Because a vote on the matter was practically a 50-50 proposition, members of the Northville Teachers' club will not sponsor a lecture series in the village this winter.
For the past two years, the club has been responsible for bringing subjects of literature, psychology, astronomy, political science and

Mrs. E. B. Lester's Committee Starts Red Cross Campaign

Girls' Drum-Bugle Corps Considered

In response to the demands made by a number of girls in the village for the organization of a girls' drum and bugle corps, Arthur C. Carlson is asking that the parents of these girls attend a meeting at 7:30 p. m.
Friday, Oct. 20, in the Boy Scout building, Hutton and Dunlap streets.
At this meeting Mr. Carlson will discuss the costs involved in such an organization, which he says will be quite expensive. If parents approve of the plan and feel that they can back it financially, some arrangement for the organization will be made.

The village has authorized the planting of spruce trees along the cemetery drive. The work will begin sometime next week.

Beginning the last week in October and continuing through Armistice Day, the annual Red Cross membership drive will be conducted in Northville, headed by Mrs. Eber-ward Lester, local chairman.
Demands are made locally on the Red Cross fund by persons who need aid, but who are ineligible for welfare. Too, other charitable organizations of the village receive the cooperation of the Red Cross
when it is needed.

In soliciting, Mrs. Lester says that her corps of workers will seek memberships from individuals rather than from plans and institutions.

Words are the swords we use in our battle for success and happiness. How others react towards us depends, in a large measure, upon the words we speak to them.

When you see a man who looks like a victor, remember the old adage: "It is not the man who looks like a victor who is the victor."

Did you notice the published statement of the Depositors' State Bank last week? Progress is marching along Northville's streets.

Referring to "Thirteen" and its background of superstition—thirteen means a lot to Americans. Note: There are 13 bars in the flag; 13 bars in the national mace; the eagle on the seal and dollar holds 13 leaves on one talon and 13 arrows in the other.

New traffic laws are in effect—watch your step especially on right turns—it's so easy to slip.

Groups in State Campaign Against Home Accidents

Invitations to leading organizations in the State sound the call for a conference at Michigan State college Tuesday, Oct. 24, on "Home Safety," first of its kind in Michigan.

Under sponsorship of the division of home economics, the conference is designed to spur statewide educational efforts that will reduce needless accidents in Michigan homes, declares Dr. Marie Dye, dean of the college home economics division.

Sessions during the day are to be open to the public, but special invitations are addressed to chairmen and committees on home safety of the clubs in Michigan.

Included are such organizations as the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Michigan Federation of Women's clubs, the Detroit Federation of Women's clubs, Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women, State Department of Public Instruction, State Department of Health, Michigan Tuberculosis association, city supervisors of home economics, leaders in home economics extension groups, the Michigan State Grange, the Michigan State Farm Bureau and the Farmers' Union.

Outside speakers will include Miss Marjorie Taylor, Chicago, representative of the National Safety Council; State department personnel and members of the college staff will contribute other portions of the morning and afternoon sessions.

Red Cross Nurse Reserve at Peak

Disaster Service, Home Nursing, Health Education, Keep Thousands Busy

Washington—The Red Cross reserve of registered nurses qualified for immediate duty is stronger than ever before, Miss Mary Beard, director of the American Red Cross nursing services, announced.

"We now have a first reserve of 15,000 unattached nurses under 40 years of age available for duty with the Army, Navy or government nursing services and subject to call by the Red Cross for disaster work," she said. "This is 700 more than any previous first reserve registration."

Miss Beard pointed out that the increase has been gradual and that only registered nurses meeting rigid requirements of training and physical fitness are enrolled: All classes of nurse reservists, including nurses now employed by the Red Cross, bring the reserve corps total to 44,283. During the World War of 1914-18 the American Red Cross mustered nearly 20,000 nurses for duty with Army, Navy and Red Cross hospitals, at home and overseas.

"Maintenance of the Nurses Reserve is provided by our charter and is in line with Red Cross policies of prevention and preparedness, but the peacetime work of our nurses is equally important," Miss Beard said.

