By Miss L. A. Ault

Clyde Buckingham spent Saturday in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Middlewood spent Saturday evening with friends in Detroit.

Mrs. Jacob Sheets, of Roanoke, Ind., is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Homer Coolman and Mrs. Russell Ault, for a few weeks.

George Berger, Mayfield Ave., has been on the sick list. Miss Leona Roemer, Farmington Road, is reported ill with chicken-pox. Arthur Mair and Mrs. Herman Schult have been ill with flu. Nancy Varhol was on the sick list during the week. Her brother, Richard, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

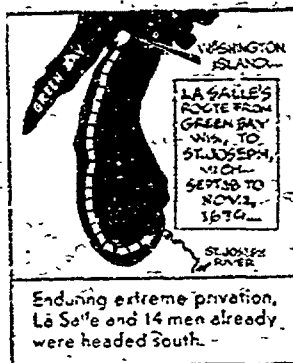

Forest Ault whose education was interrupted when he enlisted in the Air Force some weeks before Pearl Harbor, is entering Wayne University this week.

In a scuffle with a schoolmate Donald Bohlinger broke one or two bones in his right hand last Tuesday. For the present his class-met practice for the Farmington High Band is suffering greatly.

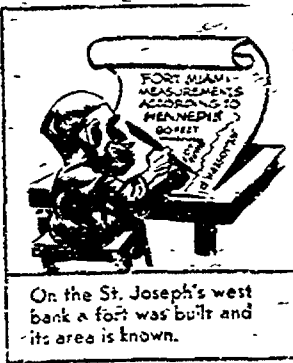

Memorial services for Don and Dean Coolman who lost their lives in the European war theater a little more than a year ago, are to be held in the First Methodist Church, Farmington, at 2:30 p.m., next Sunday, Feb. 10th.

Harvey Russett, who served with our armed forces in the Pacific area, reached home last week. His brother, Ernest, from the European war theater, preceded him home by only one day.

A tractor maintenance project was established at Romulus, Jan. 28th through the sponsorship of the Extension Service and the cooperation of the Standard Oil Company. There were 18 members enrolled from among the 4-H Club boys and older rural youth. They will meet for a series of 9 meetings to study the maintenance and adjustment of such parts as the engine, the air cleaner, the oil filter and ignition system. The meetings will be called at Belleville High School, February 6 and the Romulus High School on February 11 to establish similar projects. Boys and young men who are interested in becoming members of this project are invited to attend the first meeting of the group. Local Standard Oil representatives and local implement dealers will assist with various phases of the project.

Keep Orchard Clean to Reduce Disease

Sanitation in the orchard is not a substitute for spraying, says Donald Cation, associate professor of botany at Michigan State college. But he stresses that sanitation will greatly increase the efficiency of sprays. Data from tests at the college show that disease can be controlled more readily with fewer and weaker sprays when the spore population is kept at a minimum by orchard sanitation practices.

Mr. Cation observes that many growers question the results of sanitation in their own orchards because the neighbors do not follow similar practices. The botanist's advice is not to worry too much about the neighbors because the spores dilute quite rapidly if they travel any distance. It's the spore load in the immediate area of a tree that offers the most danger.

"No country in the history of the world has ever destroyed its real wealth as rapidly as the United States."

A tall, gaunt man stood before the audience of 400 Michigan newspaper people and their guests at Lansing. He was passionately sincere about the urgency of preserving and restoring the land as the only sound economy for American prosperity. The newspaper editors listened with unusual attentiveness. Louis Bromfield, the speaker, was telling the simple story of the land. As author of "Pleasant Valley," he had related the comeback of worn-out agricultural land in Mansfield county, Ohio, where he had been born.

"Real wealth rather than money is the basis of our American economy," he said. "The real wealth of a nation is its forests, its agricultural land, its rivers, its lakes, its health and intelligence and capacity for work of its people."

"When these are gone or even largely exhausted, we shall cease to be a nation of any wealth, importance or power. If we shall be forced into the precarious banking-proceeding economy of a nation like Great Britain which buys its raw materials and finds its markets outside the nation."

"Britain turned to state socialism because it had bankrupted itself of its real wealth. When our real wealth is gone—these natural resources which we have expended so recklessly—we shall become a third or fourth rate nation. It will not matter how much gold we have buried at Fort Knox or how many bales of currency are turned out by the government printing presses. We shall be through and the mass of our people will be living at the level of the Chinese."

That is why the statement of Bernard Baruch made recently when he said we had best make an inventory of what real wealth remained before we continued distributing it wholesale around the world becomes the most important statement made by an American in our time. "We have been destroying our real wealth as rapidly as possible—processing and shipping out of the country our reserves of oil, of timber, of minerals until many of these are exhausted or on the rapid way to exhaustion."

