Two New Buildings Near Completion at Fairgrounds

Stalls Are Constructed in Saddle and Cattle Barns;
Reroof Secretary's Office
for Fair, Aug. 21-24

Issue Premium List

With the completion of two new buildings on the fairgrounds anticipated this week, officers and superintendents of the twenty-fourth Northville-Wayne County Fair, scheduled for Aug. 21-24, are concentrating on details in their respective departments preparatory to giving to the fair-going public an outstanding four-day exposition.

The poultry building, which replaces the one destroyed last August by fire, will definitely be completed by the end of the week. Its approximate cost is $2,000. A new horse barn with 12 box stalls and 24 tie stalls is also nearing completion.

In addition to the two new buildings, other structures on the fairgrounds have been renovated and made more convenient for exhibitors. The old saddle barn has 44 new stalls and all new stalls have been built in the cattle barn. The secretary's office has been re-roofed. This building was also damaged by the fire last summer.

Two, 650 feet of sewer line now connects the fairgrounds with the huge Wayne County sewer system of which the village proper is a unit. Some 800 premium books will be issued this week by Fred Lyke, secretary of the fair. "There's every indication that all available space will be spoken for by fair time," he asserted, in speaking about the exhibits.

Board Approves Construction of New Drain

Property Owners at Walled Lake Petition To Keep
Lake at Present Level

A Board of Determination, acting for the Oakland County Probate Court, decided at a meeting at Dodge Park, Tuesday afternoon in favor of construction of what is now known as the Fenley drain, at the outlet of Walled Lake. Included on the board were LeRoy Loebart, Royal Oak; Roy Goodspeed, Ferndale; and Otto Maefner of Royal Oak.

This decision came several months following a dismissal in Circuit Court of the original petition because of defects.

The drain will extend from 12 mile road north to within 1000 feet of the outlet and will cost approximately $1,000. Opposition to the drain has been raised by Walled Lake property owners who feel it will lower the water level of the lake. They are now circulating petitions asking the Board of Supervisors and the State Conservation department to establish and maintain the lake level, through possible construction of a dam or spillway at the outlet. Work on the drain will be delayed until some action on the petition is taken.

Post Office Exceeds Total Sales of '39

A check this week of the sale of stamps and money orders at the Northville post office revealed that the substantial gain was made over the 1939 fiscal year.

The post office year ended June 30, with the stamp sales totaling $21,531.90, a gain of 8 1/4 per cent over the 1939 year and a 14 per cent gain during the January-June 1940 period.

The postal savings are the same as last year, the total being $14,504. Bond sales reached a peak of $45,282.50, giving the local office nineteenth place among second class offices in the State. The bonds in June 1939, totaled $42,415.50, making the report this June a gain of $2,867. Last year, this office ranked twenty-sixth among the second class offices on this particular count.

Money orders for the fiscal period totaled $215,501.83.

Red Cross Chapter Surpasses Quota

According to D. R. Wilson, chairman of the war-relief fund drive of Oakland County chapter, American Red Cross, a total of $31,445.49 has been collected in the county over-surpassing the original quota $26,605.49.

Mrs. William Mairs, director of the campaign in Novi township, obtained $30.00.

Mrs. Warren Rice represents Novi township on the board of the chapter.

Dr. Harold A. Furios, chairman of the chapter, states that recent information from Norman H. Davis, chairman of the National Red Cross, indicates that none of the supplies of the Red Cross has been interfered with by any government. Neither have any been diverted from the needy for whom the supplies were intended.

Mr. Davis advises the American people that the American National Red Cross does not intend to engage in any operations not adequately safeguarded and which do not give consideration to the wishes of those who have so generously contributed to the work.

At the present time the Red Cross is supplying need in Great Britain and the unoccupied portion of France. With respect to occupied territory aid has been given in Poland under Red Cross supervision with the funds contributed for that specific purpose. Aid is also being given to the sick and wounded and to refugees, particularly children in Paris, under the direction of Red Cross representatives, working in cooperation with the American hospital and the French Red Cross.

