Mayor and Council Posts Contested in Village Election

Nichols, Perrin, Shafer,
Milne, Hahn, Simmons,
Stark, Alexander, Bloom,
Lester in Political Picture

Voting Is Mar. 11

As the deadline, Mar. 1, draws near for the filing of petitions for village offices, the contest for mayor and council posts becomes keen in the village election picture, with balloting scheduled for Mar. 11, in the Village Hall and the Boy Scout building.

In the major competition, incumbent Arthur S. Nichols is opposed by Elmer H. Perrin, former councilman, who was in the race for the 1936 mayor contest.

For seats as the council table, Floyd Shafer, whose term expires this year, seeks reelection. J. W. Perkins, who also goes out with Mr. Shafer, is not seeking the office again. Entering the council race with Shafer are three newcomers to the village political front: Alec P. Milne, Eber Ward, Lester and Del W. Hahn. Fred Simmons, who served on the council from 1922-1926, has petitioned for one of the council seats.

No opposition has entered, the field against Assessor B. C. Stark, Clerk (Mrs. P. R.) Alexander and Treasurer C. Harold Bloom, all of whom seek reelection to their posts. Petitions must be filed by persons seeking office at least 10 days before the election (Mar. 11) and not more than 12 days before the election.

Lutheran Banquet Is Annual Event Scheduled, Feb. 25

Palm, Gerald V. Harrison will speak Sunday evening, Feb. 25, at the annual father-son banquet which will be held in St. Paul's Lutheran church hall.

Some 150 fathers and sons are expected to be seated at long tables in the church hall where patriotic decorations will be in evidence. The Rev. J. M. Bracken, pastor of St. Paul's, will be the toastmaster. Henry Schmidt will direct the church orchestra. Fred Stenroos is the general chairman.

The women's committee includes: Mrs. Charles Melner, Mrs. Fred Hahn, Mrs. Henry Schmidt, Mrs. Earl Baughman, Mrs. Earl Foreman and Mrs. Clyde Detloff.

Pancakes Are Fed to Boy Scouts

Pancakes, syrup and tasty sausages were the place of resistance offered to a hungry and pretty lively lot of Boy Scouts who were the guests of their sponsors, the American Legion post, Tuesday evening.

Lloyd H. Green Post was the host to about 20 Scout members of the troop sponsored by the Post, their executives and leaders, to a pancake supper, a short program, and a general good time at the Legion Hall.

While boys would be a big word, yet the boys devoured almost that amount of food. Opened to Commander Elmer H. Green, American Legion post, Tuesday evening, Commander George Simmons welcomed the group, expressed pride in the work, and introduced the program. Charles F. Murphy showed the boys a picture of the scuttling of the Graf Spee. Mr. Owen led in the group singing. Legionnaires, being good cooks, prepared the menu and served it to the boys and other members.

Hammer's Hardware Takes New Lease

R. J. Hammer of Hammer's Hardware, has leased the entire Schrader building, which gives him the space formerly occupied by Mrs. Jennie Cousins' dress shop.

The partition between the two stores will be removed immediately, giving Mr. Hammer more store space for his hardware merchandise. Mr. Hammer will be able to carry a more extensive line now that he has room for display.

American Display Gets Attention

The Woolen Goods window is attracting village-wide attention this week with its display of Cabin Craft spreads which are reproductions of authentic American patterns used in "Gone with the Wind."

Have Been Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. William H. White will receive their friends Monday afternoon, Feb. 25, on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

Long Time Village Residents Celebrate Golden Wedding

An open house from 2 to 5 p. m. Monday, Feb. 25, at 632 North Center street will mark the fiftieth wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. William Henry White.

They spoke their marriage vows 50 years ago in Elder Boyden's home in Noyl. Mrs. White was Katie M. Love of West of Noyl. Mr. White had come from Conway to work on farms in the Noyl vicinity.

After their marriage they made their home at South Lyon, where Mr. White worked on the Grand Trunk. Their eighth-year residence in South Lyon was brought to an end in 1928, when the Whites moved to Northville. Mr. White then went to work with the grading of the electric road from Farmington to Northville. After a time, he was promoted to section foreman, and a little later was made road master on the Orchard Lake division.

As time went by, the road was abandoned, and Mr. White began tearing up the road he had helped to build. He was the last man on the job.

For several years Mr. White has been retired. He devotes his time to caring for Mrs. White, who, for the past two years, has been an invalid. Both are faithful members of the Baptist church.

The Whites have five children: Harry, William Henry, Jr., and Mrs. Lloyd Morse of Northville, Mrs. Goodrich Doty of Hollywood, Calif., and Milo of Muir. Two other children died in infancy. There are nine grandchildren.

Mrs. Morse and Mrs. White, Jr., will assist Tuesday afternoon at the open house affair.

Re-Appointed

Fred E. Van Atta, Northville's postmaster since June 20, 1935 (acting postmaster since Oct. 1, 1934), received notice this week from Washington, D. C., that he had been re-appointed postmaster for the Northville post office.

School's 2 Teams Continue Winning Streak on Court

Basketball Players Defeat Berkley and Trenton; Play Plymouth Tonight

The Plymouth basketball team will meet the Mustangs on the Northville court at 7 p. m. Friday, Feb. 23, in the high school gymnasium.

Victory continues to follow the attempts of the girls' and boys' Northville high school basketball teams in their encounters with Berkley and Trenton.

Thursday afternoon on the local court the girls took their game with Berkley, 43-7. The next night, the boys went to Trenton to defeat the team there 31-17.

In the girls' game, Northville started the contest by taking a commanding lead, ending the first quarter with a 7-1 score. At the half, the score stood 13-1. Northville scored 30 points in the last half, making the score 43-7. Mary Frances Batt continues to be the high scorer of the team, making 16 points against Berkley.

The second team also added another victory to its long list of triumphs.

