The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

And now it's time to think about getting the children ready for school—the next big adventure of the American child. And this year our children are about the only such group that are able to plan this adventure. And plan it we should for the boys and girls who will next week enroll again in that great American institution known as our public school. Mother is planning on the clothes, and Dad on money to buy the books and pencils and tablets. These are experiences commonly incident to the opening of school.

However—let's think a little further—check up with your family physician, your dentist. Plan a good sound and nourishing menu for the children—a good warm breakfast—a nourishing lunch, and then think of getting them off to bed early. Physical care, nourishing food and sleep make for alert and wide awake pupils. In these points mother and dad can help make the marks of their children in the school room. And still further DRIVE SLOWLY on West Main street. Drive carefully wherever children are about—and beware of the bicycle. Cars, children, bicycles are a rather dangerous combination to take in a huddle.

Wendell Willkie's speech of acceptance shows that President Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie are agreed on several points, notably the wages and hour law, conscription and what the English navy has meant and will continue to mean to the security of America. Mr. Willkie's reasoning and presentation gives assurance of a political decency and poise so much needed on both sides in this campaign. We concur in the opinion of the Christian Science Monitor viz.: "This is a year in which the American people are reevaluating the character of national leadership." The best politics in this crisis is for our leadership to urge the strengthening of the moral fibre of our people through individual self-restraint. Thinking is going to decide this 1940 election. That's the best way you can serve America at this time. Make yourself a part and parcel of the popular will. Today organized opinion is our strongest national armor. Think things through—yourself.

America Marches On . . .

In his inspiring book, "The American Way of Life," George F. Sokolsky tells a thrilling story of the march of American progress.

"Now," he writes, "we approach the Age of Chemistry; of the use of metals and salts and gases; of the transmutation of woods into a thousand clothes; of milk into metallic and glasslike materials as strong as steel and as light as paper."

"Why is it that the American people, even for a moment, permit themselves to believe that there will be nothing new under the sun when every day the industrialist is working upon all olden law conceptions? What will television do for us? What effect will the manufacture of Neoprene—a rubber-like substance made from coal, limestone, salt and water—have upon our economy? What will Chemistry do to our agriculture? Today's automobile soon will be outmoded—what will the experiments now under way produce?"

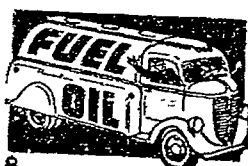

"We are not at the end of our tether; we are on the verge of an age of new discoveries, of a new life"—The Silver Lining.

Steady, patient persevering thinking will generally surmount every obstacle in the search for truth.—Linnons

Under present circumstances we think it behoves each voter to give more than ordinary consideration to the choice of lieutenant governor in the coming primary. Unquestionably Gov. Dickinson will be the republican candidate, and with the presidential election in the offing there is very little likelihood of any other candidate or party carrying Michigan. Governor Dickinson is 81 years of age, and his chances of completing the term are not very high according to mortality tables. We sometimes think that the lieutenant governor should rather and closer to the chief executive and somehow we feel that Gov. Dickinson will lean very heavily upon the new lieutenant governor.

Such being the case, isn't it highly probable that our choice for lieutenant governor may be the next governor. Let's vote safely in that matter, and clinch the matter for the good of all by seeing that our good neighbor Elton Eaton is named lieutenant governor in the primary just ahead.

And here it is almost time for school to start. August is really gone. And what an August it was—heat . . . humidity, hay harvest, dog star, dog days and hot dogs . . . vacations . . . trips, bathing, boating, picnicking corn on the cob . . . Willkie, F. D. R., Races, Horses, Horse Show, Racing Forum, Fair, cold weather, shivers, fire, sweaters, and all tired out. That's August this year.

THE RAMPARTS WE WATCH

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

Five Years Ago

Nearly 6,000 persons saw Mrs. Russell Lyke win a Ford V-8 in front of the grandstand late Saturday afternoon as the nineteenth annual Northville Wayne County fair came to a successful close.

Mr. Charles F. Murphy, was elected vice-president of the state American Legion auxiliary at its meeting in Flint, Monday.

Kathryn Maiburger took seven blue ribbons one red ribbon, five trophies and $37 in the Northville Show at the Fair.

Fifteen Years Ago

Northville friends received announcements this week stating that Miss Ethel Hodgson of this place, and Herbert D. Rhodes of Detroit, had been married, at Romeo, Aug. 16.

A double wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of Saline, Saturday, when their son, Harold, was united in marriage to Miss Anna Troman of Duluth, Minn. and their daughter Florence to Merrill Renwick of South Lyon.

A fine improvement is being made on Main street this week. The space from the corner by the Post Office to the corner by the bank has been paved. The old bumps have been removed and the opening to the street—over the bridge—has been a great benefit.

Twenty Years Ago

A new lot of paint has greatly improved the appearance of our hospital in due.

While playing around the foundation for C. R. Ely's new home in Orchard Heights Saturday evening, Arthur Ely fell and broke his right arm in two places.

Earl Simpson, who is playing ball with the New Haven Conn. team this season, is temporarily out of the game with a broken rib. He has been going strong with the team and "friends here will regret to learn of his misfortune."

Thirty Years Ago

Ross Dixon, who has had a position on Belle Isle during the "school vacation" returned home this week.

Louis Sonnenberg, an employee of R. R. McKahan, was somewhat scratched up, and his little son, who was riding with him, was bruised in an accident yesterday morning. He was driving a large load of ice across the car track to the Butler station when the 730 D. U. R. car fouled the curve, colliding with the wagon knocking the horses down and bringing them up some 100 feet. No serious damage was done.

Novi News

By MRS. L. E. COATES

Miss Ernestine Grace is vacationing with friends in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Mary Graham is visiting relatives and friends in Missouri.

Martin Lake, who was taken to the hospital in Pontiac a week ago, is improving slowly.

Miss Dorothy Randall, who has been visiting Novi friends for the past few days, returned to her home in Milan Friday, her sister coming for her.

