Been here for about two weeks now and will sail for China in either 6 days. Came out by air all the way and had a nice trip. This part of the world isn't fit for a white man though. Fortunately you don't all spit and polish when you leave the States and we slouch around in any old thing. Have to wear a shirt to the office, chow, and church. The rest of the time your own taste dictates. Will soon be in a cooler place and or else are to look like Marines when we land. I'll enjoy wearing a necktie again. I think. Best regards to the Rotary gang.

Sincerely,
Russell Steinfinger.

Jerry Miller is in San Luis Obispo, California. Both are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller of First street.

In reading the paper which arrived a few days ago, I thought I would drop you a few lines. As captain of you people of Northville know I have been away for almost three years, which does seem too long. Boy I have gone a number of places in that time. On my first voyage I went completely around the world which was thirty-three thousand six hundred miles, which took us eight months. We went to Panama Canal, then to the Pacific ocean to Australia. We were about sixty miles from port in a terrific storm, the waves were over fifty feet high. The ship was on a lee, and a liberty, and we were all alone. Right at noon we were shaken up quite badly. Our ship cracked across her main decks. We almost broke in half. A miracle happened, she held together. It took us from noon till 9 p.m. that night to get in the harbor. We sailed around the harbor all night till 10 a.m. the next day. When we dropped anchor the people thought we were torpedoed. We had 7 feet of water in our starboard bilges. We were fixed up and we went to the Persian Gulf. We went up the river to Iraq, Arabia, then we came back down to Persia, then we went across the bay in the Red Sea to Bombay, India, then we went to Durbin and Capetown, S. Africa. We went across the South Atlantic ocean to Brazil, then up to Dutch Guinea, then to Trinidad then to New York which was quite a trip.

When I applied for a leave which I got and when I returned back to New York I found I was stationed there. But that was for catching my next ship which I was on for ten months. I made three trips across the North Atlantic ocean in the winter time on those trips I visited Liverpool. The next trip, we went to Wales. Then I received a four day leave, and we went to London on our visit, then the last of the three trips, we landed at Belfast, Ireland, where we waited for a month without any shore liberty, then the ship got under way and we went up the English Channel to France.

We took part in the invasion of Normandy, around Cherbourg. We then returned to Belfast, Ireland for our return trip home. Then I returned to New York to receive another leave home, and when I returned I transferred me to Camp Bradford, received my amphibious training.

Northville High Plays 6 to 6 Tie Friday

Strong Keego Harbor Eleven Finds Match in Northville in Season Opener Here. Milford Today.

Last Friday, Sept. 23, the Northville football squad, led by Captain Ben Lister, satisfied the expectations of coach R. W. Doeksen by holding Keego Harbor to a 6-6 tie.

It was just a case of an inexperienced team, which lacked confidence, in the first half of the game. But in the second half, the boys got rolling, and despite the Keego Harbor line, rolled up gain after gain, culminated by a long pass from Clayton Graham, to Bill Groomer, who with the help of an excellent block by Snow, galloped across for the single score.

The end of the 4th quarter, found Northville dangerously close to the Keego Harbor goal. Several injuries were sustained by the Keego Harbor team, and Captain Ben Lister and Cliff Boyd of Northville were hurt in the heat of the game; but neither boy was taken out.

Hoping to profit by the experience gained in this game, Northville journeys to Milford today, Oct. 5, for the second game of the season.

Last Friday's lineup included: LE-Stinson, LT-Frid, LG-Lister, C-Parrell, RG-Wall, RT-Lanning, RE-Groomer, Q-Nitze, RB-Snow, LH-Cole, FB-Graham.

Even under the handicap of cold weather, rain, and a dire shortage of gasoline, the Northville Downs got underway Tuesday night for the fall racing season. About 2000 people were in attendance.

Upwards of 350 trotters and pacers more than ever before appeared at Northville Downs when that attractive Michigan track opened for its fall meeting Tuesday night. The meeting will last at least 40 days, the date of its termination being determined by the weather.

GLACIERS AND MASTADONS

Our story starts over a million years ago when the climate turned cold.

Covering Michigan, the great ice sheet extended to the Ohio and Mississippi.

Warmer weather caused the ice sheet to recede. At its base mastadons roamed.

Mrs. Norman Kauranen is quite ill. Mrs. J. W. Ault, who has been very ill, seems somewhat more comfortable this week-end.

