Makes True Effort To Return to Agricultural Exposition, Sharing with Industrial Progress

40,800 Attend Daily

For the first time since taking over the management of the Michigan State Fair, Dr. Linwood W. Snow, general manager, is giving to the newspapers a true picture of its financial status.

Upon assuming the management of the fair in February, 1939, the manager and his board were faced with a situation which was not the past administration, regardless of the fact that the legislature had granted an appropriation of $200,000 for the 1938 State Fair, and the former manager had secured further revenue amounting to $225,000, plus a fund sufficient to guarantee the premiums for 1938, amounting to approximately $58,000, but the public is not aware that, for the first time in history, the legislature made no appropriation, whatsoever, for the 1939 fair, making it imperative that the manager go before the State Administrative Board and ask permission to finance the 1939 Michigan State Fair from current revenue. This permission was granted, according to Dr. Snow, as he gave a brief review of the former financial status.

Build Bank
Since that time, out of this current revenue, a much needed, permanent bank was built, serving not only the fair but the public as well. The Fair House was authentically decorated and furnished in the period of 1840, a feature in which the women of the D. A. R. are much interested. A war memorial, constructed of inscribed stones from various veterans posts throughout the State was erected at the southwest corner of the grounds, and a gas well put down, which only will supply gas for a permanent flame, burning to the honor and glory of those who gave life and limb for their country but the management is satisfied for heating the buildings of the grounds, which will eliminate the present oil system, with a future saving of much consideration. The decorations purchased for the grounds and buildings were of such a nature, as to provide for future use and permanency.

A great effort was made to return to an agricultural exposition, meeting at the crossroads with industry.

F. Wilkinson and J. Stubenvoll Head Bowling Activity

Headed by President Francis Wilkinson and Secretary-Treasurer Jack Stubenvoll, bowling in Northville for the fall-winter season will get under way Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Sept. 27-28.

Two leagues, with 8 teams each, will be organized, with some 100 bowlers taking active part during the season.

The captains and teams of the House League are: William Washburne, A. P. Roland, Wildmyer, Korne; Oscar Taylor, Wolf's Market; Kenneth Rathburn, Rathburn Bros.; Nelson Schrader, Schrader Bros.; Pete Spagnuolo, Wolter Bros.; Clarence Lockwood, Now Auto Parts; Clarence Bolton, Tom Edmondson.

Councilmen Give Pump Contract

When members of the village council met in session Monday evening in the Village Hall a contract was given to the Poe company, distributors for the Peerless Pump company of Detroit, for a 500 gallon-a-minute pump.

The Peerless company quoted a price of $1,538 for the pump, which is to be installed in a pump house to be constructed in the Village Park, where a new water supply source has been found to supplement the present water supply of Northville.

Lloyd Morse and Don Miller will meet Monday, Oct. 2, with the village councilmen to discuss a means of eliminating the smoke which their daries make.

Notables Watch Joe Louis Prepare for Pastor Fight

Guest Speaker

Percy C. Angove, who has just returned from London, where he was a delegate at the International Crippled Children's convention, will be the guest speaker Tuesday evening, Sept. 26, when members of the Rotary club entertain the Rotary Anns and the teachers of the Northville schools.

Get Application Blanks for Filing with Association

Northville High School Seeks Readmittance with Rating Organization

Application blanks were received this week by Supt. R. H. Amerman and Prin. G. V. Harrison from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The papers must be filled out and sent to the proper authorities by Nov. 1, if Northville's request that the high school be placed again on this accredited list is to be accepted.

Will Visit School
Once the papers are accepted, an extensive visitation program will be conducted by the association, according to Mr. Harrison, this visitation will likely not take place until after the first of the year.

Although Northville has been on the eligibility list for sometime, the high school has not been a member of the association since 1932. An application for readmittance was made this year.

Points for Consideration

Units for graduation, the length of the school year, the length of vacation periods, course of study, instruction and spirit, school plant, sanitation, janitor service, instructional equipment and supplies, library and service, school records, policies of the board of education, the administration of the school, financial status, preparation of the instructional and supervisory staff, and the educational program as a whole will be considered by the association before Northville can be readmitted into membership.

Northville Doctors Attend Convention

A number of Northville physicians are in attendance this week at the Annual Michigan State Medical Society convention at Grand Rapids, in session Sept. 17-22.

Dr. H. I. Sparling and Dr. Irene L. Sparling attended the Thursday sessions. Dr. Russell M. Atchison was present for the Wednesday and Thursday sessions. Dr. A. B. Wickham, superintendent of the Westlawn sanatorium, was in Grand Rapids for the Wednesday meeting.

Library Releases New Book List

The Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library is placing on its shelves books which will make reading a source of recreation and a means of keeping up with the world trends during the winter months.

Several volumes from the pens of prominent writers who have made extensive studies on the Spanish situation may be borrowed through the library. Though the war is over in Spain, there are still many difficult problems to settle. Parties have to be reconciled, the refugees still in France must be placed, and much rebuilding must be done.

Novi's New Apple Plant Is Open for Business

50 Persons Are Employed in Modern Structure where Fruit Is Graded and Packed

Rates Established

Michigan apple growers are to have the advantage of a new plant, located in Novi, launched by the United States Cold Storage Corporation, the Fruit Sales Agency.

William J. Lampling, sales manager of the United States Warehouse company, Detroit branch of the United States Cold Storage Corporation, has been named to manage this apple operation.

Plant Has Ample Room
The plant building itself is ample in size with complete installation of most modern available machinery equipment, and represents careful attention to each detail of its purpose. It is a single story structure, 144 feet long and 40 feet wide, of glazed steel construction and has concrete foundations and floors. Attached to the main building are a separate well-house and boiler room. At full operation the plant will give employment to about 50 persons and offer comprehensive agency to serve the apple producers.

The object of the service, both on the part of the company and on the part of its customers, the growers, will be to sell apples first by direct efforts of the staff at the plant, including sales to truckers and later, in the case of the fruit which moves to the Detroit warehouse for cold storage, by the local commission firm which offers the highest price for them.

Grade-Pack Apples
The primary function of the new facility will be to grade and pack apples with the very practical idea in mind that by means of a consolidated facility, a uniform grade and pack will be originated.

It is anticipated that as the fine quality becomes known, there naturally will be an increased demand which will give market advantage to fruit from the Novi plant and so result in great benefits to the growers, not only in the immediate counties, but the entire Michigan apple production area.

Private grower who now owns a private brand, which identifies his product, can continue this brand and still enjoy the services of the plant, which will pack his fruit according to his own specifications.

Make Apple Juice
After the fruit has been graded, the company will purchase second grade and cider apples to be used in the manufacture of apple juice, that will be clarified, filtered, flash pasteurized, sterilized and vacuum packed, and immediately cooled for taste preservation. It will remain in the form of natural juice and not proceed in any manner to impart its delicate freshness or native properties before it is packed.

Walker Explains "Over Drafts" of Appropriations for Care of Crippled Children in State

Hugh E. van de Walker, chairman of the Michigan Crippled Children Commission, makes reply to criticisms regarding over drafts on appropriations for the care of crippled and afflicted children under the State law and pointed to savings amounting to millions of dollars resulting from the rehabilitation of crippled children, who might otherwise have continued as public charges.

