

GENERAL JOHNSON Says:

Washington, D. C.

REARMAMENT DAWLING

The rearmament program is dawling for two reasons. Government is not organized for industrial mobilization, and neither is industry.

This is not the fault of the war department. This country made two sterling contributions to the art and science of major modern war in 1917 and 1918. One was the selective service idea for the mobilization of man power. The other was the War Industries Board method for mobilizing industry.

Neither was fished out of the hat. Both were perfected through a painful period of trial and error—mistake and correction until, at the end, they were working well.

Almost as soon as the war was over, the war department began a careful study of both. Few regular officers had been included in either effort; but nearly all the principal actors were living and the records and reports were copious.

Year after year, these experienced men were brought back to lecture class after class of officers in the war college and army industrial college on all these experiences—the underlying principles, the blunders and triumphs, the blind alleys explored and all the stone walls against which these pioneers had butted and bled their heads.

As a result of all these studies and stories, the war department drew up plans for both mobilization for major war—men and materials. Year after year these plans were revised and constantly checked with the veterans of the earlier effort.

On the present industrial mobilization, of which he had directed the 1917-18 General Mobilization, Dr. Bernard M. Baruch devoted most of his time and energy to it. I fully trust the war department to perfect an adaptation of his general plan to every changing circumstance.

When this emergency arrived, the war department was faced with plans complete almost to the last detail for both selective service and the industrial effort.

The war department's draft plan was permitted to go into effect with very few changes, but, for some reason, its equally well constructed and war tested plan for industrial mobilization was ditched.

The result is before our eyes. The draft machinery is running as well as any such great effort could be expected to run. In industrial mobilization we are repeating by page and number and almost by date every single blunder of 1917 and 1918. These all have been plotted and provided against in the war department plan.

It is impossible to carry on without confusion, waste and delay an armament program running into billions by simply dicing it to a peace-gared industry as a bomb is tossed to a dog. It requires careful organization of both demand and supply, organization of the many and sometimes competing government procurement agencies, as well as organization of the myriad producing agencies of industry. That has not been done at all and that is what is the matter with things.

WASHINGTON—THE CENTER

This City of Washington was established as our seat of government partly on the argument that it was a central location and partly to a kind of trade to insure national assumption of the debts of the states.

Perhaps the Founding Fathers could not possibly have foreseen the astonishing expansion of our country; but now our central location is somewhere in Kansas, and our center of population (not yet announced from the last census) is probably in Indiana.

As a result, Washington is about as inconveniently located as possible for most U. S. citizens to exercise their constitutional right to visit the seat of the government.

Nobody would dream of suggesting that the capital be moved. Its location is hallowed in our history. What with its own advance and the decline of others due to war and misfortune it is, by all odds, the most beautiful city in the world. It is advancing yearly in beauty as well as in wealth and population.

No, the capital will never be changed, but why are other cities and all the states so complacent about permitting so much of their money to be drained away to be spent in this one spot? The great head administrative offices have to be grouped about the Chief Executive, but why do the hundreds of thousands of workers?

It has always been a marvel to pork-barrel rollers, whose bid for reelection is the Squidunk post office or the improvement of Shunk creek, have overlooked this possibility. Instead of using it as an excuse for

Business and Professional Men Sell Special Good-fellow's Edition Thursday on Streets

Ford Men Top Sale

The first newspaper sale ever conducted in Northville as a Christmas charity project brought a response of $260.23, all of which has been added to the coffers of the Goodfellow's club at the Maybury sanatorium, the Eastlawn sanatorium, the King's Daughters and the Wayne County Training school.

Originally planned for the benefit of the patients at the two sanatoriums, the enterprise grew to such

BIDDLE GIVES TO CHARITY

This week, T. P. Biddle turned over $30.25 each to the Goodfellow's club and the King's Daughters. The amounts represent the receipts of his bus fares Tuesday, Dec. 17. Annually, Mr. Biddle sets aside a day before Christmas to give all receipts to these two charities.

Bringing in the largest amount from the sale were Mayor Carl H. Bryan and E. J. Selby, who sold papers to the workers of the Ford Valve plant. So generously did the men contribute that $109.55 came in from this one group.

