Village Churches Plan Observances of Yule Season

Catholics and Lutherans To Have Services Christmas Day; Baptists, Presbyterians, Methodists on Sunday To Present Pageants

Northville's five churches have planned to observe the Christmas season with sermons, song and pageants. In some instances, the observances will be held Sunday, Dec. 24. Two churches, Our Lady of Victory and St. Paul's Lutheran, will have observances Monday, Dec. 25.

Bryan Directs Music
At 11 a. m. Sunday, Dec. 24, the Christmas worship service will be held in the Presbyterian church, where the church choir, under the direction of Carl Bryan, will render music appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Jesse Bowers will be the soloist, singing "Canticle De Noel." The choir will sing three anthems: "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "My God and I" and "Sing We Noel."

The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith, Presbyterian minister, will have a sermon for the junior congregation, to be followed by the message of the hour, "The Mystery of Christmas."

The Baptist Church School will present a pageant in scripture, carols and pantomime, "Worship for the King," at 7 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 24. The entire church school membership will participate and carols will be sung by the congregation. Miss Lottie Livingston, together with Mrs. Don Miller, Mrs. M. Nagy and Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, are directing the presentation. Following the pageant, while gifts of food or money will be brought to the altar. This offering will go to the Baptist Children's Home on the Thirteen Mile road.

After the program the members of the Friendship class as well as the junior and senior high school groups will sing carols to the Baptist shut-ins.

Use Christmas Theme
The Rev. Dr. Howard R. Chapman, pastor, will use a Christmas theme Sunday morning in his sermon.

The Christmas observance Sunday in the Methodist church will be a combined service of the Church School and the church, meeting at 10:30 a. m. The organ prelude and postlude by Mrs. Bart Connors will be "Ave Maria Stella" by Edward Grieg and "The Glory of God in Nature" by Beethoven. Directed by Leslie G. Lee, the choir will sing.

Two Protestant Churches Give Programs, Dec. 21

Church School programs will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 21, by two village churches—the Methodist and the Presbyterian.

The Christmas festival of the Church School in the Presbyterian church will begin at 7 o'clock. A Christmas pageant and play, prepared by Mrs. L. M. Eaton and Mrs. Kenneth A. Kitchen will be given. There will be the singing of carols and the appearance of Santa Claus.

At this service, the members of the school will bring white gifts to be distributed to needy families. A similar program has been planned for 7:30 p. m. in the Methodist church, where the primary department will sing group songs and individual solos and recitations will be given. A play will also be cast from this group. It is entitled, "The Spirit of Christmas." Mrs. A. Russell Clarke is responsible for this part of the program.

Recitations and songs will also be contributed from the junior department, under the direction of Mrs. John Litsenberger and Miss Mabel Chamberlain. Music for the two departments will be played by Mrs. W. A. Harding.

A tree will characterize the events and an offering will be taken for "stockings" for the Children's Village project.

Will December Be Joyful?

This is the Yuletide season of joy supreme. But it is also a time for sleet, rain and fog. Highways are in treacherous condition almost every day. Last year 115 persons died in December traffic mishaps on Michigan's highways and streets. This is no laughing matter. In fact it tends to make December the "month of sorrow."

Why not keep Christmas the glad holiday it is intended to be? You can do it by driving as though that extra mile gained were not a matter of life or death. All too often it is just that—a matter of life or death.

Serve Lunches to 50 School Pupils in Week

Meals Are Free, but Students Able To Pay Are Expected To Contribute

More than 50 grade school pupils and high school students have been eating hot lunches daily this week at the Northville high school.

The lunches are made possible through a WPA project and the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation.

Food is served free to any pupil or child wanting it, but in cases where it is possible for the child to

The school holiday recess begins Friday, Dec. 22 and will convene Wednesday, Jan. 3. The same plan that was followed at the Labor Day holiday is being carried out again following New Year in an effort to cooperate with the State in lessening the number of holiday traffic accidents.

pay, it is expected that he do so, either with money or by contributing commodities.

