Lansing—Old man "Hi Cost-of-living" is again appearing in Michigan headlines.

Farmers are beginning to grumble about mounting food prices. It's the old, old story of country vs. city, farmer vs. labor, producer vs. consumer—each with a different viewpoint and logically so. Only this time we have a genuine threat of inflation which would be disastrous to all.

Flint's Mayor W. O. Kelly has appointed a committee to study food and rent price increases in Flint. The study will seek to determine whether price increases in Flint are proportionate to increases elsewhere. The committee comprises citizens representing grocers, housewives, meat dealers, labor, realtors, and the city government.

As every one knows well, living costs have been climbing steadily. More than two thirds of the increase in living costs have been due to higher food prices, a factor which is being utilized by labor in its demand for higher wages. Thus a familiar spiral of inflation is in sight, and there remains only the argument about which came first—the egg or the chicken, labor costs or commodity prices.

Price Control

Albert S. Goss, special research adviser for the Grange, declared before the farm organization's seventy-fifth annual convention in Worcester, Mass.: "Unless something is done, agriculture will lose out in the price control legislation now pending before Congress."

In other words, the farmer wants the right to get higher prices if the city worker retains the right of higher wages.

If there is to be price control by the federal government, if we are to have regulation in the name of national defense, then the attitude of the Grange is that all phases of American economic life should be treated alike—either exempted or included on an equitable basis.

Farm Bureau

The Michigan State Farm Bureau at its recent (seventy-second annual convention in East Lansing) revealed a willingness of farmers to submit to price regulation only if industrial and labor were included.

At a three-way forum the state bureau presented the viewpoints of farmers, manufacturers and organized labor, about as follows:

Edward A. O'Neil, national president of farm bureau: Only government control over prices and wages can save us from ruinous inflation. Big business is benefiting from the defense boom. Farmers are entitled to get 100 per cent of parity, the average farm prices between 1939 and 1943.

John Lovell, general manager, Michigan Manufacturers Association: Labor is fostering public resentment by its strikes in national defense plants. Government has been overbearing, creating its own priority problem. We are in for a long war. The closed shop at the Dearborn plant of the Ford Motor company has hindered production instead of helping it.

Prices and Labor

J. S. Wishart Detroit, director of research United Automobile Workers U. I. O.) declared at the farm bureau forum that price ceilings were needed for farm and industrial goods, but they would be unfair to labor. More efficient management, he said, was replacing labor. Labor wanted to retain the right to strike and opportunity of higher wages.

Wishart disclosed that the monthly dues income of the U. A. W. from employees of the Ford Motor company was $300,000, this amount representing an average of about $5 a month from each employee under the closed shop agreement.

Farm Income

The national income has increased nearly $50 billions since 1932, going from a low of $40 billions in that year to an estimated $90 billions for 1941.

Compared with the prosperity year, 1929, this year's national income will be nearly seven billions higher, and it will be an all-time record.

Employees received 643 per cent of the national income in 1929; they received 688 per cent in 1940, proof that the defense boom is benefiting the working man.

How about the farmer? Cash income—including government payments this year is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at $12 billions, while next year's income is expected to reach $13 billions.

Each farm dollar now has a purchasing power equivalent to $1.15 in 1929 according to the official index of prices of things which farmers buy. This level is the highest in the nation's history by a substantial margin.

T. P. Biddle Buys Northville Line

Defer Construction of Postoffices during Emergency

Northville's Postoffice Cannot Be Built Now, Despite $75,000 Allotment

Have 5-Year Lease

Construction of postoffices in the United States will be deferred until after the present emergency, according to information received by Congressman George A. Dondero in the course of an inquiry relative to the status of the postoffice building for Northville. Having exerted every effort in behalf of an allotment of money for a new postoffice at Northville, Congressman Dondero has maintained his interest in this project.

The sum of $75,000 was allotted to cover the cost of a site and the erection of a postoffice building in Northville and a site was subsequently selected; however, according to the Postoffice Department, on November 23, 1940, the Federal Works Agency was advised that in accordance with the President's defense policy action on all building projects not already under construction or where construction had not yet been initiated should be deferred.

