Mr. W. H. Cansfield
Editor
Northville Record
Northville, Michigan.
Dear Sir:

In confirmation of and in elaboration on our recent conversation, I desire to respectfully make the observations set out below.

As you know, the responsibility for investigations into all espionage, sabotage, and related matters has been placed by Presidential Proclamation of Sept. 6, 1939, in this Bureau, the Federal Bureau of Investigation under the direction of J. Edgar Hoover. This jurisdiction includes all of the so-called Fifth Column activities in this country.

It is our firm belief, based upon past experience in the first World War and since, that any action whatsoever that is taken in these matters is strictly and exclusively a law enforcement problem and responsibility. It is too technical a job for amateurs. There is no place in the picture for vigilante organizations. The only place is

Staying Power

Peoples and countries have often fought alone for civilization. Viewing the present situation, we wonder if Britain fights that battle alone.

We recall that as Britain fights alone today, that the greatest tribute to British staying power was uttered by an American. A hundred years ago Emerson wrote:

Let who will fail, England will not. These people have sat here a thousand years, and will continue to sit. They will not break up or arrive at any desperate revolution, like their neighbors; for they have as much energy, as much confidence of character, as they ever had.

The same tribute is as justly deserved today. Let's give thanks for those who defend the front line, and make that thankfulness and gratitude effective and concrete.

The longer I live the more my mind dwells upon the beauty and wonder of the world. I hardly know which feeling leads, wonderment or admiration.—John Burroughs.

And it's time to register for the November election—and a lot of you Northville people who found to your sorrow that you hadn't registered and couldn't vote at the primary, better get busy—Oct. 16, the last day, isn't that off either.

An Anniversary

During 1940 the world is celebrating the five-hundredth anniversary of the invention of printing from movable type. We don't know that Johann Gutenberg first printed from movable type in 1440, but we do know that he was making some secret experiments in his house in 1439.

In the Americas the present time is doubly significant as a printing anniversary, for it was in 1539—100 year ago—that the first book came from Juan Pablos' press in Mexico City. Pablos had bought the first printing press to the Western Hemisphere in that year.

Last year we celebrated another anniversary, and one of world-wide importance—the centennial of Daguerre's invention of photography. During the past decade photography and printing have been combined in a new technique, that has already given us thousands upon thousands of printed pages on small rolls of motion picture film, called autophotography.

Premarital Blood Tests

Blood tests for men and women applying for marriage licenses have been running from 4,500 to 10,000 a month this year in public and private laboratories, reports the Michigan Department of Health.

From January through July, the latest month for which figures are available from all laboratories, the total number of premarital blood tests was 51,404. Tests positive for syphilis were 591, or 1.15 per cent.

In the seven months, the figures show that 25,000 couples have met satisfactorily the provisions of the state marriage examination law, which requires a blood test and a physician's examination for all license applicants.

Laboratory examinations of all types for syphilis showed a considerable increase in July over a year ago. In July, 1939, public and private laboratory examinations totaled 49,725, as compared with 62,476 in July of this year.

Congressman Dondore did not vote on the compulsory military training bill. He was one of three Michigan members of Congress not voting on the measure.

And don't you think that the summer recreation program as developed and carried through by the united efforts of the Villagers was greatly worthwhile. Not only did the sponsoring groups, the directing personnel, and boys and girls get a lot out of it, but it proved that folks here in Northville can work together in a worthy cause.

And what a convention those GOPers had down Detroit way. If we lived outside Wayne county we might say we were ashamed. Being on the edge of Wayne disgust and distrust vie for expression. But can this be the dark before the dawn?

Wallace Wrong Again!

Democratic Vice-Presidential Candidate Henry Wallace in his acceptance speech asserted that during the seven years that President Roosevelt has been in office farm income has "been more than doubled." Like so many New Deal statements, that one is just not true.

