

LABOR CONDITIONS NOW COMPARED WITH BEFORE WORLD WAR II

How many persons are employed, compared with August, 1933?

Civilian-agricultural employment was estimated at 30,500,000 for August, 1933; is now 37,645,000 — thus showing a gain of 23 per cent.

How are wages compared with August, 1933?

Average weekly earnings in manufacturing industries were $27.20 for August, 1933; are now $33.12 — thus showing a 21 per cent advance.

How are strike compared with August, 1933?

The "Babson Strike Record" showed 180 for August, 1933; are now averaging 240 per month — thus showing a 29 per cent increase. Most of these have been of only two or three days duration.

How are working hours compared with August, 1933?

Wage workers were averaging only 37 hours per week in August, 1933. Currently, wage earners are averaging 41.3 — thus showing a gain of 8 per cent.

How many are out on strike today compared with August, 1933?

In August, 1933, there were 100,000 persons out on strike. It is estimated that only 35,000 persons are out on strike today, 14,000 of whom are striking in defense lines. Thus, there has been a 65 per cent decline since that time, although the number of strikes has increased.

Truth About Labor

Babson Says, "Situation Bad, But Don't Worry"

Babson Park, Massachusetts, September 5. The labor situation in certain sections of the United States and Canada is very provoking. I do not say "serious" because only 15% of all United States workers are engaged in defense production, while at the worst only a very, very small percentage of the total is on strike at any time.

Strikes make good feed for newspapers. They always increase circulation and, hence, naturally are played up for all they will stand.

The workers' argument is that their sons who have been earning $150 to $150 per month have suddenly been pulled out of their jobs and given $33 per month in the army. "Hence," they say, "the remaining members of the family must have more to balance the family budget." This sounds reasonable, but it is "strike," the way to bring it about. I say, "No." Anything asked today by holders is pasted at your neighbor's head will surely be lost tomorrow.

CIO vs AF of L

The truth is that the labor unions have split into two hostile groups, the CIO and the AF of L. The leaders of both are desperately competing to see who can get the most for their members — without any regard for the nation's welfare. Unfortunately, the more radical group — the CIO — has the counter program, while the more conservative group — the AF of L — has an out-of-date setup.

The CIO organizes one industry independently of what the workers do. For instance, under the CIO the Detroit electricians who work in the same union with the auto machine, auto painters, etc. But under the AF of L all the Detroit electricians are in the Electrical Workers Union, while all the Detroit painters are in the Painters Union — irrespective of whether they work on autos or houses.

Government Interference

Another unfortunate situation is the anti-employer attitude assumed by Medan Perkins. Having served the nation as Director General of Information of the Labor Administration during World War I, I know the great importance of an impartial Secretary of Labor at a time like this.

The wage workers of 1914-18 were a large factor in winning World War I because of the then wise leadership of Secretary of Labor Wilson. It, however, Hitler is victorious in World War II, I am afraid history will blame it onto our Labor Department and the United States Labor Relations Board. This is no time to throw monkey wrenches into industry by playing politics. For further particulars, I refer readers to the experiences of the Ford Motor Company.

Labor vs Investors

Labor leaders seem to forget that the value of their insurance policies, savings bank accounts, and even old-age pensions, depends 100% upon the corporations (for which they are working) making profits. Working conditions have been bad in certain localities and I honor those labor leaders who have rectified them; but these labor leaders should know when to stop.

Already I note a tendency on the part of careful investors to sell out their holdings in industries where labor leaders have recently secured control. They know what has happened to dividends under such conditions. It will probably take years for the motor industry to again earn what it did previous to 1941.

Neither wage workers nor stockholders will get as much in food, clothing, and shelter as before it was CIO unionized.

