Return of war veterans to Michigan civilian life is already prompting speculation about Michigan's 1946 state campaign.

Leat. Governor Vernon J. Brown is the favorite for Republican nomination for the governorship. Friends of Secretary of State Herman Dignam insist that Dignam will support Brown and will run for re-nomination.

Among the persons mentioned for lieutenant governor on the G.O.P. ticket are, in alphabetical order: State Senator George Higgins, Ferndale; State Senator Ivan Johnson, Mt. Clemens; Dr. Eugene B. Keyes, Dearborn, a former contender; State Senator James Miliken, Traverse City; Howard Nugent, Bad Axe, speaker of the house of representatives; Tom Read, Shelby, former lieutenant governor, and State Senator Don Vanderwerp, chairman of the senate finance committee.

Choose Up for Boys All-American

Babe Ruth, pilot of the Eastern nine, and Ty Cobb, manager of the Western nine of the Esquire All-American boys, "choose up" just before the start of the Boys East-West championship. They took time out to demand ball parks for every 1,000 boys in the United States. Ruth and Cobb still remain heroes to thousands of sand lot players.

The picture you have been waiting for—One of the greatest NEWS

Should the Republicans make a straight bid for veterans' votes by including a veteran of World War II somewhere on the ticket? Some observers feel that the administration with its $50 million fund for veterans and its Office of Veteran Affairs, headed by Col. Philip Pack, has already a strong record of veteran service and that no ticket recognition is necessary.

Widespread unemployment in Michigan one year from today, could have an adverse effect on the chances for Republican victory in November. Possibility of a Democratic comeback at Lansing is in the 1946 picture. Restless voters usually cast their ballot as a protest.

On reason why Michigan political tides changed frequently during the industrially upset Thirties was the rise and fall of employment in larger cities such as Detroit, Pontiac, and Flint.

Consider this in the prospect of employment following reversion according to the Committee for Economic Development, total national employment will be 24 per cent higher than in 1910 and only 12 per cent lower than the peak of wartime production.

Payless county fairs are here, thanks to DDT. Clarence Hadden, secretary of the Stagnant County Fair, credited the new war-time scientific discovery for absence of flies there last week.

West Point Park News

By Miss L. A. Ault

Mrs. M. E. Ault, Mrs. Edwin L. Johnson and daughters called on Mrs. Edward Stromoski in Wayne Thursday. Mrs. Stromoski's husband, who is well-known to West Point Park folks, is in a serious condition at the Wayne Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. George Middlewood, of Farmington Road are spending the week-end in Buffalo, New York.

Freda Ault was a Highland Park visitor Tuesday.

Mrs. Vinson of Mayfield Ave. is quite ill.

Mrs. Nelson and her little sons of Hubbard and Norfolk, are better, after having been on the sick list for a week.

After many months of waiting, a number of West Park residents had telephones installed in their homes last week. Others are anxious for their turn to arrive.

Relatives here have received word of the birth of an eight pound son to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Porter, near New London, O. on Sept. 12th. Mrs. Porter is the former June Ault, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Ault.

Mrs. Joe Kremer (Cleo Longnecker) has been visiting her former home on Farmington Road, while on the way to a mustering-out station for Spars at Chicago. Her husband, now located in Detroit, has seen many months of overseas service and also expects a discharge soon. The young couple plan to reside in Portland, Oregon, where Mr.

Kremer plans to engage in business.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ault, Mayfield avenue, received notification a week ago that their son, S. I. Wayne M. Ault, located at Crow's Landing, Calif., had received a knee injury in an automobile accident and was being cared for in a hospital. The young man has since written, saying he is convalescing.

Coastguardman Donald Vance arrived from California Tuesday, and is enjoying an eleven-day visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vance, on Mayfield avenue.

T/Sgt. Forrest E. Ault of the U. S. Weather Air Force hopped up from North Carolina Wednesday and spent the night with his mother, Mrs. M. E. Ault.