Rev. Lester E. Ault, from Washington, Pa., arrived early Wednesday morning to spend a few days visiting his mother and other relatives here.

A new residence is being erected on Pembroke avenue. Rev. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron from Redford were guests of Grandma Ault Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Rudolph Tanner, Pembroke avenue, was a visitor in Detroit Friday.

Mrs. Robert Fredericks, who was visiting in this section two weeks ago, has written announcing her safe arrival home. Illness, flat tires and gasoline shortage made the trip to St. Petersburg, Fla., somewhat unpleasant but the Fredericks look forward to seeing their old neighbors here again next year when traveling conditions may be more favorable.

The Armstrongs, of Mayfield and East Ann Arbor, arrived home Tuesday evening from a vacation trip to the French Riviera.

Mrs. Hilda McVicar and her new little son Robert Dean, have arrived home from Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Mrs. J. J. Howard daughter, was back in N. P. from an town, O. were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Ault.

Members of the Ault clan, which endeavors to hold a family reunion once a year, were visiting together in West Point Park this last week. Owing to the serious illness of Grandma Ault, head of the clan, affairs were very quietly arranged, but a simple little get-together was held, and greatly enjoyed several evenings in attendance and four generations were represented. A fire on Hubbard avenue, between North and Dearborn avenues, attracted a considerable amount of attention Saturday afternoon. Four fire trucks responded on call and succeeded in keeping the blaze confined to a large outbuilding, which was completely destroyed. Owner of the property conducts an establishment for selling dressed chickens for market, and the fire is believed to have been caused by a faulty oil stove used for heating water. The loss, including certain equipment rendered useless, will amount to quite a sum.

Dale Tallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tallman, Mayfield Ave. and who was in the Marines for a lengthy period, has now received his honorable discharge.

During Fire Prevention Week

Oct. 7-13, 1945

THE GUARDIAN OF LIFE AND PROPERTY

Observe These Safety Rules

Smoking—

Smoking in bed is extremely dangerous. If you must smoke, get up!

Chimney—

Cracks in chimney are a good place for sparks to escape and start a fire.

Roofs—

Old curly shingles make an ideal place for sparks to start a fire.

Wiring—

Don't take chances with faulty wiring and insulation. See that all extension wire is properly installed.

Oily Rags—

Never allow oily rags to accumulate. Oil treated mops should be placed in metal containers.

Ashes—

Ashes should be kept in metal containers and a safe distance from wooden partitions.

Smoke Pipes—

Watch out for worn or rusty pipes. Check for proper insulation near wooden beams and partitions.

Dry Cleaning—

Don't use highly volatile fluids for cleaning at home. Play safe and send your garments to a dry cleaners.

First Aid—

Treat all minor burns to avoid infection. Keep a standard first aid kit handy in the home. Call physician, if necessary.

Remember—Fire Is The Friend Of Your Worst Enemy!

The spinster who continued to refer to legs as limbs asked the maid whether she had given the canary its morning bath.
"Yes," the maid replied; "you may come in now."
"What's the matter with you, old man? Anything wrong with your back?"
"No. My wife made the shirt I'm wearing, and I have to walk this way to fit it."

Veterans' SERVICE BUREAU

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper, through special arrangement with the Washington Bureau of Western Newspaper Union at 1616 Eye Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Questions may be addressed to the above Bureau and they will be answered in a subsequent column. No replies can be made direct by mail, but only in the column which will appear in this newspaper regularly.

Speed Up Discharge

With the rate of discharges from the armed forces soon expected to exceed 500,000 per month, several organizations, among them, the American Red Cross, are taking steps to expedite the path from uniform to civilian clothes.

The latest move of the Red Cross is the enlargement of the field directors' staffs in hospitals and the installation of full-time paid field directors in veterans administration hospitals to work with Red Cross volunteers now serving in these hospitals.

Many veterans in their haste to get home often pass up the service available at hospitals and separation centers and often regret their haste, for the army and navy and other organizations have provided trained personnel to inform the veteran of all his rights, to help him plan his future and to advise him in many fields. He should take advantage of these facilities.

Questions and Answers

Q. What members of an army man's family are eligible for medical care? Mrs. L. C. Downsville, La.

A. The war department says that the wife and children are normally eligible for medical care, but if a mother, father, or minor sister or brothers are living within the soldier's immediate household and are dependent upon him for support they too may be eligible for medical care.