There will be an ice cream social at 6:30 p. m. Friday, Aug. 30, at the Novi Methodist church. The affair is sponsored by the Bookers' class.

Oscar Graham and Harry Millington went on a fishing trip last Saturday.

News in and about Salem

By MRS. C. O. HAMMOND

The Willing Workers class will resume their regular meetings after the summer vacation. Mrs. George Roberts will be hostess to the meeting at 2 p. m. Thursday, Sept. 5. Everyone is urged to attend as several matters of importance will be planned.

Miss Betty Curtis of Plymouth, spent the week end at the Hammond home as the guest of Miss Gladys.

Your correspondent noticed several Salemites at the Northville Fair last Friday night. Among them were: Mrs. Vern Kahler and daughter Marjorie, Bernice Roth, Mrs. R. C. Lewis and daughter, Julia Ann, Mrs. George Tanner and son, James, and Katherine Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Trapp and family and others.

Twenty-two young persons of the Salem Union school district will attend high school at Northville, Plymouth and Ann Arbor, commencing next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stacey attended the funeral of his sister in Detroit Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Wheeler and three sons of Holly, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bussey and daughter of Detroit, John and Wallace Bussey of Mio, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pentchev and daughter Florence, were Ann Arbor visitors Thursday.

The Washtenaw County Brotherhood was held at Stoney Creek near Ypsilanti Sunday afternoon and evening several members from here attending.

Dowling Is Democratic Candidate in Primary

The review of a newspaper "morgue" reveals a brilliant record for William E. Dowling, who recently announced his candidacy for prosecuting attorney on the Democratic ticket at the September primary.

From the minute Dowling was named assistant prosecutor in January, 1935, he began writing opinions for civil division as requested by county boards, officers, and officials.

His first major case of importance was the robbery of the Scott and Dillon Tobacco Company on W. Fort street, in which three men were convicted of shooting a night watchman, E. J. Dowling.

As a sequel to the case, police uncovered seven other men connected with Kasap and Kurawa, whose cases are still pending.

Dowling's most recent accomplishment was the prosecution of the prosecution of the John Kasap and John Kurawa murder-for-profit ring, who finally confessed killing Philip Lout and Dorsey Bowman to get two automobiles to sell for cash.

After persistent questioning, Kasap told police he would confess "only to Dowling".

As a sequel to the case, police uncovered seven other men connected with Kasap and Kurawa, whose cases are still pending.

Dowling, a World War veteran with 54 months of actual combat, was born in Baltimore, July 26, 1892. He studied at the Detroit College of Law and Detroit City Law School (now Wayne University), receiving his degree of bachelor of laws in 1929. He engaged in private law practice until 1936.

Ex-Governor William Comstock appointed him receiver to several defunct banks in Macomb county and he was legal representative of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation from 1933 to 1934.

State Fair Opens in Detroit, Aug. 30

With the Michigan farmer in complete command, the Michigan State Fair of 1940 will be opened by Goy Lufen D. Dickinson Aug. 30, and continue through Sept. 8, with agricultural exhibits and entertainment on a scale so extensive as to cause professional New York showmen to style Michigan's 91 year-old institution "America's little world's fair."

The agricultural exhibits are expected to exceed in number and in quality any heretofore presented at the Fair in preparation for its greatest vegetable, fruit, and grain exhibit, the Fair management under Dr. Linwood W. Snow has provided a building three times as large as the Agricultural building used in previous years.

For the first time in three years, the livestock judging and showing will be held in the Coliseum. The livestock is expected to be the highest quality exhibited in many years. A representative implement exhibit will occupy some of the best frontage the huge fair grounds afford.

Special space in the parking lot will be reserved for the cars of out-of-town visitors who may not care to drive through Detroit's grounds to all parts of the metropolitan area, will be provided.

Among the entertainment features will be a thrill-packed rodeo; six days of harness-horse racing, starting Sept. 2, a huge musical extravaganza nightly; a continuous free amateur show featuring the best amateur singers, dancers and musicians in the state; dancing nightly to the music of Shep Fields, Aug. 30, Sept. 2; Dick Jurgens, Sept. 3; Ted Rio Rato, Sept. 4-5; Wayne King, Sept. 6, 7 and 8, a mile-long streambed midway, a marvelous miniature of Holy Land, 1000 electrically motivated figures joining in depicting the life of Christ; and any number of side features.

A double wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Foreman of Salem, Saturday, when their son Harold, was united in marriage to Miss Aileen Trogan of Detroit. Miss Aileen Trogan is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Trogan of Detroit.

A fine and much needed improvement on Main street this week. The space from the corner by the Hull house to High Street, which has been removed and the concrete to be laid next week, has been used to a great extent.

Twenty Years Ago

A new coat of paint has greatly improved the appearance of our hospital building.

While playing around the foundation for C. R. Ely's new home in Orchard Heights Saturday evening, Arthur Lyke fell and broke his right arm in two places.

Earl Stimpson who is playing ball with the New Haven, Conn. team this season is temporarily out of the game with a broken rib. He has been going strong with the team for some time and friends here will regret to learn of his misfortune.

Thirty Years Ago

Ross Dixon who has had a position on Belle Isle during the school vacation, returned home this week.

Louis Sorenson, an employee of E. McKahan, was somewhat scratched up, and his little son, who was riding with him, was bruised in an accident yesterday morning. He was driving a large load of ice across the car track to the Butler addition when the 730 D. U. car rounded the curve, colliding with the wagon knocking the horses down and bruising them up some. Fortunately no serious damage was done.

Dowling is Democratic Candidate in Primary

The review of a newspaper "morgue" reveals a brilliant record for William E. Dowling, who recently announced his candidacy for prosecuting attorney in the Democratic ticket at the September primary.

From the minute Dowling was named assistant prosecutor in January, 1935, he began writing opinions for civil division as requested by county boards, officers, and officials.