"We really want the children to donate food, particularly fresh vegetables—potatoes, onions, carrots, beets," stated Supt. R. H. Amerman. Each week a certain amount of food comes from the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation. This week the organization stocked the school shelves with butter, flour, canned fruits, cereals, apples and corn meal. Mrs. Vesta Allen of Newburg, is the cook. A dietitian from the Detroit WPA office gives weekly supervision to the hot lunch plan.

The meals will be served in the grade school building as soon as kitchen equipment can be installed.

Boys in New Troop Pass First Tests

The newly organized Boy Scout troop, N-7, which is being sponsored by the Northville Exchange Club, held its second meeting in the Scout Building, Monday evening.

There was a turn out of 16 boys, five of whom passed their tenderfoot tests before the meeting adjourned. Three of the boys to pass their tests—William Sutton, John Geraghty and William Johnston—were transferred from Troop N-1. The other two were Kenneth Bartum and Alfred Beatley. The troop is not as yet an official troop until eight boys have passed their tenderfoot tests. This is a requirement before a charter can be granted. Scoutmaster Robert Power and Assistant William Holsworth and Ted Williams feel confident that within a few weeks they will have the quota for a charter.

An overnight camping trip has already been planned for the Saturday after Christmas. The trip will include a hike to the Training school cabins, where the boys will cook, pass tests and sleep, returning Sunday morning.

WHAT A CHRISTMAS!

THOMAS W. SMITH, D. D.,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church

(The traditional Christmas message is written this year by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith. He uses a timely theme for his guest editorial.)

ALL of us are thinking these days of the tragic failure of the angels' long "Peace on earth and good will among men." But the Christ has not failed! His cause for peace and good will is going forward in a thousand corners of the earth, in spite of the wars that prevail. The destruction of millions in property and thousands of innocent lives is terrible. The common people of all nations are more and more condemning it as an awful crime. But the same common people are seeing more and more clearly that war is the result of imperial greed on the part of governments and the commerce on which they depend. And those governments will be brought to book just as surely as the world turns and the sun shines. War is not sent of God, but is the judgment of God upon the sins of human governments. Those sins are being exposed every year more widely and bravely. That means that the common people will sooner or later rebel against their governments leading them into war. Notwithstanding the darkness in Europe and Asia, WE ARE MAKING PROGRESS. Every reader of history must admit this and take courage.

Meantime, we Americans must rejoice in Christmas and make as many people happy as we can, not only by singing but by giving. Christmas is the time to give. God gave His only Son. While thousands of our nearest neighbors will have a very slim Christmas, millions in Europe are in terrible need. Let us share as generously as possible through every channel of mercy. Let us remember crucified Finland, Poland, Czechoslovakia, and China and give for the refugees, the wounded and the destitute. Millions are crying for relief. We shall have a happier Christmas if we respond. "He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord." Is there any better security?

But let no wars spoil our Christmas. Let us crowd the churches and kneel and give thanks to God for "His unspeakable gift."

Training School Plans Festivity

Musical Play and Pageant Will Be Presented Sunday for Families of Pupils

A musical play, given at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 24, will mark the opening of the Christmas festival week at the Northville Wayne County Training school.

This play is to be followed by the presentation of a pageant, giving the nativity story. These programs are given for the families of the children and other friends of the school. In past years, a single performance has been witnessed by as many as 1200 persons.

Some 375 children of the total number of 700 children in the school take some part in the production. The costumes, the stage settings and even, in some cases, the back drop, are actually constructed by children in the school so that the entire production is one large community project. The program announcements were designed and printed in the school's print shop.

For the school children and juvenile guests, the musical play will be repeated at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. That evening, a boys' basketball game (Continued on society page)

BIDDLE GIVES TUESDAY FARES TO CHARITY

Bus Travelers between Northville and Five Points Can Ride Free, Christmas

T. P. Biddle, who operates the bus line from Northville and its institutions to Five Points, designated Tuesday as welfare aid day this week.

All of his receipts Tuesday were turned over to charity. Fifty per cent went directly to the Goodfellow's club of Maybury sanatorium; the other 50 per cent has been sent to the King's Daughters. The receipts totaled $81.10.