Figures supplied by the United States Bureau of Department of Agriculture show that from 1933 to 1939, the year in which Mr. Roosevelt became President, total farm income was $17,200,000,000, the last full year for which we have a report, they were $7,200,000,000. This is an increase, to be sure, but it is NOT MORE THAN DOUBLED.

Of course, it is not fair to compare the year against another unless age is taken of all circumstances. A fair basis of comparison is that of the full seven years of the New Deal and the seven previous years. What does it stand in the case of farm income?

Cash farm income for the seven Republican years preceding the New Deal—including the worst years of the depression—averaged $9,048,000,000 a year. The average annual total for the New Deal seven-year period was $7,247,000,000. Annual average income per farm for the 1928-32 period was $1,432 compared with $1,082 for the 1933-39 period. Average annual income per farm per year for the Republican period was $228 compared with $223 for the New Deal years. The figures for the New Deal years include benefit payments from the Federal Government.

It is no wonder Henry Wallace devoted most of his speech to the foreign situation!

New Deal Drops in Exports

In the depression year of 1932 exports of American products had a value of $732,000,000. In 1939 agricultural exports had a value of $622,000,000.

American Boy Is Companion to Thousands

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read The American Boy magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than a magazine.

It is as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood team, writes one high school senior. The American Boy magazine is a companion to thousands of boys and young men in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in The American Boy.

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in The American Boy magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in tip and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of youth clubs also recommend The American Boy enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of The American Boy advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, fun-coaches and athletic explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in The American Boy, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

The American Boy sells on most newsstands at 25c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $2.50 for three years. Foreign and Canadian rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to The American Boy, 3420 Second Blvd., Detroit. adv

Deer Wrecks Car Near Sandriver
 Last week while motoring in the Upper Peninsula, Dorin Smith and Leard Card of the Maybury sanatorium had quite an exciting time near Sandriver, where a deer ran out of the forest, rubbing head on the car, blocking the way and causing serious damage to the car. After carrying the deer off the highway, the boys returned to the car. The scene attracted a passing motorist who reported the accident to the State Police and Conservation officers in Marquette about two hours later they arrived on the scene. The boys returned with the police to Marquette.
 Mr. Smith sent a wrecker after his car. On looking it over, it was found it could not be repaired for a few days. They started home via the thumb method, arriving here Tuesday. They report good fishing and bear and deer plentiful around Munising. Mr. Smith will return to Marquette this week for his car.

LANSING — Political fireworks will soon start popping. With the Democratic ticket already completed and the Republican slate awaiting action at the Grand Rapids state convention, opening this Thursday, Sept. 26, the campaign is expected to get under way vigorously.

Wendell Willkie, the Republican standard-bearer, invaded Michigan on Monday, Sept. 23, for an address before the national convention of the Republican Women's clubs at Olympia in Detroit. And despite President Roosevelt's insistence that affairs of state will keep him from political engagements, Chairman Charles Ferritt and his helpers haven't given up hope yet that the President may inspect Fort Wayne in Detroit, or Selkridge Field at Mount Clemens, on a national defense trip into the midlands.

Both state headquarters are officially optimistic, of course. It's going to be a colorful party, if Mr. and Mrs. John Public only take their minds off the European tug-of-war. Therein is another story.

Anti-War Sentiment

Word from Washington's congressional row is the effect that recent mail from the home front predicts has been running heavily anti-war.

To give you an idea how Michigan home folks feel about it, here is the roll call on the compulsory military service bill: Against it — Senators Arthur Vandenberg (R) and Prentiss Brown (D); Representatives Blackney, Bradley, Crawford, Hoffman, Jonkman, McLeod, Michener, Steiner, Wolcott, and Woodruff (all Republicans) and Democrats Dingell, Lesinski, Rabaut and Tenover.

