State capital highlights for war busy readers.

Special session of the state legislature has been called by Governor Val Wagoner for Tuesday, Feb. 10, to consider supplementing state payments for unemployment compensation. By Feb. 15 the governor's office estimates that 315,000 persons will be out of work in Michigan because of the drastic halt to automobile production. Congress has been debating and debating. We can't wait for Congress to act; the governor said as he issued the special call.

Daylight Saving Time will begin Monday (Feb. 9), advancing clocks another hour at morning darkness. Ten years ago Michigan adopted eastern Standard time although much of the state geographically lies within the central time area. The attorney general's office has indicated that legally the state must abide by the congressional action unless the legislature does something about it next week.

Voluntary curfew at 7 p.m. gasoline stations has been suggested by Lt. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense, as a patriotic measure to cut operating expenses.

The state council decided that it did not have power, even if it sought it, to regulate working hours of gasoline station attendants.

Politics in war efforts was denounced by Linwood L. Noyes, Northville Horse Show committee chairman for a state convention of newspaper editors two weeks ago. Declining appointment of Red Cross chairman for political reasons, Noyes urged editors to choose such a condition in the editorial columns.

Gov. Van Wagner addressing county supervisors at Lansing said: "Slow to be held at the fair grounds ring."

Police Report 2 Minor Accidents During January

Only two minor motor vehicle accidents were reported during January by the Northville Police Department, with the total property damage at $759. No one was injured.

There were five arrests during the month, for disorderly conduct. One breaking and entering case which property valued at $100 was reported. One man was arrested but was not brought to trial because he died in the hospital while undergoing treatment.

The department "observed 142 traffic violations and suspensions given to 15 drivers. Four drivers were taken to court. Fine totals $42.

Two juvenile cases came to the attention of the local police throughout. Two were involved in stealing groceries from stores and a third was for assault with intent to rape. All were arrested. They were wards of the Wayne County Probate court and their cases will be handled there.

The department answered 133

"Tempest in a tea-pot," a headline battle that flared here several weeks ago was the scare about state censorship of all civilian news. Actual facts:

The Michigan Council of Defense had been on record twice in the past seven months in opposition to censorship, other than of a voluntary kind. No censorship had been ever contemplated at Lansing. Careless phrasing of a legislative bill permitted the sensational interpretation; writers in righteous wrath promptly revealed "plots." No one was more surprised at the news than members of the state defense council.

Secretary of State Harry P. Kelly, prominently mentioned as a Republican nominee for governor, was "put on the spot" by M. A. ("Mike") Gorman, editor, Flint Journal, at a banquet at Michigan State College the other night. Gorman toasted: "Kelly has a big job ahead of him in the next few months. He'll have to make up his mind." Kelly laughed, blushed, kept mum.

Senator Prentiss M. Brown, St. Ignace, up for re-election in 1942 was chin-hib in price control negotiations at Washington as chairman of the Senate sub-committee in charge of it. Brown who opposed farm, 10000, efforts to raise prices, knows his dilemma. Nobody will like the act. One way to become unpopular overnight would be to accept responsibility of price administrator for Michigan. And yet someone must do the job.

Deer population in Michigan has declined sharply in recent years. Reasons, as ascertained by the state department of conservation: Over-browsing in deer yards during winter months, starvation due to lack of winter food, and the 1941 camp deer law (field illegal). More flexible control by the conservation commission would be helpful thus permitting shooting in overpopulated areas and restricted shooting in other areas according to conservation officials. Because of legislative toughness no such request is contemplated, however.

Officers and Board of Directors Are Named; Working Committees To Be Announced This Month

Steers Is President

The Northville Charity Hop Show, Inc., has been organized by a group of local enthusiasts in this vicinity. For its first project it will promote a spring show sometime in May.

The charity which will benefit by the show has not been determined.

Ben T. Steers, prominent in the fall Horse Show activities, is president of the new organization. Harry Mack is vice-president; Mrs. George Garner is secretary; and Mrs. George Garner is treasurer. Making up the board of directors are: Mr. Steers, Mr. Mac, Russell H. Walker, Harrison Johnson, C. Arthur Sargeant.

All of these names are those which appear each year with the Northville Horse Show committee and much of their show's success is due to their cooperative efforts.

General plans for the organization will be completed within the next two or three weeks. At that time, the working committees for political reasons. Notes: The spring charity show will be held in the editorial columns.