Lightning Hits Grissom Barn

Structure Is Leveled by Fire;
75 Tons of Hay Are Destroyed

Lightning struck the large barn at the P. L. Grissom farm, 2104 West 10 mile road, at the height of the rain and electrical storm which raged here Monday afternoon.

Hit by a bolt of lightning, the barn immediately burst into flames and was completely leveled. Northville firemen answered the call, but the fire had gained such headway that the structure could not be saved. The barn was one of the most such buildings in this vicinity.

Some 75 tons of baled hay were in the barn at the time of the fire. No livestock were in the barn, the horses having been taken to the races in Cleveland. The barn itself had recently been remodeled, with new stalls being constructed. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

Mrs. S. L. Brader was taken Wednesday night to the Highland Park hospital, where she submitted to an operation Thursday morning.

Deadline Is Near for License Plates

Approximately 130,000 motorists in Wayne County must obtain full year license plates before Aug. 31, the expiration date on half year tags.

To expedite the re-licensing of these cars and also to stimulate the sale of new cars, Harry P. Kelly, secretary of State, has placed full year plates on sale in all offices at half price. In the meantime, they may be obtained from Elmer L. Smith, These plates will be good until Mar. 1, 1941.

Figures released by Mr. Kelly show that 435,000 car owners in the County have already bought full year plates, an increase of 40,000 over the corresponding period a year ago.

With the 130,000 operating on half year tags the total of motor vehicles in the county is 615,000 as compared to 572,000 at this time a year ago.

The total of cars having only first half year plates throughout Michigan is placed at a half million.

The half price sale in all offices began July 10, as compared with July 28 a year ago.

Oldtimers Play at Cass Benton Sunday, July 21

40-60 Year-Old-Players Will Meet Amazo Team of Inter-County League

The Country Oldtimers' Baseball team, managed by Harry German of Carleton, former mayor of Northville, will play at 1 p. m. Sunday, July 21, at Cass Benton Park, against the Amazo team of the Inter-County league.

The Oldtimers' players are made up mostly of veteran players from 40-60 years of age who have not yet laid down their gloves and mits. They are still active in the game and although they have slowed down in their play yet are still able to give most of the young teams of this generation a "right smart good game of ball," in the words of Mr. German.

Such players as Miles, Mains, Bobby Veach, Mr. German, Licht, Darling, Kremer, Crittenden, Menosky, Dugray—real players of yesterday—play with the Oldtimers. German and Mains, take their places on the pitcher's mound with Oliver and Crittenden behind the bat and it makes a century battery, regardless of the way you figure. They won 15 games last season.

Fish and Wildlife Service Succeeds U. S. Fisheries

Consolidation Brings About
Change in Name; Personnel and Operation Are the Same, Widmeyer Says
Existed 70 Years

Having consolidated with the Biological Survey, the United States Bureau of Fisheries of the Department of the Interior, is now known as the Fish and Wildlife Service, according to news release which came today from E. A. Widmeyer, superintendent of the bureau in Northville, who says that the consolidation will likely bring about no changes in personnel or operation. "This has been in effect since July 1, and there have been no changes. We don't expect any," he affirmed.

The Northville station has been in existence for 70 years and was one of the first such stations established by the United States. The bureau itself is 70 years old. Since 1871, it has been the sole governmental agency concerned with the promotion, management and conservation of both the fresh-water and marine fishery resources of the nation. From earliest times these fishery resources have played a significant role in the social and economic life of the American continent for they are one of the two fundamental sources of foodstuffs for the country.

Aware of the alarm which was spreading because over-fishing was putting a drain on this natural resource which nature, without help, could not replenish, Congress established a Fish Commission in 1871.

In its 69 years of existence, the bureau has grown from a small, subordinate, temporary, "one-man, one-room" institution into one of the foremost Federal conservation agencies whose activities extend into every State of the Union and into every one of Uncle Sam's possessions and which reaches out to neighboring waters and into the depths of the sea, leaving no line of fisheries work untouched. Its scope of work, personnel and equipment have so expanded through the years that it now requires 80 employees in its administrative offices, to direct and supervise some 600 employees in its field service in the operation and maintenance of 110 hatcheries and 35 biological laboratories and statistical offices.