Township's Tax Deadline Is Mar. 1

With 72 per cent of the Northville township taxes already paid, Mrs. Leo (Mollie) Lawrence, treasurer, stated today that Mar. 1 was the deadline for the payment of taxes. After that date, she points out, taxes will be payable to the Wayne county treasurer.

The township's total tax roll this year is $58,267.37. Mrs. Lawrence will be in the bank Saturday to accept taxes. Other days before the deadline, she will be at her home, 547 Fairbrook, to take care of township property owners.

Two Organizations Sponsor Tourney

The Athletic club's basketball tourney scheduled for Mar. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20 in the Northville high school gymnasium, will have the joint support of the Class of 1940.

There will be two games each night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Games have been scheduled with Ypsilanti, Pontiac, Milford and South Lyon.

Place Second in Suburban League

The Northville high school girls' basketball team finished the season Wednesday afternoon, ranking second place in the Metropolitan Suburban League. A game Feb. 21, on the Hazel Park court, was a victory for Hazel Park, 29-26. Had Northville won, it would have won the championship. This is the first year that Hazel Park has been in the Metropolitan League. For two consecutive years, Northville held the league championship title.

Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, dean of the School of Liberal Arts at Wayne University, Detroit, will speak at 8 p. m. Friday, Feb. 23, in the Presbyterian church hall, where the members of the Northville Woman's club will be business at a community meeting.

Dr. Whitehouse's audience will be made up of church members, Rotarians and the Northville teaching personnel. The meeting is open to the public and it is expected that persons from the village at large will also attend.

Speaking in Northville before the women's club and guests from five neighboring towns last November, Dr. Whitehouse talked on the international situation, having had an opportunity to get first-hand information through his travels. His speech tonight in the Presbyterian church hall will be entitled, "America Can't Afford to Go to War."

629 Ballots Cast Monday in Primary Township Election

Fred W. Lyke and Mrs. Mollie Lawrence Are Republican Nominees for Clerk and Treasurer Posts

Draper Is Winner

Contests in the clerk and treasurer posts in Northville township primary, Monday, Feb. 19, brought 629 voters to the polls in the two precincts to give Mrs. Leo (Mollie) Lawrence, incumbent, the republican nomination for treasurer and Fred W. Lyke the republican nomination for clerk.

The clerkship contest between incumbent John Lisenberger and Mr. Lyke was close, Mr. Lisenberger losing by a margin of 26 votes.

Mrs. Lawrence, opposed by Mrs. William Safford and Mrs. Al Bauman, had a 254 vote margin between her closest competitor, which was won by Mrs. Bauman.

In the constable's race, the republican ticket Dan Draper needed out incumbent Roy Rew, to get the nomination for one of the four places along with incumbents Styr Herick Ward Masters and Ube Tibbitts.

Following is the tabulation of the Northville, Commerce and Salem township primary elections.

Wayne County AAA Announces Rates

Parity payment rates on corn and wheat for 1940 were announced this week by the Wayne County AAA Committee. The rates announced are: Corn five cents a bushel, and wheat 10 cents a bushel.

These payments, according to Maurice C. Burd, Wayne county AAA chairman, will be made on the normal field of each farmer's acreage allotment for each of the crops if the farmer cooperates with the provisions of the Agricultural Conservation Program. The provisions for 1940 state that a farmer may receive corn or wheat parity payment if the sum of his corn and wheat here April 15 will continue to make their home in Northville and enjoy a well earned rest after the years of strenuous business activity. Mr. and Mrs. Herr will be missed in the business district, but their friends will appreciate the pleasure that will be Mr. and Mrs. Herr's.

Lenten Message of the Week

By the Rev. Harry J. Lord, Methodist Church

We are all fellow travelers on he that seeketh findeth. We do find life on the level we seek after. John Oxenham has well said it in his poem:

To every man these openeth
A way and ways and a way,
And the high soul climbs the high way,
And the low soul climbs the low way,
And in between on the mystic flats

The rest drift to and fro
To every man these openeth
A high way and a low way,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go.

Bloodsuckers
 How do you like it anyway? Six, eight, ten circulars and folders strewn all over the front porch. And nearly every one from firms located in other towns that are out after the marginal business they can gather from Northville people. Check up and see how many of these firms help you with your taxes; support your schools; or contribute to any worthy cause in this community. Most of this stuff can be classed as community bloodsuckers.

No man ever got very high by pulling other people down. Knocking is the easiest thing in the world to do. It requires only a thimble of brains.

More Power To You
 It is indeed gratifying the way the Novi township board has responded to a popular demand for the protection of the P. M. R. R. crossing just north of the village on the Novi road. Successful or not, their action has reflected a belief that the people of their township have and hold. Nothing in the way of crossing protection comes without asking. Undoubtedly the Oakland County Road Commission will carefully investigate the crossing—and if funds are available and the project merits specific action they will follow the suggestion of the township board. What ever the outcome of the matter the township board has done its duty. We join with a great many villagers in roundly applauding the action of the Novi Board. More power to those officials.

What nice weather we had last week. A nice day is one of these things in life that once enjoyed cannot be taken away. Likewise by the same token we must enjoy it while we have it.

Trends in Highway Finance recently published by the University of Michigan states that Michigan highways and streets cost an average of 51 million dollars since 1932, a marked decrease from the 88 million dollars for the period 1922 to 1931.

You are not dressed for work until you put on a smile

Believes In Business Ads
 You've read a good many Horatio Alger stories, but the story of the nation's highest paid corporation executive in 1938 who doesn't think he's "new" seems to top them all. Francis A. Countway has been dodging the limelight all his life. He earned $469,713 in salary and bonus during the recession year of '38 as president of Lever Brothers company in Cambridge, Mass. soap manufacturer—an annual pay envelope which bulged latter than even those of the high salaried stars of the screen.

Yet the story of his spectacular rise from a job at 21 as an accountant for the soap firm to his present $9,000 a week sounds pretty important.