Gov. Van Wagner addressing county supervisors at Lansing said: "Slow to be held at the fair grounds ring."

Village Election Registration Deadline: Feb. 28

Four Seats on Council To Be Filled; Petitions Are In Circulation

An election board composed of Mrs. P. E. Alexander, Mrs. A. E. Miller and Mrs. A. L. Sheppard was named Monday evening by the village commissioners; plans were made for the village election Mar. 9.

Registration may take place any day between now and Feb. 28, at the Village Hall. The board will be on hand for registration Feb. 21 and 22.

The final day of registration is also a day for the filing of petitions for village offices: member of mayor, town treasurer, assessor and four commissioners.

One of the commissioners' posts is to be a two-year term caused by the death of the late Fred P. Simmons. The four-year terms of commissioners Caius H. Schmidt, George Hicks and Oliver G. Oster expire this spring.

With approximately 30 petitions filed, nearly 100 names have been given to 15 voters. Four drivers were taken to court. The fines totaled $12.

Three juvenile cases came to the attention of the local police throughout. Two were involved in stealing groceries from stores and a third was for assault with intent to rape. All were arrested.

They were wards of the Wayne County Probate court and their cases will be handled there.

The department answered 133 calls for service.

• We Used to Eat at the Second Table

Many years ago, back in the days when several families might get together for a holiday or on a Sunday, the children were often told to "wait for the second table." It was a tough verdict. Youth's appetite was keen. The food on such occasions was especially good. To sit in an adjoining room and watch the older folks leisurely fill their stomachs, loiter and converse at the end of the meal, was an ordeal.

We got our first lesson in priorities on those occasions. Today we are going to have to learn it all over again.

Uncle Sam is eating at the first table. The old boy has a voracious appetite. He has had a dose of bitter war tonic. He is gobbling up things in amazing quantities. He is devouring tanks, guns, planes, clothing, and trucks for that part of his anatomy known as the Army. He needs about the same fare plus ships for his Navy. His air force is taking tremendous quantities of steel, aluminum, magnesium and skilled labor.

The rest of us must eat the second table. We may not like it, but we must recognize it as an order.

What does this mean?

Well, an electrician was in the other day. He needed a "priority order" to get some materials for a repair job. That sounded like bunk. Then he explained that if he failed to furnish the priority order, showing exactly where that copper cable was being used, the supply concern could not and could not let him have anything with which to carry on his business. That would mean that soz Clinton county people who needed some repairs could not get that work done.

A man ordered a bicycle from an old established firm one day last week—a firm that had long sold bikes. The order was cancelled. Uncle Sam had taken the material and the bike manufacturer was working on other things for the Army.

Everyone knows about the rubber rationing. Everyone knows about cotton machinery being diverted to war work instead of averages.

What's the answer?

What is this all about?

We've said it once and we'll say it again. Now is the time to make plans for next summer and even next winter—maybe for the duration of the war. No longer can we wait until the last minute and then rush into a store or a factory and get what we want and as much as we want of anything we want.

If your roof is going to need repairs before next winter, plan now when and how to repair it.

If your furnace will get new grates before another winter, don't wait until next winter to give it attention.

If the tractor is going to need some tuning up before spring plowing starts, don't wait until the 10th day of April to start doing it.

We civilians are eating at the second table. Uncle Sam gets first crack at everything—even our food and our help and ourselves, if we happen to be within the age limits. We must be thinking ahead to see what's going to be left for us after the old boy gets his belly full.

For the first time since 1939, Wall Street foresees a clear-cut British-American victory. They know that the U. S. now is 100% in the war and that Hitler has passed his peak of power. They believe that airplanes and tanks are to decide the length of the war. They, therefore, feel that, after the producing power of the United States gets into full swing, our planes and tanks, needing comparatively few combat soldiers, will crush the Axis like a steam roller.

Although Washington, where I was yesterday, talks that the War will last for years longer, Wall Street now believes that the active fighting may stop by the winter of 1942-1943. It does expect a very long armistice to follow while peace terms are being discussed. Considering that Wall Street was far more correct in its Japan forecast than was Washington (note how the market discounted this event), Wall Street may be much nearer right on the length of the war. I repeat: Wall Street has awful good smellers."

