

GENERAL HUGH S. JOHNSON Says:

Washington, D. C.

WITCH HUNT?

Has the witch hunt actually begun? I haven't heard it, but several letters and programs inform me that a conspicuous radio news commentator is warning the public to "watch carefully" members of the keep-out-of-war committees because they are "sneaking" and "are trying to make us afraid."

Gen. Bob Wood, who was honored by congress for his work in helping to build the Panama canal, was brought back from an important post in France in the AEF to spark the American war production efforts as quartermaster general. It is being put on the spot. Col. Charles Lindbergh, who brought home the greatest honor American aviation ever knew, and who first jolted American and British complacency by revealing the tremendous hidden powers of German air armament, is now under the wand of the professional witch finders. Even his lovely, fearless, quietly philosophical wife has taken a dirty dig or two from such professional breast-beating Boadiceas as Dorothy Thompson.

What goes on here? Most of the people who want to dress up in Sam as something more canny than his old role as the world's prize fat boy with the bag of candy in a world of Dead End urchins, were awake long before these lardy tom-tom beaters, witch doctors and Sioux Sun Dancers were even aware that there was a vast, sinister and growing danger in the world.

Some of them had been hammering at the inexcusable indolence of England, the equivocal horse trading of France and, above all, the spineless inactivity of America, long before the "cloud no bigger than a man's hand" became a thunderhead and began to belch lightning. All of them are, and have long been, for all-out defense of this country. All are against hysterical disparagement of it. Who speaks for America if their half-crazed critics?

If they are so much more nearly right before, maybe they are more nearly right now, when they question whether we should rush headlong into a gun fight with our gun not even loaded and, as a first act, give away our guns.

Our greatest light right now is Will Rogers, who said: "America never lost a war or won a conference. We can wonder what he would say about 'let's take the silly fool dollar mark from aid to Britain'."

From how many billions have we taken the "silly fool dollar mark" for foreigners? It could be hard to say. We took them off from the bill we footed for the last World War to a present total, with interest of about 14 billions.

BIG FOUR

The four-man control of industrial mobilization, consisting of the secretaries of war and navy, Mr. Knudsen and Mr. Hillman, can do some good, but it is not, as some have said, the equivalent of the War Industries board plan that worked in 1918 to provide the fastest re-armament ever recorded by a great nation. It violates an essential and basic principle of that plan. It takes nothing from experience. It is an experiment.

There are four great and insistent demands in time of war. They are those of the army, the navy, the allies, if any, and greater than these and just as important, the needs of civilian population. Heads of the army and navy are under heavy responsibilities for two of those needs. With the best intention in the world it is only human nature for them to grab and fight each for their own—to seek in extreme cases even monopoly control of all the best sources and supplies of material, manufacturing, storage and transportation facilities, power and labor.

That isn't a guess. That happened early in World War I, and continued to happen until it was stopped by the War Industries board. We are rushing into a program of production just as great. To have that happen without any regulation is a very bad thing. It creates unnecessary shortages to the great prejudice not only of all the people but the armament program itself. It unnecessarily tangles and disrupts the whole industrial machine. It multiplies cost, reduces speed and makes doubly difficult the eventual shift back to a peace economy.

For that reason and many others, the director of mobilization should not have to work under the control of the army and navy as he must do if he is one of a committee of four in which a division of opinion would result either in a deadlock or a domination by the purchasing departments.

Our experience in the World War and the experience in every other country indicates that the director of mobilization should be independent of any statutory purchasing agencies. It is his part of the job to co-ordinate all purchasing programs with each other to prevent confusion, delay, waste and loss; but that is only part of his job and not even the most important part. The other part is to co-ordinate, organize, speed, aid and supervise the whole industrial structure for maximum efficiency and production.

Cross Country Club Announces Spring Horse Show Dates

May 23-25 Is Time for Exhibition To Be Sponsored by Newly Organized Association; Site To Be Named Later

Garner Makes Plans

The newly organized Northville Cross Country Riding Association has announced the dates for its first Spring Horse Show. It will be held May 23-25, with three full days of events.

Tentative plans were drawn up Sunday, following the association's cross country ride. At a breakfast meeting held at Carl Tam's Lone Pine Inn, Pres. George M. Garner set his committee at work to make detailed arrangements. Twenty-five persons were present for the meeting.

This will be the first large scale enterprise to be undertaken by the Association since its organization a few months ago.

