STATE CAPITOL, LANSING

Whining by losing!
That's the result-giving story of the Townsend movement in Michigan.
Townsend clubs are maintained by devout, zealous crusaders who believe that America's economic salvation lies in an old-age spending of generous old-age pensions and the replacement of jobs, which these oldsters now retain, by younger men and women.

For an "impartial" cause, legislative appeasement is often granted in proportion to the degree of political pressure that can be applied at the right time on the right persons.

Today, old age assistance is a $40,000,000 annual activity of federal, state and local governments. Beneficiaries number nearly two million persons.

Non-Votes

This month at Lansing the House of Representatives came within nine votes of adopting a bill to raise monthly pensions from $30 to $40. Everyone over 65 years of age whose property holdings are valued at no more than $3,500 would be eligible.

The issue for legislators was ticklish.

Rep. Ats Dikstra (R) of Grand Rapids, eight-term veteran who recently announced his intention not to run for re-election proposed it.

In August, 1939, the federal act was amended by Congress to permit federal matching on a 50 per cent basis up to $40 per month per eligible recipient.

In June, 1940, only two states—California and Colorado—had an average monthly payment per person in excess of $8.

The effect of the federal revision was to place responsibility for the higher monthly payment squarely upon the availability of state and local funds, together with the willingness of legislators to give preference to old age assistance over other deserving causes espoused by other voting constituents.

Dikstra's proposal for $40 monthly pensions lacked only nine votes of adoption. The final vote was 47 to 44, needed majority was 31.

Van Wagoner

One of Governor Van Wagoner's first acts in January was to recommend to the state welfare commission that 10,000 persons be added to the old age assistance rolls by July 1, 1941.

A decision was made wherein 2,000 persons would be added monthly.

The March 18 case load, Michigan was 61,340.

Although the maximum payment is $30 most of the recipients get far less than that. The average is $18, not $30, not even $20.

Although more than 81,000 persons are receiving pension, the welfare rolls in January had 50,000 applications which it could not handle.

The total expenditure of state funds is about eight and a half million dollars per year. The United States matches this money on a 50-50 basis.

Complications

And so when the House of Representatives considered the $40 monthly pension plan complications were numerous.

First, the increase could virtually double the state's annual expenditure. Instead of $8,500,000, the state's cost would run close to $17,000,000.

Second, this increase would mean a denial by the legislature of state aid sought by other groups. For example, the school lobby seeks a $5,000,000 increase in state aid to schools. A survey made by Dr. George E. Carruthers of the University of Michigan recently revealed that Michigan's high schools are badly overcrowded; teachers are poorly paid.

Third, there is that annoying $2,000,000 deficit on the state books whereby the state has borrowed from certain funds to pay current needs.

But politically speaking, old age pensions are old age persons, and they all spell one word: Votes. Consequently saw his shadow when he voted against Dikstra's $40 pension plan. Although the vote was non-partisan, here was a Republican sponsored cause that would cut off Governor Van Wagoner's 10,000 increase-by-July 1 program for pensions. Even this last failed to attract a majority.

Economic Security

When the Social Security Act was created, an insurance system was established so that wage-earners during their years of financial productivity could build up protection for the future.

But this insurance plan could not afford immediate protection for old people. Some other plan had to be provided.

Thus old age assistance was authorized, and today approximately one-fourth of the population 65 years of age and over are receiving some kind of monthly pension. Of this group a substantial portion comprise persons not previously recognized as public dependents.

Thousands of aged persons who previously had to rely on irregular and inadequate support, either through their own efforts or by sharing the income of children, relatives or friends, have been able to maintain their own homes and

Walled Lake Board May Have To Bar All Non-Residents

Heavy Enrollment in Consolidated School Creates Problem in Four Upper Classes

Build Classrooms

By CHARLES E. HUTTON
Exclusion of all non-resident pupils from the Walled Lake Consolidated Schools is under consideration by the Walled Lake school board. It was announced this week in a statement issued to parents of the district from the administrative office.

If a decision is made to bar students who do not reside within the local school district from Walled Lake schools, it will affect nearly 100 now enrolled in high school classes. The non-resident ruling has been applied to all but the four upper grades for the past several years.

Last fall the board adopted a ruling requiring non-residents to pay the full per capita cost for education due to a reduction in tuition money supplied by the state, together with a cut in transportation allowances.

The move now under consideration is the result of the increasing problem of housing students from within the district. A survey of the district has disclosed a rapid residential increase during the past year, with 250 new streets enrolling since the start of the fall term. It is stated that with the exception of one grade, all rooms and classes are crowded beyond the limit of efficient training.