"We have destroyed most rapidly of all our two most important sources of our real wealth. These are our forests and our agricultural land. They are the most important because they are renewable or eternally renewable. When the others are gone they are gone."

"We have already utterly destroyed beyond reclamation, save by possible reforestation, one fourth of our agricultural land, and most of the rest is on the way out through erosion or the soil depletion which accompanies a poor agriculture."

"We have less than a sixth of our forests left and much of this is in government oaks and reserves. During the war, we cut down our forests five times as rapidly as we are replacing them. As our minerals, oils and other natural resources become exhausted we are forced to turn more and more to agricultural land and forests for the substitutes to replace them."

"The claim by the British who came here to negotiate a loan that England deserved help because the cost of the war per capita was greater in that country than in the United States is simply not true. The British paid only in money which, in one way or another is renewable, under a banking-processing economy.

"We paid for the war in the very life blood of our economy, in oil, in minerals, and other metals, in forests and worn-out agricultural land, in the real wealth which is the foundation of our economy and our past and future economy."

"In the sense of the drain upon the real wealth of the nation—Lend-Lease was the biggest, most generous and, disastrous contribution ever made by any nation to war in the history of the world. We shall be paying for it generations hence. Dents of money can be paid off, easily enough under inflation, but nothing can restore to this nation the real wealth which gives value to that money—the ore dug out of our mines, the oil from our diminishing reserves, the forests, the labor of the men who processed it all. All of this was distributed lavishly over the world."

"American agriculture is sick and the sickness prevades the whole of our economy. Its condition is growing worse, not better. It is an agriculture of declining production per acre and increasing production costs per acre. Our record production during the war years was the most expensive production of food and farm commodities in the history of the world, because most of it was produced from already worn-out or non-agricultural land at low production per acre. Even at high prices the production of many farm products had to be subsidized by taxpayer's money—a form of economic drain and redistribution. When the land of diminishing production per acre crosses that of increasing production costs, we shall have a 'kept' agricultural with subsidies plus high prices, plus shortages which in the end can only arrive at the living standard and diet of the Chinese."

Bromfield's solution is simple. Instead of subsidizing inefficient farming, he would increase production per acre by increasing what good agriculture it has and remains and by restoring the fertility to worn-out and second-rate agricultural land.

"A man who raises 100 bushels of corn on one acre is five times as well off as the man who raises 100 bushels of corn on five acres," he said. "This is true especially in terms of labor, seed, fertilizer, taxes and interest."

That is the problem of agriculture become the problem of all American economy. By renewing wealth of our forests and our land, we can maintain a sound basis for industrial prosperity. Otherwise, we face inevitably a day of reckoning just as that in Britain, when a nation bankrupt of natural resources must turn to state socialism and other isms as a palliative for its ills.

Orchard Pruning May Be Started

Orchardists with time to spare may wish to start pruning now, says T. A. Merrill, Mich. State college extension horticultural specialist. He suggests that apples, plums, peaches and cherries may be pruned now, but advises delaying the pruning of peaches and cherries until after March 1.

All cuts should be made close to the main stem so that the wounds will heal more rapidly. Use a regular horticultural dressing material if a wound exceeds 2 inches in diameter. Do not use house or barn paint as a substitute because the cambium layer will be injured by the oil and healing will be prevented.

Fruit growers with apple trees to prune are invited to request a copy of Circular Bulletin 179, "The Thin Wood Method of Pruning Bearing Apple Trees," from either their county extension office or the Department of Public Relations, Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Mr. Merrill suggests that orchard owners might profitably visit their poison bait stations to make certain that a supply of bait is available for mice and other rodents. The cut branches left from pruning operations help to reduce mouse injury to trees.

LINCOLN'S LIFE WAS A LIFE OF SERVICE

Lincoln spent his life in the service of the people of this country. His philosophy was as simple and direct as the unforgettable Gettysburg address. His thinking was deep and straight. His faith was great.

He believed in a people's government, and he devoted his life to furthering its cause. No man had a harder struggle.