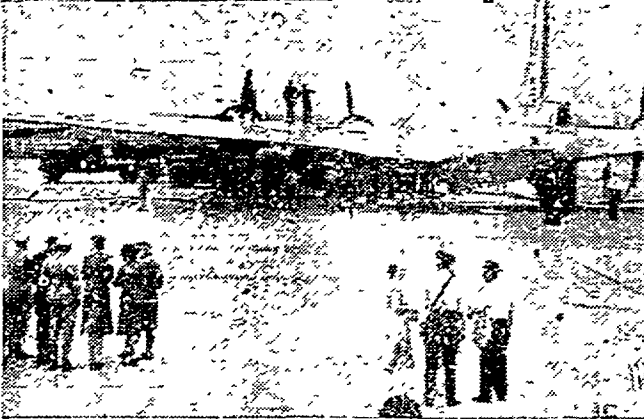

Q. My son was killed in action and I sent in a claim for a pension several months ago and.

Record Tokyo-Chicago Non-Stop Flight

One of the B-29s forced down at Chicago for fueling, on its proposed Tokyo-Washington non-stop flight. The distance from Tokyo to Chicago was 5,995 miles. High winds prevented the non-stop plans to Washington. The flight was made in 25 hours. Insert shows from left: Brig. Gen. Emmet O'Donnell, Maj. Gen. Curtis Lemay and Lt. Gen. Barney Giles, leaders of the famous flight.

Haven't heard yet. I am sick and not able to work and I need some help. What can I do? Mother, Dallas, Ga.

A. If your son was unmarried and you were his beneficiary and dependent upon him you are entitled to compensation. If he was married, his widow is entitled to the pension. Suggest that you write again to the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration at Atlanta, Ga., and explain your case. Sometimes action is slow, but if you are entitled to a pension it will be retroactive from the time you made application.

Q. My son enlisted in the air corps in June, 1944. He was called in January, 1945, and passed all the exams at the induction center. When he received all his "shots" he was sent to a hospital and he was given an honorable discharge March 8, 1945, due to his heart. Is he eligible for G. I. benefits?

A. If the injury or ailment of your son was received or aggravated by his service, he is eligible for G. I. benefits. You may determine this by having him apply for a certificate of eligibility. Generally speaking a person must have served in the armed forces at least 90 days in order to qualify for benefits under the G. I. Bill.

Q. As I understand it, all World War II veterans who have been honorably discharged from the services are to receive a bonus or payment of $1,050. They are to receive this in $20 a week payments or $520 a year. As I am writing this I am serving time in prison, but I was given a medical discharge from the service in 1942. Will veterans who are serving time in any institution receive this money if they were honorably discharged from the service? No. 1850, Illinois State Penitentiary, Mearns, Ill.

A. You have been misinformed since no veterans receive a bonus. They do receive money but pay up to $500 and if they do not obtain

CAN CHICKEN WITH THESE DIRECTIONS

Canned chicken has become a popular delicacy on many tables with the scarcity of meat, but when the time for the culling of the poultry flock arrives, home-makers will want to know the best methods of canning so as to secure best results in keeping qualities.

Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent, offers this recipe that if closely followed should prove successful.

For the best flavor in canned chicken, select plump stewing hens. Wash the picked bird and wipe with a clean damp cloth. Do not soak in water. Draw and cut up the bird in the usual way; cut legs into drumsticks and second joints. Trim off large lumps of fat and sort into meaty pieces, bony pieces, and giblets.

Make a broth by covering bony pieces with cold water; simmer until meat is tender. Remove bones and add larger pieces of chicken to hot broth, enough to cover. Put lid on kettle and cook until the pieces, when cut, show a very little pink color at the center. Giblets can be canned in a jar by themselves.

Put a teaspoon of salt in bottom of not clean jar and pack quickly with hot chicken. Second joints and drumsticks go in first, skin side next to jar. Breast pieces go in center. Leave one inch headspace at top of jar, after chicken is covered with hot broth (about 1/2 to 1 cup for each quart jar). Work out air bubbles, wipe rim of jar (any grease may prevent a good seal) and adjust closure.

