Air Raid Siren To Signal "D" Day of Prayer

Northville's Air Raid Signal Will Sound for 90 Seconds Along with Others Throughout the State

Following his recent proclamation that on D-Day the people of the State "kneel in prayer in their homes or assemble in their churches to petition Providence for success in battle and the safety of our sons taking part in it," Governor Harry F. Kelly called on Capt. Donald S. Leonard, State Director of Civilian Defense, to prepare a plan which would not only announce the day officially recognized as D-Day, but also provide for a simultaneous one-minute solemn observance.

Immediately when it is certain that the invasion has begun in the D-Day, the message will then be broadcast from the station and warning control station in Lansing to district and adjacent working centers and from there to local warning centers. The message will designate a specific time for sounding air raid sirens, blowing whistles and ringing church bells. This period of signaling will last for 90 seconds following which there will be cessation of all activities in stores, factories, schools, theatres and elsewhere for one minute of prayer and silent reflection. Traffic is likewise to come to a halt.

Because of the danger of misrepresentation of military feats or maneuvers as the actual start of the invasion and the fact that radios and newspapers will likely carry information that the invasion is under way before the (Continued on back page)

I received the Northville Record tonight at mail call and I wish to thank you for sending it to me. My A.P.O. number is changed now and keep on sending the Record, that is the first thing I read when I receive it.
Pvt. H. N. Diem.

May 16, 1944
Just a note to let you and all my friends know where I am and that I am O. K. I am at Fort Bliss, Texas and am in the Antiaircraft. At the present time I am attending clerk's school of the Enlisted Specialist's Schools of the U. S. A.
My wife and baby are also here now, so it isn't too bad being so far from home.

I have been getting the Record regularly and I look forward to each issue, especially the section about Northville people in the services. I saw recently that Marvin Scimmes was coming here, but I haven't been able to locate him.
The weather here is swell, but it's beginning to get hot and will probably reach 120 degrees by July.
There is a slight change in my address and I will give you the correct one:
Good luck to all Northvillians in the service.

Sincerely,
Keene Bolton

Pvt. Robert K. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Porter of W. Main St., has recently completed an intensive training course in Radio Mechanics at the Technical School Army Air Forces Technical Training Command, Texaco Field, Madison, Wisconsin. In addition to attending school he went through a rigid drilling and physical training program in order to be fully prepared to take over an assignment in combat area, if necessary.

He is prepared to join a Base Operating Group or at any other duties to which the AAF Training Command may assign him.

Thought I would write and let you know where I am. I am at Orange, Texas and I am having a swell time. Was transferred here from Norfolk, Va. I am going on the D. E. in about a month. The climate here is just as it is about the same as it is at the St. Thomas. Well I hope all the fellows from the home town see all O. K. and the best of luck to our fighting women and men in the service.

Yours truly,
Lawrence Bogart
"Bogey"

Just a few lines to inform you that I haven't been receiving the Record. I have only received 2 copies since I arrived here which was eight months ago. However, Mother has been sending me a lot of the news clippings from it. I think it will be better to quit sending it, seeing that I am not receiving it. I had very good service when I was in the states and never missed receiving a copy. I am cooking over here and it could be a lot worse than it has been so far. I see Harry Porter quite often and we have some nice long talks about good old Northville. Well it is 9:30 here on this island; time for me to go to slumberland. I want to thank you for trying your best to have your good paper reach me.

I remain,
Carl G. Taylor

P. S. Do you have Arnold Robinson's address?

May 15, 1944
It was kind of late receiving the Record at Brooklyn, N. Y. I got the first copy last Friday there but that was no one's fault but my own. When I came back from my leave I didn't figure on being there but as much as I am and right now as much as I would like the Record, there isn't much use of sending it to this address. It is moving from there very long. At the present I am at a Naval Anti-aircraft training base in the swamp. I noticed in the Record where Bogart is back in Northville. Tell him to stay there. That place is wonderful. I thought it was bad there but they can send me back there any day just as soon as I can get somewhat of a permanent address. I'll send it because I really do want the Record. I hope to see my dad while I am down here.

Yours sincerely,
Bob Parmenter

Oakland County's popular resort is staging a gala opening of the summer picnic and play season this Decoration Day week-end and will be open daily thereafter. A number of picnics and family group outings are scheduled for Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday. From the large attendance this season, especially on week ends, it is very evident that people are conserving their rubber by patronizing resorts close to their homes instead of traveling long distances to points throughout the State.

What will happen after the war when Uncle Sam is no longer Michigan's most important single customer?

Here is a question being asked by many Michigan growers today.

Remember when the United States government comes to Michigan and buys our food products. It requires careful grading of these products so that the quality is defined and the price paid is in proportion to the value received. Because Michigan food products were inspected and graded, Uncle Sam purchased in 1943 some $200 carloads of Michigan fruits and vegetables; 1169 carloads of Michigan shell eggs; 5,000,000 bags (10 pounds) of Michigan dry edible beans; and also dairy products by the millions of pounds. Cherry orders totaled 71,596,180 pounds; grapes 26,395,536 pounds; and tomatoes 74,233,510 pounds.

