PICTURES WHICH APPEAR IN THIS WEEK'S RECORD

S/Sgt. James A. Harper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Harper of Orchard Drive. He has lived in Northville twenty-five years of his life. He went to Northville grade and high schools. He worked at the Cadillac Motor Co. in Detroit before entering service in 1942. He was first stationed at Drew Field, Tampa, Florida in the Administration Division of the Army Air Corps. In September, 1943, Jim married Jeannette A. Beveridge of St. Petersburg, Fla. S/Sgt. Harper went overseas in October, 1943 and is stationed in England with the Eighth Air Force.

I didn't want to send your card back without at least a note to tell you how much I enjoy the Record—because I do very much.

It's been over ten years since I lived in Northville but it's part of "home" to me and the Record helps keep me informed of what is going on at home. I keep hoping that we'll meet some of the boys from Northville but no such luck so far. Much as I'd like to see them I'm pursuing my duty—our patients are all on their way home and most of them are pretty badly wounded. Thank you for the Record. I hope it won't be long before you can discontinue sending it overseas to all of us. Sincerely, Frances Bacon, Lt. U. S. Army Nurse Corps.

Pfc. Herbert H. Brown is the only son of Herbert Brown of Maxwell road. He has lived for fourteen years and attended Northville High school. Before entering service he was employed in Detroit at the Kernath Marine Motor Co. Herbert entered service in November, 1942 and trained at Camp Claiborne, La. in the medical detachment, going overseas in October, 1944. In the February 16 issue of the Record was an article, telling of Pfc. Brown being awarded the Bronze Star for Heroism in France. Pfc. Brown's father has received the citation.

This is just a note to inform you of my new address. I have not received the Record for over a month now and I really miss it. It's the only way I have in knowing where all the gang are. I am aboard ship right now and am enjoying a swell trip. We have all kinds of movies and music on board. I am happy to say that so far I am not sea sick. I would appreciate it very much if you would forward the Record. Yours truly, Douglas Slessor, "Scotty"

A short note to assure you that both Lois (Mrs.) and I are doing alright. We have been here in Oklahoma a little over a month and I like the place better than our last post. However, we much prefer good old Michigan and are bidding our time until we can settle down (in Northville). Tell 'em to keep me in mind!

Our regards to you—Rotary and Northville.

The American Legion Digest

This column is edited and paid for by the Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 American Legion of Northville for the information of the men in the service. Questions from Servicemen will be welcomed, and answered in this column.

The American Legion and Youth

Maybe you have heard some folks say, "Won't those American Legion men ever stop acting like a bunch of boys?" Or it may have been a direct rebuke: "Why don't you act your age?"

Usually this has been at a convention where some of the Legionnaires were having their sky-larking while a lot of other Legionnaires were busy with the serious business of the convention.

Or it may have been during one of those hilarious "Ferry 'n Eight" wrecks with the parading box-cars and French-type locomotives mounted on rubber, the participants in their blue smocks, and hilarity and red fire all over.

And it could have been on a baseball diamond, where some Legionnaire who remembered the days of his youth and was still trying to Eve them was teaching a bunch of young Americans how to field balls, or meet the horsehide with a bat, or run the bases.

And it might have been in the woods or on a stream, where some Legionnaire scoutmaster was showing the members of an American Legion-sponsored Boy Scout troop how to identify the hard wood another, how to camp in the forest with safety to both boy and forest, or how to catch a fish for dinner.

Possibly it might have been someone who wanted the Legionnaire to give a little less of his time to the task of teaching a group of young charges how to blow a bugle, or to beat a drum, and to march with the skill and confidence of trained military precision.

Or maybe someone thought that Legionnaire who was constantly fussing with guns, and who got a big kick-out of teaching the youngsters in the neighborhood how to handle a rifle safely, and to shoot it expertly, could be putting his adult time to better use.

