Defense Stamps

We Americans go to town—but sometimes we are a little casual about getting around to doing the unaccustomed things that translate our good intentions into action, helping in national defense, for instance. We all want to help. If we are the average people earning pretty good money in these times of plenty, we know we should be putting away some of those U. S. Defense Bonds, not only to assist our government but to do ourselves a favor.

The Treasury Department has made it easy for everyone to buy Defense Savings Bonds. All we need is enough Defense Savings Stamps to fill a stamp album which can be exchanged for a Defense Savings Bond worth $25 to $100 in 10 years, an increase in value of 33-1/3 per cent.

Uncle Sam is spending liberally, now and nearly all are benefiting either directly or indirectly. However, because of a national emergency, those expenditures far beyond income, but obligations have to be met especially while danger threatens. Payment of taxes and loaning of money to the government that uses its resources to perpetuate the manner of living we have found so pleasant is now our obligation. If such loans are liberal, the amount to be raised by taxes just now will not be so great.

This week, September 15 to 20, has been designated Retailers-for-Defense Week. Many a store keeper has the stamps as a matter of convenience for he makes no profit on their sales. Perhaps you can take your change in Defense Stamps at least some of the time. They can also be purchased at post offices and banks.

Your Defense Savings Bonds are proof that you are doing your part to make America strong; when you buy them in place of luxuries you put a nail in the barrier against inflation; and you set up a reserve of savings for yourself.

Taxpayers Pay Wage Increases

One of the favorite arguments of those who see any inflation in defense articles is this: "If a company is taking its profits because of defense orders there is no reason why labor shouldn't share in that increased profit is certainly the best reason offered for wage increases, but it doesn't hold much water under the defense contract of today. For when wages are increasing above what the employer wants a defense contract to yield, the government, not the employer, is killed."

The contracts aren't simple as that, but that is the general argument to the North American Aviation, for instance, in its contract with the government company has a clause which provides that the government will retributive it for wage increases when we have average wage increases for the airplane industry as a whole. If the wages for the airplane industry go up 10 per cent and North American's increases go up 25 per cent, the company loses 5 per cent, if then wages go up 15 per cent, the company gains 5 per cent and if their wages equal the average amount of 20 per cent the government takes care of that increase.

The reason for such clauses in contracts is based on the fact that such contracts are made to cover cost plus what the government considers a fair profit. If the company had to stand the loss due to wage increases, it would, in the government's opinion, make a fair profit and would probably suffer losses.

When wages are raised in defense industries, it is the taxpayer and not the employer who has to foot the bill.

The Treasury Department or the Federal Reserve Banks will hold Defense Savings Bonds or safekeeping free of charge.

With school under way and the fair over, I'm afraid we will hardly know what to do with ourselves.

Four Books Listed for Fall Reading

Four books are listed this week at the Northville Branch of the Wayne County Library for fall reading.

One is Bertha Harding's The Amazon Throne. This is the history of the Emperors of Brazil during most of the nineteenth century. The style is swift, moving, frank and breezy.

H. S. Canby's The Brandywine is listed for persons' pleasure stories. The book tells the story of the river which rises in the Pennsylvania hills east of Lancaster. The author's ancestors settled in the Brandywine county in the early 1700's; he himself was born there; and his study of the river and the country through which it flows is part reminiscence, part gleanings from private journals, part historical.

Timely in current affairs is Miller's You Can't Do Business with Hitler. It's a book that ought to be on the desk of every businessman in this country. Mr. Miller is quite content in his book to let the facts speak for themselves. He gives the facts about what happened to American investments in Germany, to American firms and factories which strove to carry on in the Third Reich. They make an absorbing tale.

The last book to be suggested this week is Pamela Travers' I Go by Sea, I Go by Land, Where My Sister and I Was Tragic in Its Implications of the Upheaval War-Makes in a Child's Life and Mind. I Go by Sea treats the same subject in a lighter vein. It is a good, fresh, amusing piece of reporting.

Defense Bond Quiz

Can Defense Savings Stamps be redeemed?

A: Yes; they can be redeemed for cash at face value or exchanged for Defense Savings Bonds. For example, 75 of the 25-cent Stamps—total cash value $18.75—may be exchanged for a Defense Savings Bond, which in 10 years will be worth $25.