And to make Christmas particularly merry for persons who travel on his bus line Monday, there will be no fare charges Christmas Day—that's just Mr. Biddle's way of saying "Merry Christmas" and really meaning it.

NORTHVILLE LOSES FARMINGTON GAME

The Northville basketball team lost a tight game to Farmington Tuesday night by the score of 22-21. Northville led all through the first quarter which closed with the score 4-2.

The second quarter started with both teams fighting hard and a lot of the baskets made were of the impossible. The points were evenly divided among the boys that were in the starting lineup. Farmington did not play as well as Northville. (Continued on supplement)

S.S. Litsenbergers Have Anniversary

Sunday Will Mark 50 Years of Wedded Life for Long Time Residents

Sunday, Dec. 24, will mark the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney S. Litsenberger, 111 East Dunlap street. They were married back in the year 1889, in Allegan county.

Northville has been their home since their marriage. To Mr. Litsenberger belongs the title of village smithy, for that is just what he has been to Northville through the horse and carriage age and on through to the present time when most of the horses in this area are kept for pleasure.

Mr. and Mrs. Litsenberger are the parents of 10 children including Mrs. Elmore Whipple and Marcus Litsenberger of Plymouth. Mrs. Alice Junod, Arthur Litsenberger, Mrs. Gerald Taft, John Litsenberger, Joe Litsenberger, Mrs. Leland Smith and Mrs. Alfred Sibley of Northville, and Robert Litsenberger of Trenton, N. J. There are 20 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Plans for a reception at an open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Litsenberger have been abandoned because Mr. Litsenberger is confined to his bed with sciatic rheumatism.

Rotary Speaker

was the guest speaker Tuesday evening when the Rotary Anns were the guests of the Rotary members.

Mental Health Is Dr. Yoder's Topic at Rotary

Rotary Anns Are Guests Tuesday in Methodist Church House

Tuesday evening 20 Rotary Anns and guests enjoyed a fine chicken pie dinner at the Methodist church house and applauded the Christmas philosophy as it applied to mental health, as expounded most interestingly by Dr. O. R. Yoder, superintendent of the Ypsanti State hospital.

In outlining the balancing things in life to acquire the greatest happiness, Dr. Yoder recommended a five point program.

1. Adopt a spiritual attitude toward life. We need God to help us get across the matter of job and sex. He defined God as that something of personality that "bases you up."

2. Be tolerant toward others. The good doctor found a great deal of disappointment in the attitude of Christian people in this regard. Accept what you have, be for things—don't be against things.

3. Keep fit physically.

4. Do things in moderation; be temperate in all things; and don't take things or yourself too seriously—laugh at yourself—it makes for a happier life and longer years.

5. Accept things about you. Forget yourself and do something for others. This attitude is the greatest of all mental attitudes. Be calm, and believe in yourself and your work.

Dr. Yoder was introduced by Supt. R. H. Amerman. Leslie Lee led in the singing of Christmas carols.

Halstead Jewelry Store Wins Decoration Contest; Will Receive Trophy at Exchange Luncheon, Dec. 27

Kiddies Get Gifts

Approximately 700 children of the village and surrounding trade area will be guests of the Northville Exchange Club at 6 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 23, at the Community Christmas tree festivities which will take place at the Village Hall.

Urged Decorations
The community tree is only one of the holiday projects which is sponsored by the club. For six years now the club has promoted a window store decoration contest among the merchants.

Plan Luncheon Courtesy
A new enterprise in the Northville business district—the Halstead Jewelry store—has the distinction of winning first prize in the contest. The coveted silver cup will be presented to John Halstead at the courtesy luncheon planned by the Exchange for the winners Wednesday, Dec. 27. Mr. Halstead also gets a turkey. (The Northville Electric shop is the second place winner and C. B. Turnbull proprietor, will get two chickens as gifts. The Schrader Furniture store placed third. N. C. Schrader will be given a duck. Honorable mention was given to the Northville Hardware store.)

