The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

When new residents come among us,
 Let us shake them by the hand,
 And show them they are welcome,
 Let us smile to beat the band.

Though they say old friends are true friends,
 We must welcome new ones, too,
 Soon these new friends will be old ones,
 Just as old friends once were new.

The Monroe Doctrine comes in for discussion very frequently these days. Perchance this doctrine of America pronounced in 1823 will see modifications. With South America closer to Europe in language, trade, barter, standards of living, and ancestral relationships the protection of that continent may not be so easy. Germans and Italians own the major South American airlines, and have heavy populations in South American nations. If worse comes to worse possibilities and practical interpretations may restrict the Monroe Doctrine to Central America, the north part of South America and the North American continent. How about it?

Watch your dogs—it is unlawful to let them run at large. Maybe the policeman will get you if you don't watch out.

Can it be that President Roosevelt is talking this country into war. It was President Calvin Coolidge that said that every word a President uttered weighed a ton. Just now too much talk by governmental officials from President down has done much harm to American prestige both at home and abroad.

Dairy Month . . .

Deserved homage to the foster-mother of the human race—the dairy cow—will be among the highlights of Dairy Month to be observed in Michigan and throughout the nation during June.

During this period numerous national dairy organizations, both commercial and educational, will sponsor efforts to increase public appreciation of the health-giving properties of milk, butter, cheese and ice cream.

Among the services contributed by the dairy cow, in addition to her obvious function of milk production, is that of helping to maintain soil fertility not only through the vast quantities of soil-maintaining crops grown for her consumption.

Our boys and girls owe a great deal to the dairy cow for their existence.

Is there a German Bund in or near Northville?

Did you ever stop to think that much of the trouble today has its origin in policies that have urged "work less and spend more". Wonder what France and England think about that brand of national economy today. Think it over, and apply it to America and her situation.

From an exchange we take this—

In 1898, before Manila, the German Rear-Admiral von Goetzen, a close friend of the Kaiser, said to the American Admiral Dewey:

In about fifteen years my country will begin a great war, during which Germany will—

"Absorb Holland, "Annex Belgium, "Destroy France, "Cripple Russia, "Humble England and "Subjugate the United States.

"Some months after we have done our business, in Europe, we shall take New York and probably Washington and we shall keep them for a time. We do not intend to take any territory from you, but only to put your country in its proper place with reference to Germany. We shall extract one or two billions of dollars from New York and other towns."

"About 15 years" proved to be a close prophesy, because the Kaiser started his long-planned war on civilization and democracy within fifteen years and fifteen months after the German rear-admiral uttered his prediction to one of America's greatest naval heroes.

Was this a type of propaganda which brought the U. S. into the conflict? Draw your own conclusions.

The United States News in discussing the present status of American air forces says: "Air support of the field force consists of 2,700 first-line airplanes. But, of these first-line planes, exactly 52 are capable of matching the latest planes that Europe produces. In March, the American-airplane industry turned over to the Army 80 airplanes. The German airplane industry produced in that month more than 3,000 latest model planes for its air corps."

It further states that: "This country, for all of its effort, is able at this time to put into the field barely 68,000 well-trained and well-equipped soldiers. These soldiers, now engaged in maneuvers, represent about all of the Army in continental United States. Among them is not a single complete mechanized division."

An over-frank Nazi consul in the south, probably expressed German reaction to American attitudes and talk.

If you must dump your rubbish, there is a city dump for that purpose. Our country roads are not dumping places for either ourselves or folks from the city.

Surely we live in a land of flowing milk and honey. Compared with many countries today who can say that America is not today's "heaven on earth".

Soon the fishing season will open and listen to that story . . . it sounds good.

Juvenile Court Is Friend of Youth; Helping Boys and Girls Make Social Adjustments

Our present method of handling children who "get into trouble" is a far cry from that of 40 years ago. It was common then to treat children in the same way as hardened adult criminals. When they were arrested they were locked up in the same jails, often in the same room with old timers hardened to the ways of crime. They were tried in the same court rooms, by the same judge and many times given the same punishment as adult offenders.