His first major case of importance was the robbery of the Scott and Dillon Tobacco Company on W. Fort-street, in which three men were convicted of shooting a night watchman. Bitterly contested, Dowling's conviction was upheld by the Michigan Supreme Court.

Dowling's most recent accomplishment was the prosecution of the prosecution of the John Kasap and John Kurzawa murder-for-profitting, who finally confessed killing Philip Lust and Dorsey Bowman to get two automobiles to sell for cash. After persistent questioning, Kasap told police he would confess "only to Dowling."

As a sequel to the case, police uncovered several other men connected with Kasap and Kurzawa, whose cases are still pending.

Dowling, a World War Veteran with 24 months of actual combat, was born in Baltimore, July 26, 1898. He studied at the Detroit College of Law and Detroit City Law School (now Wayne University). Dowling has degree of both of laws in 1929. He engaged in private law practice until 1936.

Ex-Governor William Comstock appointed him receiver to several default banks in Macomb county and he was legal representative of the Home Owners' Loan Corporation from 1933 to 1934.

State Fair Opens in Detroit, Aug. 30

With the Michigan farmer in complete command, the Michigan State Fair of 1940 will be opened by Gov. Luren D. Dickinson Aug. 30, and continue through Sept. 8, with agricultural exhibits and entertainment on a scale so extensive as to cause professional New York showmen to style Michigan's 91-year-old institution "America's little world's fair."

The agricultural exhibits are expected to exceed in number and in quality any heretofore presented at the fair. In preparation for its greatest vegetable, fruit, and grain exhibit, the fair management under Dr. Leonard W. Snow has provided a building three times as large as the Agricultural building used in previous years.

For the first time in three years, the livestock judging and showing will be held in the Coliseum. The livestock is expected to be the highest quality exhibited in many years. A representative implement exhibit will occupy some of the best frontage of the huge fair grounds afford.

Special space in the parking lot will be reserved for the cars of out-of-town visitors who may not care to drive through Detroit's grounds to all parts of the metropolitan area, will be provided.

Among the entertainment features will be a thrill-packed rodeo; six days of harness-horse racing, starting Sept. 2, a huge musical extravaganza, nightly, a continuous free amateur show featuring the best amateur singers, dancers and musicians in the state; dancing nightly to the music of Shep Fields, Aug. 30, Sept. 2, Dick Jurgens, Sept. 3; Ted Tio Rato, Sept. 4-5; Wayne King, Sept. 6, 7 and 8; a mile-long streambed midway; a marvelous miniature of Holy Land, with 1000 electrically motivated figures joining in depicting the life of Christ; and any number of side features.

An Open Letter to The DETROIT FREE PRESS

DR. JOHN A. ROSS
OPTOMETRIST
PLYMOUTH

When your paper passed from the control of the venerated and respected E. D. Stair, and a new hand came to guide the policies of the Detroit Free Press which had been "On Guard for Over a Century," Michigan paused and wondered. Cast a drift after years of confidence and expected service to our commonwealth, Michiganders asked, "What manner of man is this John S. Knight, the newcomer to Michigan journalism?"

A few weeks of question, and we found answer. Michigan now knows that the newspaper that has been "On Guard for Over a Century" still walks its post and challenges from afar enemies of the printed word and democratic freedom. The vigor, the fairness, and the sound reasoning of your editorials challenge our mental processes. No political survey is needed to guide your thought or mold the logic of your contributions. We are glad to note that you have deemed it wise to retain on your staff of contributors those men whom time and confidence have recommended to our respect and trust.

Through years of breakfast contacts with the "Good Morning" column of Malcolm W. Bingay, we have never ceased to marvel at the versatile humor and insight of the Old Architect of the Pellucid Pillar. Fortified with a wealth of knowledge of history, events, literature, sports and an uncanny vision, Mr. Bingay holds the hearts of thousands of your readers as in the hollow of his hand. A judge of true value in things and folks, he finds time to bring an appreciative note to the doers of things both great and small. The criteria of his praise is service to humanity.

Mr. Bingay's contributions to Detroit and Michigan are manifold. Garbed in the clothes of Iffy the Dopester, or wielding the instruments of the Old Architect, Mr. Bingay has won and held the respect and friendship of men of every faith. In events and personalities he has found true values and wrung from them the inspiration, courage and faith we need at times when we needed it most.

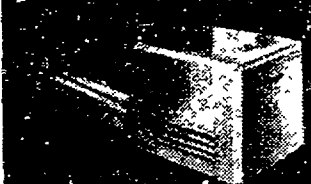

In the Merry-Go-Round of Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen we find behind the scenes information. Facts and incidents that influence front page headlines and explain their background. Much too, we find that never gains such prominence. The courage of this duo to present facts, expose combine and trickery and call a spade a spade in the matter of those who would slow up our national defense program is refreshing. This exposure means much as the flames of totalitarianism shower sparks in the western waters of the Atlantic. We common folks enjoy the back scene seat thus accorded and appreciate information that helps us appraise aright.

The high level of your paper's civic promotion has done much for Detroit. Your Golden Gloves gave Joe Louis to the world. Your "Iffy" made pennant winners. You made Detroit the sport mecca of the generation. Your dynamic journalism and vision put the world on wheels and made modern transportation truly a Winged Mercury.

With your intimate knowledge of subscribers interest we have often wondered if the works of Dr. George W. Crane, eminent psychologist of Northwestern University, wouldn't enhance, and balance an already stellar group of contributors and daily features. "The Worry Clinic, Case Records of a famous Psychologist," by Dr. Crane offers a Five-in-One human interest feature. This feature covers a wealth of knowledge and suggestions for the personal problems of your readers. Many of us are interested in Dr. Crane's treatment of Child Behavior, Personality Development, Business and Domestic Problems and Mental Health Diagnosis, found therein. A true evaluation of Dr. Crane's works would add much to our appreciation of your invaluable newspaper.