The judges for the contest were Mill Stapp, general manager of the Northville Store in Pontiac, R. H. Stenager of the Detroit Edison company and Mrs. Jane Lentz, art and home economics teacher of the Northville high school.

Santa Will Be Here
Santa Claus will be the center of attraction at the village Christmas tree which flanks one side of the Village Hall. There will be a gift for each child.

It is the plan of the sponsoring organization to have a community sing at the tree. Carl Ely has been named by President Tom Edmondson to take charge of the arrangements. A. R. Clarke and Lloyd Mullen were named to work with him on the details.

The community tree was sponsored last year by the Exchange, receiving a custom of many years ago.

Anderson Writes Serial Story for Stethoscope

The Christmas issue of The Stethoscope, a magazine published by the patients at the Eastlawn sanatorium, came from the press this week carrying a new feature, a serial story by A. L. Anderson, formerly associated with the magazine and formerly a staff member of The Northville Record. His serial is entitled, "Cupid at the Sen."

"A Christmas in Sweden" from "The Viking" is also a feature of the current issue. The issue also gives prominent space to an autobiography of Dr. Felton D. Watts of Portland, Ore., who is a former classmate of Dr. A. B. Wickham, superintendent of Eastlawn.

The staff editing the magazine this time includes: Robert A. Lang, editor; Leona Weatherholt, Lloyd Phillips and Joseph Wojcik Jr., associate editors; Jean Schütz, Mimi Olson and Ethel Amo feature writers; Dorothy E. Kitz, Mabel Haag, Fanny Bell, Larry McPartland and Dorothy Gehrike, reporters.

The major reason for this increase according to State officials at Lansing, has been a decline in local responsibility at home and a corresponding increase in centralized responsibility at Lansing. Abolishment of the State property tax and levying of a general sales tax was one illustration of the process.

Will Toy Satisfy His Majesty?
She Asks Him—and Finds Out

A PRETTY toy—but does it have educational value? Don't ask the nearest child expert, but hand it to a youngster, who'll probably think up more instructive ways to use it than its inventor ever imagined. And that's the theory on which the Tested Toy laboratory of New York has helped manufacturers select the toys you buy for the children this Christmas.

The "laboratory" is really Miss Lillian Rifkin, who takes a toy to a school, recreational center or park and records children's reactions to it while they play. Then she fills in an elaborate questionnaire, commenting on the toy's durability, fitness at various age levels and value in stimulating mental, artistic, physical or scientific activity.

She doesn't question parents very often except regarding the toy's desirability for indoor or outdoor play. But the child is the final authority. Little rubber automobiles, says Miss Rifkin, are second in popularity to blocks. She's astounded by the elaborate kinds of dramatic play

DRESSMAKING—This dress designing "game" is being tried out by two youngsters at the elementary demonstration school. Miss Rifkin runs under sponsorship of New York university and the Child Study association of America.

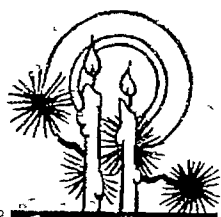

PROVING GROUND—Miss Rifkin watches a boy putting a new toy to its practical testing paces. Among her conclusions: (1) Children may be unpredictable in their likes and dislikes, but they're notably consistent in their reactions; (2) play appeal of a toy is paramount; any education value it may have is secondary in the child's mind.

that children build around the cars. "Sometimes a child travels all around the world with them. Often he will recreate a trip he's taken in the family car. Sometimes he'll play detective and chase gangsters and sometimes he's a taxicab driver."

Miss Rifkin finds that toy automobiles, like toy soldiers, help a child get the surplus energy out of his system. And both appeal to his instinct for collecting.

One mother, she says, believed militant tendencies would be fostered if her child were allowed to play with toy soldiers. So she forbade them, but instead the child collected bottle tops, lined them up in military formation and shot them down by poking his finger.

Miss Rifkin says it's all "pretend" anyway. "Even a child old enough to know war means cruelty realizes his soldiers are just toys, and it's only a game."

Best Wishes

AT CHRISTMAS

LANSING — "Here is where we came in."