What we are most interested in is his business policy which has been built around two principles—use of advertising and development of a loyal personnel. Both of these principles seem pretty solid to us for a successful business and if others can profit by the experience of Mr. Countway who was paid nearly a half million dollar salary in 1938 they may be building toward a successful business. The use of advertising and a loyal personnel are most essential. Remember that.

A. V. Barber is quietly remembering that it is about 20 years since he came to Northville.

The managing editor of the largest newspaper in Michigan frankly stated to Michigan newspaper publishers and editors at East Lansing last week that readers had no reason to believe any of the reports coming out of the belligerent nations. He said that lies, misrepresentations, false propaganda have become as highly a developed part of war as the guns and ammunition.

Today the United States faces a war-torn world with a national debt of $46,000,000,000. A lot of money in any man's language.

Ever hear of Joseph Vissarionovich Djigashvili? Two guesses as to who he is by the name of Joseph Stalin.

It is welcome news to Michigan that sufficient state funds are in the way to carry the welfare load until May 1. This means that no special session of the legislature is necessary, which is a bit of political luck for any administration.

Private Ownership
 From a recent issue of E. Hofer & Sons' Industrial News we view comes the following:

You'd think nothing of it if your next-door neighbor borrowed a cigarette. But you would regard it as a presumption if he asked permission to run a cord to one of your electric light outlets in order to operate his radio in the evening.

Yet the fact is, based on average domestic power rates, that the cost of one cigarette would more than pay the cost of operating most radios several hours!

Here is an excellent illustration of what the electric industry under private ownership and state regulation, has done to reduce the cost of a vital service to the American people. Electric power is the only item in the government's standard cost-of-living index which costs less today than it did before the war. You can use power for cooking, refrigerating, and for actuating dozens of conveniences such as percolators and vacuums, for less money than you spent for heating alone not so many years ago.

Deficit Figures in Gubernatorial Race

LANSING—If you were a candidate for the governorship of Michigan, what would YOU do about that annoying $30,000,000 deficit in the treasury at Lansing?

Here is a question that is easier to propound than to answer.

Many an aspirant for office has made serious campaign promises during speech-making tours, pledges which he honestly intended to carry out but which he seemingly was unable, after election, to fulfill. Some, however, realities are different when the candidate-elect arrives at Lansing. New situations develop like plagues of locusts. Pressure groups protest at economy at their expense. Other interests demand additional state aid, and so it goes!

Being governor of Michigan is no child's play. The more we view the Lansing scene the more we appreciate the difficulties which beset the state executive in his endeavor to execute his duties.

Wielding the Axe

For example, if there was ever an economy-minded state legislature, it was the 1938 one. Admonished by Governor-elect Frank Fitzgerald to effect savings in the cost of government, the lawmakers wielded the axe judiciously.

When they were finished, the budget was nearly balanced on paper.

If general revenues totaled more than $82,000,000 the legislature, in a compromise with the school teachers earmarked the next $2,000,000 to go to the public school fund.

In the meanwhile, the state welfare fund is beginning to run precariously low; C & O labor leaders are demanding a special session to authorize another $10,000,000 for welfare needs; and the state deficit is not less than it was a year ago, but in fact it is said to be a little higher.

What to do?

The choices are few.

Bond Issue, Economy?

Politicians of both parties are in apparent agreement that a special bond issue to retire the $30,000,000 red-ink entry, would be turned down overwhelmingly by the voters.

Another choice is more economy. This is an old oratorical device, but how is this economy to be accomplished? Auditor General Vernon J. Brown has reported that Lansing is a tax-collector for local government to the grand tune of $132,000,000 a year. The state's grants-in-aid come to this surprising total, thus actually the major part of the state's but is not for state government at all.

Total state revenues come to about $160,000,000 a year.

Grants to local governments aggregate $132,000,000, leaving only $28,000,000 for state needs.

Are you, the local taxpayer, going to support a state economy campaign that doesn't really economize much at Lansing at all, but which comes right back home in your own community to pinch you, here and there?

The question of state finances we again emphasize, is not easy to answer.

How About New Tax?

This year is campaign-time. So consider this another choice: solving the problem—laying a new tax or increasing a present one.

Senator Don VanderWerf, chairman of the senate finance committee, recently referred to the need for additional money and the desire to retire the state deficit. Additions to state hospitals, affording accommodations for 2,000 persons seeking admission, cannot be utilized fully because the 1939 legislative appropriation only $1,000,000 to equip and operate them whereas $3,500,000 a year is necessary. Furthermore, 25,000 persons are eligible to receive old age pensions but state appropriations are not sufficient to care for them. (Old age lists now total 77,000.)

The state government can't continue to operate without additional taxation," concludes VanderWerf.

Tax possibilities: Restoration of the state property tax, such as has been done in California to meet demands of special pressure groups for more state aid; imposition of luxury taxes on tobacco, amusement admissions, etc.; a temporary increase in the state sales tax, now 3 cents on the dollar.

New taxes are not popular with the average voter.

But some answer must be found. The Michigan citizen can't have his cake and eat it, too. If more social benefits are to be granted, means should be found to finance them. Unless, of course, Michigan emulates the example of the federal government's 10-year record of annual deficits, not in millions but in the billions.

Local Highways

If Murray D. Van Wagoner is a candidate for governor, as some observers believe he will be, then one of the 1940 political issues will probably be highways.

That is a reasonable assumption, for Van Wagoner is the highway department commissioner and president of the American Road Builders' association.

County road commissioners, for example, look longingly at the sales tax fund, now that state highway revenues have been earmarked for highway purposes. Louis Webber, their Lansing representative, believes that the 1941 legislature should tag $10,000,000 for local road needs.

School teachers will probably be back, too, in 1941 insisting on more state aid. And so it goes—hospital ren care, old age pensions and long parade of genuine social needs. And still the $30,000,000 deficit is with us. Whosoever he may be, the 1940 governor-elect will have tough decisions to make, and the financial decision is certainly one of them.