The Postoffice Department reports that Northville's postoffice building came within this category and that under the circumstances no action looking to the erection of the building is anticipated during the continuance of the present emergency. The Department has recently renewed the lease on the present quarters for a five-year term, subject to cancellation in the event a government-owned building is erected in the meantime.

How about the farmer? Cash income—including government payments this year is estimated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at $12 billions, while next year's income is expected to reach $13 billions.

Each farm dollar now has a purchasing power equivalent to $1.15 in 1929 according to the official index of prices of things which farmers buy. This level is the highest in the nation's history by a substantial margin.

Second Team Coach

Charles Pink will coach the boys' second team next Saturday night, without a deer.

Rumor around the business district has it that Orton Owen hied himself to the East Tawas camp at the opening of the season with only $10 as "baud" for a buck. This didn't work, so he took a second trip north this week, this time shouldering a gun. His buck, and he did not get his buck.

Sons deer, Fred Oldenburg returned to the village Sunday from the camp at Mt. Mead, where he hunted with Dan Walters, Erwin Martin, Jim Barnes and L. J. Pitman. This party got a camp deer.

Bert Cox and "Buck" Baldwin left Sunday for the north woods to hunt deer. They had made no definite plans about camp stay before they left.

A 10-pointer was bagged at Gladstone by Leon Gagner, who hunted there last week with Mrs. Gagner. Mr. Gagner got his buck the last hour he was out. Mr. Gagner returned Sunday.

Coming in from Forest Lake, Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Germanard, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lake. Mr. Lake got a spike horn antler deer, and Mr. Germanard got a spike horn, too.

The girls' schedule will give a sendoff to the basketball program with a game here at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 9, with Flat Rock the team with which Northville bid last spring for the Suburban league championship.

These two teams have been selected by the Washtenaw County Board of officials to play an exhibition game Dec. 13 in the Charlie McKinney Hall, Ypsilanti. The game will be witnessed by other coaches as a means of determining ratings to be used this year. It will also be a clearing house for coating questions. Two years ago, the Northville high school girls were asked to participate in a similar demonstration game. Coach indicated he plans to take 24 girls who are practicing daily for the regular basketball schedule.

Practice was started for the girls Tuesday with Coaches L. E. Crocker and Pink working with the 30 players who reported. Mr. L. E. Crocker will have charge of the first team, Mr. Pink taking the boys who get behind with the second team.

The opener for the boys' games will be Dec. 16 on the Walled Lake court. As was the case this fall in football, Northville does not belong to a league, but will be affiliated this year to assure delivery by Dec. 20.

Cross-Road

Organized labor in America is "no longer in swaddling clothes." In those words Secretary of Labor Perkins recently stated a fact that labor leaders would do well to recognize. For labor has grown up. And the time has come for it to act as though it has. We've heard a lot about labor's rights. It's time we heard about labor's responsibilities—responsibilities to its own members as well as to the public.

Today labor is big business. Every year it collects a half billion dollars, probably more, from its members. What happens to this money few people know; often even the people who pay it can not learn how it's spent. The conviction of several labor leaders for theft suggests that it's not all spent legally. Why shouldn't union officials be required by law to give an accounting of these funds? Why shouldn't they be required to run their business like other businesses?

Right now American labor stands at the cross-road. Union terrorism, instances of corruption in the affairs of various locals, unjustified labor wars, needless strikes—the time has come to stop them, and labor, if it's wise, will stop them now.

WHY NOT CONSIDER IT?

Having been appointed Navy Editor of this newspaper, in order to assist in securing more recruits for this branch of the armed services of the country, we have been digging into the matter just a little.

After reading the free booklet offered in an advertisement on this page to those interested in finding out about the Navy, we were surprised that more young men don't join that branch of the service.

Men registered in the selective service draft are eligible to enlist in the Navy if they prefer that branch, so long as they have the other qualifications of Navy Service.

There are two branches: the regular Navy and the Naval Reserve. Those who wish to enlist in either branch must be not less than 17 and under 31, for the regular Navy and in the Naval Reserves men are accepted between the ages of 17 and 30.

