of factories and their effect upon the village. A committee was named by President Edmondson to interview prospective comers to Northville. Comment touched upon the new business institutions and residents coming to the village during recent months, and Mr. Edmondson expressed his belief that "folks were finding Northville."

With 41 men out for practice, Coach Harry B. Smith is confident that the school may look forward to the best football season it has had in years.

The greatest single factor that has contributed to the feeling of optimism on the part of the coach and the team is the assistant coach, Nevill Walker, who works each night with Coach Smith and the boys.

With Mr. Walker working with us, we can keep two groups going.

School Enrollment Expected To Reach 800 Mark of 1939

High School Ready To Take Care of — Students; All Pupils — Grades Not Registered

Money Is Sufficient

First day enrollment Wednesday, Sept. 6, gave every evidence that last year's 800 enrollment mark would be equalled or surpassed by the end of the week. By Wednesday noon, 402 junior and senior high school students had registered.

Over in the grade school building, 349 pupils had registered in the kindergarten and first six grades. Suppl. R. H. Amerman released the following high school enrollment figures Wednesday: 65 in the ninth; 50 in the tenth; 65 in the eleventh; 50 in the twelfth, 22 in the apprentice department, and one post graduate student. In the junior high, there were 60 seventh graders and 55 eighth graders.

"Mr. P. G. V. Harrison just told me that he expects an enrollment of 350 by next week in the high school. There will be more pupils coming in daily," commented Mr. Amerman as he predicted a banner enrollment for Northville's schools.

The grade school enrollment is broken up in the following manner: 54 in kindergarten; 44 in first grade; 51 in the second grade; 51 in the third grade; 53 in the fourth grade; 64 in the fifth grade; 53 in the sixth.

"We've made two combination groups this year. We've combined the third and fourth and the fifth and sixth graders in a manner that we think will be very satisfactory," said Mr. Amerman.

Coming from a general teacher's meeting early Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Amerman said that everything pointed to a successful school year. All of the teachers had reported to their posts and were ready for work. The school calendar, which will include the vacation, semester and report card dates, will be presented to the board members in regular session, Monday, Sept. 11.

"Fine financial situation, comparatively speaking, looks right," reports Mr. Amerman, who said that at the promised State funds come through, the conservative budget planned for the 10-month year could be executed. There is only a 16 per cent cut in the primary and State aid funds this year, as against a 23 per cent drop last year. The tuition money, Mr. Amerman said, was to be paid in full.

Despite the "hand to mouth" extension in regard to finances announced by the State Department of Public Instruction, Northville, the administration expects, will get through the year in good shape. "That doesn't mean we have the money we need for everything," stressed Mr. Amerman.

Livonia Garden Club Plans Flower Show Saturday in Hall

It will include: Vase and basket arrangements of flowers, luncheon table settings, wild flowers, flowering berry shrubs and autumn foliage, winter bouquets, wall pockets, ocotilla, hydrangeas or flowers, fruit displays, house plants, three stem annuals and perennials, one stem roses, gladioli, Dahlias and canna's.

Lights Go Out . . .

Tonight lights are out in Europe. Darkness reigns. Black paper, shields, and curtains may keep the lights from showing in the darkness, but the light of a million eyes penetrates that gloom, and stout hearts accept the inevitable with a calm and determination that wins the admiration of peoples the world around. War has come. In 1914, while looking into the gloom of London, Britain's Foreign Secretary said, "Lamps are going out all over Europe; we shall not see them lighted again in our time." Figuratively the brightest and best of human achievement was going into eclipse. Again the lamps of 1939 are out, but this time not only figuratively but literally, and humanity staggers under the blow. The spectre of war stalks mankind.

As the first streaks of dawn lightened the skies of a Sabbath morn, war became a fact. Much as we had hoped and prayed for peace, we had only been whistling in the dark, and once again the grim Four Horsemen unleash themselves. Two great forces praying to the same God, but representing divergent views of life, government, and the pursuit of happiness spar for advantage of time and place.