Nearly one year has elapsed since a new administration took control of State government at Lansing, and the prevailing topic is still about the same as it was a year ago: Finance.

You will recall that the late Gov. Frank Fitzgerald held high hopes of effecting substantial economy in the cost of State government. His pledge of payroll reductions was a campaign issue. When Fitzgerald became governor, he emphasized the need of home local control—"home rule" if you please—instead of more and more centralization of power at Lansing, as had been the case for many administrations regardless of their political sponsorships.

This philosophy was shared by Luren D. Dickinson, and when he became governor the creed of economy was continued officially. The State legislature resisted many requests for State aid; State welfare appropriations were cut from an expended total of approximately $15,000,000 for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1939 to $8,750,000. On paper the budget was to be balanced; millions of dollars were to be saved.

Reflecting to a certain extent the legislature's mood for economy was its decision to slice drastically the appropriation for administration of civil service. Then the civil service act was overhauled; the revision bill was tagged "rip-off bill" by administration critics.

In the light of all these efforts for economy, payrolls were expected to decline. Financially, the present administration cannot be held responsible for appropriations made for the period ending July 1, 1939. Any payroll statements must be subject to this condition.

Apparently contradictory to the economy efforts was the discovery, in October that payrolls of State government had reached a new high for the first nine months of 1939. In dollars the all-time peak of spending was $19,358,651, compared with $18,789,074 for the same period in 1938; $17,914,734 in 1937; $14,417,076 in 1936.

Examination of the payroll record shows that a mere handful of State departments and agencies were responsible for most of the payroll increase. Among the State departments which effected economy in payrolls were the auditor general, attorney general, banking, civil service, governor's office, highway, old age assistance, liquor control, public service, sales tax, secretary of state, and welfare. Departments showing an increase were agriculture, conservation, employment service, labor, health, public instruction, state police, treasurer, and unemployment compensation.

Federal Aid Agencies . . .
Two State departments—employment service and unemployment compensation—deal heavily in federal funds. Their payrolls appear on the State record, but their major source of income is the money which employees and employees contribute in social security payments. The unemployment compensation commission derives all its funds from Washington; the employment service is financed jointly by Washington and Lansing.

These two agencies, offsprings of the Roosevelt New Deal, represent a total of $643,607 in higher payrolls for the nine month period of 1939. Of course the same condition as to these two agencies existed during Frank Murphy's administration. New agencies of government, created usually to meet demands of the public, are usually responsible for payroll increases, and the Dickinson and Murphy administrations are recent examples of how it works out.

Government costs have grown steadily from $66,559,214 in 1922-23 to $247,084,041 in 1938-39. What has been responsible for this revolutionary change?

Shift in Collections . . .
The major reason for this increase according to State officials at Lansing, has been a decline in local responsibility at home and a corresponding increase in centralized responsibility at Lansing. Abolishment of the State property tax and levying of a general sales tax was one illustration of the process.

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown revealed a few weeks ago that $129,000,000 collected this year by the State would be returned to local or independent units of government or spent for local rather than for State purposes. This is 80 per cent of the State's spendable revenue.

Governor Dickinson points out that "if we can stop the growth permanently, even if we aren't able to make a reduction in the cost of government, I think we will have made a big accomplishment."

From the office of the State budget director comes comforting news that, despite payroll increases, the State has spent two million dollars less than it did a year ago. Dickinson phrases the financial trend as being at a "pivot" and adds that "if we can start costs downward instead of upward, our administration will have made still more of an accomplishment."

Tips on Safe-Trimming of Trees Cited by Fire Prevention Bureau

Christmas and New Year holidays are two of the most outstanding events of the year—they are looked forward to by most persons with a great deal of enthusiasm and joy. While they are the most colorful of the holidays they also bring with them the greatest number of fire hazards possible, because these hazards are created without much thought in homes and public places where the objective of decorating is foremost in the mind. The exposures brought about during these two holidays are primarily exposures of pine trees, boughs, paper and cellulose decorations to the open candle, fire place, overheated stoves or defective electrical equipment.