Michigan growers have received millions of dollars from sale of food to the federal government only because these products were properly graded and inspected to meet the government's rigid requirements.

Miles Nelson, director of the state bureau of foods and standards, an agency of the department of agriculture, points out that grading and inspection were first adopted seven years ago when progressive growers became convinced that they could sell food at higher prices if they met the wishes of the American consumer.

Many of the products of our 187,000 farms are highly perishable, such as fruits and vegetables and should be moved expeditiously and efficiently from producer to consumer," said Nelson. "This can best be accomplished by grading, packaging and labeling in accordance with known standards of quality—grade standards that are uniform from market to market and region to region. For this reason Michigan has adopted federal standards for most of their farm products and several years ago entered into cooperative agreements with the United States Department of Agriculture for the Federal - State Inspection of fruits and vegetables, dry edible beans, and poultry and dairy products.

The grading and inspection of food products has produced definite beneficial results, by reducing economic waste, and by eliminating inefficient practices that increased costs to consumers and decreased prices paid to farmers. Consumers have been quick to recognize the value of the grading of food products.

However, the wants of the consumer should be one of the first considerations, and should not be overlooked. After all, as said and done, the consumer is the judge. Too often, the growers efforts have been governed by the conditions and problems which have existed them at the point of production, but growers should disregard their own preferences and consider only the consumers wants and desires.

If some growers were forced to buy and eat some of the products they place in the market, they would soon realize the necessity of a sound grading and marketing program. The consumers' market basket has no room for producer excuses. If consumers' demands are not satisfactorily filled with graded Michigan food products, they immediately become customers of satisfactory products from some other state.

For several years, money has been appropriated by the Legislature for advertising Michigan farm products, but such expenditures would be just a waste of time and money if the products are not carefully graded to known standards of quality.

A sound marketing program is not complete without sufficient funds to advertise the farm products this state has to offer. If it is the public's duty to know the quality of the products that are available to the buyers and consumers, it is the U. S. N. I.

Michigan Grade 1, Grade A, or any other grade declaration appears on the container, or is advertised, the food products so described must meet the grade declared.

"Any relaxation in maintaining the quality and grade standards, or in the enforcement of the food laws and regulations, causes buyers and consumers to lose confidence and the markets for our products are lost to more alert and progressive competitors.

"If would be a serious mistake to let the difficulties encountered in war time production and distribution deter us from maintaining a sound, practical and efficient grading and marketing program for Michigan food products.

"We should not be wrongly influenced by the few producers and dealers who, under the guise of acute food shortages, want to throw all grade standards overboard, and think we can't get the available supply of a farm product by selling everything just as it comes from the field or orchard, including immature or damaged fruit or vegetables, vines, stones, dirt, worms and insects.

Such a short-sighted policy, adopted even as a temporary expedient can only end in disaster. It is detrimental to the producer as well as the dealer, disgraces the customer and will soon wreck any good marketing program.

If Michigan growers expect to derive the greatest benefit from the advertising of Michigan food products, then they must keep their own house in order—especially in the postwar period which will bring an end to government purchase of foodstuffs.

"When we see hundreds of even thousands of carloads of produce grown in other states shipped into Michigan each year and sold for more money than the same Michigan-grown products are bringing, we can quickly realize the crying need for the strict grading of our food products, the necessity for rigid enforcement of suitable laws and regulations and the desirability of some adequately financed and timely advertising," concluded Mr. Nelson.

"We should prepare for the time when Uncle Sam will cease to be the food producer's most important single customer. The transition from war-time to peace-time economy, as it will affect the marketing of Michigan's food products, will be much easier to accomplish without disastrous results, if we continue to market carefully graded food products, maintain well-known quality products, backed up with a rigid inspection service."

before it happens!

It's no fun sitting in the dark simply because a blown fuse has plunged your house into a black-out. Most fuse trouble can be stopped before it happens by observing a few simple precautions.

- (1) Frayed lamp cords and extension cords are often responsible for short circuits. Such frayed cords are dangerous. Have them repaired BEFORE they cause trouble. (Don't loop cords over a nail. Don't kink cords or tie them in knots. Don't run cord through a door jamb or under rugs.) (2) Never put an electric appliance in water. Never poke at the element of your electric toaster (or any other appliance) with a fork or sharp tool, whether turned on or off.
- (3) Don't connect too many appliances and extra lamps on one circuit.
- (4) Be careful not to overload your washer, or feed too many pieces of clothing through the wringer at one time. The same is true of your iron.
- (5) Disconnect appliances by pulling on the plug—never jerk out the cord. Do not let cords come in contact with water, grease or acids.
- (6) If a faulty lamp or appliance burns out a fuse, disconnect it at once—and don't use again until it has been repaired.

Electricity is not rationed. But its production requires coal and railroad transportation. Don't waste it!

