Vote in Northville Is Heavy; Township Stays Republican

Northville's Presidential, Gubernatorial and County Favorites Lose as Votes Are Tabulated for Entire State

1833 Cast Ballots

Traditionally republican Northville township remained republican Tuesday at the polls, but lost its vote in the county as a large vote went strongly democratic. Northville lost its vote, too, in the presidential and gubernatorial contests.

The tabulation from the State as late as Thursday noon, gave Roosevelt, a slight lead over William Van Wagoner winning over incumbent Luren D. Dickinson in the gubernatorial race. Frank Murphy, democrat, was leading Eugene C. Keyes, republican, for the lieutenant governorship. In the U. S. senatorial race, Vandenberg stays ahead of Democrat Fitzgerald.

Republican Harry P. Kelly had a substantial lead over Leo V. Card for secretary of state. The democrats edged in again in the attorney general returns, making Raymond W. Starr the favorite over Republican Herbert J. Rushton. This setup was true also of the state treasurer race, where Democrat Theodore J. Fry gained a margin over Republican Felix H. Flynn.

Gops Take Auditor General The republicans were safe again in the auditor generalship, with Vernon J. Brown leading over Democrat D. Dotsch.

In the justice of the supreme court contest, Boyles had a substantial margin over Philip Elliot. For circuit court, George A. Hendrix was ahead of Frank Day Smith, and in the judge of probate, D. J. Healy and Joseph A. Murphy were leading over Edward Conrath and Ernest D. O'Brien.

Congressman George A. Dondoro was Northville's choice, and he has a size margin throughout the district over his opponent Draper Allen.

Field Is Winner In the State Legislature, Northville choice, Republican Clarence A. Field, was assured of victory in the 16th district. In like manner, Republican Edward F. Fisher had a substantial margin over Harry B. Brown for the fifth district in the State representative contest.

As did the State at large, Northville voted no against the last proposal, which was the provision for raising funds for schools. Northville's vote on the state constitution of D. S. R. was defeated by a no vote from other sections. This community was in line again on the second proposal, the civil service question, by favoring it, as did the State at large. Also proposal of the regulation of dentistry, was favored here as it was out-state.

Voting in Northville's two precincts was heavy. The first precinct, 104 voters, cast 438 straight republican ballots; 213 voted straight democratic; 262 were mixed and 140 were split.

In the second precinct, 789 votes were cast, 343 being straight republican; 202 were democratic; 240 were split; and 2 were socialist.

Milford Club Guest Tuesday of Rotarians

Elton Eaton Is Guest Speaker; Byron Hewitt Is Chairman of Meeting

Thursday, Hon. Elton Eaton of Plymouth spoke before the Northville Rotary club upon the "Problems of the Crippled Child in Michigan." The occasion was an inter-community meeting with the Milford club and was under the guiding hand of Byron Hewitt, who presided during the program. About 12 Milford Rotarians came for the program, among them the son of Mr. Hewitt, who is secretary of the Milford club.

Mr. Eaton told of some of the problems of the legislature in meeting situations as they developed in the matter of caring for the crippled children of Michigan, and the way in which fees set by the state, the the division of responsibility was arrived at by the legislature.

"One of the most progressive step Michigan can take in solving the crippled and afflicted children's problem would be the immediate construction of at least one and probably two state hospitals for children," stated Elton R. Eaton, state representative of Plymouth, in a talk Tuesday noon before a joint meeting of the Northville and Milford Rotary clubs.

"One institution should be devoted to the care of some 1,000 or more children who are hopelessly crippled and can never be cured and who will always be a public responsibility. They are alert, intelligent, and therefore should not be sent to Caro or Lapeer. But some proper custodial provision should be made for their permanent care, especially as long as the taxpayers must bear the bill," he said.

He also declared that he believes Michigan could greatly improve its care for both crippled and afflicted children if the state had a hospital devoted entirely to their care.

"Not only would the state be able to provide better and more uniform treatment for crippled and afflicted children, but it would prove far more economical," he said.

