MICHIGAN DIVISION

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

LANSING—Whether for western hemisphere defense or "all-out" war in Europe for defense of democracy, Michigan is rapidly becoming the leading arsenal of the nation as well as a military center of recognized importance.

This is the picture today as Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner and the Michigan legislature act to create a state council of defense.

What the President and Congress may do during the coming weeks is obvious speculation. If this momentous decision were left up to the state legislature, little doubt exists what would be done, for both houses accorded Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, Montana isolationist, a tremendous ovation at his recent appearance in the capital city.

The attitude of Michigan's senators and congressmen is also against involvement in a "shooting war." Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Prentiss Brown are pledged to oppose the use of convoys which the President has said is an open door to active war. Furthermore, Michigan congressmen voted overwhelmingly against the selective service act, Michigan being one of a very few states to appear prominently in the opposition column. All this is a matter of record.

Yet, come what may, the state government is preparing for any emergency that may arise. Michigan is getting ready to do its part.

Council's Job

To evaluate the magnitude of the defense council's job in Michigan, you must first know what the federal government is undertaking here.

Brace yourself for a surprise! Centers of military consequence are nine in number.

Guarding the locks of the Soo canal at Sault Ste. Marie is Fort Brady. It is also a training camp for military police. To augment protection against bombing of the locks, the government is spending a half-million dollars on an airport base.

An expenditure of five millions is scheduled to enlarge the locks as safeguard against possible paralysis of waterway facilities.

Bombing Island

Little known to the public is the military use of an island off Alpena.

This bit of land is a practice target for bombing planes which simulate somewhat the actual war problem of a flight from an air base to an enemy concentration.

It is an extension of Seaford Field near Mt. Clemens which is being mushroomed into giant size by the war department. Whereas only one pursuit squadron previously nested there, Seaford Field has 3,000 pilots and enlisted men on duty.

A total of 213 new buildings are "on paper" under construction, or already completed. The air force would number 6,000 men.

Detroit Arsenals

Because of its pool of skilled labor and machine tools, the Detroit metropolitan area is becoming the leading arsenal city.

The war department has built near the Chrysler automobile plants a center for making medium and heavy tanks. It will employ 3,200 workers, three shifts 24 hours a day.

The 12th department has contracted with the Hudson Motor company to operate a government arsenal in Warren township of Macomb county for manufacture of naval ordinance. This plant, when in full production, will employ 3,300 workers.

Within the city of Detroit is Fort Wayne, a historic military post, the future status of which is yet to be announced.

Naval Stations

A naval aircraft station has been established at Grissom Isle near Detroit where preliminary ground work is being given prior to actual flight training at Pensacola, Fla.

The navy department has also established a machinists' training school at the Ford Motor company's River Rouge plant. Emphasis is placed on use of torpedo boats and submarine chasers.

These two training stations of the navy, together with the force at Fort Wayne, also constitute a military reserve for emergency use in the Detroit area.

Fort Custer

A few miles from Battle Creek is Fort Custer, headquarters of the Fifth army division, a so-called streamlined blitz-style unit of combat teams.

Prides the 12,000 men in this division, Fort Custer has some 5,000 draftees who are undergoing training. This spring the government acquired 4,300 more acres for use of an enlarged airport and an artillery practice range.

Sprawling over hundreds of acres are 82 new buildings, while some 200 more are "on paper" or under construction.

If the nation's destiny in 1941 is to be involvement in the European war, Fort Custer may be called upon to house two or three times its planned capacity.

Grayling, the national guard camp, may become a chemical warfare center.

New Problems

It is inevitable that nine government military centers in Michigan in addition to the privately owned and operated arsenals throughout the state will create a multitude of problems, mostly within a radius of each center; defense against sabotage, civilian protection, health

The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

The human race, said Oliver Wendell Holmes, is divided into two classes — those who go ahead and do something, and those who sit around and inquire: "Why wasn't it done the other way?" The world seldom rewards those who find fault.—Grit.

• Two Million American Flags . . .

There are two million American flags made and sold in the United States each year. And there are 7,000 babies born each day, a population increase of two and one-half million persons each year. That means that we make an American flag for eighty per cent of the babies born each year.

Or putting it another way, there are two and one-half million people attaining the age, each year, when they become customers for all kinds of products. And all but twenty per cent of them buy flags. Assuming that half the group are women and half men and that they establish a million and a quarter homes, that would mean an average of one and three-fifths flags per home.

We quote these facts as an answer to those who would have us believe that the spirit of America is dead! Here is inspiring evidence that the love of liberty is vitally alive in the Land! — Silver Lining.