The greatly increased school enrollment in the past two years presents to the board the renewed problem of housing, despite enlarged facilities through extensive building additions and annexation of outlying school districts.

It is becoming increasingly evident that the school's present facilities will be taxed to provide educational accommodations for only those now living within the consolidated district.

It was disclosed in the statement that the effort to obtain public support for the work should be linked to one of the most important events in the Christian calendar—suggesting the hope and ambition of suffering humanity over mortal afflictions.

It is my hope that the work of restoring crippled boys and girls to useful citizenship, at the same time relieving their suffering, may continue on an ever-expanding plane. All citizens of Michigan can well be proud that such a fine, humanitarian program is being carried on within their state.

It was disclosed in the statement that the district is in a very healthy financial condition. Eight class rooms built four years ago, to meet a critical class room shortage were paid for in cash amounting to $200, made possible by excellent delinquent tax returns in the enlarged district.

Construction of a $10,000 addition followed a year later, with the help of a PWA grant of 45 per cent and a cash reserve of $15,000. Although more than $10,000 per year are receiving pension, the welfare rolls in January had 50,000 applications which it could not handle.

The total expenditure of state funds is about eight and a half million dollars per year. The United States matches this money on a 50-50 basis.

Silkworth Company Will Build New Gas Service Station

The property at the corner of Wing and Main streets, owned by the J. M. Simmons estate with Mrs. E. Miller, agent, has been sold to the Silkworth Oil company of Ypsilanti.

Plans are under way for the immediate construction of a Gulf Service station which has been leased by Orson Atchinson of Plymouth.

Until three weeks ago, Mr. Atchinson was with the Shell station on Plymouth road, but has been transferred to a Plymouth station. He has been with the Shell company here for the past seven years.

Novi Chief Gives Fire Warnings

Several large loss fires in various parts of the country have emphasized the necessity for educating the public what to do when fire occurs, according to Fire Chief Walter Tuck of Novi.

"Delays in calling in fire alarms for any cause may result in the loss of life and certainly will increase the fire damage," he declared. "Yet these delays occur largely because people become panic-stricken when faced with an emergency. The only way to overcome this is to teach them to react automatically in the face of danger. This can be done by instruction in the home, in the public schools, and wherever people gather to discuss problems of this kind."

Chief Tuck lists three things to be done at once when fire is discovered: get everyone in the building to safety; call the fire department; fight the fire if there is equipment available to do so safely.

"The board of education held Monday evening, Mar. 24, a resolution concerning the status of army service age and a motion was passed which affects the status of married women on the faculty."

The resolution makes the following provision for the men of the faculty: "Any wife teacher who is drafted into government service shall have the right to return to her former position at the conclusion of her service."

The motion affecting the married women teachers reads as follows:

"The board of education held Monday evening, Mar. 24, a resolution concerning the status of army service age and a motion was passed which affects the status of married women on the faculty."

The resolution makes the following provision for the men of the faculty: "Any wife teacher who is drafted into government service shall have the right to return to her former position at the conclusion of her service."

W. E. Reed, secretary of the board, has no statement to make concerning the motion, but said that the motion is to be known that the board received a telegram from making it necessary for the board to decide the issue, and that Frank Clark favored the motion.

Dr. Spofford, member of the board, said he believed the motion was adopted to settle the question of the status of army service age and a motion was passed which affects the status of married women on the faculty."

Mr. Fisher, superintendent, addressed the members of the board in the course of his report on the school's attendance record, and the status of his helpers, and to patrol roads. He stated that the work of the board is to maintain the freedom of action of the school, its freedom of action is a national organization and the older of men attracted to the board of education to do the work of the organization throughout the nation.

Mr. Fisher was adopted by a resolution to be elected a permanent member of the board of education.

Due to the many requests for a public statement from the president of the Northville School Board, Monday evening, I have consented to do so.

A telegram was adopted by a resolution to the effect that married women teachers in our school system, is not granted a permanent contract, and that such teachers who marry terminate their contracts at the end of their service.

I made a public statement near the end of the year to the effect that the members of the Northville School Board, I was interested in the continuing of a good educational institution, and particularly in the education of the children of the community. I am a fundamental educational trustee and I was not interested in a teacher's personal life, providing she was not having personal life.

My public statement near the end of the year to the effect that the members of the Northville School Board, I was interested in the continuing of a good educational institution, and particularly in the education of the children of the community. I am a fundamental educational trustee and I was not interested in a teacher's personal life, providing she was not having personal life.

