With Our Men in the Service

NOTE—This column is dedicated to news of men and women from Novi and Northville communities who are in the service.

Russell Vickers is home this week on delayed orders leave. He was stationed at Mechanicburg, Pa., and will report to a new post leaving here Sunday night.

Edwin King has been transferred from Camp Banning, Ga., to Camp Shelby, Miss.

Capt. George Hunter who was at Ft. Monmouth, Redbank, N.J., is now at a replacement training center at Greensboro, N.C.

Sgt. Milton Weeks has been transferred from Camp Gruber, Okla., to Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

The Army Air Forces Training Command has announced the graduation of Pts. Carter H. Church from the B-24 Liberator bomber mechanician school at Keesler Field. He has just completed a course of approximately 11 weeks of training in all phases of servicing the heavy bombers, its fuel, electrical and hydraulic systems, instruments, engine operation and inspection.

Capt. Dix N.J. First of all, I want to thank you for the paper I have been receiving for the last six months since I started receiving the Record when I was at Miami Beach, Fla., and it has been following me all the way to Fort Dix, New Jersey.

Very truly yours,
Jack E. McCrum, Lt. Col. Ward Van Atta who has been at Camp Devens is now in Elkins, W. Va.

I have been to quite a few different camps since I have been in the Air Corps. I have been to Fort Custer, where I was inducted, then to Miami Beach where I had basic training, then to Chanute Field, Ill., where I took a course in vehicle operator and mechanic and received my diploma. From there I went to Rome, New York, and was put in a replacement center, from which I was sent to Syracuse, New York, and was put in present squadron which is now Fort Dix, N.J.

I really enjoy getting the paper because I find out where a lot of my old schoolmates are. My home is in Wayne, but I still like Northville the best.

Please send the paper to my new address.

Sincerely yours,

John Norton

A word has been received that Robert Hazlett, who is in the Army, is stationed somewhere in England.

Harold Bachelder recently enjoyed a sightseeing tour of Cairo, Egypt, according to a letter he has just received last week.

Ray Kroening, who was transferred from Corpus Christi to Great Lakes, was apparently there only to assignment, as he has now been sent to Naples, Iowa, for training.

Rev. Kendall S. North, a former pastor of the Northville Baptist church, has been appointed chaplain in the United States Army with rank of first lieutenant. He is here to report for duty Sept. 25. Until Oct. 25, he will be at Chaplain's School, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Sgt. John Litsenberger returned to Cochran Field, Ga., last Thursday after spending two weeks furlough here with his family.

Harold W. Van Sickle, who was inducted into the Navy May 1, is now seaman 2nd C. and was recently moved from California to a Navy base in Washington. He worked at Kelsey Hayes before going into the Navy. He has two daughters, Sharon, seven years old, and Cynthia Jane, four months old.

Bruce Simmonds, who was sworn into the Navy Sept. 10, is at Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He left Wednesday, Sept. 14.

Capt. E. L. Mills is at present at Camp Haan, Calif.

Word has been received that Sgt. Carl Schoultz is stationed in England.

In the Sept. 10 issue of the Record referred to in the following letter from Coastguardsman Jack McCrum, the honor roll appeared with the notation "If you know of corrections in spelling, branch of service, or names to be added or taken from the roll kindly let us know."

September 14, 1943.

Rotary Is Host When Prof. P. W. Slosson Will Be Guest Speaker at Supper

Preston W. Slosson, Professor of History at the University of Michigan, will be the guest speaker at the annual reception to the staff of the Northville public schools given by the Northville Rotary Club.

Tuesday night the Township Board of Northville warmed the cockles of the hearts of the campaign committee with a contribution of $500.00.

Wednesday, Ben Stearns, campaign manager, had the following to say about the situation:

"Seventy-five per cent of the $20,000.00 fund is raised now, BUT most of the larger subscribers have been heard from and unless local clubs and individuals mail subscriptions continue in unexpected volume, the balance of the $20,000.00 fund will not be raised."

The building committee made suitable for community call purpose unless the full $20,000.00 is actually subscribed and paid in before completion. The campaign will end Saturday night, Sept. 25, regardless of whether the quota is met or not.

Prof. Slosson is not new to the campaign. He served in WWI and according to Who's Who was Associate at Merton, at Columbia University in 1913-15, member of editorial staff at New York Inter-State, 1917-18, Assistant to Mr. C. E. C. Miller during World War II and Professor of Political Science at the University of Michigan in 1920-21.