As we see it, yours, Mr. Knight, is a heritage of character. Among those honored of their generation and rightfully "of the glory of the times" is the sentinel of the century, your own Detroit Free Press. May you ever continue to hold aloft the beacon light of liberty and enlightenment, never lacking for courage to speak your convictions. For so long as your voice is raised in defiance of graft, vice, and corruption, and champions democracy and the offense of the American way, so long will sons of all men who live, hope and struggle willingly shoulder the burdens of the hour while you lead them on with the visions of the tomorrows of mankind.

Sincerely and cordially yours,
JOHN A. ROSS.

McCollough Home Is Scene of Third Annual Flower Show in Northville

The third annual summer flower show, sponsored by the Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association, was held Monday afternoon, Aug. 26, at the country home of Mrs. J. M. McCollough, 2112½ Halshead road.

Judging the exhibits were Mrs. T. R. Carrington, Mrs. E. A. Kohler and Mrs. J. F. Mainberg.

Taking the blue ribbon for her cut flower arrangement was Mrs. Joseph Hoehl. Second and third place ribbons went to Mrs. William B. Walker, Jr.

Mrs. Hoehl also took the blue ribbon in the potted plant division. Mrs. Frank Zebornick's plant was second and Mrs. Hoehl's was third.

First place in the miniature arrangement was given to Mrs. M. L. Hoyrstadt, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp taking second and third places.

First and third place ribbons went to Mrs. Sam Genaco for her fruit and vegetable displays. Mrs. Hoehl placed second.

Thirty-seven members and guests were on hand Monday to view the exhibit. The committee members who planned the affair were Mrs. Hoyrstadt, Mrs. McCollough, Mrs. Russell E. Atchison and Mrs. A. V. Barber.

Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Harrison—Are Bridge-Luncheon Hostesses

horse jumped on him and the field raced on, leaving Joe, who's a jockey by day) to stagger to his feet, only to flop over the rail where an ambulance picked him up. Joe got a broken rib out of the affair. Just Imperial, the 8-5 favorite, with P. Kirkpatrick up, was the winner of this race.

Just Imperial Is Favorite

This horse was one of the six winning favorites, starting with D. D. McCarty at odds-on in the second race, continuing with Princess Rhoda at $5.20 in the fourth, High Pressure at $4.40 in the fifth, King Maurice $5 in the sixth and Crustate in $4.20 in the eighth. Fortune's Call paid $22.20 in the first and Silent Don at $12.20 in the seventh were exceptions.

Thursday's feature event was won by Magic Winnie, a five-year-old chestnut mare. Abercrombie was second and Talent third.

Northville maintained a record of having seen form take over in more than 40 per cent of its races, favorites winning three of the seven starts.

Turban Wins

When the races resumed Wednesday with the opening of the fair, the closest race of the day, the seventh, was won by Green Turban with Phil Kirkpatrick up, nosing out the favorite, Cristate, kept Jockey A. J. Alberts from making his tenth victory.

Queen Germaine, a gallant old lady, was also in the seventh. She led for a lap, despite her nine years.

On Wednesday, Paper's Tune and Hi Cee, combined for the Daily Double, paying $22.20.

Mrs. Walter Fox of Farmington, is confined to her bed because of illness.

Mrs. Frank Heintz and three children spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heintz at Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heintz were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fox Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eural Clark and family returned Monday from a 10-day vacation at Houghton Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tykosky and children, Mrs. Julie Spick and son, Edward of Dearborn, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heintz Sunday.

Detroit will be host this week to the country's leading horticulturists, foresters and nursery men who will attend the four-day sixteenth National Shade Tree Conference whose opening sessions will be held Tuesday at the Book Cadillac.

Caden-Hendin Nuptials Held Sunday in Detroit

Miss Esther Hendin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Hendin of Detroit, became the bride of Joseph Caden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Caden of Detroit, at a ceremony performed at 8:30 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 25, at Perieras in Detroit.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown which ended in a long train. This was accented by a short veil of illusion.

Her sister, Miss Frances Hendin, was bridesmaid. She was gowned in blue chiffon. The other attendants were: Miss Frances Menasce, who wore orange taffeta, Miss Ethel Caden, who wore peach chiffon, and Miss Anita Hecker, who wore green taffeta.

Ben Hendin was Mr. Caden's best man. Ushers were: Milton Hecker, Dave Weinstein and Julius Caden.

Following the wedding, a reception for 200 guests was held. Later in the evening, dinner was served to the out-of-town guests at the King Pong cafe.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Caden will make their home in Detroit.

Mrs. Chapman Is Luncheon Hostess Wednesday

Mrs. E. A. Chapman was a luncheon hostess Wednesday.

She had covers for: Mrs. Allen J. Buckley, Mrs. Orlow G. Owen, Mrs. Milton Adams, Mrs. Alfred Strassen, Mrs. Edmund Yerkes, Jr., Mrs. Eural F. Clark, Mrs. Maxwell S. Austin, Mrs. Kenneth A. Kitchen and Mrs. Alex Lawrence.

daughter, Kathryn. Because the horse had been a favorite in the Marburger stable and because retirement had been earned, it was fitting that Silverhoarde make a final appearance in the ring during the year when the Marburger Memorial challenge trophy was given for the first time. Too, the show program was dedicated to the late Mr. Marburger.

In a ceremony conducted by the ring master, Maj. Alvin R. Baker, and the manager-secretary, R. Edmund Dowling, Silverhoarde's saddle was replaced by a horseshoe garland of flowers and taken from the ring by Kathryn and a close friend of the Marburger family, Frank Ragdale.

Hettche Has Champion and Reserve

It was Good News from the Hettche stable who took the $100 championship stake for five-gaited saddle horses. The same horse won a leg on the Marburger challenge trophy for fine harness horses.

Another Hettche entry, Vesta's Highland Choice, took the Schradner Memorial challenge trophy and the Will G. Johnson memorial trophy as well as the W. O. Allen memorial trophy given by Mrs. Kate Allen of Plymouth, and presented by Blake Northrop. This same horse was red ribbon winner in the Marburger fine harness class and in the $100 stake for five-gaited saddle horses.

