Keeping In Step With Our Times

Essential Dates and Information Affecting the Welfare of the "Vanishing Civilian"

Week by week war is trimming off all luxuries—pressure driving, that extra cup of coffee, and a warm evening in an oil heated home, all are or will soon be fond memories. And the list will grow—Washington is just taking us now. But when we start paying next year's taxes we will fully realize how far the trimming process really goes. War's cost this year is $5 billion, next year around $6 billion. Deducting for war use there will be left only about $1 billion dollars worth of goods for civilians.

Watch your coffee—Merchants' stocks were frozen Nov. 21. Patents are scheduled for midnight Nov. 28. Ration is 10.4 pounds per person over 15 years per year. This figure may be changed, of course. Sugar coupons will be used. If you didn't register for sugar, get busy or you may be losing out on your coffee.

The government wants your pennies for the copper in them. You are supposed to dig up ten pennies (even if you have to rob the kids' bank) and put them in.

The O.P.A. is expecting and preparing to infect itself into the nation's construction problem and erect a price ceiling on all building and repair service-sales jobs.

Collection of worn or discarded silk and nylon stockings through all retail stores having women's and misses' hose departments is scheduled to start Nov. 18. Please wash them before turning them in.

Shortening of furloughs for draft inductees to one week will become effective with those reporting to induction stations on and after Nov. 17.

Conversion to coal or some other alternate fuel still waits. It still waits. The best way for home owners to be certain of adequate warmth this winter.

Are you cooking with gas? Seriously, Mrs. Michigan, conservation of gas is one war you can help the war effort. Cutting down on gas in home heating and cooking does two things—it makes more available for war industries and, of course, it lowers our bill.

Milk cans and all sizes feeding used in farms will be rationed through the Department of Agriculture. The use of new burial bags will be restricted to packing on bakery, beans and peas, dairy products, potatoes, rice, rock salt, feeds and meals for animal consumption, dried fruits, nuts, seeds, raw sugar, wheat, wool, wool products and a few other items.

A car owner and others holding gasoline books under mileage rationing will be required to write identifications on the back of their coupons to insure against theft and misuse. This is an Office of Price Administration rule. OPA gasoline dealers throughout Michigan and the nation will not be permitted to accept coupons from their customers unless coupons are properly identified.

Christmas lighting will burn dinner this year, further embarrassing the impact of total war. The War Production Board has asked city officials, civic clubs, chambers of commerce, restaurants and citizens generally to dispense with outdoor decorative lighting this Christmas. WPA points out that electric lighting requires use of critical materials, electricity and manpower and is not in line with general conservation practices already under way.

Between now and Jan. 1 the output of coal and wood-burning domestic heating stoves will be stepped up. WPA made this move to meet the acute shortage of these stoves. Beginning Nov. 29 sugar coupons will serve also for coffee rations—stamps ranging 20 to 25 cents have been designated as coffee stamps. The government is preparing to take action against thousands of retailers over the nation, chiefly grocery stores, guilty of violating regulations that keep prices down.

Hunters and trappers are asked by the government to save every bit of fat from large and small game. Also hunters are asked to send in the deer and small feathers of wildfowl—they're all needed for rat. OPA has just ordered price reductions that will save farmers an average of 50 to 75 per cent for their purchases of oil meal and oil cake—the major source of protein for cattle, hogs and poultry.

Milk rationing is in the offing. Consumer demand is increasing and imports are falling. Also butter is on the weekly purchasing calendar for the United Nations. 4,000,000 pounds having been bought up for shipment to the Allies last month.

Effective date for Office of Defense Transportation mileage rationing plan has been postponed from Nov. 15 to Dec. 1. Deadline for first tire inspection was advanced to Jan. 15.

The Michigan coffee-lover, beginning with breakfast on next Sunday Nov. 29, must face the world on about a cup a day. Starting on that day stamp No. 27 in your War Ration book—the book you use to get stamps—will entitle you and each member of your family over 14 years old to one pound of coffee. This will have to last you for five weeks.

Most of the rules applied to sugar rationing will apply also to coffee. The main exception is that you will not be able to get coffee with coupons from the books of your children, 14 years old or younger. And you probably will want to take care of your coffee purchases differently than you have sugar. Most women are accustomed to buying sugar in large quantities, but coffee loses its flavor and freshness and should be bought a pound or two at a time.

Advice to Christmas shoppers from the Office of Defense Transportation: "Buy your packages home with you" (store delivery has been cut 25 per cent during last year), but carry them on buses and street cars during off-peak hours between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. In cases of purchases that cannot be carried, do not return them immediately. Avoid the all-time record crush anticipated for mid-December.

