It's Tough to Be Young

It's tough to be young. Not many months ago many of us were berating the youth of the land, everything was wrong with them, and something had to be done to set them straight on the narrow gauge of our thoughts. Today, if over four million of these same youth in uniform were to appraise the folks here at home, we honestly wonder where we would stand? How would they rate the President, the Congress, the Farm Bloc, the Labor leaders, and hundreds of others who just now seem to be using the war to win the election. Can it be that this is the penalty that youth must pay for being in the army during an election year? Wonder if our soldier boy thinks that the government, the congressman, the pressure groups, and highly paid war workers really want to win the war or are just using the war and the youth of the land to enforce his own selfish betterment? What does your boy think? Personally we hope every reeling public official guilty of treading water for re-election gets it in the neck.

Pedalers - Have a Care

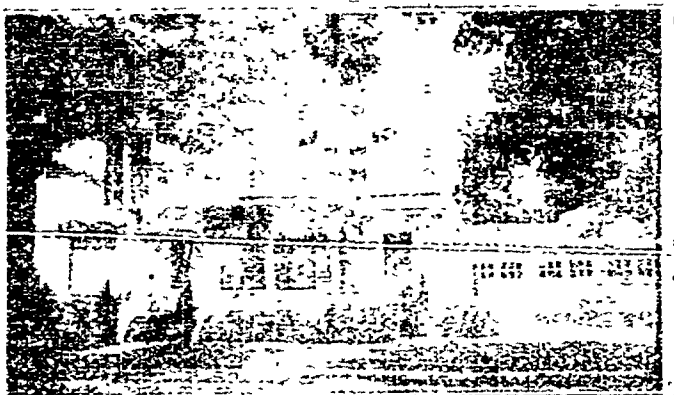

Pointers for pedalers are listed by the National Safety Council in recognition of the nation's growing bicycle safety program.

While the bicycle has grown into long pants, its riders still look upon it more as a toy than a vehicle, the Council believes. Bicyclists apparently don't realize that they can get into the same kind of trouble on two wheels or four and that the bike is a vehicle subject to virtually the same traffic laws as a car.

The Council urges all pedalers to observe the following rules:

1. Obey all traffic laws, signs and signals.
2. Ride at the extreme right of the street with traffic.
3. Ride single file—never two or more abreast.
4. Keep both hands on the handlebars. Don't stunt or indulge in horseplay.
5. Never sit on a seat or another vehicle.
6. Carry packages in a basket or attached securely to the bike so they will not interfere with steering, pedaling or riding.
7. Never ride while carrying a passenger on the handlebars.
8. Ride with headlamp and rear reflector in good working order if you ride at night. A rear light is better than a reflector. And by all means have a horn or bell or your bike—and use it.
9. Use arm signal when you turn.
10. Dismount and walk across busy streets.
11. Take it easy and be more careful than when driving an automobile. There is no margin for a cyclist.
12. Remember you are subject to the same general traffic laws as the automobile. Obey them.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. John Buck

Mrs. John (Annie) Buck died at the age of 77 years, Saturday, July 25, at her home, 143 W. Buena Vista Highland Park.
She was born in England, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs.
John Wilson.
Mrs. Buck was survived by a son,
Albert of Detroit; a daughter, Margaret of the home; and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Ada Ambler of Detroit.
Before the funeral, which was held Tuesday, July 28, in the home,
her body lay in state at the Osterline Funeral Home. Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery, with the Rev.
W. Leslie Williams of the Methodist church, officiating.

Merrill C. Franklin

Merrill C. Franklin, a Mulford farmer, died Friday, July 24, at his home.
He was born 62 years ago at Redford, the son of John D. and Viola Coley Franklin.
Surviving him are his wife, Bertha, a brother, Henry of Northville,
and eight children.
Funeral rites were held at noon
Monday, July 27, from the home, followed by second services held at 2 p.m. from the Cassin Funeral Home. Burial was in the Bell Branch cemetery, Redford.

Lewis Greenberg

Seventy-two years old, Lewis Greenberg, a life long resident of Plymouth, died Thursday, July 23.
Born in Germany, he came to this country at an early age with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs.
C. Greenberg.
He had made his home on Deer
street, Plymouth, for several years, and also a rooming house for many years.
Funeral services were held for him at 2 p.m. Sunday, July 25, from the C. Greenberg Funeral Home, with the Rev. Walter Nabel of the Plymouth Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial was at Lynde Century.

Mrs. John Feole

A heart attack was fatal Tuesday,
July 26, to Mrs. John (Martha) Feole. She died in the back yard of her home, 4349 West Six Mile road at the age of 57 years.
She was born May 7, 1885, the
daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs.
William Feole, of Grandfield,
Illinois. She married John Feole, a local place, in Southfield township, Ill., Jan. 3, 1905. After marriage they moved to this country, where they lived for 12 years, the fever moved to this country, where they lived until about 1930, when they moved to the home on the Six Mile road.
Surviving Mrs. Feole are her husband, 50 years old, son, John, of 1444 Oak and Dorothy of Northville, a daughter, Mrs. Harvey Hendrick of Reg. Oak, and four grandchildren.
Funeral rites will be held at 2 p.m.
Friday from St. Paul's church, corner of Elm and High streets,
with the Rev. E. F. Porek officiating. Burial will be in Oak-view cemetery, Reg. Oak. The body will lie in state at the Schroeder Funeral Chapel.

