

WINNING THE WAR IN 1944 WITH NORTHVILLE'S MEN AND WOMEN IN THE SERVICE

Beryle E. Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beryle Hines of 44405 and his wife, twelve miles from Walled Lake, has successfully completed the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School training at Williams Field, Chandler, Arizona. The pilot has been commissioned second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. Lieut. Hines is a former student of Walled Lake High School.

I guess it's about time I send you my address as it's been quite some time since I've written to the Record. I have finally reached pre-flight school. It has taken eight months to get this far, and this is only the beginning. Maxwell is a good clean joint. It is the largest I've ever been stationed at. But it's a rough place for new Aviation Cadets. This life makes ordinary army life seem simple and easy. The training, though strict, is really the best a man could have. When we leave here we are supposed to be officer material.

They are keeping us very busy here. Time for letter writing, for day dreaming is a thing of the past but I guess you see I have found time to write this little bit. I want to thank you for the patients and kindness in sending the Record to my ever changing address. Sincerely, Lawrence Bogart "Boogie" V.

The Albert Porterfields recently received a picture made up entirely of butterfly wings sent to them by their son, Robert S. C. 3/C stationed in Trinidad. He also sent home a year book called the "33d Construction Battalion Year Book" with pictures and articles concerning the activities of his unit.

Sgt. John Litterberger A/C

The other day I received my first edition of the Northville Record. Boy, it had been about three months since I had received one and it was just as good as a letter from home. I sure enjoy it and hope it keeps coming, as it keeps me posted on everything at home. I am now in Panama, which is all I can say about it. I know the women back home would go nuts down here as they have sick houses; plenty here. Nothing rationed except tires and gas. You can also get plenty of camoups, but no women, so that's the one bad thing I think again for the PAF. Sgt. Ronald Anderson

I wish to thank you and your staff for sending me the Northville Record each week. I appreciate it very much and look forward to it, as it tells of the whereabouts of all my friends.

We are still out here in the mountains of California in a Garrison camp. We live in our pup tents and enjoy the outdoor life; have inspections and drill as we had in Garrison. It is a little hard to keep things neat, but we do our best.

We have an outdoor shower and sports of all kinds except football. I guess they quit football because of injuries. We have an outdoor show every night; had stage shows four or five times. Mr. Wells of Hollywood put on an entertaining evening, and was very well liked. We also had the honor of having Miss Landis entertain us. She is very good and can keep a group G.I.'s very quiet. We will soon move from here. Thanks very much for the Record.

town and country. And I wonder what will be the outcome of these changes tomorrow, after the war?

Take the farmer, for example. I attended a meeting of the county AAA committee the other day. There was a time when all this government control and regulation were highly repugnant to the grower. He shied away from the government's efforts to regiment his affairs.

Now some of our best farmers are members of the county Committee. They talk enthusiastically about the very things they once condemned. What about this thing called free enterprise? As I see it, we're losing something that made America great—freedom of the individual to think and to act for himself. Now, he expects the government to do it for him.

And the merchant in town. Well, you know the story. Several things have happened to him. First, the fast-moving automobile and the modern concrete highway, have given the consumer a choice between my town and the nearby large city. Progressive merchants will study the needs of the public and who tell the public about their merchandise through effective advertising are meeting this new trend pretty well. But some of the merchants are not.

And then there is the growing concentration of industry and business into the hands of corporations and their stockholders—offering more and better things often at lower prices. The merchant who ran the average business in my town used to own the business himself. Now, the chances are increasing that he now works for corporate owners.

Community leadership is going to suffer unless such merchants take a personal active interest in the welfare of the town and country. These men should participate in affairs of our village—such as the Community Chest, Parent-Teacher association, Chamber of Commerce, and the churches. We need their leadership. They should assume responsibility for helping to make a better world right here at home. The place to begin is in our own home town—our back yard.

More and more, our people are inclined to look to someone else for a solution of their problems.

We want Washington or Lansing to authorize an appropriation and build a post office or increase teachers' salaries or do this and that—there's which our fathers wouldn't have asked for unless they were willing to pay the cost themselves.

Cities refuse to increase school taxes and yet they demand that the State of Michigan return one third of the state sales tax to local governments, counties, municipalities and schools. Plans are now underway, you know, to initiate a petition a constitutional amendment in Michigan to do just this very thing.

"Well—where money is not anyway? It surely isn't 'state' money or 'federal' money. We pay it in taxes. During the state's fiscal year, ending last June 30, the State of Michigan distributed a little more than $134,000,000 back to local governments. That's a lot of money.

And it was 35 per cent of all centralized authority to restore order out of disorder.

Centralized distribution of public funds is breaking down our local tax responsibility. It invites a man scramble to get yours while the getting is good and all the time adding to the cost of our government.

Maybe I'm an old fogey. But as one newspaper editor who is trying to keep up with developments, I'm frankly puzzled.

I know we've abandoned isolationism. Sure, it's as dead as the dodo bird. The other day didn't an army airplane span the continent California to New York, in a little more than six hours? Bombers fly across the Atlantic like Michigan pheasants wing over a pond. Only a few months ago single-wingers scanned the skies in northern Michigan for enemy airplanes that, thank God, never arrived.

This global war is costing the American taxpayers a fabulous sum, and we've got to buy more war bonds if we are to defeat Hitler and Tojo. Can free enterprise—the right of the individual—survive such an ordeal? Well, obviously we've got to fight fire with fire, and lick fascism with strong economic controls exercised by a centralized authority that regiments our entire lives. That's total war.

And what's happening in Europe doesn't help matters either. You can't destroy wealth that has been accumulated by toil and thrift of many generations without invoking more editor's observations, thinking about tomorrow's "historic assault" of the Allies upon Hitler's European fortress and the significance of the fateful decision that is yet to come.

Is this editor a "reactionary"? Is it possible to beat a trend? As we asked these questions about the thought came to us that a lot of other Michigan people may be wondering about tomorrow and where we are going.

History insists that every great war has been followed by some kind of a revolution. Revolution being another word for change. World War II can't be an exception to the rule—or can it? What do YOU think? What are YOU going to do? It's your decision, too.

A child's faith is a precious heritage . . . a source of strength and comfort that we must protect and cultivate in times like these.

TAKE A CHILD TO CHURCH THIS SUNDAY

Few things are stronger than a child's Faith. Faith in his elders . . . in the world about him . . . in the invisible Power that he sees in everything that breathes and grows:

It is a precious heritage . . . doubly precious in a world of terror and confusion. Hard as these times are for grown men and women . . . how much harder can they be for children eager to believe in the Eternal Truths:

It is our sacred charge today to keep alive our children's Faith . . . to nourish in young hearts and minds the passionate conviction of our ancestors who wrote this Faith into the charter of American freedom:

Just as our country, in its youth, grew mighty in that trust in God . . . so our own sons and daughters, in their youth, will grow in moral stature and in spiritual strength through the assertion of their faith in God:

Take a child to Church this Sunday .

Dog Quarantine

Oakland, Shiawasse, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Dr. C. H. Clark, State Veterinarian in charge of control work on dog rabies in Michigan states, said the season of year when the disease spreads more rapidly, and it is necessary in order to get complete control, that all dog owners in the infected area keep their dogs tied or definitely kept from running loose. The quarantine covers a ninety-day period and started May 23.

According to the Department of Health records, the infected animals so far this year exceed that of last year. To prevent further spread, anyone noting a dog trying to bite, or acting sick in any way, should report to the county sheriff or local health office.
