Designed to aid graduates of the Northville high school find jobs or to help employed graduates advance in their particular field, the school, headed by E. V. Ellison of the apprentice department, has opened an appointment bureau.

Some 50 graduates, not working who were graduated since 1937, are on file in the bureau in the high school office. Their qualifications and recommendations are at the disposal of employers. (Continued on back page)

Give Pranksters Warning on Halloween Celebration

Elmer Smith Gets 1940 Car Plates

Elmer Smith, Northville headquarters representative for Harry F. Kelly, secretary of State, received 2000 1940 license plates this week which went on sale at 10 a. m., Tuesday, Oct. 24.

Nell Hannaford purchased the first 1940 license at the Northville Branch of the State office. His number is B G-2391.

Already, a number of the new plates have been sold to villagers who have bought new cars. A survey in Detroit and other sections of the State has revealed that dealers had on hand large numbers of orders for new cars, final sales contingent on issuance of 1940 plates. To stimulate this business and to (Continued on back page)

The Northville police department has issued a warning that the destruction of property by Halloween pranksters will bring about the intervention of the law.

"To date, we've had no trouble this year and we have every reason to believe that we'll have the cooperation of parents and youth alike," commented Chief of Police Earl Montgomery, who warned specifically against the danger which would develop if persons set bon fires as an expression of their Halloween fun.

"We'll have extra men on police duty during the Halloween season, just in case added protection is needed," he affirmed.

Because a new heating plant is being installed in the Masonic Temple, the annual O. E. S. birthday dinner, scheduled Friday, Oct. 27, has been indefinitely postponed.

We Thank You

Over 30 new homes have been erected in and about Northville this season, and in publishing the pictures of these new homes, The Northville Record seeks to emphasize the fact that Northville is a growing, progressive community worthy of the confidence of every citizen. While some homes may have been missed, we will try to take pictures of these and print them in the near future. Will you kindly aid us by giving us any information concerning homes that we may have inadvertently missed in our search for new homes. Necessarily we have had to limit the area to within approximately three miles of the village.

While the pictures speak for themselves, and need no news items to tell their tale, yet The Record seeks to acknowledge the help and cooperation given us by our good friends and assistants. Bill Rose and Fred Casterline took most of the pictures, while several were loaned by owners and builders. We thank you all. To Harold Church of the Nowel's Lumber company, Don Yerkes of the Northville Milling and Lumber company, and V. M. Pilgrim, we are forever indebted for help in locating, and identifying the new homes, and again we thank you.

The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

Something in October sets the gypsy blood astir:
 We must rise and follow her,
 When from every hill of flame
 She calls, and calls each vagabond by name.

Over three-quarters of 1939 have now passed, and only 59 more days till Christmas.

• They Also Serve . . .

And this is National Pharmacist Week, and period designed to remind us that the local druggist is one of those unsung heroes that serve and serve only to serve again. Many druggists of renown have earned much of popular plaudits, we honor them, and justly so. But the man on the corner, the home town druggist seeks no hero worship, claims only that he tends to business, and tries to pay his bills. He is the man, be he druggist or other, that makes our country great.

Our Northville druggists, both men of exceptionally high caliber, straight shooters, good men and true, whose lives seem to be dedicated to the slogan, "We Serve to Serve Again." For long hours, seven days a week, night calls, early morning calls, are all on the menu of such men. Colds, aches, pains, toothache, sprains and almost every description of human ailment comes in with a request for "something" to remedy the situation. And our good druggists seem always to be able to meet the situation. And so, good friends, think back during the later years, how many times have you asked your druggist to recommend something; how often have you asked him to come down and get you something; or rolled into the store just as the key was in the lock to get something. Yes, everything from the nursing bottle to sleeping powders are on the list. And when you meet your druggist this week, remember a word of appreciation, a kindly salutation, and you too, may realize that your local druggist seems always willing "To Serve and Serve Again."

The operating income of the Port Huron-Sarnia bridge for the year ending Oct. 9 was $215,554.71, or $81,796.45 more income than for the series for the corresponding period of last year. 329,255 cars, and 917,731 passengers used the bridge in that period. 34,014 pedestrians used the bridge. Don't blame them, one of America's most gorgeous sights is afforded from the middle of the Blue Water bridge on a clear summer day.

• Halloween . . .

Northville boys and girls will have a great time on Halloween, and glad we are that child and youth may find such an occasion for pleasure and frolic. But Northville youth are considerate and kind. They will undoubtedly refrain from those silly stunts that get characterized many other communities where breeding, enlightenment and good judgment are not prevalent as in Northville. Lots of innocent fun may be had without damage to property and destruction that is costly, unkind and most ungentlemanly. Northville youth are on their honor on Oct. 31. Those who respect their honor and their community will throw on any click from out of town or hereabouts that might bring disgrace to Northville youth. Let's play fair, and be considerate on Halloween.

Morning after morning we have noted with much pride the promptness and diligence of the Northville School Safety Patrol boys. They are doing a fine job; deserve your appreciation and your respect. Ask them for directions, follow them, and see what fine guardians of your children they are on these corners.