Earl Harrison of 8 Mile road is overseas and expects to spend a year overseas.

Sgt. Robert M. Hunter, crew chief at the Clovis, New Mexico Air Base, arrived Friday morning for a 30 day visit with his mother, Mrs. Emerson Ault and other relatives here and in Ohio.

Sailor Donald Voorhees, busy in the Japanese area, is heard from regularly by his parents Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Voorhees. Both parents and son expect to have a reunion at Christmas time.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sidelinker have returned from a visit with relatives in Flint. Their granddaughter, Gloria Sidelinker, has also returned from a vacation spent with relatives in Connecticut.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tallman, Mayfield avenue made a trip to Flint and returned Friday eve. They were accompanied by Mr. Tallman's stepmother, Mrs. Mary Tallman who was returning to her home near Flint, after a visit of several weeks with friends in this section.

Dolores Ault, who graduated from Farmington High school last June has returned to school for post-graduate work.

Miss Clara Reber spent Saturday night with friends in Detroit.

Many folks are stopping in to inspect the cotton growing in Mrs. Emerson Ault's vegetable garden.

Miss Dolores Vinson, who resides in Detroit, visited her parents, the Vinsons of Mayfield avenue the first of the week.

Jimmy and Judy Muir, Shady-side avenue, have recovered from chicken-pox. Jimmy was able to enter the kindergarten of Pierson school last week.

Mrs. Pekkie, of Detroit has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Norman Kaarinen, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders and children have moved into what was formerly the Peterson property on Hubbard avenue.

The Newzettes, who for a time occupied this residence have moved to Detroit.

Norbert Schmidt is erecting a large chicken house on the rear of his Shady-side avenue property.

The Sidelinkers are remodeling the front of their residence on Mayfield Avenue.

An appreciative congregation heard Rev. Axel Edwards preach a fine sermon in the Neighborhood Church Sunday evening. "Hoping for Heaven" was his theme. He will be heard again in two weeks. The service next Sunday evening, September 23 will be cared for by another speaker.

Canning Spoilage Can Be Prevented

By Emma DuBord

Homemakers can save themselves a lot of difficulty by studying the ABC's of food spoilage, says Emma DuBord, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent. Canned food may spoil because of improper handling or because of the activity of molds, yeasts, bacteria and enzymes. Most of the "flat-sour" type of spoilage arises from allowing blanched or hot-packed vegetables to remain in a warm kitchen before processing. From letting corn "sweat" in the husks, or from keeping vegetables tightly packed in bags or boxes. Foods that are slightly spoiled before processing cannot be improved by any amount of heat. Since spoilage occurs at a high temperature it is important for jars to be cooled quickly after being removed from the water bath or pressure canner, and it's the reason for preparing one cannerful at a time, when canning.

Molds may attack almost any food under the right conditions. Small amounts of mold on fruits may be safely removed, with the remaining food unaffected. A heavy growth of mold makes the food unwholesome. Bacteria usually cause spoilage in non-acid foods, and result in gases inside the jar, or can.

Swelling in tin cans and broken seal in glass jars occur from this kind of spoilage. Very often sulphur or ammonia odors can be detected when the jar is opened. Some bacteria cause the liquid to appear cloudy, although this is not a reliable sign of spoilage as over processing or excess starch also produce a cloudy appearance.

Various other off-odors or flavors indicate spoilage, but some of the very dangerous spoilage cannot be detected. The only safeguard is extreme heat obtained by using the pressure cooker for all non-acid vegetables, or the boiling, for 15 to 20 minutes before eating, all vegetables canned by water bath. Careful handling of vegetables and fruit, inspection of jars and closures, fairly loose packing of jars, processing at the correct temperature for the full time specified and cool storage will help eliminate spoilage problems.

Solar homes—with windowed walls. More healthful, enjoyable, economical housing. And new jobs for glassworkers.

Fireproof glass draperies. Greater public safety—more jobs from glass.