It might be hard for some folks to understand the Legionnaire who would leave his store or his profession, or his job to spend ten days at some Boys State—not to tell the lads how they should do this or that—but to be handy in case they wanted counsel, or to run the cadet camp for the boys, while they spent a fortnight learning by doing—the way American government operates.

The fact of the matter is that despite the gray hairs that adorn the heads of these World War I Legionnaires (who have ANY hair left)—and the undeniable arithmetic that checks off the fact that it has been 25 years since the War "wreck" (The American Legion has remained essentially a young man's organization, young in spirit, in aging in years—until this World War II came along with a resulting influx into the Legion of many War II veterans whose service to the armed forces has been such that discharge into civilian life has followed.)

These new young veterans won't find it too hard to get along—for the American Legion has never lost touch with youth—either its own, or the youth of their sons and daughters and the youngsters of the neighborhood who have been coming along since the days of the association.

With youth is the best recipient for retaining youth since the play-offs.

The value of the last is not only in the fact that they are playing a clean game under the best of auspices, and learning how to play, not only well but in a spirit of sportsmanship, but also in the fact that those who develop great skill are constantly under the eye of major league scouts who offer them the opportunity to enter the professional game if they so desire. The sparkling stars of the major leagues for the past several years have contained a large percentage of American Legion Junior Baseball graduates.

Boy Scouts

Everyone knows the value of the Boy Scout movement—but not everyone knows that 2,750 Boy Scout troops are now being sponsored by American Legion posts, and that thousands of American Legion members are scoutmasters of other non-Legion-sponsored troops, are scout executives, and active in this fine program.

Oratorical Contests

The American Legion sponsored National High School oratorical contest this past year participated in by 36 states, who entered state winners in the competition that wound up with the finals at the National Military Academy in Missouri, where scholarships were awarded to the four finalists—the first prize being worth $4,000. Both boys and girls competed.

School Awards

More than 11,000 School Award medals and certificates are issued annually to outstanding boy and girl students, to encourage the qualities of honor, courage, scholarship, leadership and service.

Citizenship Recognition Day

Annually, young people who are approaching their majority, are urged to accept the responsibilities of citizenship. The observance of this important time in their life is designed to give youth an insight into the great freedoms which are guaranteed to them in the Bill of Rights. Citizenship Recognition Day ceremonies are held on the third Sunday in May each year in thousands of communities on completion of training programs.

HOW WE DID IN '44

MICHIGAN BELL REPORTS MORE BUSINESS—LESS PROFIT

With Michigan's mines and farms, factories and shipyards, delivering more and more war goods, the use of our services in 1944 was greater than ever. All essential telephone needs were met. We served more people than ever, and generally we served them well.

However, despite our best efforts, an increasing number of applicants waited for telephones to be installed. And some long distance calls were delayed. On the financial side, earnings continued to be lower than before the war. Our primary aim was, and is, to do everything possible to hasten Victory.

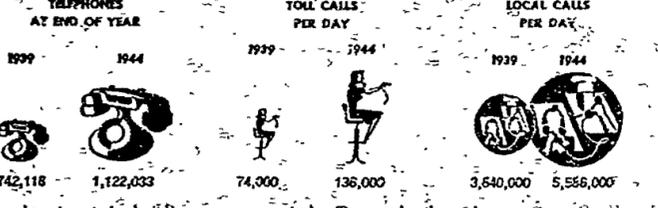

(COMPARISONS BELOW ARE FOR 1939, EUROPE'S FIRST WAR YEAR, AND 1944, OUR THIRD WAR YEAR)

WE THE PEOPLE OF MICHIGAN BELL

At the end of 1944 we had more than 7 men in uniform for every 10 still on company jobs. In 1941, there were 278 Michigan Bell men in uniform, in 1942—1,757, in 1943—2,595 and in 1944—2,715. And 97 women were in the Services at the end of 1944.

WE HAD QUITE A YEAR

Investment in buildings, wires, central office and other plant equipment was $192,731,000 at the end of 1939. At the end of 1944 it was $243,383,000—an increase of 26%. But the record-breaking volume of business loaded the system to capacity.