Parents' consent is necessary if you are under 21, and you must be a native born American.

Enlistment in the regular Navy is for six years and in the Naval Reserve for four years. Secretary of the Navy Knox has announced that Naval Reservists will be released to get back to their jobs as soon as possible after the emergency.

Men in the Navy may select a trade to study and work at from about 50 listed in the free booklet which will be given to those interested at this office. No experience is necessary to study any trade.

Pay is better in the Navy than in some other branches, and the chances for advancement are better. In addition, there is the chance to travel, to enjoy the many recreation adventures that the Navy offers.

You, it's a mystery why more young men don't investigate the advantages of serving in the navy.

It won't take long to stop in at the Record office and get one of the free booklets which describes Navy life and advantages.

As in securing more recruits for this branch of the armed services of the country, we have been digging into the matter just a little.

Navy booklets are available free at the Northville Record Office.

Small traffic projects that do not use critical material need no priority orders. For material such as lumber, concrete stone, brick or tiles, the U. S. Department of Agriculture is advising farmers. Large structures which would require central heating or plumbing should not be planned and will not be approved unless proved definitely essential to the national defense program.

A LETTER TO... Our Record Friends

...from the Swarthouts... on South American Tour

(Written in the patio of the Casa Michaelson, Sagaria, 115, Santiago de Cuba.)

Since Chico Sinden evinced an interest in the "rank and file" of people on my last visit to Northville, perhaps he would be interested as well in the rank and file of Cuban agriculturists."

We arranged our trip down from Havana so that we might spend the night at Camaguey and take a few hours the following day visiting neighboring farms.

One mile of Cuban agriculture is pretty much like the next in other words, the produce of Matanzas Province does not vary particularly from that of Oriente, although they are at opposite ends of the island.

Coming down, the country-side seemed a succession of oranges, pineapples, bananas, coffee bushes, cacao, with sugar cane growing everywhere, both deliberately and accidentally. We saw quite a bit of corn, but honestly, none of it looked quite as good as the Michigan variety.

The soil of Cuba is extraordinarily fertile, varying in color from a dark brown to a brick red. It is a common occurrence for a farmer to cut 20 crops of sugar cane before re-planting is necessary. Frankly, I don't believe they ever need to rotate one's crops.

There are no medium-size farms. They seem to be either 20 to 40 acres or at least three hundred. The large farms are all plantations and are worked principally on shares, I might add.

In the stretch of 600 miles we did not see one tractor, one piece of modern machinery. It is quite understandable, though, for gasoline is 40 cents per gallon and labor very cheap. All plowing is done by oxen, and all transportation in the interior accomplished by small wiry Cuban horses. Even the twenty-acre farmer has several horses, and saddle grow wild. Simply cut a few stalks of cane, turn them down the horse's back and—voilà—one has a comfortable saddle.

The cattle here were all imported originally from India. Evidence they are better able to withstand the rigors of this ever-hot climate.

The great majority of Cuban farmers have a low standard of living. Their houses and buildings are very small, with rectangular holes cut in the whitewashed walls for doors and windows, and thatched roofs. Floors of any material except dirt are unheard of. Barns are merely a heap of thatch set on posts.

On the whole, Cuban farmers are a happy-go-lucky lot. Their philosophy of life compensates for what they lack if they never see more than a few pesos at one time, then no headaches result from trying to look after their money. In fact, we found very few of them at home. But in the little villages, the cafés were crowded, and dire and ominous flourished.

I could not resist thinking of their wide grins if someone should offer them payment for work not done, crops not planted.

Santiago de Cuba is the most beautiful city I have ever seen by night and the ugliest and dirtiest by day. At night the great purple mountains seem to gather close; the lights twinkle hospitably from the seven hills on which the city is built, and the trade winds sweep up Santiago Bay. Yes, the nights are extremely conducive to romance, with public officials setting the pace. The present Mayor of Santiago has 17 children.

During the day the sidewalks are decorated with gaping holes. The streets are narrow and stinking, the shade trees seem to have moved to the country, and streams of sewage run merrily down the gutters.

