For several years Mrs. Zwahlen had not been physically able to take an active part in community affairs, but retained a keen interest in neighborhood events. She was a member of the Methodist church in Farmington and of the order of Eastern Star. She leaves two children, William, Jr., who with his wife and two daughters, Janet and Gail, reside on Daley Avenue, Detroit, and Pfc. Shirley Zwahlen of the WACs.

Mrs. Zwahlen was the West Point Park correspondent for the Northville Record a number of years.

From all that I have seen in the papers out here, I guess that you are having a very tough winter. It seems like a long time since I last saw a good hard snow storm. It is rather hard to comprehend a cold hard winter after two winters here in California. This year, it has really been ideal. We have had only 6 or 8 days of rain here this season. The days have been warm and sunshiny and the nights clear and cool. It is rather novel to drive under these conditions after so many years of fighting the snow and ice of Michigan winters. I have been working for Pasadena City Lines now for about 15 months and they sure are a swell company to work for.

I have seen a lot of Northville people since I have been out here. Myron (Tiny) Utley, Marilyn Cavel, Betty Randall, who

THIS IS A CALL to AMERICA'S HEART

Today your Red Cross makes a more urgent appeal for help THAN EVER BEFORE. It must not only serve millions of overseas fighting men — lonely men — homesick men — wounded men. It must lend a helping hand to the thousands of RETURNING service men who desperately need the guidance of a friend.

Their Red Cross is YOU. Without your contributions, the Red Cross would STOP.

There are no special funds to keep it going. Ask your heart if you can stop now! Give today... and give MORE!

The American Legion Legion Digest

This column is edited and paid for by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 American Legion of Northville for the information of the men in the service. Questions from Servicemen will be welcomed and answered in this column.

WHERE DOES THE LEGION GET ITS MONEY? HOW IS IT SPENT?

The assets of the National organization of The American Legion are in excess of one million dollars.

The operating budget of the National organization of the Legion for the year 1945 is $2,700,000.

The National organization possesses an endowment fund of five million dollars, and another trust fund of $20,000.

Those are big items in any one's financial picture.

The gross income of the department (state) organization for the year 1945 will be in excess of two million dollars from membership dues alone.

In addition, the more than 12,000 local posts of The American Legion have their own individual incomes which in their gross total will run into the millions of dollars for the year.

The over-all net worth of The American Legion is estimated at 70 million dollars.

Where does all this money come from, and what is it used for?

That is a fair question for any eligible prospective member to ask, and he is entitled to have an answer. We hope to give the answer in this article.

The National Picture.
The income of the National organization from dues is 25 cents per member for the administrative expenses of the Legion and .75 cents per member which is his subscription to the monthly national publication, The American Legion Magazine, and The National Legionnaire.

The American Legion Magazine, which is in the top brackets among recognized periodicals as to quality of content and workmanship, not only produces a fine publication for the membership, but earns considerable sums in advertising revenue, which accrues to the Legion. The National Legionnaire, however, does not carry paid advertising.

There is also the earned income from the $5 million dollar endowment fund, which was raised soon after the foundation of the Legion—but the expenditure of this income is limited to the fields of rehabilitation and child welfare.

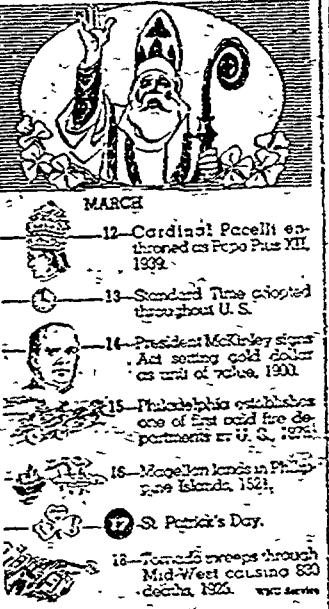

There is an Overseas Graves Decoration Trust fund—that is the $220,000 referred to above—and expenditures from this fund are restricted to the expenses of decorating the graves of members of the American armed forces who lost their lives in service overseas, and whose graves are in overseas cemeteries, among them being the six World War I American cemeteries located in western Europe and in Great Britain.

There is a fund for the support of Pershing Hall in Paris, France, which has just been reopened as an enlisted men's club and service center. Plans are being completed by the National organization for a service center in London, England, and there may be one in Honolulu in the Hawaiian Islands.

Among the activities which are financed and administered by the National organization are the Leave funds voted by state legislatures, these funds being expended for service or child welfare work.

The amount of a member's dues which accrues to the department is determined by action of the department convention in which are seated delegates representing the posts of the states from the annual poppy sale.