American women spend $500,000,000 a year for boughten beauty; $200,000,000 goes to the beauty shops for hair waves. "Beauty is industry and industry is beauty," and to most men while they complain, yet rather like it just the same — and it is usually worth it.

War brought the American Legion into being, and Legionnaires do not want to send their sons into war. The Legion wants peace. The members have ideas of how to keep out of war, and many more feel that there are still virtues and possessions that are worthy of sacrifice.

One of the highly esteemed older residents of this township—William Eves Fry, died Tuesday on the farm where his home had been for 60 years.

A fire alarm called the department to the residence of Seymour Brown on Dunlap street Monday morning, where the roof had been set on fire from a chimney. The blaze was put out without serious damage.

A press dispatch says Mayor

Couzens attended a barn dance at Northville last week. We can understand why Henry Ford has been attracted to Northville by its natural resources, but just why Mayor Couzens should have to seek out Northville for a suitable barn to dance in is too much for us. But if Mayor "Jim" wants to "shim" in Northville, it's all right—Orion Review.

• Thirty Years Ago

Northville is to have a new brass band. Village President B. A. Northrop, has been elected manager, and Prof. O. L. Chaffers of Inkster, is to be the instructor.

Harley Johnson's farm house, southwest of town, was destroyed by the Wednesday night Louis Balko and family occupied the house and they were able to save part of their furniture.

Basketball practice is getting sharp, the country boys being defeated by the town boys Friday by a score of 16-6. The girls expect to soon start a series of five games between two teams headed by Berna White and Edith Miller.

INTEREST RATE ON CROP LOANS CUT TO 3%

The interest rate to farmers on all Commodity Credit Corporation loans will be reduced from 4 to 3 per cent per annum, effective Nov. 1, according to an announcement made this week by Mr. Bird, chairman of the Wayne County Triple A committee.

The loans on which the reduced interest rate applies are those which Michigan farmers have taken out on their farm-stored wheat and corn, or wheat stored in federally licensed warehouses.

Banks and lending agencies holding loans made prior to Nov. 1, under current programs, will be allowed the interest rate specified in the present contracts of purchase, but in all instances the rate to farmers will be reduced from 4 to 3 per cent.

Birthday congratulations to Alec F. Mills, Monday, Oct. 23.

Walled Lake News Items

By C. E. HUTTON

The Fifth Annual Oakland County Community Agricultural Fair opened Wednesday at the Walled Lake Consolidated School, with exhibits from Holly, Oxford, New Hudson, Milford and Walled Lake F. F. A. and home economics departments filling all available space.

Extensive educational displays have been arranged for fruit, grain, potatoes and vegetables. Livestock exhibits include cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry, of blooded variety.

The fair is sponsored by farmers and businessmen of the communities represented, and provides a program devoted exclusively to the agricultural interests of the farmers and rural youth of Oakland county. It will continue for three days, ending Friday evening.

No "midway" has been planned for this year's fair. The only concessions of the show are in charge of the F. F. A. and the home economics clubs. Entertainment for the three days has been provided by bands of Holly, Oxford, Milford and Walled Lake. The Oxford band was heard Thursday night. The Holly band is playing during the football game between Walled Lake and Holly this afternoon, and both Holly and Walled Lake bands were to present the final musical program, this evening.

Manager of this year's fair is Harry Colestock, president of the Walled Lake F. F. A. The fair board includes: George Campbell, president; Dr. Harry I. Cotton, vice-president; H. G. Roach, secretary; and Ray S. Marsh, treasurer.

A special meeting of the Civic Welfare club was held last Wednesday afternoon to discuss plans for the purchase of the Stone school, recently voted by the executive board. Five trustees were elected to head an incorporation of the club. They are: Mrs. Charles Hutton, Mrs. Ira Carnes, Mrs. Glenn Buffmeyer, Mrs. William Vreeland and Mrs. Margaret Stora.

Postponement for one week was made by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doly, of the hearing with regard to reopening of the drainage petition hearing, as requested by a committee representing Walled Lake property owners opposed to the drain plan of the County Drain Commission. The Circuit Court hearing will be held Oct. 29.

Addition of another teacher to the Union Lake school faculty has been made necessary because of the increased attendance in the elementary grades, according to George Carpenter, principal of the Walled Lake school system. Miss Margaret Tuck, a former resident of Walled Lake, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tuck of Northville, has been given the fifth grade, at the school. Mrs. Tuck holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Michigan State Normal college.

The Community Luncheon club members were guests Tuesday of L. B. Miles, local Ford dealer, at a luncheon held at the Ford Administration building. A tour of the factory and the rotunda were made during the afternoon.

William Frid, local high school senior, with a flare for popular song writing, has been promised the thrill of hearing one of his latest tunes via radio, as played by Lawrence Welk and orchestra over a network originating from Chicago, on or about Oct. 28. Frid became acquainted with Welk during the latter's engagement here, last summer.

Walled Lake's varsity football squad failed to solve the steam roller tactics of Farmington operators at the local dust bowl Friday afternoon, and were scraped off the field following the parched note of the final horn, victims of a 19 to 0 defeat. A timely requisition to the war department for gas masks might have helped the lightweight home squad to air condition enough ozone, to partially stem the onslaught of the Farmington hustlers, who seemed immune to dust, fog and everything else, in their thus far successful campaign toward the Southwestern county league championship. The Lakemen have suffered two league defeats thus far, and played a scoreless tie. They meet Holly today.