Criticized for Spending

"We have been criticized over a long period of time for the amount of money expended for the care of crippled children," said Mr. van de Walker, "but until the present time we have been utterly without control over these expenditures because the legislature, until this year, had seen fit not to confer upon us any authority for the commitment of these children nor any control over the length of time they were allowed to remain under treatment or in hospitals.

Ten years ago the Crippled Children Commission served notice on the Governor and State Administrative Board that there was imminent prospect of the funds being over-spent, because of lack of such control. Until this year, the State appropriated money for crippled and afflicted children and provided for their care, but the method was a direct bid for overdrafts and trouble.

No Control

In each county the probate judge could commit children when satisfied that the family of the patient could not bear the cost. There was no centralized control. Under the new law, commitments are to be cleared in advance of actual treatment through the Commission at Lansing, where the outgo can be

Ely and Sweet Seek School's Trustee Post

Special Election Will Be Held at 8 p. m. Friday, Sept. 22, in Gymnasium

No additional candidates have joined Merrill S. Sweet and William A. Ely who seek the trustee post which is vacant on the board of education by virtue of Sherrill W. Ambler's resignation and which is to be filled at 8 p. m. Friday, Sept. 22, at a special election in the high school gymnasium.

Candidates Are Known
Both candidates are well known in the village. Mr. Ely is a graduate of the Northville high school and is an electrician at the Ford Motor company.

Mr. Sweet has been active in community life in previous years, having served on the village committee. He is a past commander of the Lloyd H. Green post of the American Legion. He is employed by the Detroit Edison company, a position he has held for several years.

The special election Friday night will fill the vacancy temporarily until July 1940, the time of the annual school meeting. At that time, Mr. Ambler's unexpired term, which according to school law expires in July, 1941, will be filled.

Grant of $7,605 Approved for Grade Building

Administration Plans To Move Shop from High School Building To Lessen Crowded Condition

Seek Board Okay

An allotment of $7,605 which will allow for the enlargement of the Northville grade school building has been approved by the Works Progress Administration and released by Rep. George A. Dondero.

Apply in Spring
The allotment approves an application made last spring by the board of education in an effort to lessen the crowded condition in the high school, making it possible to move the shop to the grade school building. It is probable that once the project is completed, the music department will occupy the present shop rooms, leaving space on the first floor for academic classes.

Northville's school district will have to meet 20 per cent of the allotment. This will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the board of education. "As soon as funds will permit, work can go forward on the project now that it has government approval," stated Supt. R. H. Amerman when he learned that the project had been approved.

Extent of Work
According to the release from Mr. Dondero, the project provides for improvement of buildings and grounds at the grade school, including plastering, painting, constructing walls and electrical outlets, excavating, building curbs and gutters, installing drains, and performing incidental and appurtenant work.

The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

As we came by the Northville public schools, as we have several times, and watched the little folks coming to school; parents bringing them, and coming alone, but in every case true little citizens as they are, we thought of what Phillips Brooks once said, "The future of the race marches on the feet of little children."

A friend sends us reflections on an editorial entitled "If Hitler Had Three Sons." If — and we wonder what...

This week the American people, through their duly elected representatives, face fairly and squarely the issue of neutrality, or modified phases of neutrality as defined by various schools of thought. One group would absolutely refuse to sell, either contraband of war, or non-contraband to either or any of the warring nations. The second group would abide by the usual rights of neutrals, as defined in international law (if such there be) sell and deliver non-contraband to both belligerents and depend upon the universal conception of international law. This idea naturally presupposes the acceptance of international law as a basis, and of already defined terms of contraband, or such a shutting list as may be set up by either or both belligerents. A third group would adopt a plain and hard cash and carry policy on all items, thus removing involvement of changing definitions and lists of increasingly numerous items of commerce that are placed on the contraband lists by the two different groups of warring countries. The present law is definite and positive, but very inflexible, and some believe that flexibility is essential. Apparently the administration has ideals of "cash and carry." We shall see.

This week allow us to present another citation for community service of a definite and specific nature. This time A. M. Allen of the Allen Monument Works. Mr. Allen found time in his busy life to inscribe the stone contributed by the Lloyd Green Post of the American Legion to the Veterans' Memorial at the State fairgrounds.

● "My Country 'Tis of Thee" . . .

This editorial, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," appearing in the Portland Oregonian Oct. 2, 1938, was adjudged by the Pulitzer Award Committee the most distinguished editorial to be published by an American newspaper in 1938. Its author is Ronald G. Calvert, associate editor of the Oregonian. It is exceptionally timely as we see America today.

If this land of ours, this America, the man we choose as leader does at no time uniform or insignia to denote his constitutional position, or to denote his armed forces. No member of his cabinet, no civil subordinate, ever attires himself in garments of military power.

In this land of ours, this America, the average citizen sees so little of the Army that he has not learned to distinguish between a major and a lieutenant from his shoulder straps. When the Chief Executive addresses his fellow countrymen they gather about him within hand-clasp distance. Goose-stepping regiments are not paraded before him. When he speaks to the civilian population it is not over rank upon rank of helmeted heads.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no tramp of military boots to entertain the visiting statesmen. There is no effort to affront him with display of mobile cannon or of facilities for mass production of aerial bombers.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no fortification along the several miles of the northern border. In the great fresh water seas that partly separate it from another domain no naval craft pines the waters. Along its southern border there are no forts, no saw-camp strength.

In this land of ours, this America, no youth is conscripted to labor on vessels of defense; military training he may take or leave at option. There is no armed force consistent with a policy of aggression. The Navy is built against no menace from the Western Hemisphere, but wholly for defense against that which may threaten from Europe or Asia.

In this land of ours, this America, one-third of the population is foreign born, or native born of foreign or mixed parentage. Our more numerous "minorities" come from 14 nations. The native born, whatever his descent, has all political and other rights possessed by him who traces his ancestry to the founding fathers. The foreign born of races that are assimilable are admitted to all these privileges if they want them. We have "minorities" but no minority problem.

In this land of ours, this America, the common citizen may criticize without restraint the policies of his government or the aims of the Chief Executive. He may vote as his judgment or his conscience advises and not as a ruler dictates.

In this land of ours, this America, our songs are dedicated to love and romance, the blue of the night, sails of the sunset, and not to might or to a martyrdom to political cause. Our national anthem has martial words; difficult to sing. But if you want to hear the organ toll give the people a companion — "America . . . of Thee I Sing." In lighter patriotism we are nationally cosmopolitan. Unitedly we sing of Dixie or of Iowa, where the tall corn grows, or of the Rockies or of California, here I come.

In this land of ours, this America, there is not a bomb-shelter, and a gas mask is a curiosity. It is not needed that we teach our children where to run when death darkens the sky.

In this land of ours, this America, our troubles present prospective come from within — come from our own people, and injure us alone. Our pledges of peace to our neighbors are stronger than ruler's promise or written treaty. We guarantee them by devoting our resources, greater than the resources of any nation, to upbuilding the industries of peace. We strut no armed might that could be ours. We cause no nation in our half of the world to fear us; none does fear us, or arm against us.

In this land of ours, this America, we have illuminated the true road to permanent peace. But that is not the sole moral sought herein to be drawn. Rather it is that the blessings of liberty and equality and peace that have been herein recounted are possessed nowhere in the same measure in Europe and Asia and wane of disappear as one hears or enters a land of dictatorship of whatever brand. This liberty, this equality, this peace, are imbedded in the American form of government. We shall ever retain them if foreignisms that would dig them out and destroy them are barred from our shores. If you cherish this liberty, this equality, this peace material and peace spiritual — then defend with all your might the American ideal of government.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

● One Year Ago

Ghost Light, the first novel to come from the pen of Mrs. Irene Linnell, was published by the Northville Record on September 22, 1938.