OBITUARY

MRS. DONALD PURDY YERKES

Funeral services were held in the Northville Presbyterian Church Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Donald Purdy Yerkes, who passed away quite suddenly at her home, "Oakland Place," on Eight Mile Road, Saturday, May 20. Rev. Harold Fredsell conducted the service and the pallbearers were E. S. Beard, G. V. Harrison, Dr. W. H. Johnston, L. M. Eason, Joseph Hoehl, Ray Van Valkenburg, H. B. Clark and Dr. Mark Gardner. Interment was made in the Yerkes cemetery on East Eight Mile Rd. The Casterline Funeral Home directed the service.

Nellie Purdy Yerkes was born at Meads Mills, Waterford, on Jan. 24, 1858, to Valora Purdy, McRobert and Lyman Edwin McRobert. When she was about sixteen years old the family moved to Northville, which has been Mrs. Yerkes' home most of the years since.

On May 23, 1890 she was united in marriage to Donald Purdy Yerkes at the McRobert home on East Dunlap street. Four daughters and one son were born to them, all of whom survive together with the father, except Donna Lucille, who died in 1897. Besides Mr. Yerkes, the family includes Mrs. Winfield Holden of Detroit; Mrs. Harold R. Smith of Grosse Pointe Farms; Mrs. John C. Burkman and D. P. Yerkes Jr., both of this village. There are also seven grandchildren, four great grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Harry L. Weaver of Traverse City. Mr. and Mrs. Yerkes have spent the past seven winters in Florida, coming back each spring to Northville. On May 23, 1944 they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, receiving relatives and friends that day in their home on the Base Line road.

Mrs. Yerkes was a loyal member of the Presbyterian Church and an active worker therein. It was her Sunday School class which later became the Nellie Yerkes Auxiliary. She was also a member of the Northville Woman's Club and the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the D.A.R.

FERDINAND KREEGER

Northville lost another of its residents who had lived here for many years, with the death of Ferdinand Kreeger of West street, who passed away at Sessions hospital last Friday. Two eighty years old, Mr. Kreeger had been up and around his home until the week previous, when he received injuries in a fall and was taken to the hospital for treatment.

Mr. Kreeger was born in Germany but had lived in and around Northville for the past fifty-four years. Both he and his wife, who preceded him in death last August, were charter members of the local St. Paul's Lutheran Church. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Dec. 21, 1939. Mrs. Kreeger was formerly Ida Meisner.

Funeral services were held at the late residence and at the church Monday afternoon, conducted by the Casterline Funeral Home. Rev. E. E. Rossow officiated and interment was made in the Clarenceville Cemetery.

Surviving are three sons and five daughters, together with 14 grandchildren and one great grandchild. The sons and daughters are: William of Plymouth; Mrs. Frank Cochran of South Lyon; Charles of Danville; Mrs. Annie Koron of Detroit and Herman Mrs. Fred Balko, Mrs. James Copeland and Mrs. James Huff, Jr., all of Northville.

FARM WOMEN URGED TO ENROLL
 Michigan farm women, averaging nearly twice the field and chore work they normally performed, are urged to enroll in the Women's Land Army to help indicate how agriculture meets the challenge of producing for war.
 Offices of every county agricultural agent in Michigan are open to receive such enrollment declares Ruth Peck, a Michigan State College staff member who heads up the Women's Land Army in Michigan.
 As many as 20,000 emergency jobs in farming may be filled this summer by women from city and suburban areas. But the farm women will perform far more on their own farms, as well as taking care of their families. Enrollment does not mean work away from the home farm for farm women who enroll, Miss Peck explains.
 Estimates indicate 300,000 persons are needed in a normal year to plant, care for and harvest Michigan crops. Some of the work in 1943 was done by supplying emergency farm help. Out of each 10 so supplied for year-round and seasonal work there were two men, one woman and seven boys and girls.
 In 1944, according to present estimates, this ratio will change. Not as many men will be available. The emergency workers and non-farm family help probably will consist of one man, two women and seven boys and girls in each 10 who help Michigan produce and harvest its crops.
 Women's Land Army workers are entitled to wear the official WLA badge, can purchase at cost, the safe, attractive and efficient uniform. Thousands of them will receive training, supervision and encouragement mixed with the vacations and their contributions to the war effort.

WASTE PAPER
salvaged
last year by the Edison Company

People ask us: "What do you do with your waste paper? It isn't collected by local salvage committees or the Boy Scouts. What happens to it?"
Waste paper is gathered from our offices, plants, etc., and baled. To reduce fire hazard, it is not allowed to pile up.
Our trucks collect waste paper on a regular schedule. It is then forwarded to the paper company handling our entire year's consignment.

A critical need exists today for cardboard boxes, cartons, and wrappings—
due to the enormous quantities of supplies being shipped overseas and due to the shortage of pulpwood for making paper. The grade of waste paper collected in our offices is suitable for box-making, and all of it is used for this purpose. We salvaged 873,000 pounds of waste paper last year, and every scrap is doing an urgent job in winning the war.