SPONSORS TO SEE BRADNER BROADCAST

The men who milk the cows will have a chance to see a broadcast of the program they sponsor, G. L. Bolander of Lapeer announced today. Bolander says arrangements have been made with WWJ to broadcast Bradner's "Cream of the News" at 12:15 p. m., Thursday, Nov. 2, from the floor of the 23rd Annual Convention of the Michigan Milk Producers Association. The convention will be held in the Union Memorial Building on the campus at Michigan State college.

M. S. C. ENROLLS RECORD NUMBER

New records in the total student registration and the number of new students including freshmen and transfers were set recently at Michigan State college. The total enrollment this fall is 6,633. Of these there are 2,464 new students. Freshmen number 1,970. Registrar's figures show that 4,559 are men, 2,064 are women students.

Wednesday, a number of constituent lodges of Michigan Masonry attended a school of instruction at South Lyon. Walled Lake and Commerce lodges were represented, among the lodges summoned.

MICHIGAN MIRROR

LANSING — Home rule for administration of relief, authorized by the 1939 state legislature as part of an "economy" program, is coming home to roost in more than 80 counties this week.

County supervisors are in session during the last gubernatorial campaign, urged defeat of the 1937 welfare act. They insisted that a centralized system of providing relief to jobless and unemployed was needed for a highly trained social worker, yet was a luxury that Michigan could not afford. Local control would lower costs, they pleaded. Many voters agreed.

The 1937 welfare act was defeated, and the problem was thrown into the laps of 1939 legislators. A new law was enacted whereby handling of relief was returned to counties. The state was pledged to match local payments dollar for dollar. A three-member board was to be set up in each county, two members of which were to be named by the supervisors and the third man to be appointed by the state social welfare commission.

This sounds simple, but complications were numerous.

Big Business — Relief has become "big business" in America today.

Expenditures for the poor once were nominal. The word "poor," usually associated with "charity," vanished upon the advent of the Great Depression which swallowed millions of workers into idleness. It became "unemployed." Millions of dollars were poured out from Washington to sustain life and to maintain morale on a basis of American decency. State capitals were called upon for legislative appropriations.

To prevent possible political misuse of relief millions the social worker was glorified in a big way. Relief applicants had to be certified as to need, and that meant careful scrutiny by trained investigators. Salaries increased as responsibilities grew, payrolls mounted as more millions were spent, the entire administrative overhead sprang up like a mushroom.

The old relief system, keyed to a limited need, was put into total eclipse by a highly centralized system focused on Washington and Lansing.

During the 1938-39 fiscal year the state spent approximately $15,000,000 for direct relief alone.

This was a lot of money. A deficit in the state treasury was one result.

Economy — The 1939 legislature, heeding demands for economy and hoping that local control for relief would aid in realizing this objective, passed a law that gives the county supervisors the whip hand with certain limitations.

First the act attached a string to the "home rule" proviso by requiring counties to pay the cost of local administration — an expense which the centralized system (or state control at Lansing) had previously borne.

Second, more administrative responsibility meant more financial responsibility. That called for raising the "ante" in some counties which had coasted along, letting the state carry most of their load.

Third, a practical limitation was imposed by an arbitrary slicing of the fiscal relief appropriation ($19,394,400, from $15,000,000 to $8,750,000, or a reduction of nearly one-half.

True, legislators prayed that business would pick up, that the new plan would affect new economies, and that counties would absorb the balance of the need. The present state social welfare commission, headed by Walter F. Gries of Ishpeming, has turned a deaf ear to occasional cries for a special sesson of the legislature. Even Mel McPherson, unofficial state spokesman for the supervisors, has admonished counties to prepare to carry their part of the load. Having asked for home rule, supervisors were told to shoulder the new responsibilities cheerfully. This they are doing for the most part, although grumbling profusely and loudly against Washington's hard-bolled attitude that spending of social security money (unemployment compensation, old age assistance, etc.)

must be done only by persons hired under federal civil service standards.

Matching Plan Is Out

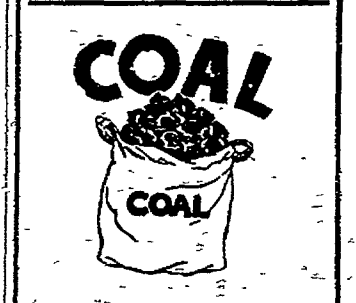

The legislative intent, as expressed in the law, was that the state should match relief dollars of counties. It was thought at the time to be insurance that counties would do their part in a decentralized program.

However, just the expected happened. In Wayne county, for example, the 50-50 plan was hailed with delight. Wayne county had been doing more than a good many upstate counties. With only $8,750,000 on hand to spend, state officials realized the matching plan would quickly exhaust their 12-month appropriation. This part of the law has been openly ignored, and probably will not be enforced by the present commission.

A hitch also developed between the supervisors who wished to control the spending of all relief funds and the social security administration at Washington which adhered strictly to a policy of hiring skilled, trained workers on a non-partisan, civil service basis, thus minimizing any chance of political mishandling of federal or state funds.

