The Oldest Paper in Wayne County Outside the City of Detroit

Billions for defense and a few more millions for labor racketeers to flourish upon—can it be that America is being murdered from without? Are we right when we suggest that democracy's great threat is not from without or beyond our national boundaries... but within. Can you put your finger on some of these enemies?

The Birthday of the U. S. Navy

One hundred and sixty-six years ago a committee of three men, John Adams, Silas Deane, and John Langdon purchased the merchant ship Black Prince of Philadelphia. Renamed the Alfred, this vessel had the distinction of being the first ship in the United States Navy. These men were appointed by Congress, through the efforts of George Washington, as a Naval Committee responsible for the purchase of two vessels. An original appropriation of $100,000 was increased several days later, making possible the purchase of four ships in all—the latter three named the Columbus, Cabot and Andrew Doria.

The date October 27, on which Congress in 1775 acted to establish our Navy, was celebrated as Navy Day. The purposes of Navy Day are to pay a deserved tribute to the splendid service the men in the Navy have rendered in making and keeping us a nation and to better inform the American people of what our Navy is and does for them. When originally chosen, October 27 marked not only one of the most important dates in U. S. Naval history, but also the birth date of Theodore Roosevelt whose life was devoted to furthering a sound naval policy for the United States.

In its early days, the history of our Navy was a turbulent one. During the revolutionary period 73 vessels of all descriptions were used, but though sold, captured and destroyed only one was lost in 1783 and during that year Congress abolished the Navy, leaving the burden of the protection of our country in the hands of an army of only 80 men. In 1794 our Navy was revived by a Congressional Act authorizing the construction of several frigates to deal with the Algerine pirates and the first U. S. Navy Department was established four years later. One of the new frigates purchased as a result of this act of 1794 was the Constitution—with the Constellation, United States, President, Congress and Fibigine making up a Navy which, through successful encounters with French, cruisers and privateers, established an enduring reputation for itself. In 1801 a series of engagements with the Barbary states and their daring trials rendered commerce in the Mediterranean safe from attack and ended the payment of tribute by Americans.

The outstanding performance of our Navy and privateers during the War of 1812 insured freedom of the seas for our commerce and further increased our national prestige abroad.

The effective work of the Navy during the World War is still fresh in the minds of most of us. The astonishing fact that no American soldier escorting by the U. S. Navy lost his life in transit across the Atlantic amazed even those in the highest positions of authority.

All American foreign relations, all American participation in the life of the community of nations must find its expression through traffic on the seas. Ships, both commercial and naval, are the means of giving effective outlet to America's right to participation in international trade and politics.

We feel that our Mayor and village commissioners took another step forward when they accepted the challenge of the period by initiating the zoning and planning commission for our community.

Very few people owning property will criticise this step to progressive growth for our community. Congratulate the mayor and commissioners upon this forward looking step. They deserve it.

This fall for the first time in 20 years the killing of deer will be legal in Michigan, as the Legislature in a surprise move on its return from a three-month recess gave immediate effect to an act amending the general game law.

Under the new law each party of four hunters is entitled to take "one deer"—either a buck or a doe—for every two. Regulations for taking deer of either sex by bow and arrow and antlerless deer only in a special season are scheduled for conservation commission approval at a special meeting in Marquette.

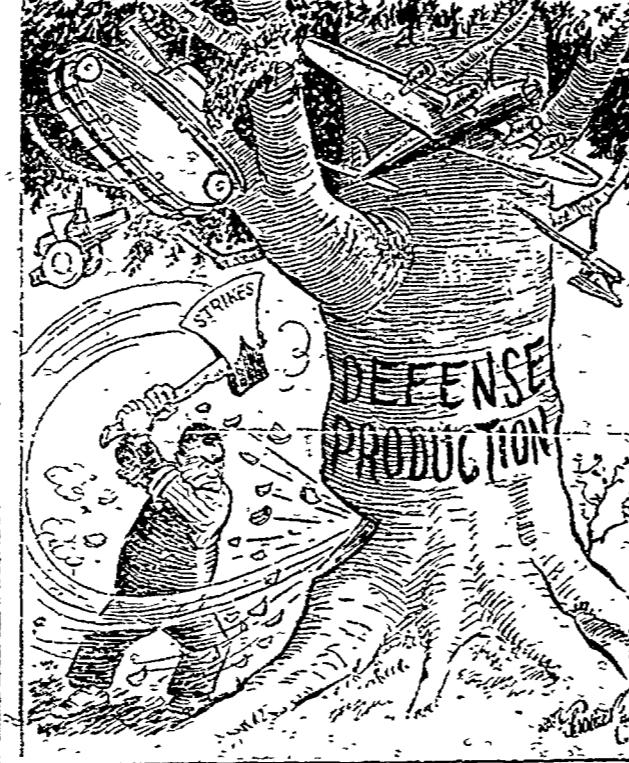

Hunting of antlerless deer had been recommended by the conservation department only in a special season, and only in certain areas where loss from starvation is high because herds are too large for the winter food supply.

Grade Notes

Miss Selma Jarvis' first grade has a new pupil, Edward Dobbins from Jackson. This group will entertain interesting things to tell us. The "Good Citizenship Club" met and discussed ways of being helpful. New Miss Joanne Harroun's first grade monitors were appointed by the President Jane Kay-Riley. They are making invitations for the party. Twenty of the 25 pupils are taking milk at recess time.

In Miss Pearl Hensel's third grade, Eugene Maloney brought his collection of shells to school. Some of them came from the Atlantic.

TRY Marvels. Ask yourself if you ever smoked a better cigarette at any price. Marvels are mild, really mild. Marvels are smooth. THE ALUMINUM released for defense use in 1941 by substitution of other materials in telephone construction is enough to build 275 fighter planes like these.