In Michigan, as elsewhere, the establishment of Juvenile Courts for the care and treatment of "bad boys" and "girls" was the outgrowth of years of struggle by socially minded people. They felt that something should be done to help these poor, unfortunate children who had strayed from the path of normal behavior often through no fault of their own. Today, boys and girls under 17 who commit any offense contrary to law are not classed as criminals or treated as such. Rather they are recognized as children who need special care and protection for the purpose of correcting their antisocial tendencies and to help them grow up to be normal and useful citizens of the state.

Wayne County is fortunate in having Juvenile Court judges with trained social workers and probation officers who can diagnose and treat intelligently the boys and girls who come to the court's attention. Judge D. J. Healey, Judge of Probate, in charge of the Juvenile Court, insists that his probation officers try to make the children that come to them feel that the court is their friend—that it is there to help them in their trouble—not to punish or harm them in any way. Everything done is for the child's best interest, with the hope that the plan will help the boy and girl find satisfactory outlets for their energies and adjust their behavior to the standards set up by society. The results obtained by the Juvenile Court in correcting delinquent children are difficult to measure because the boys and girls who pass through and go on to good citizenship, and clean living, are never heard of again—only those who fail and continue their criminal careers are accounted for.

The Court today is part of the American way of life and is a vital force in the community, helping to build the citizens of tomorrow to carry on our democratic way of living.

News from Walled Lake

By C. E. Hutton

The star route mail truck running between Pontiac and South Lyon collided with a car driven by Charles E. Coe of Walled Lake, four miles east of the village, Monday morning. The truck was driven by J. C. Jaaskel of Pontiac, who was making his regular trip going west. Neither driver was injured, but the west bound mails were delayed nearly two hours.

Charles Berry of Walled Lake, driving east on East Lake Drive at 3:30 Sunday morning struck a rock on a curve and crashed, crashing into the office of the Blyven tourist camp, where Arthur Blyven, proprietor, was sleeping. The car skidded on its side into the building, with all four wheels hitting the side of the office. Deputy E. L. McQuern, who investigated, stated no one was injured, but the car was badly damaged.

Cars driven by W. R. Green, 121 Hawthorne, Walled Lake, and Harold Dwyer of Walled Lake, collided about 8 p. m. Saturday on "concrete curve" on Pontiac road, near the village Cecil Burlew and Jack Watson, passengers with Green received minor injuries and were treated by a local physician. Deputy E. L. McQuern investigated.

Movies and band concerts are scheduled for the pleasure of the community during July and August, according to a report from the school office. The high school band will be under the direction of Frank Bach, who invites all instrumentalists of the community join the group at rehearsals, starting July 2. A program will be given at the school each Thursday evening, with concerts and movies alternating.

Pre-school children of the Walled Lake district responded to health clinics held under P. T. A. sponsorship recently at the schools of the district. 45 were examined by Dr. O. R. McKenzie and Dr. A. W. Stewart, who contributed their services.

Seniors To Strive To Better Feats of Predecessors

Pat Klein Pledges Classmates to Making Discoveries for World Better-mentNote: The valedictorian of the Class of 1940, Patricia Klein, gave the following address at Commencement, June 13.Now that we are finally graduating, it is hard for some of us to express our appreciation for everything. We can't quite realize how fortunate we are to have a high school education.We know now that it won't be so easy for us after we leave school.
We have been a group, and have been dependent on one another for many things. But, soon, the parting of the ways will come. We shall separate and shall have to start depending more on ourselves instead of others.While our class has been in high school, it has tried to uphold certain standards of good sportsmanship and good scholarship, but we shall no longer be here to do so.
We know that whenever someone does some good in this world, there is always someone else to carry on where he left off.So we pass the torch of high ideals to the other high school students so they may carry on where we left off. We have succeeded in keeping the torch lit and we are sure the other students will not smother this flame.The passing over of the torch does not mean that all of our ideals pass with it also. Each one of us has retained a standard of ideals, his own, individual torch that has been lit by the flame of the large one.
That is why we are so willing to turn it over, because, in reality, we shall always have a part of it with us. That part will forever remind us of our high school days.Another part of our school days we shall remember, will be the friendships we made here. In years to come there will be a warm glow in our hearts as we recall these friendships. They will be something

