Do you know—
YOUR ELECTRIC RANGE
burns coal!

Thousands of Detroit Edison customers who enjoy the convenience and cleanliness of electric cooking will probably be amazed to learn that the spotless white range in their kitchens is a "coal-burner." But it's true... even though the coal is burned in a Detroit Edison power house miles away.

The Government asks everyone to save electricity to save coal. You can conserve in the operation of your electric range by thrifty use of the deep-well cooker, by planning more "all-in-one" oven meals, by turning the switch to "LOW" heat after foods have come to a boil, and by utilizing the stored heat of the heating unit for cooking.

Electricity is not rationed and there is no shortage in this area. But the Government asks you to conserve wherever you can, as much as you can. The Detroit Edison Company.

5 YEARS AGO

Several hundred children will be treated to a huge Christmas Square night at seven o'clock at the four corners. The Northville Exchange Club will be hosts to the youngsters. Dr. Green and Andrew York, bakers, will accompany St. Nick.

Mr. L. Spelling on Main st. was open Thursday evening Dec. 15 to a group of doctors and nurses in his village.

Dr. and Mrs. Russell M. Atchinson were at Dr. Atchinson's Sunday School class of boys at a dinner party at the Hotel Mayflower, Plymouth. There were several places set for Howard's Card, William Croll, Norman Hickok, Arthur Korschnick, Wilfred and Walter Pratto and Harold King.

The Northville Electric Short's window won the silver cup offered this year by the Exchange Club for the most attractive holiday window display. Second place honors went to the Schradier furniture store and the Northville Hardware store was given third place.

The Lloyd H. Green Post of the American Legion took it upon themselves to see that 38 children had a Happy Christmas on Thursday, Dec. 22. The Free Christian Church house was open to the children and a Christmas dinner served to the small guests and about thirty adults by the Legion Auxiliary.

Second Lieutenant Ward Van Atta, who has been vacationing during the Christmas holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Atta, will leave by motor Monday for Seattle, Wash., where he is stationed as an army civil engineer.

25 YEARS AGO

Last Saturday Dec. 21, was the first day of winter, according to the almanac. Well, it wasn't much like the supposed typical Michigan winter, but we should worry.

Spencer Hickey and Don Van Stinkle were among the Northville Camp Cruiser boys home for the Christmas holidays.

Harry Van Ette has returned home from Camp Lee, Va., having received his discharge from Uncle Sam's service.

I thought I had better write to you and give you our address so you can send the Record direct to us. We are now living at the above address in Pasadena, right at the foot of the mountains. The weather here has been grand so far. One, one rainy day, last Sunday. They had quite a lot of snow up in the mountains and it is still there in town. This morning it was 30° warm. It was out in pants and undershirt only. Tonight is cool enough to get a fire in the stove.

We are only about 8 or 10 miles from Lake Arrowhead and we have been there a great deal. Last Saturday we were at San Geronimo.

Mr. Richard Renton, but I have not had time to see him yet.

It seems good to get the Record each week and know what is going on. I was very sorry to read about Harry Rattenbury. He was a swell fellow.

Could you get me the address of some of the Northville fellows that are in the service and locate them in this immediate vicinity.

I understand Al Vraderburg is over here. I would especially like his address, also of Ernie Kohler or Leo Kohler.

We have bought a home here in Pasadena and as soon as we can get in it I will send you our change of address.

Two days after I arrived here I went to work for Pasadena City Bus Line. They have some swell equipment. Thirty-six passenger buses with automatic shift. They have ten more on the way out here that will seat 46 passengers. They are very nice people to work for.

My best regards to you and thanks for a swell little paper. A very Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Sincerely yours,

Art Sessions.

Mr. Marvin Trapp was home last week on a delayed furlough from Saturday to Thursday leaving for Camp Shenango, Pa. On Tuesday evening a dinner was given in his honor at the Trapp home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. August Harer and her daughter, Gladys of Dearborn; Doris Tibbs and Roy Trapp of Farmington; Mr. and Mrs. Leon and Kimmel of Ridge Road were among callers.

Wednesday evening the Carl Trapps of Farmington entertained in honor of Marvin and in the evening attended a theater in Detroit.

Mrs. Raymond Lewis and her daughter, Virginia, are confined to their home with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Knowles Buer were in Detroit Saturday evening.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lyke were Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Frost of Detroit.

Sunday callers at the Wheeler home were Mr. and Mrs. William Martin of Base Line Road and William Wheeler and three sons.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett were in Plymouth and Northville Friday.