Shapiro's Stable Places

Smooth Sailing shown by Marianne Shapiro in the three-gaited saddle ponies class took third place. Shapiro's Joker placed in the stock horse division. Another Northville stable, Ender L. Wiedrichs, (and C. Shapiro's) won honors with The Colonel in the amateur three-gaited class. Honors, too, went to the Thomas Blackett stable with Kal-Adina Cadel in the junior five-gaited saddle class and Cameo in the three-gaited saddle pony event.

Mrs. J. R. Ragdale's Golden-De-sire took two red ribbons, one in the amateur five-gaited class and the other in the junior five-gaited saddle division.

Entered by Patricia Jane and Sydney Holmes, Desert Fawn placed third in the three-gaited saddle class. Thursday, Another Holmes entry, Felix, placed third in the amateur Tennessee Walking class.

Kathryn Marburger added to her collection of ribbons this year by taking the red with Starwatch in the Mayflower challenge class, for ladies' three-gaited saddle horses; the amateur three-gaited class; and the combination three-gaited saddle and harness class. She also placed third with Starwatch in the model three-gaited division.

Any number of ribbons are now in the possession of the Northville Hills stable, following first appearances in the ring since its opening this spring. Horses to do the stable proud were: High Delight, Mountain Charcoal, Highview Chief and Beal Ceste.

Mrs. Wood's entry, Simplicity, took two fourth places, one in the adult open jump and the other in the amateur adult working hunter class.

Name Champions

Although most of the stables representing Northville in the show had entries for the saddle classes, the show, at large, boasted the largest hunter-jumper division in its history. The hunter champion, who went to Hasty Lassie of the A. E. Reuben stable in Toledo, O. The reserve champion is Beag Lee, a William D. McCollough entry from Rochester, Arcadia, Mo. Boy from the James Vernon stable, Detroit, went home with the jumper champion-ship title, with Beag Lee again taking the reserve.

M. E. Christensen's Challenge of Fate, is the champion of the three-gaited saddle horses and Glenn Ellis' Margaret Menard of Clarkston, is the reserve champion.

Sensational jumping thrilled spectators and jumpers alike Friday afternoon when the McCollough team competed in the pair of jumpers division. Almost perfect jumping was performed by the two teams which took the blue and red ribbons in this class.

To Sue DeLano of Battle Creek, with Smokey, went the blue ribbon and trophy in the stock horse class. This makes Miss DeLano and Smokey a four-time winner combination.

 Expect Record Crowds at Fair's Daredevil Motor Maniacs Congress

Additional ticket sellers, ticket takers and guards have been arranged for to handle what is expected to be the largest crowd of the fair when Dick Rogers' All American-Motor Maniacs perform at the Michigan State Fair, three afternoons only, Saturday Aug. 31, Sunday, Sept. 1 and Sunday, Sept. 2.

The Daredevil Congress has set new attendance records at all fairs they have played, and with many new thrills to show here a mammoth crowd is expected.

Some of the thrills on the program will be the crash into a brick wall with an automobile traveling at 60 miles an hour, the driver staying in the car, a head-on collision between two autos both traveling at a speed of 50 miles—a car jumping through a house of flames, four motorcycles crashing solid board walls—rolling an automobile over and over and driving a man through a board wall head foremost. There will be 12 thrills and 9 comedy stunts on the program.

for a cool, refreshing night's sleep!

If you think that a bedroom as cool as a sleeping porch is a luxury—and far too expensive for your means—you haven't heard about the new method of house-cooling hundreds of your neighbors are now using... cooling by means of an ATTIC FAN.

"What's the point of cooling an attic?" you ask. "We don't sleep up there."

Here is the reason. When your house soaks up heat all day, the attic becomes a bake-over—with temperatures often reaching 130 degrees. Then at night, this blanket of heat hangs immovable overhead, making the rooms below stifling and unbearable. Sleep is often impossible until the early hours of the morning. If there were some way to blow away this heat—to get the cool night air indoors—the house would cool off rapidly. This is exactly what an attic fan does. Prices range from $50 and up (installation extra).

After sundown, open all your windows and snap the convenient switch of the fan. Instantly its large, powerful blades start to sweep away the oppressive heat in the attic and pull off the warm air in the rooms below. A flood of cool night air is drawn in through the windows and circulated through the house. The temperature drops as much as 7 to 14 degrees, making your rooms comfortable. Cost of operation is only about 1/4c an hour.

Department stores, electrical dealers, and fan dealers will gladly give you full information about this low-cost method of house cooling. Stop in or telephone today. The Detroit Edison Company. (We do not sell or install this equipment.)

Willkie Speech Of Acceptance Thrills Nation

Republican Candidate for President Outlines Policies Before Vast Audience at Elwood.

ELWOOD, IND.—Coming back to this, the town in which he was born and grew to young manhood, and before a wildly enthusiastic audience of many thousands, Wendell Willkie accepted the nomination for President on the Republican ticket.

In that acceptance, Mr. Willkie promised the kind of leadership that will keep America a nation of freedom, a nation of prosperous people, a nation offering opportunity for all. He said: "An acceptance speech is a candidate's keynote, a declaration of his broad principles. It cannot possibly review the issues in detail. I shall, however, cover each of them frankly during this campaign. Here I give you an outline of the political philosophy that is in my heart. We are here today to represent a sacred cause—the preservation of American democracy."

"Obviously, I cannot lead this cause alone. I need the help of every American—Republican, Democrat or Independent—Jew, Catholic, or Protestant—people of every color, creed, and race. Party lines are down. Nothing could make that clearer than the nomination by the Republicans of a liberal Democrat who changed his party affiliation because he found democracy in the Republican party and not in the New Deal party."

Thunderous applause greeted Willkie's statement that party lines are down. When he said the times demanded the help of Americans from every walk, the cheers came wave upon wave, the vast crowd having sensed that it typified that very thought. Here were a hundred thousand Americans from every part of the United States, representing every faith, every station of life, yet carried away by a single devotion.