Mr. Garner expects to have the site of the show and the committee members ready to announce within a short time.

Twins To Receive Hannaford's Gift of Silver in 1941

With the announcement from Sessions hospital that twin sons were the first baby arrivals in the village in 1941, Nell Hannaford had to scurry around to find two sets of silverware to give to the lads.

Mr. Hannaford greets the first baby arrival in Northville each year with a silverware gift. This year it had to be doubled when twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dorman Patterson of Plymouth. The twins have been named Dale and Darrell.

Increased Use of County Airport is Shown in Report

Realizing the importance of adequate airport facilities to national defense, an improved program was inaugurated at the Wayne County Airport, several months ago which will enable it to meet the heaviest military traffic anticipated.

Leroy C. Smith, Manager of the Wayne County Airport, reported today to a special defense committee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Wayne County Airport is engaged in a close race with three other airports for the highest volume of airplane movements. Peak traffic has been 1,800 movements in one day. This traffic, of course, consists largely of small ships hovering, an idea of the volume of traffic is given by the fact that LaGuardia Airport, New York City, has 600 movements of airplanes daily. Mr. Smith said.

At the Wayne County Airport two classes of pilots in the CPTP have been graduated and a third class is well along. Four air schools are now engaged in this work and a fifth school will open shortly. Usage of the field will increase materially next spring and summer.

A survey by the Federal Aeronautics Authority revealed that the Wayne County Airport conformed in every way to standards for the highest airport rating, except in length and width of runways. The runways extended to 4,500 feet in length and 150 feet in width to meet requirements of the U. S. Army Air Corps.

The old runways, which served satisfactorily until the present, were 3,600 feet in length and 100 feet wide. The existing runways will be widened with a 25-foot black top strip on each side. The extensions consist of concrete 100 feet wide and similar back top strips.

Concurrent with runway construction, work is progressing rapidly in enlarging the paved apron.

Phone Site Ready at Walled Lake

New Construction To House Automatic Equipment of Dial Telephone System

By C. E. HUTTON

Construction work is expected to be completed here this week by the Michigan Bell Telephone company, on the new building which will house the automatic equipment of the dial telephone system to be placed in operation early next June throughout this district.

The local control unit is located on property adjacent to the present Walled Lake telephone office on Pontiac road. The building is 30 by 20 feet in dimensions and is of brick and stone material.

When completed, the new system will have double the service capacity of the present lines of this exchange. New cables and wiring are to be installed in the village and as far as Northville and Wixom. All poles in the village now in use will be removed, and cables hung on electric service poles. An underground cable will extend from the exchange unit to the main line through the business section.

The toll lines now serviced by Walled Lake will have direct connection with the switching center at Plymouth, where operators will provide any manual service required. These new arrangements will not effect present toll charges for Walled Lake subscribers, it was stated.

This group was organized to provide an opportunity for the instrumental pupils to gain ensemble experience before they are admitted to the senior band. "The senior band plan will benefit the senior band in two ways," Mr. Lee, director, explains. "The individual player will be a better performer and the band will suffer so greatly the loss of those who are graduated and leave the community."

At the present time, the band numbers 42 members. Of this number, five are townspeople. The school children range in grades from the seventh through the twelfth. Rehearsals are held at 7:30 p.m. each Monday. Participation is open to any townspeople who owns an instrument, and who wishes to play regularly.

In the first bout, the Smith brothers of Novi, boxed to a draw. Lawrence the smaller had, making up in aggressiveness what he lacked in weight.

Ralph Hay of Troop N-1 started well, leading Tom Hancock of Troop finished well, and the referee (Gus) went to Hancock.

Bob Peterson of N-1 was given the decision over Fred Wick of N-1. Both boys started slowly. Ed was the aggressor in the 12 round and took the judge's decision.

James Crawford of N-1 and Eugene Program of N-1 were evenly matched. Crawford was the better. "This one was a draw," Eddie Robinson of the Club, and John Lane of Northville put on one of the best bouts of the year. In better condition than most of the others, Eddie and John were mixing it up every minute. The judges were unable to decide the winner.

Some 254 traffic violators were stopped by the police force. Two of the drivers were taken to justice court. Violation tickets were given to 34 motorists and 96 courtesy tickets were issued by the department. Eleven wet gravel trucks were held at the side of the road until their loads were drained. Fines for the month totaled $5150.