"Foreign Exchange" Telephone Rates To Be Changed

The advertisement of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, appearing in this issue of The Northville Record, is a special notice of intent to request approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission to change rates and charges.

The rate changes proposed have no bearing on the company's regular exchange and toll service. The rates in question apply only to telephone service furnished to customers located in one city from the exchange of another city, e.g., Kalamazoo service furnished to Grand Rapids. Such service is provided by means of special "foreign exchange" lines of private lines.

909 Ballots Cast in Record Vote for Novi Township

County Offices Go Republican in Oakland; Novi Backs County Winners; Loses Governor and President Choices

Favors Parkway

Over in Oakland county, Novi cast 909 voters to the polls, making it the heaviest vote in the township's history.

Like Northville, Novi was republican throughout the balloting, and like Northville, lost its gubernatorial and presidential votes.

Novi did better on its county ticket than Northville, backing winning republicans, making Charles L. Wilson, prosecuting attorney; Spencer C. Rowland, sheriff; Lynn D. Allen, clerk; Charles A. Sparks, treasurer; Orrin McQuaid, register of deeds; Earl L. Clark, drain commissioner; Burton M. Mitchell and Leon F. Cobb, coroners; Clair L. Johnson, surveyor.

For circuit court commissioners, Novi's choice was Moore and Hampton. The county at large favored Hampton and Cole.

Novi voted no on proposals one and three, favoring two and four. In Oakland county, the vote followed that same trend. The parkway proposal was carried.

Dondoro led Oakland county over Allen for congressional representative. McCallum, republican, is the favorite over Johnson for State.

A DAY TO STOP AND THINK

BE GLAD YOU'RE AN AMERICAN

In the past few years Armistice Day has taken on a new meaning. It is now a day on which you not only pay respects to those who gave their lives in the last war, but a day on which you also reverently pray that America can remain a land of peace and freedom.

This Armistice Day, when you face the East, give a short prayer that peace shall reign on earth very soon. . . and resolve that you will do everything in your power to preserve the peace that America enjoys. Pledge yourself to be a good American. . . that you will protect the American way of living and thinking.

BE A GOOD AMERICAN - PROTECT AMERICA!

510 Votes Cast at Polls Tuesday in Salem Township

Salem Favors a Winning Washtenaw County Ticket; Votes No on First Three Proposals

Same County Trend

Salem, with 510 voters going to the polls, was republican throughout the ticket, losing as did Northville and Novi, its presidential and gubernatorial votes, but making its county ticket good in every instance.

For Washtenaw county, Salemites helped elect Michener to congress; McCallum to the State senate; Warner to the State representative; Meador, prosecuting attorney; Osborn, sheriff; Smith, county clerk; Fleming, county treasurer; Stau, register of deeds; Timmy, drain commissioner; Ganzhorn and Harris, coroners; Pray, judge of probate; Brown, court commissioner. 73 Complaints Made to Police, Halloween

Northville's police report that the Halloween pranks and more pranks than years than any time during the past three years.

Little actual property destruction occurred, but soaping of windows, dragging old cars and wagons upon public property, and removing coorpses gave reason for a large number of complaints, 73 in all.

A false alarm instigated by seven youths sent the fire truck on a wild chase around midnight. Within half an hour after the alarm was placed, the youth guilty of the act was in custody and his pals who were "in on the job" with him were soon found. These boys have been working for the village this week, paying the $30 which the truck run cost.

Some 30 students of Wayne University were at the Meadowbrook Country club Wednesday, to try out the golf for the National Red Cross tournament, which will be held there Nov. 23.

News from Walled Lake

By C. E. HUTTON

Another practical demonstration of what may happen at a railroad crossing which is unprotected by electrical warning signals was provided Friday afternoon, when a train crashed into the car of Miss Mary Everett, Walled Lake school teacher, who was en route to Northville.

The accident occurred at the crossing on Novi road, just north of the Wayne-Oakland county line, at about 3 p.m. Friday. According to reports, Mrs. Everett swung her car parallel with the tracks just as the train came to the crossing. She was thrown from the car and landed on the ground. It was this maneuver which was thought to have saved her from serious injury, although her car, which was said to have been shored down the track about 500 feet, was badly damaged.