Out of Michigan's delegation of 27 congressmen, three did not vote Republican? Dondy and Engel and Democrat Hook. The score in reality was an overwhelming protest against conscription like it or not. It merely illustrates the observation of made that congressmen are responsive to the feelings of the folk back home. In this case, the mail has been heavy, anti-conscription and anti-war. An election is looming, too. Money also is fresh that Senator Vandenberg, opposed to conscription, won a smashing primary victory.

Public Opinion

If the congressional vote and the mailing trend is any accurate index of Michigan public opinion, the anti-war state of thought may have a bearing on the November election.

Both party nominees are busy trying to pin the appearance of it on the other, while both have also announced in unmistakable words a pledge not to send American boys overseas again to fight on foreign soils.

Headly Cantrell, director of the Princeton Public Opinion Research project, has been laboring since the outbreak of the war on an intensive study of the American mind with respect to "neutrality and war. Aided by a grant of funds from the Rockefeller Foundation, Dr. Cantrell has come to some definite conclusions as given in the current issue of Public Opinion Quarterly. As they have a relation to the Michigan senatorial and congressional attitude, we will review them briefly.

War's outbreak in September, 1939, found an overwhelming majority of American people utterly confident that England and France would win, as shown by the George Gallup polls at that time. By late summer, 1940, more people believed the Germans will win than those clinging to hopes of an ultimate Allied victory.

As of Aug. 1, hopes were rising that the British, after all, might save "our" country. There were enough to get an ultimate triumph due to their economic blockade. Yet, while a large majority of Americans want Washington to do more to assist the British, they also balk at anything that might embroil us in the conflict. Certainly, both nominees are pledged not to send the Yankees over there, although it will be recalled that President Wilson was re-elected in 1916 on a record of keeping us out of war—and we went to war the very next spring.

Isolationists

Dr. Cantrell makes the observation that about one-quarter of our population adhere to an isolationist view. More important to keep out of war than "help England."

Also, a majority of the isolationists believe that Germany will win the war. Of possible interest to our women readers is Dr. Cantrell's observation that the Gallup polls show there are more women in this isolationist group than men; also more poor people than those well-to-do.

The latter, Americans tend to believe especially that the war is largely a contest between the British and Germans over power and wealth rather than over democracy.

A second group is made up of the interventionists who, as we enter the fall season, make up a good third of the country's population. These citizens favor conscription; they fear a German attack on this country. They feel we should go to the limit in helping beleaguered England, even at the risk of involvement in the war ourselves.

This group comprises many people over 30 years of age in the upper and middle income groups; they take an educated long-range view, possess greater stability of opinion, and are fully aware of the economic consequences of war dislocation.

Sympathetic Group

A 49 per cent group (No. 3) is sympathetic with England but agree with the isolationist group that it is more important to keep out of war than to aid England.

With regards to the possibility of a German victory, the sympathetic group is about half-way between the isolationist and the interventionist groups.

At the present time, when new British pleas for military assistance are arriving at Washington, the nation finds itself in a contradictory state of public opinion. And England but keep out of war, first and last!

It is this majority viewpoint, as analyzed by Michigan congressmen, whether in the senate or in the house that was behind the almost solid anti-conscription vote last week.

News from Walled Lake

By CHARLES E. HUTTON

The Walled Lake Methodist Choir began its twelfth year of activity with the first rehearsal of the season, Tuesday evening. The group will have a new director, yet to be appointed, for the first time since its inception. Charles Hutton, who organized the choir in 1928, resigned as its conductor at the close of the church year just passed. He directed the group at Tuesday evening's rehearsal and was presented with a gift from the choir members.

The first meeting of the Women's Study club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Carls. An outline of the coming year's work was discussed with Miss Ruth Bradley, president of the club, presiding. This was the first meeting of the program.

Other columns in today's issue will no doubt have something to say of Northville's nation of Walled Lake last Friday, which was in the nature of a children's winter camp training camp.

The local park army organized 60 yards of pranks had been drilled into school boys on defensive maneuvers, which included combat air operations and tank maneuvering, and the use of both in defense and offense strategy against the enemy.

