Honor Roll

Note: An honor roll of men in the service is being kept by The Record. The list is incomplete. To have it complete The Record asks the cooperation of parents of boys in the service. Please give the name of boys who are not listed here. Tell us, too, in what branch of the service they are serving. This roll is not limited to Northville, but includes men from the surrounding neighborhood.

$1.50 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

Volume 71, Number 44

Northville, Michigan, Friday, April 17, 1942

In addition to the Van Wagoner "No Star" act, which is billed to take place in the political circus next November, Michigan's 1942 campaign may have several interesting side-shows.

Reappointment of the state legislature, the urban vs. rural issue, may appear on the ballot. Rural members of the legislature have declined to reappoint the state on the basis of the 1930 or 1940 census, although the state constitution clearly says that such must be done. Why? Many upstate counties would lose legislative seats, and rural folk are distrustful of sinful cities anyway.

Plagued by scandal involving a mayor, a sheriff, county officials and numerous policemen Detroit civic leaders are determined to "clean house" by reform of local government.

Top crusader for better guy and county government is William P. Lovett, secretary of the Detroit Citizens League and a professional reformer. Lovett intends to submit an amendment in November to the voter of Michigan for home rule in Wayne county.

While farmers shun suspiciously at the aroma coming from Wayne county, Reformer Lovett is girding himself for righteous battle against the forces of corruption and evil-doing.

A practical and astute observer of Michigan affairs is another Lovett by name only—John L. Lovett, general manager of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association, a resident of Birmingham Hills in Oakland county.

Hard-headed Lovett, one-time legislative correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, is involved in a verbal feud with his namesake. He believes any home rule amendment would be slowed down by update voters. Why? The voters would turn home rule to reapportionment and the traditional city vs. country prejudice would lead to defeat of a good measure as well as a bad one, so reasons John.

One of Michigan's growing pressure groups is organized labor.

Organized labor—A. F. F. F. and C. I. O. favored the reapportionment in the legislature.

Later records: the typical farmer is conservative and reactionary. It is no secret to observe that Michigan Manufacturers' Association looks to update legislature to maintain "feet" as industrialists. Hence the employer hostility to reapportionment. The same situation exists in Illinois Pennsylvania and New York where metropolitan problems clash constantly with rural interests.

County Board of Supervisors are elected on the basis of law enacted by the state legislature.

George A. Welsh, chairman of Grand Rapids, who failed in his bid for re-election in Michigan in 1940, based on the 1942 census, is president of the Kent county board of supervisors. In contrast, in the state's localities, the county interests although Grand Rapids' defeat is a consolation.

The same situation exists in many other counties of Michigan. As a student of government, Mayor Welsh is not optimistic over the prospects of a reapportionment victory in November. Why? Too much indifference; issue is complicated.

Checks for farmers will be paid letter from Donald Nelson of the by Oscar Son for scrap metal. A War Production Board was mailed to farmers in Michigan this week asking them to report by an enclosed card any scrap metal which could be converted into needed munitions.

The card is to be mailed to Michigan headquarters of War's Pro-gress administration which will send a truck to call for the metal.

Standard prices will be paid. Payment may be made in war saving stamps if farmers prefer, so we hear from the Michigan Council of Defense which is sponsoring the collection through its "Salute for Victory" committee.

The rubber tire situation is critical, but few motorists seem to be aware of it.

Governor Van Wagoner's appeal for 40-miles-per-hour automobile driving has not resulted in general observance by motorists. More automobiles are licensed in 1942 than in 1941.

William L. Batt, director of material for the W.P.B., says it is down-right subversive propaganda for anyone to say there is no rubber shortage. S. L. A. Marshall, military commentator for the Detroit News, recently observed: "Most of us are driving on the last tires we'll ever own until peace comes again to this world." These are hard words, but they may be prophetic by 1943.

Supt. Russell H. American is confined to the Hillside hospital. An infection, erysipelas, has been checked, but he is still quite ill. Mrs. D. S. Olmsted, a sister of Mrs. American, is here with Edythe and David American while Mrs. American is with Mr. American at Hillside, where they went to spend their spring vacation.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Julius Petersen

A broken hip sustained a week ago in a fall caused the death Tuesday, Apr. 14 of Mrs. Julius (Mary) Petersen at the University hospital, Ann Arbor.

Death claimed her at the age of 83 years. She was born in Drumbund, Norway, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ole Gasserd.

She was a pioneer of Manistique, moving later to Royal Oak, coming to Northville only five years ago, to make her home. Mr. and Mrs. Petersen had celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary, Nov. 5, 1941.

Besides her husband, she is survived by 10 children: Mrs. Agnes (Vanderstelt) of Mason, Wis.; Mrs. Laura Nyström of Manistique; Leonard of St. Paul Minn., the Rev. Justin Petersen of Scarsdale, Fla.; Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders of Chicago; Herbert of Marquette; Robert of Northville; Dr. Walter Petersen of Highland Park, the Misses Margaret and Borghild Petersen of Chicago. Seventeen grandchildren also survive.

Funeral rites were held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, Apr. 16, from the Schrader Funeral Chapel, with funeral service being held at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church. Burial was in Glen Eden Cemetery.

Seniors Return Monday from Washington Tour

Fifty-three seniors returned from Washington last Monday morning reporting a most interesting trip. Several of the seniors enjoyed Washington cemetery more than anything else.

After a very sleepless night on the train, they toured Friday to Mount Vernon, from where many sent post cards; then on to George Washington's Masonic Lodge in Alexandria; Christ Church, which Lee, and Washington attended; Lincoln Memorial; the Art Museum.

In the Capitol, the seniors were examined for cameras and firearms. Sunday, several seniors attended church and after dinner they toured to the old and new Smithsonian Institutes where scientific displays were found to interest and fascinate.

At 3:35 the sailors left the Union Depot, homeward bound, tired and travel-worn.

How salvaging ever

FLOOR SWEEPINGS

helps the war effort

In THESE DAYS of shortages and priorities, critical materials cannot be wasted. The Detroit Edison Company is salvaging even floor sweepings—the litter that falls to the ground from the reduction furnaces, where insulation is burned from old wire and cables. Furnace sweepings consist of dirt, ash, and bits of metal. All this residue is shoveled into a mechanical separator. The dirt and ashes are discarded, and the metal reclaimed.

This is all in a day's work—part of our business of running the Company efficiently. Efficient operation helps lower the cost of manufacturing and delivering electricity to our customers, brings better service at lower rates. Salvaged materials and equipment that produced sweepings include old rubber, pipe insulation, brass base stove pipe, cast iron pipe, brackets from old power plant, steel cable and copper wire, fixtures and ledgers. They include such items as cinders and tar, brass and scrap iron, paper and cardboard, firebrick, and more than five hundred other odds and ends.

Since the war, salvage and reclamation work has assumed added importance. Always a matter of economy and good business, it has now become a patriotic obligation. Critical metals are conserved, and the reuse of salvaged items often saves a great portion of the labor which entered into the manufacture of the original article. This releases additional man-hours for new production vital to the war effort. The Detroit Edison Company.