As many Americans sat with their ears glued to the radio during the past week many hearts found the grave days of 1914 and 1917 reviewed again, and lived over and over the stern facts and conditions of a generation ago. How familiar the occurrences of the week sound, where action and news, policy and practice recall the events of those days now only a memory to millions. Then, as now, America was neutral, and hoped to keep out of it. A President won the election on "He kept us out of war" and another democratic President may see a third term under similar circumstances. But can America keep out? Many think not, more hope that we can, and still more wonder how, and what can we do to keep from being again drawn into the whirlpool of war.

A few certainties in an uncertain world are now: 1st, War; 2nd, the impossibility of normalcy either at home or abroad; 3rd, problems are more acute. Dangers to the United States increase, and America must adjust herself to different internal and foreign policies. In the Far East the U. S. A. must assume police powers; domestic trade must stand a shock, and then experience a possible revival. Preparedness will gain a point. America must not be caught with only wooden guns, if. Disruption of currencies will reflect first shocks, and then as they become steady following a clarifying of the atmosphere by known policies, a returning (war) prosperity will likely have a vast influence in determining the elections of 1940.

As the world plunges again into war let us not forget that perchance we Americans are destined to be the balance wheel of civilization. We may furnish the machinery by which reason may function through the days of strife and later be the benefactor of millions needing help after the clash of arms is stilled. Let us then attend to our business, that when the cry for food and raiment comes we of all nations may, from the greatness of our abundance, be able to furnish a war trampled world with the necessities of rehabilitation. Lights are out but they may be kept glowing within.

Fidelity is daring to be true in small things as well as great.—Van Dyke.

The public school is the American first line fortifications.

The U. S. Treasury estimates that federal, state and local governments last year cost Americans an average of $114.09 each. The figures further showed that the federal government cost $46.48; state $29.71 and local government $37.90. And taxes are going to be more as effort is made to place the governmental financial structure on a basis for war if needed.

Unless you read the advertisements you miss important news that may save you money.

Thrift is a wonderful virtue in one's ancestors.

The youth movement most characteristic of America is the movement to school during the first days of September. No incident of the year is more dramatic than the unregimented march of 30 million youths into the school rooms of America. Instead of fleeing to the countryside to escape bombs, 20 million children will enroll in elementary schools; 6½ million will go to high school, and college and university students will add enough to make the grand total. In this venture one million teachers are employed, housing and equipment represent an investment of eight billion dollars, and over two billion of dollars will be spent during the coming year to support these institutions of learning. What a contrast the year presents, and as one commentator remarked from Europe the other evening: "Lucky America."

New traffic regulations passed at the recent legislative session become effective Sept. 29. Better familiarize yourself with them. Greater safety and fewer accidents will result.

E. V. Ellison, who heads the high school apprentice plan, returned Saturday from a convalescent on officers' training school near Vandalia.

Practically all of the persons in attendance were coordinators doing work similar to that which Mr. Ellison is doing. "There seems to be a general feeling over the State, that the apprentice training plan is picking up," he asserted.

At least 25 of the 56 1939 high school graduates will begin college and university courses this fall. College boys plan to start a teaching course at Wayne University, and Betty Carmer will enter Wayne; as will Norman Smith. Betty Clark, land will enter a business college in Detroit, while Dorothy Colestock has chosen Kalamazoo Normal for a course in sociology.

Stanley Croft expects to take up business administration in a Michigan college. LaRay Davis plans to enter Chicago Art School, and Edith Elliott will go to St. Joseph Mercy hospital, Pontiac, for nurses training. June Graham will study music somewhere in the State, and Jack Gregory has chosen Ball State college, Muncie, Ind. Muriel Hardy has decided upon Detroit Business Institute. Jack Keenon will also study business in Detroit. Elsie Leedick will take up music at the University of Michigan, as will Barbara Thayer. Charles McCall will take up a business course in Detroit. Amelia Moczarski has decided upon radio script writing, but has not disclosed her school. Arrie Morgan will study music at Albion, while Edna Nastich will go to a Detroit beauty school.