Electrical gadgets are out for the duration. The War Production Board has ordered that bare essentials must be the rule which eliminates most of the varied and colorful array of metal gadgets, cooking utensils and housewares that in recent years have characterized the American home kitchen.

Price reductions are always good news—and here's a report of them from the Office of Price Administration. The cost of knitted underwear is expected to drop from three to 20 cents per garment under an OPA order requiring that savings in material costs of these garments due to necessary war-time substitutions of less expensive carded yarn for combed yarn be passed on to the consumer.

To prevent a critical heating oil shortage in Lower Michigan and to insure adequate deliveries pending further study into price structures, OPA has just established new ceilings on distillate fuel oil for both tank wagon and refineries in this territory. Generally, the new ceilings are one-half cent higher per gallon.

Conservation Department Reports Normal Kill

Michigan's unpredictable hunting season settled back to normal late this week after an opening so heavy purchased the conservation department ordered 16,000 additional licenses to supplement the 240,000 already in dealers' hands.

Since the ground or the snow-covered hills early autumn weather sent thousands hunting home as soon as they got their deer. Familiar stories to the number of hunters actually in the field proved uncertain this year as to where deer were plentiful and where they were scarce. Through 1,000 licensees crowded the streets of Mackinaw City during week end, they carried 200 more trailers than drivers a year ago. But only deer have been reported sold killed.

Conservation officers repeat frequently that it is normal to light a campfire with dried and fair condition of the weather.

before you move

It's a wise precaution to consult the Telephone Company about service at your new location before you go too far with your plans.

Today many materials used in telephone lines and instruments are more urgently needed in weapons for the armed forces. That's why the War Production Board has placed drastic restrictions on new telephone installations.

Except in cases where telephones are directly essential to the war effort, or to public health, welfare or security—

1. New telephone service cannot be provided at some locations.
2. Party-line service, only, can be furnished in many cases.
3. Temporary service, only, can be supplied at some points, subject to withdrawal on 48 hours' notice if needed for essential purposes.
4. Extension telephones cannot be installed in residences.

In so far as material shortages and war restrictions permit, we shall continue to provide the best service possible. And we look forward to the day when we again can give the kind of service wanted, "when and where wanted." But now, and for the duration, war needs come first.

On the Firing Line

Do you ever think how you grip that favorite handgun of yours? Has it occurred to you just how important the contact between hand and gun is, and what happens if you change your grip even the least bit?

Whether a shotgun is a .22 or a .45, it recoils when it fires. The recoil carries the muzzle upward. If your grip is loose the muzzle jumps four inches; if your grip is tight, the muzzle only climbs a couple of inches. You can see from this that your grip is going to have to be the same as it was when you first got the gun. You can keep it off the gun by continually changing its point of impact because of your variation in grip.

Most shooters do not realize this at all. Yet if they fastened the gun in a machine of some kind—they'd be very careful to see that the machine held the gun with the same pressure each shot. If it was a fact that recoil did not occur until the bullet leaves the muzzle then it would not matter whether the gun was held tightly or loosely. However, recoil begins while the bullet is still in the bore and the position of the barrel at the time the shot comes depends to great extent on our grip. Best thing to do is to hold the gun very firmly. Recoil then becomes more uniform from shot to shot.

WAR PRODUCTION

No added lamps—no additional electricity—but factory illumination DOUBLED by salvaging light! That's the story of the newest tool for increasing war production in plants large and small. Here's how it's done.

Men work better under good light. The easier they can see, the more they can accomplish—with fewer mistakes and less accidents. For improving general illumination, light salvaged is just as useful as light added—and it costs much less. How does one salvage light? With soap and water and a scrub brush. Soap and water for removing dirt from grimy walls... fresh paint (white, cream, or similar shades) to lighten dark walls and ceilings.

Dark walls and ceilings, dark floors and furniture and machines all soak up light. If these are painted light in color, they REFLCT most of the light instead of absorbing it immediately, and you "salvage light." One typical plant increased its light utilization 102 per cent without adding a single lamp bulb simply by painting the walls and floors and ceilings a light color.

Over the Top by New Year's Is the Plea of Secretary Morgenthau

November 13, 1942

As of today twenty-one million American workers are investing eight per cent of their salary - every pay day - in United States War Savings Bonds. This is a very remarkable tribute to our armed forces who are fighting the war. But this job is only two-thirds accomplished.

There are nine million additional American workers who are not investing in War Bonds - every pay day.

This appeal is directed to two groups of Americans.

First - the twenty-one million people who are investing eight per cent of their wages. We ask you to increase your investment to ten per cent or more.

Second - the other nine million whom we ask to join the Payroll Savings Plan and to invest ten per cent or more of their wages.

It is estimated there are 100,000,000 Americans who are not investing ten per cent or more of their wages in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.