The director explained that more than 2,000 nurses, chiefly home hygiene and care of the sick instructors, were regularly engaged in visiting the sick, aiding physicians in examining school children, conducting inoculation programs to stamp out contagious illness, launching trial nursing services in out-of-the-way communities, and carrying on important health education work to qualify family groups to care for sickness at home.

All nurses who are needed for Red Cross nursing activities are drawn from the Red Cross reserve of qualified nurses, Miss Beard said.

Last year Red Cross public health nurses made more than one million visits on behalf of the sick and gave skilled care to 272,729 persons. The majority of Red Cross nursing services cover entire counties to include both rural areas and industrial centers where nursing help is scarce.

Last year, in schools and clinics, nurses cooperated with physicians in examining 595,575 children, and aid in the task of correcting defects. Children examined were enrolled for the most part in rural schools where this type of preventive service is rare. There are 655 Red Cross nurses engaged in this work in 477 communities.

In the field of health education, Red Cross nurses have instructed more than 1,000,000 family members since 1914 in how to care for the sick at home and have set new standards of hygiene for the family. Last year the Nursing Service held 4,505 classes in home hygiene and care of the sick and awarded certificates to 61,295 persons who passed examinations.

This service to the public is supported by the men and women who join as members of the Red Cross, through their local chapters, during the Roll Call, November 11 to 30.

Roadside Ownership Is State Question

"Who owns the rural roadsides?" That is the question which has been submitted to Michigan's State Attorney General Thomas W. Read to answer some of the problems that face P. A. Herbert, head of the forestry department at Michigan State college.

Need for a clarification of the legal rights of the public, of county and state highway commissions and of the owners of abutting properties is cited by Professor Herbert. Contrary to general belief, he says, it is apparent that the counties or the State do not ordinarily own the roads.

He commends the State highway commission for its program of adequate supervision of landscaping and maintenance of roadsides and finds fault with many of the programs of county road commissions. Unsupervised roadside work he indicates, is resulting in poor care of roadside trees and shrubs and building up friction with landowners. Exceptions among the counties he says, are Wayne, Kent and Oakland where beautification is supervised under trained arborists.

In most cases a property owner's deed reads "to the center of the right-of-way," or gives him title to an entire acreage without any mention of an easement for highway purposes. Ultimate solution would be outright purchase of highways, but this is admitted a costly correction.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hannaford spent Sunday in Windsor.

Congressional Comment

by Representative George A. Dondero

Some Embargo History: Files of the State Department show that in 1914, when an embargo on the shipment of munitions to belligerents was proposed in the Senate, both Great Britain and the Wilson administration contended that it would be unneutral to change the rules on this while the war was in progress.

Early in December, 1914, Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock of Nebraska, introduced a resolution to place an embargo on the exportation of munitions to all belligerents. Walter Hines Page, American ambassador to Great Britain, almost immediately communicated with the State Department as follows:

Mr. Edward Grey unofficially expressed to me that the bill introduced by Mr. Hitchcock would prohibit the exportation of munitions to any belligerent would not pass. The chief objection to the fact that this would be special legislation passed while the war is in progress, making a radical departure from a long-established custom and that for this reason it would be an unneutral act toward the belligerents that can profit by it.

Secretary of State Bryan also contended that any change during the progress of a war would be an unjustified departure from the principle of strict neutrality. In an exchange of notes with the German government in 1915, Secretary of State Bryan said:

"This government holds, as I believe your excellency is aware, and as it is constrained to hold in view of the present indisputable doctrines of accepted international law, that any change in its own laws of neutrality during the progress of a war, would be an unjustifiable departure from the principle of strict neutrality."

The confidential World War diplomatic correspondence of the State Department was available to the Senate munitions investigating com-

11 a. m.—Worship. The choir will give special music. The pastor will preach upon "What Turned the Captivity of Job." The sermon to the junior congregation will be upon "George and Co."