John Olson begins a Diesel motor course, which will eventually take him to California. Katherine O'Reilly has plans to attend Marygrove college in Detroit, as has Mary M. Papp. Leona Reimer will study music, as will Evelyn Scott, at Michigan State college. Robert Seelye aspires to go to Antioch college. Harold Spence has chosen University of Southern California. Herbert Zachow will study to be an electrician.

The Joe Louis physiognomy and cranial features are to be preserved for all time, it would seem, as the result of work being done by Mrs. Ruth Yates, sculptress of New York City, who came here a week ago to do a clay model of the Louis head. Mrs. Yates determined to do the Louis portrait, she said, after an unusual impression of him, she gained while seeing a newsreel. "With the completion this week of the modeling she will return to her New York studios to begin work on a marble bust, which she plans to exhibit in a national show next year, as a member of the National Sculptors' Association, to which she was recently elected."

MICHIGAN MIRROR

LANSING, Sept. 7.—The two-toned being better here for a second session of the State Legislature this fall.

The reasons: 1. The new Legislature brought by county supervisors under the leadership of Mr. McPherson has put up to 25 supervisors the responsibility of having funds in excess of the State's maximum allocation.

Eleven counties in northern Michigan joined to protest against "the additional relief and administrative costs" and to plead that "due to the 15 mill limitation and the decrease in valuation of taxable property, it is impossible for said counties to accept any supplemental burdens."

2. According to the auditor general's office, the State is "nearly broke" and will be unable to pay the public schools more than $3,000,000 of the $10,417,000 due them this month.

Thus the familiar plaint for more money is being heard at the State capital. It augurs a special session before 1940.

What Price Home Rule? Throughout Michigan today "the welfare problem is still a controversial hot potato. It all revolves around the point: Who is responsible for administration and care of the unemployed and the indigent?

Last year the supervisors, superintendents of poor and other home rule advocates were loud in their demands for economy through localized control of welfare expenditures. Professional welfare workers were blamed for much of the "high" welfare cost. A referendum resulted, the 1937 act was defeated, and the 1939 legislature responded to the voters' sentiment by restoring most of the responsibility to counties.

At the October session county supervisors will select their own local welfare boards. They will designate their own director, and otherwise will administer the law through their own employees.

According to Judge Emerson R. Boyles, the governor's legal adviser, "additional local expenditures will be squarely up to the boards of supervisors."

That's where the hitch begins. Many counties insist that local governments are financially unable to carry an additional welfare burden. The 15-mill amendment, which local voters may impose a tax ceiling on local governments, is generally blamed for the death of funds.

More Taxes to Follow While Governor Frank Murphy induced the legislature to authorize a blank check for welfare millions without trying to find new sources of revenue to pay for them, Governor Dickinson is said to be standing firm that any increase in the State welfare appropriation must be financed by new taxes.

"If the people demand a special session and more money," the governor's legal adviser said, "they (the people) must remember that by so doing they are acquiescing in having the legislature find more revenue. That means more taxes." "Where could the State scrape together $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 in new tax revenue?" Chairman McPherson of the State Tax Commission and commission members have been studying the possibility of advancing the effective date of the new intangible tax from January, 1941, to January, 1940. This would mean a change in the law, and each would have to be made by the legislature in special session.

Throughout the next nine months the State government will be called upon to pay $3,000,000 to local school districts. This amount will be paid in installments "if and when" the State collects revenues. Only a month ago the auditor general's office had to resort to earnest pleading to keep State paychecks from bouncing. Employees, who are not to be paid their checks out of the State capital building in order that the treasury could accumulate enough funds to honor payments made by banks and business firms.

96th State Fair Because the Michigan State Fair is held in the nation's fourth largest metropolis, it must cater to city sophisticates.