Patricia Klein

to cherish, something that no one can ever steal from us.It will not be hard to remember these people for everyone has been so kind and helpful. We can't begin to know all that has been done for us. I don't mean by that, just the things the people of today have done, but also the things the people of yesterday have done to help us in a round-about way. Many of us ride back and forth to school every day in a car and we think nothing of it. It just seems natural that we should, but if we had to walk or use a horse and buggy as our mode of transportation, we would really appreciate the car. In the evening, we read by electric lights and much work is made easier by the aid of electrical appliances. We would miss the telephone greatly if we had to be without it. Certain scientific discoveries in the field of medicine have helped immensely.
Radium, one of the greatest, has helped in the cure of cancer. We seldom stop to think of all these things done in the past that help us today.Right now, with telephone, electricity, radio, and many other inventions and discoveries, it seems that we have everything we need, but that isn't true. Immediately you will want to know what else there is to be had before these discoveries were made, people were perfectly content. They didn't believe they needed anything else either. I can't state definite discoveries and inventions that are yet to be made, but I can say this: We're not going to try to equal the discoveries former generations have made, but we are going to strive to better them. Our goal is to do everything in our power to make this a better world in which mankind can exist.

Class Salutatorian Compares Life with Ball Game

Alene Matthews of Walled Lake, Comments on Sacrifices of Parents and FriendsNote: Using her salutatorian speech as an opportunity to welcome the parents to the Class of 1940, Alene Matthews participated in the graduation exercise.We of the graduating class extend a cordial welcome to you who have come to witness this important phase of our life. To many people, this day is probably no different from any other day, but to us this day has a special significance; this is the day of our graduation from high school.Our education has been made possible by the cooperation of our parents and teachers. Up to this time, our lives have been carefully guided by competent teachers. Interested friends and parents. After tonight, we must make decisions for ourselves. These decisions will be easier for us to make because of our past training.Our lives are comparable to a player at bat in a baseball game.
Since he is the first batter up—the pitcher, being cold, gives him a "base on balls." The next batter "sacrifices" to second. With a "three" and the "count" the third batter hits a single. The outfielder makes a perfect throw to home plate so that the base runner can only advance to third. There, he may wait to be batted-home with the possibility of "dying on base," or he may use his own mental and physical talents to score a run.
Everyone is given a free chance to secure a high school education.
During our lives we have been helped along by the sacrifices of our parents and friends. The plan for our lives has been directed for us up

Alene Matthews

to our graduation from high school. Now we are standing at the third base of life. We must decide whether we will be a success or a failure.Always as we advance to our home plate by the use of our carefully laid foundations, we shall remember you. And with a feeling of deep gratitude as we look beyond the horizon to what lies before us from this point of advancement, we, the graduating Class of 1940, salute

We Can't Help but Make Public Our Appreciation...of the Detroit News

Only a week ago we were one of many of the Detroit News readers who were interested in seeing the column of Dr. George W. Crane returned to its position on the magazine page of that great newspaper.

Sometimes business firms become so large that the requests of a minority are lost in their daily routine.

We cannot help but feel that this great newspaper has the interest of all its readers at heart and we wish to express our most sincere thanks to the management of the Detroit News for again bringing to its readers the daily feature prepared by Dr. Crane.

We also wish to join the thousands of people who under the capable leadership of Nancy Brown brought Detroit its magnificent peace carillon... For a leader such as Nancy Brown and her column folk to make so generous a sacrifice at a time when the world is embroiled in the horrors of war, it is, indeed, necessary to have the backing of a newspaper strong in its character.

The readers of The Detroit News must appreciate the interest you have in their problems... You may be assured we appreciate the things you have done for us.

Thirty guests were entertained Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis. The occasion honored Ernestine Lewis, who was the soloist at the Northville commencement, Thursday. She is a member of the Class of 1940.

The plant was dedicated Thursday afternoon, June 20, by Wendell L. Wilkie, chairman of the board of Consumers' Power Company and president of the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, in open air public ceremonies. John C. Weadock, distinguished former Bay City lawyer for whom the plant is named, also participated. Weadock is senior member of the New York City law firm of Weadock & Whiting, counsel for the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation.
While the plant begins operations with one 35,000-kilowatt turbine.

generator, the furnace and boiler for a second unit of the same size have been built in, and installation of the unit itself is scheduled to begin within a few months. With the second unit in operation, the plant's capacity will equal the present capacity of the Bryce E. Morrow Plant near Kalamazoo, which ranks second among the 50 generating plants of the Consumers system. First place is held by the Saginaw River Plant between Bay City and Saginaw.