STEALS LIGHT—
keep your lamps and fixtures clean!

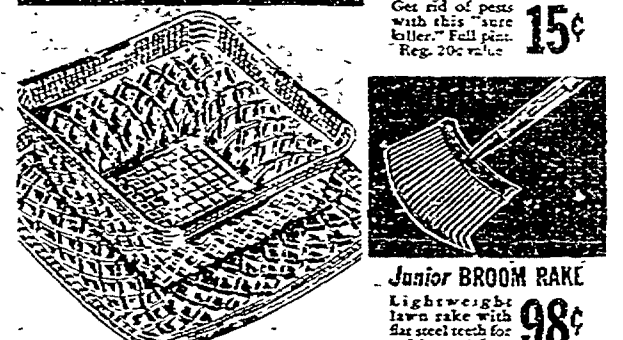

If someone were robbing your coalpile, or raiding your cupboard or stealing valuables, you'd take prompt measures to stop the thief. But there's a culprit who may be stealing electricity right in your own home—and perhaps you aren't even aware of it! Dust on your lamps and fixtures can prevent you from getting all the light you pay for. It can cut down the amount of light in your rooms, 10, 20, 30 per cent—equivalent to wasting that much electricity. And it's easy to overlook because the bulbs are usually hidden under lamp shades or in semi-enclosed lighting fixtures.

Lamp bulbs and reflector bowls should be cleaned frequently with a damp cloth, lamp shades dusted inside and out. Dark-colored shades soak up light and should be replaced with light shades or shades with white linings. This may give you as much as 50 per cent more light. Use the RIGHT SIZE BULBS in your lamps and fixtures—not too large, not too small. Too large a lamp may cause glare, too small a lamp gives inadequate light. Move your lamps closer to the point of use, so that they shed their light more directly on your work. And finally, use adapter shades and linings to modernize your present equipment. They will help you get more light for the same amount of electricity, they cost little, and they are easily installed.
They bring good lighting results while conserving materials—important in today's war economy. The Detroit Edison Company.

KEEP THE TELEPHONE HIGHWAYS CLEAR FOR VICTORY!

TELEPHONE lines today are crowded as never before. Long Distance lines between all Michigan points and war production centers are carrying some of the heaviest traffic in the country.

War calls must go through promptly. In normal times we'd enlarge the telephone system to handle the increased load. We can't today, because the materials required for sufficient telephone expansion are even more urgently needed on the fighting fronts.

What we must do is make the most efficient use of the facilities we now have—with your help. Here are three simple ways in which you can help keep the words of war moving:

1. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls.
2. Keep your conversations as brief as you can.
3. When possible, give the number of the distant telephone you are calling.

The same kind of cooperation will improve local service, too. Try to keep your calls short. Look up numbers in the directory, but if necessary to call information for a number, write it down for future use. Everybody can help by saving wires for war!

News from Walled Lake

By Charles F. Hutton
Gib Sellers, golf pro at the Edgewood club on Commerce road, was still in the money at the Tam O'Shanter open tournament at Chicago Monday of this week. He dropped from the opening day top position on his third round, when he blew a 72 for 18 holes, as compared to his start of 64 and 63, 8 and 7 under par. On Monday he stood at 230 against the Nelson-Haefner tie of 230, who were scheduled for a play-off 18 holes on Monday afternoon.

The first topographical survey to be made of the state and particularly of this area, has been under way since spring and is being taken by W. S. Gehres of the United States Geological Survey department. It is, as a matter of fact, the first accurate survey of this kind ever to be completed here by the government and the state. The only previous map recorded was more on the order of a reconnaissance drawing, according to Gehres, who said the first such survey was made about 75 years ago. The present drawing eventually will become official color engraving, but black and white prints will be made in the meantime for use by the state highway department, and for drainage information. Gehres said that he had found nothing unusual thus far in his findings as regards land formations, the entire state being a dissected country which extended as far south as Ohio. In this area he has covered most of Commerce township and adjoining townships, and expects to conclude his work here in about a month.

Of particular interest to residents of Walled Lake and surrounding communities is a series of concerts by the Michigan Symphony orchestra and well known soloists, held each Wednesday evening in the Greek theatre at Cranbrook. The concerts are free to the public, and are made possible by the Michigan Music project of the Works Progress administration. After the local symphony orchestra, the local organizations of Cranbrook Hills and the music department at Cranbrook. The programs will continue through August.

The third for maybe its fourth annual Walled Lake "Put-In-Bay" is scheduled for Aug. 19, as sponsored by the Community Council. Job Stores will close while everybody goes.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Our Lady of Refuge chapel, Orchard Lake, for Mrs. Jennie DeComet, of West Maple road, who died July 21, after several months' illness. Burial was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

She was born Mar. 13, 1862, in Farmington, Conn., the daughter of James and Ellen Payne, and moved to the present residence in 1907 following her marriage to Edward DeComet. She is survived by three sons, Edward, Edward Eugene, and John, and a daughter, Mrs. E. J. DeComet, all of whom are in the service.