And yet, being a State undertaking for the ostensible purpose of promoting state agriculture, it must reflect the interests of the upstate rural population.

Just where the two appeals cross is your guess. But a visit to the Detroit show last Saturday revealed a happy combination that should satisfy nearly everyone. Consider the following diversified activities: milking contest, jitterbug contest, horse pulling contest, radio orchestras for dancing.

The fair is awarding $75,000 in prizes for horses, cows, pigs, chickens, ducks, and scores of other competitive events. Agricultural exhibits were better and more numerous. And the coliseum entertainments dazzled with nationally known headliners.

The 96th State Fair will close Sunday night.

He Got Back 15 Cents

Just before the opening of the special session of Congress in November, 1937, Vice-President Garner arriving in St. Louis from San Antonio, en route to Washington, made a bee-line for a barber shop. For 25 minutes the Vice-President relaxed for a shave at the hands of Dexter Davis, Union Station barber who has had Garner in his chair four of the eight times in recent years he has stopped in St. Louis.
As he left the barber shop, he handed the Negro shine boy a quarter.
"Thank you, sah," smiled the boy.
"That's a quarter," reminded Garner.
"Yes, sah, I know it's a quarter," replied the boy.
"Well, I want some change," Garner demanded.
He got back 15 cents.

APPLE BUTTER TOPPING

Whip only enough to hold shape—
1 cup (½ pt.) whipping cream.
Fold in, 2 tablespoons at a time—
6 tablespoons pure apple butter.
Blend well after each addition.

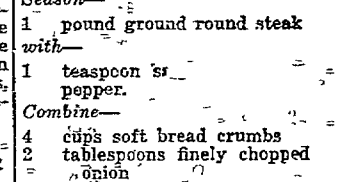

STOUT STUFF

To make a man-sized meal on a man's time and money, plan a menu around a main course of Round Steak Pies with Mushroom Sauce. There's a dish now that's guaranteed to fill up hungry folks—fat, juicy individual meat pies made with a ring of ground round steak stuffed full of old-fashioned dressing. A dressing made of tender, flaky bread crumbs seasoned with plenty of good honest onion, pepper and a whiff of salt to give it pungent, country kitchen flavor. It's fine for a famished family done so:

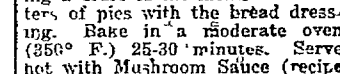

ROUND STEAK PIES WITH MUSHROOM SAUCE

Season—
1 pound ground round steak with—
1 teaspoon salt
pepper.
Combine—
4 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
Salt to taste
Liquor to make a moist dressing.
Divide meat into 4 equal parts and put into small pie tins forming a crust of the meat. Fill center of pies with the bread dressing. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 25-30 minutes. Serve hot with Mushroom Sauce (recipe below). (Serves 4.)

MUSHROOM SAUCE

Melt—
2 tablespoons butter.
Add, blending well—
3 tablespoons flour.
Cook until bubbling, then add—
1 medium (16-oz.) can cream of mushroom soup.
Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

GOOD GINGERBREAD

Folk's want heart warming food in the fall. Wholesome, old-fashioned food! The kind your grandmother used to give you when you were a small girl down on the farm. Remember sitting there in her tiny kitchen while she cut you a great square of warm gingerbread fresh from the oven? What gingerbread that was! Tasty and tender, and tantalizing—redolent with sugar and spice—ginger and allspice, and sweet smelling cinnamon. That's the sort of food to serve your family in the fall! Bigger, better food with full-bodied flavors baked in.

