Law Enforcement Commission Task

Reflect Public Sentiment Asking Stricter Watch on Liquor Selling Places

Monday evening the village commission with a perfect attendance considered matters of liquor law enforcement and the restriction of nuisance dogs in the community. Drainage problems that have been troublesome of late were apparently cleared up.

A sum of money was appropriated to the recreational work in the village. After discussion of nuisance dogs at large, and the enforcement of the ordinance with vaccination requirements, ways and means for setting a date and limit for requirements was to await further information.

After reflecting a village sentiment for a stricter enforcement and clamp on present laxness in places selling liquor, the matter was laid on the table.

The Cub Scouts will hold their annual summer picnic Tuesday, July 27, 8:30 p.m. at Cass Penton park, near the wading pool. Bring own table service, sandwiches and a passing dish.

Field Day programs for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 19, 20 and 21 are being arranged by a committee composed of Harry Clark, Tamas Biddle, Dick Hammermeister and Orlow Owen. W. E. Forney, secretary of the Fair, has completed arrangements for a radio show followed by fireworks each evening to climax each day's entertainment. C. Stewart will be in charge of the fireworks display.

Superintendents of the various departments of the Fair and exhibits have their plans well in hand, and it is an assured fact that more premiums will be awarded this year than in previous years. There will be special prizes for the Victory Garden exhibits which will be of unusual interest. These Victory Garden prizes in all will amount to $11,000.

News from Salem

By Mrs. Frank Buers
Anyone wishing to apply for operator's or chauffeur's licenses may do so on the last Wednesday of each month from 2 to 7 p.m. at Salem town hall.

A dinner was given at the Peter Stojanoff home in honor of their niece, the former Wilma Kurz, of Detroit, who recently married Lt. Robert Kas, also of Detroit, at New Haven, Conn. Lt. and Mrs. Kas will leave for the South in the near future, where he will be an instructor. The William Workers class of the Salem Federated Church will hold their class picnic Tuesday, July 27, instead of Tuesday, July 20, at the Willows, on Six Mile and Northville roads.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Poling spent Thursday and Friday at their home in Mt. Pleasant, Mrs. Frank Buers accompanied them as a house guest.

Electric power is playing an important role in the nation's war production. This country alone has more horsepower than the combined total of all our enemies. Here in Detroit and southeastern Michigan, the power supply of The Detroit Edison Company totals more than a million-and-a-half horsepower. More than half of this enormous power pool is being used directly in war production. During 1942, power for war production totaled over TWO BILLION kilowatt-hours.

The combined generating capacity of all Detroit Edison power plants totals 1,655,000 horsepower. Insofar as one can be sure of anything in time of war, there should be no shortage of electricity in this section, and all war plants will continue to get electric power to meet peak production. The Detroit Edison Company.

Those included were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McBride of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Haze Bennett of South Lyon, and from Northville: Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Plabert, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodruff and Elsie, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anker, Mr. and Mrs. Al Charters, Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Wirth, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Knight.

Another out of town guest was Mrs. Russell Walker of Los Angeles, who is here visiting Mrs. Clarence Davis.

Marriage Announced
An announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Olive Sayre of Detroit and Glenn Charter of Northville, Saturday, July 10, at 8:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. Charter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Charter, 217 S. Wing St. Rev. William Richards read the service. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Charter will make their home at the Wing St. residence.

Many Ships Landed
The nation's shipyards delivered 168 cargo vessels totaling 1,678,500 deadweight tons in June, the Maritime Commission has announced. This may be compared with the record total of 175 for May and 157 in April. The June figures brought production for the first half of 1943 to 379 ships totaling 3,818,822 deadweight tons. In the entire year 1942 the yards produced 746 vessels totaling 8,089,732 deadweight tons.

Soldier's Life Insurance
Soldier at home or abroad are insured that less than three weeks remain in which they can get National Service Life Insurance without a physical examination. Until August 10, 1943, every application will be accepted regardless of the individual's medical condition. After August 10 a rigid physical examination will be required.

Farmers Will Get Gasoline
Farmers are entitled to first call in receiving motor fuel when they present valid "E" "B" or "C" coupons or ration checks which are issued pursuant to Nation Order 5-C of the Office of Price Administration. Dealers must accord them this privilege. This means that if necessary, a dealer shall not deliver any fuel for any non-agricultural or military use until these preferred demands have been satisfied. Statement by Acting Director A. H. Davis.