As first established, the Fish Commission was an independent agency, with the commissioner reporting directly to Congress. It was included by law July 1, 1903, in the new Department of Commerce and Labor and from that time on was designated, by departmental order, as "Bureau of Fisheries." On subdivision of this department in 1913, the Bureau of Fisheries was transferred to the Department of Commerce where it remained until its transfer to the Department of the Interior, July 1, 1933.

The original conception of the Bureau contemplated an organization for scientific, statistical and practical investigations of the fisheries. In 1872, it was given authority to establish fish hatcheries for the propagation of food fishes. In 1895, the bureau was charged with the administration and enforcement of the laws governing the salmon control of the fur seals and foxes of fisheries of Alaska, and in 1908 the

Council Will Permit Supervised Swimming in Water Reservoir

Supervised swimming is to be an activity of the summer playground project beginning Monday and continuing from 1 to 4:30 p. m. throughout the remainder of the project's season, running five days a week.

Children will be permitted to swim at the village reservoir only after filling out blanks issued by Roy Meyer, supervisor. These blanks must be accompanied by a medical certificate from their physicians.

Permission to use the abandoned village reservoir for swimming was granted Monday evening at the village council, where William H. and Dr. N. C. Kephart, representing the Citizenship committee, appeared before the councilmen. Water from the Fairbrook Springs will feed the reservoir with fresh water coming in continuously.

Mr. Meyer, Mrs. William Chizmar or Richard Loomis will be on hand to supervise the swimming each day. Mr. Meyer has organized four boys' softball teams in the senior league (ages 13-16) and two teams in the junior league (ages 12 and under). There is still time for boys to identify themselves with either of these leagues.

Puppets are being made by girls in handicraft, taught by Miss Ruth Rounselle and Miss Thyra Lester. The boys are building a stage so that a puppet show may be given for the public later in the season. Entries are still open for the soap box derby. Persons wanting to participate are to notify Mr. Meyer at once.

One Purpose

This week the democratic party will nominate its standard bearer. The big political campaign will then be on. Issues, oratory, charges and counter charges will sound and resound across the country as both parties seek the mandate of next November. Under the pressure of such circumstances, coupled with the unusual strain of the news of the world, it will be a pretty good idea to talk less and think more. Perhaps it may be well not to take the campaign too seriously. Which ever party wins the nation will move along about the same for most of us. To be sure we all have our choice, that is right and proper, but let not our zeal for party overshadow our love of country. It is so easy for political campaigns to breed an apparent lack of unity and direction that others seeing from afar may misinterpret the American mind and action as an invitation. The election itself creates an acknowledged lack of direction, purpose, and firmness of position. We think that the political struggle may largely be settled around the question of who do you think is best able to direct American defenses, and associated interpretations of procedure.

It is significant that both great parties adopted the same song "God Bless America" and why not? Aren't both organizations seeking the same goal, tho by different routes? As partisans, let's fight over the issues, air them fairly, and openly, as Americans let us warn those who would look this way that we are united, determined, and purposeful. Americans first, party members second.

Carlstrom, the gunsmith in David Grayson's book, "Adventures in Friendship," gives sound advice when he says, "When I feel like finding fault I always begin with myself and then I never get any farther."

What a great old American custom back-passing is! The man under our hat is always innocent. Our mistakes and failures always can be so conveniently placed on the shoulders of someone else and then we can go our way in peace.

To ancient man all things were animate. When a boulder fell on his toe, the boulder meant to do so! Even to this day when we stumble over a chair we may kick the chair in disgust. It was the chair's fault, not ours, that we stumbled!

If men and women would just follow the old gunsmith's advice this world would be transformed. Most of us could keep quite busy finding and correcting our own faults. I know I could!—Silver Lining.