It's nice to know you can do it the easy modern way though, instead of wrestling with a great black iron stove and a deep-bellied oven that burned your face as you stooped over to look in. And you can use short cuts and quick tricks that gingerbread never dreamed of—cooking convenience—and prepared foods that cut your kitchen time in less than half. Here for instance is just the sort of gingerbread she used to bake with all the same rich, pungent savor! But the making of it is an easier task when you use kitchen conveniences ready-to-serve foods and a sifter tested recipe like this:

REFRIGERATOR GINGER-BREAD WITH APPLE BUTTER TOPPING

Sift together—
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon allspice
1 teaspoon cinnamon.
Cream together—
¼ cup butter
¼ cup vegetable shortening.
Add gradually, creaming thoroughly—
¾ cup sugar.
Add—
1 egg
beating until fluffy,
then add, blending well,
¾ cup baking molasses.
Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with—
1 teaspoon baking soda dissolved in—
½ cup hot water.
Pour into greased square of oblong pan and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 35 to 40 minutes. This batter may be mixed and kept in the refrigerator for a week or more before baking. Serve gingerbread warm with Apple Butter Topping (recipe above).

A Tax Comparison: Based upon a study made by the United States Department of Labor, the National Consumers Tax Commission reports that those earning about $1,500 a year actually pay an income tax unknowningly on approximately $2,500 income, or about $1,000 annually in hidden or so-called "palmy" taxes.

These hidden taxes include those paid by business or industry and passed on to the consumer as part of the cost of production. At the present time taxes constitute the third largest item in your annual budget, and if spending continues may require as much as thirty-five per cent of every dollar you expend for the necessities of life.

The National Consumers Tax Commission comparison is prepared as follows:

Annual income	$8,500.00
Exemptions, assuming the taxpayer is married and has two children	3,300.00
	$5,200.00
Less "earned income" credit or less 10 per cent of $8,500.00	850.00
Net income subject to tax	4,350.00
Normal tax, 4 per cent	174.00
Estimated hidden taxes, $1-

500.00 income 190.00
As hidden taxes increase, the real income of every worker drops; and as real income drops, the American standard of living is proportionately lowered.

Housing Records: The following table prepared from data contained in a Department of Commerce report, shows the number of one-family units built during the periods 1923-1928 and 1929-1938.

1923	814,000
1924	827,000
1925	894,000
1926	841,000
1927	757,000
1928	713,000
	8,846,000
1929	54,000
1930	69,000
1931	138,000
1932	275,000
1933	327,000
1934	360,000

Novi News

By MRS. LIZZIE COATES

Mrs. Russell Taylor returned home last week from Sessions hospital, Northville, where she has been under medical care for nearly two weeks.

Mrs. George Duart was quite ill part of last week.

Mrs. Ed Baker is gaining slowly after a recent operation at Sessions hospital, Northville.

Ben Hicks' condition remains about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Prager Staman and son and the former's two sisters of Farmington, returned Friday from a delightful vacation at Houghton Lake.

The Novi school opened Tuesday with the same teaching staff. Judging from the faces of the pupils we have seen, and to whom we have talked, most of them are glad to get back for the next year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. McAndrews and son, Donald, who have been living for the past year or so with the Rev. A. K. MacRae, will stay for awhile at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor and father, Philip Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Mothersall, with their son and daughter from St. Paul, Minn., are visiting the mother.

Mrs. Jessie Clark, and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark.

The funeral of the Rev. R. O. Thompson, who died last Thursday night in the University hospital in Ann Arbor, was held Sunday in the Littlefield Baptist church where he has been serving as pastor for some time. He was pastor of the Baptist church here for a number of years, going from here to Reading.

Friends in Novi were sorry to hear of Mr. Thompson's death and the family has the sympathy of the community.

Mrs. Edith Taylor and Mrs. L. E. Coates, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Taylor of Northville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Russell Holcomb and family in Detroit, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Howe and family returned Sunday night from their trip and visit among friends in Alaska, Mich.

The new apple factory is being rushed to near completion by a force of men and it is expected to be ready to open for work by the middle of next week. This plant will be a great benefit to the village and to the large number of farmers who make apple growing their most profitable business.

OBITUARIES

R. O. Thompson

In 1904 he was united in marriage to Grace Williams.

He has served eight Michigan Baptist churches in the nearly 40 years of his ministry.