Dairy Products Supplies
Cheese will be P. M. 1943. The War Food Administration has announced that the Army will get 4 percent of every 10 pounds of cheese. 4 percent of every 10 pounds of cheese.

Canned Vegetables and Fruits
Nearly 70 percent of the canned vegetables and 53 percent of the canned fruits and juices available in the next 12 months will go to feed civilians. These quantities allocated by the WFA for the 12 months beginning July 1, constitute about 4 percent more canned vegetables but about 20 percent less canned fruit than were consumed on the average during the 1935-39 period.

Egg Supplies Hold Even
About the same quantity of eggs will be available to civilians in the 12 months beginning July 1, as in the same period last year, the WFA has indicated. Of a total of 5 billion dozen eggs, civilians will get about 3 1/2 billion dozen.

No Cotton Quotas For 1943
The War Food Administration, on recommendations of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, has announced that there will be no marketing quotas for the 1943 cotton crop and that no quotas will be in effect for the 1944 crop. On July 1 farmers were cultivating about 8 million acres less cotton than the acreage permitted in 1942, and about a million and a half fewer acres than they were cultivating on July 1, 1942.

Farm Land Values
Farm land values on March 1, 1943 were higher than they were in 1942, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said, in explaining that the index of average per acre had risen to 99. (1912 to 1914 equals 100). The index of average per acre values in March 1942, was 91. A low point of 33 was reached in 1933 in the aftermath of inflation started during the last war. One anti-inflationary force at the present time is the fact that many farmers have been using a considerable part of their cash income to pay off mortgage debts.

8 Million Pounds of Waste Fats
American housewives salvaged almost 8 million pounds of waste kitchen fats in May—highest total since the fats and grease salvage program was started. This result surprised the government officials who said that a drop might have been expected because meats and fats have been rationed since March. Nevertheless, the 8 million pounds is only about 50 percent of the needed quota of 16,667,000 pounds per month.

Rollback of Vegetable Prices
Effective July 20, a rollback of about 25 percent in the price of lettuce and 50 percent in the price of cabbage was ordered by OPA. This was the first step in a program to cut back the excessive price of fresh fruits and vegetables to keep the cost of living down.

Notes on Rationing

Enough Floor Coverings
Smooth durable linoleum and printed floor coverings are being produced in substantial quantities to meet the greatly increased demand, WPA has reported. Used in new housing projects and in reconditioning old buildings, smooth surface floor coverings save lumber, nails, and labor, and contribute to sanitation.

More Fertilizer To Be Available
From 5 to 10 per cent more chemical fertilizer will be available in the year ahead according to WFA officials. It is estimated that U. S. farmers used about 10 million tons of chemical fertilizer during the 12 months beginning July 1, 1942. Although the supply of nitrogen and phosphates will be greater, potash is expected to be less plentiful.

Tomatoes Have A NEW IMPORTANCE
By Good Housekeeping Bureau REMEMBER:
1. Except for the citrus fruits, tomatoes are the best source of vitamin C. About 10 ounces of tomato juice are equal in vitamin C content to one medium sized orange. Serious lack of this vitamin causes scurvy. Moderate deficiency interferes with health and well-being in a great many ways which are not readily apparent. For example, growth and wound healing are retarded, and local infections are common.
2. The body cannot manufacture vitamin C, nor can the body store it. Therefore it must be supplied each day by the food or by vitamin preparations. An infant needs at least 30 milligrams daily; a growing child 50 to 100 milligrams; an average adult 75 milligrams; a pregnant or lactating woman 100 to 150 milligrams.
3. The chief source of vitamin C is the citrus fruit family—oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, etc. To many localities these fruits must be brought by boat and train. And, our overburdened transportation system may find it difficult to maintain the supply next fall and winter.
4. Citrus fruits are canned of course, and are an excellent source of vitamin C. Our armed forces use large quantities of such products for they provide a dependable supply of this vitamin; so there will not be so much for civilian use.
5. Rationing already has demonstrated the difficulty of getting an adequate supply of canned fruit juices.
6. Vitamin C is synthesized in pure form in laboratories and this is a valuable source, too. Because of the concentrated form, however, more and more is being requisitioned for shipment to our allies.
7. Tomatoes, the second best source of vitamin C, can be made available to everyone if we all do our part.