Put each jar, as soon as it is filled, into a pressure canner, adjust canner top and process at 10-lbs. pressure for 75 minutes; pints, 65 minutes. Remove from canner as soon as pressure falls to zero; finish adjusting closures, if necessary, and let jars cool upright.

You never, somehow say the right thing at the right time, his wife complained.
"I know it," he said sadly, "but you seemed to think I did once."

Michigan's post-war Tower of Babel is going to be dizzy. Witness this bit of demagoguery: Fifty dollars a week or more should be paid by the federal government to each of the following:

- Every unemployed veteran or civilian.
- Every wounded veteran.

Furthermore, each adult, 65 years old or more, should get from $30 to $50 per week as a retirement pension, also at the bounty of Uncle Sam.

The creator of this credo admits freely that "reactionaries" (such as this writer) are going to label him a "crack-pot" who is appealing to "the lunatic fringe." The author is the former Lieutenant of Louisiana's Huey Long whose political fame rested on "dividing the wealth" where by every American was to become a king with a chicken for every meal. His name is Gerald L. K. Smith of Detroit, founder of the America First party and one-time primary opponent of Homer Ferguson for the Republican nomination to the United States Senate.

All of this Utopia is to be achieved, says the versatile Smith, if enough Americans respond to his appeal for a dues-paying membership in the America First party, Smith's personal money-making racket, and thus proceeds to persuade Congress to save the country.

Unless they do this, we will have 20,000,000 unemployed within a year. Next, an era of wild inflation. And finally the smash-up of democracy by a "Red revolution."

It's all very simple, to listen to Gerald L. K. who thrives on publicity and probably will be delighted to read this about him. Now you know and I know that Gerald does not believe personally in the above economic objectives. He does believe that there will be enough non-thinking saps in the 88 counties of Michigan who might be induced to subscribe to the greedy doctrine and to subscribe some of their money into Smith's trust.

Contrasted to this sort of economic nonsense is some broad-and-butter plain talking and clear thinking of a Port Huron industrialist, F. L. Riggins, president of the Mueller Brass company, the town's leading source of employment and its biggest payroll.

In a full page message recently in the Port Huron Times Herald, Mr. Riggins presented the A-B-C's about the business and its recovery problems.

From a 1935 average of 1,261 workers, the Port Huron company increased its employment to a war-time figure of 3,781. Ninety per cent of 1,105 Mueller employees in the armed services have informed the boss they want their jobs back. Taking out probationers, minors, part time workers and those who have since quit, leaves a total of 4,269 employees who want to work for this company," says Riggins. "Has Mueller Brass company a problem to face now? Can it do a peacetime business equal to the inflated war-time business which was four times as great as ever before? Can it furnish employment for the vastly increased payroll list, including returned veterans?"

"Again it is undisputed that nobody knows. Every department of management, however, is now devoting its best efforts to that end."

"How can post-war contracts be obtained? We are optimistic in the belief that if common sense and good judgment are exercised by all parties involved, we can get our share and more of business."

Promise Delivery of Thousands of Tires

Thousands of them, are shown moving out of the huge plants of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, to civilian users everywhere. The reconversion from military to civilian tire production was almost immediate, and first line fires will flow, in ever-increasing quantities, to the civilian market.

achieved, says the versatile Smith, if enough Americans respond to his appeal for a dues-paying membership in the America First party, Smith's personal money-making racket, and thus proceeds to persuade Congress to save the country.

shavement by aggressors, government over all production for war needs. Payrolls are financed largely by adding to the national indebtedness — borrowing from the future.

Second, real prosperity is brought about only by a natural increase of production due to greater industrial efficiency — machines and men. This prosperity is measured, not in terms of money, but in an abundance of goods with which to gratify wants of the people.

Third, consuming power ultimately comes from production. In the long run, increased production means increased consumption.

The military war is over. If we are to attain prosperity without bankrupting ourselves by disastrous indebtedness and costly inflation, we must return to the fundamental A-B-C's of economics.

The Gerald L. K. Smith route is one of sheer nonsense — the road to ruin.

The F. L. Riggins route is one of plain, old-fashioned common sense — the road to prosperity through a cooperative partnership of management and worker whereby differences are settled by collective bargaining and impartial arbitration.

To which voice would you be willing to listen and to follow?

