ing on the cold hard ground the night before. Why don't they give this blanky blank country to the Kaiser and make an apology? There is no honor in being a soldier on foreign soil and this hero stuff is the bunk. They say it takes brave men and women to carry on a war but from my experience up front it only takes foolish men and women for the same purpose. The last war proved this at least as far as we Americans are concerned.

Up front one becomes an animal. You sleep in the ground like an animal. An animal gets full of fleas and a soldier gets full of lice. They feed a dog from a tin can and a soldier gets fed the same way. They worked for outfit, the engineers, until we had spent every ounce of muscular energy. They nearly stayed us to death and when we got back to civilization (?) our national anthem changed from the Star Spangled Banner to something like 'The Beer Barrel Polka. We hated war, we wanted to forget war, we wanted to sleep, sleep and sleep. These war-torn nerves craved nothing but rest. Will we overseas veterans that reached the front go back again? Ask any of them and they will give you an answer. They called the Germans 'Boche', Hunks and how we hated them, but six months in Germany, in the Army of Occupation proved to us that there were just as fine people in Germany as any other country. Frau Kaumann in Kinderborn, Germany, treated me like her own son. She sent four boys to the German army, they all came back. She said that she was good to me because if her sons were 2,000 miles away from home, she would want some mother to be good to them. Seems as though they have heard of the golden rule in Germany.

Let us build a party, an army and an air force so good that even a rat couldn't get across the borders or land on our coasts. A strong man well armed. Kenneth Tris palace in peace. NORTON T. GREENE.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

The BATHROOM needs the benefit of good lighting, too!

Ask the man who is shaving how important it is to have good lighting! A bathroom with a single glaring lamp bulb—unshaded—is woefully lacking in proper light conditioning. Bare lamp bulbs produce harmful glare, and there is no reason why you should put up with them. A clever new adaptor unit is available that screws into the socket of the ceiling fixture, furnishing an abundance of soft, pleasant light, free from glare and harsh contrasts. You can transform your lighting with a twist of the wrist! The Detroit Edison Company does not sell Light Adaptors. See them on display at department stores, hardware stores, lighting fixture stores or electrical dealers.

The knoll is to be planted to trees to help control the shifting sands. Operating farmers number 140 with a total of approximately 10,000 acres.

News of Walled Lake

By C. E. HUTTON

This seems to be one of those in-between times, recurring about this time, annually, when major happenings hereabouts, aren't happening. People are taking time out to prepare for winter, Thanksgiving and Christmas. A number of the community's men and women have been having a holiday in Michigan's north woods, leaving the rest of us marking time at home.

The long trek back from the deer country has started for many of the farmers hereabouts. Despite the long, loud cry for lack of snow, reports and evidence indicate that venison will be plentiful in this neighborhood. Chinton and Gaylord Vreeland returned Saturday, each with a deer, and said other members of their camp were equally as fortunate. The Hi-Lo camp reports good luck, with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vreeland, the Hurshes, Ira Carhes and the Gloyers with a buck each, to their credit. Several at the Hubbard Lake camp of the William and Mabley Behelors and the Fred Williams located their quota.

Lon Stull returned with a big swamp buck. Frank Nook brought home a deer, as did Rex Tuttle. There are others, yet to be reported.

Resumption of league bowling activities at the B & M Recreation was scheduled for Tuesday night of this week, when the eight team Walled Lake league again gets underway. Friday night of this week marks the start of high school basketball in the local gymnasium, where the locals entertain Berkley for games between the varsity and reserve squads.

Walled Lake's Southwestern Community League Campaign begins a week later at Farmington. Local Chinese checker experts are said to be discussing off their boards and polishing up the marbles, preparatory to some hot sessions on wintry nights. This reporter is hereby tossing the gauntlet to all comers — first come, first taken.

Modern and big-time dancing" is announced for this Saturday night, at the school, under the auspices of the F. T. A. Old and young alike are invited to attend for a consideration. Said consideration is for Michigan, so there is no natural shortage to gun up prices.

Protein concentrates should be abundant, because of large national crops of soy beans and cotton.

