Hints

on taking care of your

ELECTRIC RANGE

"Take good care of the things you have," reads the U. S. Government's Consumer's Pledge—and this applies with special force to many things that are irreplaceable. Your electric range must last for the duration, and to help you use it carefully and wisely, these few suggestions are offered:

(1) Never use a stiff brush or sharp instrument to remove spilled food from heating elements. Food spilled on open surface units should be burned off. (Avoid letting spilled food dry or harden on the range.)

(2) Roasting or broiling meat in the oven deposits grease on the oven walls. When cool, wipe the inside of the oven with a damp cloth. This should be done each time after use.

(3) Wash outside of range with warm soapy water. On most ranges with closed-type surface units, these may be raised up so that the pan underneath can be removed for cleaning. Check manufacturer's directions.

(4) Ventilate your oven after each baking operation by leaving the door ajar.

By following these simple rules, you will be giving your electric range the care it deserves, and your precaution may help to avert a possible breakdown or damage. Conservation of critical metals and repair materials helps the war effort. The Detroit Edison Company.

THIS WAR MUST BE FOUGHT ON ALL FRONTS...

We are in this war side by side with troops and workers on all war fronts

For more than a year, our men on land and sea have fought to the bitter end. This has been about year business-building and maintaining the electric and gas services of supply to home and store, shop and factory. The people called for those who were ready.

This war must be fought on all fronts. As fast as the enemy had, he has been fighting it on all fronts. We are in the middle night and day to help win the battle.

This war must be fought on all fronts.

But this war must be fought on all fronts.

Purity REFRIGERATOR FOOD LOCKERS

May we again thank our many patrons for their splendid cooperation during the past two years. It is our desire to be of greater service through the trying years of wartime scarcity now facing us.

We want you to know that we have filed an application with the War Production Board for Priorities on materials needed to expand our present locker plant. If our request is granted we will gladly let you know through the columns of the Northville Record, so you can come in and arrange for your locker.

IT IS PATRIOTIC...

Today the person who looks ahead buys in larger quantities, preserves the perishable food of meat and fruit, and tree will be more than ample repaid. And besides Uncle Sam urges this type of wartime planning—the preserving of perishable foods for home consumption.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Sablotna-Brassfield Nuptials Take Place Sunday in Ann Arbor Baptist Church

In the First Baptist Church, Ann Arbor, Tisha Brassfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Brassfield, was married to Carpenter, Ky., on Aug. 12.

Three of the club's four past presidents were there, including Mrs. Thomas R. Cutherson, Mrs. William B. Walker, and Mrs. Roy S. McElroy.

Guests were present from Plymouth, Northville, and Dearborn.

The bride, wife of Doctor Charles R. Brassfield, was born at 10 a.m. at the hospital.

The couple exchanged rings at the altar flanked with baskets of gladioli. The Rev. C. H. Lockett officiated at the ceremony.

Theresa M. of South Lyon, bride, was accompanied by a corsage of roses.

The bride was garbed in a simple white mantelet with lace trimmers on the bodice styled with a Collar of Plymouth and lace-trimmed sleeves. Her head was held in a heart-shaped halo.

Because of the heat, Mrs. Brassfield wore a light-colored dress.

White lilies, Delphinium, Iris, and pink roses were used to make up the colonial bouquet which she carried.

Mrs. Charles R. Brassfield of Plymouth, Michigan, was the maid of honor.

Vera Brassfield of Plymouth, Michigan, was her sister maid of honor.

She wore a new one-piece gown with wide bands of matching ribbons in shades of red and blue.

She carried a bouquet of sunflowers.

Brassfield's father, Dr. Charles R. Brassfield, was a member of the Plymouth Medical Society.

His son, Dr. Edward H. Brassfield, was a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Brassfield has taught mathematics for the past six years. She is a member of the Board of Selectmen, and has her Masters from the University of Michigan.

140,000 industrial employees over and above the present labor supply. Because of this labor situation, it is further estimated that at least 80,000 women will be needed to fill vacancies in industrial plants by the end of the year.

It's the women of the community who are asked to fill out the cards which will be left at their homes. They are to be returned within 48 hours to the United States Employment Service.

the local Civilian Defense agencies are expected to swing into the War Program.

There will be a two-hour fire drill, now in front of the post office, every evening. These will be maintained periodically. Weather and Sandy.

Reported to be the last fire drill to be at 11:30 p.m. through Aug. 15.

We want the public to be aware to have their lights off during fire drill and let everyone know MODERN wartime lights need to be turned off during fire drill.

The long, 120-mile, 240-foot tunnel, St. Francis Park, in Oakdale, could be a park or a food court field just west of Littleton's, located cheap 1500 ft. from the lake outlet.

The local chairman expected the grand total to go over the $500 mark. Over in Plymouth, $1200 was contributed, while in Eureka township, it is further estimated that at least $80,000 will be needed to fill vacancies in industrial plants by the end of the year.

It's the women of the community who are asked to fill out the cards which will be left at their homes. They are to be returned within 48 hours to the United States Employment Service.