A steam-electric plant of advanced design, the John C. Weadock Plant, with only the initial turbo-generator in operation, will use 100,000 tons of coal per year, which will be brought in by lake boats and unloaded on a storage dock with a capacity of 250,000 tons. For steam condensation purposes, 50,000,000 gallons of water per day will be pumped through the plant and discharged into Saginaw Bay through a canal constructed for the times the daily water consumption purpose. This is more than ten of Bay City.

The main plant building covers a ground area of 23,500 feet and building. Its chimney, looming 245 feet to the height of a ten-story building, its chimney, looming 245 feet above the ground, will be illuminated at night, will serve as a landmark for shipping on both river and bay. The United States Weather Bureau has established a storm signal station on the plant roof.

Power generated here will be made available to Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and other communities served by Consumers through the company's statewide interconnected transmission system.
To permit public inspection of the plant "open house" is being held Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 20-23.

Mrs. J. Boyce, Detroit, entertained Tuesday at luncheon at the Wardell for Mrs. C. E. Washburne. Attending from here were Mrs. Washburne, Mrs. C. C. Yerkes and Mrs. Harry C. Diersen.

generator, the furnace and boiler for a second unit of the same size have been built in, and installation of the unit itself is scheduled to begin within a few months. With the second unit in operation, the plant's capacity will equal the present capacity of the Bryce E. Morrow Plant near Kalamazoo, which ranks second among the 50 generating plants of the Consumers system. First place is held by the Saginaw River Plant between Bay City and Saginaw.

A steam-electric plant of advanced design, the John C. Weadock Plant, with only the initial turbo-generator in operation, will use 100,000 tons of coal per year, which will be brought in by lake boats and unloaded on a storage dock with a capacity of 250,000 tons. For steam condensation purposes, 50,000,000 gallons of water per day will be pumped through the plant and discharged into Saginaw Bay through a canal constructed for the times the daily water consumption purpose. This is more than ten of Bay City.

The main plant building covers a ground area of 23,500 feet and building. Its chimney, looming 245 feet to the height of a ten-story building, its chimney, looming 245 feet above the ground, will be illuminated at night, will serve as a landmark for shipping on both river and bay. The United States Weather Bureau has established a storm signal station on the plant roof.

Power generated here will be made available to Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and other communities served by Consumers through the company's statewide interconnected transmission system.
To permit public inspection of the plant "open house" is being held Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 20-23.

Mrs. J. Boyce, Detroit, entertained Tuesday at luncheon at the Wardell for Mrs. C. E. Washburne. Attending from here were Mrs. Washburne, Mrs. C. C. Yerkes and Mrs. Harry C. Diersen.

Schleinger Leases Place for Bowling on Plymouth Site

Albert Schleinger, former owner of the Northville Recreation, has recently taken over a 10 year lease on the second floor of the Odd Fellows building on South Main street, Plymouth, where he intends to construct public recreation facilities.

Work will begin next month on the construction of bowling alleys, shuffle-board courts and ping pong tables.

Mr. Schleinger said that the work will be completed by September 1, and at that time he plans to open it to the public.

Miss Leona White, Detroit, attended the alumni dinner-dance Friday evening in the village.

F. F. A. boys under the supervision of Waldo Proctor are landscaping Walled Lake high school grounds. The boys have moved 300 yards of top soil and have filled in around the new addition to the school building. Nineteen evergreens have been planted, and 75 shrubs have been replanted. A quantity of small shrubs donated by Mrs. Glenn Buffmeyer will be cultivated as a nursery project for next fall or spring planting.

County Farmers Get Long Loan Terms

The opportunity to reduce the annual principal payments on land bank commissioner loans by re-amortizing them over a longer period of years has been opened to many of the 73 Wayne county farmers who have commissioner loans, according to a statement received today from the Farm Credit Administration of St. Paul.

There were about $136,000 of land bank commissioner loans outstanding in this country at the beginning of 1940 and in addition approximately $147,000 of federal land bank loans. Some of these loans have already been re-amortized.

Most of the federal land bank loans are already written for long terms up to 30-year terms, but the "commissioner's" loans were originally made on a 10-year basis, requiring considerably heavier principal payments.

Mrs. Vern Larkin and Mrs. Joe Weston have been called on the jury.