Supervisors proposed, in some counties, to engage a single director

HEALTH BOARD HOLDS MAYBURY HERD'S FATE

A petition submitted by A. Blake Gilles, superintendent of the House of Correction, has been referred by the Detroit Common Council to the Board of Health for consideration. Mr. Gilles asks that the 23 head of Holstein cows now kept at the Maybury sanatorium be transferred to his bailiwick to join the House of Correction's herd.

Mr. Gilles asks that the transfer be made because the Maybury herd is to be discontinued. The Board of Health has control over the matter.

The first football game, Pierson school played with Walled Lake was a close, hard fought game. Pierson got the first touchdown but due to lack of experience they could not hold the lead and lost 13 to 7.

In the second game last Tuesday, the boys met a heavier, more experienced Clarenceville eleven. They could not gain many yards but uncorked a fine passing attack and got a touchdown. The game ended with a score of 20 to 6. In spite of these defeats, the team hopes to win the game at Farmington Oct. 26.

TODDLER TOPICS

When your toddlers cry for stouter stuff, try serving them their strained foods dressed up with tasty trimmings. Here now is a neat suggestion for toning up a fluffy baked potato with varied vegetable toppings. They'll take to the idea right off when you follow these simple suggestions:

BAKED POTATO WITH BUTTERED VEGETABLE

Combine, then heat:

1 4 1/2-oz. can strained foods (see note)

1 tablespoon butter

1 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cut in halves

1 hot baked potato. Remove skins, then mash.

Season with:

Butter

Refill potato shells with the mashed potato. Make depression in center of each, then fill with the strained food. Return potatoes to oven to brown tops. (Serves 1.)

Note: Any of the following strained foods may be used:

Strained peas

Strained beets

Strained tomatoes

Strained vegetable soup

Strained spinach

Strained carrots

Strained green beans

Strained mixed greens

TENDER TORTE PUDDING

Next time one of your family is a bit under the weather, brighten up the convalescent tray with a serving of torte pudding. Here is a tender dish just suitable for a delicate digestive system. A dish with a lot of fine full flavor—a soft bread pudding mixed with a careful of apricots and apple sauce. This special strained blend of mild apple sauce and pungent apricots is guaranteed to stop up the flitter of bread pudding prepared so:

TORTE PUDDING

Heat to boiling point—

1 cup evaporated milk

Fritz Kreisler To Give Recital in Ann Arbor

Violinist Will Make Tenth Appearance in Hill Auditorium, Nov. 6

Fritz Kreisler, the distinguished Viennese violinist, who is now a French citizen, will be heard for the tenth time in Ann Arbor, Monday evening, Nov. 6, when he will give a recital in the Choral Union Concert-Symphony-Hill Auditorium.

Mr. Kreisler is one of the world's outstanding musical figures. No violinist of our time has equalled his hold upon the public. Season after season his audiences jam the concert halls whenever he appears.

Scenes on these occasions have come to be peculiarly associated with Kreisler recitals—the early gathering crowds, the completely occupied stage, the last-minute rush for standing-room tickets, the atmosphere of eager anticipation, and finally the long, ardent greeting for an honored and beloved artist. And at the close there seems to spread over the audience a spontaneous feeling of gratitude for a treasured experience—for the inspiration of contact with a great musician who is also a great man.

Mrs. Bobbitt Is Named Merry-Go-Round President.

(By Mrs. B. W. Hewitt)

After a three-month vacation the Merry-Go-Round girls met Wednesday for their regular luncheon in the Methodist church parlors and were served a very fine meal by the women of the church. The hostesses for this meeting were Mrs. F. P. Simmons and Mrs. W. G. Yerkes, the latter being unable to attend. Her daughter, Mrs. B. E. Larson, acted in her place. Their welcome was most cordial and with our three guests, Mrs. J. Congo, Mrs. B. Larson and Mrs. M. Astelford, made a very happy party of 17 seated at one long table, beautiful with Halloween favors and autumn flowers.

We are sorry to report the absence of five of our members: Mrs. Wm. Ambler, Mrs. E. Oide, Mrs. W. G. Yerkes, Mrs. H. B. Clark and Mrs. B. O. Stark, but we know they were missing us as much as we were them.

After luncheon we were invited to spend the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Simmons, where the annual business meeting was taken care of by the president, Mrs. W. Stark, with the following result: Mrs. L. A. Babbitt elected president for the new year. Months were drawn by the following groups: November, Mrs. A. Morris, Mrs. E. Oide, January, Mrs. L. A. Babbitt, Mrs. H. D. Dean; February, Mrs. F. P. Simmons, Mrs. W. G. Yerkes; March, Mrs. B. C. Stark, Mrs. Wm. Ambler; April, Mrs. W. Stark, Mrs. M. Park-er; May, Mrs. G. E. Rogers, Mrs. C. C. Chadwick; June, Mrs. T. J. Knapp; Mrs. B. W. Hewitt; July, Mrs. Charles Fikins, Mrs. B. Fikins; October, Mrs. S. G. Power, Mrs. H. B. Clark.

So, we start out on a new year, thankful our membership is the same as last year.