Always loving rural life, he served rural churches, never asking first what salary they paid, but rather, if he could render service to meet their needs.

He is survived by his wife, Grace, and five children. Will of Gobles; Mrs. Frances Shetterly and Mrs.

Locomotive 'Celebrates' 35th Birthday

"Ripper," a hard-working locomotive, celebrated its thirty-fifth birthday recently in Hoboken, N. J. Here Thomas T. Taber of Madison, N. J., president of the Railroaders of America, an organization of railroad fans, empties a birthday "cake" into Ripper's firebox. The "cake" is a batch of nut coal. At the right is Bruce Nett, Madison, N. J., youngest member of the club.

Leon Stollon of Cassopolis, Mrs. Joy Brantly and Catherine of Littlefield; 13 grandchildren and six great grandchildren; one brother, George of Grand Rapids; two sisters, Mrs. Adeline Adams of Flint, and Mrs. Almeria Adams of Conant, O., and many nieces and nephews. His oldest daughter, Mrs. Merinda Alexander, preceded him in death.

His experiences in early life, having been "on his own" since he was 12 years of age, taught him to be self-reliant and resourceful.

He spent several years of his early life among the towering pines of northern Michigan, learning to know and love trees, flowers and little children.

Although lacking many of the advantages of youth he learned to think for himself and became a man of strong convictions, basing his conclusions on decisions which came from hours of thought and study.

He never was more content than when he felt he had made someone's burden a little lighter.

His greatest regret and heartache was when he failed to get a response for those he knew needed his message.

Mr. Thompson was pastor of the Novi Baptist church for eight years, from 1925 to 1933.

Last rites were held Sunday, Sept. 3, in the Littlefield Baptist church. Burial was made in the Littlefield cemetery.

Summer Fuston

Summer Fuston, a former barber of Northville, died Friday morning, Sept. 1, at his Detroit home. He was a victim of a heart attack.

Last rites were held at 3 p. m. Saturday, Sept. 2, at the Huard and Stinger funeral home in Redford. The Rev. Charles Becker conducted the service. Burial was made in Grand Lawn cemetery.

Mr. Fuston was in partnership with Lee Shirley when he was in Northville.

Williston B. Penfield

Williston B. Penfield, one time resident of Northville, died Saturday, Sept. 2, at the home of his son in Chicago.

Burial was made Tuesday in Detroit.

The Penfield family came to Northville in 1905 and moved to Detroit in 1910. Mr. Penfield was a salesman for the Hamilton Air Rifle company of Plymouth and went to Europe for the firm in 1907.

He is survived by his son Samuel B., a graduate of the Northville school in 1908.

Paul Penfield, an older brother, died in France during the World War. He was an aviator and set out for the enemy's line and did not return nor was he found afterward. His father went to France to see if he could learn anything about him, but failed.

Mrs. Penfield died several years ago.

Anna Grace Smith

Sister Anna Grace Smith died Monday, Aug. 28, at her residence, 12694 Cloverlawn avenue, Detroit.

Mrs. Smith was born in Livonia township on the Seven Mile road, Nov. 30, 1856. She lived in Livonia township, practically her entire span of life, except for the past 11 years, when she made her home in Detroit.

She was a devoted wife and mother. She is survived by her husband, Benjamin Franklin Smith; a son, E. C. Trumbull; a daughter, Mrs. Z. J. Schroeder; two grandsons; several granddaughters; nieces and nephews. There were two sons who died in infancy. Two cousins, Clarence and Blanche Brantigan, who have been visiting in West Point Park, spent Thursday with friends in Saginaw.

Kerman Koyser, Huntington Woods, was calling on relatives in West Point Park Thursday.

June Ault, who recently underwent an operation in Grace hospital, was able to make the trip to Unimtown, O., Friday where she will continue her convalescence at the home of her cousin, Mrs. T. J. Sievin.

Dean Coolman has recovered from an illness of several days suffered last week.