Glass insulation—in home appliances—will mean jobs.

Making Postwar Jobs—Out of Glass!

How many postwar jobs will there be—for soldiers, sailors, war workers? No one can tell exactly. But this much we do know:

Business management, in scores of industries, has long since planned new products, new ventures, new services, that will make jobs by the thousands by creating new demands.

For example, the glass industry in producing for war has found amazing new uses for its product. Imagine glass through which nails can be driven, like wood. Glass that bends. Glass that bounces. Glass that floats, like cork.

Soon, now, beautiful textiles will be made of glass—textiles that are fireproof and mothproof. There will be rotproof glass tarpaulins. Glass awnings. Glass windows that will not frost. Improved glassware for homes.

All these new uses will increase the demand for glass—and demand for goods makes jobs.

The glass industry is only one of many along the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Nickel Plate, and the Pere Marquette, that have planned very thoroughly for postwar employment

And now that Victory has been won, these industries and others throughout the country will put into operation their plans for the jobs and opportunities all of us want.

Spray Apples

The apple picture isn't the brightest in the state this year, but the apples we have, we want to eat. Edwin J. Rasmussen, specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College, contends that more of the apple crop will reach the table if steps are taken to retard the usual pre-harvest drop.

When to use a stop drop spray is the most important single factor in controlling pre-harvest drop. Mr. Rasmussen, after studying the problem, suggests daily inspection of trees. The ground underneath the trees should first be cleared. About a week before you expect to start picking. Then in your daily inspection, take note of the apples falling. When the average drop reaches four to six sound apples per tree during a twenty-four hour period, apply the spray.

The inspections should be made carefully since proper timing is an essential to successful spraying. Spraying materials are effective for a limited time only. After the spray has been applied it usually takes three or four days for it to take effect. Depending on weather conditions and the apple variety, the spray may stay effective from ten days to three weeks. Consequently, if dropping even starts, if sprays are applied too early, the effects may wear off before are applied too late, they may not take effect until after the fruit has dropped.

A lot of apple growers follow the practice of picking their crop before it has a chance to start dropping. But Mr. Rasmussen emphasizes that that's no way to get around losses incurred by the pre-harvest drop. Consumers will demand only high quality fruit. Apples picked before maturity have poorer color, smaller size and inferior storage qualities.

DDT

While you're waiting for your chance to get a supply of DDT,

M. J. BOELENS

Herman King, specialist in insect control at Michigan State College, thought you might like to know something about the development of the new insecticide.

Most of you know its worth now—but what you may not know is that entomologists in the United States Department of Agriculture were more than a little suspicious of DDT when the studies first began. The material appeared to be a nerve poison. Germany was suspected of shipping it out of Switzerland so that it could be used extensively on our troops who might then suffer from its ill effects. With these suspicions in mind, initial tests with DDT proceeded with caution.

As the testing became more extensive, the miracle of DDT began to appear. Powder containing 10 percent DDT in the neutral carrier propylaldehyde left no toxic effects. Before long, the powder was accepted for general military use against lice. Now we recognize DDT as a virtual life saver. It checked a typhus epidemic at Naples, and it's proved to be the greatest weapon ever known for preventing malaria and other diseases that are many—and you and I are this. The potentialities of DDT transmitted by mosquitoes and going to reap the benefits of its cautious development.

Commissioner O'Brien moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, all of the public alley, 18 feet wide, in the rear of Lots 354 to 358 inclusive, and Lots 444 to 448 inclusive of Ken-Jock-Ely Sub. No. 2 of part of E. 1/2 of N. "Women know what they want"

"One thing a dealer in electric appliances finds out early—women know what they want. They come into the shop with their minds pretty well made up—that's why they show so much interest in the electric water heater. They know they want convenience—which means having hot water always on tap. They know they want hot water all around the clock—washing, baths, cooking, dishwashing, scrubbing, laundry and many other household needs. They know they want their families to have the best. That's why they want electric water heating—dependable and trouble-free... completely clean. I'm always happy to tell them about electric water heaters and about Edison's special low rate for water heaters that reduces the cost to only a few cents a day... I'll be still happier when I'll have enough heaters to fill all orders. We don't have enough now to go around, but we do get a few from time to time and are taking care of orders just as fast as we can."

