Life is going on just the same in Michigan. People still eat, drink, wear clothes, and carry on their daily existence as nearly as possible to former habits.

And yet life today in Michigan small cities and towns is vastly different than what it was just 95 days ago.

Many changes have taken place since Pearl Harbor.

More changes are coming, inevitably, like spring and summer and fall.

Michigan is awakening to the realities of 1942. Most of these realities are not pleasant. Some may be blessings in disguise.

Since Pearl Harbor just 95 days ago, we Americans have been moving at a faster pace than at any time in 100 years. History has been on the run. And we have been hurrying to keep up with it.

Gone is the illusion of isolation. Vanishing by degrees are illusions that we cannot lose the war, that we are invulnerable against attack, that we will fight best when we are optimistic, that we can beat the Axis in a few weeks; that we can win somehow without using our best men in government regardless of party, that lease-lend of arms will suffice without American men to arm them; that the war can be won by defense instead of offense.

We realize that we now face our greatest crisis in 150 years—probably in the next six to eight months.

Gone is the illusion that Michigan and Maizewill have little to do with the war.

Who thought prior to Pearl Harbor that automobiles and rubber tires would be rationed within 95 days? Who had South Sea Islands go to the American way of life anyway?

It all seemed far-fetched didn't it?

W. H. Wedder,
superintendent of the Novi School, is the director of the Scoutmasters'

Training course sponsored by the

Clinton Valley Council of Boy

Scouts, designed particularly for leaders in the southern part of Oakland county.

The class meets at 7:30 p.m. for the next five Thursdays in the Novi School. It is open to troop courtners and scout-masters who want the work certificates toward the Scoutmaster Key will be awarded at the end of the course. The first class begins Thursday night and is attended by leaders from South Lyon, Water- Lake Farmington, Novi and the Beno and West Arens schools.

Zoning Group Explains Work

Public Hearings Will be Held At Various Plans Are Developed

NOTE: See that the village at large may know why a zoning commission was formed in Northville, what work it does and what it plans to accomplish, the commission has asked The Northville Record to publish from time to time brief summaries of the organization's activities that are prepared by a member of the Zoning Commission.

The Zoning Commission has appointed to protect property values, to eliminate fire hazards and protect the health and general welfare of the community.

The first step in this direction was to employ T. Glenn Phillips, who has the knowledge and has had experience in planning similar projects for other communities.

Plymouth, Gross Pointe Farms, Dearborn, Royal Oak, Pontiac, Saginaw, Escanaba, Detroit, Hamlin and Luena Township, have benefited from his help, as City Planner Consultant.

Realizing that defense housing will create conditions that should be controlled, the Zoning Commission has been the first to establish a zoning committee for other communities.

The only cost entailed by the 49 weeks will be a 30-cent fee for 1942. Here is one of the unforeseen benefits of the war—adjustments will be supplied without charge.

Although signs were available in 1940 of coming events, who among us anticipated that we would do without, even in 1942, such commonplace commodities as refrigerator, washing machine, radios and gardens? The mechanical nature of modern warfare plus the plain fact that we are five years behind the Germans in converting our industrial plants for war production is bringing retentive adjustment administration.

Wheat and corn during the previous crop year brought producers a total return less than parity.

These payments will be made from an appropriation of $212,000 which was approved July 1, 1941. The 1942 rates have not yet been established.

In 1941, the parity payment for wheat was 10 cents per bushel, times the normal yield; and for corn, 5 cents per bushel, times the normal yield.

The prospect of outright shortages in many lines of civilian goods has brought on a wave of hoarding. January retail sales were far ahead of 1941.

Economists tell us that the national income for 1942 will be approximately 102 billions, taxes and savings $22 billions, leaving $8 billions to be spent. Yet the production of civilian goods, because of war priorities will decline to 65 billions.

Here will come the punch: 15 billions looking for a market that does not exist. MORE BUYING POWER vs. fewer things to buy. That's the making of inflation.

Five dollar silk shirts absorbed some of World War dollars. Rail-road and bus transportation may combine to save Michigan's vacationers from a war-time depression. Certainly we Americans are going to spend more money for relaxation in 1942 than we did in 1941, surprising as this may sound.

It will be the normal reaction of war nerves, and a healthy prescription to take.

And yet we know today that we must make our present family automobile do its best years to come—there's no alternative.

When present automobile tires are gone, many of them cannot be replaced. And the remaining, too, will be.

The immediate effect of Malaya on Michigan is reflected in the trade of night apparel, women's day wear, children's wear, men's wear, shoes, hats, coats, etc.

Automobile and road, mail, telephone and electric power are being rationed.