The Senior Christian Endeavor will have for a topic Sunday evening "Getting along with Our Associates," Colossians 3:12-17. Last Sunday evening there were 31 in attendance at the 7 o'clock meeting. The meeting this next Sunday will be held at the same hour, seven to eight.

The Harvest Festival was largely attended on last Thursday. We are greatly indebted to the many friends who assisted, whether members of the church or not. Mrs. Harry Clark was a most wonderful leader and the response to her leadership and that of her committee was beyond praise. We ought to be very thankful to God for the land of peace and prosperity in which we live and for the marvelous blessings in fruits and fields. And our church ought to be particularly thankful for so large a cittle of cooperating friends.

When the members of the Junior congregation file out of the church after the junior sermon on Sunday morning, they go into the meeting of the Junior C. E. Society which is under the leadership of Mrs. Arthur Carlson.

Proclamation OFFICE OF THE MAYOR. Whereas, Navy Day will be observed throughout this nation on Friday, Oct. 27, 1939, the purpose of honoring the men and officers of our country's sea forces who stand ready to defend our land and institutions against invasion and aggression by unfriendly powers and memories of those who, since the establishment of our Navy by Act of Congress in 1775, have ever been ready in the national defense, many of them laying down their lives in the performance of their patriotic duties; and Whereas, that day will also be nationally observed as the anniversary of the birth of "The Father of our Mother Navy," Theodore Roosevelt, who brought sharply to our people the need for an adequate defense by sea; and Whereas, this nation always has been foremost in giving of its resources for the preservation of world wide peace, and today desires nothing more than the return of peace to the entire world proposing to meddle not in the affairs of other nations, and maintaining only its right to protect its own borders, its institutions and its people and their liberties Therefore, I, Arthur S. Nichols, Mayor of Northville, Michigan, by the virtue of the authority vested in me by law, do designate Friday, Oct. 27, as Navy Day, so to be observed and celebrated in this community by the appropriate display of the national colors, and by means of such programs and patriotic meetings and readings as may be arranged to commemorate the occasion.

Barbados Island Life Is Related by Robert Yerkes

Robert Yerkes of Northville, was the guest-speaker at the inter-city meeting of the Plymouth-Northville Rotary clubs held at the Hotel Mayflower, Friday noon, Oct. 13.

Mr. Yerkes avowed that the Barbados was no place for an American; that the Englishmen in the colonies were too serious to smile and enjoy life. After five years in the Barbados, Mr. Yerkes spoke most interestingly and informatively concerning the political, industrial and climatic conditions of that region.

Only a small portion of the people are white; a few Americans are there; it is the greatest product of the island; sailing ships find a haven there. After being in the Barbados, in spite of difficulties in the United States, America is still the best place to live," stated Mr. Yerkes.

Northville members attending the meeting were E. M. Bogart, Ed. Lapham, Norman Garvis, Don Yerkes, Floyd Northrop, Harry Clark, Russell Steining, Austin VanHove, D. H. VanHove, M. C. Gussell, and Junior Rotarian Charnelle Hardesty. Orlov G. Owen of Northville, was also a guest of honor.

MOTHERS SPONSOR SPEAKER

Mrs. Byron Murray will speak at 8 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 24, at an open meeting in the grade school building, sponsored by the Mothers' club. Her topic will be "Children Like Wise Discipline."

Barbados Island Life Is Related by Robert Yerkes

Robert Yerkes of Northville, was the guest-speaker at the inter-city meeting of the Plymouth-Northville Rotary clubs held at the Hotel Mayflower, Friday noon, Oct. 13.

Mr. Yerkes avowed that the Barbados was no place for an American; that the Englishmen in the colonies were too serious to smile and enjoy life. After five years in the Barbados, Mr. Yerkes spoke most interestingly and informatively concerning the political, industrial and climatic conditions of that region.

Only a small portion of the people are white; a few Americans are there; it is the greatest product of the island; sailing ships find a haven there. After being in the Barbados, in spite of difficulties in the United States, America is still the best place to live," stated Mr. Yerkes.