8. Tomatoes can be grown in every back yard and vacant lot, in gardens and even in window boxes. They can be eaten fresh; their juice can be extracted; they can be canned in various ways with little loss of the vitamin. Canned tomatoes can provide a dependable supply of vitamin C during the cold months.
Do:
1. Obtain all possible information, if you are inexperienced, about growing and canning tomatoes from your County Agent, from your State Agricultural Experiment Station and from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.
2. Grow all the tomatoes you can. If your garden is small, remember that greater value can be obtained by concentrating on tomatoes than on any other vegetable.

Don't:
1. Keep green tomatoes in the refrigerator. They need sunshine for proper ripening.
2. Add baking soda to neutralize tomatoes' acidity. That acidity is Nature's means of protecting the vitamin C. Tomatoes' natural acids are in no way harmful.
3. Cook tomato products in iron or copper utensils. The traces of metal dissolved, though not harmful, accelerate the destruction of vitamin C.
4. Have any tomato leftovers, if possible. While the rate of vitamin loss in a refrigerator is lower than at room temperature, you might keep leftover tomatoes for days, and the vitamin loss then would be considerable. Besides, leftovers must be reheated which means further vitamin loss.

Don't forget that the Service League will serve either homemade cake or pie with ice cream tomorrow on the Methodist parsonage lawn.

Congressional Comment

Rep. George A. Dondero

H. R. 2996, which was recently passed by Congress, is undoubtedly the largest single appropriation bill ever presented to a legislative body in the history of the world. It passed the U. S. House of Representatives by a unanimous vote. My remarks on the occasion of its consideration were as follows:

It is an astronomical sum, so colossal as to be beyond human comprehension. We are asked to appropriate $72,000,000,000 for the military establishment of the Nation for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944. This gigantic sum is four times the total expended by the War Department for all purposes in World War I. It represents approximately one-quarter of the assessed valuation of all property in the United States in 1935. It is nearly three times the amount of all invested capital in the railroads of the country. The figures are almost unbelievable. They stagger the imagination and forecast the heavy burden which this and succeeding generations must bear. The cause for the major part of this enormous expenditure is the relentless god of war.

It is estimated that the national debt at the end of the war will be $350,000,000,000—an all-time world's record. This is equivalent to and more than the entire national wealth in 1940. In this year of 1943 we expect 62 per cent of our national income will be spent for war. We are engaged in a global war as colossal as the sum of money we appropriate to wage it. It is a life-and-death struggle. The destiny of our country is at stake. The effort of mankind to be and remain free is in issue. All for which we stand as a nation will survive if we win and perish if we lose this terrible conflict. We must not lose, we will not lose the war. United we stand, and united we shall win no matter what the cost may be. Stupendous as this sum is I shall support it and vote for the bill, and I believe that it will have the unanimous support of the entire membership of this House. Let our enemies understand that the American people are united and determined to preserve, protect, and defend home and country and every sacred principle of justice and freedom under which we live.

What a contrast our day and age presents in the financial history of the Nation. Fifty years after the Revolutionary War and the birth of the Nation, the Federal Government paid a dividend to the States out of a surplus in the National Treasury. Every man, woman and child will owe $2,630 to the Federal Treasury as his or her share of the anticipated national debt. This means that the average American family of four will owe $10,520 as its proportionate share of such debt.

"Be that as it may," the statement of the Committee on Appropriations appearing on page 4 of the report on this bill, I believe, represents the unanimous opinion of the membership of the House and the people of the country, namely—Everyone is determined that the armed services shall have every dollar essential for the early attainment of an unconditional surrender of all Axis powers.

"In two years the Army has an unprecedented growth from 1,350,000 men on June 30, 1941, to 6,500,000 in June 1943. Before the end of this year it is expected to reach 7,500,000 men. This represents but one arm of our monstrous war machine, but it also indicates the vast sums of money required to support the war effort of the Nation.

"Let us pass this bill today and give Rome, Berlin and Tokyo to understand that the people of the United States are ready and willing to make any sacrifice necessary to maintain our country, our institutions and our American way of life."