Defending Michigan

Michigan, as the machine shop of America, is about to become a key state in the greatest defense program in the history of this nation.

Copper and iron must move uninterrupted from its mines in the north through its locks at the "Soo" (the lakes and the Detroit river). Oil fields attain a new significance under a military order. Great chemical plants like those at Midland are vital to the war picture.

It is on the great plants of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler that American defense programs rests. Hundreds of smaller industrial establishments within the boundaries of the state will share in the program to make America safe.

Michigan, by the nature of its population in its great areas, has a legion of un-Americans.

Infiltrated through communities from the tip of the upper peninsula to the bridged and tunneled gateways to England's Dominion at Canada at Port Huron and Detroit are "Fifth Column" converts of one "ism" or another who will seek to block the defense program.

In a key state in the defense program, then, are vast subversive forces ready to fight against the program America is adopting for her defense.

The necessity of an anti-espionage movement of proportions unprecedented in the state is vital. It is not a state emergency but a national emergency.

The emergency, in view of the program that will shortly start to unfold in Michigan, transcends every other consideration of public welfare. It must be met on a non-political basis of immediate action. For the present administration to ignore it may pen an indictment that will be impossible to excuse should there be a sabotage cataclysm that might be charged to its neglect.

The Michigan State Police is the logical organization to meet the situation. But the work of the few officers now devoting effort in this direction should be supplemented by sufficient men to do the most important job ever cut out for the speedy attention of some competent force of law and order in this state.

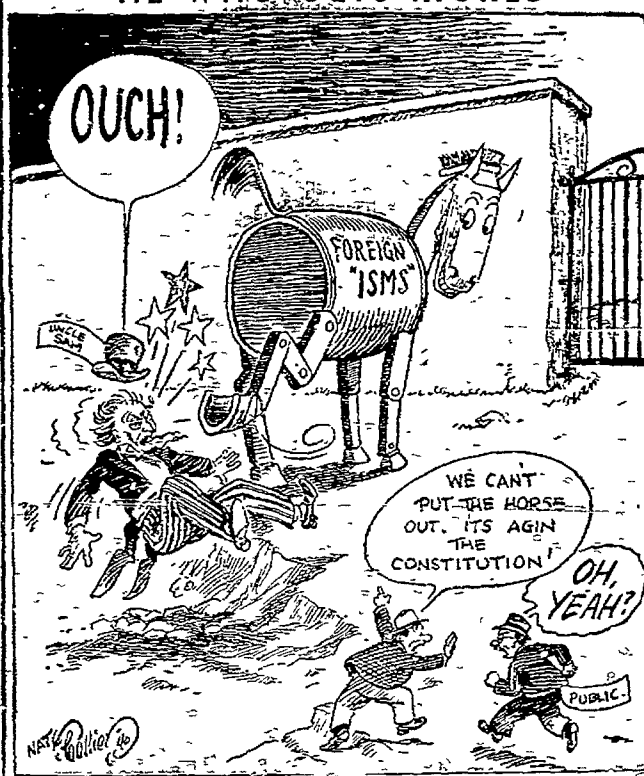

The emergency might well be one which would mean that the state police anti-espionage division would be greater than the uniformed force which today does routine policing and highway patrolling job of Michigan.

The patriotic people of Michigan will see that the job is done. But the vigilance committee is a manifestation of failure of established agencies to do a job that requires doing. The vigilante is guilty of hates and prejudices that lead to sins being done in the name of patriotism. "Black Legions" grow out of these movements. They turn political crusaders oftentimes. If the state fills the gap that these vigilance groups unite themselves to fill, there will be no need for them. But there is a job to do that someone—unofficial and secret or official and intelligent—is going to do.

No greater responsibility ever presented itself in this state than that of defending the defense program on which may hang America's future as a democracy.

Michigan's "Fifth Column" must be frustrated or the whole program of America may falter. Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the Michigan State Police is the man to direct the job. —The State Journal.