Dr. L. W. Snow was the high individual salesman on the street, with W. E. Forney in closest competition.

Twenty-nine civic leaders—business and professional men—of the community took up posts assigned to them by Chief of Police Richard Lovell last Thursday afternoon as soon as The Northville Record left the pressroom. They worked in four shifts with even main station.

By early evening, all the papers were sold, with money being turned in by the salesmen in the following denominations: $100.25;

$22.29; $12.63; $11; $10.29; $9.45; $8.73; $7.65; $7.01; $2.25; $6.03;

$5.26; $5.20; $5; $4.85; $4.51; $4; $3.45; $3.40; $2.71; $2.61; $2.39; $2.23; $2.11; $1.99; $1.53; $1.26; $0.80; $0.20; totaling $360.23.

This money has been distributed in the following manner: Wayne County Training school, $10; Eastlawn sanatorium, $25; King's Daughters, $20; Maybury Goodfellow's club, $205.23.

In addition to Mr. Bryan, Mr. Flaherty, Dr. Snow and Mr. Forney, the salesmen were Dr. T. W. Selby, P. J. Casterline, Fred Cochran, Dick Allan, Dr. H. S. Willis, Ivan Ely, George Locke, G. V. Harrison, R. H. American, C. J. Richard, L. C. W. E. Forney, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schramm, John Pouke, Start Harriet Neville Walker, William Hensch, Charles E. and R. H. Bailey.

• Of 1941 . . .

"The mind of man is like a clock that is always running down, and requires to be constantly wound up," thus spake William Hazlitt, and just as surely the New Year is one of those times when we rewind our clocks for another lapse of time. And isn't it a pretty good time to set our watches, too? May we clothe our New Year's wish and admonition on the words of the prophet Isaiah when we wish that "the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon you, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, and the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord."

The year 1941 will witness the inauguration of the first President of the United States to be elected for a third term. Under guidance of our President America faces vital questions. We face an intensely important, interesting and ominous period in the history of our nation. The year may spell war or peace for America, democracy or totalitarianism, freedom or bondage. The year may answer for all time the question of democratic processes. While we feel the pulse of our people crying for defense, for speed and more speed, yet the real test of all these vital processes lies in the strength and morale of our people. "God Bless America" sounds good; but let's add our job to the couplet and sing, "I'll Work for America." While most folks strive for easier and shorter hours, less work and more handouts, we firmly believe that America will have to work more and play less during the year to come. America must sacrifice and face unpleasant facts. There must be much of giving, of work and of self denial. Selfishness, indifference, greed and cowardly submission to unpleasant truths, all lead toward things we dread to contemplate.

The challenge of 1941 rings out in the near words of A. Imai Nelson brought home, "America expects every man this day to do his duty." Let no American leave anything undone that will assist in perpetuating this, our native land. Yes, let's implore divine guidance in song and prayer, but let's remember that faith without work is a futile nothing, and let's "Work for America."

And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and I am the Lord your God, and none else, and my people shall never be scattered. —Isaiah 43:12

At It Again . . .

The following advertisement appeared in the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, Dec. 1, 1940 — Wanted: one hundred plumbers, must be mechanics and union men. Seven day week of ten hours each. Pay $150.00 per week. Apply C'py Heating and Plumbing Co., Camp Peay, Tullahoma, Tenn. Strictly union job. And the taxpayers foot the bill. The foreman on this job drew $260.50 for one week's pay — overtime and all. This is the kind of thing that we are paying for and that will ruin America in the long run if allowed to continue.

With the year 1940 about closed, it is now estimated that the motorists of the United States will have paid, ere the first of the new year rolls around, in taxes state and federal, on gasoline alone, the fabulous sum of $160,000,000, which is greater than the entire yearly cost of the federal government at about the time the World War was becoming a reality.

Loans To Britain . . .