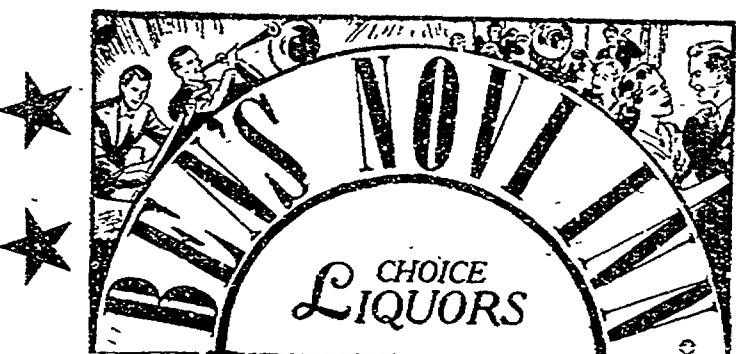

Those words of the Gettysburg Address, spoken over eighty years ago, still hold today. The world is increasingly aware of the power of a people's government. It has emphatically not perished from the earth but has grown and prospered; lived to fight again and again.

And we shall live to see it win again.

Prevent Sediment by Use of Pectin

The Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State college has found that the addition of 15 ounces of 50-50 liquid pectin to 100 gallons of filtered apple juice will prevent the possible formation of sediment in the juice held in bottles.

Also, experiments have developed a method to prevent darkening of apple products that are to be frozen. The process involves the addition of 150 milligrams of ascorbic acid to each 4 ounces of the product being stored.

Here Is the 1946 Fertilizer Outlook

The 1946 fertilizer outlook for Michigan farmers is presented by Dr. C. E. Millar, head of the Michigan State college soil science department. This report is the result of a recent conference on the college campus of division managers and field representatives of companies selling fertilizer in Michigan.

1.—The same grades of fertilizer will be recommended and offered for sale this year as in 1945, with the exception that 0-6-12 is removed from the list.

2.—Supplies of superphosphate of regular grades will be somewhat greater than during the past year. Production of the triple superphosphate or 45 per cent superphosphate will still be below what is needed. This means that mixed fertilizer grades of higher plant food content cannot be increased to any extent.

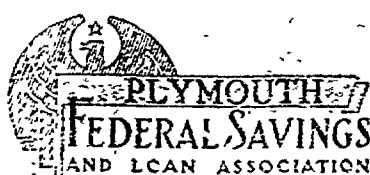

3.—Prospects indicate an adequate supply of ammonium nitrate for use on fruits and vegetables. Because of the decrease in steel manufacture, supplies of sulfate of ammonia will be short, and hence, the manufacture of grades containing a high percentage of nitrogen may be restricted.

4.—Although more potash will be mined this year than in 1945, limitations in transportation are preventing it from being moved rapidly to the factories.

Farmers intending to use fertilizer this year are urged by Dr. Millar to place their orders as soon as possible to assure themselves fertilizer when they must have it.

"Here," said the angry old financier as he rushed into the room where his beautiful daughter and the young man had been alone together for three hours, "I don't object to your coming to see Clara, and if you want her to be your wife I may give my consent; but I'm not going to permit you to organize yourself into a holding company."

C. is able to bring readers this weekly column on problems of the veteran and serviceman and his family. Speed of Discharge

Appropos of the confusion existing in the minds of both members of the armed services and civilians, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower testified before a joint meeting of the house and senate January 15 that all men in the army with two years' service would be on their way out by July 1, 1948. He further said that veterans and civilians who are now complaining have no reason to expect discharge for another three or four months under the original demobilization program set up by Gen. George C. Marshall as chief of staff.

Although further cut in number of points eligible for discharge may come within the next few weeks, as of January 15, discharge points necessary for the army remain at 50 for enlisted men and 75 for officers.

General MacArthur has announced that the point score for men under his command is 48 for enlisted men and 68 for officers. These figures apply to all who had earned that number of points as of September 2, 1945. It is pointed out at the war department that each theater commander has the authority to reduce the point score for discharge.

War department heads agree that discharge of veterans is proceeding at a rate that is too fast for the efficiency and safety of the army and replacements are not coming fast enough although training of replacements has been cut from 11 to 13 weeks.

Questions and Answers

Q I was discharged from the regular army in January, 1941, and now I would like to put in another hitch, but because of a paragraph in my discharge papers am unable to. It reads: "Is not recommended for re-enlistment, induction or re-induction Rec. 8. Alt 415-36." How can I have this fixed and rectified?
—Brader, Albertville, Ala.

A Section 2 of army regulations to which you refer means that you are unfit for military service and will not be accepted, according to the war department.

Q What does a man in the army get discharge points for? If married, but no children, is the wife considered a dependent? Are any discharge points allowed for her?
—Mrs. B. J. D., Mt. Sterling, Ohio.

A Discharge points in the army are allowed for service in the country and overseas, for minor children (not more than three) and for decorations or battle stars. A wife is considered a dependent in so far as family allowance is concerned, but not for discharge points.