Sell 3,586,000 Trees to Michigan Farmers

Trees enough to plant more than 3,000 acres of non-agricultural land were sold at cost this spring from the nursery operated by the forestry department of Michigan State college.

Another million trees or enough for another 1,000 acres for reforest-ing were sold by the Michigan State Conservation department.

In Wayne county the tree orders filled by the college numbered 12 for a total of 18,490 trees.

In Washtenaw county, there were 17 orders for 26,200 trees. In Oakland county there were 43 orders for 67,965 trees.

Wind and water erosion control is one purpose. The others include eventual timber or pulpwood production on non-agricultural land, use as windbreaks, and for an ultimate Christmas tree crop.

Special allotment of as much as $20 a farm, earned by planting forest trees on farms, at the rate of $7.50 an acre, was an inducement this year from the federal Agricultural Soil Conservation program.

Price lists for reforestation stock to be sold this fall and next spring will be available about Aug. 1. Landowners seeking supplies are advised to write to the forestry department at the college for cost price lists and to place their orders early.

for us. I think that the experiences that we meet up with at these reunions all contribute toward a definite uplift in the daily routine of our lives. If in one day in the year we can add so large a measure of happiness to what we already have—the relaxation of these happy moments—some of our little burdens, both physical and mental are bound to disappear, and we will be blessed with happy memories as we go back to our homes," Mrs. Adams told her friends before she read a poem from her own pen which further expressed her sentiments of the occasion.

a seminary course from Dr. Richard Harding at the Richmond University, London. He was a lay minister for several years in the British conference.

Coming to the United States Jan. 26, 1907, he affiliated with the Detroit conference of Methodist churches, studying theology, philosophy, history and language in Detroit. That same year, he was assigned to his student job at Shagbena. After a brief pastorate at Forsythe, he went to Ruby in 1909, to serve five churches: Ruby, Zion, Kenosha, Allen and North street. A year each at Davis and Washington as well as at Gatesville and Washington followed his pastorate at the five churches.

In 1909, he was ordained Deacon by Bishop Hamilton and was ordained Elder in 1911, by Bishop Anderson. Mr. Richards came to Northville from Deckerville in 1920. Mr. and Mrs. Richards were married in Brookline, N. Y., Oct. 28, 1907, by the Rev. Dr. H. W. Weston, pastor of the Borough Park Methodist church. They have four children, Mrs. William Chizmar, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. Melvin Mitchell, all of Northville, and William Jr., who was graduated Monday from the Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti.

DIPLOMA

James Orr of West Point Park, was given the coveted Thad Johnson Knapp scholarship by Mrs. Thad J. Knapp. His high school scholastic standing has been good. He had the highest average of the boys in his class. Robert took part in the extra-curricular activities, having been mayor of the Student Council his senior year and class president during his freshman and sophomore years. The annual citizenship medal to the outstanding senior was given to Robert. All-round school activities and scholastic achievements are taken into consideration in making this award. He plans to attend Hillsdale College in the fall with two other classmates, Charnell Hardisty and Alene Matthews.

To Patricia Klein, valedictorian, went the Northville Woman's club $50 scholarship. Alene Matthews, salutatorian, is the alternate. Before this award can be given, certain specifications set up by the sponsoring organization must be met. In making the announcement of the winner, Mrs. Harry F. Wagenschutz, club president, cited the requirements: A written application must be made to the club before May 1; the applicant must have spent two years in the Northville high school; a B average must have been maintained during the applicant's junior and senior years; and a committee of three teachers must have given the student a rating in the points of scholarship, intellectual aptitude, integrity, leadership and social adaptability.

Councilmen of Northville, including Commissioners Simmons, Owen and Hicks. These appointments were made when Mayor Bryan first took office.

Commissioners Hicks, Schults and Hahn voted their approval on Commissioner Simmons' recommendation of Mr. Zimmerman to the caretaker post made vacant by Fred Hicks' resignation. In order that councilmen as a body could vote on the appointment, a motion was adopted making Mr. Zimmerman a police officer necessitating that he take oath of office—his duties will be the same as those performed by Mr. Hicks. Had this motion not been adopted, the caretaker would have been hired by the public works committee through a provision of the charter. Commissioner Owen was absent Monday night.

Commissioners favored a suggestion which came from their council table that the Chamber of Commerce submit to them a proposed zoning ordinance for the village.
