OFFER SOILS ENGINEERING
A request for a vote on the type of short course based on soils engineering studies most useful to Michigan engineers is announced by C. L. Allen, professor of civil engineering at Michigan State college. Principal question involves whether the course should be conducted an evening week for eight weeks or should be a three-day conference operated probably latter part of January. Soil is the oldest of engineering materials, claims Professor Allen, yet the investigation and study of soil and its behavior from an engineering standpoint is one of the newer phases of the engineering field.

DEFENSE FACTS

How much is rearmament and armament war, or both going to cost us? and when and how shall we pay for it?

Voboddy can answer accurately, because nobody can foresee the course of such a war. We must have total defense. No matter what it costs, we shall somehow have to pay for it - or our children's children. Certain as JOHNSON is that conclusion, there should be at least the attempt to let our people look in the face of the facts. There has been none.

The administration has just announced that the war department since July 1, has awarded contracts in excess of 45 billions, and the navy about 4.2 billions, total 2.7 billions. "And for all defense purposes more than 10 of the 16 billions voted by congress to reinforce defenses have been obligated."

This is confusing because the difference between 8.7 billions for armament and 10 billions for "defenses" is 1.3 billions, for which the exact use is not specified. Some cities are insisting the federal government rebuild their street systems for national defense. Several other more nearly do-or-die spending projects are being called "national defense." Finally, the figure 16 billions voted by congress to reinforce defense, is a footer that checks with no for-highest appropriation I can find. This kind of reporting is pretty much razzle-dazzle.

Furthermore, the report is almost meaningless, because, as quoted in the A. P. dispatch, "prospective delivery dates for most items are closely guarded military secret." They are unlikely to be any secret to our prospective enemies. The trouble is, in our whole preparedness program over the past few years was the failure to let our own know the truth.

The last war schedules are no longer available, but here is the way they ran, as reported by the secretary of the treasury. In round figures, 1917, 1.25 billions; 1918, 12.3 billions; 1919, 17.5 billions; 1920, 5.2 billions; 1921, 3.8 billions - total 50 billion, plus 1920 just for the war ended in November, 1918.

We are told to expect that reflecting the change of contracts with the defense department, there will be a great deal of procurement later in the country, in regular business. They also give figures of war debts, and of the financing cost of military production, and the difficulty of clearing it when the recent tax passed.

BLOCKING INFLATION
I don't care to clutter up a column with figures, but it is absolutely necessary that our people understand the subject of government spending and inflation. The following little table shows exactly what inflation did to war costs to all belligerents in the World War. It compares what the war would have cost all if the 1913 purchasing power of the dollar had remained unchanged, or exactly how inflation worked to multiply war costs.

Cost in Current Currency	Cost in Dollars ($100,000 omitted)	Ratio Per Cent
U. S. ...	26,553	12,212 217%
Associated Powers except U. S. ...	28,528	21,260 385%
Central Powers ...	41,774	12,428 336%
Total for all belligerents ...	146,895	45,899 220%

This is the evil we must avoid this time. Nothing government can do in raising taxes or cutting expenses can have a fraction of the effect to "pay as we go" and reduce the burden of war on every body compared to what it can do to prevent this curse.

Remember, I am talking not merely about the increased cost of raising the armed forces. Many times more billions of increased cost may have to be paid by Americans for the necessities of life.

How can it be prevented? There are several indirect aids and one very direct control. Inflation starts with the development of shortages in various fields. In war, price is no deterrent. Defense material must be had. So frantic bidding begins. It must be stopped before it starts or not at all.

Since shortage in the face of desperate needs is the cause, that is where the cure lies.

"Priorities" provide the first aid. This means simply that some steering committee lists the most urgent needs and says to all suppliers: "These needs come first. Regardless of any higher price offered, you mustn't supply anybody else until these are satisfied, except with car consent in case of hardship." This helps prevent inflationary bidding. A second aid is increased production of the shortage items, even at the expense of less necessary demands, such things as shifting plants, supplies, machine tools and other purchases.

ton: The Old Stone School house now called "Stone Crest," the new home of the Civic Welfare club, was the scene of a delightful party honoring several women of the town who had reached the ripe score and ten year mark.

Mrs. Helen Chaffin of Pontiac, who had lived here for many years was the speaker of the afternoon.

Her talk was reminiscent of days gone by. At six years of age, she started school in the old stone school, with Miss Sadie Bishop as teacher. Thirty years later, Bert Church, her son, started school in the same building. Her father, David Gage, had a general store here for 50 years. A Mr. Wilson, her grandfather, kept the hotel here for many years.

She told of an amusing incident concerning a visit she made with her mother, to see a baby boy who came to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carnes. Her mother wanted her to kiss the baby but Helen, being seven years old, declined, saying that she never kissed the boys. That baby boy was Ira Carnes.

She told how her father and others said Leon Cruz from drowning and recalled many other interesting highlights of past years, some happy and others sad.