Now we are told that the war is increasing by the day.

A group of the Sunshine Sisters met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Wolfe, Jr., for its March meeting. About 15 women were present. Later, routine business was cared for and tickets on who can are getting together for a quilt made by the women were passed out. Proceeds will go to the Red Cross. The next meeting of the Ladies Community Circle will be held on the first Tuesday instead of the first Wednesday of the month, which has been a custom for many years. The change was made advisedly by the fact that a great deal of Red Cross work is being done on Wednesday by women in the Community. Mrs. Albert Owen will be the next hostess and the meeting is to start promptly at one o'clock with dismissal at four.

What Should You Save To Help?

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The following table issued by the Treasury Department is intended as a savings yardstick for the average income-earner. It suggests how everyone of the 48,000,000 employed persons in the United States may participate in the war effort through the systematic purchase of Defense Savings Bonds.

"The job ahead of us is far bigger than most of us realize," Secretary Morgenthau declared in making the table public. "I know that the American people are ready to do their part to win the war. One of the ways we can do much more is by intensifying our effort in the purchase of Defense Bonds."

While persons without dependents may be able to set aside more than the suggested figures, persons with several dependents, or with other heavy family obligations, may be unable to save at the suggested rate, the Treasury Department pointed out.

Miss Burgess and Mr. Thorne Exchange Marriage Vows Saturday in Plymouth

In a ceremony which took place at eight o'clock Saturday evening, her only attendant, she wore a lavender taffeta frock with a full church. Constance Ellen Burgess, flowing skirt attached to the long daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burgess, became the bride of Mr. Charles Thorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Thorne of 306 Main Street, Plymouth.

The couple exchanged their mutes and Keene Bolton of Northwood before an altar flanked with palms and flowers heightened by the arrangement of candlelight. The fits were performed by Rev. Stanford S. Closson in the presence of over a hundred guests. Before the wedding, Mrs. Roland Morris sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a green satin suit with long torso, bustle and full sleeves. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Thorne wore a gown of apple green, accented by a corsage of peach carnations.

Auxiliary News

The American Legion's twenty-third "birthday" is being observed Saturday, Mar. 11, at Legion Home with a 6:30 o'clock dinner and entertainment for Legion and Auxiliary members.

The Legion was founded in Paris on Mar. 15, 1919. The organization was completed at a meeting in St. Louis, and the Auxiliary began formation soon afterwards.

With the country again at war and many Legomen in military or civilian defense service, the birthday parties this year will emphasize the Legion's continued service to America. Work which the Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the benefit of their communities will be given special prominence.

War rumors will have an active part in the American Legion Auxiliary's half million members according to Mrs. James Green, president of the local Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary declared war on rumors by action of its National Executive Committee, which passed a resolution declaring that:

"Nothing so undermines the faith and loyalty of a people than whispered untruths or rumors that spread with lightning-like rapidity; and that;

"The American Legion Auxiliary go on record pledging the efforts of each and every member to combat such rumors; to speak definitely at all times that the ultimate results of this conflict for the United States will be victory; and to meet any propaganda of doubt, fear or maliceousness with a reaffirmation of devotion to the principles of justice, freedom, democracy and loyalty."

Women of the American Legion Auxiliary are taking an important part in the American Legion's nationwide campaign to secure pledges for the continuous buying of war savings bonds and stamps.

A LETTER TO... Our Record Friends

from the Swarthouts... on South American Tour

(Written in the living room of the Cromer House, St. John's, Newfoundland, British West Indies)

The circumstances under which it was raining determinedly on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7, 1941. We were seated on the verandah of the Cromer House, Kate and I, two Americans, were reading some Somerset Maugham for intellectual company.

In the rain the island of Barbados is far from enchanting. The downpour is so steady, so unpleasant that the color and contour of the landscape is quite obliterated.

The night before I had talked desensively with an English naval pilot connected with the Fleet Air Arm whose home is in Wimbleton, England. He asked me point-blank: "When the devil are you going to get into Yank?"

Suddenly, on Sunday afternoon, the radio announced that both Manila and the American base at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii had been attacked by Japanese aircraft.

This had happened on the other side of the world and the nation most seriously concerned, the United States of America, was itself three thousand miles away.

It seems difficult to believe that our country has actually been physically challenged by another nation. Further, it was almost inconceivable that such an event could occur while we were beyond our country's borders. The sensation is difficult to describe something akin to having one's heart in Lowell, Michigan and one's body in the British West Indies.

The following day it was still raining and the Congress of the United States had declared, "whereas the Imperial Japanese Government committed unprovoked acts of war... a state of war... is hereby formally declared."