Should this country make loans to Britain? This question is now up for answer. There are two ways to look at it. One that this fight is Britain's, not ours, and we have no concern for its outcome. The other that we are concerned in its outcome and that next to Britain it is our fight for the preservation of our way of life which all fact and reason and common sense indicates will not be permitted to endure if Hitler defeats Britain. If we do have an interest in the outcome and are concerned with the preservation of our way of life in this country then the loans should be made, with security if possible, without it if not possible. Britain is giving its money and its men and women. The least we can do is to give our money. We can earn our money back, but if we lose our liberty, it is gone forever.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, who passed away one year ago, January 1. Surrounded by friends, I am lone-

A smile on my face with a heart-ache.

Tears in silence often flow.

Sadly missed by his loving wife,

Marilyn Cavell Wins Contest

Ruth Frank and Gertrude Cotton Are Outstanding Girl Citizens

Marilyn Cavell was chosen by the faculty as the winner of the D. A. R. best citizen contest in the Northville high school. A few weeks ago the entire senior class chose Marilyn Cavell, Ruth Frank and Gertrude Cotton as the three outstanding "girl citizens" of the 1940 class. The past week the high school faculty selected Marilyn as the best citizen of the three. Such a contest is sponsored each year by the local chapter of the D. A. R.

Alene Mathews was the winner of the 1940 class.

EDITORIALS

Father Time has completed the training of the new year and soon the youngster of 1941 will preside in 1940's chair. With the New Year comes many resolutions, only to be broken no more than an hour after they are made. It also brings plenty of severe headaches and morning after affects. Many people celebrate New Year sensibly and have a good old-fashioned dinner at home. They turn back the clock to their childhood days and relive the thrilling New Years which they center among dear memories of home-life. I think that we have the best description of this in the book "Home for Christmas" written by Lloyd C. Douglas. What a significant meaning these words should imply. There are so many who would be thankful for a home to go to in war-torn Europe. We, in the United States, are deeply grateful for peace and returning prosperity. We hope and pray to keep it that way throughout the New Year.

Sixth Graders Make Projects

Mrs. James A. Huff's sixth graders are proving to be up and coming architects. The results of their efforts so far have been a castle made from a cardboard box, the walls stuccoed with creosote, chimney bricks were navy red kidney beans, and a car garage.

The boy constructed the castle with simple materials and several oatmeal boxes, plaster made of oil and flour mixture, a city foundation and a mixture of blue

Dixie which simulates water and cutouts of people and animals.

A draw bridge with a paper figure of a knight on a horse.

All in all the projects looked quite realistic as the above pictures prove.

The girls project was even more impressive. The castle was made from an ordinary food carton. The front door block was made from a large nail, the castle towers were made from dried beans, the walls stuccoed with creosote, chimney bricks were navy red kidney beans, and a car garage.

PAPER SALE

LANSING — Michigan's holiday light opera, "Who Won the Election?", which is now being presented on the front page by Dickinson Van Wagoner & Company, is down-right heavy "drammer" to party politics, even if the readers are only mildly concerned.

It was inevitable that a contest of power would ensue when voters jumped fences to elect a Democratic governor, Lieutenant governor, and state treasurer, while returning a Republican secretary of state and auditor general, selecting a Republican attorney general and returning a Republican majority to both houses of the legislature — all in the same day!

A bipartisan government may possess an intriguing allure to the man on the street. But in the offices in the statehouse, it's beginning to appear like a two-year headache that is already under way.

Here is the situation in brief: Father Schraiber sold one couple three copies of the paper. They were trying to find a parking space. Each time they drove around the block, they stopped them — each time they bought one of his papers.

"Rolly" Widmaier, wearing a flat no-self-respecting newsboy would wear, sold all his papers in half an hour. Mr. Knight worked two shifts, taking the place of his relief man who didn't show up. Finding The Record headlined too tame, Knight coined his own to bring in independents."

Hopeful Democratic Senators, sensing a possibility of a coalition majority composed of the ten Democrats plus one of the two Republican factions, had selected Senator Earle C. Brooks' Holland to be a coalition candidate for president pro tem.

It has been the traditional prerogative of the lieutenant governor to make all committee appointments, and under a party system where the minority seeks to check the majority at every political opportunity and where the majority desires to carry out the "popular program" as to the "will of the people," a legislative committee can be most helpful if the right legislators are in charge of the committee. The Senate majority however can encroach and encroach again, hence the political zig-zag.