But the patio of the Casa Michaelson is a place set apart. A beautiful Cuban hedge-podge, it contains the walks, pointed plants, shrubs of all kinds, a sunflower, an avocado tree, and four great royal palms. I am getting an immense amount of writing done. Kate is doing away with an immense amount of citrus fruit. She has gone the Cuban two-bean route after breakfast and dinner as well as lunch.

We had to revise our itinerary. The war has disrupted steamship schedules to such an extent that we congo to neither Haiti or Jamaica, but must catch the one boat per month which runs to San Juan, Puerto Rico by way of Santo Domingo. And we sit here in Santiago praying that it won't be taken off the run before then. Even Clipper flights are booked full a month in advance. In San Juan luck will doubtless be the principle means of transportation.

We had an interesting experience yesterday. Down at the docks watching the screaming winches disengaging white steamships of their cargo, we fell into conversation with the radio operator of a United Fruit boat out of New Orleans. For a man his age he seemed rather frightened of something or other.

"Yes, my young friends, I'll be plenty glad to get back to New Orleans again. This is the last trip in these waters for me."

We asked the why and wherefore.

"Because it's too dangerous, that's why."

When questioned about the presence of U-boats in the Caribbean he was very evasive.

"I can't tell you any more except that it's dangerous. We've already had a government radio message."

As a matter of fact, when we left New Orleans two of the fruit boats had gun mountings on them. Naturally, both bear and radio operator had best remain anonymous.

On to San Juan! And if we do run into a little excitement, what a story it will make for The Northville Record! "Life in a Lifeboat"

Miss Grim Becomes Mr. Richardson's Bride in Ceremony Thanksgiving Day

The Simpson Methodist church at Fort Wayne, Ind., was the setting at 2:30 o'clock Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 20, of the nuptials which united in marriage Geraldine Alverda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward N. Grim of Fort Wayne, and Harry G. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Richardson of Northville.

White chrysanthemums and palms flanked the altar where the vows were pledged by the Rev. Earl M. Beechard, in a double ring ceremony. Liebestraum "Because I Love You Truly" was sung by Mrs. Helen Clark, with Mr. Currier accompanying.

The wedding march from Wagner's "Liebestraum" was played for the processional and Mendelssohn's wedding march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" was played for the recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a square neckline, pleated bodice fastened to a circle of white lace. The full skirt was styled with two panels of lace down the front and back, ending in a short train. The sleeves were long. She carried white gardenia.

The couple left by plane for a brief wedding trip to Chicago. The bride's traveling outfit has a pink mouth green dress with black accessories. They are at home to their friends at 608 West Craigton Fort Wayne.

Miss Grim Becomes Mr. Richardson's Bride in Ceremony Thanksgiving Day

The Simpson Methodist church at Fort Wayne, Ind., was the setting at 2:30 o'clock Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 20, of the nuptial rites which united in marriage Geraldine Alverda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward N. Grim of Fort Wayne, and Harry G. Richardson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Richardson of Northville.

White carnations and palms shaded the altar where the vows were pledged before the Rev. Ebd. M. Bacholt in a double ring ceremony. "Liebestraum," "Believe," and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Miss Helen Clark with Mrs. Curdts accompanying.

The wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played for the processional and recessional.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown fashioned with a square neckline, pleated bodice fastened to a garde of white lace. The full skirt was styled with two panels of lace down the front and back, ending in a soft train. The sleeves were long. She carried white parasols.

Her sister, Annabelle, was her only attendant. Her gown was of rose blue, satin trimmed in pale blue lace edging the square neckline. A border of the lace encircled the skirt and tied in a bow, singing old Scotch songs. Many box voyage gifts were received by the honoree.

Mrs. Anderson's going to Fraiserburg to join her husband she was the only adornment. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

William J. Schoultz of Northville was Mr. Richardson's best man. Ushees were Harry R. Abele and William M. Paney of Fort Wayne.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Grim selected a dress of wine velvet. She wore a gardenia corsage. Mr. Richardson was dressed in a rose robe, his corsage was of gardenias, too.