Some hours later it came to us to ask: "How will this affect us?" With our country in the throes of a war to the death it seemed time to define our position to inquire what functions we might perform for the newspaper who had engaged us in time of peace, who should continue to expect our efforts in time or war?

Was it not possible that our geographical location and intentions would be of even more value during a war which was to test the sincerity of the phrase "hemispheric solidarity." Could we not examine the nations of South America when the fire of forging was hottest, when each result of such investigation would have a vital bearing on the future of our own nation?

It was finally decided that the journey must be continued, especially since we are at the present time in the most important period of our lives.

Two motives shall govern both literary and effort from now first to provide readers of the Northville Record with a complete understanding of our Latin American and their efforts to help our country in its hour of need.

The record of our trip will be kept in a diary and the experiences of our travels will be related to the public through the columns of the Northville Record.

There is NO priority on Careful Driving

Last week, honor was paid to 106 Michigan Bell employees in Detroit who have driven telephone company vehicles for 10 or more years without an accident! Combined distances driven by those men equal 574 times around the earth—without a scratch!

Michigan Bell employees are instructed, and cooperate enthusiastically, in safe driving. In the National Emergency, safe driving takes on added significance, for it is an important means of conserving cars, tires and gasoline.

U. S. MOUNTAIN WARFARE

The army is buying piolets, skis, bobs, ice axes, sleds, sleeping bags and parkas, to be used not in an expedition to the North pole but in preparation for warfare on snow and high mountain sides.

If you ask what mountain sides the reply is: "We are preparing for any emergency." Army chiefs have carefully noted what has been done in Europe in mountain and winter warfare, and they intend that

U. S. troops be trained in the same rigorous experience what is needed for life in the cold latitudes and high altitudes.

They are Bestor Robinsons of the National Ski Association; Robert H.

Bates, editor of "Five Miles High," and William House, a famed climber and explorer. Working 16 hours a day, they are preparing specifications for the best military skis, the best goggles, boots, and high-pressure stoves that can be carried in a knapsack.

Note Germany's expert in mountain warfare Paul Börner, carried out his first mountain climbing expedition in the Nanga Parbat in 1938—with Several months ago, I advertised that I was looking for men and women to join with me in establishing a Church of Christ, over whose altar was to be inscribed, the only condition for membership, the words of Jesus:

Thou shall love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength, and thy neighbor as thyself.

Since that time I have contacted many men and women who are of the same mind, and now that we may have a place to meet and enjoy the blessings of God as promised in the scriptures, I have leased, decorated and made presentable a cheerful place, centrally located and easy of access.

The purpose of this church is to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ; and after that to perfect the lives of those who receive its message.

Our plan and desire is to encourage spiritual development with helpful suggestions and friendly associations; meeting together as often as convenient to enjoy each other's society and inquire after each other's welfare; sharing with them their joys and sorrows, lending a helping hand when needed and encouraging each one in their journey toward a better and happier life.

If you are in need, lonesome, discouraged or friendless, or if you want to develop spiritually, or if you have a talent you want to develop but lack the proper environment—or if you want to get married for a congenial and profitable future

COME IN

There is no charge for an interview, no strings attached, and no red tape.

This is one place where you will be welcome and treated kindly whether rich or poor; pretty or otherwise; big or little. I may not be as bad as you think, and you may be better than you think.

If I can help you in any way to better your condition, I will do so willingly, gladly and with a cheerful heart.

I may not accomplish all good but I would rather try and die for something than to live for nothing.

Certain individuals accuse me of attacking other people's religion. No, I am not attacking other's religion, unless the preaching of the gospel of Jesus Christ could be classed as an attack on their religion.

I believe in religious freedom and the right to worship what, when and where. But I do not believe in the right to force their religion on others.

Our Constitution gives each individual the right to worship according to the dictates of their own heart—but that does not necessarily mean that every creed, belief, or mode of worship is correct or acceptable to Jesus Christ.

Today, I am sorry to say, this great nation of United States of America is at war; many enemies are threatening its freedom and liberty. This war and its consequences has plunged the whole world into a state of great commotion and anxious expectancy. Men's hearts are failing them for fear, and for looking after those things that are coming to pass on the earth.

Diagnosticians with antidotes, and world-saviors with itching pustules are springing up like mushrooms. These parasites are thriving on the misery and heartaches of a distressed people. They are waxing fat while they gnaw at quivering vital organs and poll the pure springs of a bewildered audience.

This thing needs the steady hand of a deep lancing surgeon. A good doctor and surgeon, instead of nursing and tolerating a disease, carefully examines his patient until he finds the cause, then he eliminates the cause and the disease dies for lack of fuel.