How the Money Is Spent—The spending activities of the posts are as varied as their way of making money. A large percentage of the posts own and operate their own Legion houses or club houses. Many have funds put away in War Bonds. There are always expenditures for welfare needs, contributions to hospitals, to War Funds, Community Chests, the Red Cross and other charitable and civic enterprises.

Since World War II started many posts became charter members of the Armed Forces Service Centers, or maintained local service centers. Some have club houses available to service personnel, including bathing, sleeping, and feeding accommodations. Hundreds of posts purchased large quantities of cigarettes to send to the armed forces overseas. Records and record players both for units overseas and for service hospitals in the United States have been financed.

Entertainments are staged in veterans' facilities and service hospitals. Recreation centers and public parks have been established and equipped. Commemorative honor rolls have been erected. Many thousands of dollars in money and hours of time have been expended in disaster relief when fire, flood or tornado has devastated an area.

Citizenry classes have been organized and carried on. Young men's expenses to Boys' States have been met; Junior baseball teams and junior musical organizations have been supported; books have been donated to public libraries; flags to schools and bases; equipment to Boy Scout troops.

Covalescent camps for veterans have been created and maintained in the mountains on the seashore or at inland lakesides. Scholarships are given to tal-

This is a call to America's Heart

Your Red Cross faces the greatest task in its long history

This is the most important appeal for funds in the history of the American Red Cross.

After three years of war the work of your Red Cross is greater than ever. It must serve millions of our fighting men abroad. Lonely men, homesick men. Wounded men. The Red Cross, always at their side, helps to bring them cheer and comfort wherever they may be.

It lends a helping hand to the thousands of returning service men—sick, wounded—desperately in need of friendly guidance.

And remember, YOU... and you alone... keep the Red Cross alive. For without your help there could be no Red Cross. There are no special funds to keep up its great humanitarian work. The money must come, as always, from the heart of America—YOU!

Our duty is clear... we must keep the Red Cross at the side of our fighting men and our wounded heroes. We must help the Red Cross in its vital job of sending food and medicine to war prisoners... aiding the ill and lonely overseas... collecting life-giving blood plasma. The scope of the Red Cross is almost limitless. Every Red Cross worker is your personal messenger of sympathy and comfort to your man in uniform.

of essay and oratorical contests awards to outstanding public servants such as policemen and firemen. Motion picture projection machines have been bought for deserving institutions, day rooms during the pre-Christmas season. The Legion collected, routed and arranged for the distribution of the gifts.

We could go on and on but this should give you an idea.

An organization such as the American Legion with a program so comprehensive as is that of the Legion can best maintain its worth while activities at all levels—post, county, department and national—needs a lot of money and raises it. But the money goes for such purposes as have been outlined for the welfare and benefit of its members, of veteran and service non-members, for the children and dependents of veterans and service persons, and through its aid given to worthy institutions and organizations, it follows that it is also for the benefit and welfare of community, state and nation.

WOUNDED IN HOSPITALSGET CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Every wounded or ill hospitalized serviceman or woman in the United States was remembered at Christmas as the result of the "Give a Gift to a Yank

Who Gave" campaign staged by The American Legion with the radio broadcast aid of Eddie Cantor, the radio comedian who boosted it on every one of his radio shows for many weeks during the pre-Christmas season. The Legion collected, routed and arranged for the distribution of the gifts.

The best after-Christmas estimate indicates that 1,173,500 gift packages were donated with an average of seven gift items per package. Some states had an over-supply after their own services, however, so these were taken care of and these extra gifts were collected and shipped by The American Legion to hospitals in states where there was an under-supply. Distribution was made to 1,314 service installations in all categories.

NO WMC JOB CONTROLFOR WAR II VETERANS

Washington, D. C.—All controls of veterans of World War II who seek employment upon discharge, have been lifted entirely by the War Manpower Commission. Under former regulations, a veteran was free, for 160 days only, and then had to submit to government regulations, the same as other civilians. Under his freedom-from-control status, the discharged serviceman will no longer have to "secure statements of availability in order to change his job. He may also be employed regardless of employment ceilings. He is entitled to a referral by the United States Employment Service, regardless of the essentiality or priority status of the job. He can be hired by anyone without reference by the USES or any other authorized agency. In other words, he is a free agent.

Victory gardeners throughout the nation are again called upon this year to rally behind the call for more food production as essential to the war effort and total victory.

With increased drain upon manpower and increased production of war supplies demanded by military leaders, the need for increased supplies of food and fresh vegetables to supplement the nation's food supply is urgent and essential.

