ciate matron; Charles Freydl, associate patron; Miss Ruth Gillis, secretary; Mrs. Lavonia Nieman, treas-

Prin. P. D. Carter Announces Change in School Fair Date

Prin. Paul D. Carter announced today that the "Sample Fair" which was scheduled for Thursday, Nov.
30, will have to be postponed until sometime after the first of the year.

"The samples that we planned to have on display at this time are not coming so fast as we expected. For that reason, we've had to make the date indefinite," explained Mr.
Carter.

However, a musical program, under the direction of Mrs. W. H.
Johnston of the grade school faculty, will be one of the highlights of the fair. Plans are still under way to stress children's hobbies.

Mrs. Robert Radcliffe is chairman of the publicity, Mrs. K. H.
Rabbitt is products display chairman, and Miss Margaret Carpenter is the booth chairman.

This is the first time that such an affair has been sponsored by the Northville school.

To Serve Hot Food to School Pupils

The Walled Lake school, in cooperation with W.P.A. federal aid distribution of surplus foods, will provide all school children in varied degrees of need, hot lunches and at the same time continue the regular cafeteria program. According to a current school announcement, schools of this size have been unable to benefit from the federal aid, due to the inability to correlate it with the existing cafeteria schedules.
State and national administrators are now changing regulations to coincide with school cafeteria programs.

Women from local W.P.A. rolls are to be assigned to assist in cooking, and free lunches will be provided for children unable to pay for them. Other children who find it possible, may donate vegetables, and those who are able to pay fifty cents a month may share in the food provided. A card system will be used, and any embarrassment will be avoided, inasmuch as no distinction will be made among the children patronizing the cafeteria, regardless of their circumstances.

THANKSGIVING 1939

Note: The Rev. Fr. Joseph Schramm of Our Lady of Victory church is the author of the annual, traditional Thanksgiving Message this year for The Record.

May every American, man, woman and child give again careful reflection to the words of Washington, when in 1789, he recommended to the public, the first national observance of Thanksgiving "as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favours of Almighty God."

So may we be mindful of his exhortation to "beseech God to pardon our national and other transgressions, to promote the knowledge and practice of true religion and virtue, and to grant unto all mankind such a degree of temporal prosperity as He alone knows best.

For the losses and the crosses Coming sore against our will:
From Thy hand each good gift cometh,
And, not less, the seeming ill.
What Thou givest in Thy wisdom,
That alone to us is best,
And of all Thy countless givings,
For Thy boundless love, the best,
We thank Thee, O Lord!

Needy Families Will Receive Fruit Baskets

King's Daughters To Bring Thanksgiving to Unfortunate Homes

A checkup this week with the heads of the King's Daughters (Miss Ruth Gillis) and the Red Cross, Mrs. Elva Ward Lester, reveals that Thanksgiving in Northville this year is truly one which will be observed more or less boundedly in most of the homes in the village.

The King's Daughters organization is giving a number of baskets of fruit to needy families and to shut-ins, but the number is not expected to be so large this year as it has been in the past. "We've had few requests for food. But we have given out quite a bit of clothing this year," said Miss Gillis.

From Mrs. Lester comes word that there have been no requests from the organization this year for food or for clothing. "We're always ready to stand by when we are needed," she said. "We've told the King's Daughters that we could be counted on to help with any charitable work they feel is necessary for us to do," affirmed Mrs. Lester, who believes that the village is better off this year than it was last year or for a number of previous falls.

A more thorough checkup on the needs of unfortunate families will be made by the King's Daughters as the Christmas season approaches.

Methodist Sanctuary To Be Redecorated

Redecorating the Methodist church sanctuary is going forward and will be completed before the Christmas services.

As a background for the ornate beams and woodwork which shields the ceiling of the church, a tan interior shade will be used on the walls, with a darker shade used as a border.

The redecorating is made possible by gifts from the Ladies Aid, the Missionary Society, Mrs. Leslie G.
Lee's girls' class, the fourth grade juniors, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Clark and Miss Ruth Sayles. These gifts total $141.90. Funds for the remainder of the project will come from other individual gifts which are being made daily.

Rotarians and Rotary Appn
Hear Congressman Name
Two Dangers

Congressman George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, congressman of this district was the guest speaker at the Northville Rotary club's evening meeting Tuesday. Following a most delicious dinner served by the women of the Presbyterian church,
to the club and club guests, Mr.
Dondero spoke most interestingly concerning things that have been going on in Washington, some of specific events that have crowded themselves into the busy political life of the nation's capital.