C. R. Ely and sons have a fine new office building down on the east side of the Pease-Macquette tracks by the station.

W. E. Johnson reports that two more high school boys have been placed in the apprentice plan which is being put into use in the Northville school system for the first time this year.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Laura Fields was laid to rest in the Northville cemetery, the funeral services being conducted by the Rev. A. K. MacRae.

A very charming wedding occurred Friday night at the Mrs. Mae Lanning home, on North Center street, when Miss Helen Lanning became the bride of Lieutenant Merrill Sweet.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dubuay, Friday, a daughter.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Starr Hendrick, a son.

The handsome and commodious barn and milk house recently completed at the Detroit House of Correction farm will be formally opened next Wednesday.

At the county convention held in Detroit last Wednesday, Mrs. F. S. Veal and Milo Johnson were chosen delegates to the Republican State convention.

● Twenty Years Ago

Under flood of brilliant sunshine Northville's third annual fair opened its gates to the public Wednesday morning, with every prospect pointing toward a successful week.

Northville was represented at the Millard Hall by the independent unit of the baseball tournament. They did themselves justice as they brought home the bacon and we all know the price of bacon nowadays.

Mrs. Eleanor Thompson has sold her residence on Rogers street to Mrs. M. N. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Murphy leave Northville, Monday, to take up their residence in Detroit.

A mile or two west of town, last Saturday's downpour included a hail storm which did considerable damage to the apples in several orchards.

● Thirty Years Ago

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hutton moved to Pontiac this week where they will make their home. They will be greatly missed by Northville people, both in society and the Methodist church.

D. J. Stark of the fifth grade is absent on account of diphtheria in the family.

Ruth Catermole of the first grade broke her arm which necessitates her absence from school.

Guy Taft leaves soon for Big Rapids where he will take a course in the pharmaceutical department of the Ferris Institute. His brother, Starr, will take his place in A. E. Stanley's drug store.

to the Editor

In the essay "Vermont" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher, appears a fine portrayal of the character of the people of Vermont represented by a rustic farmer who feared neither poverty, social ostracism, nor the stigma that sometimes comes from speaking the right as he saw it. To me this concrete image of Americanism is an ideal toward which we all might strive. Every now and then there comes the opportunity of speaking the right as it appears to us; so if the criticism of the school system in our community can be of any value in stimulating the thinking element of our voting public to action, I shall feel that my Americanism is on a par with that represented by the old-rustic farmer of "Vermont." My criticisms are as follows:

1. The Northville School System, has no Course of Study or outline of the work to be accomplished in each class throughout the twelve grades. There is a State Course of Study sometimes seen around the school, but no one pays much attention to it and nothing has ever been done about checking the various classes to see that these requirements are met. I wonder if a contractor would begin to build a house in the same haphazard manner without first drawing plans. Yet we proceed year after year with each teacher doing as she likes about the various subjects in the curriculum. Who ever asks except when failures from freshmen in college occur whether the work has been done thoroughly or not. If a teacher is a good disciplinarian little is ever known about whether there are gaps in her work or not.

We have some first-class teachers in our faculty who would be excellent at formulating a Course of Study if they were properly appointed or committees to do so, but seem to lack leadership in accomplishing this fundamental. It might be well for interested persons to examine Detroit's Course of Study for the first six grades in English alone. It is truly an inspiration!

2. My next point of criticism concerns our lack of supervision in our school system. We have a few visits, it is true, but visits from a superintendent do not necessarily mean supervision. Without a Course of Study how can the administrator be sure that each day's work that he sees on a visit is being dovetailed into the complete whole which represents the accomplishments of the year's work. I have had children come to my classes two who had been below standard according to the Standard Achievement Tests. With no supervision it might have been found in these cases, that sometimes these children were slow, but again it might have been found that the teacher had not completed the work supposed to have been accomplished in her classes.

A superintendent or principal may not always be fitted to serve in a supervisory capacity. It does not follow that because an executive has a college degree or a Phi Beta Kappa key he has had sufficient teaching experience and courses in the school twelve grade program to supervise effectively. Last year when I heard criticisms from my principal concerning students who weren't getting along in college I attempted to do something to correct the situation and incorporated the method of requiring a mark of 80 per cent on every unit of work upon which a test was taken. The students were under penalty of making up 40 minutes each day until that unit of work should have received the standard grade.

This entailed too many disciplinary problems which my principal did not wish to handle and so I was called into his office and urged to find another method of handling my classes. When I refused I was "grilled" and argued for fully half an hour, but when I still refused to give up the method I was referred to the superintendent as uncooperative and a person difficult to get along with.

This summer, however, Professor Louis I. Bradwell, head of the English department, at the University of Michigan, could not praise this method enough. Was my principal prepared to supervise my work? I shall never say so!

As for a grade school supervisor, no preparation in my estimation is better than several years of highly successful rural school experience. To be able to help the teachers under him the supervisor should be equally at home teaching first grade writing of sixth grade geography.

Should we have such supervisors for the grades as Miss Mary Jackson, Wayne County Helping Teacher; Miss Ellen Leahy, Supervisor Miller School, Dearborn; Mrs. Charles Wilson, Waterford school; Miss Nora Wilson, Northville; Miss Selma Jarvis, Northville. (I am not acquainted with Mr. Carter; he may be equally capable in teaching any grade subject, we would, giving them full authority in teacher placement, have a foundation in the first six grades of Northville, second to none in the country.

For a high school supervisor, I believe a graduate employed a man with years of exceptional success as high school supervisor regardless of his salary. I do not believe that background of either a superintendent of principal measures up to this as they have specialized in mathematics and science which leaves a gap in the language and English fields and consequently are not of much help in those fields.

A high calibre grade school supervisor and an equally outstanding high school supervisor could meet with the board of education and administer the school more successfully than is now being done with one man at the head.

3. My next point of criticism is the doggedness with which the achievement tests are handed in the grades. It would seem best that they be distributed from the supervisor's office and that no teacher should have had the opportunity to look them over before they are given. It would be well, too, to have a change in the kind, as the same three forms have been used for more than five years. I make this statement because I saw words from a spelling test being drilled on upon one teacher's board.

4. Our school administration fears to discipline effectively that small per cent of high school students who have no respect for authority, duty, or law and order. This may be due to the fact that some of these offenders have parents who are influential with the school board members and the administration fear danger of not being reinstated in successive years. Or it may be as was stated in the last school election that we do not wish to make our school too autocratic an organization. I should like to ask, here, "Is such an outstanding school as West Point Military Academy concerned about being too autocratic?" There the word of the instructor is law with their schedule running from 5:50 in the morning till 10 at night. Each cadet receives every day which eliminates the practice prevalent in some of our secondary schools of not preparing in the hope that someone else will be called upon. To copy another man's theme and submit it as original work; to copy the solution of a problem or exercise is a violation of the Corps honor. If cheating or lying occurs the Corps reports the offender or refuses to speak to him. A Cadet must also do thoroughly whatever task is assigned him regardless of whether he is interested in it or not. To do otherwise the school believes will make him an unreliable leader. In contrast to this what is done in our school if lying or cheating occurs or if a child doesn't wish to do a book report or a hard assignment? I have had students given permission to drop their courses and then be allowed to take part in plays and serve on committees when failing in their work. I have had students who have been guilty of copying term papers and failing their examinations, yet they were passed when they should have been failed. 5. My next point of criticism is that the board and superintendent do not select their teachers in the same cold calculating way in which they should choose the child's surgeon should he need one. It has (Continued on back page)

Walled Lake News

By C. E. Sutton

Leaders and officials of the First Methodist church of Dearborn will meet at the Walled Lake Methodist church Saturday afternoon and evening, for a retreat, during which plans will be discussed and formulated for the coming year. The Rev. Gordon Phillips is pastor of the Dearborn church. This will be the second annual retreat held here by the Dearborn church leaders.