To Entertain at Edgewater Next Week

Farmers Will View New Ideas and Methods at Annual Farm Day on College Campus

Some queer looking contraptions, which prove that farming may be the oldest profession in the world but still has some wrinkles to iron out, are to be viewed by the thousands who attend Farmers' Day at Michigan State College on Friday, July 26.

How about a chimney in a hay stack?

It's an attempt by S. T. Dexter in the farm crops department to cure the occasionally green hay without having it spoil by getting out in the field in a rain. Two identical stacks of green material were placed recently out on the farm for the test with one equipped with a crude chimney. The idea is that as the hay gets warm the chimney takes away the heat and creates a draft. This draws in air through the hay, aiding in the curing process.

Congressional Comment

by Representative George A. Dondero

The unprecedented growth in the public debt of the United States since 1933 has led me to inquire into the fiscal management of the United States. For the purpose of comparison I secured data as to the movement or trend of the public debt in Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Russia, and Japan as of the years 1933 to 1937 and, in some instances, as of 1938 years.

In 1933, but one country, Great Britain, had a public debt greater than that of the United States. Although the United States had in 1933 a public debt of twenty-two and a half billion dollars as compared to 38 billions for Great Britain, by 1937 the public debt of the United States, not counting contingent liabilities, was nearly equal to that of Great Britain in 1937. While the public debt in Great Britain increased from 38 1/2 billions in 1933 to 38 1/2 billions in 1937, the public debt of this country increased from 22 1/2 billions in 1933 to 38 1/2 billions in 1937. Since then the public debt of the United States has increased to such a point that the Congress, in this session, has found it necessary to increase the legal debt limit to 49 billion dollars. Now, by the end of the fiscal year which we are entering, it will exceed 45 billions, our former debt limit.

For comparison, I give the status of the public debts in the various countries:

United States	1933	1935	1936	1937	1938
000; 1934	$27,053,000,000	$32,777,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1936	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1937	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1938	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1939	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1940	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1941	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000

In the foregoing table the figures for 1940 and 1941 are budget estimates.

Great Britain—1933, $33,251,000,000; 1934, $33,251,000,000; 1935, $33,251,000,000; 1936, $33,251,000,000; 1937, $33,251,000,000; 1938, $33,251,000,000; 1939, $33,251,000,000; 1940, $33,251,000,000; 1941, $33,251,000,000.

It will be noted that the public debt of Great Britain increased $1,408,000,000 from 1933 to 1938, the public debt of the United States increased $14,026,000,000, or ten times the figure for Great Britain during the same period.

France—1933, $18,740,000,000; 1934, $18,740,000,000; 1935, $18,740,000,000; 1936, $18,740,000,000; 1937, $18,740,000,000; 1938, $18,740,000,000; 1939, $18,740,000,000; 1940, $18,740,000,000; 1941, $18,740,000,000.

Germany—1933, $4,057,000,000; 1934, $4,057,000,000; 1935, $4,057,000,000; 1936, $4,057,000,000; 1937, $4,057,000,000; 1938, $4,057,000,000; 1939, $4,057,000,000; 1940, $4,057,000,000; 1941, $4,057,000,000.

While the public debt of Germany increased $3,778,000,000 during the period of 1933 to 1937, this increase undoubtedly is due to the huge armament expenditures of the German government since 1933. It also indicates that Germany purchased a great deal of armament in comparison to its expenditures. Armament appropriations of the United States in this session of Congress will exceed the increase in the German debt from 1933 to 1937.

Italy—1933, $6,288,000,000; 1934, $6,288,000,000; 1935, $6,288,000,000; 1936, $6,288,000,000; 1937, $6,288,000,000; 1938, $6,288,000,000; 1939, $6,288,000,000; 1940, $6,288,000,000; 1941, $6,288,000,000.

At the time this comparison was prepared later figures on the public debt of Italy were not available. It should also be remembered that Italy was deeply involved in the Old World armament race during the period and that armament costs undoubtedly constituted a substantial proportion of the $2,522,000,000 added public debt.