Heavy roughage feeding is in order. Hay is cheap. The average farm price per ton of alfalfa as reported by G. D. H. I. A. testers is about $7.75. Silage averages $3.00 per ton, which incidentally is too high a valuation compared to the hay price. The heavy hay feeding plan should produce milk the cheapest. The details of this plan are by now well known to Michigan dairymen — feed all the hay the cow will eat, limit amount of silage fed to big producers, feed normal to stimulate hay appetite, feed farm-raised grains in the approximate amount of, to Holsteins one pound grain to each 2 1/2 pounds milk over the first 10 pounds, to Jersey and Guernseys, one pound grain to each two pounds of milk over the first eight pounds.

suppers, Wednesday night, Dec. 13. As an added attraction, at 8 o'clock, the choir will present their annual Christmas program. A collection will be taken for this concert and the proceeds will go to the choir, to be used in the purchase of music. Mrs. Paul McKibben will be the assisting soloist as well as the accompanist for the program. Thirty voices will take part in the program.

An opportunity will be provided the people at large to partake of another of the Methodist church

Tax Exemptions Are Announced

To the officials of townships, cities, villages and school districts of Oakland county

Municipal corporations are exempted from payment of the Federal Excise tax. This tax is paid by manufacturers of various products, such as automobiles, trucks, tractors, auto repair parts, firearms, ammunition, tires and tubes, and by refiners of gasoline and lubricating oil. The amount of this tax in most cases, is included in the unit price and therefore is one of the many "hidden" taxes.

Provision is made to secure a refund of all Excise taxes paid within a four year period. From our investigation, it is apparent that this right to this refund is being generally overlooked, but we were interested to learn that the Board of County Road Commissioners has been consistently obtaining these refunds.

Many thousands of dollars are unaccountably held by the Federal government to which taxpayers in Oakland county are entitled.

It is necessary to use a standard form (copy of which can be secured from the office of the League) to obtain refunds.

It is suggested that interested officials get busy.

Novi News

By MRS. L. E. COATES

Dottie Shinn of Plymouth, spent the week end with Thelma Gow.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor were Detroit visitors last Friday.

Rex Smith is spending some time in the north woods hunting deer.

Burton Munro has returned from a hunting trip near White Cloud. The deer got away.

The Rev. A. J. MacRae will speak in the Baptist church in Williamston Thursday evening. He will speak on Asher Camp.

Mrs. L. E. Coates spent her Thanksgiving, until Sunday, in Northville with Mr. and Mrs. Perry Taylor.

The Rev. A. J. MacRae spent Thanksgiving with his son, Robert and family in Detroit.

The Ladies Aid of the Methodist church will have its bazaar and tea in the church, Thursday evening.

John Parmenter of Detroit, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Edith Taylor, and family for a few days, returned home Sunday.

Last Sunday evening five young people from the Madonna Tabernacle of Mt. Clemens, conducted the service at the Baptist church which was well attended. The service was not only greatly enjoyed but proved a great inspiration for many.

The Farmers' Corner

By E. I. RESEMER, County Agent

International Livestock Show

The International Livestock Show will be held Dec. 2-9 and a visit to it will prove to be profitable to anyone interested in seeing the best livestock in the world. Michigan will be well represented by livestock and hay and grain samples. Farmers and 4-H club members are making plans now to put in as many days as possible at the show.

The Vegetable Growers Conference will be held in Chicago at the same time and many Wayne county vegetable growers are planning to attend.

Dairy

The Wayne County Dairy Herd Improvement Association has 14 herds with a total of 359 cows under test. For October the association average milk per cow was 550.3 lbs and the average fat was 23.7 lbs per cow.

L. D. King, Plymouth, Lester Budd and Son, Belleisle, and J. M. Swegles, Plymouth, lead with the high herd in each group, small herd, medium herd, large herd.

Feeding recommendations as issued by the dairy extension department, state "Feed As Usual" should be the winter plan of the Michigan dairyman, despite uncertain feed markets due to the European war troubles. It is not wise to hold back on feed expecting to sell the feed on a high market.