Northville members attending the meeting were E. M. Bogart, Ed. Lapham, Norman Garvis, Don Yerkes, Floyd Northrop, Harry Clark, Russell Steining, Austin VanHove, D. H. VanHove, M. C. Gussell, and Junior Rotarian Charnelle Hardesty. Orlov G. Owen of Northville, was also a guest of honor.

THIS small and gracious Cape Cod home, with its trim little picket fence and inviting entrance, is a model of modern design and arrangement. Sleeping quarters are entirely separate from the living quarters and the bath has been placed so as to be accessible to both. Plenty of closets in the home — there are six in all — and a well-planned kitchen features sure to please the discriminating house-keeper. The large fireplace, cross-ventilation in every room and ample provision for a future third bedroom on the second floor are other points which make this house particularly attractive.

THE ORANGE AND BLACK

Edited by the Journalism Class of Northville High School

EDITORIAL NOTES

What a sight it is to see someone gayly sauntering through the halls with his jaw going up and down at the rate of 50 miles per hour. There is a great deal of truth in the saying, "A gum chewer is like a cud chewing cow." Ask a girl sometime why she chews gum and she might answer that she reads something that it was good for her teeth. Well, really girls, you wouldn't come to school with cold cream all over your faces, would you? And you fellows, you're awfully nice looking and we enjoy looking at you from exterior, but must you show us your tonsils or where your tonsils used to be? We have all had them at one time or another you know.

If you were a teacher and had to look at the same people day after day, we're sure you would get tired of seeing them chewing gum all the time. Now that we're high school students let's try and act our age and not practice this childish habit. If we must chew, let's do our chewing at home and not in public from now on. The teachers will certainly appreciate it and you'll be just as happy without it, too.

An ordeal this week to our football squad for not getting discouraged even if lady luck has been against them. Keep up the good work, fellows. We're rooting for you.

N.H.S. Eleven Combats Trenton

Team Hopes To Lower Last Year's Score of 45-0

The Northville footballers play their next game today, Friday, Oct. 20, at Trenton. The game will start at 3:30. The Northville team will probably have the same lineup as last week.

In last year's game, Trenton trounced Northville by the score of 45-0. To top it off Trenton only lost one man by graduation. So judging by this, Trenton should have quite a strong team.

The Northville team is not going to promise a victory but it is going out there to keep the score down as low as possible.

Dramatic Club Elects Officers

Club Plans To Open Wardrobe Department for Authentic Costumes

The dramatics club was organized Thursday night, Oct. 12, at the high school in Miss Estelle Griffiths' room.

Thirty students gathered to name the club and elect officers. Many names were voted on but the one chosen was "The Stage Struck Troupers."

The elections were Bob Parmenter, president; Douglas McCluskie, vice-president; Mary Potter, secretary; Eugene Reeves, treasurer.

Supervisor H. A. Aimerman, being present at the meeting, was asked to speak to the club. He said that he felt it was a fine group and that everyone was interested in dramatics that had joined the club. At a later date the executive committee chose Chandler Parker, the chairman of the play committee, and Natalie Whipple, the chairman of the costume department.

The dramatics club plans to give a box social at a later date and have a wardrobe department where costumes can be rented throughout the year for different occasions.

Find Memory Fails after Choir Test

During the first two days of last week the boys were asked to sing individually and didn't do so badly.

As the accompanist began to play, Bob Boyden was puzzled and disappointed with the memory he thought he had. He told Leslie G. Lee he knew the melody but wanted the pianist to play the words. Of course there were several solos where there should have been duets or quartets, but nevertheless it wasn't so bad.

Then came the girls two-day test. Many would say they had tried so hard, "Gosh, I didn't know I could forget so soon the words that I knew so well." Then there were others who were so "scared" when it came their turn that they would open their mouths and nothing would come out. I think this test will do good to all of us who thought we knew the words.

Speech Class Has Informal Party

The speech class members had already waited a week past the regular time for their monthly tea and were getting pretty hungry so they ate Thursday, Oct. 12.