A dinner for the bridal party and a few guests was held at the Action House, this was followed by a reception in the Grim home, where the Misses Marian Amundsen, Norma Jean Kennedy and Bernice Springer assisted.

The couple left by plane for a brief wedding trip in Chicago. Their traveling outfit was a Plymouth green dress worn with black accessories. They are at home with their friends at 308 West Chegah.

Mr. Richardson's draftsmen for General Electric are a graduate of the Northville High School. He also serves a Michigan State college at East Lansing and Indiana Tech.

Saints are holding Mass for the two newlyweds at the Catholic Church.

Charissa, 14, was a special occasion for two little girls who were going to college in the country, for they spent it in the village girls' school of M. and Mrs. Gerritt T. Bent.

Hepatica Vores is a student at the University of Michigan. Ann Arbor. Her sister, Editha, goes to Ohio State College's Oz. And it was there that Hepatica met Bettie Barr, who is a freshman on the campus. The two girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hepatica Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Setzer and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Klinger.

Rita Healey invites friends to party.

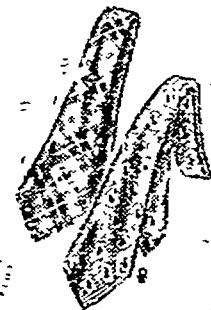

Rita Healey was hostess last Wednesday evening at a party in the home of her parents.

Plymouth Takes Game from Mustang Squad

The mustangs met with their second and last defeat of the football season with a 13-0 score, last Wednesday, Nov. 18, at Riverside Park. Plymouth won the toss and elected to defend the north goal. Northville received and exchanged punts with neither team showing advantage throughout the first quarter.

Northville outplayed Plymouth in the second quarter with passes leading the attack. Passes were from Hartner to LaRue, Hartner to Bondi, and Hartner to Edgers, taking the ball to the 10-yard line. From there Plymouth intercepted the ball. The ball was at mid-field when the half ended.

With the beginning of third quarter, Northville defended the north goal kicking off to Plymouth. The kick-off was poor, went out of bounds, and this set the stage for a reverse play which blew in right side of Northville's line. Coupled with good blocking this play took the ball to Northville's 5-yard line from where it was taken over the goal for a touchdown. The extra point was blocked. The second touchdown was a result of off tackle plays and end runs.

Plymouth out-weighed the Mustangs 15 pounds to a man, which was the greatest advantage.

The boys that played their last high school football game last Friday are: Ray Hartner, Frank Boniorianni, Jim La Rue, Tom Widmayer, Bob Vogtlin, Bob Crawford, Myron Utley, and Bob Beasley.

These boys will be badly missed, and the underclassmen of this year will be out trying next year.

Rehearsals are progressing rapidly for the junior class play "Spring Fever" which will be presented Dec. 11 and 12 in the high school auditorium by H. C. Motaera, assisted by Miss Grace Lowe and Richard E. Somers.

The story is full of the spirit of youth with its problems, adolescent growing pains. Bertha Howard is the mother of three. Jaedie has puerile spring fever, Price the married brother, and Peggy the maid-sister.

Other characters include Ray, Jackie's chum; Mr. Knight, an athletic coach; Dulalie Barnes, the maiden aunt; Donna Rovard, Price's wife; Spring Billington, Jackie's weakness; and Tessie the general help.

Eugene Cole, the tallest boy in the senior class and of Northville high, was born in Union City, Mich., Aug. 18, 1923. He started to school at Lincoln High where they changed over to Ferndale (and then over to Northville). Basketball, football and all sports are his likes. During his junior year he tried out for basketball but due to a broken ankle he had to quit. Geometry is his easiest and gets him down now and then. His hobbies are saving match covers, sugar-humps and collecting stamps. He has traveled all through Michigan and all of Michigan High favorite pets are hunting dogs. During his senior year, he worked at the fair selling tickets. He is second bass in the choir. His present address is 3405 Ru in Northville.

The football season for '42 is and the boy with the inferiority complex."

"Maybe this was the same way our coaches felt at the beginning of the season, that if there was any of this kind of character shown."