Rally Day, Sunday, Oct. 1, will be observed by the local church at morning and evening services, according to the Rev. Frank N. Miner.

Albert C. Hicks

An illness of three weeks was fatal to Albert C. Hicks, Sunday, Sept. 10, at his home in Novi, his birthplace. He would have been 70 years of age Oct. 8.

In 1900, he was united in marriage to Dora Tiffin of Wixom. To this union two children were born: Floyd T. Hicks of the home, and Arthur W. Hicks of Novi. His sons survive as do his wife, Dora, and one grandchild. He also had four brothers and five sisters. One brother, Will, died in February, 1917. His brothers are Stephen Hicks of Novi, George and Fred Hicks of Northville. The sisters are Mrs. Della Farmer and Mrs. Henry Sellwell of Novi, Mrs. Clyde Putnam and Mrs. John Phelps of Northville, and Mrs. Sherman Watters of Harborton, Mont.

Mr. Hicks was a good citizen and a life long resident of Novi. Last rites were held for him at 2 p. m. Friday, Sept. 15, in Farmington The Rev. G. T. Lyons officiated. Burial was made in the Oakland Hills cemetery.

Milo Owen Brown

Milo Owen Brown, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walford Brown, 516 Nov. avenue, died Monday, Sept. 18, in the Highland Park hospital, where he had undergone an appendectomy.

Milo, who had gone one week to kindergarten, is survived by his parents, a brother, Clair Arnold; two sisters, Betty Jean and Janice Marie.

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Wednesday from the Gastineau funeral home. The Rev. Dr. Howard R. Chapman, pastor of the Northville Baptist church, conducted the service. Burial was made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

HOMECOMING, OCT. 27-29

Homecoming week end, Oct. 27-29, at the University of Michigan will be an outstanding three days for many Michigan people. Topped by the Yale-Michigan football game, Oct. 28, the program is one of the fullest ever planned for Michigan's alumni and friends. The homecoming will coincide with the annual meeting of the University Press club of Michigan and a large banquet sponsored by alumni to honor President Alexander G. Ruthven on the occasion of the tenth year of his administration of the University. Other features of the homecoming will include the annual football roundup of the members of Michigan's famous "Point-a-Minute" football teams, the annual fall meeting of various alumni groups, and the decoration of fraternity and sorority houses.

Local News

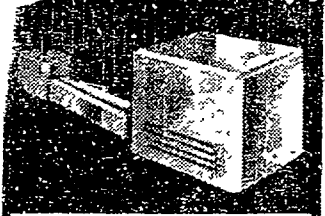

Stamps for the Michigan Apple campaign are on sale at the Depository State Bank of Northville, the United States Warehouse company at Novi, the Farmington State bank at Farmington, and also at the stamps.

The former executive director of the Miami Fla. chapter of the American Red Cross A. J. Berres, Jr., has assumed the duties of manager of the Detroit chapter. It was announced today at the chapter offices in the Community Fund building, 51 Warren west.

Manufacture of 1940 motor vehicle license plates to the State of Michigan involves the use of approximately 600 tons of 24 gauge steel and an estimated 13,500 gallons of paint. These will be made this year 2,200,550 sets of plates or 1940. To deliver them to the car owners and drivers of Michigan require an equal number of envelopes and 45,000 cartons for shipment to the 173 branch offices of the Department of State. Plates for 1940 will show black letters and numerals on a silver aluminum background.

The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

As we came by the Northville public schools, as we have several times, and watched the little folks coming to school; parents bringing them, and coming alone, but in every case true little citizens as they are, we thought of what Phillips Brooks once said: "The future of the race marches on the feet of little children."

A friend sends us reflections on an editorial entitled "If Hitler Had Three Sons." If — and we wonder what...

This week the American people, through their duly elected representatives, face fairly and squarely the issue of neutrality, or modified phases of neutrality as defined by various schools of thought. One group would absolutely refuse to sell, either contraband of war, or non-contraband to either or any of the warring nations. The second group would abide by the usual rights of neutrals as defined in international law (if such there be) sell and deliver non-contraband to both belligerents and depend upon the universal conception of international law. This idea naturally presupposes the acceptance of international law as a basis, and of already defined terms of contraband, or such a shifting list as may be set up by either or both belligerents. A third group would adopt a plain and hard cash and carry policy on all items, thus removing involvement of changing definitions and lists of increasingly numerous items of commerce that are placed on the contraband lists by the two different groups of warring countries. The present law is definite and positive, but very inflexible, and some believe that flexibility is essential. Apparently the administration has ideals of "cash and carry." We shall see.

This week allow us to present another citation for community service of a definite and specific nature. This time A. M. Allen of the Allen Monument Works. Mr. Allen found time in his busy life to inscribe the stone contributed by the Lloyd Green Post of the American Legion to the Veterans Memorial at the State fairgrounds.

● "My Country 'Tis of Thee" ... This editorial, "My Country 'Tis of Thee," appearing in the Portland Oregonian Oct. 2, 1938, was adjudged by the Pulitzer Award Committee the most distinguished editorial to be published by an American newspaper in 1938. Its author is R. M. G. T. G. T., associate editor of the Oregonian. It is exceptionally timely as we see America today.

In this land of ours, this America, the man we choose as leader dons at no time uniform of insignia to denote his constitutional position as commander in chief of the armed forces. No member of his cabinet, no civil subordinate, ever attires himself in garments of military power.

In this land of ours, this America, the average citizen sees so little of the Army that he has not learned to distinguish between a major and a lieutenant from his shoulder straps. When the Chief Executive addresses his fellow countrymen they gather about him within hand-clasp distance. Goose-stepping regiments are not paraded before him. When he speaks to the civilian population it is not over rank upon rank of helmeted heads.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no tramp of military boots to entertain the visiting statesmen. There is no effort to affright him with display of mobile cannon or of facility for mass production of aerial bombers.

In this land of ours, this America, there is no fortification along the several miles of the northern border. In the great fresh water seas that partly separate it from another dominion no naval craft pines the waters. Along its southern border there are no forts, no show of military strength.

In this land of ours, this America, no youth is conscripted to labor on defenses of defense: military training he may take or leave at option. There is no armed force consistent with a policy of aggression. The Navy is built against no menace from the Western Hemisphere, but wholly for defense against that which may threaten from Europe or Asia.