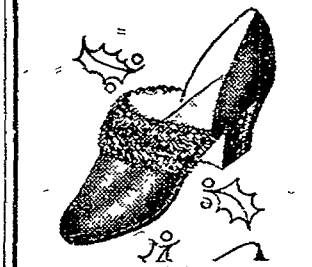

Feed prices should not rise much because there is an abundance of feed.

Michigan farm-raised dairy feeds are plentiful. Compared with the large crop yields of 1938, there is this year more alfalfa hay, more oats, more barley, about the same rye and same hay almost as much corn. Soy beans promise to be 50 per cent over 1938.

Heads Mission

Methodists from all parts of Michigan are planning to attend the one-hundred twenty-first annual meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Methodist Episcopal church which will be held in the Central Methodist church, Detroit, from Dec. 2 to 5. It will be under the presidency of Bishop Francis J. McConnell of New York City.

Handel's Messiah will be given at 4 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 10, in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor, as a complimentary Christmas presentation by the University Musical Society. In conformance with custom going back over many years, the concert, including the Choral Union, the University Symphony Orchestra, and distinguished soloists will participate this time under the direction of Einar Johnson. There is no admission charge.

E. Brown is vacationing in Clermont, Fla.

Breeding Rules Milk Fat Level

Cows may not be the "ornery" critters portrayed by the man who picks up the overturned milk pail, yet they do continue to hold the secret of how and why they put definite butterfat percentages in their individual milk outputs.

Research at Michigan State College has failed, as in other states, to find feeds that can increase systematically and efficiently the fat percentage, admits C. F. Huffman, associate professor of dairy husbandry.

The surest way to improve the fat test is by selection and breeding, he says, suggesting the use of a sire with proven ability to transmit high fat tests and also the feeding of an adequate ration so that the cow calves in good physical condition.

At Michigan State college the staff tried adding soybean oil to a ration very low in fat. This resulted in one sign of fat in a marked increase in milk fat but this lasted but a short time.

"As a matter of fact," says Dr. Huffman, "it is easy to lower the percent of fat in milk. When cows are fed a few ounces of cod liver oil the fat goes into a nose dive."

Twenty-five years ago some Danish workers at the University of Copenhagen showed that a heavy feeding of a mixture of coconut meal and palm meal increased the percent of fat in milk over a long period. American investigators failed to show consistent results when these same feeds were added to typical American dairy rations. The Danish results, says Dr. Huffman, probably were due to the basal ration used in that country.

Families Scan Exit of Dollars

Where does a family's money go for living expenses and what are the differences in such expenditures on the farm and in the city? Answers to these questions have been ferreted out from family account books kept by typical rural and urban families in Michigan in cooperation with the home management department of Michigan State college in extension service to the state.

On the farm the average family, says Julia Pond, home management specialist, spent $814.39 for living but the average in town was $1,690.98.

Farms contribute large amounts to a family's living. For 1938 the farm family spent cash totaling $223.92, while the town dwellers were spending $468.10. Farm families do eat well, however, for the farms contributed $267.43 to the family larder. In fact the average farm contributed $413.16 to the family living, when housing and fuel are figured.

Automobiles take second place in a year's demands on pocketbooks. Farm families average $127.08 spent on cars, but town families more than doubled this with an average of $271.21. Townspeople spent two dollars for each one spent by farm families as gifts or contributions. Rural expenses for entertainment and education were but half, for home-made fun proved less expensive and more commonly employed in the country.

Clothing bills were $125.09 in the country but were $303.47 in town. Medical costs in the city averaged $61.57, but were $44.80 for farmers.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There are just 15 more school days before Christmas vacation. If we do our studying early, we won't be caught in the last minute rush of cramming for semester exams that come so soon after we return to school in January. None of us will get much studying in during vacation and it has to be done some time so let's get busy right now. If we do, then we can have a clear conscience to go ahead and have lots of fun through the Christmas holidays.