But the invaders from the north had their own ideas. It seems they also had been doing a little rehearsing and had developed a combination offensive and defensive in the form of aerial bombardments, machine-gunned assaults, and blockades plus some sort of intimidation against the results of the attack, they found the final score to be 12 to 2, favoring the battalions from Northville.

It should be mentioned that the home squad made seven first downs, as did the victors. But the principle loss, aside from the game was in yardage, which totalled 40.

Wendell Willkie Says:

"I believe that the Federal Government has a responsibility to equalize the lot of the farmer with that of the manufacturer. If this cannot be done by party process, other means must be found—the least possible regimentation of the farmer's affairs."

Would Not Pay for New Deal in the calendar year 1932 the total income of all persons receiving $3,000 and over was $629,000,000. If all such income had been carefully taxed, it would have yielded by one billion dollars to pay for Federal expenditures of 1932. It could not be sufficient to pay for the Federal expenditures of 1939.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Whipple left Tuesday for a two-week motor trip through New York and New England.

Fifth Column False Alarms Bring Harm to Innocent

(Reprinted from The Detroit News, Sept. 23)

By REX G. WHITE

Perhaps as just another symptom of hot weather madness, the "rumor-hunting" activity as aimed at suspected fifth columnists and spies is rising to new heights in Detroit and Michigan. One result has been actual harm to scores of first rate American citizens whose only crime is the fact they have a name that is, or sounds, as if it were of German origin.

Many are having suspicions of fifth column activity or anti-American sentiment on the part of a neighbor or acquaintance should inform a law enforcement agency, but aside from that keep his mouth shut," John S. Rugas, who is in charge of the Detroit office of the FBI, said today.

"We do not want to discourage anyone from reporting any suspicious circumstances. But we realize fully how much harm can be done by careless talk. We have repeatedly after investigation, gone out of our way to give a man a clean bill of health. We are anxious to obtain every scrap of information possible, but we cannot urge too strongly that such reports be made only to us or some other responsible investigating agency."

Detroit newspapers, the police department and even American Legion posts have been flooded with reports, many of them absurd, many obviously inspired by malice, many based on hysteria. A mail is known to have a great fondness for salacious or prefers Zueback to wheat bread. Someone starts a "rumor." A man has a German book in his library—ah! That is food for gossip. It needs only a whisper to start an ever-widening circle and the first thing the unfortunate owner of a German name knows his business falls away, his practice dwindles, his factory mates turn cold shoulders. It presents a somewhat difficult situation because some of these things may indeed lead to something, perhaps one in 1,000. The investigating agencies do not want to loose that thousandth case.

"A man is giving data about Detroit factories every night in German over the telephone to New York," comes a report. Investigation showed the language used was Yiddish and the "data" had to do with the sale of fish to a New York commission house.

"There's a German" fellow that has a secret chemical shop in his basement and he is making bombs," is the report. The man in question turned out to be Polish, and his "secret chemical shop" was an amateur photographic dark room.

It was right and proper to make the reports, but suppose instead the suspicious one had merely spread the report in his neighborhood. Almost anything might have happened. One of the most absurd and yet troublesome items that has come to the attention of the law agencies is the attention directed toward a windshield sticker of the American flag distributed by an oil company.

Somebody imagined he saw a design of a snake and floggers hidden in the shading. Smashed windshields and motorists dragged from their cars by irascible groups resulted. The plates were made 8 years ago before any one ever heard of Hitler, columnists and the flag design is entirely innocent.

A doctor with a German name and a trace of an accent has had serious charges made in his practice because of some spread about some of them even though he had a secret landing radio set in his home. There was no harm whatever for this story.

There is just one answer. If you think you have grounds to suspect

Mr. Schmidt or Mr. Schneider say nothing can be changed easier than a name. Go to a law enforcement agency and to no one else. These are not times for amateur detective work.