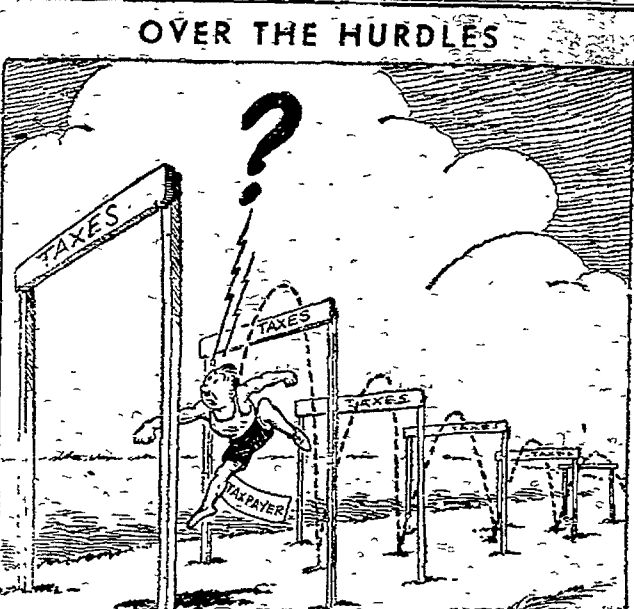

In this land of ours, this America, one-third of the population is foreign born, or native born of foreign or mixed parentage. Our more numerous "minorities" come from 14 nations. The native born, whatever his descent, has all political and other rights possessed by him who traces his ancestry to the founding fathers. The foreign born of races that are assimilable are admitted to all these privileges if they want them. We have "minorities" but no minority problem.

In this land of ours, this America, the common citizen may criticize without restraint the policies of his government or the aims of the Chief Executive. He may vote his judgment or his conscience advises and not as a ruler dictates.

In this land of ours, this America, our songs are dedicated to love and romance, the blue of the night, sails of the sunset, and not to might or to a martyrdom to political cause. Our national anthem has martial words; difficult. But if you want to hear the organ roll give the people a companion — "America... of Thee I Sing." In lighter patriotism we are nationally cosmopolitan. Unitedly we sing of Dixie or of Iowa, where the tall corn grows, of springtime in the Rockies or of California, here I come.

In this land of ours, this America, there is not a bomb shelter, and a gas mask is a curiosity. It is not need that we teach our children where to run when death's angels darken the sky.

In this land of ours, this America, our troubles present perspective come from within — come from our own mistakes and injure us alone. Our pledges of peace to our neighbors are stronger than ruler's promise or

District Defeats MGA in Close Golf Match at Meadowbrook Club

Meadowbrook's golf course was the scene Sunday of a match between the 16-man team from the Detroit District Golf Association and the Metropolitan Golf Association, with the score, 39-4, to 30-4, going in favor of the Detroit District.

The MGA won eight individual matches to seven for the private club players and one was tied.

Tom Sheehan, district champion, playing No. 1 for the district, had one of the most sensational matches of the day when he nosed out Woody Malloy, MGA open-amateur champion, 1 up to win two points.

Low scoring honors of the day went to Frank Babbis, MGA player. He carded four birdies as he shot a 70, one under par, in shutting out Harvey Olson, district captain. Ed Flowers of Meadowbrook was low for the district forces with a par 71 as he blanked Sam Kocis, Wisconsin junior champion.

Victory gave the district possession of the Edward A. Atlas trophy, donated by the secretary of the MGA who is also Detroit's United States Golf Association's public links representative.

Congressional Comment

Neutrality Legislation: The Congress of the United States first legislated on the subject of neutrality when it passed the Neutrality Act of 1935, approved by the President on Aug. 31, 1935, which contained a clause providing for expiration on Mar. 1, 1936. On Feb. 29, 1936 Public Resolution No. 74, which extended the life of the original Neutrality Act until May 1, 1937, was approved by the President. The House voted approval on this measure 357 to 27. The Neutrality Act of 1937, approved on May 1, 1937, extended the neutrality provisions and, except for such provisions as have now expired, remains as the law of the land. The Neutrality Act of 1937 was approved in the House by a vote of 376 to 13 and in the Senate by a vote of 63 to 6. In

to the Editor

In the essay "Vermont" by Dorothy Canfield Fisher appears a fine portrayal of the character of the people of Vermont represented by a rustic farmer who feared neither poverty, social ostracism, nor the stigma that sometimes comes from speaking the right as he saw it. To me this concrete image of Americanism as an ideal toward which we all might strive. Every now and then there comes the opportunity of speaking the right as it appears to us; so if the criticism of the school system in our community can be of any value in stimulating the thinking element of our voting public to action, I shall feel that that represented by the old rustic farmer of "Vermont" My criticisms are as follows:

ling my classes. When I refused to be "grilled" and argued for fully half an hour, but when I still refused to give up the method I was reported to the superintendent as uncooperative and a person difficult to get along with.

This summer, however, Professor Louis F. Breckvold, head of the English Department, at the University of Michigan, could not praise this method enough. Was my principal prepared to supervise my work? I shall never say so!

As for a grade school supervisor, no preparation in my estimation is better than several years of highly successful rural school experience. To be able to help the teachers understand the supervisor should be equally at home teaching first grade reading or sixth grade geography. Should we have such supervisors for the grades as Miss Mary Jameson, Wayne County, Helping Teacher; Miss Ellen Leahy, Supervisor, Miller School, Dearborn; Mrs. Charles Wilson, Waterford school; Miss Nora Wilson, Northville; Miss Selma Jarvis, Northville. I have had students who have been guilty of copying term papers and failing their examinations yet they were passed when they should have been failed. 5. My next point of criticism is that the board and superintendent do not select their teachers in the same cold calculating way in which they should choose the child's surgeon should he need one. the last session of Congress an attempt was made to amend the Espionage law and to this end H. R. 306 was passed by the House 201 to 187. An effort to refer the bill back to committee was voted down by the narrow margin of two votes. In the Senate the Committee on Foreign Relations refused to report the measure by a 13-11 vote. This legislation will receive further consideration in the special session of Congress which convened on Thursday, Sept. 21.

Avar Costs: On June 30, 1917, approximately two months after the entrance of the United States into the World War, our national debt was $2,975,000,000, $28.57 per capita. After 14 months of participation, on June 30, 1918, our national debt had jumped $2,268,000,000 to $5,243,000,000; and the per capita had increased $87.08 to $115.65. In the succeeding year, to June 30, 1919, $3,000,000,000 more was added to the national debt, making a new total of $8,243,000,000 and a per capita of $240.09.

Our participation in the World War, although of only 18 months duration, added $22,596,000,000 to our national debt. These figures represent the amount expended over and above the revenues received during the period. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, $3,664,583,000 was paid into the U. S. Treasury and $12,667,837,000 was spent, leaving a deficit of $9,003,254,000 for the year. In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, a total of $5,152,257,000 was collected from the taxpayers of the nation and $18,522,895,000 was expended, the deficit for the year being $13,370,638,000.

During the 12 war months, July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1918, the Federal government expended an average of more than one billion dollars a month; in the following 12 months the average for monthly expenditures was in excess of 1 1/2 billion dollars.

War Debts: Fifteen European nations owe the United States $11,151,000,000 and most of these debts date from the 1914-1918 World War. Four nations now at war owe more than $8,483,000,000 of the foregoing total, as follows: France, $3,863,650,000; Germany, Austrian indebtedness, $25,980,000; Poland, $206,000,000; and Great Britain, $4,368,000,000. These four nations owe us more than three times as much as the other 11 nations combined.