—AND WE TOOK IN A LOT OF MONEY

—BUT OUR COSTS WENT UP FASTER THAN INCOME

—SO WE HAD LESS LEFT FOR THE OWNERS

OUT OF NET INCOME CAME

—SO WE PAID LOWER DIVIDENDS TO STOCKHOLDERS

WE GAVE PRETTY GOOD SERVICE

Except that we could not install telephones for all who applied, we gave reasonably good service. Almost nine out of ten long distance connections were completed while customers remained on the line. Most telephones were trouble-free all year and 95% of all cases of trouble were fixed the day reported.

—AND WE SCRAPED THE BARREL TO SERVE AS MANY AS POSSIBLE

In the 5 years since war broke out in Europe, we added as many telephones as in the previous 18 years. This used up virtually all our spare facilities. Because of war shortages, we could not begin to get all the things we needed. Old switchboards, instruments and wire were pressed back into use to provide service for as many as possible.

—BUT WE DIDN'T HAVE ENOUGH TO GO AROUND

Despite our best efforts, 7 out of every 100 long distance calls were delayed in 1944 by shortage of lines. And at the end of the year, nearly 98,000 applications for service were held for facilities. All essential orders were filled promptly. The other orders we could fill were installed under a government priority plan, as present users gave up service. It takes more than telephones to remedy the situation. We need buildings, wire, cable, switchboards, and time to install them.

—SO WE'RE GOING TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT

The only relief from our present situation is a general enlargement of our telephone system. Assuming good business conditions will prevail for several years following the reconversion period, we foresee a construction program costing as much as $120,000,000 in the first five years after the war.

Such a program would enable us to clear up our backlog of orders... to keep pace with increasing needs... to resume conversion of manually operated offices to dial operation... to resume the extension of rural service... and to assure the people of Michigan the benefits of the latest technical developments in communication. This program will mean jobs for our returning veterans and for many others as well.

—AND WE'LL NEED MONEY FROM INVESTORS

In obtaining the large amounts of money needed for expansion, we rely on the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to sell its securities to investors country-wide. Attractiveness of A. T. & T. securities depends on Bell System earnings, so in the public interest Michigan Bell must do its part to maintain satisfactory System earnings. Currently the System's earning rate is one-third lower than the average of other industries, and Michigan Bell's is still less—about half that of other industries.

The furnishing of good telephone service depends on earnings sufficient to pay a fair return on the money invested in the business. Any whittling of already inadequate earnings would further weaken our ability to meet expected postwar needs of Michigan.

Despite any rumors to the contrary, Michigan farmers are not getting rich as a result of war-time prices. Here is the evidence, straight from the Michigan State Farm Bureau:

A survey of the bureau membership has disclosed that the gross income of farmers in 1943 averaged $4,005 with an average net income of only $1,422. Nationally, the net farm income of 1942 was $1,320. Half of the farm-operator families in 1941 received less than $760 net cash income from all sources, includ-

Michigan Once Was Happy Hunting Ground for Prehistoric Dinosaurs

Michigan Once Was Happy Hunting Ground for Prehistoric Dinosaurs

Night scene in the age of dinosaurs. The big brontosaurus came in at night to feed on vegetation. The alligators had caught one, while the other across the lagoon has slipped in its hurry to get back to water and safety.

Michigan once upon a time probably was a favored home for dinosaurs. All evidence points this way, but the final proof—actual bones of the giant lizards—lies buried under hundreds of feet of sand, gravel and rock. Back to what the geologist calls the Jurassic period when the dinosaurs reached their peak, Michigan and virtually all of the United States was covered with warm, shallow seas bordered by low, swampy land.

But during later ages, Michigan became a basin. Sand and lime from surrounding highlands were washed into the depression and gradually built layers of newer rocks on those of the dinosaur period. Lastly, the great glaciers came from the north and buried the whole peninsula under several hundred feet of sand and gravel.