War Food Administrator Marvin Jones recognizes this fact, and as spring planning time nears, he issued a statement pointing out the importance of the Victory garden in rounding out the nation's war effort.

Food is just as necessary as guns, tanks and planes. Home gardeners produced over 40 per cent of the fresh vegetables last year and are asking them to equal this record in 1945.

This 40 per cent of our vegetable production in 1944 equalled almost 8 million tons of vegetables produced in the 19 million Victory gardens of the nation.

The Victory garden program is not only a call to patriotic effort in war time, but it is part of a long range effort on the part of the Department of Agriculture and the state agricultural extension service to encourage and advocate more and better farm gardens. Objectives from $25 to $50 worth of vegetables in a season.

Vegetables right out of the garden has a more food value, because for most vegetables there is a rapid loss of certain vitamin elements after vegetables are taken from the soil, and the average American needs about 50 per cent more green and yellow vegetables, and about 20 per cent more tomatoes and citrus fruits than were available in 1944 according to nutritionists.

Home grown foods are better for they do have a better flavor when they are really fresh, and then, gardening her home here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Winter, of Rogers street, while her husband is overseas. She has just received word of Capt. Small Communities

Can Get Best in Children's Books

Children living in small communities can be as familiar with the newest books written for the young as are their city contemporaries, thanks to the Children's Fund Loan collection, a project carried on through the University of Michigan Extension Service in cooperation with the Michigan Young Men of Parents and Teachers.

This year's collection, put up by the Children's Fund established by the late Sen. James Couzens in 1923, has now upon request to communities with a population of 2,001 or less and to rural schools.

The books are sent out in sets of 20 and are selected to meet the tastes of boys and girls from the primary level through junior high school age.
Selections are made from the best and most attractive books on the market and include classics as well as current children's publications.

U. of M. Service Flag
Has 20,000 Stars

With men and women today, on every battlefield and war theater,
the University of Michigan's service
flag could show more than 20,000 stars, with 217 of them gold.

The 20,000 include men of all ranks
from privates to generals and admirals. Among them are 189 faculty and staff members on leaves of absence, many of whom have been borrowed by the Army or Navy for secret scientific development work.
Also included is the staff of Hospital
No. 38, a complete front line hospital
now in the Belgian theater, and composed entirely of University doctors and nurses.

Since June 1942, specialized train-

Guard, and an equivalent for officers assigned to the German or Japan as translators, gauging and workers.

Time-honored hints of interest and value. Helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliance use.

ONE FOR ALL ... Mr. Jones lives in a trailer. Mr. Smith owns a cottage. And Mr. Clark dwells in a mansion. But Detroit Edison furnishes all of them with exactly the same dependable electric service. Nobody can buy an "exclusive" grade, for all are provided with the same high quality, the best we can provide. And while most other living costs have been going up, residential electricity hasn't advanced a penny in price since the war began.

Don't waste electricity! Conserving it saves cool.

LENTEN DISH ... Our Home Service Department suggests another dish for Lent:

Baked Oysters with Spaghetti

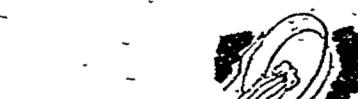

1/4 pound spaghetti	1/2 cup melted fat
1 pint oysters	1 1/2 cups milk
Salt and pepper	2 lbs. flour
1 cup bread crumbs	2 tbs. butter or other fat

Cook spaghetti as directed in package. Scald the oysters in their own liquor, reserving the liquor. Oil a baking dish, put in a layer of the spaghetti and then a layer of the oysters, season with salt and pepper, and repeat the layers until all the oysters and spaghetti are used, finishing with a layer of spaghetti. To the liquor from the oysters, add enough milk to make a pint, reserving a small quantity to mix with the flour. Scald the remainder, add the scalded milk to the moistened flour, stir well and simmer 20 minutes. Add the melted fat and pour over the layers in the dish. Top with bread crumbs mixed with melted fat, and bake in a hot oven (400-450°F.) just long enough to brown the crumbs,
about ten minutes.

SERVANTS' ENTRANCE ... The electric outlet on your wall is a "servants' entrance," providing many extra helping hands that save you time and lighten housework whenever you plug in your electric appliances.
But you can't make efficient use of all the servants if there are not enough outlets in your home. Remember the extra demands of post-war electrical living
when you plan to remodel or build a new home.

Saving electricity saves coal, transport and manpower.

KITCHEN CRAFT ... To delay the rusting of pans, grease all new pans and put them in a warm oven before using.