Accident Week Warning Given by Red Cross

Mrs. Lester Tells Number of Accidents Which Occur Yearly in Home

Stressing the importance of American National Red Cross accident prevention week, Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, local Red Cross chairman, places emphasis upon the need for the prevention of accidents in the home.

More than 31,000 persons are killed in home accidents each year. One-third of all fatal accidents and over half of all injuries occur in and about the home.

Such accidents cause bruises and broken bones in falls, burns and scalds, asphyxiation and suffocation, electric shock, bleeding and infection, poisonings and gun shot wounds.

Turning to accidents which occur on farms, Mrs. Lester says that each year more than 4,000 farmers are killed by accident. No other occupation has such a high accident rate, most of which are caused by improper or inadequate machinery, tools and equipment, farm yard carelessness, buildings and animals.

Mrs. Lester further notes that accidents constitute the leading cause of death for children of school age—five to nineteen. Forty-four per cent of the accidents are school accidents and 65 per cent are non-school accidents.

More children are being accidentally hurt or killed during out of school hours at home, on highways, and in other public places, than in school buildings, on school grounds, and in going to or from school. Of the total number of school accidents, 43 per cent occur in school buildings, 41 per cent on school grounds, and 16 per cent in going to or from school. In school buildings, the largest number of accidents occur in the gymnasium; second, in halls or on stairs; third, in other athletic; fourth, on apparatus; and the balance in other organized games.

Fred Lyke has been removed from Eastman sanatorium and his condition is reported to be slightly improved.

Hendin Shoe Store Renovation Work Nearly Completed

Tuesday the board barricade that has hidden the transformation of the old bank building at the corner of Main and Center was torn down, and a new front, a beautiful electric neon sign, plate glass windows and all the essentials of a fine new building and front brought a real thrill to those who have been interested in the appearance of Main street.

Comments were current expressing approval of the wonderful contrast occasioned between the rough board barricade and the fine new front.

While the remodeling is not yet completed, Ben Hendin expects to be able to open his shoe store next week and offer the people of the community a most modern and up-to-date shoe retailing service, majoring Red Cross and Florshiem shoes.

The first floor of the old building has been divided into two stores, with separate entrances, and surpassed slow windows and recessed entrances. Black glass decorated with a conservative red and green trim extends on either side, full length. There are four large display windows, with plate glass with aluminum trim, recessed multiple lights, all emphasizing the modern motif in new front construction. Terraza entrances add much to the completeness of the building. Mr. Hendin, proprietor and owner of the new store and building, is bending every effort to make his new building attractive, hospitable and a real asset to Northville's ever growing and expanding business section.

Amerman Receives Final Dental Clinic Report

A tabulated report of the dental work done in connection with the dental relief program under the sponsorship of the Children's Fund of Michigan was received this week by Supt. R. H. Amerman.

The clinic in Northville, serviced 163 Northville school children, 146 of whom had more than one visit to the clinic. Thirty-eight of these children were given prophylactic treatments, by Dr. Zakrajsek, the clinic dentist. He extracted 237 deciduous teeth and 38 permanent teeth. He also gave 31 pulp treatments and 365 cement bases. One-surfaced fillings were given, 297 of them to be exact. There were also 72 two-surfaced fillings made.

"Your active assistance this past summer has been most valuable, and we wish to take this opportunity to thank you for the time and effort you expended in organizing the program," stated Dr. K. R. Gibson, director of the Fund's dental division, in his letter to Mr. Amerman.

This was the first year the dental clinic was held in Northville. Pupils, to be eligible for the service, were first approved by Northville's three resident dentists and an adult committee selected by Mr. Amerman.

State Approves Hick's Pump House Plans

Mayor Arthur S. Nichols and Street Commissioner Earl Montgomery returned to the village Tuesday evening after spending the day in Lansing, where the State Department of Health approved the pencil sketches of the "proposed" pump house which is to be erected in the Village Park.

"Our pencil sketches of the structure designed by Commissioner George Hicks were given approval, but just to make sure that everything is all right, we're getting blue prints ready for inspection," asserted Mr. Montgomery. The structure is a two-story house, the recently purchased water pump that can be pressed to give 500 gallons of water a minute from the well which was sunk in the park this summer at the request of the State Department of Health.

Design Back-Saver for Potato Diggers

Use of some imagination at Michigan State college has resulted in creation of a small three-wheeled machine that promises to rid thousands of Michigan farmers of the backaches they usually experience in picking up potatoes each fall.

In fact the invention likely will go farther than that. Early tests indicate it facilitates picking up the crop. Now attention is to be turned to its possibilities as a complete potato outfit, capable of handling all the jobs once the land is fitted in the spring. Subsequent jobs, if tests are successful, may include planting, cultivating, and possibly digging.

A three-quarter horsepower gasoline engine drives from the rear with a friction drive from a pump jack onto a standard auto tire of six by sixteen-inch size. Feet placed on the steering arms at the front, steer the two smaller four by twelve-inch rubber tires.

H. H. Musseiman, head of the department of agricultural engineering, conceived the idea. Many of the details have been worked out by Floyd Linsbaugh, technician of the department.