Northville's Friendly Bus Operator

DR. JOHN A. ROSS
OPTOMETRIST
809 PENNINGTON
PLYMOUTH

DEAR MR. BIDDLE:

You have taken a commercial enterprise and by the very nature of your personality, made it into a friendly service uniting distances from Northville and her surrounding institutions with Five Points.

Your bus service for seven years has served hundreds of persons who wanted to visit Northville's Maybury and Eastlawn sanatoriums, the Wayne County Training school and the House of Correction. You've made these travels friendly trips, bringing happiness to the many confined in these institutions, whose highlights each week are visits from those they love.

We have not forgotten the mother who boarded your bus last Christmas, ready to spend part of her last dollar for far so that she might spend the Holiday with her son at the Wayne County Training school. The occasion was filled with true Christmas Spirit for her when she learned that all passengers were to ride without charge on Christmas day. You made her visit with her son a real Christmas present. And she was just one of 337 persons who rode without charge in your buses that day.

We remember, too, the day you set aside to give all the proceeds to the Maybury Goodfellows' club and the King's Daughters of Northville. We understand that this is to be an annual charity contribution from you to these organizations.

Weary commuters find your word of cheer at the end of the day a comfort. You've gone out of your way to serve your clientele in a manner that is impossible anywhere but in a village. Many a time you have driven off your regular path to do a favor for a passenger who needed an added service.

Icy pavements, snow banked roads, fog and rain have never broken into your daily schedule of 18-hour service to these persons who depend upon your buses for transportation. You and your drivers merit this confidence by always maintaining through transportation to the points on your line.

Throughout the year, the Biddle Bus service is the same: regular, dependable, with always the safety of your passengers in mind.

You've made it a friendly venture. We've watched you greet your passengers—young and old—with a courteous smile. Their interests and problems have your sympathy. We've watched you wave to friends who stood by their gates as your bus went by en route to scheduled points.

Students commuting to the Northville schools know that travel with you is always safe and sure. Their parents know it, too, and send them off daily through the school year, confident that no traffic "chances" will be taken by you or your drivers.

For giving this transportation in a friendly way... for your generosity in sharing the profits of your well-earned patronage, we commend you and congratulate Northville in being served by you.

Sincerely,
JOHN A. ROSS.

Hardy Speaks to Assembly

Speaker's Talk Centers on Principles of American Way of Life
Wednesday, Sept. 18, Louis Eaton opened the assembly program by announcing the football game with Farmington, and E. C. Mollena announced a debate meeting.

Mr. Hardy's speech centered mainly on the principles of democracy and how our forefathers who with many sacrifices obtained their freedom which so many of us take for granted.

His speech was very interesting and made many of us realize how lucky we are to live in America and that we should do everything we can to uphold democracy and its ideals.

Wootton of Scotland Attends N. H. S.
The Northville high school students have in their midst a sophomore who has been in this country for approximately eight weeks. Margaret Wootton (better known as Margie) came over on the S. S. Washington from Scotland in order to get away from war-torn Europe.

Margie has done much traveling during her 15 years, having crossed the ocean twice and having visited both England and Canada. She was born in America, but went to Scotland when she was seven where she has remained until recently.

When asked what characteristics she liked best in the American people she replied, "American honor." Unlike America, baseball is not a very noted sport in Scotland and football and cricket are high on the list. The school are each different too, as each student takes about 10 subjects a year.

Several of the 1940 graduates have gone to colleges and others have found employment. Leonard Fritz is employed at the Cadillac in Detroit. Arthur Carlson now has an extra ride going to and from South Lyon for Alton Geton is the office boy at the Sears' Tube. Norma Geton can now be asked how to make vanilla ice cream at the Northville Laboratories. When you go into the Kroger store to buy groceries you will probably see George Houghton buying apples. Robert Pender is now employed at the Mary Teroy in Northville. Fred Robinson can be found working at Wolcott Super Market. Clayton Rodgers is employed at the Sinclair gas station on South Center street.