"When the boys first report," writes a famous coach, "I call them together in a large room. There are 50 or 400 of them, and this is what I tell them: 'There are five types of boys in this room that I don't want on the football squad. I don't want them to ask for uniforms. The swelled-head who looks in the mirror and admires himself, we hope you keep the same spirit of reaching your goal all through life.' To the others we say and disorganizes; the quitter who would like to be a star and won't work in following years." They have paid the price; the envious chap all alone their best to bring honor to N. To the boys on the team who are graduating we say, "Good work!"

"The fifth grade pupils taught by Miss Gertrude Witt are prepared for a play about explorers. This group has finished writing plays.

"Three of the plays they wrote are about Marco Polo, Christopher Columbus and Cortez."

"This grade also holds two periods in which girls are making stage properties. The pupils are divided into various groups each group headed by a chairman. One group is making scenery, another group, shields and weapons and still another is making headbands."

"Donald MacLean has returned to school in Miss Ruth Youman's second grade after having had an appendectomy.

"The pupils in this grade have taken down their transportation pictures and are going to start making books on animals. They are also saving money to help sick children at Christmas time.

"Window decorations are being placed in the different grades under the direction of Mrs. Carron Pratt.

"In the lower four of the grade building there is a Christmas scene on exhibition made by the art department.

"Mrs. Alice Scott's second grade has two new pupils, Larry Bennett from Oscoda county, and Karen Jackson from District No. 11. Nancy Gray has moved to Flint. Mrs.

Wilard Ely treated the pupils to hot dogs and donuts Tuesday. Wednesday John Clark brought sugar cookies for the children in art class, the second graders are working on a winter mural.

"Barbara Clark has returned to school after being absent for two weeks which she recovered from a tonsil operation. The third graders have started a library, cash loans, books for a few weeks in this way all are able to read many new and different stories.

"The posters in his room show many of the things the children are thankful for. Eugene came into the third grade from District No. 10, Northville.

"Defense stamps were sold to N. H. S. students beginning Nov. 17, in the school bookstore. Grade school youngsters were given an opportunity to buy them in their own building. This fall's procedure carries on the drive made last spring when each home room offered defense stamps for sale.

"Myron Utley, President of the Northville Hi-Y and Principal Harrison attended the annual older boys' Hi-Y conference in Detroit, Nov. 21 and 22. Richard J. Somers replied. Mr. Harrison was second day. Poster Jones was the song leader while Dr. Frank Shutz of Dayton, O and Henry Butt-Crave of Detroit, were the main speakers through out the conference.

The boys and sponsors were served meals at the Trinity Methodist and the Presbyterian churches.

Discussion groups were broken up to discuss different topics of interest to Hi-Y boys.

The seniors were looking forward to a happy Thanksgiving vacation because their pictures arrived Tuesday, Nov. 12. The new Holiday relatives will be receiving graduation pictures for their Christmas presents.

When the pictures arrived the representatives from the Crane Studio showed them to the seniors so if there were any errors they could be corrected immediately.

Everyone was well pleased with his pictures but thought everyone else's picture better than his own.

Crumpled paper soon. Revealed tinted enlargements, friendship pictures in generous number for exchanges, and portraits in folders for Christmas gifts. Exchanges with fellow classes began immediately.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many friends who were so kind to us at the time of the death of our brother Ronald, who passed away 2 years ago, Dec. 1, 1939.

The month of December is here again.

The saddest of the year. The sun and moon are shining on a lone and silent grave. Beneath lies one we dearly loved. But whom we could not save. Friends may think we have forgotten when at times they see us smile. Little do they know the heartache that our smiles hide all the while.

Sadly missed by his mother, father, sister and brothers.

She has often said that her greatest "high-light" was the J-Hop in which she read the Grand March.

As soon as the basketball season begins, you will see her out for it, in her position as guard on the first team. Her interest in pets tends toward dogs and horses. Since Northville is the only school she has attended every senior should know her. Although she has a twin brother, they do not look alike. Collecting things for her treasure box is her hobby so be careful of odd specimens. Besides many offices she took part in the J-Hop, junior play and the senior booth. By now you've guessed whom we're talking about, it's Maxine Coe of 151 Carly street which she says is her favorite hangout.