LARGE FAMILIES
 An electric water heater of large capacity serves the multitude needs of the large, active family.

SMALL FAMILIES
 The economy of a smaller electric water heater fits the limited needs of the small family.

WORKING FAMILIES
 With everyone at work all day, the dependability of the electric water heater is appreciated.

Water heaters are not generally available for sale now. A few are being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get one at the earliest possible time.

NEWS AND NOTES OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

Watkins - Nirider
 For her wedding, the bride chose a light blue wool dress with black accessories. She wore a natural colored orchid.
 Mrs. Alfred Warriner, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Alfred Warriner acted as best man for the groom. A dinner party was given in the Casino at Pine Bluff after the ceremony for the wedding guests by Mr. and Mrs. Warriner.

The bride is a graduate of the Pine Bluff High school and until recently was employed as a cashier at the J. J. Newberry Co. of Pine Bluff.
 Essie graduated from Northville High school and only recently returned to the village, having been discharged under the Army postal system. He had served forty months overseas in the European Theater of War. Wounded in action, Essie spent five months in a hospital in England. He has lived in Northville for the past twenty-one years except for the four years which he spent in the Army. It was while he was in training at Camp Robinson, Ark. that he met his future bride.
 Following a brief wedding trip, the young couple are making their home on North Rogers street and Essie has resumed his duties as manager of the local D. and C. store.

Baldwin - Harrington
 Northville friends will be interested in the news of the marriage of Mrs. Richard T. Baldwin of Albion to Mr. Don Harrington, also of that city. The couple were quietly married Wednesday, September 12, in the Methodist parsonage at Albion by Rev. G. Dempster Yungers, pastor of that church. Mr. and Mrs. Harrington plan to reside in Albion.
 Mrs. Harrington a former resident of this village, spent a part of the summer months at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Atchison, on S. Rogers street. During the year's session of Albion college, she was house mother of a girls' residence hall on the campus.
 Mr. Harrington was formerly superintendent of schools at Albion, a post which he held for about twenty years.

Leave for College
 Once again Northville's college students are returning to various campuses throughout the State. Next comes to Michigan State at East Lansing as Jane Ann Lansing and Peggy Ely who are living in Campbell Hall. Valentine Kazarian also will be a freshman at the college. Returning there for her sophomore year is Lorraine LaBian, who will live at Mason Hall.
 Those attending Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti include Mary Ellen Babbitt, Marjorie McKague, and Hazel Covell who will be freshmen and Janice Covell who returns to that campus for her senior year.

 Edythe Amerman left the first part of the week for her senior year at Hillsdale and Bill Light will return to his studies at Albion. Gwen Howell is a freshman at Antioch, and Betty Snow is a freshman at Alma. U. of M. students who go to Ann Arbor in October will be listed in a later edition of the Record.

Entertains Children's Unit
 The children's division at the Maybury Sanatorium was entertained Wednesday afternoon with a program of songs, stories and jokes given by Meredith Brown of Detroit. Mr. Brown, who is better known as "Old Uncle Brownie" makes a hobby of giving such programs in various hospitals in this area. A pupil of the late Dr. Wm. Howland of Detroit, Mr. Brown has also sung on several radio stations and before clubs and other organizations. An employee of the local Ford plant, previously commuting to his home in Detroit, Mr. Brown has been spending the week with friends here. His accompanist for the Wednesday program was Miss Selma Schmitz of N. Center St.