In an effort to reduce the number of accidents at the holiday season, the Fire Prevention Bureau has released recommendations for the trimming of the Christmas tree, which is always the center of festivity in homes at this time of the year.

If a Christmas tree is to be used in the home, use a solid standard or base, keeping the tree at least five feet away from an open flame or stove. Only electrical Christmas lights—never candles—should be used on trees or wreaths. Cotton or other inflammable decorations on the tree or at its base should not be used but rather use metallic tinsel, spun glass or asbestos fibre. It is suggested that Christmas decorations electrical equipment should be closely inspected before it is used to determine that no input dollars in the cash register!

It is a startling fact that 87% of our impressions are received through our eyes. That is why it is so important to PUT LIGHT ON YOUR MERCHANDISE, and why a store must use good lighting effectively inside and out. A recent test made in a men's furnishing store proves this. The merchant stated that he had not sold a $1.50 necktie for the past three months. A sample spotlight installed in the store, and directed on the $1.50 tie-rack sold 46 neckties in the next 13 days... an increase in sales from nothing in three months to $69 in three weeks.  Detroit Edison engineers will gladly check your store lighting and give you their recommendations without charge. This is part of your service. Call your Detroit Edison office. The Detroit Edison Company.

A regular meeting of the Village Commission of last night, Dec. 18, 1939.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of my husband, Howard Lee Zolotar, who passed away Dec. 19, 1934. "Gone but not forgotten." Sadly missed by his wife, Ella, and four children of 26, 20, 18, and 14 years.

IN MEMORIAM
of our daughter and sister, Stella Ruthruff, who died Dec. 20, 1938. The sun and moon are shining. On a long and silent grave. Beneath lies one we dearly loved. But whom we could not save. Friends may think we have forgotten. When at times they see us smile. Little do they know the heartache. That our smiles hide all the while. Mrs. Elsie Simpson, brothers and sisters.

THE ORANGE AND BLACK

Edited by the Journalism Class of Northville High School

Mustangs Defeat VanDyke, 23-15

Second Team Loses Its First Game by Close Margin in Fast Encounter

The Northville Mustangs galloped to their first victory of the season Friday night over a hard fighting team from Van Dyke, their first league opponents. The score was 23-15.

The first quarter was the slowest one because there were only three points scored, two points for Northville and only one for Van Dyke. After the first quarter Ray Hartner got going and scored 11 points throughout the rest of the game, making him high point man. All the starting lineup scored besides showing their fine ability of handling the ball. The second team's defeat 23-15 was overshadowed by the first team's victory. Bob Boyden scored seven points making him high point man of the second team.

Both coaches, Harry B. Smith and Neville Walker, were very well pleased with their teams' showing. The first team starting lineup: Hartner and Funker, guards; Orr, center; Fritz and Eaton, forwards. Substitutes were: Balgo, B. Widmayer, Scholtz, Lippold and McArthur.

The second team starting lineup: Cole, center; Spagnuolo and LaRue, forwards; Greenlock and Boyden, guards. Substitutes were: Reid, R. McCuskie, T. Widmayer, Ross, Babbitt, Nafranowicz, Hunter, Nelson and Washburne.

Trip Taken by Sociology Class

E. C. Mollema's sociology class visited the Detroit House of Correction Tuesday, Dec. 12 and found the trip enjoyable as well as educational.

Bernara S. Klein acted as guide through the men's prison showing them such things as the solitary confinement room and the cell block, operated by automatic control and dismissed by one of the officers. Their next stop was the cafeteria where they found everything spotless. The commissary room contains all kinds of goods which are earned by the women's division in their own factory. Next the group visited the men's hospital in which they found many patients. Mrs. Travis talked to them about the women's division and they were shown the laundry, sewing room and the main cottage. There are women live in each of the eight cottages.

Grade Notes

Mrs. Sterling Eaton's two kindergarten groups will be combined for a Christmas party Dec. 22. They are going to exchange gifts and their tree will be decorated with articles made by the children.

Mrs. O. F. Reng's second-grade boys made gifts for Christmas. The children have made the racks, napkins and hot pan holder sets. They have also made pin trays out of cardboard, and bells and candles from colored paper.