The occasion being a ladies' night meeting, the Congressman brought to the attention of the group several of the significant social events of Washington, and pointed to their repercussions in the affairs of the country. Mr. Dondero was accompanied by Mrs. Dondero.

In part Mr. Dondero spoke as follows:

"During the present year some interesting and impressive occasions and celebrations have occurred in Washington.

On the seventh day of this month the Russian Embassy, the second in point of grandeur and elegance in this capital city, held a reception in celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the Revolution that dethroned the government of the Czaars and enthroned the present Communist regime in that far flung domain.

Takes over Embassy
The Embassy itself was taken over from the Czarist government. Guests at such a reception are checked in with a red pencil, the carpets and rugs are red, the drapes are red, and red predominates in the decorations.
No Embassy in Washington excels in its magnificent receptions, and its delectable variety of food and drink. From 700 to 1,000 people, Members of Congress, foreign dignitaries, and those high in government places, usually attend. At this last reception, however, but two Members of Congress were present.

It should be said that Congress had adjourned Nov. 3, four days before the reception and most of the Members, like myself, had left Washington before the day of the celebration. Whether other reasons entered into the absence of the officials of the U. S. government is a matter which each of you will answer in your own way.

Then the President of Nicaragua,
a little dictator, in his own right,
who moved his father-in-law out and moved himself into the presidency of that Central American country, was a guest at a party of reception given by the Pan American Union. For brilliance, color, entertainment and detail, it caused official and diplomatic Washington to gasp. He went home with two million dollars to the credit of his government.

Then for the first time in the

We must keep our own house in

Our Lines Have Fallen in Pleasant Places

As good neighbors we pause to observe Thanksgiving of 1939. In addition to being thankful for the usual blessings that are ours by virtue of living, moving and loving, perhaps more than ever we feel that our thankfulness may pretty well be summed up into one sentence: Thankful that we are Americans, and live in America. The advantages of living in a nation at peace with the world, where liberties are enjoyed to the fullest extent of any place in the world, and welcomed more than ever before by this generation. A recital of our blessings by virtue of living in America is extremely opportune as we enjoy our turkey on Nov. 23.

An editorial in the New York Sun entitled "He Is An American" expresses most pointedly the thoughts alluded to. The editorial is good reading at any time—deserves nation-wide distribution and is a pleasant reminder of our need for, and objects of thanksgiving this year. For sure the lines have fallen unto us in pleasant place.

HE IS AN AMERICAN

He is an American.
 He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all, does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by decree.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammelled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.
 He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gym course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.
 He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a State line rather than as foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers, since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his Government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships God in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the state with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the immensity of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges.

He is a fortunate man.
 He is an American.

Michigan's turkey crop this year is valued at approximately one and a quarter million dollars. Hope you have one.

THANK GOD, WE'RE AMERICANS!

For A MORE PERFECT Thanksgiving Dinner

COOK IT IN A NEW GAS RANGE
Help Mother enjoy Thanksgiving too this year. You can hardly call it fun when she is tied to an old-fashioned range from early morning to night preparing a glorious dinner for the family and friends that gather for this memorable event each year.

With a modern automatic gas range, all she need do is place the complete Thanksgiving dinner in the oven, set the temperature controls, and she is free to mingle with her family and friends. The range will do the rest. And there is little doubt but that she will find a Thanksgiving dinner cooked in a modern automatic gas range much more enjoyable for not having spent so much of her time over a hot, steaming, old-fashioned range.

history of our Republic, a reigning monarch of England and his consort, Queen Elizabeth, paid us a royal visit. A more gracious or thoughtful couple never paid an official visit to our nation's capital. It was a most impressive and historic occasion, in which the only two English speaking nations of the earth participated.

There were other official and diplomatic gatherings, but the most stirring and meaningful of all such celebrations and festivities for the people of this country was a birthday party of our own.

Held Birthday Party

On the fourth day of last March, the President and his Cabinet, the Congress, the Supreme Court of the United States, and many dignitaries of foreign governments convened in the House of Representatives to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the meeting of the first Congress in New York—Mar. 4, 1789. It was only a handful of Senators and Congressmen who met in old Federal Hall, New York, to count the electoral votes whereby Washington and John Adams were elected, and to elect a Speaker of the House of Representatives.

The Supreme Court was created 150 years ago last September. Washington had but three cabinet departments and only ten people on the payroll. The present administration has ten cabinet departments and nearly one million people on the payroll, but the pattern of government is the same.