The dinosaurs, according to Prof. Russell C. Hussey of the University of Michigan, were a long-lived race.

COURTESY is still a good old American Custom

WE AMERICANS are noted for being tolerant about mistakes and inconveniences that happen for unavoidable reasons.

In spite of shortages in coal, equipment, gas, tires and labor, we are still determined to conduct our business in a courteous manner. We must all recognize the serious aspect of our problem; we must sacrifice... but certainly we can do so without anger and discourtesy.

This year domestic coal will be harder to get than ever... concerted action on the part of both user and dealer is necessary if we are to be kept warm next winter.

We want to make your heating problem as easy as possible, but we must face the situation squarely. You can cooperate by filing your Consumer Declaration at once; by taking delivery whenever coal and labor make it possible; by being patient with our numerous shortcomings. Help us to help you. At least courtesy is not rationed.

Michigan's forest products research project, sponsored by the state planning commission, has almost an unexplored field to conquer and develop. Only 30 per cent of forest resources are being utilized today. The remaining 70 per cent waste consists of sawdust, slabs, shavings, trimmings and the limbs, tops and cull logs left in the forest. From every 100 lbs. of this waste timber, 50 and 60 gallons of ethyl alcohol can be manufactured. A ton of waste will furnish 60 pounds of high-protein feeding every ton of sawdust and lignin cellulose which could be manufactured into rayon and other fibers. Project these possibilities into North Michigan

A DeKleine quotation: "Not only does the department of agriculture ignore recommendations of health officers but actually it is interfering with local progressive milk sanitation programs in a number of cities." Dr. Paul deKruif, consultant to the state department, says he intends to publish nationally a warning to tourists to stay away from Michigan unless the state provided better safeguards for its milk supply.

National Sunday School Week April 9-15

or THIS? American children everywhere will stand up and be counted this week when National Sunday School Week will be observed throughout the country. This movement is sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, a non-sectarian, non-profit organization with headquarters at the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York. The Committee, now entering its sixth year of operation, is putting forth every effort to bring about a revitalization of a sabbath school that America was founded on man's consciousness of God, man's duty to God and the fruits therefrom. The purpose in sponsoring National Sunday School Week is to develop a serious acknowledgment that "As the twig is bent, so the tree inclines" and that every parent owes his child a knowledge of God, whose light always shines for those who seek it. National Sunday School Week represents an additional annual activity of the Committee, who sponsor National Bible Week the third Monday in October each year. The above poster in color is obtainable at Chambers of Commerce throughout the country, or at the offices of the Laymen's National Committee.

CARD OF THANKS We wish to thank the community for the splendid response to our recent bake sales. We also thank the Main and Center Street bakeries for donations. Northville Blue Star Mothers 43. CARD OF THANKS Mrs. Clara Lockwood wishes to thank her Novi friends for all the flowers and cards she received during her illness. Trench Method Proves Beneficial No man's stress cannot be placed on the life of barnyard or stable manure. Cost of obtaining the manure in towns and cities, however, is expensive and therefore the use of commercial fertilizers is especially advisable. Get small, intensively planted gardens, fertilizers may be used broadcast and thoroughly mixed to the upper 3 or 4 inches of soil. It should be all mixed before the seeds are sown. 5 lbs. of manure apply fertilizer to the inches to the side of the seed row and 1 inch deeper than the row. Apply about one pound per 25 to 50 feet of row, if they are two feet apart. The usual method of composting manure is to place the material in a low, deep pile and turn it once every week for 6 or 8 weeks. After the third or fourth turning the manure is ready for use in a garden. It is best to add to prevent rotting. Place large quantities of manure are used it is possible to save the fertilizer for special sections of the garden. Some may be used for cold frames or hot beds. Sheep and goats are extensively used in parts of the West and Southwest. On farms where large flocks of poultry are kept there is considerable accumulation of poultry manure, which may be used at a rate not exceeding 100 pounds for each 1,000 square feet. It should be borne in mind that sheep, goats and poultry manures contain a high percentage of nitrogen and therefore should be used sparingly, otherwise injury to crops may occur. This is especially true when commercial pulverized sheep manure is applied directly.