Just think of it, a modern-day discussion on head made it definitely clear, to me at least, that he was opposed to the motion for only 3 cents. Come back, that he thought each case one to a customer.

• Sugar Time . . .

It is maple sugar time, and Michigan's sugar bush provides thousands of dollars for farm budgets each year. Maple syrup and sugar industry is one of a very few now strictly American. Where else is maple sugar and syrup made? And by the way how many of you remember the Jack Wax we used to make ourselves in the sugar bush?

With sugar bushes active again after the late March cold spell, Michigan farmers may yet equal their 1940 production of 110,000 gallons of maple syrup and 35,000 pounds of maple sugar.

Warm days and cool nights bring the best flow from the black and sugar maples, producing a sap that must be concentrated by evaporating until it weighs 15 pounds to the gallon, before sealing. Thirty-five or more gallons of sap may boil down to one gallon of maple syrup, and one good tree may yield 15 to 20 gallons of sap.

"Sugaring off" brings an annual income of well over $260,000 to Michigan farmers maintaining well managed woodlots, following practices recommended by conservation and agricultural agencies.

* * * * *

Some months ago the Record bemoaned the fact that public officials plastered their names all over the state for personal advertising at public expense. We are pleased that Senator Munshaw has introduced a bill which would make it illegal for any state official to paint, print or burn his name on any sign along the highway or on any building owned or controlled by the State of Michigan. The bill is the result of a practice followed by Gov. Van Wagenen while he was state highway commissioner and continued by G. Donald Kennedy, the present commissioner, who is up for re-election on April 7. The highway department has been the serious offender in this regard, the commissioner thus publicizing his name and getting a lot of personal advertising of public expense. The Lansing Chamber of Commerce, in a resolution released last Friday, called on the legislature that it will be a good idea to pass a law to prohibit the placing of the name of any state official on any sign along the highway.

• Amendments on Ballot . . .

The people of Michigan have voted on 10 proposed amendments to the state constitution, seven of which passed, while three were defeated. The new constitution will go into effect July 1, 1941.

The proposed changes that voters of Michigan have signed are summarized below:

Michigan citizens have used the ballot for a long period, 1910 to 1940, on 24 amendments that have been initiated, of which, only five have been approved.

Only about 89 percent of the qualified voters are registered at any given time, and this fact as well as to provide a margin of safety for possible ineligible signatures would increase the difficulty of initiating constitutional amendments and statutes by as much as 25 to 35 per cent.

In proposing the amendments for this election they are designed to retain submission of propositions to the voters as has been seemingly too prevalent during the elections of recent years. Most of the proposals have been initiated or offered in referenda by marginal pressure groups who have paid for petition circulation and have made the proposals so ambiguous that no one really understood what it was all about except as explained by groups of definite interest. After all, some one has suggested that Michigan has a legislature.

* * * * *

Studies in New York City show that two of every five pedestrians killed in traffic had been drinking fairly heavily before being hit.

* * * * *

We are told by a reliable authority that when asked if he would pledge himself to stop assessing highway employees if elected, Leroy Smith, GOP candidate for State Highway Commissioner, replied in the affirmative.

If elected, he pledged himself to stop it and said he would go farther than that—he would carry out his pledge. There ought to be thousands of employees of the state highway department who would welcome a commissioner who would relieve them from the burden of having to contribute from their wages to help carry an election. We think the people of the State of Michigan ought to all welcome a commissioner with the high ideals of Mr. Smith. We hope to see the time when state highway employees will not be asked for campaign contributions, and will not be sent home a week before election to work for the election of the party ticket.

* * * * *

Now we are told that there are only 1900 life insurance agents in the United States, 13 per cent less than last year, and there is little comfort in that. But they serviced 17 per cent more life insurance. Life insurance payments of all types amounted to over $500 million dollars in Michigan during 1940. Over 30,000 policies were paid.

But time will never stop the longing

Around The School
Wednesday, Mar. 19, 1941 was sponsored by Mr. Marshall Hurl, 21, lone room and board, by Louis H. Hurl, 19. It is the most recent shown to us by the Michigan State Police. Due to the fact that Troop E, Huron, showed the movie around Huron, he went to Milford, Indiana. Northville has a half-hour 20 student, who is half-teen 14 or 15, in their 10th grade. He made a good impression, and returning at 1:00 PM made a good impression, showing that "the poor go to heaven" and that they have to do before becoming a State Trooper.