D. A. R. Elects Delegates To State Conference
The home of Mrs. Earl Mostack, Plymouth, was the scene Monday afternoon of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, D. A. R. meeting, at which state delegates were elected to the state conference to be held Mar. 28-30 in Battle Creek. This honor goes to Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, Mrs. Sidney J. Strong, Mrs. Henry E. Baker and Mrs. David V. Mather, all of Plymouth.

The alternates are Mrs. Irving E. Blunk of Plymouth, Mrs. Kenneth A. Kitchen, Mrs. Robert E. Leary and Mrs. Allen Buckley, all of Northville.

A program was presented by the dramatics class of the Plymouth high school under the direction of Miss Winnifred S. Ford. Two songs were sung by the double quartet and the verse-speaking choir presented five numbers. "His First Girl," a one-act comedy concluded the program.

200 Villagers Attend Father-Daughter Banquet
Some 200 fathers and daughters were seated at long tables Thursday evening, Feb. 15, in the Methodist church house where a father-daughter banquet, the first ever to be held in Northville was the highlight of the week.

The Rev. Marshall Reed of the North Park Methodist church in Detroit, was the speaker on this occasion. E. V. Ellison, president of the Men's Club, the sponsoring organization, was toastmaster. "The Girls' Glee club, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, sang two numbers.

Recognition was given to Carl Ely, who was present with a daughter and four daughters-in-law; to Lloyd Morse, who was present with three daughters; and to the Rev. J. J. Lunk, who was present with four daughters.

Max LeRoy Hollis Celebrates First Birthday Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hollis were hosts Saturday evening in their home to a group of relatives and friends who gathered to help celebrate Max LeRoy's first birthday.

The occasion was also the birthday anniversary of Mrs. M. J. Glick. The table, set with places for 14 guests, was made festive with the talisman motif. Present were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Glick, Mrs. Sam Peckard, Mrs. James Hollis, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollis, June and James Hollis, Mrs. Maurice Gies, Bobby Gies, Rollen S. Hollis, Sylvia Jane Hollis, Mrs. Catherine Bongiovanni and George Deja of Plymouth.

FEEDING FACTS ON JUNIOR FOODS
When your baby is ready to graduate from strained foods to something a little more solid, it will be a source of security and satisfaction to you to know you can keep right on feeding him fine prepared foods suited to his new needs. Of course, it depends on your baby's development and his physician's advice, but around 12 months or so it is quite likely your doctor will suggest more solid foods to give his teeth and gums extra exercise and enrich his nutritional intake.

The doctor will suggest just what type of foods to start on—probably chopped vegetables, creamy foods and simple fruit desserts. Turning these out yourself is a tedious task. It interferes with family mealtime routine and besides it is often impossible to find products in the local markets of the fine quality you want to serve your baby. It is a real comfort then, to know that you can get all these fine new foods from your grocer, packed by the same food manufacturer who has made the strained foods you served your baby. There are soups in this line, too, and chicken and meat soups, vegetable soups, and fruit soups.

vegetables, and dainty desserts—variety enough for a wide choice of balanced menus and conforming with meticulous detail to your doctor's prescription.

It's no task at all to serve these foods to your baby either. The soups, vegetable and creamy foods are best served warm. Just spoon them into a saucepan or double boiler and heat without boiling. Always avoid boiling to preserve the fine flavor and conserve the greatest possible percentage of vitamin content. The desserts are most delightful served just as they come from the tin with a little topping of cream or milk, but for a very young baby you may be advised to warm them a bit. It's simple any way you do it—and you'll have the very finest kind of food for your baby.

If your baby has become so used to the smoother quality of strained foods that he rebels a bit over this new texture, just try mixing a small amount of one of the junior foods with a strained food of the same flavor, and feed your baby this combination until he likes the feel of the coarser particles. After this you can gradually cut down on the proportions of strained foods added—until the baby is taking straight junior foods with relish and satisfaction.

You'll find all these foods thrifty, packed in 6½-ounce tins—enough for several servings at first. So think the baby's appetite develops, his digestive capacity expands, his teeth grow stronger, and you'll find the food lower, until another meal by placing it in a sterilized jar, you can serve the food in a well-called refrigeration.

Artists Are Named for Annual May Festival in Ann Arbor

Dorothy Maynor, the sensational colored soprano, will be heard at the May Festival, according to C. A. Sink, president of the University Musical Society, who has just announced the complete list of May Festival artists to be heard May 8-11.

Other participants will include six celebrated singers, all of the Metropolitan Opera, and three renowned instrumentalists, as follows: Lily Pons and Rosa Tentoni, sopranos; Enid Svantho, contralto; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; Lawrence Tibbett and Robert Weede, baritone; and Norman Gordon, bass. The instrumental artists will be Josef Szegedi, violinist; Emanuel Feuermann, violoncellist; and Arthur Schnabel, pianist.

The Philadelphia Orchestra, for the fifth consecutive festival will participate in all six concerts. Eugene Ormandy will conduct the major portion of the orchestral selections, but will be assisted by Associate Conductor, Saul Seaton, and Earl McDonald, guest conductor, who will present one of his own works entitled "Santa Fe Trail".

The University Choral Union, under Thor Johnson, will offer a modern, stark, colorful yardell, Jr., entitled "The Immovable Lovers," and Saint-Saens' "Samson and Delilah." The Young Peoples' Festival Chorus will sing several songs Friday afternoon under the baton of Juva Higbee.

The tentative allocation soloists will be as follows:

Wednesday Evening: Lawrence Tibbett, soloist; Eugene Ormandy, conductor.

Thursday Evening: Dorothy Maynor, Rosa Tentoni and Robert Weede, soloists; Chorus, Uthoff, Eugene Ormandy and Thor Johnson, conductors.

Friday Afternoon: Arthur Schnabel, soloist; Young Peoples' Chorus; Saul Seaton, Earl McDonald and Juva Higbee, conductors.