Willard Elys Move
 The Willard Ely family of Church street, left Wednesday, with their furniture, for Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. where they plan to make their home. The Elys have been guests of honor at a number of parties during the past few weeks. The more recent ones were given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, who entertained at the Western Golf Club for twenty-four guests from Plymouth, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, and Northville. Also eight friends were invited to the home of the D. E. Butlers at Ann Arbor, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ely and son, Kurt. A family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Ely on Yerkes Ave. also gave the Ely family a send-off to their new home.
 Mrs. Andrew Orphan (Faith Liebetrau) returned to her parental home on Linden Ave. last Friday from a visit with relatives in Pontiac.

Six Pairs of Twins in Family

The land of the Dixie quail has produced another marvel: six pairs of twins in the same family. Of these 12 twins, 7 are still living. They were part of a family of 19 children, born in 23 years to farm-r Dwyer Pratt, 42, and his wife Germaine, 39, near Montreal, Canada. The 12 living children are pictured with parents.

Dale Bray Writes Observation of Peoples and Places Visited

The following is a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Starr Bray of Rogers street from their son, Dale, 27/3.
 "In writing this letter, the July edition of the Country Gentleman is serving as a pad. This edition is a little special for it contains a 'letter to Michiganders' written by John A. Hannah.
 I suppose you have seen these letters in previous editions of the C. G. It seemed good to see some pictures of M.S.C. again.
 Your letter of August 19 arrived today. I would feel a lot better if the majority of the civilians would have celebrated the end of the war in the way you did. It strikes me that all the noise and whoopee is kind of hollow and not quite of a genuine nature. But I guess that's America for you! Still the best and most beautiful place in the world. One of the things which makes me conscious of the difference between Americans and other peoples I've seen since entering the service, is the difference in agriculture. Of course, I don't pretend to be one who has seen lots of countries and their citizens, but when one lives so close to the peoples of a nation, it isn't hard to form quite an appraisal of them. In all the time I've been in the Philippines, I have never seen one who seemed to see the romantic side of farming. I've never seen a Filipino farmer gaze back at the fields which he has worked. Though their intricate systems of rice fields are a marvel, it seems to lack the 'character' of a field of corn or wheat or alfalfa raised by a good American farmer. I can still see Dad surveying our small garden and puffing on his pipe; it seemed to me that there existed a sort of feeling between Dad and the growing plants. Not so here in the Philippines! Here is the type of people who are supposed to be envied by a nation of cities and noise and hurry. These are the easy going, friendly, fatalistic people whose pleasures are natural, not artificial; the people who do not worship money and the people who do not worry when their social life slips behind the 'Joneses'. The people, last of all, who cannot absorb the enjoyment of their labors.
 Practical, materialistic America is populated by the most romantic people I have seen, by people who can get deep satisfaction from their work.
 Here dogs are considered fit for existing only because they serve as night guards of property. There are no beautiful or handsome dogs to be seen. The ponies are shaggy and dirty, often spotted with sores running the gamut from little infections to ugly, raging ulcers exuding puss. And yet Americans are considered to be people who are so in love with money they cannot see the basic pleasures of life. Why? Because they want to have beautiful companionable dogs? Because they want healthy and handsome horses? Because they are not completely satisfied with all of nature's products and so add that little 'touch' to produce finer types of plants, more beautiful flowers, and healthier animals and people? If that is being materialistic and pragmatic, then the language contains one impractical word-romantic!
 Isn't there a parable of Christ's that is about the man who gave three of his workers a gift in the form of money and told each to come back after a length of time and tell what he had done with the money? And wasn't it the man who increased the money who was commended, while the one who had treasured the gift as a keepsake received a scolding?"