Because they were afraid the cider would get hard (they couldn't let that happen) and the cookies stale after they had postponed it, and due to the fact that they were unable to procure their speaker, they had their "tea" anyway, substituting cider for tea.

The tea was an informal affair, after which Bob Parmenter spoke to the class on hunting, as pleasant season was so near. The tea ended in a round table chat on the subject, in which all members of the class took part.

The class will hear Orlov G. Owen, Monday on the subject of "Ex-tempore Dramatics."

Squad Defeated by Farmington

The junior class of 1940 with President Ida Marie Walker, and sponsors, E. C. Mollenau and E. V. Ellison, held their third class meeting of the year, Monday, Oct. 16, to decide on a method of making money for their prospective Washington, D. C. trip after graduation.

A representative of the Crowell Publishing Company was present and explained the offer made by the publishers of "The Woman's Home Companion," "The American Magazine," "Colliers" and "The Country Home."

The students decided to sell these magazines and were divided into two teams, the Potawatome tribe, and the Kichopog tribe.

Freshman Class

The Freshman class met Wednesday, Oct. 11, with newly elected sponsors, Miss Jane Lentz and C. Yahnke. They held the meeting to discuss ways and means of making money for the class.

Grade Notes

The fifth graders have completed their emblem for their Citizenship club. It is made of rose and yellow crepe paper in the form of a wheel. The hub of the wheel is their code; the spokes have the rules. As the rules are broken, the spokes are removed and are not replaced until the club members prove that they can obey the rule.

The pupils have been making surface patterns in art, and have some very interesting designs.

In spite of the cold weather, our room has found it quite warm when reading about southern states and how they earn their living.

Robt. Dickson and Betty Hamilton have been absent this week. Expect you hope they will return soon.

Male Peculiarities

Have you all noticed the black checker board shirt which a certain sophomore boy has been wearing? It seems as if some of these boys are trying to outdo one another. First we see Don Barnard wearing a blue plaid shirt with red lines running up and down forming a block. If it may be called that. Then comes Bill Lippold with his purple sweater, so maybe this student who is often heard being called "Bunch" decided he would mutate the colors for a change and wear black.

Around the School

Tuesday morning a strange looking man wearing glasses walked into the building, climbed two flights of stairs, and proceeded down the hall. He next was seen taking keys from his pocket and unlocking the door to room 28. Many students standing around said to one another, "Can it be?" "No, not possible!" But it was—William Hensch himself trying his best to see the keyhole through his new glasses.

Male Peculiarities

Have you all noticed the black checker board shirt which a certain sophomore boy has been wearing? It seems as if some of these boys are trying to outdo one another. First we see Don Barnard wearing a blue plaid shirt with red lines running up and down forming a block. If it may be called that. Then comes Bill Lippold with his purple sweater, so maybe this student who is often heard being called "Bunch" decided he would mutate the colors for a change and wear black.

Fenner Praises Village Plans for Organization

Urges Chamber of Commerce Group To Tie in with State Group

State Senator Clyde Fenner was the guest speaker at the Exchange club luncheon Wednesday noon at the Methodist church.

The senator explained the attitude of the State authorities on the organization of a chamber of commerce and lauded the efforts of Michigan businessmen to crystallize in fact and story the sentiment for lowered costs of State government.

Land Board of Commerce Here

In discussing State taxes the Senator said that the sales tax was a tax upon the businessman, a privilege tax, and that the way to lower taxation costs was to bring the spending units of government back home where people knew what they were paying and who was spending it.

The idea of collecting taxes and taking them to Washington and Lansing and then redistributing them on the basis of matching money for local projects was just the same as paying 150 per cent of items of government when 100 per cent should and would cover the costs.

The Senator lauded the work of the Michigan Chamber of Commerce and hoped that Northville merchants would rally behind the effort here, and hook up with the State organization that is stressing tax economy throughout the State, having organizations now in 80 of the 83 counties.