Wednesday's Senior Prom Was Gay, Colorful Event

The Senior Prom last Wednesday night turned out to be a very colorful event. The decorations were predominant in blue as were the girls' dresses. The upper classmen present were: Marilyn Gussell, Marilyn Gussell who wore aqua net trimmed in sequins; Ken Wolfe with Betty Bartle of Redford, who looked lovely in pale pink taffeta; Ruth Mary Mills of Howell, in her gold taffeta dress; attracted every eye when she walked in with Ken Willis; Harry Kreger took Natalie Whipple, who wore black taffeta; Eugene Stanford in yellow taffeta came with Frank Durning; Barbara Simmons chose blue satin for her evening with Bob Orr; Harry Porter escorted Edith Blake who looked very sweet in a pink formal; James Dixon seemed proud of Marjory Penberthy in her rose satin. Bob

Freshmen Pupils Form English Club

The Club Is Proving Very Successful and Everyone Is Cooperating

The students of Charles Yahn's homeroom have organized themselves into an OIW club (organization of independent writers) in order to encourage improvement in punctuation, spelling and writing. Before admittance to this club, the student must excel in the three points of English mentioned above. Instead of following assignments they are allowed to write stories, poems and plays of their own inspiration. At present all members have handed in material. Wallace Reid wrote a story called, "Stratford's Flight." Joan McCollough and Marilyn Gussell wrote the "Griswold Murder Case." Joan McCollough, "Park Avenue Pirates," Shirley Nutton, "Only West," "When the Bell Goes to Detroit," and a poem, "Dorothy's Bath." Fred and Betty Nagel wrote a play "Good Bye, Neighbors." Phyllis Knight, "Mr. Banks, Reporter." Dorothy Trapp wrote an unnamed story and a poem, "Eyer Turkey." Margie Edmondson, "By the Edge of One-Loyal Citizen." Don Kerner, a book report on "Penrod." Marilyn Gussell and Joan McCollough, "Candarella Gets a Break." Jean McCullough and Shirley Maclean "Poor Daisy." The club is proving very successful and the material is coming in very rapidly.

'Mustangs' Is Chosen As Name for N.H.S. Team

Eugene Reaves Awarded Season Ticket for This Fine Suggestion

The contest which was held to choose a name for the N. H. S. teams several weeks ago ended Tuesday, Nov. 21. Judges were Evie Walker, E. C. Mollama, Jack Holcomb and Marilyn Cavell. The name "Mustangs," which was chosen, was handed in by Eugene Reaves. Because Northville is noted for its horse shows and horse racing, it has been suggested that the horse be used as an emblem. Eugene was awarded a season ticket to the boys' basketball games for his fine suggestion.

Bearded Angel

Handsome, white-bearded Jose Lazara, reputed Spain's wealthiest man, is making his first visit to the United States. Senor Lazara is said to have been the financial "angel" behind Franco's revolt in Spain.

travel of U. S. passenger or trans-shipment of U. S. goods in U. S. and 1937; the Act of 1939 permits such exports on a cash-and-carry basis. Munitions Exports in U. S. Ships: Export of munitions in U. S. ships was forbidden in the Acts of 1935, 1936, 1937, and 1939; the same restriction is contained in the Act of 1939. Cash-and-Carry: The cash-and-carry provision included in the Act of 1937 expired on May 1, 1939; this provision is made mandatory except for specified areas outside of Europe under the Act of 1939. Loans and Credits: Loans and credits to belligerents were forbidden in the Acts of 1935, 1936, and 1937; this prohibition is continued in the Act of 1939; the Johnson Act of 1934 forbids loans to any defaulting war debtor. Travel on Belligerent Ships: In the Acts of 1935 and 1937 the ban on travel of U. S. citizens on belligerent ships was left to the President; in the Act of 1937 this ban was made mandatory with certain exceptions; in the Act of 1939 the Restriction on Use of U. S. Ports: Restrictive measures, left to the President, as to the use of U. S. ports as supply bases for belligerent ships also are similar in all four Acts. Use of U. S. Flag by Foreign Ships: The Act of 1939 provides a penalty for the use of the U. S. flag by any foreign ship; this is an added provision.