News from Novi

Handing the corn crop raised for grain may present some problems this fall as the amount of immature corn is expected to be greater this year. County Agricultural Agent, E. J. Besemer offers several suggestions for farmers who may find themselves undecided as to how to harvest the corn. The farm crops department at Michigan State College classifies "dent corn" as mature, when the moisture content is down 40 percent. At this stage it is fully dent and it is difficult to cut the kernel with the thresher. No problem is usually experienced with such grain if it is allowed to dry to about 25 percent moisture before husking and storing. Corn in the hard-rough stage when frost hits, should be left standing on the stalk as late as possible or cut and put in small hocks, until it can be husked. Corn in the soft-dough stage, if it is to be used for grain, can be handled the same way. In either case, husking may be put off until very late in the fall. Corn in the roasting-ear stage for ensilage or to be cut and shocked and the whole plucked as needed without husking, or the field of corn may be pastured. The making of ensilage from only the husked or snapped ears has also been tried successfully, and this permits the storing more of the corn than when the entire plant is used. Silo filling should be done as quickly after frost as possible. Special precautions are necessary when immature corn is husked and stored, but devices may be used in the crib that will keep the ears in good condition.

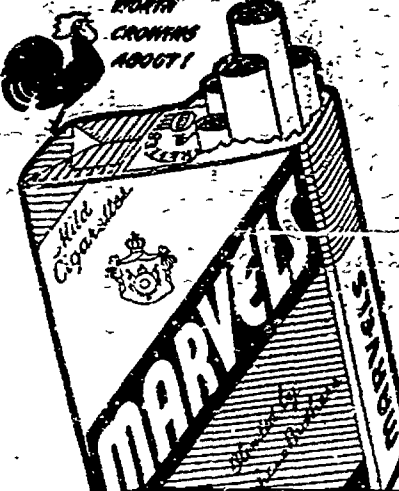

Milkweed Collection Ends. The milkweed pod-floss collection program will not be an activity of youth groups, including schools and 4-H clubs in Michigan this fall. Michigan State College has been notified by August E. Miller, of the War Hemp Industries, Inc., Potomac, Md., that no commercial agencies will process the pods this year. Demand for the fluff for use in life jackets and other war equipment has ended with the coming peace. Youth groups in Michigan harvested more than a half-million logs of pods last year. Bioregrass Can Be Seeded In the Fall. B. H. Churchill, farm crop research specialist at Michigan State College, says that bioregrass can be seeded in the fall very satisfactorily with or without a companion crop. It can be seeded at about planting time, either alone or by mixing the seed with the wheat. Alfalfa can be added to the combination by planting it next spring in the bioregrass and wheat which are seeded in the fall. It is too late now for the fall planting of alfalfa with bioregrass.

Veterans SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family.

With many labor unions suffering from lack of apprentice help, particularly the building trades unions, the federal committee on apprenticeship has, through a survey of industry, learned that 300,000 apprentice positions can be handled by industry from the ranks of returning servicemen.

The committee consists of representatives of management, labor unions, the U. S. Department of Labor, U. S. Office of Education, the Federal Security Agency and the War Manpower Commission. The committee has recommended that to protect veterans and to maintain high standards of apprenticeship, adequate safeguards be set up by state agencies authorized to approve business establishments for apprenticeship training to assure veterans thorough training in all skilled trades.

Requirements for true apprenticeship which are reserved for all-round skilled trades and which have been adopted by WMC's apprentice training service include the following basic standards: (1) An apprenticeship occupation is considered one that requires 4,000 or more hours to learn.

What information must a veteran submit in order to apply for guaranty of a loan under the GI Bill of Rights? The veteran first executes a form called a certificate of eligibility. In this he gives a summary of his service record, the amount of the loan, and the purpose for which it is to be used.

Pete The Pooch Is an Able Seaman

Impatience is the name for Pete, who can't wait for a line to be tossed from the chock, but dives into the sea and swims ashore, guiding the coast guard cutter to his berth at LeHavre, France. After being lifted out of the water, with the line in his mouth, he sees that it is properly moored to bollard. The wire-haired fox terrier meets all ships.

in Northville about three weeks ago and has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Walker of Horton-avenue. It will be remembered that Fred was wounded September 21, 1944 in France and has been in the States since December at the Bushnell Hospital. Fred leaves September 29 to report back to the same hospital for further treatment.