EDITORIALS

SCHOOL SPIRIT
Now is the time, when the athletic teams will need the support of the school and townspeople. The football team this year is better than it has been in recent years. The team would also appreciate the support of the townspeople. People have given them in years gone by. So if you want to see them play, give them your support.

Letter Perfect
Thumbs down on your faded summer tan and your long straggling locks, also that half-drowned look that coincided so well with the lake-steps. Excuse those too pale clothes from sight. Overhaul your hands, frankly they look like those of your true climbing ancestors. Bleach out your crop of freckles with lemon rind. Summer is over and there is nothing left but those hideous candle snags and all that excess tanage we acquired, although we couldn't possibly lose it now that fall is here.

It is very chic to be seen during these days of reading, rife and rhythmic humming, your way up the school steps in a jumper dress, sweaters, or blouses and matching beanie of corduroy are very smart. Knee length socks or ankle socks (one of each color, so Vogue specifies) are now a "must have" in your wardrobe.

Will close now, while you reconsider for the styles that we will describe next week. We hope!

Have you ever played football in the middle of the Sahara Desert? That is about what it was like last Friday during the game at Walled Lake. Ask the boys and they'll tell you that after drinking water they usually had a mouthful of mud.

Have you seen a growling football squad around school lately? No, they're not growling over the victory against Walled Lake. It was just a gut from Don Miller's dairy. It was in the form of a five gallon can of chocolate milk which he promised more milk for further victories. The groans were caused by over-indulgence.

Blue Baron's Orchestra Will Play Music for Social Affair
Well, here it is! The one thing that most of us have been waiting for. The first dance of the year and it will be given after the football game, Friday, Sept. 27, which will be played at Northville, against Farmington, our last home game. The price is 25 cents and there will be no reduction on the price for couples. The music will be played by the Blue Barons. So come on everyone. Join the fun. Let's make it a big dance.

Select Students for Hall Duty
The persons for hall duty were appointed early last week. Below is a list of the appointees: First hour: Yvonne Taylor, Pat Lord, Francis Middleton and Betty Mercer. Second hour: Ronald Anderson, Janice Covell, Marjorie Parmenter and Lewis Foreman. Third hour: Alvin Lender, Kay Stephens, Harriet Carlson and Arthur-Bredemeyer. Fourth hour: Orville Lize, Bud Earhart, June Wilder and Carrel Carlson. Fifth hour: Dorothy Trapp, Harvey Ritchie, Barbara Speer and Margaret Morse. Around the School

At the Senior Students Council meeting held last Thursday, the subject of the ticket sales was brought up. They were on site for the first football game last Friday in the office for its cards. By the way, if you wish to save money buy a budget ticket for all football and basketball games.

Miss Hagie Marie Moore's fifth hour English class is planning a program this Friday. They are going to broadcast a play over the loud speaker. Margie Edmondson, Murray and James Remally are on the committee in charge.

The high school faculty held a meeting at the school, Tuesday.

Have you ever played football in the middle of the Sahara Desert? That is about what it was like last Friday during the game at Walled Lake. Ask the boys and they'll tell you that after drinking water they usually had a mouthful of mud.

Have you seen a growling football squad around school lately? No, they're not growling over the victory against Walled Lake. It was just a gut from Don Miller's dairy. It was in the form of a five gallon can of chocolate milk which he promised more milk for further victories. The groans were caused by over-indulgence.

The Pioneers—it was Land that Brought Them to the West
They were hardy men who pushed our frontiers toward the West. Men who knew what they wanted. Men who weren't to be stopped. They wanted land: Land to own. To build upon. Land to grow crops on. No obstacle was too great for them!
Land is Wealth
The frontiers are gone, but not the pioneers. There are still men with foresight. Men who love the land. People are still making sacrifices that they might own a parcel of this earth upon which we live. Be safe yourself.