By 45 - I want to have saved so that I can buy

(You fill in)

Don't put your pen down yet. Now figure this out: How much will you have to save every month in order to have the total indicated above in the desired year?

Don't forget that every $19.75 you put in War Bonds today will be worth $25 in ten years. That means your money will accumulate faster. Don't forget too that the money you save in your bank will be increased by the interest it will earn. That means the saving process is too.

Then if you will plan to cut down on unnecessary expenditures today, when prices are high, your extra dollars will buy more later on that helps to build up the savings total.

All this arithmetic represents a type of planning which your common sense asks you to follow. If all of it will plan your spending and plan, but savings will help in winning the war and help to assure a prosperous peace.

American Legion has sent $2,500 to members of The American Legion and their families in Greece, who were left impoverished and destitute by the German invasion. The money, from a special relief fund, was forwarded through the American Embassy.

The Man About Town

William P. Frank, city editor of "The Journal-Evening" daily newspaper of Wilmington, Del., is also the writer of the column "The Man About Town." On January 4, Mr. Frank had some remarks to make about G. I. Bill of Rights and to whom should go "the credit" for this legislation. Quoting Mr. Frank's column in part: "The G. I. Bill of Rights didn't just happen. It was brought about by the wisdom of the Congress and by the courage of The American Legion that World War II veterans should not be the recipients of the neglect and the indifference experienced by the World War I veterans upon their discharge which took 25 years of untiring work on the part of the Legion to remedy. National conventions of The American Legion expressed that thought in resolutions; a special committee was appointed and immediately went to work to draft a master rehabilitation plan which would provide a scientific approach to the veteran problem of this war. The G. I. Bill of Rights was the result. The American Legion lacked the will with all its strength. A nation-wide publicity campaign was placed under way to build public support for the measure. So, thanks to The American Legion which G. I. Joe comes marching home from this war, he'll find no horizon narrowed by handicaps incurred by his war service. His opportunity to go right ahead and show his stuff has been immensely bettered by everything the experience and the devotion of The American Legion could give."

Cash recoveries made by The American Legion for veterans in 1941, through contested claims against the government which were presided by the Legion's Washington office, amounted to $5,592,956. Most of this amount being contested insurance claims.

Gardeners Urged To Purchase Needs Without Delay

With certain exceptions, the outlook for Victory garden supplies this year is good, according to a recent survey.

While the bumper crop last year's seeds will be especially plentiful, but due to manpower shortages, gardeners are advised to get their seed orders in early. The best choice will make it impossible to fill orders on time.

GARDEN VICTORY

As a matter of fact, most gardeners buy their seed supply from their local stores, so they only to those who find in the various seed houses for their seed needs. It is advisable, however, for all gardeners to lay in their seed supplies early. This can be done immediately after the garden has been mapped out and planned, or as soon as local stores receive their spring shipments of seeds. In many sections of the country, these supplies are already on display.

Farm gardeners and experienced growers in the smaller towns know pretty well their needs in the way of garden tools. But for the small backyard or vacant lot garden very few tools are actually necessary. It is better to buy a few simple, high-grade, substantial tools that will serve well for many years, than equipment which is poorly designed or made of cheap or low-grade materials that will not last. In most instances a good spade or spading fork, a steel saw takes a pinch common hoe, a strong cord for laying off rows, and enough garden hose to reach all parts of the garden with water are all that is essential. A trowel or shovel in transplanting, but is not essential. If the soil is properly prepared, plants can be set more easily with the hands than with a trowel.

The fertilizer situation generally is not so good, due to nitrogen shortage, as it was a year ago, but Victory gardeners are not expected to have much trouble in obtaining sufficient to supply their needs.

The Victory Garden Guide published in 1944 will be in effect this year. It is available at the Agricultural Extension Office.