Northville Debate Team Is Defeated

Tuesday, Nov. 21, a debate with De La Salle school of Detroit was held in the game room of the Northville grade school building. Robert Laubell Charles Schmidt and William Hull of De La Salle, upheld the affirmative. The following student of Northville high school, Natalie Whipple, John Costello and Marilyn Cavell upheld the negative side, coached by E. C. Mollama. Although Northville was defeated, they put up a good fight for De La Salle to remember. Harry Porter and Edith Blake were the judges.

After the Prom

Yvonne Taylor was hostess to the following group in her home: Maurice Wolf, Robert Stromek with Blanche Miller, who wore pink with silver lace, and Dick Davis who brought Shirley Mulsiff, who was dressed in rose net. Betty Mercer looked delightful in her chartreuse and she was escorted by Fred Casterline. Phyllis Jones chose red net trimmed with sequins. She enjoyed her evening with Merv Searle from Detroit. Norma Goto from Detroit. Norma Goto, Harry Porter, Edith Blake, Don Armstrong, Betty Ann Strong, Bill Schindler, Marie Angote, Don Kerner, Janet Stewart, Harry Richardson, and Lucille Price went to the Pea-Mac cafe for a spaghetti dinner.

Club News

The junior and senior English classes have obtained correspondence from foreign countries through the International Student Society. A few of the countries represented are India, Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia, England, Egypt and Norway. The French classes received names for correspondence several weeks ago.

Grade Notes

Donald Maclean brought a chocolate birthday cake to kindergarten last Wednesday morning. He is now five years old. These people were in kindergarten every day last month: James Clark, Kurt Eby, June Greenhouse, Lynwood Kehler, Luanne Robinson, Bessie Shoebridge, LeRoy Wixon, Elaine Austin, James Behen, Eugene Bongiovanni, Jerry Freydl, Ronald Grasso, Janice Smita and Betty Wilson.

Senior Sketch

Maryann Clark was born on a chilly December morning, the month to be exact. The year, of course, was 1922. The location was in Washtenaw county, west of Northville. When she was four, Wash Oak school beckoned this young miss, and she attended there until the completion of her eighth grade. Northville has been the scene of her high school education. Her future plans, as yet quite vague, are to attend a beauty school following graduation. She has any number of pastimes, including driving, dancing, tobogganing and attending moving pictures.

Neutrality Act of 1939: On Friday, Oct. 27 the U. S. Senate approved H. R. 396, known as the Neutrality Act of 1939, by a vote of 63 to 30. H. R. 396, as passed by the Senate, however, amended the bill originally proposed by striking out all after the enacting clause and substituting a substantially new measure. On the following Thursday, Nov. 2 the U. S. House of Representatives, by a vote of 243 to 181, to instruct House conferees to insist upon the retention of the arms embargo.

In the first session of the 74th Congress, the act known as the Neutrality Act of 1935, Public Resolution 67, was passed and was approved by President Roosevelt, Aug. 31, 1935. In the second session some changes were made in the original law and the new enactment, Public Resolution 74, was designated as the Neutrality Act of 1936. President Roosevelt approved this legislation, Feb. 28, 1936.

In the first session of the 75th Congress, S. J. Res. 51, making several changes in the existing legislation on the subject of neutrality, was approved by the U. S. Senate 63 to 6 and in the U. S. House of Representatives 376 to 13. This legislation, Public Resolution 27, known as the Neutrality Act of 1937, was approved by the President, May 1, 1937.

When the special session of the 76th Congress convened on Sept. 21 the Neutrality Act of 1937 was in effect except that the section pertaining to cash-and-carry had expired May 1, 1939. In the first session of the 76th Congress H. J. Res. 396, proposing revisions in the then existing neutrality legislation, was passed in the U. S. House of Representatives.

Arms Embargo: Experts of munitions and implements of war so on ban continues to be magatory

Ban on Entering Combat Areas: The Act of 1939 contains bars left to the President on U. S. ships and U. S. citizens entering the combat areas. Arming of U. S. Merchant Ships: The arming of U. S. merchant ships was forbidden in the Act of 1937 and the prohibition is continued in the Act of 1939. Travel or Shipping to Belligerent Destinations: The Act of 1939 forbids