Chief Loomis also informed the councilmen that there had been three disorderly conduct arrests and three larcenies had been reported, two of which have been cleared and one is still open. The monthly police report also included one juvenile case, one booby report, one stolen car. The car was recovered in good condition.

Cat's Cries Bring Aid from Firemen

Exhausted cries of a cat crouching somewhere from the building which houses the Northville Library, brought aid to the feline in distress Monday evening. When Mrs. C. H. Bryan, librarian, was unable to locate the cat, whose cries could be distinctly heard throughout the reading room, a call was put in for two members of the fire department.

Starr Herrick and Tom Houghton reported just about the time that John Barnes of Detroit, a building engineer, came upon the scene. A search revealed that the cat had been sealed into the wall partitions about a week ago when repairs and a redecorating project were under way at the library.

With the aid of a flash light and hammer, stones were removed from the foundation and the cat, spitting and cuffed, raced out of the fire wall which had confined him for several days. The cat, a Maltese-Angora, ran off into the night and has not been seen in the library neighborhood since.

America On Its Way...
We firmly believe that when historians rewrite the news of 1940 and the early days of 1941, the big news of that period will be summarized in the phrase, "America is on its way." No longer bound by uncertainty, hesitation, and conflicting political maneuverings America embarked openly to assume the role of world leader of democratic freedom. Just as the old year faded, and even as the New Year was dawning there came a crystallization of American opinion, a tightening of American morale that may later be credited with changing the channels of history — for now America is on its way with aid for Britain.
Nineteen hundred and forty-one dawns with a new kind of hope and as President Roosevelt solemnly warned:
"Never before since Jamestown and Plymouth Rock has our American civilization been in such danger as now."
"But danger, realistically and honestly faced with a sense of comradeship and team-play, loses half its force. The world today is in transition and the only certainty is change. But now at last America has set its course. No danger is as great as uncertainty and distrust."
The President's Fireside Chat, and his Message to Congress drove home to the nation the seriousness of the emergency, and the need for prompt, concerted, and patriotic action in definite and unquestioned shape. We believe the gist of both messages may be summarized in these words:

"We must be the great arsenal of democracy. For us this is an emergency as serious as war itself. We must apply our spirit to our task with the same sense of urgency, the same spirit of patriotism and sacrifice as we would show were we at war."

"There will be no 'bottle-necks' in our determination to aid Great Britain. No dictator, no combination of dictators, will weaken that determination by threats of how they will construe that determination."

"The British have received invaluable military support from the brave Great Army, and from the forces of all governments in exile. Their strength is growing. It is the strength of men and women who value their freedom more highly than they value their lives."

"I believe the Axis powers are not going to win this war. I base that belief on the latest and best information."

"We have no excuse for defeatism. We have every good reason for hope — hope for peace, hope for the defense of our civilization and for the building of a better civilization in the future."

"I have the profound conviction that the American people are now determined to put forth a mightier effort than they have ever yet made to increase our production of all the implements of defense, to meet the threat to our democratic faith."

"As President of the United States I call for that national effort. I call for it in the name of this Nation which we love and honor and which we are privileged and proud to serve. I call upon our people with absolute confidence that our common cause will greatly succeed."

Shortly after reading President Roosevelt's Fireside Chat, the mailman brought us a letter — opened and resealed with the white strip of the censor "P. C. 90. Opened by Examiner 3925." The letter abounded in hope for the new year and a determination to carry on toward a noble peace — and the Christmas card from that land at war bore this verse:

"Unto all peoples of the earth,
A little child brought light
And never in the darkest place
Can it be utter night."

A calendar inclosed also reminded us that the crocuses bloom in England in January, and on the January sheet was imprinted "The First Crocus," which follows:

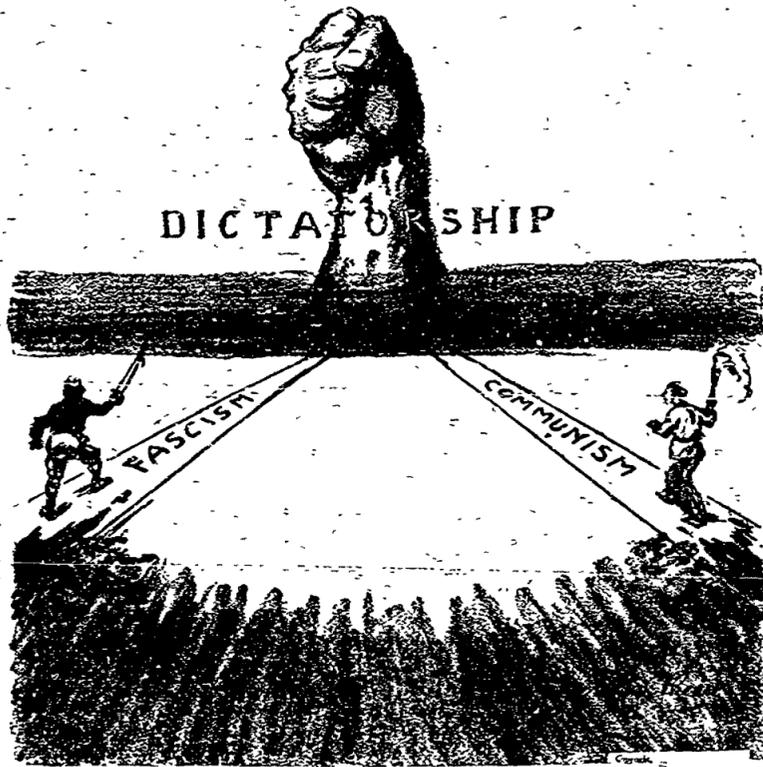

"He lights his little candle flame
For us this dull and sullen morning;
The grey skies threaten all the same.
He lights his little candle flame,
He lights his little candle flame,
He lights his little candle flame
To cheer our hearts, bleak winter morning;
He lights his little candle flame
For us, this dull and sullen morning."

And another villager receives a letter from a relative in the Canadian Army who visited an elderly aunt in London. Asking why "Auntie" didn't leave London and go to the security of Scotland came the reply, "Yes, we could afford it. We could get away." But quoth the good Auntie, "We'd rather stay in London, live in our own apartment, and play bridge with the other old ladies in the house." And so we can see how typically the British people say to Winston Churchill, "We can take it, give it back to them, we can take what we had and more too." So personally as we envision "America on Its Way" we also like to think that the Crocuses are blooming brighter in Britain because "we are on our way."

Measles Epidemic...
An early rise of measles cases reported in Michigan this year may be a forerunner of the 1941 epidemic, claim health authorities. We hope this alarm may prove unjustified for the protection of babies and young children. The state had epidemic years in 1935 and 1938 when cases ran over 79,000. A report of cases starting so far it is feared may mean a third year epidemic.
Measles are communicable. It is suggested that where the disease is found that isolation of babies and children under five years will be a protection for most of the complications and deaths from the malady occurs during that range of age.
There are immunity treatments that can be administered after exposure to modify and shorten the attack. This is particularly valuable where resistance is low for that condition lessens the resistance to other infections and pneumonia. Where measles are prevalent, parents will find it worth while to consult the family doctor.

their crafts. They splice the hundreds of pairs of wires in a cable—under-of experience. They repair the intricate mechanism of a central office switch-house, neatly, quietly, quickly. They are used to dealing with emergencies—for fire, flood and storm are no strangers to them. The accumulated experience of these men has proved its value in train-

ALBANIANS MOUNTAINERS HELP GREEKS

Editors Note—The Albanian Mary G. Raper's January Brass Ring this week is devoted to the Albanian help of the Greek army, the Greek army and the Greek army of Albania.

But little has been written about the Albanian peasants and mountaineers who have provided the Greeks with the most amazing intelligence service of this war, so accurate that the Greeks have known down to the last detail just how many Italians were located behind each hill where their guns were placed, and the exact nature of their fortifications.

An army without eyes is helpless. And the Albanians, who have never forgotten the manner in which Mussolini drove their queen and her day-old son out of a country two years ago, have contributed materially to the surprising success of Greek victories.

STATE DEPARTMENT WIDOWS

There was not much Christmas joy this year in the homes of 124 "blitzkrieg widows" of the American diplomatic service. Their husbands' diplomatic posts are still on the job, but the wives are prevented by official regulations from joining them.

From Warsaw, from Berlin, from Copenhagen, from Oslo, from Brussels, from the Hague, following the spread of the war, these "blitzkrieg widows" came trekking home—government order—with children by the hand.

A few capitals, such as Moscow, and Helsinki, have now permitted wives to rejoin their husbands, but meanwhile, a new warning has gone out affecting citizens in the Far East, and the ranks of the widows are swelling still further.