Friday Evening: Lily Pons and Josef Szegedi, soloists; Eugene Ormandy, conductor.

Saturday Afternoon: Josef Szegedi and Emanuel Feuermann, soloists, presenting Brahms' "Double Concerto for Violin and Violoncello," Eugene Ormandy, conductor.

Saturday Evening: "Samson and Delilah" with Enid Svantho, Giovanni Martinelli, Robert Weede and Norman Gordon; Choral Union; Thor Johnson, conductor.

Harry Lush Plans To Build Theatre
Harry Lush, manager of the Plymouth and Northville Penniman-Alled theatres, has approved plans for a new theatre on his property on Penniman avenue, Plymouth.

Construction will begin within a few days. The plans provide for a tan terra cotta front, accented by flood lights on the tower and the entrance. The rows of seats on the inside will cover a distance of 95 feet, the length of the theatre. Two wide aisles will divide the rows. The building site is to house a store building, 24 feet wide and 140 feet deep.

The capacity will take care of 800 seats, 30 inches wide, each seat will be 33 inches apart from back to back, allowing ample room to pass in and out of the rows without interfering with persons in the seats. The modern equipment calls for a cooling system so that temperatures may be controlled throughout the year.

Mr. Lush plans to buy the finest available equipment in the way of projectors and sound machines.

Birthday congratulations to Constance Burgess, Feb. 28.

The Methodist Advance meeting of the Detroit conference will be held Wednesday, Mar. 6, in Flint.

An opinion of far-reaching importance was handed down Feb. 8, when Judge Robert M. Toms of the Wayne County Circuit Court, upheld the constitutionality of Michigan's Milk Marketing Act.

When her purse fell open, Miss Munsch, clerk at the office of the Perry Elevator company in Howell, had about $100 in bills scattered all over town by high winds one day last week. With the help of persons about town practically all the money has been recovered, much of it having been retrieved several blocks away.

Home-Made Forage Rack

Henry Witznershouse of Saunders County, Nebraska, built the ends and sides of this handy forage rack out of old bed-spring frames and strap iron. The strings and cross-pieces came from an automobile junk yard. Total cost of material in the rack was $23.25 and it weighs only 1,400 pounds, exclusive of the truck.

Handy for Trench Silos

Ever try to back a team and wagon any distance in a long trench silo? Harvey Norem of Kendall County, Illinois, had a trench silo 160 feet long—and when he had fed out about two-thirds of the silage he found that it took about as long to back a team in for loading as it did to load the wagon full of silage. So he solved the problem by fixing up the one-horse cart shown above. It is no trick to back one horse hitched to a cart—and the cart is much easier to handle around the feed lots.

Move That Brooder House

Leaving the brooder house in the same spot until the soil is sour and full of germs and worms is certainly inviting trouble. Your hatcheryman can protect your chicks against diseases that are transmitted through the eggs—but it is strictly up to you to protect them against external germs and parasites. Clean that brooder house as clean as your kitchen—use lye in hot water to cook the germs—and move it, brother, move it!

Radiotelephone Service Added for Emergencies

Two sets of portable emergency radiotelephone equipment to be used in temporarily bridging the communications gap when a community is cut off from the rest of the world are being added to the plant of the Michigan Bell Telephone company, according to announcement by George M. Welch, president. The Federal Communications Commission, at Washington, has issued the company licenses for operation of the apparatus.

Ordinarily, Welch said, when a town is isolated by tornado, sleep storm, flood, fire or other disaster, communication is reestablished within a few hours by the augmented crews and equipment that are rushed into the affected area by the company. Now and then, however, damage is such that days must elapse before the lines can be set up again, even on an emergency basis for summoning relief and for aid in restoration work.

It is for use in such situations that the Michigan Bell Telephone company is adding the portable radiotelephone to its equipment and has established a school at Detroit for training the necessary operators. The apparatus was especially developed for emergency relief work by the Bell Telephone Laboratories. Their use will minimize the danger of a community being isolated for any substantial period following a catastrophe.

Michigan Men in Congress

A History of Michigan in the Congress of the United States
By GEORGE A. DONDERO
Member of Congress, 17th Michigan District

The distinction of being the first Senators to represent Michigan in the United States Senate belongs to Lucius Lyon of Bronson, and John Norvell of Detroit. Both took their seats on Jan. 26, 1837, and the expirations of their respective terms were determined by lot with the former terminating on Mar. 3, 1839, and the latter's on Mar. 3, 1841.

Since admission into the Union the State has had 28 different United States Senators. With reference to party affiliations 18 have been Republicans, eight Democrats, and two have been Whigs.

Two of our early U. S. Senators had first served as Delegates from the Michigan Territory. Lucius Lyon and William Woodbridge.

Lewis Cass, who took his seat in the United States Senate Mar. 4, 1845, had an extensive political career. He was the military and civil Governor of the Michigan Territory from 1813 to 1831, Secretary of War under President Jackson, 1831 to 1836, United States Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to France, 1836 to 1842, and Secretary of State under President Buchanan. He resigned his seat in the Senate to accept the Democratic nomination for President of the United States and then was elected to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by his own resignation.

Alpheus Felch of Ann Arbor, who served with Lewis Cass, had been Governor of Michigan before his election to the United States Senate. As State Commissioner of Banking in 1838 and 1839, he rendered a great service to the State of Michigan in stamping out the so-called "wildcat" banks.

Zachariah Chandler was another illustrious Michigan Senator in the 80's and he was prominent in the organization of the Republican party in 1854. He was first elected to the United States Senate in 1856 and served from Mar. 4, 1857, to Mar. 3, 1875, and for a short period in 1879. He was the nephew of John Chandler who served in Congress as a Representative from Massachusetts and a Senator from Maine, also the nephew of Thomas Chandler who served in Congress as a Representative from New Hampshire; and he was the grandfather of Frederick Hale, who like his other

No Hurry to Quit

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace as he appeared before the house ways and means committee in testimony in defense of extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act. At the hearing Secretary Wallace admitted that he would "like to keep on being secretary of Agriculture."