Young Professor at Bryn Mawr, 1921-23; Superintendent of Schools, Manchester, 1923-24; Returns to University of Michigan, 1924-25, and participating in the induction of the Army.

Novi Mothers Seek Addresses of Servicemen

A Novi township mother of boys in service is requested to send the addresses of their sons to Mrs. Charles Triickey, telephone Northville 7128-713, or phone a card to Box 191.

These addresses are for the Novi Blue Star Mothers' Christmas mailing list.

The addresses of all the Novi mothers are to be given to Mrs. Triickey.

Mrs. Triickey's temporary permit to operate in the Village of Northville as requested.

The old police car, having better than 10,000 miles on it, was thought best to purchase a new car for the police.

Mr. Austin hopes to be able to announce taxi service here within three weeks. Officer McKinney, having served his probation period, was OK'd as a regular member of the police force.

Requests for donation to the Veterans Memorial Hall and bond drive price failed to obtain sufficient support to merit a motor or other than informal action.

Past Master's Night Oct. 4th

Northville F. and A. M. No. 188 will hold a Past Master's night Monday, Oct. 4, at the Masonic Hall.

Work in the third degree dinner will be served at 6:30.

Tickets must be purchased not later than Friday, Oct. 1. The O. E. S. ladies will serve dinner.

Tickets can be purchased from any officer or call the secretary, Robert Coolman, phone 22.

Memorial Hall Fund Goal Is Now In Sight

If Last Minute Contributors Come Through as Urged, $20,000.00 Fund Will Be Raised.

Join Founders Club

Much to the surprise of many who said it could not be done, the local drive for funds for the Veteran's Memorial Hall reached a point Thursday night when the goal seemed possible if the last minute response kept pace with the receipts of the other days of the week.

There are still many people who have not pledged, who intend to, and many who want to qualify for the Founders Club membership, who will rush their contribution to the campaign headquarters Saturday.

And every bit helps; organizations, individuals, are really thinking seriously of the plan. Some have been more than generous; others have done their bit. Many are still undecided and sorry to say some are not interested.

Don't Miss the Boat - How to Mail Christmas Gifts Overseas

Aids Vet. Fund

Ten days of the four weeks Christmas package mailing period from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 have elapsed bringing Oct. 15 the deadline date for sending Christmas packages overseas without request from service men and women nearer and nearer after that date in order to send a Christmas gift to those in service overseas, a written request from the man or woman in question will be necessary. In order to insure that our men and women overseas receive their packages quickly, we would appreciate your doing the following regulations neatly observed and promptly. The post office fees ranging Christmas packages overseas without request from service men and women in overseas service are far away too, and to bridge the gap in time and space it is necessary to pay, pack and mail those overseas gifts now.

The slender
Keweenaw peninsula with its wilderness of mountains and forests—all closer to the Arctic circle than Quebec, Canada. Yes—that's bar up there!

When you finally reach Keweenaw, the noisy and playful black bears may greet you on the lonely streets of Copper Harbor. Make sure that the sport's legal, that is right, as proclaimed by the state conservation commission, and that the 1943 deer season has been officially opened. Then instead of watching capricious bears push over garbage cans in search of food, or food from the hospitable hands of Joseph Matthews, elderly proprietor of the Beautiful View general store which is Copper Harbor's sole retail establishment, just fire your gun and bag your bear—that is, of course, if you're not too excited or too ashamed to shoot.

"It's going to be as easy as pie" to get your bear this Fall. For unless the county board of supervisors relents under a steady fire of criticism from the county road commission and the commercial resort owners, the season will be lifted soon in Keweenaw.

"Don't leave any food outside at night," Donald Dow warned us the first night we pitched a tent at the Fort Wilkins state park. Right next to Fanny Hooe lake. "The bears may be attracted to your tent by the food, and you will have trouble." Dow is caretaker at the park; resides summer and winter at the Fort with his wife and two children. My wife, who was nicknamed 'rots' years ago because of her petite size, looked at me in dismay. I had bid a gallant fare well to John W. Rice, publisher of the Houghton Mining Gazette, and announced our expedition to the Fort. Darkness was falling, and it was too late to retreat ignominiously, or otherwise. We were stuck.

Dow continued with more cheer: "A few days ago a mother and her two children were followed by a bear while they were picking thimble berries in the park near Lake Superior. They ran into the lake to escape. Of course the animal was hungry and wanted their berries. This story was broadcast over the radio."