WENDELL WILKIE
Republican Candidate for President

Mr. Willkie briefly sketched his boyhood in Elwood and told of his ancestors who, like the ancestors of millions of Americans, lived in central Europe. They were humble people—not members of the ruling or wealthy classes. Their opportunities were restricted by discriminatory laws and class distinctions. One was exiled because of his religion; another was persecuted because he believed in the principles of the French revolution; and still another was jailed for insisting on the right of free speech. As their descendant, I have fought from boyhood against all those restrictions, discriminations and tyrannies. And I am still fighting."

Foreign Policy.
Mr. Willkie compared the peace of America with the conditions in war-torn Europe, and defined his foreign policy by saying:

"No man is so wise as to foresee what the future holds or to lay out a plan for it. No man can guarantee to maintain peace. Peace is not something that a nation can achieve by itself. It also depends on what some other country does. It is neither practical, nor desirable, to adopt a foreign program committing the United States to future action under unknown circumstances. The best that we can do is to decide what principle shall guide us. For me, that principle can be simply defined:

"In the foreign policy of the United States, as in its domestic policy, I would do everything to defend American democracy and I would refrain from doing anything that would injure it."

"We must not permit our emotions—our sympathies or hatreds—to move us from that fixed principle."

Again the crowd let out a deafening cheer. It was an exciting moment. A nation was waiting anxiously to hear Mr. Willkie's views on foreign relations. The enthusiastic response of the crowd reflected a nation thrilled.

National Defense.
From foreign policy Willkie turned to national defense of which he said in part:

"We must not shrink the necessity of preparing our sons to take care of themselves in case the defense of America leads to war. I shall not undertake to analyze the legislation on this subject that is now before congress, or to examine the intentions of the administration with regard to it. I concur with many members of my party, that these intentions must be closely watched. Nevertheless, in spite of these considerations, I cannot ask the American people to put their faith in me, without recording my conviction that some form of selective service is the only democratic way in which to secure the trained and competent manpower we need for national defense."

He stated in definite terms his belief in a policy of providing to the opponents of force the material resources of this nation, and our own preparation for meeting any emergency that may arise, but criticized the President in his conduct of foreign affairs at this critical time, saying:

"There have been occasions when many of us have wondered if he is deliberately inciting us to war. I deliberately incite it plain that in the defense of America, and of our liberties, I should not hesitate to stand for war. But like a great many other Americans I saw, what war was like at first hand in 1917. I know what war can do to demoralize civil liberties at home. And I believe it to be the first duty of a President to try to maintain peace."

But Mr. Roosevelt has not done this. He has dabbled in inflammatory statements and manufactured panics. Of course, we in America like to speak our minds freely, but this does not mean that at a critical period in history our President should cause bitterness and confusion for the sake of a little political oratory. The President's attacks on foreign powers have been useless and dangerous. He has courted a war for which the country is hopelessly unprepared—and which it emphatically does not want. He has secretly meddled in the affairs of Europe, and he has even unscrupulously encouraged other countries to hope for more help than we are able to give."

"Walk softly and carry a big stick" was the motto of Theodore Roosevelt. It is still good. Adams can do more for 1940 than our present administration for the country has been placed in the false position of shouting insults and not even beginning to prepare to take the consequences."

Cheers Interrupt.

Several times the speaker was compelled to stop as applause and encouraging shouts drowned out his voice. The cheers grew in volume and frequency as Mr. Willkie, citing France as a tragic example, declared in a firm voice that our foreign policy must "begin in the United States" and be dedicated to making us strong "right here in our own land."

Referring to the defeat of France, Mr. Willkie said in part:

"And in this tragedy let us find our lesson. The foreign policy of the United States begins right here in our own land. The first task of our country in its international affairs is to become strong at home. We must regain prosperity; restore the independence of our people, and protect our defensive forces. If that is not done promptly we are in constant danger. If that is done no enemy on earth dare attack us. I propose to do it."

I promise, by returning to those same American principles that overcame German autocracy once before, both in business and in war, to outdistance Hitler in any contest he chooses in 1940 or after. And I promise that when we beat him, we shall beat him on our own terms, in our own American way."

A Doctrine of Growth.
For our home policy Mr. Willkie proposed to follow a doctrine of increased production, of increased growth, instead of the New Deal "doctrine of division," and said:

"We are not asked to make more for ourselves. We are asked to divide among ourselves that which we already have. The New Deal doctrine does not seek risk, it seeks safety. Let us call that the 'I pass' doctrine. The New Deal dealt it, and refused to make any more bets on the American future."

"Why, that is exactly the course France followed to her destruction! Like the Blum government in France, so has our government become entangled in unfruitful political adventures. As in France, so here, we have heard talk of class distinctions and of economic groups preying upon other groups."

"As for me, I want to say here and now that there is no hate in my heart, and that there will be none in my campaign. It is my belief that there is no hate in the hearts of any group of Americans for any other group—except as the New Dealers seek to put it there for political purposes. I stand for a new companionship in an industrial society."

"Because I am a business man, formerly connected with a large company, the doctrinaires of the opposition have attacked me as an opponent of liberalism. But I was a liberal before many of these men had heard the word, and I fought for many of the reforms of the elder LaFollette, Theodore Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson before another Roosevelt adopted—and distorted—liberalism."

Opposed to Monopolies.
"I believe that the forces of free enterprise must be regulated. I am opposed to business monopolies. I believe in collective bargaining, by representatives of labor's own free choice, without any interference and in full protection of those obvious rights. I believe in the maintenance of minimum standard for wages and of maximum standards for hours. I believe that such standards should constantly improve. I believe in the federal regulation of interstate utilities, of securities markets, and of banking. I believe in federal pensions, in adequate old-age benefits, and in unemployment allowances. I believe that the federal government has a responsibility to equalize the lot of the farmer, with that of the manufacturer. If this cannot be done by parity of prices, other means must be found—with the least possible restriction of the farmer's affairs. I believe in the encouragement of co-operative buying and selling, and in the full extension of rural electrification. But American liberalism does not consist merely in reforming things. It consists also in making things."