Indications are that as many as 5,000 civilian students—3,500 women and 1,500 men—will be enrolled at Michigan State College for the fall quarter, according to Registrar Robert S. Linton. This would be a 31 per cent increase over last fall's enrollment. Classes begin on Monday, Sept. 24. Amsterdam Suffers Serious Damage in German Occupation Period

Rep. Donders, on Return from European Trip, Reports Extent of Damage to Amsterdam

Rep. George A. Donders, 17th Michigan District, who recently returned from a trip which took him through 19 European countries, including Russia, as a member of the bipartisan House committee of six Democrats and five Republicans, reports that the city of Amsterdam suffered seriously under German occupation.

Health conditions were greatly affected through lack of food supplies. Municipal authorities, informed Rep. Donders that the number of available calories dropped sharply from 1800 daily in 1941 to 270 in May, 1945. The seriousness of this situation is apparent when it is pointed out that the number of calories a day for a man of 25 amounts to 2300 normally.

During the first six months of 1939 the mortality in the city was 3,736; in the first six months of 1945 it was 9,701. Infant mortality figures, given to Rep. Donders by municipal authorities, show an even sharper increase; the total for 1945 being nearly four times that of 1939.

In all 64,000 patients were treated in the city limits for starvation. Contagious diseases multiplied. The number of diphtheria cases, which in normal times averaged between 400 to 600 annually, rose to 7,800 in 1944. The number of deaths rose to 30,000 in 1944. The number of deaths quadrupled during the month of January 1945; through lack of means of transport and coffins there was at one time an arrears of burials of more than 1500; the corpses were for the time being put in a church which was not in use.

Great damage was done by the Germans to the extensive dock installations in Amsterdam; practically all of the Coenlocks were destroyed. Only 40 cranes remained intact and two fires seriously damaged the Petrollocks, where storage capacity was reduced to 1,600,000 gallons. In the North Sea Canal near Amsterdam two ships were sunk and the Houtlocks were blocked.

Plants of the Netherlands Shipbuilding Company, The Netherlands Dry Dock Company, the Verschure shipbuilding yards, a rubber factory, two engine factories, a sulphuric acid plant, and a superphosphate factory were among the industrial establishments destroyed.

preparation of meals in the municipal canteens. Much pavement was destroyed in this way, about one-third has now been restored.

Rep. Donders reports widespread bomb destruction throughout Germany, estimating that 90% of Berlin has been reduced to rubble; only the Cathedral remains intact in Cologne. No large city of Germany escaped substantial destruction; Heidelberg, of the large cities, came through with the least damage.

DEER SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 1st FOR BOW AND ARROW HUNTERS

LANSING, Sept. 21.—Bow and arrow hunters can stalk deer anywhere in Michigan beginning October 1.

The conservation department says that deer can be found in every county of the state.

The 3-day season ends November 5. The legislature lengthened the season early this year from the 14 days (November 1-14) set aside for the sport last year. First time the entire state had been opened to bow and arrow deer hunters.

The department sold 1,219 bow and arrow licenses last season; expects increased demand this month. Archery license application blanks can be secured from dealers in gun licenses and should be mailed with fees to the department's Lansing office. Licenses are issued also at the department's regional and district offices.

The special archery deer season in Allegan county opens October 1, ends November 30.

All extension personnel, including county agricultural agents, county home demonstration agents, 4-H agents and agricultural and home economics specialists, will attend.

TWO YEARS IN ONE

Arthur R. Wright, 18, of New Troy has become the first student in the history of Michigan State College ever to complete two full years of work in one year. He entered college last fall and at the end of the summer term had the rank of a junior and better than a B average in all his studies. Arthur took several basic college examinations after studying on his own and without attending classes, and passed them all. While in school he also carried two paper routes, worked as a busboy in a cafeteria, and made the swimming team.