Coaches Smith and Neville Walker stressed the training rules and what they expected from the boys. The letter winners from last year are Jack Holcomb, Louie Eaton, Bob Orr, Leonard Fritz and George Houghton.

EDITORIAL NOTES

What is the first thing that comes into your mind when you think of Thanksgiving? Turkey and cranberry sauce? Why, of course. We all enjoy our Thanksgiving feast, but do we stop and think how thankful we are to have food to eat? I don't think very many of us do. We can look around school and find ever so many things to be thankful for. We're even lucky to have a good school to attend where we have an opportunity to meet folks and to learn about our environment and the world we live in. Life would be terribly dull without knowledge of these things. Tonight is the Prom and we should be thankful that we can have gay, cheerful decorations and not have to prepare for a blackout. Tomorrow is Thanksgiving day. When we sit down to eat let's try and think and give thanks for all the things, no matter how small, that we can be thankful for.

Junior Play To Be Given, Jan. 24-25

Members of the Two Casts Have Begun To Show Real Acting Ability

The junior play, "Applesauce," has been postponed until Jan. 24 and 25. E. C. Mollenh and E. V. Ellison, class sponsors, will help with the scenery and tickets, aided by student committees. Leslie G. Lee, director of the play, said the members of the two casts have already shown a high degree of interest in their parts and have begun to exhibit some real acting ability.

Rev. Fr. Schramm Talk to Students

A Thanksgiving program was presented to the students today, Wednesday, Nov. 22. It consisted of group singing, special music by the N.H.S. choir, and a short talk by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schramm.

Senior Sketch

Leonard Fritz first entered this jumbled world on Mar. 27, 1922. The spot he chose was Northville, and he liked it so well that he decided to live here and graduate from the Northville high school.

Upon entering high school, he took a very pronounced liking to basketball. When he was a freshman, Len went out for this sport and has gone out for it every year since. Besides his pastime of playing basketball, he also enjoys doing three other things: eating chicken, a la king, sleeping and playing golf.

Speech Dept.

The speech class presented an entertaining and instructive assembly, giving poems and short sketches of Robin Hood and Tale of Two Cities, in the study hall, Wednesday, Nov. 15. It has some reference to the appropriations to National Book Week.

Natalie Whipple, chairman of the costume committee, planned clever parade costumes for both skits. Those who took part in the skits were Miss Estelle Griffiths, Jane Ely, Walter Nafanowicz, Betty Armstrong, Amelia Sutton and Arthur Brettmeyer.

Bob Parmenter and Doris Hubbard gave the poem of "Little Boy Blue," and they did a fine job of acting the poems out. Other poems were recited by Ernestine Lewis, "Seem Things"; Elvina Trofast, "Jane Jones"; Betty Lanning, "I'm Nobody"; Doris Dietz, "A Vagabond Song."

In the absence of George Houghton, Miss Griffiths played her part.

SENIOR PROOFS ARRIVE AND ARE THEY GOOD!

Here Is One Person's Idea of How We Seniors Acted

The seniors got the proof of their pictures Monday. You'd have laughed till you cried if you could have seen them. "It was so funny!" Some of them were whipping around, saying, "I don't know if they thought they were that bad looking, they'd go bury their head in a hole someplace, or else have their face lifted. Others were so self-satisfied that they lifted about five place with an expression on their faces that seemed to say: 'Look at me everyone! See how absolutely gorgeous I am!' We almost had to tie some of them down to keep them from posing their pictures on the bulletin board in the hall!"

Oh, well, well! These seniors are driving me mad!!

"The Shadow."

Practice Debate Held Wednesday

Last Wednesday, Nov. 15, a practice debate was held at Western high school in Detroit. Participants in this debate were Natalie Whipple, John Costello and Marilyn Carroll, accompanied by Coach E. C. Mollenh, Dick Simmons and Rhea Walling.

The Western school speakers of the affirmative side were John Wilson, Virginia Mackenmar and Allynus Sukky. Carl O. Moody, the Western school coach, was very informal and made us from Northville feel much at home in a strange school. During the debate the cooking class prepared a tea.

Jr. High Chooses Own Cheer Leaders

On Nov. 15, the junior high held an assembly and voted for cheer leaders who are to lead cheers on the girls' basketball game. The cheer leaders are Edith Blake and Alfred Heatley.

Grade Notes

Mrs. O. F. Reng's second graders wrote letters of sympathy to Cleon Newton, who is absent from school because of a broken leg.

An exhibit of work on transportation was held in Mrs. Reng's room, Wednesday. The other primary grade children and many of the mothers attended. Airplanes, sailboats, trains and travel booklets made by the children were featured.