Now that our United States senators and members of congress have voted themselves a pension for the rest of their lives after they retire from congress, maybe there should be no more worry on the part of our citizens about voting for them again. Farm Fire Peril Will Be Surveyed

Every farm in Michigan becomes a cog in the statewide rural fire prevention campaign to be conducted in February under the sponsorship of the Michigan Council of Defense, county defense councils and the county U. S. D. A. war boards.

Major purpose of the survey is to prevent loss of food and material that might be destroyed by fires on any of the state's 165,000 farms. Prevention of individual loss of life and property will be the gain that individual farmers will obtain.

County U. S. D. A. war boards are composed of representatives of seven services of the United States Department of Agriculture.

These include the county agricultural agents, farm credit, rural electrification, soil conservation, soil conservation, farm security and the Agricultural Conservation Program. Other cooperators include boards of supervisors, press and radio utilities, farm organizations, county school commissioners, superintendents of consolidated and township schools and local conservation officers.

Slogan for the movement is "Don't Feed a Fire." Seventeen steps to lessen danger of farm fires are to be presented, plus a list of 12 common causes. Four reminders of what to do if a fire starts are to be included in literature printed by Michigan State College as an aid in the program.

Two Wars . . . Two Letters

On Abraham Lincoln's birthday his famous letter to Mrs. Bibby is recalled. Special interest is attached to the letter this year in light of letter written by President Roosevelt at the beginning of the war with the Axis. This letter was addressed to the "President of the United States in 1956," in honor of Colin Kelly, one of America's first heroes in this war. Both letters are reproduced herewith.

Executive Mansion
Washington, D. C., Feb. 12, 1942
To Mrs. Bibby, Boston, Mass.

I have been shown in the files of the War Department a statement of the Adjutant General of Massachusetts that you are the mother of five sons who have died gloriously in the field of battle. I feel how wish and fruitless must be any word of mine which should attempt to console you from the grief of a loss so overwhelming. But I cannot refrain from tendering you the consolation that may be found in the thanks of the republic they died to serve. I pray that our Heavenly Father may forgive me of your bereavement, and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost, and the solemn pride that must be yours to have dedicated so sacrifice upon the altar of freedom.

Yours very sincerely and respectfully,

Franklin D. Roosevelt

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

December 17, 1941

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES IN 1956:

I am writing this letter as an act of faith in the destiny of our country. I desire to make a request which I make in full confidence that we shall receive a glorious victory in the war we are waging to preserve our democratic way of life.

My request is that you consider the rights of a young American youth of goodly heritage — Colin P. Kelly, III — for enrollment as a cadet in the United States Military Academy at West Point. I make this appeal in behalf of the youth as a token of the Nation's appreciation of the heroic services of his father who has died in the field of duty at the very outset of the struggle which we find open to us by the verdict of a friendly friend.

In this connection, please consider the example of Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., who, after his return, I ask for the same token of consideration as of Colin P. Kelly, III.

A Letter To Our Record Friends

from the Swarthmills . . . on South American Tour

(Written in the Strand of Church of England service. It seemed so old, so laden with tradition that we free and easy Americans feel a little out of place, especially when coconut shells, waved their fronts outside the high church windows and little Barbados goats bleated sanctimoniously at the wrong intervals.)

The choir consisted of twelve little Negro boys with long faces who sang the hymns with unusual fervor. I regret to say the church was not very well filled—except by the minister's wife and those in Michigan have a concern cause for annoyance.

The service was not particularly different from our protestant service except that psalms were sung by the congregation not spoken aloud, and there were several of them. The service was shorter than in spite of this the entire service required one hour and a half. The prayers for the success and safety of the armed forces of the British Empire struck a responsive chord throughout the congregation; you could feel it. But the climax came at the conclusion of the service when the choir fed us in singing "God Save the King."

It was interesting to read the services to be read on board ships of His Majesty's Navy. Each seat in each pew had a little label on it. We were obviously Americans, obviously strangers, so the usher placed us in seats labelled "Excel Royal." This last Wednesday we attended the Annual Industrial and Commercial Service.

Agricultural Exhibition at Queen's Park. It was just like the Northville-Wayne County Fair, only on a smaller scale. For instance, the only methods for exhausting the kiddies were to buy them rides on a hand-driven go-round and a great wooden slide built especially and ritzy for the occasion.

But there were the usual minicrafts opportunities to interest the small folk—candy and pink lemonade. There were exhibits of the beautiful mahogany tables and chairs made on the island, woven goods, bedspreads, table cloths, pictures painted of Barbados by beachcombing artists. We saw a more important than NEC Barbados ton luxury liner S. S. Argen-

What-No Uniform?