"And I say that we must henceforth ask certain questions of reform, and of every law to regulate business of industry. We must ask: Has it encouraged our industries to produce? Has it created new opportunities for our youth? Will it increase our standard of living? Will it encourage us to open up a new and bigger world?"

New Deal Victims.
Mr. Willkie demands that kind of legislation, that policy, that will encourage business to expand, to create jobs for the unemployed, saying: "It is a statement of fact, and no longer a political accusation, that the New Deal has failed in its program of economic rehabilitation. And the victims of its failure are the very persons whose cause it professes to champion."

"The little business men are victims because their chances are more restricted than ever before. The farmers are victims because many of them are forced to subsist on what is virtually a 'dole,' under centralized direction from Washington."

"The nine or ten million unemployed are victims because their chances for jobs are fewer. Approximately 6,000,000 families are victims because they are on relief."

"And unless we do something about it soon, 130,000,000 people—an entire nation—will become victims, because they stand in need of a defense system which this administration has the 'far proved itself powerless' to create anywhere except on paper."

To accomplish these results, the present administration has spent $60,000,000,000.

Mr. Willkie Accepts.
"I accept the nomination of the Republican party for President of the United States."

"I accept it in the spirit in which I know it was given at our convention in Philadelphia—the spirit of dedication. I herewith dedicate myself with all my heart, with all my mind, and with all my soul to making this nation strong."

"But I say this, too. In the pursuit of that goal I shall not lead you down the easy road. If I am chosen the leader of this democracy as I am now of the Republican party, I shall lead you down the road of sacrifice and of service to your country."

"What I am saying is a far harsher thing than I should like to say in this speech of acceptance—a far harsher thing than I would have said had the Old World not been swept by war during the past year. I am saying to you that we cannot rebuild our American democracy without hardship, without sacrifice, even without suffering. I am proposing that course to you as a candidate for election by you."

When the speaker finished, the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Hats went up in the air and shouts of "Hurrah for Willkie" came from many thousands. They left the great meeting repeating to each other the words "Willkie—the Hope of America."

Coach and Mrs. Harry B. Smith will make their home this winter at 902 Horton avenue.

Pity the Poor Geography Teacher!

School opens—and with it what a headache for the geography teacher.
Sudden changes in the boundaries of a dozen European countries caused by Hitler's military successes and Stalin's expansion movement have rendered geographies and atlases out of date. And the result? "It's a headache," says Mrs. Virginia Bongart, a teacher in the Cook county

Northville's Choice for County Coroner

of Northville

Noted for his courtesy and tact, Dr. Linwood W. Snow has always found time to work for Northville. No task has been too large, no task too small for his intimate attention if it meant pleasure or profit to the people of Northville and vicinity.

With an enviable record of service to his community and an outstanding accomplishment for the people of Michi-

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Homer Frisbie

Mrs. Homer Frisbie, 32 of Plymouth, wife of Mr. Frisbie who has been salesman at the Rathburn Chevrolet company for the past six years, died Tuesday morning, following an operation to which she submitted two weeks ago.

Funeral rites were held for her at 2 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 28, from the Plymouth Schrader Funeral Chapel. Burial was made at Myron.

Surviving Mrs. Frisbie, beside her husband, are two children, Gerald and Joyce, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fenton, all of Plymouth.

Mrs. Frisbie attended school in Ypsilanti. She sang in the choir of the Plymouth Presbyterian church and was active in church enterprises.

Miss Shirley MacLean is vacationing at Iron Mountain until Labor Day.

Helmuth C. Ringle

Helmuth C. Ringle, who resided at 1930 Six Mile road, Salem township, died suddenly early Tuesday evening, Aug. 27, at the age of 53 years. He is survived by his widow, Leona Ringle, three sons and two daughters, William of Salem township, Mrs. Louise Montague, and Edward Ringle both of Plymouth.

Mrs. Jennie Montague and Albert Ringle, both of Salem township, He is survived by 11 grandchildren, four sisters and one brother, Mrs. Anna Schwaner of Farmington, Charles Ringle of Detroit, Mrs. Mary Keeney of Northville, Mrs. Bertha Yerkes and Mrs. Edith Price, both of Farmington.

Mr. Ringle was brought to the Schrader Funeral home, Plymouth. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. this Friday, Aug. 30 at the Salem Congregational church, Salem. Interment will be made in Trayer cemetery.

LABOR DAY

September 2, 1940

Labor Day—a holiday set aside for the nation to pay tribute to its "workers." Some 45,000,000 Americans fall within the classification of labor. What place in the ranks of labor do they all fill? Do they remain "laborers" all their lives? Can a man or woman really "rise the ranks"? These pictures tell the story.

Largest group of laborers toll on the nation's farms, in agricultural pursuits. Here over 11,500,000 workers earn their daily bread. Inset shows Henry Ford, who like many another U. S. industrial leader was born and raised on an American farm. Fifteen years old, he left farm.

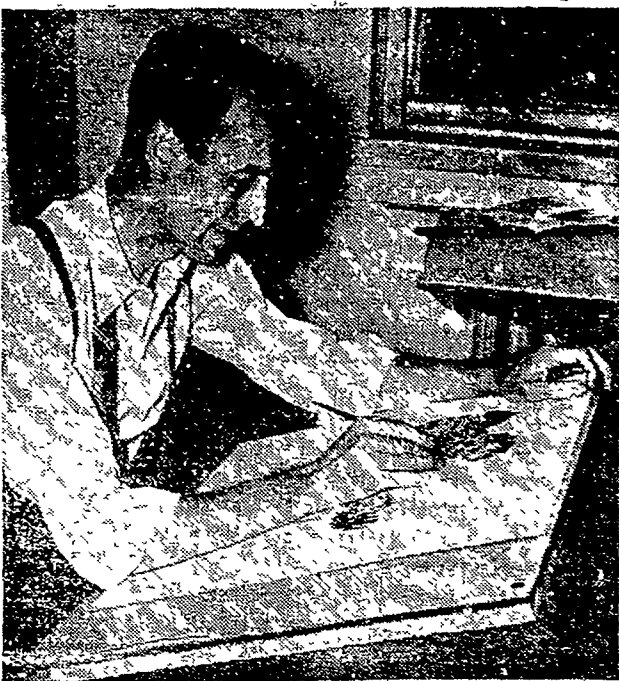

Next in numbers to agricultural laborers come the 10 1/2 million workers employed in the various manufacturing plants of the nation. Inset shows J. C. Penney, owner of 1,200 chain department stores, started his career as a general store clerk.

