This is the first year that we have gazed upon the beautiful decorations of Northville's streets and places of business. They speak a soft language, that tells of enterprise, of civic pride, of -cooperation, the exemplification of the Christmas Spirit of Northville. If we understand the very unpleasant, and we believe unwarranted, publicity being given the Wichigan Crippled Children's Commission in the daily press, it comes largely as the result of one or two men seeking personal publicity=

No one who knows the personnel of the Commission and the type of men serving on it, all of them without pay, will give credense to any accusations made by an ambitious office holder. whether he-be the governor's Jugal advisor or a Probate Judge m an adjoining county, which diseredit either the commission's judgment or integrity. All of them uses interested in erippled children's work long before the State took it over, when it was supported by donations of interested citizens and groups To interested parties on the sidelines it looks very much like an altempt to throw the crippled children's commission into the hands of spoliticians who play along with the machine, in which Mr I'merson Boyles is becoming a very important cog

The unfortunate part of the affair is that the crippled Children are the ones to suffer.

ployers now agree that amendments are in order Both are now of the opinion that the original purpose of the act, promotion of industrial ill peace, can be attained only through a revision of the act which will ac home because of illness. cord equal rights to both parties.

My position with reference to the National Labor Relations Act was made public on Jan. 10, 1938, nearly Trene Fennell, Tuesday, Dec. 12. two years-ago, when I wrote President Roosevelt regarding steps which I thought should be taken in order to improve husiness condi-

"With a desire to be helpful," tions then said, "I submit a resume of public opinion as it exists at the present time in my Congressional district, the 17th Michigan, which includes Pontiac and a part of Detroit, both industrial centers. Such an opinion, which I sought and obtained through conferences with laboring men, business men and industrial leaders, while in Michigan during the recess of Congress, reflects the need of a restoration of confidence in government. That confidence has been shattered by legislation already enacted during this administration and other measures now suggested." And with reference to the labor situation I added: 'That opinion asks for a correction of the evils and the unfairness of the Wagner Labor Act."

'A short time after I wrote that letter to the President, there was a onference of small-business men in Washingon which went on record as favoring changes in the National Labor Relations Act, The frequelly and intensity of strikes since that time has resulted in a growing public demand for revision of the controversial act and the legitimate aims of labor are being seriously threatened because of labor excesses This week I received a letter-with references to the Wagner Act in which the revision was urged in order to better protect workers and their working conditions. I quote few sentences from this letter

"In discussing the present Chrysler strike. I asked an autemobile worker's wife what she thought of

'She replied, 'I think the umon is all right and am 100 per cent for it'
"I asked her if Her husband was working at Chrysler's and she replied, Oh, no. He is working at Ford's now. He lost so much time at Chrysler's on account of strikes that we just couldn't get along on

In ny judgment the National abor Relations Act can be revised in such a manner as to make it a The sooner such a revision is made the sooner industrial peace wifi come to American industry

Kiss the Maiden Under Mistletoe-But Follow Rules!

I'S still a nice custom this Christmas to kiss the young lady under the mistletoe. nut your efforts are in vain unless it's done properly.

Every time someone kisses under the mistletce a berry should be plucked from the branch, for only so many blessings are bestowed as there are berries. And don't let the mistletoe fall to the ground Otherwise its properties of good luck and healing will be destroyed.

Many a romantic story surrounds this plant. The berries represent tears from this legend.

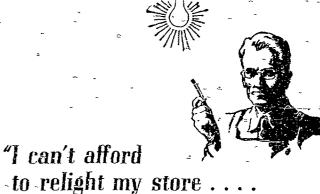

A Scandinavian goo, Balder, dreamed ne would die Wren be told nis mother the goodess Friga. she made earth fire, air water and all animals and plants promise they wouldn't harm her son

But she overlooked the mistletoe, for its roots were neither in the earth nor air So one of Balder's