SHE doesn't wear an overseas cap on the job—or the smart blue, gray or khaki of the women's war-work units. But she is right in the thick of war activity just the same.

Through her switchboard slash hundreds of calls every day. Perhaps only one of those calls—she can't know which one—deals directly with the war emergency. But the swift completion of that one call may speed the delivery of a whole squadron of planes or a battalion of tanks! That's why she knows it's important to give the fastest possible service on all calls. Her quick mind and deft fingers help keep the nation's vital communication system operating.

Material surfaces are making it increasingly difficult to meet service demands as promptly as in the past. But, while civilian requests may not always be satisfied, telephone people are confidently determined that every war need will be met.

News from Walled Lake

By Charles F. Button

It is common concert by the high school band and high school girls to be presented on Thanksgiving day.

The concert was under the direction of Frank Buch, supervisor of musical music, assisted by Bert Johnson, student director.

Instrumental solos were given by Bert, Bertie, Eddie, Eddie, Carl, Carl, Carl, Jack Miller, Dennis, Dennis, Philip, Philip, Philip.

Instrumental arrangements of the latest war bond music considerate of the interests during the past year have included such a world concert from all who have heard it. The band is preparing for its annual school band contest in which one should give a good account of itself at that time.

The Oakland County Red Cross will conduct a series of lectures for all those of Walled Lake and vicinity who may be interested. The subject will be particularly interesting to those persons who may act as canteen workers during the war. The lessons will be of value to all who desire to prepare their home meals in the best interests of health to their families.

The high school junior class presented a highly amusing play to a large audience last Saturday evening. It was directed by Miss Frances Laughbaum. Music was provided by the high school orchestra.

The sparrows were wont to roost on the 2x4s up under the roof, and as Bert, who is a little deaf, said, "You know what a mess bunch of sparrows can make and 'em together." The other day Bert, who wears his beaver cap at the time he changes off with a red fox cap which he says keeps out of the weather) borrowed a ladder and nailed some odd-ends or shingles up against the 2x4s, and came back about midnight that

Senior Sketch

Harold Schoultz, vice-president of the senior class, was born in Northville, July 30, 1924. He has been a member of the choir during his four years of high school. He considers his future graduation from the highlight of his life. Snuffy, as he is more commonly called, heartily dislikes fatty people, while he likes new cars, clothes and certain women.

Snuffy can usually be found at Gunsel's drug store or the Oxen Job.

Entomized. He enjoys most sports especially hunting, fishing, camping and warming the beach for basketball.

He worked in the Senior Booth at the fair. Snuffy's greatest ambition is to join the marines, but a close second choice is to get a good job.

Snuffy lives at 734 East Eight Mile road.

Junior High Notes

Last Friday the seventh and eighth grade boys' basketball team played a game with the seventh and eighth grade boys' team from Farmington. It was a good game, although our boys lost.

Rose Marie Steiger is a new student in the seventh grade. She is from Detroit.

Wednesday the Junior Assembly had a home room program.

THE ORANGE AND BLACKBiology Club Takes Trip To Exposition

The Biology club took a bus trip to Hudson's Friday afternoon to see the houseware exposition there on display. The students found many points of interest in glass, showing putting smooth edges on drinking glasses, the electric man and various other demonstrations. Miss Gladys Ludwig sponsored the trip.

Senior Sketch

Born in Waterford on the twentieth day of August, 1924, Dorina Miller soon decided to come to Northville to take up her schooling.

Her likes are waffles, ice cream, and listening to "Blue Champagne." She enjoys walking and roller skating. Her hobby is collecting poems, of which she already has a great number. If you want to find Dorina she is usually at the "Cafe Society" the Sutton home, or at 312 First street. Dorina's ambition is to tip the scales at 105 pounds. She has been to Chicago and some day she wants to go to Niagara Falls just as the other seniors are. She is coming on the Washington trip. She attended Waywood school before she came to Northville. Dorina helped at the Senior Booth during the fair. She is the vice-president of the Home Economics club.

Dorina is looking forward to her graduation day as an outstanding event of her life. Outside of school activities, Dorina is busy as Secretary of the Baptist Sunday School.

January 21, the seventh graders had a party at 3:20 after school.

The party was given by Victor who lost the contest that started in December about songs and sets.

The general chairman was Jeanie Tuck. Thirty pupils attended the party.