The Michigan National Youth Administration has allotted $119,340 for 113 high schools in Wayne county for the school year 1939-40. Orin W. Kaye, State administrator, announced today. This amount, made available under the student aid program of the NYA, will provide part time work for approximately 220 students who would not otherwise be able to continue their education because of financial need.

Congratulations and Best Wishes

—to the 50 Northville Young People Entering College This Fall

And before entering upon the interesting but strenuous adventure of another college year may we suggest that you think seriously about your eyes. They have a lot of strenuous and exacting work to handle in the next ten months. An eye examination now may save hours, yes, days of bewilderment and embarrassment both in and out of the classroom... to say nothing of the physical and mental strain involved.

First of Fall Gymkanas Draws Spectators to Fairgrounds

By J. LOGAN STEWART, Jr.,
Editor of The Spectator.
Sunday morning, Sept. 18, the Northville Saddle Horse association sponsored the first in a series of gymkanas to take place on the grounds of the Northville Fair. The entire populace of horse-fanciers turned out to support this outing of games on horse-back.

The games started at 10 o'clock and continued until noon at which time the spectators were even still reluctant to leave. The air was so clean and the weather so beautiful that as the flags and banners flew from the ring-side the crowds there came to watch and cheer their audible approval time and time again with joyous rounds of laughter and applause.

Certainly, they had as much fun as the participants, the latter of whom rode, fell off, laughed, shouted and made all the fun that gymkanas are famous for. The next gymkana, under the supervision of C. Arthur Searle will be held two weeks from last, Sunday, Oct. 1.

Among the prominent spectators were... W. E. Dowling, assistant Wayne county prosecutor, Mrs. W. E. Dowling, Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Slater of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. R. Edmund Dowling of Northville, Harry B. Clark of Northville, Carey Rogers and Miss Francis Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoffman of Northville, Mr. Searle of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. John Heller of Northville, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Peck of Northville and many others.

The management has invited the people of Northville to the next games free of charge.

Home Extension Leaders

To Meet in Wayne
The Leaders for the Home Extension Groups in Wayne County Home Economics Extension work will meet at 10 a.m. Friday, Sept. 22, at the Wayne Library, Wayne, in the Community Room for the first meeting this fall. Miss Ruth Peck, specialist in home furnishing from Michigan State college, will present the discussion on "Refurnishing Furniture."

At this meeting the leaders will be made to realize the effect of the home surroundings upon the individuals in the home and to enlist the families' cooperation in improving the surrounding conditions within their own level. In addition the discussion will aim to develop an appreciation of fine woods and demonstrate the care and repair of furnishings on hand. Within six-months many homes will take on a renovated atmosphere with a modern touch in style and effect.

Joanne Montgomery Observes Birthday Anniversary

Dearborn Inn To Be Scene of Meeting, Friday, Oct. 6

A luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Friday, Oct. 6, at Dearborn Inn will mark the opening of the calendar year for the Northville Woman's club. William A. Simonds of Greenfield Village, will be the guest speaker of the afternoon. His topic will be "Introduction to Early Americana." Mrs. G. V. Harrison, music chairman of the club, has asked Mrs. Robert Crabbe to sing two groups of numbers.

Each club member will be notified by a representative of the social committee concerning details of the luncheon. The club books for the year will be distributed at the luncheon.

The Farmers' Corner By E. I. BESEMER, County Agent

Hybrid corn, generally, has more moisture at time of harvest than other varieties, unless they were late planted. For this reason, extra care in allowing hybrid corn to dry or making special provision for adequate ventilation when the corn is cribbed is necessary.

Michigan State college conducts hybrid corn trials in various parts of the State to test out Michigan hybrids and the hybrids of neighboring states.

The newest overstate hybrid corn used at the Monroe County Farm and the harvest meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. Sept. 23.

At R. Marston and A. A. Johnson of Michigan State college will be present to discuss hybrid corn in Michigan. Everyone interested in hybrid corn is invited to attend the meeting.

ELECTION

One may know the qualifications of a voter, they are listed below:

1. Must be a citizen of the United States.
2. Must have resided in the school district for at least 3 months previous to the election.
3. Must own property which is assessed for school taxes in the district or be a parent or legal guardian of a child of school age, included in the school census of the district.

The special election is the only business which is to come before the school district Friday evening. Registration blanks will be handed to persons when they enter the gymnasium so that the information will be ready when the meeting is called to order. The election will be held immediately so that persons may keep other engagements Friday evening.

SPRING-FALL
..GAS BURNER

Solves Between-Season Heat Problem

Light one match!... that's all your kindling and shoveling during Fall and Spring. End between-season heating troubles. Try this gas burner—see what automatic heat can mean for your family health and comfort during the "cough-and-cold" season.

TRIAL PLAN for you

Try the burner—prove its helpful and healthful benefits right at home. You don't have to buy it now to do this. We will install it for a trial during September and October—April and May. You keep it right there, ready to use, during any of the months between. There is an installment payment of $1.50 a month only for these four particular months. Then if you keep the burner, this $5.00 will be credited as your down payment and the balance may be completed on regular easy terms.

The burner fits right in your furnace door and goes to work. Can be instantly placed... or removed and hung beside the furnace when not in use. No changes needed in furnace. Go back to coal, coke or stoker any time. Thermostat controls heat at any desired level. Patented burner design uses "a little gas for a lot of heat"—more efficient than solid fuel. You'll be pleased with the economy of this plan compared with what you pay for solid fuel to cover the entire season. Installations now in use prove it. Let us give you the figures. (Priced at only $66.50 cash installed complete with thermostat.)

Aldermen Selected This Week as New Representatives

One Person from Each Homeroom To Attend Student Council Meetings This Year

Bob Orr Is Mayor

The officers and aldermen for this year's student council have recently been elected.

They are having something a little different this year than last. An alderman from every homeroom, rather than from every class, has been elected.

The mayor is Bob Orr, secretary, Marilyn Cavell, treasurer, Ken Wolfe, and Charnelle Hardesty are chief of police. The aldermen are: Arlene Blake from William Henschel's

EDITOR'S NOTES

By "TOOTS" ANGOVE and BETTY ARMSTRONG
Come on gang, off to the game! Let's all get our rascals out and go down today and help history repeat itself. Of course, you all know that our team defeated Walled Lake last year.

Today marks our first game of the season. The fellows have worked hard and long. They started their practice even before school began, and certainly deserve a lot of credit. If we fail them now by not being there to cheer them on, it's going to do a lot to lower the morale of our team. They'll lose confidence in us when they see only a few people supporting them, so get out there today, all of you, and back those bleachers full. When the team knows how well supported they are, they can't lose.

While we're talking about the supporting of our team, why not help support the student council by buying a season ticket, for the council buys the supplies for the football team.
Times a'wastin', fellow students, so we're going home and get our rascals out before the recess leave without us. Bye now. We'll see you at the game.

NewSmith-Hughes Idea Discussed by Jane Lentz

Miss Friegard of Lansing, Inspects Home Economics Department in High School

Second Term Aim

Last Friday, Miss Friegard of Lansing, came to Northville to discuss a new home economics program in the high school.

She conferred with Prin. G. V. Harrison, Sup't. R. H. Amerman and Miss Jane Lentz, the new home economics teacher. This course will require the student to have three years of home economics work and two years of home science. Also, students will be given some credit throughout the summer for canning, making quilts or accomplishing anything pertaining to home-making. This project, still under discussion, will not be started before the second semester.