This separation is much more than a sentimental problem. It creates a strain on the budget of each family, for they are obliged to maintain two establishments, and the salaries of the foreign service are not gauged to meet living costs in this country.

The state department has had so much grief from the "widows" that a move is being considered to lift the ban and allow them to return to their husbands' posts.

CAPITAL CRAFT

The state department is getting a heavy volume of mail from all parts of the country urging strong U. S. assistance to Greece.

Joseph Daniels, ambassador to Mexico, is the only ambassador appointed by Roosevelt in 1933 who still remains at the same post.

Experts of the house migrant investigating committee estimate that at least 4,000,000 job-hunters are constantly on the move in the country.

Some American women have switched to cotton stockings as a protest against Japan, yet in the first nine months of this year, the United States imported $66,000,000 worth of silk from Japan.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Two former editors of the "American News," daily paper of the 1918 U. S. Army of occupation at Coblenz, Germany, are now on active duty at the war department. They are Col. Fred J. Mueller and Lieut. Col. B. E. McMahon, both assigned to the public relations staff.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

BIBLICAL DESTROYERS

There were two reasons for that grin on the face of North Dakota's Gov. John Moses when he left the White House the other day.

One was an assurance that the President would personally investigate why North Dakota was not receiving any of the new defense plants. Moses argued that his state was so far inland that it was ideal for defense industries. Roosevelt promised to look into the matter immediately.

The other reason was an anecdote the President told Moses "about a famous namesake of yours." It happened when Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy in the Wilson administration.

He was asked to select from a list of American naval heroes, the name of a new destroyer. He picked "Israel," in honor of a U. S. captain who distinguished himself in the war against the Barbary Coast pirates in 1815.

"Some time later," Roosevelt was asked to approve the personnel of this destroyer. And, while looking over the list of personnel, another aide entered with another personnel list for a destroyer named "Moses."

"This coincidence struck me as very funny," Roosevelt related, "and I leaned back and laughed. The young naval officer looked perturbed and inquired, 'Aren't those the right crews for those ships—Moses and Israel?' And then I laughed some more, because heading the lists of officers were the names of Murphy and O'Reilly."

Note—Moses, a Democrat from a rock-rubbed G. O. P. state, is the latest governor in the country—5 feet 4 inches.

News from Walled Lake

By CHARLES E. HUTTON

Deputy E. L. McQuern of Walled Lake, has been assigned to the county's new two-way radio patrol which became effective last Tuesday. He recently received his license as a third class radio operator and has been given an extensive territory.

The system replaces the former arrangement of fixed localities for county deputies. Radio patrolmen are now in direct contact with the central sheriff's office at Pontiac by two-way radio and receive calls to various points in their sectors in this manner. Thus, if a county deputy is needed at any place in the county, a telephone call to headquarters will be relayed by radio to the patrol car in that area. It is thought that a more efficient and complete coverage can be maintained in this manner.

Edited by the Journalism Class of Northville High School

EDITORIALS

Even though January is the beginning of a new year, it also means the closing of a semester. Therefore, it becomes doubly important to make those New Year's resolutions, first, to become better students and second, to conquer those all-important semester exams which will be given Jan. 23 and 24. If those resolutions are made they might help to get good marks on those exams.

About this time of year, too, the basketball season is at its height and both girls' and boys' teams are fighting hard for first place in the leagues and so bring the championship to dear old N. H. S.

We welcome January as an important month of the school calendar.

Around the School

The Home Ec. II class students are going to pick out a plain table and chair set and finish them with shellac and varnish. This is expected to be done before the end of this semester.

Phyllis Knight visited in Chicago during the holidays.

A Student Council meeting was held Jan. 7, the first meeting of the new year.

The Student Council would like all of the students who have bought season tickets on time to finish paying for them as soon as possible.

There will be a dance tonight after the basketball game. The price of admission will be 15 cents each. An orchestra will furnish the music.

Northville High's basketball team received its new warm-up jackets this week. They are orange and navy blue with "Northville High" and "Mustangs" on the back in black coloring. They will replace the old ones which were in T shape style. The old ones will be given to the second team.

Mrs. George Stalker substituted for Thomas Weeks Monday.

The grade school has installed a new radio-phonograph for its enjoyment. Symphony records are played for the grade youngsters and on Fridays, different classes attend to near the Walter Damrosch program.

It was provided for the school by the Mothers' club gift which was over $50, plus the proceeds from the operetta, which was given in the grade school last spring, and the Board of Education paid the balance.