Our doctor told us that the only men who live to be a hundred years old are those that don't worry. Try this one:
The worry cat might have lived till now.
If she'd only saved her breath.
But she feared the hay wouldn't last all day.
So she choked herself to death.

• You Are Lucky Today . . .

The last century was a period of unbelievable progress. But in no field was greater progress made than in care of the sick, and in advancing the standards of public health.

A century ago, for instance, anesthesia for surgical operations was unknown — it did not come into use until 1846. And even later, in Civil War days, hospital death rates of 20 per cent and more were not uncommon. Nothing was known of infectious disease; the germ theory had not been heard of, and sterilization of instruments and dressings was not practiced. Not until 1868 was a start made in curbing and controlling infection.

Startling is the fact that 99 out of 100 American hospitals were founded within living memory. Fifty years ago hospitals were generally confined to large cities; in small towns and rural areas operations took place at home, by the light of kerosene lamps and an open vessel steaming on a stove as a sterilizer. The medical men were not content. It was due to their initiative that hospitals in smaller centers were gradually established.

The whole history of medicine is a history of individual effort — of tireless private initiative — of unsung men fighting the endless war against disease and public ignorance. And all of us lead happier, fuller lives because of it.

"After all, one's worst misfortunes never happen, and most miseries lie in anticipation." —Hawthorne.

This is the season of the year to watch out for those glib tongued salesmen and solicitors that ring the doorbell, call you on the phone, and often stick their foot in the door. Beware of strangers, and watch your step when they seek your time and patronage. The chances are against you in the long run.

Men in certain positions, and certain kinds of business, frequently listen to "tales of woe." Police hear such stories. Frequently the bank man has to listen to something that he should have heard before a transaction is made. Often the best they can do is to warn the public. Bacum said, "there is one born every minute" . . . meaning fools, we would revise that to say there is a new racket born every minute.

One doesn't necessarily have to qualify as a fool to become a victim. Fools seldom have much of value to attract a racketeer. More often smart people make better victims for two reasons. One is that they have things of value and next, they hate to admit they are "suckers."

Play safe, don't do business with strangers.

The greatest asset of any nation is the spirit of its people — the will to win and the courage to work. By that same token, the greatest danger that menaces a nation is the breakdown of that spirit, turning human beings into something resembling sheep.—Grit.

A man always hopes that his lean years are behind him; a woman that hers are ahead.

The vegetables you want
... when you want them!

Before dawn, truckloads of produce start rolling from farm to market. While they are on the road the grower at home is often telephoning buyers and taking orders, so that the whole shipment is sold when his trucks reach the city.

THE truck farmers of Michigan not only raise a huge supply of garden produce for the people of this state but ship hundreds of tons to neighboring states as well. Growing such crops as asparagus, snap and lima beans, cabbage, cantaloupe, carrots, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, onions, green pea, and tomatoes brings $15,000,000 of yearly income to Michigan farmers.

The most successful truck growers in the state are those who keep closest to their markets—not in miles but in information. They telephone the buyers, find out what vegetables will be most in demand next morning, and have time to gather a load, grade it, pack it, and get it to market early. They gather only what is needed and have no loss. Each telephone service enables growers to supply the vegetables you want when you want them.

Dairy Farmers Get Increase

A raise of 32 cents per hundred-weight to producers of milk for the Detroit metropolitan market was announced today by Howard Wilson of Milford, chairman of the committee representing members of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

The agreement also included a raise of 5 cents over the price now paid for milk used for cream and other manufacturing purposes, in other words 20 cents instead of 15 cents over condenser code price.

Prices quoted are for milk delivered to city plants, and becomes effective beginning May 20.

Dealers will probably advance their prices to the trade one cent a quart. This will still leave Detroit below other large cities according to Government reports.

Wilson stated that dealers will have increased expenses due to commissions due later through Union contracts, higher cost of materials and taxes, which it is claimed will more than absorb any increase in revenue.

As there are 46 quarts of milk in a hundred pounds, the price advance to producers is about two-thirds of a cent advance in city price, Wilson said.

BOYS' STATE

(Continued from front page) Law enforcement agencies and legislative bodies will be set up by the boys who will operate them under supervision of S. Specialy, counselor staff.

Boys State citizens will conduct government duties of their "junior commonwealth with a free hand, counselors serving mainly in an advisory and guidance capacity."

Besides the training in citizenship and government, the Boys' State program includes tours of the Michigan State college campus, Lansing, industrial plants, and the State Capitol. Boys will also have use of college athletic facilities.

Rather than supplanting any part of school curriculum, Boys' State gives leading young men in a community opportunity to put into practice some of the things learned in the classroom.