At this period of our journey down the path from war to peace, we come to the end of a false prosperity that was made possible not by consumer purchases but by adding 270 BILLIONS to our indebtedness — by borrowing from ourselves.

Surely now, if ever, is the time when we should think before we act.

HOW TO SECURE WELL-FITTED SHOES

- 1—Measure both feet. The left foot is generally larger than the right.
- 2—Measure feet when standing as well as sitting.
- 3—Make sure that the ball of the foot fits into the widest part of the sole of the shoe.
- 4—See that at least one-half inch of space is between the end of the foot and the end of the shoe.
- 5—Observe the fit of the heel. See that it fits snugly and does not slip up and down.
- 6—Remember that the shoe that is correctly fitted is comfortable and needs very little "breaking in."

Neither should there be strikes over grievances. Riggins maintains, as the company has been willing and offers to submit to fair and impartial arbitration any ending disputes over disciplinary action.

Can any fair minded person say that this is not a proper way to settle such matters, rather than by engaging in an economic war, which like all wars, results in a loss to both parties?

That the present post-war period is one of widespread confusion is evident to any observer.

Some of the self-evident truths surely must include the following:

First, war is an economic paradox in that it creates false and artificial prosperity instead of true and natural prosperity. To safeguard the people from en-

"We get our hot water ON TAP"

"For years we have been accustomed to the convenience of electricity in our home. Our all-electric kitchen has given me many extra hours of enjoyment with Bobby, and time for just plain relaxation too. Now we have an automatic electric water heater, and do we enjoy it! Gone forever are the slow ways of the past, heating water for dishes, baths and washes. Today with our water heater John has plenty of hot water on tap for his morning shave and shower. I have plenty of hot water at all times for the household chores, and young Bobby doesn't raise half the fuss about his bath now. Yes, our life is more complete and more enjoyable now that we get our hot water on tap."

Water heaters are not generally available for sale now. A few are being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get one at the earliest possible time.

A home wherein the owner has ample opportunity to enjoy the many facilities for relaxation and comfort that he has had built in, is the all-electric home. The time-, health- and labor-saving advantages of electricity say, "Turn on the electric life."

WILL YOU HELP?

We're talking about your rural telephone service.

More rural telephones are served by Michigan Bell today than ever before. But during the war, shortages prevented the addition of enough telephone lines. So, generally, more people are sharing each rural line.

Now that the war is over, we intend to remedy this situation as rapidly as conditions will permit. Meanwhile, you and everyone else will get better rural telephone service if you will do these three things:

- 1 Please keep all calls short.
- 2 Please do not listen in or interrupt when the line is in use.
- 3 Please be sure to hang up your receiver carefully. One receiver off the hook can tie up a whole line.

PREVENT ACCIDENTS WITH CORN PICKERS

Would you trade a few seconds for an arm? If not, spend a few moments taking time to be safe while operating the corn picker this fall, advises Lawrence C. Meyer, safety supervisor of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College.

He cautions that those machines have collected a toll of thousands of hands and arms in past years; and will do so again this season if farmers become careless.

Every operator should remember to keep his hands and fingers clear of the rotating rolls, gears and chains. Never attempt to oil or make adjustments with the machine in motion. Loose or worn sleeves and gloves can quickly become caught. Attempting to unclog running husker rolls with a corn-stalk or stick is an invitation for disaster.

Always promptly replace the guard over the power take-off shaft after oiling or adjusting. When the end of the row is reached, it's a good precaution to disengage the power and avoid sharp turns.

It's far better to throw the machine out of gear than live with one arm.

NEW OAT VARIETIES OUT IN TWO YEARS

Michigan farmers can look forward to better luck with their oat crops a few years hence.

Two new oat varieties that are expected to overcome to considerable extent several of the past difficulties are being tested and are undergoing seed increases through the guidance of Michigan State College crops specialists.

Still without names, the varieties are known as 03 and 09.
Dr. E. Z. Down, plant breeder in the crops department, who is overseeing trials, believes the 09 variety holds greater promise for widespread planting in Michigan. The 03, with stiffer straw and lighter test, will see limited use.

Two principal difficulties have plagued oat growing in Michigan—periodic invasions of smut and rust, and lodging. The new varieties are bred for disease resistance and ability to stand up.