Whitcomb Ken John Chandler, was named a Senator from Maine. Zachariah Chandler also received national recognition as Secretary of the Interior and a President Grant. Thomas W. Ferry of Grand Haven, who served in the United States Senate from 1871 to 1883, became the presiding officer of that body on the death of Vice-President Wilson. Previous to his two terms in the Senate he was a Member of the U. S. House of Representatives for three terms, 1855 to 1871.

Omar D. Conger, like Thomas W. Ferry, served in both the United States Senate and the U. S. House of Representatives. He was a presidential elector on the Republican ticket or Lincoln and Johnson in 1864.

Kinsley S. Bingham, another early U. S. Senator from the State of Michigan, was elected Governor of Michigan in 1854 on the first ticket ever designated as "Republican."

and was again elected in 1856. He was instrumental in the establishment of what is now Michigan State college.

Thank You Folks...

A GAIN may we express to you our sincere thanks for your hearty cooperation, and your contributions to our work in providing glasses to the deserving poor of our communities. Glasses and frames have been sent to us from all sections of Wayne county and from many villages and cities outside of Michigan.

Especially do we wish to thank William E. Dowling for his great contribution to this fund for the restoration of the eyesight of our good people.

Through your help many worthy persons are today enjoying better eyesight.

It is a pleasure to serve when so many people willingly offer their aid and cooperation. We serve, that we may serve again. And again we thank you.

Carnival Plans Are Progressing

The Girls' and Boys' N-clubs are progressing quite rapidly with their carnival which is to be held Mar. 30. There will be all sorts of game and food stands sponsored by clubs and classes. Some of the concessions will be: Fortune telling, hot dog stands, dodge 'em, photo-gallery, shoot the stars, one act play, and of course there will be many other interesting things to do.

The N-clubs hope to make this carnival a big success and if it is they will make it an annual affair. Pat Klein and Ken Willis head the committees for the carnival.

American Legion Sponsors Contest

Deadline—Is May 10; Jane Lentz Will Aid Students with Art Suggestions

This year, as in previous years, the American Legion and Auxiliary are sponsoring a Poppy Poster Contest. May 10 will be the closing date. The local prizes will be as follows: first prize, $3; second prize, $2; and third prize, $1. The district prizes have not been announced as yet.

The prizes for the State department contest are: first prize, $12.50; second prize, $7.50; and third prize, $5.00. This last group pertains only to the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. The seventh, eighth and ninth grade prizes are: first prize, $7.50; second prize, $5.00; and third prize, $3.50.

The posters will be judged upon originality, neatness, artistic ability and appeal.

Each letter of the word "Poppy" signifies something. P stands for publicity; O for organized; P for poppy posters; P for poppy bullets; and Y for yearning turned into earning. When all these letters are put together they spell "POPPY," a memorial to those who made the supreme sacrifice and a symbol of assistance to those who remain.

Mrs. Floyd Lanning is the Auxiliary chairman and Mr. Stevens the Legion chairman for the contest. Posters are to be turned in to Mrs. Lanning. Miss Jane Lentz, home

EDITORIAL NOTES

This week we are going to give you the first of a series of four guest editorials. E. C. Molteni, teacher of world history and commercial law, has consented to start off the new series, one of which will be printed every other week.

In this every day life of ours, what are we in school attempting to accomplish? The general answer is: "Educate ourselves to be better men and women." One says, "I don't ever want to work like my Dad has had to work. I want to make money and live," while another desires a career and greater leisure time. No matter what our ultimate objective may be we should all remember that the plan or way in which we go about obtaining that objective is more important than the result. In preparing ourselves for the better life we should all keep in mind that we shall truly educate ourselves by encouraging right habits; fixing good habits until they become a part of our very nature and are used automatically. When we feel that what we have done in the past looks great to us, we should feel that we have not done very much today. It is all right to look back at the past. A great amount of our knowledge is based on past events, but we need not live in the glories of the past, for there are greater glories ahead for the man who will take them. Let us educate ourselves by doing things, making things, doing without things and talking about things. We will value our education only to the extent that we have struggled to get it. When too much is done for us, we, as human beings, will do nothing for ourselves. Let us, then, pack our years of school life and all life to come with that zeal and inspiration which will make our fellow-man better for having known us. The world is just as eager to accept our contribution as it was to receive that of our forefathers. If we only remember as one great industrialist has said, "It is not what we know, but what we don't know, that is important." We will have enough work to do each one of us.

Let each one of us remember always two things which will make life richer and more worthwhile: Be a friend and make friends and learn one new thing each day.

Tonight: Mustangs Vs. Rocks; Victory(?) Dance after Game

conomics teacher, will offer suggestions or any help needed to those who wish to enter.

In case anyone has forgotten, tonight is THE night! The Mustangs and the Rocks are finally going to clash in the last game of the season.

Northville has improved a great deal since they met Plymouth last semester when the game ended with the score 20-15 in favor of the Rocks.

Everyone is invited to wear their most comfy shoes and bring along a package of cough drops so they can enjoy the dance afterwards and celebrate the big victory (we hope). We're bringing our cousins so you bring yours and we'll all have a gay old time.

Second Grade Wins Health Inspection

Mrs. O. F. Rong's second grade has won the honor of having the highest mark in weekly health inspection, which is carried on in every room in the grade building by Mrs. Starr Bray who inspects the children about three times a week to see if they have washed their hands and teeth and if they have a headache.

There is a chart in each room marked with blue if they do all three things and red if they fail to do them. This inspection is carried on every week during the semester. The honor means that all the requirements were done by nearly every pupil throughout the semester in Mrs. Rong's room. The award is a frame with letters reading "Health Inspection Award" written in gold letters.