N. H. S. students were entertained by Miss Hattie Marie Moore's home room class in the senior assembly last Wednesday. The program was in the form of a radio quiz act broadcast over station N. H. S. and questions were asked of the audience by the master and mistress of ceremonies, Bob Hunter and Carol Carlson. The official announcer was Murna Hubbard who didn't look like Don Wilson but did a good job. All the questions were submitted by students in Miss Moore's home room, one of the three Junior home rooms.

Senior Sketches

This time of the year brings to mind the birth of great people and stuck in with big and small is Betty Ann Stilwell, who was born Dec. 30, 1922, which takes her up to the border line of her 18th birthday. So turn on the footlights and the spotlight, so we can more clearly see her career. Her ambitions are to knock down the ten pins regularly, to get through the honorable twelfth grade, and graduate from this Institute of N. H. S.

Most of her traveling has been done in the state that is round on the ends and high in the middle—that's Ohio. Places she would like to travel to are California and Hawaii, looks like she likes those warm southern nights with full moons, and to back on the beaches in the sun.

She takes a fancy to swing music, clothes, and chicken dinner with all the trimmings. Man, oh man, I can just feel those hot biscuits melting in my mouth. But there are some of the things she doesn't take a fancy to: raw carrots, connected people, and writing themes.

The lights brighten for the highlights of her life, which are her first formal dance, a part in our successful junior play of 1940, and the office of secretary of the sophomore and senior classes. So we bring down the curtain on this review of a senior's life up to the present date.

Basketball Girls Play Flat Rock

First League Game Is Victory for Northville

Thursday the girls' basketball team played Flat Rock on the home floor. The game was Northville's second league game. The girls defeated Berkeley in their first league encounter.

This season is Flat Rock's first year in the league. Their coach is last year's popular referee, Miss Madar. The Northville girls defeated the Flat Rock team in an exhibition game at Michigan Normal last spring, but together with a new coach and a more experienced team for Flat Rock, the game was undoubtedly a well-matched one.

It was impossible to print the outcome of the game at the time the paper was printed. Watch for it in next week's issue.

Junior High Notes

Marja Hatchett gave a slumber party New Year's Eve. The guests were Peggy Ely, Vera Briggs and Shirley Ely.

The Junior Student Council members were busy all week getting ready for last night's basketball game. The council sold candy and tickets at the game.

We have a new student in the eighth grade, Phyllis Stiff from Mesick. We hope you like our school, Phyllis.

The last day of school we had our Christmas party. The program committee put on a program in which many of the students took part. After the program delicious refreshments were served. Later the girls and candy were given out.

Ted Baldwin spent his vacation in Mayville. Jean Cooley spent Christmas in Battle Creek. David Amerman spent his holidays in Jonesville.

Everything happens to Mary Ellen Babbitt. First she hurt her foot and then during the holidays she suffered with a black eye and swollen nose from an accident. Watch out, Mary Ellen!

Junior Moves to Saline

Arriving at school after the holidays we find our "Hilde" of the junior play, Miss Hilda Cuff, missing from our midst. Saline High in Saline, won her over. Northville enjoyed her presence for about a year when she moved here from New Hudson to live at the Truemor Farm on Eleven Mile road.

Her classes while here were journalism, English, history, French and band.

All those who had her in their classes will miss her, but also wish her luck in her new school.

Miss Ed Marie Walker, who injured her left leg in the first basketball game of the season, was able to return to school Monday of this week.

Apprentice Boys Repair Batteries

Future Trips are Planned to Rubber Companies

A few weeks ago the apprentice boys took a trip to a nearby battery shop to see a battery torn down and put back together again. Sidney Jiro, James LeFevre, Harold Fritz, Richard Bartholomew, Richard Parmalee and Frank Sogiovanni tore down and rebuilt two batteries except for the lead lining part for which they didn't have proper tools. When they got through with these batteries they will be sold and will be practically like new. Knowing the parts in the batteries will make it easier for the boys to sell them.

Later, there will be trips to the following rubber companies: U. S. Rubber company, rubber plant of the Ford Motor company, and the Lawton Tire company. By having the construction of tires explained to them they will learn what makes them good or bad. This will also help them to make larger sales of tires.

Around Jan. 22, the apprentice group will sponsor a movie for the high school assembly. The movie will be "Know Your Money" and "Making Money" which should be of special interest to the seniors because they will be taken to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington on their annual trip.