America's Opportunity

America is today at the parting of the ways. One road is paved with dissension, waste, and political pressure blocs seeking their own selfish interests, forgetting the nation's good. The other road is paved with cooperation, conservation, and truly representative government. I have faith to believe that employers, wage workers, and

• Why Spoil the Concerts

The other Tuesday evening our high school band presented the final number of the summer concerts. The series prepared under the direction of Leslie G. Lee and presented by the high school boys and girls was very fine. The band showed work, preparation and a growing amount of finesse throughout the series. However we find ourselves along with others very much disappointed in the conduct of groups of young children during the concert, in fact so thoroughly vexed that we wondered how the band and its director really felt after all their work to have the presentation spoiled by rollicking, noisy, shouting and running children. We sincerely hope that another summer series that the proper authorities will include in the plan a way to remove the spoiling elements that vex both audience and players.

• Protect The Children

This week one million children will be out on the streets and highways on their way to school.

Highway surveys show that normal traffic is up forty per cent. Children are taught in our schools nowadays to be good citizens and to cooperate with the motorists along our highways. They are taught to walk on the left side of the roadway and out of the main beaten track, to cross important intersections with the traffic light, and to observe stop and other caution signs.

Democracy, however, must work both ways. The child walking along the highway has no control over the on-coming or overtaking motor car. The driver must assume his full share of the responsibility with wide margin of safety in favor of the child. Children between the ages of five and fourteen have shown the best rate of improvement of the pedestrians of any age group, but in spite of this, nearly every day of the year a child is killed somewhere upon our highways.

Every motorist must remember that he is the only one who has any control over the car he is operating. A good rule to follow is to imagine that every child he meets takes up a space of twenty feet on the highway whether the child is on foot or on a bicycle. This will allow for any rapid movement or sudden decision the child may make.

The motorist should remember also that at the beginning of the school year, children are excited. They have their minds on new gifts, etc., new books, and new grades—all of which puts added responsibility on the driver during the opening week of school.

School children of today will be the drivers of tomorrow. Their driving habits and attitudes will be formed largely by observing the motorists on the highways. Every operator of a motor vehicle can assist in this educational process by being a safe, thinking, and cooperating driver.

Installment

When Uncle Sam decided that we were on the verge of getting inflation crunched on easy credit, he knocked the pep out from the $1,000,000,000 "stink" type of consumer spending.

Now, if you want to buy a refrigerator, washing machine, electric ironer, stove, air conditioner or radio, and prefer to split some of your future earnings for immediate use and enjoyment of such commodities, you must pluck down 20 percent in cash before you sign the contract. The down payment on a furnace, stove, oil burner or water heater is at 15 per cent.

And everyone soon gets an installment contract, the State of Michigan's to collect 3 per cent.

Outlay of production of automobiles is ordered to be 265 per cent by September, October and November, 1941, to be 52 per cent for the 1942 model year.

Curtailment of easy credit is to be 14-1/2 per cent down for many consumers. If you can get away with it.

Curtailment of gasoline consumption Eastern states have been

WITH THE WAYNE COUNTY AGENT

E. I. Bremner

The Wayne County Northville Fair will be held Sept. 10-14. The fairgoers are invited to prepare and bring exhibits of grains and vegetables. They must be in place by 1 p.m. Sept. 10, and will be judged the following day. H. L. Seaton, horticulture department of Michigan State College, will be the judge.

Lawns should be gotten into condition so they will be in a vigorous state before the fall frost. Bare places should be reseeded with good quality seed and the whole lawn area should receive an application of a complete fertilizer used at the rate of 10 lbs per 1,000 square feet and spread evenly will give good results.

The fertilizer should be immediately watered with a coarse spray from the hose to prevent burning of the grass.

"Marvelous smoking enjoyment, and Marvels Cigarettes are synonymous, because Marvels Cigarettes are mild and smooth and have that satisfying goodness that can only come from good tobacco. And your budget will enjoy them, too, for Marvels cost less."

P. G. LURAIN, Salesman, Northville, Mich.

TRY Marvels. Ask yourself if you ever smoked a better cigarette at any price. Marvels are mild, really mild. Marvels are smooth. But with all their mildness and smoothness, they have a rich, round, satisfying taste that reaches deep down to let you know you're smoking . . . and make you glad you are!