The fifth and sixth graders in room 25 are making Christmas gifts for their mothers and fathers. They will have a Christmas party, Dec. 22. June Bailey and Doris Widmayer are on the program committee. The reporter for room 25 is Marjorie Hancock.

Mrs. E. J. Cobb and Mrs. J. K. Osen are assisting with the holiday trade at the Brader Department store.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Dear Readers:

The spirit of Christmas is in our hearts and in four days as we are gathered around our gayly decorated trees opening presents, it will be too late to stop and think of all the happiness and joy that maybe we could have given to someone not quite so lucky as ourselves. It isn't the size of your gift but the thought behind it that counts. Even a cheery greeting may make someone happy and in doing so, we will surely feel that we have done something worth while.

I have chosen the following passage from the works of William Lytle. It expresses well what our thoughts should be during the yuletide season and throughout the coming year.

"If you have any old grudge you would like to pay or any wrong laid up from past days, gather them all and lay them away when Christmas comes. Life is too short from beginning to end to carry hard thoughts. Be kind to yourself and forget those thoughts when Christmas comes."

There is deeper meaning to those few lovely words than any of us want to realize. Read them over again and stop to think about them.

I'll end my little Christmas message here in hopes that you enjoyed it. Goodbye now, and I'll see you after the holidays. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Your Editor

It seems we made quite a drastic mistake in last week's edition of the Orange and Black. The basketball girls did not lose their demonstration game with Flat Rock, but they did quite the opposite; they won. The article was correct and we wrote in the head that they lost. We hope you will all accept our apology.

The girls' vocational class, taught by C. D. Yahnke, gave a Christmas party, Friday, Dec. 15. Though a little early, it was this made convenient for others in the class to go to their own home room party during the forthcoming week. Each person contributed something to the refreshments. Gifts were exchanged, some of them being serious and others humorous.

This Friday at 2:30, Mr. Yahnke's ninth grade homeroom, will celebrate Christmas by having a party. Each person will give something to the refreshments. The members of the class drew names last week and gifts will be exchanged. The committee for planning the party included Phyllis Knight, Joan McCollough and Shirlén Nutton.

E. C. Mollema's homeroom is planning to have a party Friday Dec. 22. The students have drawn names and are going to give presents.

Wednesday, Dec. 20, the Special Class had a jolly dinner at Betty Armstrong's home. Names were drawn and gifts were exchanged.

Prayer McCollough was hostess to the French club at a Christmas party Monday, Dec. 18.

Wednesday, Dec. 13 the Boys' N. Club presented a new and interesting type of assembly program. The club in public, showed the first step in the initiation of new members.

Each of the boys who won letters last season were told to recite poems. Gene Reeves having to sing a song. Fritz G. V. Harrison introduced Marilyn Cavel and Bob Orr, who told about girls' and boys' basketball, and the prices of season tickets and Leonard Fritz president of the club, who explained the aims of the club.

Girls Win over Redford Union

Second Team Sets Good Example for First Team by Winning

Thursday evening, Dec. 4, at 7 o'clock, the first and second girls' teams played their first league game of the season with Redford Union in the gym. Northville won both games.

The games got off with a good start and it was a fast game all the way through. The girls from Redford were fast but not fast enough for the Mustangs. Mary Frances Batt was high scorer for the first team with six points. N. B. S. won with a score of 16-9.

The second team played a very good game for the first time on the floor. Murna Hubbard was high scorer for them, making nine points. The game ended with a 17-15 score in our favor.

The following is the lineup for the first team.

Kroger Gives Bonus Checks to Employees

Christmas bonus checks are being distributed this week to all Kroger employees who have been with the company for one year or more, according to W. W. Rogers, Branch Manager for this territory.
A total of $30,000 was appropriated for this purpose recently by directors of the grocery firm who authorized the distribution to all employees not participating in the regular profit sharing plan.
A personal message of Christmas Greeting from Albert H. Morrill, President of the Kroger company, accompanies each bonus check.