Others on Wednesday's program were Mrs. Clarence Johnson, who sang three selections, and seven year old Sally Reuler, singing two songs. Both singer were greatly enjoyed and much appreciated.

Experiments carried on at experiment stations show that generally the best place in a crop rotation to make a liberal application of fertilizer is on wheat. In addition to increasing the yield and quality of the grain, fertilizer promotes a vigorous growth and larger yield of the cover or other hay crop which follows, which in turn benefits the crop coming next in the rotation.

Michigan farmers can substantially reduce their cost of wheat production per bushel by increasing their yield. In the eastern part of the United States it costs on the average around $15 to grow an acre of wheat, regardless of yield. If the yield is 15 bushels the cost is $1 per bushel. If the yield is 10 bushels the cost jumps $1.50 per bushel; while a 50 bushel yield reduces the cost to 50 cents. The value of the increased wheat yield in Michigan resulting from the use of fertilizer is equivalent to about $2.24 for each dollar spent for fertilizer.

In addition to the increase in yield, 73 per cent of the farmers who were interviewed in 17 States reported better market quality; 85 per cent had noticed that fertilized crops got a quicker start; 45 per cent observed that crops were more resistant to disease; and 76 per cent reported that crops matured earlier.

Up to now if any one has failed to be impressed by the Christmas Spirit, the decorations in our village should put Spirit into the meanest old schoolhouse. This is the time of year that our hearts are saddened by giving, and as the old adage goes, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

Baskets of food taken to the poor will make many a sad heart glad. Old toys placed in the basket would certainly make many youngsters happy. The problem of warm clothing for a few unfortunate would probably be answered with a little rummaging in the old trunk in the attic.

Come folks, let's make this a really Merry Christmas for everyone.

ROBOT PLANE SCORES HITS
WASHINGTON—No military secret is more closely guarded than a sensational new robot airplane now being tried out secretly by the navy in both Hawaii and Lingley Field, Va.

Navy experts have been working for more than 10 years to develop a reliable "pilotless" plane operated by radio control. Observers who have witnessed some of the latest tests pronounce the device as near miraculous. A robot bomber takes off, discharges its bombs over a distant target, returns to base and lands without being touched by a human hand.

The distance of the target is calculated in advance, and when the robot reaches it a device automatically releases the bombs. Naturally the aiming is largely a matter of chance, but in the tests a number of direct hits were scored. The cruising radius of the robots is limited only by fuel supply and the radio frequency range.

While most effective at short distances, the robot can be used for long-range bombing in conjunction with piloted planes or by a so-called system of "relay control," that is, by radio stations along the line of flight.

So closely is the invention guarded that navy officers have been warned that any talk about it will be considered a violation of the Espionage act and make them subject to court martial and dismissal.

DEFENSE INFLUENCE

There was an added kick in that sharp warning issued by Assistant War Secretary Robert Patterson that no one has an "inside track" in the awarding of army defense contracts.

What the half-mad former U. S. Circuit court judge didn't say was that he is planning to insert a little clause in every army contract requiring contractors to swear they paid no commissions or any other fees to obtain the order. Penalty for doing so is cancellation of the contract.

Under the law Patterson is legally responsible for the entire industrial mobilization program and is in charge of every large army contract. The basis of certain policies and high pressure pressure that they can carry out through their influence are therefore, a direct reflection on him. He doesn't take it one bit and has no intention of getting up with it.

Some of the "military" measures have even told friends of ours they could never be sure if we're going to be able to get out of this war because the war is not over for states to leave.

DEATH PRINCESS

In the days of the red and white House of the Dutch Princess Julian of the Netherlands is that she and Mrs. Roosevelt have kept up a correspondence ever since the princess arrived in Canada six months ago with her two tiny daughters.

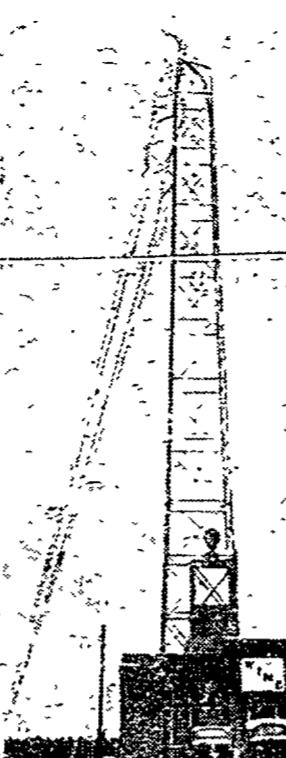

The visit to Washington might have come sooner, but the princess put it off because she didn't relish a round of extravagant entertainment. She wants to avoid being dined and wined with her own people, now under German domination, and her brother is reported to be in a German concentration camp.

In Ottawa, the princess has not entertained, has amused herself by walking and playing tennis. She will be a White House guest for 10 days, beginning December 18.