The fuel tank holds but a gallon of gasoline, yet this is sufficient to operate the engine for eight to nine hours. It is the same type engine often used on washing machines or water pumps.

One of the greatest advantages of the crawler is that there is far less injury to the potatoes in picking them up. The operator sits at a nearly ground level, with bag openings on either side at a low level. An inexperienced man found he could pick at the rate of three bushels a minute.

An experienced picker on the machine maintained with ease a steady pace equal to his top speed when picking into a crate.

Only something unusual could bring similar praise from thousands of America's leading men and women.

And something unusual HAS happened—a book that concerns YOU and YOUR success and happiness.

It deals with the biggest problem you and all of us face: the problem of "getting along" with others, of making other people like us, of influencing those with whom we come in contact in business, social and everyday life.

Why is this your most important problem? Because ONLY through OTHERS is it possible for any of us to succeed—to get what we want from life. Your difficulties of today are the setbacks and successes of the past—do you not find other people always at the root of them—friend, relative, employer, employee, associate, superior?

Successful men and women recognize this need of influencing others as their most important life problem.

John D. Rockefeller knew it when he said, "Ability to deal with human nature is a 'commodity' for which I will pay more than for any other thing under the sun."

Record Number of Disasters Reported by Red Cross for Year

The American Red Cross gave emergency relief and rehabilitation aid to 130,000 sufferers of 137 disasters in the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, according to a report submitted by DeWitt Smith, newly appointed director of the Red Cross disaster relief service.

Mr. Smith said the number of disaster operations exceeded that of any previous year, with cloudbursts, epidemics, fires, windstorms, snowslides, and other catastrophes striking in 43 states and the territory of Alaska. Red Cross disaster relief expenditures totaled $2,276,109 for the year.

"Since its founding in 1881, the Red Cross has aided victims of 2,495 disasters here and abroad, expending $143,000,000 for rescue, food, clothing, shelter, medical and nursing aid and the permanent rehabilitation of families unable to re-establish themselves," Mr. Smith said.

Last year the Red Cross helped 41,000 enlisted men or their families through its workers stationed at Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard Stations and through Red Cross chapters from coast to coast. Recent Congressional action to increase the United States armed forces has necessitated expansion of this vital service to enlisted men by the Red Cross.

Library Releases Books on Guatemala

Among the books which may be borrowed through the Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library are:

"Four Keys to Guatemala" by Very Kelsey. "Here is a useful and thoughtfully compiled book about a country which is steadily—and deservedly—gaining in popularity with Americans. But it is more than a travel or a guidebook. It is a serious, well organized and not-to-heavy-to-hold volume, which may well be the standard encyclopedia on Guatemala for a number of years to come."—New York Herald Tribune.

"The House in Antigua" by Louis Adams. This is the story of a 300-year-old house—now standing, partially restored, in Antigua, once the capital of Guatemala. The author has captured the spirit of Antigua as well as been captured by it. As a result the book contains the timeless charm of its subject.

"Guatemala" by Erna Ferguson. It is a book which takes into account the diverse facts of a country at our very doors which is surprisingly unknown to most Americans. She views the people as an interested and alert observer keen to appreciate the social struggle going on about her.

Notes on a Drum by Joseph H. Jackson. "It will be used by the rapid-moving Guatemalan-bound travelers for a 1000 white to come and will be read with much interest and enjoyment" by many armchair travelers. Mr. Jackson writes in a clear informed easy fashion. There is movement in his words. One travels with him. One sees and feels the places, people in groups, groups at work, Indian cargadores on the road, and individuals belonging to the various elements that make up the population. One sees and feels the country."—New York Herald Tribune.

"Guatemala Profile" by Addison Burbank. "This artist-writer's pages are alive and gay and breezy. They are all saturated with the color, which in Guatemala, drives impressionable foreign visitors, particularly artists, into frenzies of enthusiasm. They are never pretentious or pontifical, and they are decorated with dozens of neat and facile sketches. In short, they are a treat from cover to cover."—New York Times.

"Flight into America's Past" by Maria Beale. Anyone seeking suggestion for an unusual vacation will find this book just the thing. Parts of it are on Guatemala, parts on Yucatan and Peru.

Hoffman Cites School Changes at Walled Lake

Effort Is Made To Obtain Safe Transportation for Enrolled Students

"Perhaps no school in the State of Michigan," says Supt. C. A. Hoffman of the Walled Lake school, "has changed so rapidly and so completely as the Walled Lake Consolidated school has in the past two years. Without doubt, the school system as now established and the buildings and equipment as it is beginning to function with the 1939-'40 school year is most unusual in the State of Michigan and likely in the United States."

"Because of its proximity to Detroit, and the changing conditions of travel and building expansion, the Walled Lake Consolidated school is no longer an ordinary rural agricultural school, but it operates more nearly like a city school system, since it maintains two elementary schools for children of the first six grades at Union Lake and Commerce as well as the 12-grade school at the original site of the consolidated school. Some of the changes to which we have alluded are the constituency, the size and valuation of the school district, the operation of school buses, the activities and facilities of the enlarged school plant," continued Mr. Hoffman.