Q: How long have Defense Savings Stamps been on sale at retail stores?

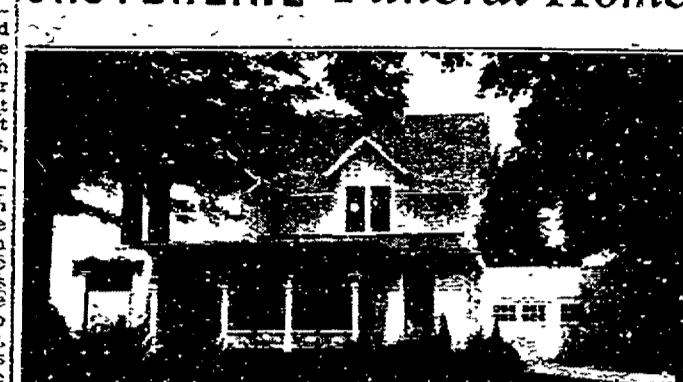

A: Sale of Stamps at retail stores began in the State of Michigan, on July 10. The idea met with such success that it is spreading rapidly, and soon Stamps will be sold in most retail stores on a Nation-wide basis.

Note: To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

WALLED LAKE

By Charles E. Hutton
The Walled Lake Homecoming society held its annual all-day meeting Saturday at the Baptist church. The event brought together once again many former residents of the community, as well as a large number of those who have remained here since childhood.

As in past years, the morning session was devoted largely to the reading of pioneer family histories. Those of the late Dr. James Hoyt and William Pennell were reviewed at the meeting. Dishes served by the women of the church were followed by the business meeting and election of officers. An address by the Rev. Dr. Howard R. Chapman of the Northville Baptist church featured the afternoon program. Music by the Methodist church school orchestra was heard preceding the social hour at the conclusion of the program.

Newly elected officers presided at the season's first meeting of the Parent Teachers association, last Thursday evening. Discussion of business and projects for the current year took place during the informal program. Heading the group is James Shaw, president. Assisting him are James W. Adams, Mrs. C. B. Lawrence and C. B. Gullford, vice-presidents; Mrs. Edward Barnes, secretary; and Mrs. Lee Knapp, treasurer. Committee chairman appointed by Mr. Shaw are: Fred Schwartz, program chairman; Mrs. L. McPhail, publicity; Mrs. Raymond Neighbors, hospital; Mrs. Harry Avery, membership; Mrs. Lloyd Coe, refreshments; summer pre-school roundup, Mrs. Glenn Max and historian, Mrs. Avery.

Activities of the local Red Cross chapter began last week with sewing at the Stone Crest club rooms. Mrs. Carol Hughes, chairman, requests the loan of sewing machines at these meetings, and asks to be notified regarding those available.

The village has a new fire chief, in the person of Harvey Segnit, a member of the department for several years. He replaces Kent Tuford, who had been chief and president of the Walled Lake Fire Department, Inc., since the death of former Chief Arthur G. Werner. Tuford resigned from both offices recently.

The population of the community was augmented by at least two, during the past week, when a seven and a half pound daughter presented herself to the Leslie Reimers, and an eight-pound son was greeted by the Melbourne Sunbergs. Young Miss Reimer came practically unheralded and unannounced, as you might say, and in a most unorthodox fashion. Sort of in the fly, as it were, as the Reimers were hitting the high spots for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. Perhaps it was a matter of only about 12 minutes from the time they left home and were streaking through Keego Harbor in an all-out effort to "make the train" that the new Miss Reimer evidenced an inherent characteristic by deciding to be born then and there, en route, so to speak! Both she and her mother are reported to be doing nicely.

Names for neither Miss Reimer or Mrs. Sunbergs have as yet been released. She arrived Friday evening and on Saturday morning.

Walled Lake will have one of the super-super markets of the Atlantic and Pacific company, shortly, when Don McVey, manager, opens the doors of the recently enlarged and remodeled store in the Winter building. The place has been closed this week for the finishing touches and will be ready for business on Saturday.

Unofficial reports have it that there were upwards of 75 men at the weekend meeting at Hi-Lo Club. A few are still there, or staying this evening, so a more detailed report of activities must await the return.

A farewell party for Robert Miller was held Saturday evening by his friends. He leaves for military service Sept. 22.