Last summer a family arrived late in the day, just as you did. I told them also not to put food outside. We've camped all through Yellowstone Park, reflected the husband, so I assumed they were experienced campers.

The next morning when I visited the park, I noticed the campers had left. Late, I heard the story.

They had put a portable cupboard upon an outdoor table. It contained all their food, including some bacon and their dishes.

A bear had been attracted by the smell of bacon. He knocked the cupboard to the ground, banged it around until it broke open, and then devoured the meat. The family, panic-stricken, fled at daylight.

Late in the summer after the rush of the tourist season there, a hungry bear invaded the picnic grounds while a family was about to enjoy a picnic spread on an outdoor table. The picnickers fled, crying for help. As I arrived, the bear was seated upright on the table, feeding him self with both paws.

"When the bear started to move towards me, I fired my shotgun low at him. The bear ran, and later I saw a bear with

of the Houghton Mining Gazette and announced our expedition to the Fort. Darkness was falling, and it was too late to retreat ignominiously, or otherwise. We were stuck.

At Eagle Harbor, across Keweenaw village, we heard the story of how a bear had tried to invade the log cabin of Robert Van Pelt, just west of the light house.

Mr. Van Pelt, an official of the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, was in Washington, D. C., at the time. His wife and two children were alone. One evening she heard a scratching sound on a screen window overlooking to the window, she pealed the face of a bear frightened; she turned off the electric lights. The children were asleep upstairs on a ledge. The bear then went to the other side of the cabin and scratched the window screen. Finally he went to the back door and pawed at it.

Mother instinct told Mrs. Van Pelt the bear was after her two children. Next day, relating the incident to neighbors, she mentioned she had put the garbage seal inside the kitchen.

Animal Tales of this kind can be found readily in the Keweenaw country, and in many other parts of Michigan's northland. They prove nothing except that semi-tame bears get easily spoiled by human kindness and prefer old, smelly garbage to nice fresh berries.

Joseph Matthews, the Copper Harbor store proprietor, is fond of the critters. "Pal" is his favorite bear, he explained. "He comes to my home nearly every evening, and I feed him from my hand, like a pet dog. Pal is about three years old and weighs about 300 pounds. Teddy, another bear, weighs 175 to 200 pounds."

In the front window of Mr. Matthews' emporium is a display of men's bathing suits with belts to the knees and buttoned shoulder straps. All kinds of chocolate bars were on display. Also fresh bananas.

Harold Westcott, who runs the Pontiac Lodge, Copper Harbor's resort and post office, is inclined to favor the bears as a tourist attraction, but he gets hopping mad when they eat up his apples and damage the orchard.

Mrs. Mortimer of Chicago has been spending the summer in a cottage east of the park, reported that bears growled at her when she ventured outside at night.

This evidence all points to one conclusion. Until the Keweenaw bears discovered five years ago that food could be obtained easily from a garbage dump that strange habits were originating in or not the civilized doings of people, the animals were content to subsist on vegetation roots and choice nuts and berries and fruit all provided naturally by a beautiful Circle.

To H. Stephenson, architect of the state conservator's department's game division, that cannot be denied. The semi-tame bears are created bear-pants scheme for protection of tourists. The Keweenaw bears were first noticed in 1938 at a garbage dump that maintained by the Keweenaw road commission for its bridge and culvert at Copper Harbor. Tourists were delighted and were sending many postal cards to friends.

At the request of county supervisors the state commission closed the Keweenaw bear season. Since then—a policy of horse rule has been followed.

The Keweenaw controversy is evenly divided. The pro-bear faction maintain that bears are valuable tourist attraction; no one has been hurt. The anti-bear group insist that bears are dangerous, a threat to nerves, and a nuisance. You can't argue with two toes missing from one foot. It was the same animal.

An excited mother that a bear wanted left-over food, not her innocent babies.

At Zeebe Mine, with Chase Salmon Osborn, Michigan's world famous Iron Hunter and his oldest living ex-Governor, is a memorable experience never to be forgotten.

NOVI SCHOOL

Novi H. opened Sept. 7 with an unusually small enrollment. The first big event was the general election. In the eighth grade the following officers were elected: president, Ward Brown; vice-president, Richard Radcliffe, secretary, Lois McDonald; treasurer, John Bodnar. Rosemary Sequin was chosen as student council representative, with Richard Bingham as alternate.