As compared with Huron, one of the best varieties now grown, 09 seems to have approximately equal yielding qualities and nearly the same test weight. At one time 32-33 pounds was considered good test weight, but with the development of Huron this increased to 44 pounds or better a bushel. Many drawbacks with Huron has been its rank growth, which causes lodging.

Both the 03 and 09 have improved standing qualities plus greater resistance to stem and crown rust.
Dr. Down stresses, however, that seed of either of the new varieties will be available to farmers for nearly two years.

You seem to be a terrible clerk. Don't you believe in anything?

"Yes, there's one thing that I believe in. That's my wife's ability to smelt my breath four blocks away when I've had a drink."

"It is as true today as it ever was," he said. "The hard that makes the eagle rules the world."
"When well," his wife called from the next room. "Come in and rule the world for a while I'd tried."

"Before we were married you said you'd go through fire and water for me?"
"All right. Show me a combination of the two and I will."

SOLDIERS

then I and the crew were sent to Pittsburgh to pick up our L. S. 723. We went down the river to New Orleans; then we went back to Panama Canal, and out to the Pacific. We went to Pearl Harbor to Aniwetok to Uletha. Then we took part in the invasion of Okinawa. We have been on shuttle runs from the Philippines to Okinawa. Then to my surprise one night the war was over, and now we are taking part in the occupation of Japan.

I think that is quite a lot of experience in three years. Well I can be thankful that God was with me and saw me through some pretty tough times.

Well here is looking forward to seeing you this Christmas and to thank God to be able to return home in good health and thank him to be able to work as a free man once more. Well I must close for now. Yours as ever, till I return.

Walter Leo Krutman GM 2/c.

Just a few lines to let you know I am feeling fine and hope this letter finds you the same. Well as you can see I am now in Okinawa and we are going to land up again and head for China this time. We just returned from Korea. That is a nice large piece of land and has a lot of hills on it. As for when I am getting out, well it will be by the first of the year I think, February or March. The sooner the better as I am hoping to go to work for Alex Lyke in the plumbing business. I have been doing that for three years in the Navy and my experience will help me out alot. I am sure. The ship is going to be decommissioned soon. This place or I should say Okinawa is sure a large island. It is tore up pretty bad but it won't take too long to build it up. We are operating with the 7th Fleet. There are alot of officers and enlisted men getting off by the point system. My brother is over here and I sure would like to see him. Well this is about all the news I have for now so I hope you are all in the best of health, at home and in the service. Yours truly,

Lawrence J. Bogart - "Bogart"

Marion O. Lackey WT 2/c and his wife are visiting his sisters, Mr. R. E. Ward, Mrs. J. W. Chandler and his brother, James H. Lackey of near North. He served overseas for 14 months and was in the invasion of Southern France. After his 30 day leave he reports to Norfolk, Va. for reassignment.

Dorsey E. Ward S 1/c is now stationed at a Naval Air Base near Clinton, Okla. for further training.

Naval Training Center, Sampson N. Y. Bluejacket Harry German S 2/c Center street, Northville has completed his recruit training at this naval training center on the shores of Seneca Lake and has been granted leave. Upon his return to Sampson, he will be eligible for further assignment which may qualify him for a petty officer rating.

New Era in Food Foreseen by A&P on 86th Birthday

The nation's food distribution industry is challenged as never before by new opportunities to improve its service to the American family, according to an official of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company in an announcement of the chain's observance this week of its eighty-sixth birthday.

J. A. O'Donnell, vice-president of the company's operations in this area, declared that "developments in the field of science and research, coupled with the industry's wartime experiences during the last four years, point to changes which undoubtedly will improve the quality and increase the variety, palatability and healthfulness of the American diet."

In a statement marking observance of the anniversary by stores of this area, O'Donnell continued:

"The institution founded by George Huntington Hartford with the opening of the first red-fronted A&P store in 1859 pioneered modern methods of mass distribution. These methods, developed through the years, revolutionized the food distribution industry through reducing drastically the costs of distribution and passing the savings on to the consumer."

"Public acceptance of this policy enabled the company to grow, and this growth enlarged its opportunities for service. In a practical continuation of this policy, the company, during this period of change, is doubly alert to every development which will increase the quality of foodstuffs or reduce the cost and waste of their distribution."

In scanning areas of possible change, O'Donnell said significant developments may be expected in practically every field of the industry's operation—in processing, refrigeration, packaging, transportation and in methods of handling and display.