Supplements are important. These are the essential ones:

1. The soil should be fertilized with 50 lbs. for the central part of the garden, including the corn belt, it will be 4-12, and for the western states it will be 6-14.

2. The Victory gardener who wishes to get the most out of his garden should feed his soil with a complete fertilizer.

Secure the Best

The latest word on insecticides is that supplies will be about the same as last year. Rotenone, one of the most popular garden insecticide ingredients, will be available in approximately the same quantities as last year. Rotenone may be purchased separately, in powder form, as part of a prepared insecticide suitable for the particular vegetable or insect with which the gardener must deal.

The urgency of the American people generally, is manifest in some of the home-made practices which Victory gardeners have developed. One of these is a shortage in insecticide dusts, a home-made insecticide method was developed using a common cloth bag for dusting plants. Other equally effective methods have been developed, though they do not appear to be any experiment shortage this year in the commercial small dusts and sprays.

Extreme care should be used in handling poisons so that they will not be mistaken for flour, or for food for livestock, or left where children or pets can be injured by coming in contact with them.

When using materials which are known to be lethal to bees, livestock or other property, one should exercise every precaution to protect all property from damage and, as a means thereto, use only such methods of application and under such climatic conditions as to prevent damage to bees, animals or other property.

Commercial fertilizers may be used to advantage in Victory gardens, the composition and rate of application depending on the locality, soil and crops to be grown.

The quantity of fertilizer to use will depend upon the condition of the soil, its natural fertility, and the crops being grown. Tomatoes, for example, do not normally require a great amount of fertilizer, especially nitrogen, which is a good thing considering the scarcity due to excessive war demands for nitrogen. Root crops will respond to relatively large applications.

Amount of Seed Used Important

For small seeds, the seed must be sown thickly, row by row, and free of clods, lumps or stones. In making rows, about one-fourth to one-half inch deep for the small seeds, the row of the row or hoe handle may be used, drawn along the soil that marks the row. For larger seeds which are to be planted in such a depth, the row is best marked with the corner of the wooden hoe. Care should be taken that all seeds in the row are covered to the depth of one inch, and that the earth is firm, but not tamped over them.

Soil which is inclined to pack or crust interfering with the seedling coming through, the covered row should be mulched lightly with straw, peat, leaf-mold or similar fine mulch-retaining material.

In setting out cabbage plants on any other plant which is transplanted, care should be taken not to interrupt the growth.

Under southern conditions practically all vegetable plants may be started in open with little or no covering. In the middle section and throughout the North and West, if an early garden is desired, it is essential that certain crops such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, cabbage and cauliflower and occasionally lettuce, chives, beets, cucumbers, squashes and melons be started indoors in cold frames. The simplest method of growing early plants is to provide a flat tray or box, filled with soil, which will not be necessary as a rule, but a container with a cover will be found satisfactory for starting the early plants.

In colder sections some form of heat is essential, and a manure-heated hotbed is usually the best type to provide. In the North the hotbed should be started in March, in order that the plants may be well on the way in time to plant in the open ground. The hotbed should always face the south and be on the south side of a building.

That son of yours in service is probably doing some heavy thinking when he gets a chance—thinking about what he's going to do when the war is over. You can help him make a wise decision by planning an electrification program for your farm, and telling him about it.

He knows there is security on the land; he knows that there can be pleasure and profit, too. But he won't be content to do things the old way with its back-breaking toil and precious few hours for rest and relaxation.

There are many ways electricity can help shorten work days and reduce the amount of human energy expended on many farm jobs. Electricity can pump your water. It can milk your cows; run feed grinders, hay hoists, hay driers, barn gutter cleaners, silo fillers—all at a cost so low you can't afford to do without it. And when production of farm equipment is back to normal, there will be many new electrical devices to make farm work easier.

Why not make a list of the jobs you would like electricity to do on your farm, and then talk to your Detroit Edison Farm Service Advisor about them?