In Mr. Hoffman's opinion, the unsatisfactory part of the school housing problem is the fact that for the present, at the Walled Lake building the children of the first six grades must also be taught in the same building with the junior and senior high school classes. It is better educationally and gives the smaller children a better situation when their work is the one thing that the building is used for, he asserts.

Speaking of the transportation problem, Mr. Hoffman says that it is the determination of the board of education that everything in connection with the transporting of pupils must be done with a view to the safety of the children. With this in mind, a special transportation contract has been entered into which states specific regulations for the operation of school buses. Safety instructions have been given to both the bus drivers and to the children.

Miss Laura Marie Lord and Miss Clara Christensen, students this year at Albion college, spent the week end with their parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Harry J. Lord and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Christensen.

Albert Boelens son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Boelens, was the first of only two freshmen who beat a sophomore Saturday in a pillow fight one of the Homecoming events on the Michigan State Normal campus, Ypsilanti.

Congressional Comment

George A. Dondora

Tax Prospects . . . An analysis of our Federal tax structure shows that wage earners and low income groups would be called upon to pay a much greater proportion of Federal taxes should the United States become involved in war. The vast reserve of taxing power available in 1916 to meet the World War expenditures has been employed by the Federal government at approximately the full wartime level since 1935. Because of this situation, annual incomes now represent the principal source of new revenues.

In the fiscal year 1916 a total of $182,000,000 was collected in Federal revenues, less than 2 per cent of the national income, and there was a surplus of $49,000,000 after expenditures. Because of war demands, Federal revenues increased more than $5,000,000,000 in 1919 and to more than $6,500,000,000 in 1920. In 1917 receipts amounted to $1,124,000,000 and there was a deficit of $550,000,000; in 1918, receipts of $3,664,000,000 and a deficit of $9,000,000,000; and in 1919, receipts of $5,152,000,000 and a deficit of $13,570,000,000. In 1920 Federal revenues of $6,694,000,000 represented more than 8 per cent of our national income.

In 1935 receipts amounted to $3,800,000,000 and there was a deficit of $3,575,000,000; in 1936, receipts of $4,115,000,000 and a deficit of $4,763,000,000; in 1937, receipts of $5,283,000,000 and a deficit of $2,811,000,000; and in 1938, receipts of $6,241,000,000 and a deficit of $1,524,000,000. In the latter year the receipts represented approximately 11 per cent of our national income, exceeding the war peak by 2 per cent. It is estimated that the 1939 ratio of Federal receipts will approximate 15 per cent of our national income.

Federal revenues, combined with state and local taxes, now require 23 per cent of our national income and we are not even meeting our current expenses of government. In addition, reserve borrowing power has been reduced by the amount of the national debt, which is now more than $15,000,000,000 over our war-time peak of $26,000,000,000.

The necessity for greatly increased expenditures because of war will require the imposition of income taxes upon the low income groups and an increase in the rate of taxation, as well as the levying of other taxes on commodities or transactions not now taxed by the Federal government. This would indicate that wage earners and low income groups, as well as all others, will be called upon to yield a much greater proportion of their earnings to the Federal government than they now contribute in the event of our involvement in any war.

Make Berkley Game Changes

Coach Smith Changes Line and End Positions in Fifth Game

The changes that were made for the Berkley game were: Ray Hartner was changed from halfback to end, because of his ability to snag passes; Stan Davis, who was doing very well at end, was changed to tackle because of his weight; Don Kimmel, a second string end, was changed to halfback because of the speed he has been showing in practice.

This game was Northville's fifth of the season and everyone hoped for a victory.

EDITORIAL NOTES

We wish you all could have been here yesterday when the report cards were handed out. By some of the expressions on the faces of the students of dear old N. H. S., we're sure that there were some grave disappointments. Our new marking period started last Monday and some of us are going to have to make a new start and work a little harder for better marks next time.

This year we are trying out a new type of report card. They consist of two pages folded together in the form of a book. The student will be marked in their subjects, their attendance, and citizenship. Citizenship is based on eight points: Promptness, neatness, dependability, care and use of property, cooperation, courtesy, leadership, and self-control. On the back of the card there is room for any comments that the parents wish to make known to the teachers. It is hoped that these new ideas will be of some advantage to both the parent and the student.

Hi-Y Club Hears Boyd Walker

All Boys Are Invited To Attend Next Meeting, Monday, Oct. 30

Monday evening, Oct. 23, a group of boys interested in forming a Northville "Hi-Y" club, heard Boyd Walker, who spoke in the grade building auditorium. Mr. Walker, secretary of the Hi-Y clubs of Detroit, explained the organization and running of the clubs. Mr. Walker stated that there were 160,000 boys belonging to the Hi-Y organizations all over the world, and that every high school should have a division. The purpose of the organization is to make better boys, better sports and better Christians. A temporary committee was chosen, with Junior Holt as chairman. His assistants are: Bob Parmenter, Harry Porter, Louis Herrick and Frank Eaton. The next meeting is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 30. All boys are welcome.

Northville Loses to Greatest Rival

Northville's football team went over to Trenton last Friday only to come home on the short end of a 42-0 score.

Trenton has one of the biggest and fastest teams we have seen this year. They turned on their power from the kickoff till the final gun. Their touchdowns came in every period, but their biggest period was the second when they scored 21 points. Fumbles were Northville's main fault.