The Smith-Hughes program will be just as profitable for the girls who plan to go to college as those that do not. Besides learning how to cook and sew, they will study interior decoration, how to furnish a room with taste, etiquette, and many other things which come first in a girl's training. Miss Friegard also suggested that the school convert one end of the home economics quarters into living quarters where students could study those added courses.

The seventh and eighth graders are making aprons and later on will make raffia mats.

Homemaking I class students are canning peaches and they also plan to give teas and buffet lunches. Homemaking II class students are starting the year by making blouses to show their ability to sew. They also will make woolen dresses, learn to tailor, and plan a three-course meal.

Home Ec. Classes Set New Goal

By MARION HEATLEY
The home economics classes, taught by Miss Jane Lentz are going to accomplish some new goals this year.

The seventh and eighth graders are making aprons and later on will make raffia mats.

Homemaking I class students are canning peaches and they also plan to give teas and buffet lunches. Homemaking II class students are starting the year by making blouses to show their ability to sew. They also will make woolen dresses, learn to tailor, and plan a three-course meal.

Movies Shown To Several Classes

By B. MERCER
In the past week the film projector has been working quite regularly in the grade school two films were given, "Good Foods," which was a silent film, and "Wheat Farmer," which was a sound film.

In the high school three were given. "Old Catholics," a geography class saw one on "Wheat" and the United States history class saw a film on "George Washington."

Seniors Sponsor School Assembly

By PHYL JONES
The first assembly of the school year was sponsored by the senior high Wednesday morning.

The speech class contributed two speakers. Natalie Whipple talked on outside activities for girls and George Houghton discussed extra-curricular activities for boys.

The band, directed by Leslie G. Lee, played several pieces. Mr. Lee also led the student body in singing the school song.

Sup't. R. H. Amerman and Prin. G. V. Harrison talked to the group on school spirit and urged the student body to support the student council by purchasing season athletic tickets.

Teachers' Club Holds Meeting

By MARY JANE CLARK
The first social meeting of the Northville Teachers' club was held Wednesday, Sept. 20, when the teachers entertained their wives and husbands, and school board members at a cooperative supper at the Boy Scout Retreat at the Wayne County Training school. Games were played before supper and a social hour followed the meal.
The new officers for the school year of 1939-40 are as follows: E. C. Mollema, president; Mrs. O. F. Reng, vice-president; Miss Kathryn Giltner, secretary-treasurer.

NAME SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

By JOYCE ROBERTSON
The sophomore class held a meeting Sept. 12 in the senior assembly hall and elected its officers. Maxine Coe was elected president; Robert McCluskie, vice-president; Robert Stremch, treasurer; and Dick Simmons, secretary.

Speech Class Tea Is Friday Event

By BETTY ARMSTRONG

The students of Miss Estelle Griffiths' speech class gave a tea during their class hour in room 21, on Friday, Sept. 15.

Having studied conversation for several weeks, beforehand, the speech class felt that this tea helped them, by way of actual experience, to improve themselves in introductory conversation and social etiquette.

The class, wanting to make their tea an unusual affair, represented members of the faculty at the tea. George Houghton and Betty Armstrong donned the name of Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Harrison, for the period, and received fellow members of their class, who had also taken names of teachers around the school.

The guest speaker was Walter Naftrowicz, who represented Lord Knickerbocker. Von De Twissinger, burger, and spoke on his impressions of America.

The following members of the faculty were represented: Jane Ely who gibbered herself as Miss Giltner; Doris Deem as Miss Ludwig; Corky Sipes, Mr. Walker; Bob Parmenter, Mr. Amerman; Doris Hubbard, Mrs. Cooke; Bruce Arnold, Mr. Smith; Betty Lanning, Mrs. Eaton; Amelia Sutton, Mrs. Baboitt; Elvert Trost, Miss Palmer; Natalie Whipple, Mrs. Erick; Arthur Breitmeier, Mr. Mollema; Ernestine Lewis, Miss Lentz.

Mrs. Cooke and Mrs. Eaton assisted the hostess in serving. All in all, the affair was quite successful.

Team To Play Walled Lake

First Game of Season To Be Held in Cass Benton Park This Afternoon

By LEONARD FRITZ and JUNIOR HOLT
The Northville football team is playing a more successful season than it has had in recent years.

The line will weigh over the 500 pound mark. The backfield will be made up mostly of veterans of the two previous seasons. This will be one of the fastest teams to be seen here in quite a while. There is that problem of injuries that hits the team every year, but all the boys that do get hurt are always back fighting when they are well again.

The first game is with Walled Lake and should be won by N. H. S. This game will take place this afternoon. The admission price which was set up by the student council is what everyone can pay and support is a very important factor in the winning of a game.

Plans for Junior Play Are Started

By BILL ROSE and MARION HEATLEY

The Junior class held their first class meeting of the year on Sept. 14.

The Juniors have $150.87 in their class treasury, $99.87 of which they made at the fair selling soft drinks.

A committee including Betty Stillwell, Marilyn Cavell, Barbara Spicer, Ruth Parmenter, Bill Washburne and Lewis Eaton was picked to choose the junior class play.

The class will soon secure their rings which they selected last spring.

Choir Expects To Have Good Year

By ALLAN GOTRO

In spite of a heavy loss by graduation, the Northville high school choir has good possibilities for the coming school year. The new membership of many new students is approximately 60. Peggy McCollough and Ruth Francis are the new pupils. The choir is looking for new members.

They have many fine songs to use for concerts this year.

Grade Notes

By PAT LORD

Janet Bliss of the first grade, was given a party Friday, Sept. 15, in honor of her birthday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. William Chizmar's room has a collection of four goldfish, some snails and a toad.

Miss Beulah Miller's room has new pupils from Detroit, Joanne Whitworth and Marjorie Garner.

The room is learning safety songs. The safety patrol has been organized in the grade school. The patrol boys are Charles Stanford, Victor Martino, Bob Isaacson, Ralph van Sickle, Clayton Graham, David Willis and Harry German, captain.

Citizenship clubs have been organized in all grade school rooms.

The first grade has a number of new pupils: Peter Green, Earl Brewer and Gerald Higgins.

In the fifth grade Gertrude Soubek is the only new pupil.

23 TAKE JOURNALISM
The "Orange and Black" is published by the high school journalism class. At present there is an enrollment of 23 in the class. The staff and its heads have as yet not been chosen. An election for these positions will take place in the near future.

Council Gets Season Ticket Sale Started

By "TOOTS" ANGOVE

The first meeting of the Northville high school Student Council was held Wednesday, Sept. 13.

The problem that was discussed and settled was that of football and basketball season tickets. In previous years we have had a season ticket but this year there is to be but one for both. The price of the tickets will be one dollar each. If you care to see just the football games it will cost you 40 cents, and for basketball, 75 cents. In buying your season ticket you may make a down payment of 50 cents, and pay the rest the first of 1940.

Single games for students are 15 cents. The season tickets for adults are two dollars apiece, making 75 cents for football and one dollar and twenty-five cents for basketball. Single games for adults are 25 cents. There are to be four home games in football and seven in basketball this year. The sale of tickets in the home rooms started Sept. 18.

Let's all try and buy season tickets and go to the games. Every team needs support and that's one way we can help our teams to win their games.