Q I heard any one in service under 20 years of age can get a discharge to attend school even if he hasn't enough points. Is this true?
—Mrs. O. S., Lewistown, Ill.

A No discharge is granted to permit a man under age to attend school. He may go to school at the army institute in this country or to any one of the courses which have been instituted overseas.

Q We are the parents of two boys who served their country, one three years in the army, the other almost four years in the navy. The father is 55 and mother, 49. We do not own any property and live in one of the boy's home. The father worked at a saw mill and made 50 cents an hour. When the boys went into service, we thought if we could get by without starving we would not draw from the government on them. We had one single girl in school and one 12-year-old boy in school. We did get by and did not starve, but it took every cent to do so and keep the two in school. Would it have been dishonest to have drawn on one of the boys? If not, could we get it yet? They are both honorably discharged.—Mr. and Mrs. P. H., Valley Head, Ala.

A It certainly would not have been dishonest for you to take an allotment from one or both of your boys for the allotment would have been entirely voluntary on their part out of their pay and the amount they voluntarily set aside for you would have been matched by the government. You cannot get it now, since they are discharged.

Q My husband had war bond allotments taken from his pay which he received when he was discharged at Edinburg Gap, Pa. Would like to know where to write, since he has not received his bonds.
—Mrs. W. W. R., Millmont, Pa.

A Write to the war bond division, U. S. army, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis 20, Mo.

Q If a man has enough points for discharge is there any way a regular navy man can be released if he hasn't served his full six-year enlistment?—Wife, Union, Minn.

A The navy says, "No."

Girl: "Thanks for the good night hug!"

Soldier: "The pressure was all mine."

Christian Science Churches
"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday February 10.

The Golden Text (1 Corinthians 2:10) is: "The Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (1 John 4:12, 13): "No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit."

Founder's Week Observed Here by Chain Store

The originator of the modern chain store will be honored here next week February 10-16, by the A & P Food Stores.

Local observation of Founder's Week, announced by J. A. O'Donnell, vice-president in charge of the company's operations in this area, will pay tribute to George Huntington Hartford, who, in 1859, opened the first red-fronted store in what is now the world's most extensive system of food distribution.

"Mr. Hartford founded more than a grocery business," O'Donnell said. "He fathered a principle of mass distribution which in its 86 year history has not only helped establish a high standard of living for American wage-earners but has also provided industry as a whole with a blueprint for public service."

"All of the company's facilities are now being directed toward improving the quality and variety of foods. During the war, consumers were tolerant of substitutes for scarce items but, with the return of peace, they have become highly selective in their purchases, and their demands must be met."

O'Donnell said the company is supporting local observation of the week by making "a special effort to supply stores in this area with complete stocks of merchandise."

Paying special tribute to more than 26,000 employees of the company who served in the armed forces, O'Donnell said that the return of thousands of experienced food workers will help restore and expand shopping conveniences.

The new Hudsons are here!

Smarter, more luxurious than ever! See and drive one soon!

EVERYTHING we expected to have for you this year, and more, is here today in the 1946 Hudson—The Fine Car of Low Price. See it, and we believe you'll share our enthusiasm.

You'll want smart styling, and these Hudsons have it—new exterior design and unusual new interiors. You'll look for luxury, and you'll find it—in many important details that add to your driving comfort. Above all, you'll expect outstanding performance. It's here, under that beautiful hood—the power, endurance, ease of operation and all-around economy for which Hudson is famous.

You won't appreciate all that a Hudson has to offer until you've driven it many thousands of miles. But you'll know, as soon as you see it, that it's going to be one of the smartest cars on the road this year, and for many years to come. We invite you to look at it now, at the nearest Hudson showroom.

Traffic Deaths Hit New High

Automobile accidents this winter show a 14 per cent increase over last winter, and safety experts estimate that the total will go even higher in the months ahead. Last year's total was 24,300 killed and 850,000 injured. Mechanical defects in cars, tire and brake failures, make whipping in and out of traffic jams a dangerous and fatal pastime, particularly since most of the cars now in use are over eight years old — bad risks for sudden highway emergencies.

One sure way for drivers to get into serious difficulties this winter is to speed over snow-covered roads. Safety tests show that when a car travelling at high speed hits a slick icy spot on an otherwise ice-free traffic lane, the occupants have about 40 seconds before they spin into a skid and possible collision. It takes less than a minute for even the best driver to lose control of his car on an average winter road. The struggle for survival on the nation's traffic lanes continues to be a nip and tuck affair at an appalling cost in lives.