For book week, the children illustrated their favorite story-book character and learned Robert Louis Stevenson's poem, "Picture Books in Winter."

Miss Beulah Miller's first graders had a program last Friday. It consisted of a health play, group singing, a tap dance by Maxine Hess and two numbers by the rhythm band. Barbara Clark led the band and sang a solo. Dick Gray and Geraldine Shames sang a duet. Mimi Harrison was the announcer.

For book week the children made posters of their favorite characters. They showed these to the other grades.

Lois Overman is the third and fourth grade reporter.

The third and fourth grade gave a program and invited the mothers to attend. The fourth grade play was called, "Alice Travels in Wonderland." The third grade play was called, "The Golden Pears."

William Stanford made a book shelf for book week. It is painted silver. He gave it to our room. For the playground, the class brought $3.56. June Richardson brought the most which was 75 cents.

We also have a corn exhibit. We invited the mothers to see that the same day of the play.

Patricia Johnston told the story of "Sinbad, the Sailor" to our class and also to Mrs. William Chizmar's class and to the other third grade.

For book week, every afternoon each child reads a story to the rest.

The Novi Ladies Aid will hold its annual Methodist bazaar Thursday, Nov. 30, at the Novi Methodist church. The doors will be open at 1 p. m. A silver tea and a fortune teller will be features of the afternoon. A chicken dinner will be served at night.

Marionette Show Is Sponsored by Mothers' Club

Sue Hastings Presentation Enjoyed by Both Young and Old

Sue Hastings' marionettes were the cause of much excitement for both youngsters and grown-ups last Friday, Nov. 17.

The auditorium was filled with many small children and almost as many older people, who enjoyed two shows, with the marionettes as actors. Jerry, a small green marionette, entertained the children in between scenes and was heartily welcomed on each of his appearances. "Sinbad, the Sailor" was the play given in three acts, and was very entertaining. After a short intermission, circus scenes were presented featuring clowns and animals. Sue Hastings marionettes were sponsored by the Mothers' club of Northville.

Around the School

The Boys and Girls' N-Clubs held a joint meeting, Friday morning, Nov. 17. The object of the meeting was to discuss the "School Carnival" which they will sponsor some time in February. A committee was appointed with Pat Klein chairman and Kendall Willis as assistant chairman.

E. C. Mollenh, president of the Teachers' club, called a meeting of the teachers Tuesday, Nov. 14. Miss Beulah Miller, chairman of the program committee, obtained E. W. MacFarlane, professor of social science at Wayne University, who talked to them on the perplexing problems that come before the Liquor Control Commission, of which he has been a recent member.

The second year French class received its club pins and by the looks on the faces of the members, they were well satisfied with them. The pin is a small, gold cock, which is the emblem of Paris, and has been taken as the club emblem also. A small bar across the middle bears the slogan, "Le Coq Français."

Roy J. Snell Gives Illustrated Talk

Thursday, Nov. 16, the high school students were entertained through the courtesy of The Detroit News, by Roy J. Snell, author, lecturer and traveler. Accompanying his lecture were technical pictures of animals and scenes of Isle Royal and British Honduras, where he visited. Mr. Snell's lecture was not only educational, but humorous.

Birthday congratulations to Leona Mae White, Nov. 27

Card parties, bingo, parties and turkey raffles proved successful means of raising funds for local organizations during the past week. The Band Mothers' club cleared $43. The money will be placed in the fund to purchase instruments and uniforms for the high school band. Thirty women participated in the Civic Welfare club's bingo party last Wednesday afternoon. Contributions for the club's building fund, St. William's church, a leather party Saturday night, a capacity attendance, with proceeds expected to reach three figures. The loose collection at a regular service of one of the local churches amounted to one dollar, recently.

step in the building of psychology of peace. Dr. Whitehouse, admitting the cost which would be involved, said that he was definitely in favor of establishing a Federal bureau of peace.

Dr. Whitehouse is of the opinion that America must establish and maintain definite attitudes in the war problem. "America," he said, "must ever remain typical of a nation fostering friendly relationships. She must be objective in her approach of 'putting the cards on the table' and must be able to analyze and reject propaganda. Our youth must be, either manipulated agents (dangerous) or valuing agents (hopeful). Above all, he pointed out, America must remain constructively (not greedily, selfishly or apathetically) neutral. America will be at fault if she relies on 'International Law' (there is no international law, he pointed out) rather than obeying the law of prudence.

Timely was Dr. Whitehouse's statement of thankfulness for America—particularly her schools and her press.