All this week, Northville students at the U. S. High school have been working on their school buildings, which are situated in the present Huron Woods. The buildings for the students, Mr. and Mrs. Hurl, and the students, Mr. and Mrs. Hurl, are in the Huron Woods. They are not able to live there because of the fact that department stores like the Miss Kathryn Smith, a clothing credit in Huron Woods, the Hurlings will be completed next week.

Thursday, Mar. 21, the seniors who will take part in the play took advantage of the day off by having practice in the afternoon followed by a potluck supper, and then they went back to practice again. The seniors are doing their best to give you a good production.

The students of the junior class who attended a Shakespearean play in the Lyda Mendelsohn theatre Mar. 19, Ann Arbor, titled "Much Ado About Nothing" were: Walter Fox, Myron Ulrey, Donald Miller, Marjorie Farmer, Ralph Hay, John Gerachy, Leon Strem, Dorothy Jane Corso, Carrel Carlson, Mary Hollis and Edythe Amerman. Teachers who also attended were: Mrs. Marshall Herick, Miss Hattie Marie Moore and Miss Kathryn Gilmer.

A BIG CROP OF SMALL GRAINS

Loading barley in the field. A large part of Michigan's barley crop goes into stock feed. Millions of bushels of rye bread and thousand of bushels of oats come to the mills from Michigan farms.

OATS, barley, rye and buckwheat are known as "small grains," but there's nothing small about their place in Michigan agriculture. Nationally the state ranks 6th in oats, 11th in barley, 7th in rye and 4th in buckwheat, and its total production of the four grains is over 50,000,000 bushels annually.

This is not a "one-crop" state. Modern methods and facilities have aided in developing a wide variety of farm products, a healthy condition for Michigan agriculture.

In getting Michigan's day's work done, the telephone saves hours and dollars. The farmer with grain to sell can talk to the local feed store or city elevator, get prices and arrange for delivery in the time it once took him to harness his team for the long drive to town. Good telephone service helps to assure the people of this state of a constant food supply, profitable to the producer and fairly priced to the consumer.

All the horses and mules in the U. S. Army could be fed from Michigan's oat crop, and there would be plenty left for a daily general break fast ration for all the armed forces of the nation.

For the last six months after succeeding Van Wagoner as highway commissioner, Kennedy has laid the groundwork for a new Federal-aid program of elevated and de-paved express highways, in the metropolitan areas and the main connecting trunklines. President Roosevelt has approved Kennedy's plans for an industrial defense cross-town highway.

The Federal Government recognizes Kennedy as the nation's best authority on defense highways. Governor Van Wagoner said recently, "Proof of this is the fact that Kennedy drafted the entire national program for Federal defense road projects, including Michigan. This program was sent to Congress without change by the President."

A change in the state highway administration at this time would endanger the continuation of Michigan's national record of the last eight years, Van Wagoner said, and would force Michigan to start all over again in its efforts to get Federal defense highway projects.

Kennedy pointed out that for eight years his department has worked on a $20,000,000 widening program in Detroit to lay the basis for a new expressway program. The widening work will be completed this Summer.

"If our people like our past program, and our roadside parks and tourist and lakeshore roads, and want the new expressway program to start at once, Kennedy is the one man who can guarantee continued progress," Van Wagoner said.

Kennedy is endorsed by the State CIO and other organized labor groups.

The orchestra will also be heard in two Handel numbers transcribed by Mr. Ormandy: Concerto in D major and Suite from "The Water Music," as well as four experiments by Dr. Heidegger and the Overture to "The Flying Dutchman" by Wagner. In addition, the orchestra will play Stravinsky's Suite from "The Firebird"; Ravel's "La Valse" and Mr. Ormandy's transcription of Debussy's "Reflets dans l'Eau."

KENNEDY Knows the Job!

G. Donald Kennedy
on State Ballot April 7

This is the state Michigan Democrats have adopted in their campaign to continue in office the present state highway commissioner, G. Donald Kennedy, who is on the state ballot April 7 for both the long and short terms as highway commissioner. Kennedy became business manager and chief deputy highway commissioner eight years ago, when Governor Van Wagoner first was elected highway commissioner. His was the job of carrying out the policies that changed Michigan's highway system from ordinary to best in America.

For the last six months after succeeding Van Wagoner as highway commissioner, Kennedy has laid the groundwork for a new Federal-aid program of elevated and de-paved express highways, in the metropolitan areas and the main connecting trunklines. President Roosevelt has approved Kennedy's plans for an industrial defense cross-town highway.