"Service industries" come next, 9,500,000 workers falling within this category, which includes all types of personal and public service jobs. Irving Berlin (inset) noted U. S. song writer and composer of the patriotic favorite, "God Bless America," was once a "singing waiter."

Famous Artist of "Our Democracy" Cartoons

Hubert J. Mathieu ("Mat")

Hubert J. Mathieu, who draws the "Our Democracy" cartoon series, has been nationally known for years as an illustrator of stories and serials in such magazines as the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers, Ladies Home Journal, McCall's, Cosmopolitan.

Mr. Mathieu's first paid job was as a farm hand, and he owns and lives on a farm today. Born in Brookings, S. D., the son of the late Hubert B. Mathieu, dean of South Dakota State College at Brookings, the artist worked as a boy on nearby farms. He graduated from South Dakota State College in 1913. In his years of success he has gone back to the land. He owns and lives on 150 acres in Bucks County, Pa. The farm which this year has 20 acres in corn, 20 in wheat and 15 in oats, as well as hay and truck, is operated for Mr. Mathieu by his nearest neighbor, on shares. Mr. Mathieu says the farm pays both him and the neighbor.

The series of cartoons "Our Democracy" scheduled to appear weekly in this paper. Mr. Mathieu draws partly on his farm and partly in a studio he rents in New York, where the photograph above was taken.

Mr. Mathieu is of American Revolutionary stock, of French, Dutch and English ancestry. He is married and has four children.

His uncle, Oscar Mathieu, is senior agronomist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Washington.

NORTHVILLE'S CANDIDATE
for Lieutenant Governor
Elton R. Eaton

He has both Wayne county and out-state good will. That's important. He won it by the way he worked during the last two sessions of the legislature.

We Can Win With Him

There will be no out-state opposition to our candidate because he has support in both the metropolitan and rural sections.

He Knows The Job

No candidate is better qualified for the place than our own candidate.

Always For Northville

There is one thing we should not over-look. Elton R. Eaton has always been a good booster for Northville. Here is a chance to return a favor. Let's make it a 100 per cent vote in Northville for Quinn and Hoover vacuum sweepers, washers, refrigerators and stoves and oil burners made a very nice display. The Maybury sanatorium had a booth where work of patients was displayed, and sold. Bastlaw sanatorium, also had a very fine booth of the same nature. The Kroger Store showed coffee. Novels-Lumber company displayed plans and financing suggestions for modern and livable homes. Conoco stokers were also shown by W. W. Sparbeck. The Northville Hardware had a large corner space where Pottery, water systems, pyrex ware, stoves and many items of hardware merchandise were shown. The Bloise hospital displayed articles made in their occupational therapy department.

A very interesting display of pupils work in the grades, art and manual training department of the Northville schools was shown in a separate tent. The poultry building was filled to capacity and was a real mecca for poultry breeders and enthusiasts. In the Woman's Building were found culinary displays, needlework, flowers, dresses and many other items.

At the barns, practically every stall was in use, and the sheep and hog exhibit filled every inch of the two big tents designed for their use. Among the local exhibitors were Frank Carver of Walled Lake, with guernsey calves; Jack Van Dissen with holsteins; Turenor Farms of Novi, owned by Dr. Harold L. Morris, with guernseys. Other exhibits of Brown Swiss, Holsteins, Aberdenn Angus, Guernsey, Jersey and Herford came from herds in other parts.

The educational building housed the offering of the Wayne County Home demonstration and 4-H department.

Character Sketches

Leland Stowe, journalist who uncovered the news of Norway's betrayal into Nazi hands will speak on "Hitler—Over Europe," on Nov. 5. Warden Lawes of Sing Sing Prison, will discuss the American prison system the following week, Nov. 11. Miss Thompson, who will speak on Nov. 19, has chosen the topic on which she writes daily, "Current Problems."

Fifth in the series is Julian Bryan who will show his movies on Brazil and the Argentine on Dec. 2. A month later, Wendell Chapman will appear here with a lecture and motion pictures on animal life in the Rocky mountains.
Dr. William Beebe, scientist and naturalist, will present a lecture on his underwater explorations entitled "500 Fathoms Down."

Completing the series will be Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, late commander of the Navy's Pacific fleet. On Mar. 11, he will discuss the Far Eastern problem. Admiral Yarnell was given a free hand by the State Department to carry out America's diplomatic policy in the Far East, and was decorated with the Distinguished Service Medal for his work.

Fruit Farmer Saves $2600 in Storing

Curiosity of a Michigan farmer in Muskegon county saved him $2,600 in construction of an apple storage house. Thomas Moss, Ravenna, fruit grower, decided the needed sufficient cold storage facilities to put in part of his crop each fall to await the usual periods when apple prices rise above actual harvest levels.

One type of building, a contractor told him, would cost $4,000 for a 5,000 bushel house.
So the fruit grower told his troubles to A. J. Bell, specialist in agricultural engineering at Michigan State College. Bell suggested construction of a amunated rafter type and submitted plans and a list of materials necessary.

With those figures Mr. Moss again asked for cost figures from a contractor and has been able to build on his farm a suitable 5,000 bushel storage house for $1,400.

The structure is 32 by 62 feet, with a space 32 by 30 insulated for