Russia—1933, $1,943,000,000; 1934, $1,943,000,000; 1935, $1,943,000,000; 1936, $1,943,000,000; 1937, $1,943,000,000; 1938, $1,943,000,000; 1939, $1,943,000,000; 1940, $1,943,000,000; 1941, $1,943,000,000.

Japan—1933, $1,965,000,000; 1934, $1,965,000,000; 1935, $1,965,000,000; 1936, $1,965,000,000; 1937, $1,965,000,000; 1938, $1,965,000,000; 1939, $1,965,000,000; 1940, $1,965,000,000; 1941, $1,965,000,000.

Although Japan has been engaged in warfare with China almost constantly during the period, the public debt of Japan has increased, as of 1937, but $1,549,000,000.

The following is a consolidation of the increases in the public debts of the various countries, 1933-1937:

United States	1933	1934	1935	1936	1937
000; 1938	$27,053,000,000	$32,777,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1939	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1940	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000
000; 1941	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000	$33,778,000,000

FISHERIES
The Pribilof Islands was transferred to it.

The commercial fisheries of the United States are among the most productive in the world, and in their ramifications are worth about a billion dollars annually to the industrial structure of the nation.

They provide employment to more than 220,000 persons, of whom more than half are fishermen; in addition about 300,000 persons are engaged in related industries.

The annual yield is nearly four and a half billion pounds of protein food and products of it in the arts and industries. Ready for market as processed or manufactured products this harvest has a value of $250,000,000 a year in the hands of wholesalers and processors, compared thus: canned products, $105,000,000; whole frozen fish, $9,000,000; cured fish, $16,000,000; fresh and frozen packaged fish, $27,000,000; whole fresh fish, $37,000,000, and by-products, $36,000,000.

The Division of Fishery Industries as now constituted embraces three main sections: technology, statistics and economics.

The problem of conserving the fisheries of the Great Lakes has long engaged the attention of the Governments of Canada and the United States, particularly the Province of Ontario and the States bordering on the Great Lakes. The production of certain species of Great Lakes fish has reached low levels. The board will make a study of the taking of fish and will submit recommendations as to methods of preserving and developing the fisheries. It will not have regulatory powers. Federal fish hatcheries are located in 44 states.

Plan Simple Meals for Summer Serving

Simple meals serve more than one purpose in midsummer. Such meals help keep the house cool, please appetites, and provide more free hours for the housewife who does the cooking.

Suggestions provided by the home economics staff at Michigan State College indicate some of the time-savers and temper-averting ideas that can be utilized.

Refreshing chilled dishes can fool the weatherman. Crisp salads, jellied soups and frozen desserts come in this classification. They are ready to serve when the clock says mealtime.

Even when the mercury soars there ought to be at least one hot dish. Variety in this portion of the meal can be achieved by serving creamed ham, chicken, veal or seafood in the center of a hot ring mold made of rice or noodles. Some serve the creamed dish of the day in patty shells.

Meat mixtures for stuffing vegetables such as peppers, tomatoes or cabbage leaves appeal to some families. Others prefer vegetable and meat pie casseroles. Preparations served with some starchy food, such as rice, noodles or spaghetti.

Egg dishes cook quickly and usually require little preparation. Hearty main courses with eggs are derived by adding cheese or leftover meat or vegetables.

Vegetables and fruits in season in summer add color to menus and reduce meal costs. Fresh vegetables are approved by nutrition specialists at any time of the year for good diets.

WANT TO SELL

Quickly... At A Good Price

Nobody wants to buy a house that looks like an old shoe—good appearance and convenience is just fifty per cent of the sales job.

The nation-wide average for sales of modernized houses proves that for every dollar you spend in modernizing, provided you have a good location, you will be returned three dollars in extra sales value built into the house.

Don't try to sell even a fifteen-year-old house without first modernizing—modernizing should be the first move you make after you decide to sell your home.

Thorough modernizing, for which we can quickly give you an estimate without obligation, is the modern formula for quick property sales.

Have one of our contractors give you an estimate on your modernizing needs. All materials and labor can be purchased through the F. H. A. system.