John Van Aken, who has been quite ill with the flu is better.

At the yearly meeting of the Federated Ladies Aid the same officers were elected for another year: President, Mrs. Peter Palat; Vice president, Mrs. O. Oncod; secretary, Mrs. Robert Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. Floyd Hardisty. Reports from the two divisions of the Aid were given.

The North Side won, having $261. The South Side had $162 to their credit. The losing side are to serve a banquet some time in January.

Mrs. Myrlan Lyke and Mrs. ASA Whipple recently joined the Rebekah Lodge in Novi.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Burnham and Bonnie were Northville visitors Monday.

The Christmas program of the Salem Congregational Church will be held next Sunday evening at 7:30. There will be recitations and special Christmas numbers with messages, Christmas tree gifts for all. The S. S. scholars will get candy.

The Salem Federated Church will hold their Christmas program Sunday evening Dec. 26 at 7 p.m. It's pageant "When the Chimes Chime" will be presented by Corp. Anthony Smith of Camp Pickett, Va., who was home on furlough spent Saturday and Sunday with his twin brother, John Smith and family, South Salem Road.

INVEST IN VICTORY—WITH WAR BONDS

Christmas in Michigan this year of our Lord, 1943.

It will not be a "merry Christmas. The shadow of war is heavy on nearly 300,000 homes. The flavor of Michigan's innocence is absent from the family table this Saturday. Many chairs will be vacant, temporarily, only a few permanently.

Many will be the prayers offered for the safe return of loved ones—sons and husbands and fathers, and even brothers and sisters, and daughters and mothers.

We are beginning to know the meaning of "all-out" war.

No, it will not be the old-fashioned happy Christmas such as Michigan has enjoyed traditional in yester-years.

But even the clouds of war, brought as they are with fears cannot eclipse the spirit of Christmas in our hearts. We have the genuine satisfaction denied to millions of people in Europe and Asia of dwelling here in security. No enemy plane has yet rained sudden or lingering death upon men, women and children in our American cities, our homes, our factories and our farms.

We can give thanks that the battle front today is on foreign soil, not American soil. And we do so with recognition that this security of Christmas-tide is being bought at a high price—the risk of the lives of many Michigan men. In our sadness at their absence, we find comfort in the realization that our Christmas security represents an American ideal for which our boys are fighting, and that they would prefer to have it that way.

The war has done many things to Michigan.

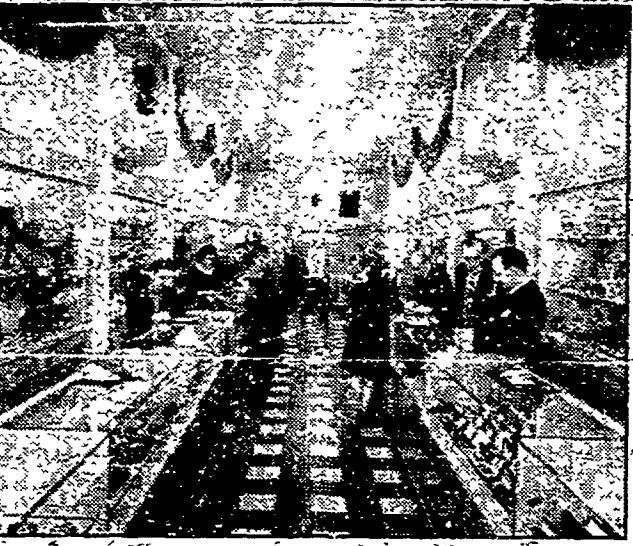

Our factories, for the most part have been converted to production of weapons of war. Michigan's mass production plants are in the larger cities, and they have become magnets, drawing thousands of citizens from small towns and villages.

The drain of men into the service and workers into war plants has been particularly heavy in counties which are at a distance from the big industrial centers. Thus, only one county in the Upper Peninsula has increased its population in war time.

While Michigan citizens are busily engaged with war work, the northeast has become an increasingly important health haven. Resorts served by good transportation were heavily patronized last summer; many war executives and workers found physical and spiritual rest in northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. More of them will do so in 1944.

Michigan farmers and their families will have Christmas dinner with few ration worries and with much to be thankful for. The early spring rains were followed by a good growing season. Livestock and poultry are plenti-

Who Owns the Railroads?

BIG BANKERS? With white ribbing on their vests? And heavy loops of gold watch chains?