Team Has Practice Game in Park

By LEONARD FRITZ and JUNIOR HOLT

The Northville high school football team played its annual Army-Navy game Friday, Sept. 15. It was a nip and tuck battle all the way through and showed a lot of possibilities. The game finally ended 13 to 0 in favor of the Army. The lineup was as follows:

Army—
Daves—LT—Hubbard
Lester—LT—Widmer
Defino—IG—Washburne
Ross—C—Dixon
Vogtlin—RG—Reaves
Uttley—RT—B. Widmaler
La Rue—RE—Boydán
Junod—Q—Fünke
Norton—RH—Holcomb
Hartner—LH—Naftrowicz
Odgers—EB—Bongiovanni

The teams were coached by Harry B. Smith and Neville Walker. The team is rounding into shape pretty fast and is gradually ironing out a few of its weak spots. The team plays its first game of the season this afternoon. They will be opposed by Walled Lake. The game will be played at 3:30 p. m. in Cass Benton Park.

Senior Outlook Is Very Good

By JEAN LYKE and JEAN MARBURGER

The senior class has already started making plans for this year with $321.00 in the treasury. One hundred and fifty-eight dollars of this amount is the result of the booth at the fair.

Plans have begun for the Senior Prom, which will be held in November. George Houghton has been named general chairman of this affair with President Wilfred Wilson assisting.

The annual sale of candy in the halls was begun Sept. 12. Arrangements are being made for an appointment with different publishing companies in regard to the class pictures. The sale of gladiolas is being continued and anyone wishing to buy them may call the school.

Buy one of these teakettles and you'll WISH YOU HAD TWO!

This clever new teakettle is a real time-saver: It will prove such a help around the house that you'll wish you had two of them—one for the laundry, one for the kitchen. A dozen times a day you'll appreciate this quick, easy source of hot water—for washing dishes, for shaving, bathing, shampoos, for sterilizing bottles, for cooking, making tea and coffee, and countless other tasks. Made of highly polished aluminum, spotlessly clean, the kettle can be used anywhere in the house. Simply connect to the nearest electric outlet. A pop-out plug guards against damaging the element if negligence allows the kettle to boil dry. The connection plug pops out automatically and shuts off the electricity.

PLANS READY

Church Musicians, will be the co-leader in this institution.
The fourth course in the school, Building and Administering a Total Youth Program, will be taught by the Rev. Delmer O. Stubbs, pastor of the Farmington Methodist church. "What goals to have and how to determine them, what steps to take in building a youth program, what leaders to have and what their functions should be, what materials to use and what records to keep, are some of the questions for consideration in this course," says Mr. Stubbs.
A supper, with characterizations of the rally meeting of the school. This is to be followed by an informal hour during which each church represented will be asked to relate an outstanding experience during the past year. Faculty introductions and the explanation of courses will be made.
Registration for the supper may be made locally through the Rev. Harry J. Lord, the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith or Dr. Chapman.
The Rev. Stanford S. Closson, Plymouth, is dean of the school. Mrs. Mildred Barnes is the registrar. Classes will meet six Monday evenings, Oct. 2 through Nov. 6.

APPLE PLANT

being produced according to a formula developed by the Michigan State college and which is policed by the Michigan Apple Institute.
Although the Novi plant does not afford storage space, arrangements have been made to issue warehouse receipts here for such apples as are intended for storage. As required, United States Warehouse company trucks will supply a rapid and regular service between Novi and Detroit. The fee for selling fruit has been set at 10 per cent. The work of grading and packing the fruit in crates requires a charge of 10 cents a crate plus two cents a liner, a crate, and the rate for the haul by truck from Novi to Detroit is five cents a crate. A regular tariff schedule has been filed to cover storage in the Detroit warehouse, and these rates may be had on application to Mr. Lampson or the United States Warehouse company.

STATE FAIR

Industrial progress Showings and a toilet were installed in the 4-H club building. The judging rings were enlarged, an additional $16,000 was provided for premiums and Dr. Snow is pleased to report an increase of 103 per cent in livestock exhibits, the largest in the history of the Michigan State Fair.
Rodeo Is Popular

The large attendance at each performance of the rodeo, is ample proof that it was just as advertised, a contest from start to finish, and the many requests for additional performances, give assurance that fairgoers will welcome the return. The management promises that the rodeo will be back with a "bigger and better" show, next year.
The gate attendance averaged better than 40,000 paid admissions a day, regardless of adverse conditions. Heavy rains on Labor Day and Veterans' Day, with cloudy, threatening weather two other days. Not only G. O. P. officials claimed that polioomychitis and the war situation had a bearing on the attendance, but many non-partisan groups have expressed the same thought.

Entertainment for All
In conjunction with something of interest to the farmer, the manufacturer and the industrialist, the pleasure seeker was also amply provided for with three performances of a free circus daily on the parade grounds, and a nine act "Show of the Century" at the Coliseum, featuring Benny Goodman, Glen Grey, Wayne King and Bob Crosby, with dancing nightly to the above named bands.
Nor was the housewife overlooked. Under the capable supervision of Miss Mary Humphrey, the women's building, with its needlework, canned and baked goods, was a source of never ending interest to the women.
The management has endeavored, with the able assistance of his board, to have an agricultural exposition, managed honestly and economically. With this thought uppermost in our minds, we have made a sincere effort to give to the people of Michigan a "Good Fair," as asserts Dr. Snow.

been customary to practice a narrower charity of helping someone who needs the job in preference to following the broader charity of choosing the supervisor, teacher for our child's needs.
6. The salary schedule for the Northville faculty is not fairly or systematically handled. Year before last a faculty committee was asked by the administration to formulate a plan for the payment of teacher's salaries. Such as the more progressive systems used. This plan gave the teachers who had worked toward degrees and had taught longest the highest salaries. It was approved by the superintendent and board and most teachers supposed the schedule had gone into effect at least I was told that my salary was being advanced toward the standard as fast as funds were available. Yet I learned soon afterward that a teacher with only a life certificate was getting a salary very near that of a teacher with a Master's degree. Another teacher with an A. B. degree was paid much lower than the aforementioned teacher with a life certificate. The teacher with the A. B. degree refused her contract until her salary should be raised to the proper standard. From where did the funds come when some of us were told there was scarcely enough money to keep the school open? What confidence can a teacher have in the word of her administrator under such conditions? Do not board members care whether salaries are adequately and fairly apportioned or are they blind to such defects?
7. My next point of criticism comes because of most voters willingness to accept board members who have completed some branch of professional training. There might be some small value which comes from having a lawyer, an eye, ear and throat specialist, and a business man on the school board but what can be gained, may I ask, from having a veterinarian on the school board? Are there not enough teachers, with children in school, whose reading habits and background would make a better contribution to the board's educational philosophy than those who are now serving? Two business men in my estimation are all that are necessary to handle that phase of the board's activities, the other three should know what it means to manage a class. The following, it would seem, would be superior to our present set-up. Mr. or Mrs. C. M. Chase, Mrs. T. J. Knapp, Mrs. Carl Bryan, Mr. or Mrs. B. E. Larson and others of similar calibre.
Tonight at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium two candidates will submit their names for election to the place on the school board. Both Mr. Merrill Sweet and Mr. Willard Ely are equally good men for the place. Yet the one who will show the more spirit and determination in correcting these evils in our system is the one we should choose.
Sincerely,
GRACE HAWKINS 13X