Several girls volunteered to act on the Service Squad. They chose Betty Morgan, captain, and Marjorie Lees and Irene Fox as lieutenants.

Officers for the ninth grade were: Bobby Hanson, president; George McCollum, vice-president; Dorothy Hunt, secretary and Buddy Gow, treasurer. Our representative for the Student Council is Albert Bidwell with Billie Mae Mays as alternate.

Our new teacher for the eighth and ninth grades this year is Miss Wilson, who we hope will stay with us much longer than our previous teacher. Mr. Meder our "Bandit" still stays with us.

Tenth grade officers chosen were: Marcella Bays, president; Terry Radcliffe, vice-president; Irene Fox, secretary, and Gene Long, treasurer. Our student

CUSTOMERS

The War Production Board has asked The Detroit Edison Company and all electric utilities to cooperate in a nationwide voluntary program to reduce the use of electricity.

Electricity is cheap and unrationed, and in our Company there is no shortage of generating plant or distribution facilities. But electricity requires thousands of tons of coal per day in its manufacture—besides manpower, transportation and other critical materials. The coal situation is a matter of vital importance to everyone—and when you save electricity you save coal, as well as many other materials needed for war.

Direct savings in lighting and power can be obtained by turning off lights which for a time you can get along without, and by using only essential electrical equipment. No effort need be made to curtail necessary military, aviation and police lighting, or lighting essential to public health—including light for eyesight conservation and safety. Nor will plant protection, lighting, transportation or light for production purposes be affected.

All public utilities are included in this nationwide conservation program—gas, telephone, water, transportation—as well as electricity. Your help and the help of all our customers will make the program a success. Here is an opportunity to prove that patriotic self-imposed, voluntary rationing can work. The Detroit Edison Company.

A 3 per cent saving in the Detroit Edison monthly output of electricity will save approximately

Mr. J. W. Parker, Vice President and General Manager of The Detroit Edison Company, in commenting on WPA's program said:

"The voluntary conservation program gives Detroit Edison customers an opportunity to prove that patriotic self-imposed voluntary rationing will work. The Detroit Edison Company estimates that a reduction of even 5 per cent a month in the use of electricity would save approximately 11,500 tons of coal and 14,000 man-hours for the water distilled generating capacity of the Detroit Edison Company is ample to meet all possible needs of customers in our territory, but it is necessary to save electricity in order to conserve critical materials and manpower for the effective prosecution of the war.

Sincerely,

Al Boelens

Club Season

 ion Officers in charge of the club's activities this year are Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, president; Mrs. Walter L. Coase, vice-president; Mrs. Eufra F. Clark, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert F. Colman, corresponding secretary; Mrs. A. W. Hahn, treasurer.

The program committee, of which Mrs. O. E. Reng is chairwoman, has arranged a most interesting series of programs for the weekly meetings beginning Friday, Oct. 1, and ending with the annual meeting, Friday, May 31.

The other members of the program committee are Messrs. G. V. Harrison, Harold Tuck, W. E. McCarthy, G. B. Bobbin and W. H. Canfield.

Mr. Donald Deering is librarian for the Hartland area, a member of the state Library Board. She is a charming and interesting speaker, especially when she speaks as will attend her hobby, which is collecting rare pieces of old china. In making arrangements for her talk here, members of the club bring to the meeting any interesting pieces of old china they own which she would be interested in including in her discussion.

District Governor of Rotary Inspects
Local Club

James Dixon, district governor of the Rotary International, was the guest speaker at the Rotary Exchange meeting Wednesday. Mr. Dixon complimented the two clubs on their work and their vision. He stressed the need of all service clubs making the winning of the war the first job of the day, and also plan to meet the coming problems of the post-war era.

Governor Dixon met the board of directors and committee chairmen of Rotary before the general club meeting at noon.

Do You Have a Foreign Map?

You may have data of military value that will advance an important phase of the war undertaking.

Foreign Maps of all areas outside continental America are being sought by the Army Map

Service Corps of Engineers for the collection of the Army Map

Library in Washington.

This appeal is particularly directed to automobile owners who in normal times, have made motor trips abroad, or otherwise traveled to far places.

Foreign City Plans on a scale of not less than 125,000 (2½ inches to the mile) and guide books are needed as well as gazetteers, postal guides, place indexes and important atlases. Also, road maps and topographical and geological maps on a scale of not smaller than 1:100,000, (16 miles to the inch).