If a man is a legitimate vendor of the wares, he advertises; he ought not to be offended when asked to present his credentials.

If I come into your city and tell the citizens I represent the Federal Government of the United States, will you pay me for my time and build public auditoriums without asking me to show my credentials?

When you remodel an old house you take out all weak and rotten material and replace with strong and sound material. Then you redecorate with new and clean material.

The Lord is now at work remodeling this old world, taking out the weak and rotting material, and when he redecorates it will be with new, clean and strong material. The new world is not going to be built up on opinions and private interpretations.

After the war there will be a great rehabilitation period, and the need of experienced habilitators will be greater than the supply unless we, who are not war induced and have the time, develop our energy, improve our faculties, and harness our energy toward that end, instead of wasting the precious war bought time and freedom in frivolities and surfeiting.

Surely we owe that much to the boys who are buying our freedom and liberties with their blood; their maimed bodies, and their lonesome, heartaching, body-affliction sojourning in cruel prisons and barren concentration camps.

If this war is won at all it will be won with the heart and not with guns.

Location 105 South Center Street, under Gunsell Drug Store.

Open evenings and Sundays. Regular teaching and song service Sundays at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Wednesdays and Fridays at 7:30 p.m.

Blue Print Class Meets Twice Each Week in School

The class in blue print reading for defense workers meets at 11:45 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. The evening enrollment in blue print reading has increased to such a point that the classes are expected to be divided. There are between 60 and 70 enrolled at the present time. The classes are still open-filled and more can be accommodated if anyone is interested.

As yet, not a sufficient number of women have joined to make it necessary to start a class. As soon as the number of girls reaches 15, it will be started.

The purpose of the class is to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ; and after that to perfect the lives of those who receive its message.

Our plan and desire is to encourage spiritual development with helpful suggestions and friendly associations; meeting together as often as convenient to enjoy each other's society and inquire after each other's welfare; sharing with them their joys and sorrows, lending a helping hand when needed and encouraging each one in their journey toward a better and happier life.

EDITORIAL

It is customary in the girls basketball league, for the Champs of the season to entertain the opposing teams at a banquet in their school. This year, because the Northville girls are Champs, the party was held in the gym Thursday, Mar. 12, starting at 4 in the afternoon.

There were friendly basketball games with all players drawing colored slips of paper. The different colors combined to form teams. Refreshments were served and the coaches of the visiting teams attended.

This "play day" is another year to stimulate good sportsmanship and friendliness among the teams.

Maple Rapids was the city in which a little sugar was left on Mar. 11, 1924. She lived there for two years and then moved to Northville on Clement road. After having lived here for a year she moved to 428 North Center street where she resides at present. If you haven't already recognized this person, it is Margaret Morse. The Northville school has given her her entire education.

Margaret finds the learning having lots of clothes, eating ice cream, piano playing and seeing a certain young man are her favorite enjoyments. She says that she dislikes romantic movies. Ice skating, roller skating and swimming are her favorite sports as the seasons permit. She has traveled through Illinois and Indiana. For Sherman has been her favorite stop a few times. She has also enjoyed trips to Canada. At the present time Margaret is employed at Tony's Confectionery. Margaret was a member of the Girl Scouts for two years. She has been in the choir. She is anxiously looking forward to her trip to Washington and graduation. After finishing school her ambition is to travel to California where she has relatives.

Rationing

Facing an impossible task, the vast number of people whom the Board is attempting to serve are confronted with many trying situations and will be compelled to consume many gallons of gasoline and to burn up many pounds of rubber to conduct their business with one.

A local committee in charge of the Board in the County Building at this civic program, urge all citi-

Detroit. This definitely is not a conservation program.

It is difficult, said Mr. Graves, to understand or reconcile such a program which is being conducted in Michigan with that of other States.
Chicago, Illinois (Cook County), with a population of 4,000,000, with an area of 213 square miles has 36

Rationing Boards. Cleveland, Ohio,

(Cuyahoga County), with a population of 217,000 and with an area of 74 square miles has 55 Rationing

Boards. Detroit, Michigan (Wayne County) with a population of 2,016,000 and an area of 140

square miles has but one Rationing

Board.

A large delegation of business men from the various municipalities throughout Wayne County called upon Governor VanWagoner on Tuesday of this week to protest against the present set up and to urge the Governor to use his influence to secure for Wayne County a sufficient number of Rationing Boards to give service to the many people and business men who will have such business to transact with such Boards. Attending the Lansing meeting were Mr. Rathburn, Mr. Locke and Orlow G. Orton.

zens to write the Governor, in forming him of the hardships which are compelled to travel to the County Court House in Detroit to do business with a Rationing Board.