Halloween in these parts Tuesday left no doubt in the community that at any similar time in past years. Aside from the usual soap and tallow window decorations on automobiles and business places there was little to indicate the presence of pranks. A possible exception was the burning of the dilapidated remains of an abandoned farmhouse on Portageville road, near Decker road. The property is owned by Ben Weller, whose home is nearby. The Walled Lake fire department was called to keep the fire from spreading. It was thought that the fire was incendiary.

Victims of paralytic strokes during the past week were James Williams of Walled Lake road, and Mrs. William, widow of the latter road. It was thought that Mrs. Williams would make full recovery, but the condition of Mrs. Nodel is said to be critical.

How To Display and Honor Our United States Flag

NOTE—With the coming of Armistice Day, and the increasing public consciousness of the flag as an emblem of respect, reverence and devotion, we feel that a few simple rules of flag etiquette may be timely, and appreciated by many of our subscribers.

1. Display the flag on a flagpole.

2. Do not display the flag in inclement weather, unless there is some special reason for doing so.

3. In raising or lowering the flag never let it touch the ground. Raise briskly; lower slowly and ceremoniously. In the handling of the flag treat it as you would your mother's picture—never place on it, or near it, anything that might be soiled or discolored.

4. Use common sense for draping the flag.

5. Flag against wall—stuffs crossed—U. S. flag is on observer's left, staff in front of other flag.

6. On staff put our window—flag is pulled to the right edge of staff.

7. Order middle of front—flag suspended vertically—blue field to north or east.

8. On speakers, platform—flag is above and behind speaker. On staff—in position of honor at speaker's right—preferably slightly in front.

9. Displayed on wall or in case—horizontally or vertically—blue field—uppermost, and in case—right flag is nearest to left.

10. When suspended over street—on pole from building—blue field is put out of sight from the street.

11. In procession, over head—blue field is in front of other flags or in front of other flags in line.

12. In a group, flag should be in center and flag should be in center.

13. In a group, flag should be in center and flag should be in center.

14. In a group, flag should be in center and flag should be in center.

15. In a group, flag should be in center and flag should be in center.

and A Word of Commendation

TO THOSE WHO MADE THE

HONOR BANQUET A SUCCESS

Too much cannot be said for the praise-worthy efforts and the accomplishments of those who made the Northville Young Voters Recognition Banquet a successful community venture.

The Northville Coordinating Council, pioneering the idea, brought to its aid the generous services of many citizens prominent in Northville's civic progress. To Mrs. L. M. Eaton for her work in organizing the "21ers" for instruction; To Sup't. R. H. Amerman, Prin. G. V. Harrison and Ward Masters for their directing genius; To President W. H. Johnston, Secretary Mrs. Kenneth A. Kitchen, and to Dr. Howard R. Chapman; To E. C. Mollena and Neville Walker for their instruction aid; To the cooperative spirit of Exchange and Rotary, and to the noteworthy community interest evident throughout the entire period as symbolized by the three hundred who applauded his Honor the Mayor of Detroit; we offer our sincere congratulations.

Your efforts, spirit of cooperation, and noteworthy zeal is, indeed, basically typical of Northville at its best. Again our congratulations to you of Northville... move forward to greater things.

Of course not, yet many people discard good shoes simply because they need repairs. Inexpensive work that would make them good as new - and more comfortable.

Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows: Did you buy your car on neckties, crick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort—you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to an car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, for appointments, for fine finish, for comfort.

But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal

Buick on its downright all-round performance ability.

On its power—on its pull—on its pick-up—on its easy handling (including freedom from shifting)—yes, and on its thrift.

Nowhere will you find a car that does so much so well and so frugally.

You'll find novelties in the new Buicks of course, but these are not the chief attraction. Instead you'll see the top big basic engineering developments of the year—FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion.

Armistice Day, 1940

Possible Thoughts

BY THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

TODAY millions of Americans will be thinking of me, the Unknown Soldier.