ALUMINUM for the Nation's Air Defense

Because aluminum and various other metals are so vital to the nation's security, the Bell System has been busy finding ways to use less of them.

By substituting materials in telephone construction, 5,000,000 pounds of aluminum, zinc, magnesium and other metals have been saved this year. The saving in aluminum alone totals more than 1,700,000 pounds—enough to build 275 fighter planes. Just by using steel instead of aluminum in the little "finger wheel" on dial telephones, 65 tons of that metal are being made available, on an annual basis, for defense needs!

Still greater savings are foreseen. The search for new ways to conserve defense metals goes on steadily.

It is the objective of your Telephone Company to contribute every possible resource in meeting the challenge of the national emergency.

Boys' N-Club Initiates New Members MondayFive Boys Are Now Club Members; Dinner Served by Mothers

Russell Shedd's fifth grade Citizenship club had a halloween party Wednesday and today the room will give a puppet play.

Miss Gertrude Witz's fifth graders are planning an assembly on explorers. Groups are writing these plays up and others will dramatize them.

Miss Carolyn Pratt's sixth grade pupils will also have a halloween party. Friday. The pupils have made some halloween murals, too.

The eighth grade students who are on the honor roll are as follows: June Bailey, Peggy Behan, Billie Graham, Virginia Kuehn, Florence McCluske, Pauline Rogers, Keith Simons, Charles Stanton and Joyce Talmadge.

EDITORIAL

The past week the honor roll was made out and as many student names as possible were included. I wish I had studied harder so my name could have been there! But after the honor roll is made out it is too late to do anything about it. Many times we hear students say, "I'm going to study hard this month" but then comes a good movie or a football game and they forget to take their books home. Then the next day in school they think of what went on.

Latin Club Holds Party for Members

If some students have been wondering what the word "Sertia" means, it is the Latin word for servant. The first year Latin students were initiated into the Latin club last week and they had to wear signs around their necks designating "Sertia." Two new students were assigned to one senior member of the Latin club. The new students had to do as the older members did for two days. A party was held Wednesday, Oct. 22 at 5:30 o'clock. The new students were taken in turns into four different rooms and asked to identify pictures and words. After the supper came served by the senior year Latin girls. Dancing and games were enjoyed after the supper.

Around the School

The seniors have progressed in the Christmas carols. So far the successful musicians have been Mrs. Street and Florence Bentham. On the last check-up there had been over 45 and it is still going strong.

Friday, Miss Gladys Ludwig's sophomore class held a meeting to elect their officers: president, Mrs. Howard, Vice-president, Mrs. Brink, and secretary, Mrs. Trap.

All of the seniors have made their class of 1942 portraits and we are sure that schools everywhere are having rebates.

On Saturday, Oct. 25, the Senior Prom will be held at the Auditorium. The chairman of the committee are Mrs. Lee, Shirley Moulton, Mrs. Merrilla Funk, Mrs. Gail, Mrs. Tit-Belle Butterman.

Mr. Utley and "Curly" Oldfield had a good job painting up the walk to the Van Dyke.

The choir members will long remember the honor of singing at the Cass Tech high school last Friday night. All reports up to date have been very favorable concerning the program they sang.

The junior class of Northville high school has been selling magazines for the past 10 days. This project has become an annual event of every junior class. The appointed committees have been working in two groups managing on a competitive basis. E. C. Mollema is sponsoring one group with Joan McCollough manager, and Richard L. Somers the other group with Lois Church the manager.

Approximately $200 worth of subscriptions were taken in last year and the juniors are trying to better the amount this year. New subscriptions as well as renewals were accepted. At the time of this writing, the amount for Mr. Mollema's homeroom group is $35. The amount for Mr. Somers' homeroom group is $36.

OLD SMOKEHOUSE becomes MODERN QUICK-FREEZE ROOM

Farmers like to freeze their own fruits, vegetables, and meats, and are finding the new deep freezer and storage cabinets convenient and profitable. Here is what Mr. Robert K. Herbst, Manager of "Hoot's Acres," near Brighton, says about the installation pictured here:

"We converted a 75-year-old smokehouse into our own meat, fruit and vegetable market by installing a below-zero storage plant. Now we have our own fresh foods right at our back door all year long. We supply the table with our own beef, pork and lamb, and this winter we will enjoy fresh strawberries, raspberries, peas and beans. This solves many problems for the one who prepares the meals. In addition to the convenience, we find the cold storage box a real economy in time, food, and money."

Deep freeze and storage cabinets are available in a wide variety of sizes and types. For further information, ask your Edison Farm Man or drop a postcard to The Detroit Edison Company, Farm Service Division.

The third type of training provided by the Vocational Education Program for National Defense is for youth employed on NYA projects. Mr. Stanton says that youth employed on defense projects devote half their time to training given by the Vocational Education Program for National Defense. This instruction is given in the same occupation in which they are employed, with related training integrated into the instruction.

The program makes provision for another type of training—that for the armed forces of the United States. In the Detroit area, we are at present training enlisted men from the United States Navy as aviation machinists mates and as aviation metalsmiths. We are also training enlisted men from Selfridge Field in such diversified fields as armament practice, electricity and magnetism and radio. We have trained U. S. Navy men stationed at the Grosse Ile Air Base, in aviation engines and aircraft welding. We are training enlisted men from Fort Wayne in auto and driver mechanics, affirms Mr. Stanton.

Statistics are not static on this constantly increasing program. We are training over 14,000 people in about 600 classes in over 50 centers. We are operating every day in the week including Sunday, and in a large number of cases, 24-hours a day. On Sept. 30, 50,000 individuals had received training, including those still in classes, further asserted Mr. Stanton.