Guess again! Think of a small brick house in a whole row of brick houses in a large city in Ohio or Illinois. Think of a large stone mansion on a Pennsylvania hillside, a place for old folks to go to when they're left alone in the world. Think of hospitals in Indiana and Wisconsin, colleges in Virginia and Washington, insurance companies in New York, and Massachusetts and Minnesota.

Think of a cross-section of American life. Now you're getting warm. If ever there was a public property—in the sense of widespread ownership—it's out American railroads.

Here are the facts about a typical railroad—the Chesapeake and Ohio.

275,683 shares of its stock are owned by colleges, hospitals, churches, charitable institutions and insurance companies.

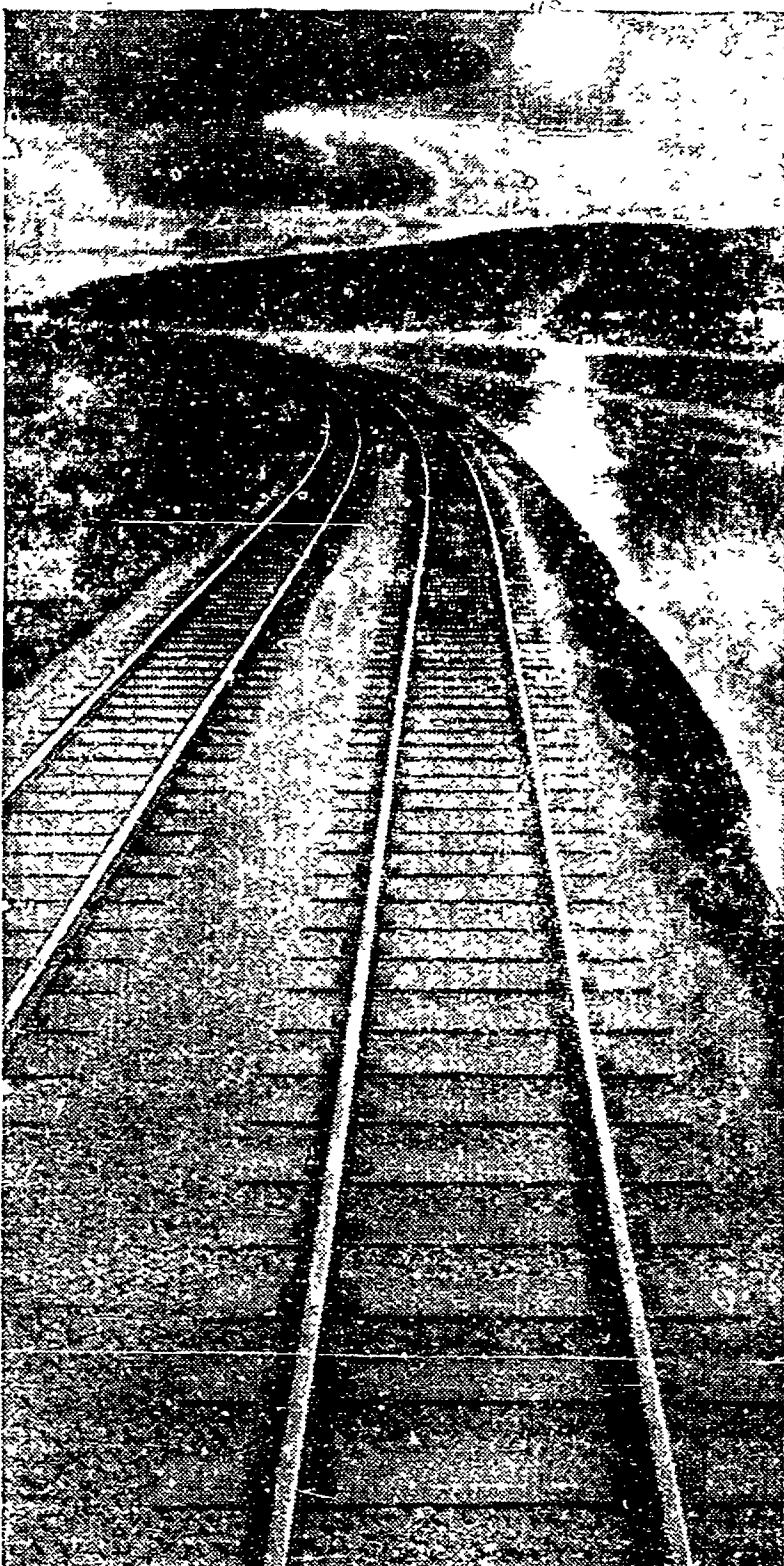

40,496 of its common stockholders own 50 shares or less. These represent approximately 70 per cent of the total common stockholders.