The two lineups were:

Northville	Trenton
Hartner	Hyde
Widmaier	Bohannon
Vogtlin	Bourassa
Dixon	Beer
Willis	Willowsky
Davis	Zimmer
LaRue	Hurman

Quick War Relief Given by Red Cross

Shipwrecked U. S. Citizens, Wounded Poles, Refugees, Repatriates Aided

Washington.—The American Red Cross moved quickly at the onset of hostilities in Europe to organize relief for war sufferers and give aid to American citizens stranded in danger zones or rescued from sea-warfare catastrophes.

Red Cross officials pointed out that following contact of German-Polish forces on September 1, the organization made available medical relief for civilians and armies of Poland; provided aid for American repatriates from Europe as they landed in the United States ports; granted medical and maintenance assistance to American survivors of the "Athenia," first sea casualty of the war, gave financial aid to the American Hospital in Paris, France, and developed a comprehensive communications system to allay the fears of distraught relatives.

Norman H. Davis, chairman, called the International Red Cross Committee in Geneva on September 1 asking what relief would be needed from the American Red Cross in a first step in consolidating Red Cross relief efforts throughout the nation. 37,733 Cross chapters were authorized to produce refugee garments and to accept contributions for war relief.

A quick response from the Polish Red Cross to Chairman Davis' cable to the International Committee resulted in an American Red Cross appropriation of $50,000 for the purchase of 45 items of medicines, and for army blankets and a quantity of large hospital tents capable of housing 50 stretcher cases each.

Now is the time to re-order that job of printing. Just call 200 and we will be glad to repeat your last order.

The Northville Record
Northville, Michigan

A grant of $25,000 was also made to the American Hospital in Paris to evacuate American patients from the hospital and to purchase in the United States a 100 bed hospital unit for shipment to the American organization, it was said.

To meet needs which were thought likely to result from bombardment of rural villages and the passage of hostile armies, the Red Cross called upon 21 of its large city chapters to roll surgical dressings of a special new type for European warfare injuries. More than 500,000 yards of gauze were purchased and 40,000 pounds of cotton, enough to make 157,000 surgical dressings.

On September 2, the American Red Cross announced it was organizing to meet repatriating American citizens at seaport cities through chapter reception committees. Citizens without resources were given temporary shelter, and aided to resettle in their former homes or work.

Howard Whipple and W. E. Forney were on the sick list this week.

Deer Hunters Soon To Take to Woods for 16-Day Season

LANSING — Within a few days Michigan will harvest from thousands of acres of idle waste land a $4,000,000 crop.
Visitors to the No. 1 vacation state may wonder at the apparent uneconomic worth of the vast, forested areas in the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula and those in the Upper Peninsula.

The fact still remains that 34,528 square miles of this territory in Michigan yielded last year an annual income of well over $100 per square mile.
Soon more than 160,000 red-clad hunters will take to the Michigan woods in pursuit of the wily buck. Questionnaires distributed among thousands of hunters indicate that the average hunter spends more than $25 during this 16-day hunting season, a grand total of more than $4,000,000 annually. This is a business appraisal and does not include the recreational benefit of a fall vacation in the north woods.

had been filled with concrete. Two tile drains leading from the buildings to the new county sewer line had been broken in several places, apparently by a crowbar being driven down through the ground and through the sewer lining.
Because of the damage, the builders had to tear out the concrete flooring in order to replace the destroyed pipes. The concrete had set solid when the damage was discovered.

It may be that if the bouts prove successful, ice hockey will be anposals of prospective employers who may contact the bureau when openings occur in their plants and places of business.

"In an effort to help these young persons advance in their fields, we'll aid them by giving them work in related courses, so that they will be fitted for advancement," Mr. Ellison asserts.

In case we missed any of the recent graduates in our canvass, we would like to have such persons notify us at the high school. We'll gladly give them the benefits of the bureau," Mr. Ellison states.

FIRES

that the fires were an aftermath of the sabotage committed two weeks ago, when water and sewer systems of two comfort stations in the parkway between Plymouth and Northville were plugged with cement, causing $1,500 damage.

A concession stand at Six Mile and Northville roads burned to the ground at 3:30 a. m. Plymouth firemen were called to another burning stand on the parkway at the eastern edge of Plymouth at 5:40 a. m.

Half an hour later, a fire was reported in a comfort station on the parkway near Plymouth road. At 7:45, firemen answered a call to another comfort station a mile north of the first one. Interiors of the stations were damaged.

John K. Norton, engineer of the Wayne County Road commission, said he believed the fires were set by persons who sabotaged the construction work two weeks ago, and later painted obscene language on the underpass of the Pere Marquette railroad, one mile east of Plymouth.

The construction work, Norton said, was being done by Stanley B. Wiggins, 4324 Leslie avenue, Detroit. Norton says that he knows of no labor trouble encountered by Wiggins.

Insurance was held on the comfort stations. Only the stocks of the concession stands were insured. They were operated by Glenn Smith of Plymouth.

When workmen reported for work Monday morning, Oct. 16, they found that newly laid soil and drain pipes in both the new comfort stations in the parkway system