Millions of mothers will brush away a tear as my name is mentioned. Fathers will look proud but sad as they hear taps sounded, and are told that some great dignity has placed a wreath upon my grave!

I am the son of America!

I am the boy with the laughing blue eyes who drove the cows at milking time.

I am the brown-haired neophyte who bent above the whirling machinery.

I am the happy flames leap high in campfires that sear men's souls.

I am the young student, the quiet chap, who had a hobby. I am the lad who dodged papers at 42nd Street and Broadway.

I am the son of a millionaire. I am the youngest in a needy family of 12.

I represent America's contribution to that chaotic world of 1917!

Today, in this bewildered period of history, the people of America will look to me on this Armistice Day of 1940 for an answer to the question—

"What America in this war-torn world?"

This is my reply:

I ask that in the quietest of reflection when each American pauses in tribute to my memory, he think not alone of the dust beneath my tomb.

Think not of a grave, but of holding aloft a shining hope to guide the sorrowing hearts of multitudes of bewildered people!

Hold high the hope of liberty and democracy.

America, the world flings out to you a challenge.

Go forth, then, in purity of purpose, in staunch defense of freedom! Proclaim to the nations that you will always cling to those basic principles upon which you were founded.

High above the powers of darkness, the force of tyranny, the hell of war, we, whose blood was spilled on Flanders Field, would lead you!

We cry not, "To war, to war," but rather we urge you to a united national preparedness, that when Americans may never be the aggressors, they shall not be the victims of aggression from without or of treachery from within.

"The whole world must see America strong, sturdy, steadfast, capable in defense, not alone of her own shores."

Tickets Go on Sale in Ann Arbor for Winter
Series of Musical Art Quartet Concerts

Tickets for the Musical Art Quartet series which will be given on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening Jan. 14 and 15, 1941 may be ordered by mail at the offices of the University Musical Society in the Burton, Mum and Tower Course, located adjacent to the three concerts in the three concerts in the Chamber Music Festival series are listed at $1.00 and for individual concerts at $1.00 each. Orders for tickets will be given consideration in order of receipt and will be mailed out about the 25th of November.

On Monday, Nov. 25, at 8:30 o'clock, all invited tickets will be for the season or for individual concerts only. Tickets will be at the Society's office in the Burton Memorial Tower, over the corner.

The quartet is made up of four distinguished performers, each of whom is a soloist in his own right, and which together constitute an ensemble which has been referred to as eight hands which play as one. The organization has been associated for more than 14 years. Each performer, through a long and arduous career, has sacrificed individual career to what they considered the greater career of a united series of performances.

Sascha Jacobson, founder and first violinist, was a child prodigy and later won distinction as a virtuoso. He is a serious artist, a fine technician, and a brilliant interpreter. He was educated largely under the tutelage of Leopold Auer and Franz Kneisel.

Paul Bernard, second violinist, also studied with Auer and Kneisel. He made his debut in New York in 1922, and has appeared extensively in concerts as soloist and in association with other distinguished performers.

William Hymanson, violist, was born in New York, and for two years was concertmaster of the National Orchestral Association.

The only woman in the group is Marie Rosmarin-Rosenoff, who holds a high place among violinists. She first studied under Pavo Casals and then won distinction in Europe, and more recently in America.

The four instruments on which the group performs are valued at a quarter of a million dollars. These were presented to the ensemble by four wealthy people who specified that their names should not be disclosed. The titles to the instruments remain with the purchasers, but the members of the Quartet have assurances of their use so long as the Quartet remains together. One violin is the Red Diamond, made in 1732; and the other is unnamed, but was made in 1703. The viola is the St. Senech, dated 1726, while the cello is the Benvenuto of 1730. The instruments are per-

"To date we find that the actual sewage flow to the Wayne county system is about 60 per cent greater than the total water consumption on which we have been receiving revenues. This excess is accounted for by ground water seepage into the sewers and the fact that we treat the first flush of storm water flow which is heavily laden with sludge which has accumulated in the large trunk sewers between storms," asserts the commissioners.