Mr. Fenner found the trouble with tax economy was that the movements usually were fly-by-night rackets that at somebody a job, and represented no definite or really representative group. Said the Senator, "In the 19 years I have been in Lansing, no one strong representative, conservative and wholesome group has appeared asking for tax economies, but hundreds of pressure groups have asked for more money. He called attention to the wolf bounty, the favorite fanfare of orators, and compared the million and a half dollars paid by sportsmen for hunting with the $75,000 bounty for wolves.

Economy Begins at Home

Taxation and tax economy starts in your own back yard. Bring the tax business home quit getting only 80 cents of your dollar back from the State and Federal government, and it will not take, intimated Senator Fenner, one third of the payments on a rouse to cover taxes.

W. L. FAIR

(Continued from front page) were interested in 1932, when it was incorporated under the name of Community Fairs of Oakland County, Inc.

The basic plan of the sponsors now is to provide a strictly agricultural fair for farmers and rural youth of the county. Whereas the first fair began with limited displays of livestock of only average quality and a premium list of $150, this year's stock exhibits will be registered for the most part, with a total premium list of $675.

Farm shop departments of county agricultural schools will present educational exhibits for the first time, and the agriculture and home making departments will also concentrate on an educational policy.

Produce exhibits will include: Fruit green vegetables and potatoes. Livestock will consist of horses, sheep (fine and medium wool), swine, dairy cattle, fat cattle, poultry (Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Leghorns and Wyandottes). Home making displays comprise clothing, home furnishings and foods.

Bands from Milford, Oxford, Holly and Walled Lake schools will provide special programs each day of the fair.
A football game between Holly and Walled Lake will take place on Friday afternoon, with the Walled Lake and Holly bands appearing between halves. Both bands will be heard in a special program at night.

LECTURES

During the two-year life span of the series, lecture-goers heard the following speakers: Shirley Allen, W. H. Hobbs, James Pollock, Robert B. Hall, Raleigh Schloring, John E. Muyskens, H. C. Curtis, P. R. Oubannou, W. H. Maturer and Howard Vale McClusky. One of the most popular personalities to appear on the series was Bennett Weaver, who returned to Northville's lecture platform last year at the request of persons who heard him in 1937, the first year the lecture project was held here.

Circus Day Trails Cited by Yarnell

The circus, and its daily round, its organization; a tour of Europe, and several years' association with Flo Zeigfeld were the highlights of a most interesting talk by Gene Yarnell of Ypsilanti, at the Rotary luncheon this week.

Introduced to the club by Russell Steininger, Mr. Yarnell, who joined a circus at 14 years of age, toured Europe for two years as a boy, then followed the circus in the United States for 17 years, brought to the club a most interesting narrative of circus life.
"Traditions of the lot, ethics and codes of conduct, adventure, and risks, as well as some circus history was capped off with a most vivid picture of Flo Zeigfeld and his theatrical career. A most intimate picture of circus life, and knowledge of the organization, and experiences coupled with a swish-bang climax closing brought rounds of applause.

In explaining the apportionment of money—that is taken in, Mrs. Lester stresses the fact that only 50 cents of each contribution is sent in to headquarters. The remainder is kept in Northville for local use.

Late Wednesday afternoon, the following women had promised to serve on Mrs. Lester's committee: Mrs. E. H. Wood, Mrs. George Stalker, Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, Mrs. Maxwell S. Austin, Mrs. M. B. Brock, Mrs. William Safford, Mrs. James Green, Mrs. Henry Wick, Mrs. Arlo M. Hauger, Mrs. Joseph McCluskie and Mrs. Karl Kysor.

Mrs. Lester announced Thursday morning that her committee was complete, releasing the following additional names: Mrs. M. L. Hoyt, Mrs. A. J. Gotts, Mrs. E. A. Isaacson and Mrs. Gerald C. Woodworth.

HAMILTON

Mr. Hamilton has always been a staunch defender of local home rule. He took a very prominent part in the last State election in the matter of the Referendum, being a member of the State Legislative committee and also chairman of the Oakland County Home Rule Organization.

His home is at Ten Mile and Napoleon roads in Novi township, near South Lyon.