FOG MACHINE DOES FAST SPRAYING JOB IN MSC EXPERIMENTS

Expense and time required to apply sprays to orchard and horticultural field crops may soon be reduced.

This is indicated by recent trials at Michigan State College using an artificial fog dispensing machine that saw service on the Rhine river in Germany to cover troop movements during the Allied crossing.

The machine was brought to the college under the sponsorship of the horticultural department in cooperation with the Todd Shipbuilding Corporation of New York City. It was tested at the college with various types of sprays in orchards, on pastures, wastelands, golf courses, and on field crops and in barns. It was then moved into the Grand Rapids and Shelby fruit areas for additional field trials.

The results, in the opinion of Dr. H. B. Luker, department head, were very satisfactory. But, he explains that the experiments were only preliminary and more exhaustive trials and further development are necessary before recommendations can be made.

Specialists who viewed the tests agreed that the fog machine offers real promise in several respects. It provides rapid coverage, low cost of application, low cost of equipment, and high maneuverability.

The small, light-weight equipment, not much larger than a household washing machine, can be carried in a pick-up truck. Under normal conditions it will throw a dense cloud of finely atomized spray over a large area as it is moved rapidly through the field or orchard. It will cover in less than one hour the orchard acreage ordinarily sprayed by a 25-gallon-a-minute outfit in one day.

After an absence of over 30 years the opussum appeared again in Michigan in 1927 and has been increasing steadily in the southern part of the state.

Potato Storage

After the potato harvesting season—and all through it—that matter—potato growers are faced with the problem of storage. H. C. Moore, specialist in farm crops at Michigan State College, give five pointers to potato growers concerning storage. In storing potatoes for later marketing, first, for your own use, store only those that are relatively dry and free from dirt. Put late blighted or field frosted stocks in temporary pits or storage, use them as soon as possible. Needless to say the pit for the late blighted or field frosted potatoes should be well separated from the storage space for sound potatoes. During the first few weeks of storage—before cold weather sets in in earnest—keep the doors and windows of the storage cellar open. Later, during the winter close doors and windows and keep the storage temperature at forty degrees F. Potatoes like blackouts—so keep your storage cellar dark.

Potato Harvesting

H. C. Moore, specialist in farm crops at Michigan State College, offers the following suggestions to potato growers now that the harvesting season has begun. You'll note that the success of your harvest is going to depend a lot on carefully instructed workers. First—do your digging early to avoid field-frosted potatoes. Unfortunately, some potatoes were hit a couple of weeks ago by an unseasonal frost, which couldn't be avoided, but now frosts can be expected and the potato grower should plan accordingly. On the other hand, if your field is blighted—delay digging until the vines are dead. When instructing your workers remember that you can reduce mechanical injury by careful digging. They should use care in picking to avoid bruising. To dry and toughen the potato skins, let the potatoes lie on the ground an hour or so before picking them up.

Dwarf Apple Trees

C. E. Russell, specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College, has found an increasing interest among home owners in dwarf apple trees. They don't produce much fruit, but the dwarf trees come into bearing early and make excellent ornamental trees.

Many of the better known varieties of apples in Michigan are especially satisfactory as dwarf trees. Delicious for instance—it is one of the best. The blossom, the leaf and the wood of the tree are all well colored and hang in the tree so that its pleasing to the eye. A few other good dwarf varieties are Cortland, Duchess and Jonathan.

The most general drawback to dwarf apple trees is the extra care they involve. But a thing of beauty is worth some extra care. They'll require more attention and a lot of watching. The dwarf trees are usually planted early in the spring, but on the home lot a fall planting is possible—if you're willing to give the trees extra care. The trees should be planted on the home lot where there is little danger of being trampled by peopled and animals. They can be transplanted as soon as frost has taken the leaves off.

For the trees to go through the winter months successfully, the soil should be in a moist condition. If your soil is dry, this will mean watering it. For added protection, put a five to six inch mulch of straw—or a similar mulch, around the base of the tree. Extend the mulch a couple of feet from the trunk. Your tree would probably respond favorably to moderate fertilization. The suggested method is to apply a commercial fertilizer on the soil after the tree is well established—not at planting time.

Tying the tree loosely to a stake should give the tree enough support to prevent breakage from winds.