The Federal Government recognizes Kennedy as the nation's best authority on defense highways. Governor Van Wagoner said recently, "Proof of this is the fact that Kennedy drafted the entire national program for Federal defense road projects, including Michigan. This program was sent to Congress without change by the President."

A change in the state highway administration at this time would endanger the continuation of Michigan's national record of the last eight years, Van Wagoner said, and would force Michigan to start all over again in its efforts to get Federal defense highway projects.

Kennedy pointed out that for eight years his department has worked on a $20,000,000 widening program in Detroit to lay the basis for a new expressway program. The widening work will be completed this Summer.

"If our people like our past program, and our roadside parks and tourist and lakeshore roads, and want the new expressway program to start at once, Kennedy is the one man who can guarantee continued progress," Van Wagoner said.

Kennedy is endorsed by the State CIO and other organized labor groups.

WALLACE FINDS NAZI PROPAGANDA IN MEXICO

Behind the scenes, Henry Wallace played quite a part in the Mexican-U.S. agreement to work out joint plans for national defense.

It was Henry's job, during his trip to Mexico, as vice president-elect, to run across some quiet diplomacy with new President Avila Camacho aimed to smooth out all U.S.-Mexican problems. This he did, and became completely "simpatico" with high Mexican officials.

However, Henry also brought back a very worrisome picture of Nazi activity in Mexico.

Being a farm boy from Iowa, and skeptical about the Zimmerman affair during World War I when the German foreign office invited Mexico into an alliance against the United States, Henry went down to Mexico as an unbeliever as far as Nazi propaganda was concerned. But he came back, his skepticism gone.

The great mass of the Mexican people and the Mexican government are sincere believers in friendship with the United States. Henry found a small minority, plentifully supplied with Nazi-Fascist cast, has been doing its best to poison friendly relations.

In fact, there were some indications that the Nazis might even go to such lengths as outright sabotage or damage to the United States in such a way that Mexico would be forced thereby stirring up animosity between the countries.

Note—Last year $2,000,000 in U.S. checks was taken to Mexico from New Orleans by Count Robert of the Italian legation, presumably for propaganda purposes. Count Robert is the son-in-law of General Henri Giraud, ex-ambassador to Spain and a leader of the move to capture the Spanish "Dictator" Franco.

BOTTLE BOSSIES

The department of agriculture is completing plans to burn 2,500 cattle this spring by artificial insemination.

The cattle are the property of Indians, on reservations in Arizona and New Mexico. Able Indian Commissioner John Collier asked agricultural service to help build up the quality of the stock, and the problem was how to service the cows with a limited number of bulls. Through artificial insemination, one bull can be bred with any number of cows.

Most spectacular experiment of this kind was conducted recently by experts in the experimental farm at Beltsville, Md. They sent artificial insemination by air—express one morning for a mare in Miles City, Mont. In vacuum bottles, it was delivered the same day, and the procedure was completed that evening.

Result was a healthy colt, born in Montana, sired by a Belgian stallion in Maryland.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Swankish newsmen at the White House press conference is Robert Horton, press officer for the defense commission, who, while most of the others are hoping to their offices after the conference, drives away in a limousine with a chauffeur.

Some of the electric light bulbs used in the White House are marked "Save," and can be redeemed for two cents after they burn out. But the White House, which buys at reduced government price, destroys the old bulbs regardless, without redemption.

The immigration bureau of the justice department soon will set up its own intelligence unit to watch fifth columnists in the U.S.A.

Alfred Chemical is buying one of the swanky apartment houses along Sixteenth street, not far from the Soviet embassy. It should be all set to lobby in a big way.

Harmonio Arias, former president of Panama, has four sons in school and college in the United States: Harmonio Jr. and Roberto at Columbia, Gilberto at Harvard, and Antonio at Peabody Institute in New Jersey.

should be considered individually, and that in view of the fact that the teachers affected by this measure had taken extension work last summer and were lead to believe that their contracts would be renewed, providing their teaching had been satisfactory. This resolution was passed despite the fact that the teachers affected by this resolution were recommended by the superintendent and principal, for renewal of their contracts.

"I have always felt that if I went to a dentist, I should follow his advice, or if I went to an attorney, I should follow his advice, and if the time has come when the Northville School Board can not take recommendations from men who are in a position to judge as to the capabilities of the teachers in our system, then I feel it is high time that we put in new heads, whose recommenders are a Board we can follow."

"Under circumstances described, it will be necessary for us as a School Board, to hire eight new teachers out of eleven in the grade school. This wholesale turnover is not a healthy condition and is advised against by leading educators."