Northville Loses To Melvindale

A number of spirited rallies throughout the game gave Melvindale its second victory over the boys from N. H. S. by the score of 25-35. This game which thrilled many a fan was played Tuesday night, Feb. 20.

The Mustangs were out in front at the beginning of the game, but then they fell by the wayside, and Melvindale stepped in to take the lead which they held the rest of the game. By winning this game Melvindale clinches first place in the League standings. Northville by losing, is in third place.

The second team also lost its game by the score 46-18. Melvindale outplayed them in every respect.

The lineup for the first team was as follows: Fritz and Eaton, forwards; Hartner, center; Holcomb and Houghton, guards.

Grade Notes

The third and fourth grades, taught by Miss Margaret Carpenter, have had five visitors recently: Mrs. L. G. Lee, Mrs. Harry Rackham, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. George H. Stalker and Mr. Johnson. They have also made a February Book with short sketches of important men whose birthdays are in February. They have been studying the countries around the Mediterranean and have made flags for each country. They are also carving animals out of soap.

Miss Selma Jarvis' third grade has made a chart of different boats they have read. Their classmate Clark has chosen new officers for the rest of the year. They are: Jocelyn Furey, president; Leon Rose, secretary and treasurer.

Raymond Brooks has moved to Canton Center road and will attend school there.

Mrs. William Chismar's first grade makes weekly newspapers. They plan a circus for their carnival.

Charles Yahne Is Hi-Y Speaker

Feb. 19, the Hi-Y club held a meeting in the grade school. Charles Yahne, of the high school faculty, as guest-speaker, told of his experiences, while a forest ranger for four years in the Yellowstone National Park. Eugene Reeves displayed some of his souvenirs from Yellowstone Park such as petrified wood from the Petrified Forest and some pictures of the Grand Canyon. The Rev. Dr. Smith led the devotional period. At the next meeting on Feb. 26, the members will play basketball in the high school gym.

Senior High Holds Assembly Program

T. B. Armstrong, representing the Westinghouse Electric company, lectured and demonstrated the varied uses and development of electricity at 11 a. m. Tuesday, Feb. 20. He had on display light bulbs varying in size from a grain of wheat to large ones for outdoor use. He demonstrated almost magical qualities made possible by infrared and ultra violet rays. As well as the effects and uses of electrical activated fluorescence salts in advertising. The display proved fascinating and enlightening to the audience.

At the assembly Feb. 20, Mrs. A. C. Carlson, president of the American Legion Auxiliary, explained how students may win 75 cents to a $1.50 in an essay contest. The title for the essay is "Why Increased National Defense Is Important for Our Country."

Around the School

This article is just to remind you not to forget the band concert to be given in the Northville high school gym by the Northville band on Friday, Mar. 8. This will be the first concert given this year by the band.

They will play the works and compositions of Tschakovsky, Sullivan, Thomas Buchel and Strauss. There will be no admission charge but a collection will be taken.

If you see the seniors running around picking up pennies—don't pay any attention to them; they're only saving for the Washington trip which comes off in a little over two months. Any contributions?

The juniors have decided to have their J Hop, May 10. Harold Martin is the chairman, of the orchestra committee.

On the way home from the Shrine Circus Carter Church directed driver Louie Babbitt, how to get home. Due to his instructions the boy, a very good driver in the business section of Detroit. After about an hour or so they finally called a halt at a Wilson dairy store to refresh themselves before continuing onward toward home.

It has definitely been decided that N. H. S. will have a Pajama Party this year. We hope to have the cooperation of both the merchants and the student body alike.

Maize Edmondson entertained a group at her house last Friday night, Feb. 16. The following went to Plymouth to a show and then back to Maize's house for refreshments. Maize Edmondson—Doug Bolton, Dorothy Orr, Bob Strickland, Lois Lloyd and Bob Parmenter.

On Feb. 14, the third hour biology class was honored to have Dr. H. S. Willis of the Marbury sanatorium give a talk on how we breathe and the principles of breathing. He displayed a preserved chest cavity of a rabbit and a pair of rabbit lungs. Some of the students have brought the class lungs and kidneys of a pig. The biology class also had two movies, one on blood and the other on the bones of the body.

The Boys' Glee club sang for the Women's club last Friday, Feb. 16 in the Northville Library at 2.30 p. m. under the direction of Leslie G. Lee. The Girls' Glee club under the direction of Mr. Lee sang for the Father-Daughter banquet at the Northville Methodist church, Feb. 15. These occasions mark the first public appearance for both groups.

Last week, the Home Making class that has been studying nursing, welcomed Mrs. Starr Bray, the school nurse into their class period. Mrs. Bray showed the girls how to make a bed for a sick patient and how to bandage a finger or arm properly.

Stanley Davis is the latest member to the Apprenticeship program that is supervised by E. V. Ellison. Stanley works in the A & P store and is a new student at school this year. He is a member of the junior class.

The Boys' N-club held its third potluck supper last night, Feb. 22. The supper started at 5.30 and lasted until 7 p. m. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the carnival which is to be held Mar. 30.

Charles Yahne's second hour geography class enjoyed a movie, Friday, Feb. 16 about the Alaskan salmon industry. The picture was filmed by the American Can company. It showed how the fish are prepared for canning and also the making of the cans in which they are put after they are cleaned.

Senior Sketches

Lo! and behold . . . on Mar. 11, 1922, Alene Mathews dropped in on her parents for a life-long visit at Walled Lake. Here she has always lived among the beautiful apple trees with Walled Lake as a background. In this environment, Alene started at the nearby Bassett school. She passed the first eight grades there and then went to Walled Lake high school for her ninth year. In the tenth, she came to Northville where her graduation is almost nigh. Alene's favorite hobbies are playing basketball, driving a Ford V-8 at top speed, seeing movies such as "Life with the Wind" and studying chemistry.

When asked about school next year she said, "College's some place or other for some thing or other." This was the most definite reply we could get.