Clinton Ault, accompanied by his uncle and cousin, George and Clarence Brantigan of Avella, Pa., attended the ball game in Briggs Stadium Tuesday and visited the Ford Road and other points of interest in Detroit.

Miss Georgina Reid, school nurse, was visiting patrons of Northville school last week. She advised parents with children scheduled to have tonsils out before school opened to wait until October, when cooler weather would have been established and danger of infantile paralysis would be over.

Mrs. Harry Houghland spent last week end visiting relatives in Brown City.

Tenants consisting of a man and wife and four children have moved into the Hull house near the corner of Norfolk and Mayfield. Two girls and a boy will become new pupils in Pierson school.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Mink with friends from Detroit, spent the week end at Elk Rapids on a fishing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hechman and daughter, Marjory, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weltzer and Mr. and Mrs.

Gus Tarr of Northville, were week enders at Bartol City at Mr. Hechman's hunting lodge.

The only teakettle of its kind in AMERICA!

You've never seen a teakettle like this one. It is an educated teakettle... one that shuts off the electricity if negligence permits it to boil dry. When the water boils too low, the connection plug pops out—and it can't be replaced until the kettle has cooled off. But aside from this desirable feature, the teakettle has other unique advantages. Made of polished aluminum and spotlessly clean, it can be used anywhere in the house—in the kitchen, the laundry, the sick room. Simply plug into the nearest electric outlet. A special high-speed element heats water in a few minutes—from one to four quarts. You will find this teakettle a great help in your housework... it will save you time and steps. And with reasonable care, it should last a lifetime.

The Farmers' Corner

Cover Crops
Cover crops sowed this fall will keep the soil from blowing, and if rye is used, plant food that becomes available will be taken up by the plant and leaching will be prevented.

Rye probably makes the best winter cover crop. Oats may be used although they do not live over winter.

Try oats as a cover crop in straw berries.

Poultry
Pullets should be housed just as soon as there is an indication of laying. Less difficulty in management will be experienced if they are housed early. Pullets brought in now should not be forced for egg production, but should be allowed to develop normally and build up body weight. Mash should be before them at all times and scratch feed given night and morning. Cod liver oil at the rate of 1 pint per 100 lbs. mash should be used for the cod liver oil.

The laying flock should be culled and the culls sold. The remaining hens might be divided into two groups, put the better layers in one group and with regular ration and a little wet mash or extra milk they should continue to lay into the late fall.

The medium group should be put under lights. Extra grain may be given and body weight may be kept up by a feeding mash if found necessary.

Gladioli
The gladioli growers will hold a summer meeting at 2 p. m., Sept. 12, at the home of C. B. Sheely, 222 Godfrey avenue, Monroe.

At this meeting a discussion of the field symptoms of the diseases and insects affecting gladioli will be given.

Paul Krone, extension specialist in floriculture, Dr. Ray Nelson and a member of the entomology department of Michigan State college and someone from the State Department of Nursery Inspection will be there at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Stephens and son, Carl, spent the week end in Charlevoix.

Mrs. P. R. Alexander is vacationing this week from her clerical duties in the Village Hall.

The Junior King's Daughters will meet Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the home of Miss Ruth Gillis. Officers of the organization ask that all members attend this important meeting.

MAN MADE MICHIGAN RAIN PROVES FEASIBLE

Thousands of Michigan farmers in 1939 have viewed this large capacity "water gun" in operation as engineers at Michigan State College demonstrated its effectiveness of various crops when irrigation could improve vegetation, fruiting or other growth. In this extension service to Michigan agriculture this past summer, however, it seemed peculiar that the appearance of the water gun seemed to be a call for a deluge provided naturally by the weather man. Growers at East Lansing, Hartford, and Lake City witnessed these rainfalls as well as the work of the irrigator. Here is a scene where water from a creek north of St. Johns is being soaked up out in the field by mint plants. Rain fell a few hours later.