SINCLAIR PRODUCTS

Of course, 1943 is cockeyed.

Listen to these questions and answers:

Q. Who are these people working in the (war) factories?

A. They are farmer boys, gas station attendants, grocery clerks, dry goods store clerks, former automobile salesmen, etc.

Q. Do they cash their checks in your bank?

A. Yes.

Q. How much do they make?

A. Anywhere from $120 to $220 every two weeks.

Q. Do they have any special skills?

A. H. I. m. They were hauling produce last fall, digging potatoes, husking corn, pumping gas, selling groceries, dry goods, etc. Farmer boys making more money in the factory in one year than the farm is worth upon which their father has been trying to pay a mortgage for a lifetime.

The above questions were asked by Representative Albert J. Engel of Muskegon. The answers in substance, were given by cashiers of small-town banks in towns of 1,000 people or more, surrounding industrial centers. Both questions and answers were a part of findings presented this summer to Congress by the Michigan congressman who recently completed a 44-day inspection tour of 47 war plants.

Representative Engel reported, "I spent two weeks in General Motors, Chrysler and Ford's."

For all purposes, as any half-awake citizen of Michigan could readily substantiate, the above answers could have been given, (and they probably were) right in the good state of Michigan—center of mass production technology, world automobile capital, now glorified as the nation's leading arsenal of democracy.

"No one who has studied the problems, as I have tried to study them," Representative Engel told members of Congress, "can spend 44 days going through plants and seeing the wheels of production roll without coming to the conclusion:

"First, that on the whole we are doing a magnificent job of production;

"Second, that labor, as a whole, has worked faithfully and well and that labor is entitled to a full share of the credit for such production;

"Third, that the conversion of peacetime plants into war production plants has been the most amazing chapter in the industrial history of the world and both to management and labor, from the head of the production plants on down to the lowest paid worker, must go great credit."

"I believe in decent wages. I believe in skilled labor being paid and paid well. You have in war industries many skilled men, toolmakers, demakers and other expert workmen. I was fascinated as I watched these men work. It takes years to make an expert demaker."

"Should the worker who operates a simple machine that he can learn to operate in two or three weeks be paid as much, or more, than the skilled craftsman who built the die which makes it possible for the workman to turn out his work?"

"The Michigan congressman might have added that these high wages are being paid, not by the big bad manufacturers who dwell in mansions of gold, but by a lot of little people all over the United States and the future generations and generations yet unborn. War contracts are financed by crisp currency of the United States government which belongs to all of us.

To complete the Alice in Wonderland contracts, the Muskegon congressman pointed out, "the government pays $55.80 a week in pay and per diem to girls while they learn how to mend shoes. The same government pays $50 a month to the young men in the service who are wearing these shoes."

Yes, big pay with little training—that is the 1943-style prosperity which is helping to inflate the cost of living.

Why is it necessary to pay a tank welder, after four weeks of training, $97 a week? or girls in still-another plant, after two or three weeks of training, as much as $269.72 a month when the base pay of a lieutenant colonel is $3,500 and a colonel gets $4,000 a year?

What will the host of Michigan soldiers, sailors and marines (not to say anything about our Waves, and Spars) say when THEY come back and start paying high income taxes on our dizzy national debt? Will the ex-war workers condemn the boys from Sicily and Tunisia and Guadalcanal and Attu for lack of "patriotism" if the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars suggest another bonus to "equalize" the $50-per-month war compensation?

"We don't know the answers, of course, but we can make two and two add up to four."

The arithmetic of today's high wages in war industries points to the following post-war developments, as we see it:

1. A reaction against both management and labor if the evidence bears out reports of excessive net profits—the sums left over after Uncle Sam has collected his taxes. Remember, both management and labor were in the national doghouse after the last war because of the sins committed by greedy minorities.

2. Federal regulations of labor unions as well as stockholders' corporations.

3. Call it what you may, some kind of extended compensation to service men and women who are making the real sacrifice and for some of them it will be the SUPREME sacrifice: life itself.

We might add a fourth as we contemplate what the farmer is going to think when he makes another payment on the farm mortgage: Parity prices for foodstuffs.

There, we've done it again.

So we say in return: All right, add 'em up yourself. Your guess is as good as ours: What do YOU foresee for post-war America as a result of today's war labor boom.