These people live in every state of the union and in its territories. They come from nearly every walk of life, and include employees of the road, teachers, lawyers, business men, stenographers, farmers, men in the Army and Navy—people who live "just around the corner" from you.

In some countries the people have not been enterprising enough to build and maintain their own railroads. And the government has had to do it for them. With us the citizen and not the state has been the force behind our railroads. We have preferred the progress that comes from free competition to the stagnation that accompanies political patronage and bureaucracy.

This system has worked. In the face of the greatest emergency ever to strike this country, the railroads of America have proved more able than ever before to meet the task imposed on them. With consideration for their welfare in the future, they will meet post-war tasks in the same way.

In short, the railroads could be in no better hands than in the hands of the American people. For they, in the long run, must be served.

(Continued from preceding page) The Bureau of Labor Statistics has warned that in the postwar period Michigan would have six ex-service men for every ten persons employed in 1940, of a labor surplus of 60 per cent on the 1940 basis. What is to become of the " orgy of war ", the workers' war-worker? He would like to know. What is to become of the new citizens from other states who were at tracted here by high wages? Will they go on relief or return to their former homes?

General Motors Corporation has announced its post-war " master plan ", whereby approximately $500 millions will be spent for reconversion of war plants, technological improvements and research in new products.

On an expectation of an annual national income of $16 billion instead of $7 billion prior to the war.

A STATEMENT

For several months our store prices have been under the scrutiny of the Plymouth office of the OPA. We have tried to convince them that some of the ridiculously low prices that have been placed on certain foods were wrong - but to no avail.

At last, the Plymouth office of the OPA certified their findings to the Detroit office, stating to us that we were "hampering the war effort of the United States" (we had no idea we were so important).

We have now, as a penalty, been deprived of the privilege of selling any item governed by any ration stamps, for a period of 30 days, effective Monday, January 3rd.

We suggest, therefore, if you desire, that you make any purchases of any foods covered by the above, from our extra heavy stock between now and January 1st. We shall make no plans for resuming the sale of rationed merchandise while conditions, regulations and arbitrary restrictions stand as at present.

Mrs. T. R. Carrington had a very pleasant surprise telephone call Monday morning. It was from an Army doctor, who less than a week ago had been in India.

They had been together a great deal during the doctor's year and half in India. He said that Tom was in excellent health and doing a good job and enjoying it.

Miss Marilyn Goetz decided not to compete with other Christmas Eve attractions, so she celebrated her birthday which is Dec. 24 last Saturday night with a party of twenty guests at her home at 2202 Seven Mile road. Included among the guests were two naval fliers from Grosse Ile. The evening was devoted to dancing and the refreshments included a beautiful big birthday cake.

Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron of Detroit, spent Sunday visiting Northville relatives. Friends of Mrs. Orrin Casterline will be sorry to hear that she was taken to All-Carmel Hospital Monday afternoon. Her recuperation of the past few weeks had been very encouraging to her family when she suddenly suffered a relapse last week that made hospitalization imperative.

Mrs. Robert Reid left Friday for Arkansas to join her husband who is stationed at Camp Chaffee.

Miss Jane Van Atta, who is a social student working under a part-time scholarship at Michigan State College, is home for the holidays with her family, Fred VanAtta.

Miss Edythe Amerman is home on vacation from Hillsdale College to spend the holidays with the Rev. H. Amerman at their home on Dunlap st.

We're happiest when we live in dreams... if those dreams are the honest expressions of staunch faith in the right and the good. The final triumph of just concepts over greed and evil, are dreams of true Americans today... the dreams which we are fighting to make real. Renew your faith in them this Christmas.

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace good will toward men

Who can estimate the value of good will, that "priceless ingredient" so conspicuously mentioned in that first glorious Christmas message? Be assured that we highly appreciate your good will. It has been and will continue to be our most treasured asset.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU!

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS...

To our men and women who are serving our Country as members of the Armed Forces at home and abroad:

You are in our thoughts and hearts these days and every day, as you struggle "out there" to make a Jolly Christmas possible again some day throughout the world. We pray that this message may seek you out and add its note of cheer and comfort to you on Christmas Day. May it find you well and safe.