Ernestine Lewis was born in Salem, Feb. 20, 1922. She has lived in Salem since then and there completed the eighth grade. When she was a freshman, she came to Northville and during the course of the year joined the choir. Ernestine has been a member of the choir since then. To keep her company Ernestine has three brothers and two sisters. She enjoys dancing and singing, and a pleasant pastime of hers is drawing. She claims no talent along this line and says she does it only for amusement. Her favorite color is blue and she dislikes most of all to see untidy hair and keeps her own in pretty good condition. When Ernestine graduates she wants to attend a music school.

If you happen to call Phil G. V. Harrison's office any third hour, you're sure to hear a very loud, but pleasant voice answer "Mr. Harrison's office." If you trace this voice you'll find Jean Lyke 5-5 of very pleasing personality who reached the ripe old age of 18 last Jan. 5. Many of the friends she now has were accumulated along the way from Mrs. Estelle Taton's kindergarten to the high school. She has always helped the class out on projects such as the J-Hop and Senior Prom, also any number of other class activities. Her main objective at present is the trip to Washington. As her hobby is collecting souvenirs from all places she attends the trip. In Washington had better be sure to check her bags.

Her favorite color is blue; her pastime is skating, dancing and hiking, and her favorite foods are steak and French fried potatoes. After graduation Jean would like to go to the Ford hospital and take a course in Home Economics.

"The Angel," a fearsome Russian wrestler, was a New York visitor recently when he stopped there en route to Buenos Aires. He claims a lack of European opponents.

POSTAL

Comparative newcomers in the office. They are Miss Marie Schaffer, who's been there since 1937, and Mrs. Leonard Joki, who's been working there for a little over two years. In the carrier division, Roy Clark has been in the rural delivery service for 30 years; Robert Geraghty transferred from the Salem route to Northville during T. R. Carrington's regime (1929-1934). Fred Wendt has been carrying mail in the village since the village had carrier service, some 12 years ago. Harry German has been carrying the mail in the village that long, too. John Lashberger's been carrying a mail bag for a little more than two years. Harvey Guntzler has been a substitute rural carrier for two years. Elmer Perrin is the veteran in his department. He's been the mail messenger for 28 years.

ROTARY

A most attractive manner, measured neatly 24 inches across, and was the work of Mrs. Clyde H. Schoutz. The program of the day was in the nature of several short talks on the growth and progress of Rotary and principles of the organization. Russell Steinhilber reviewed a "Plan for Peace" from the Rotary, and R. H. Amernan, Leslie G. Lee, Charles Schwartz and Byron Hewitt spoke on several interesting and timely subjects covering a wide range of Rotary subjects. Audin Van Hove and Mr. Lapham presented the birthday greetings of Paul Harris, founder, and Walter Head, president of the international organization. Special Washington birthday decorations, favors and food delicacies added much to the occasion.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. John MacIntosh

Death claimed Mrs. John (Grace Myrtle) MacIntosh, Saturday morning, Feb. 17, at the Detroit Osteopathic hospital, Detroit. She was 57 years of age.
Funeral rites were held for her at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 20, from the Schrader Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. George Guilan of Detroit, officiating. Burial was made in Grand Lawn cemetery.
Her husband preceded her in death three years ago, June 7, 1937. She is survived by a son, Kenneth of Detroit, as well as two sisters, Olive Battles of Nokomis, Ill., and Jesse Crowder of Los Angeles, Calif., and a brother, G. M. Ramsdall of Springfield, Mo.
Mrs. MacIntosh had lived in the Northville vicinity for the past 10 years.

Charles E. Ryder

Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 20, from the Ray Casterline Funeral home for Charles Edward Ryder, 79, who died Sunday, Feb. 18, at the home of his son, Elbert in Mt. Clemens.
Mr. Ryder, a former village councilman and grocery store owner in Northville, had lived for more than 30 years in Northville. He was staunch and solid in character, going much to promote civic enterprises.
His wife and two sons preceded him in death. In addition to Elbert, two other sons survive him. They are Ralph and Walter, both of Detroit.
The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian church, to which he had belonged throughout his life. Burial was made in Rural Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Thomas Holt

Mrs. Thomas (Mary) Holt, died Friday, Feb. 16, after an illness of four years the last two of which she was confined to her bed. Death claimed her at the age of 87 years at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John (Mary Holt) Currie of 2441 Chippewa, Detroit.
Last rites were held at 2 p. m. Monday in Detroit. Burial was in the White Chapel Memorial Park.
In addition to her daughter, she is survived by a son, Frank Holt of South Lyon, three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Small of Detroit, Jessie Alan McGregor and Katie McGregor of Manitowish. Her husband and six sons preceded her in death. Gordon Allen of this place is a nephew of the deceased.
Mrs. Holt was born in Scotland and came to this country in 1870 with her husband Northville was her home for 18 years. She was a member of the Lady Macabees and of the First Baptist church.

BASKETBALL

Score of 25-11. Muria Hubbard was high scorer for the second team, making 17 points.
In the lineup for the first team were: Batt, Carlson, Farmer, Cavell, Coe and Taylor. The second team lineup included: Dixon, Moe, Clark, Sommers, Burgess and Orr.
The fourth consecutive victory of the season went to the boys' basketball team Friday evening, when the team played Trenton at Trenton. Northville immediately jumped into the lead and by the end of the first quarter had a 7-1 score. Trenton displayed a fine passing attack in the second quarter but couldn't catch the Mustangs. By this time the score was 15-0. Northville displayed almost perfect team work and made the score at the end of the third quarter 23-11 for the Mustangs.

In the last period, with both teams substituting frequently, the local lads rolled up 9 points to Trenton's 6, with the game ending 31-17.
The lineup for Northville was Fritz and Eaton, forwards; Hartner, center; Holcomb and Houghton, guards.
The second team lost its game to Trenton by the score of 37-17. The lineup included: Boyden and McCloskie, forwards; Whidmair, center; Spagnolo and Schoultz, guards.