Accident records show that more people are killed during the winter than during the summer, and for that reason many street and highway commissioners are using rock salt to clear snow and ice from the pavement at the beginning of every storm. Commissioners report, too, that if snow has hardened or refrozen the rock salt crystals bore through to make a brine which freezes them from the pavement, permitting ice to re-form. It also eliminates the dangerous snow and ice spots usually left when old-fashioned snow removal methods are used.

SALEM SCHOOL NOTES

By Clair Brown

On January twenty-first there was a P.T.A. meeting at the school. Mr. Thayer showed some movies one about a lumber camp and the other was a Walt Disney cartoon on vaccination. Mary Lou Cook, Barbara Raymond, Ted Biers and Beth Biers played the guitar. Mr. Bradley sang, accompanied by Mrs. Gleason Tapp. Mrs. Ronald Lyke played for community singing.

There will be a card party Friday night sponsored by the P.T.A.

We are trying to decide whether to have a skating party or a sleigh ride.

Frank and Deloris Kidd have left our school as they are moving to Cherry Hill.

At our Victory Council meeting we had a program. Nancy Stoll and Rose Marie Dix sang. Barbara Raymond and Mary Lou Cook played the guitar. Leonard Brown recited a poem and Beverly Lyke played the piano. Jimmy Anderson played his trumpet.

The A spellers for the week are, as follows: Deloris Kidd, Clair Brown, Beverly Lyke, Mary Lou Cook, Robert Wilson, Lois Renner, Leon Holman, Benji Bryant, Rose Marie Dix, Nancy Stoll and Donald Nagel.

Do you realize, asked the wife of the absent-minded professor, "that you haven't kissed me for more than a week?"

Heaven? he replied. "I wonder who it is that I've been kissing."

Watch Fruit Trees for Rodent Damage

Michigan orchardists are cautioned by T. A. Merrill research associate in horticulture at Michigan State college, to be on the guard against tree damage by rabbits and mice.

Larger numbers of mice are on the loose this year, probably due to weather conditions ideal for their activity, and the peak of a four-year cycle that seems to exist in relation to their increase.

Fruit growers are advised to use poisoned oat bait to combat mice. The prepared bait can be purchased in 10 and 25-pound bags from the state distributors, the Grand Rapids Growers, Grand Rapids, Michigan. Place the bait in the runways or in protected shelters that will permit mouse entrance. Tin cans with the open end mashed in are ideal shelters to lure the rodents to their death.

To protect trees from rabbits, use alcohol vapor repellent. This can be made at home by dissolving 7 pounds of finely powdered rosin in 1 gallon of denatured ethyl alcohol. Do not apply seal, but dissolve for 24 hours using a tightly stoppered bottle that can be shaken frequently.

This material can be applied to the tree any time the bark is dry. On application it will repel rabbits during the season. It is not effective against mice.

Specialists See A Good Farming Year During 1946

Extension agricultural economists specialists at Michigan State college, in studying the farm outlook for 1946, conclude that another good farming year is in prospect, but they believe that the time has come to view the future with more caution.

Other predictions included in the specialists' outlook report include:

1—Farm earnings—at an all time high in 1945—are expected to be lower in 1946, but still well above pre-war. Rising operating costs and lower prices for a few products indicate lower earnings in 1946.

2—Further inflation is still a definite possibility, but best evidence indicates a moderate decline in prices of Michigan farm products during 1946. Price movements will be mixed, however—some up some down.

3—Domestic demand for food is expected to remain fairly high throughout the year. Decreases in incomes will be offset to some degree by lower taxes, less savings, and probably some spending of reserves.

Foreign demand for agricultural products will be reduced after the 1946 harvest. How much is sold before then will depend on how much buying power European nations can raise.

4—Prices of most farm commodities (cattle and hogs excepted) are to be supported at 90 per cent of parity at least until the end of 1946. Farm product prices now stand at 117 per cent of parity.

Therefore, a drop to the support price would mean a substantial reduction in net farm income.

5—Whether farm cost will hold steady or rise seems to hang more upon what happens to price controls than on other single factor. A removal of ceilings would certainly result in higher costs for such things as supplies and farm implements.

Cranberries
By W. J. Snyder.
Originally called cranberry, cranberries were first grown and sold in the north by the Pilgrims in 1620. Cranberries are important in many ways and are used in a food article.

During a late year they found their place in the food of the Pilgrims. Cranberries were used to make a drink called cranberry juice. Cranberries were also used to make a food called cranberry sauce.

Today cranberries are still used in many ways. They are used to make cranberry juice, cranberry sauce, and cranberry relish. They are also used to make cranberry jam and cranberry preserves.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry wine and cranberry vinegar. They are also used to make cranberry oil and cranberry soap.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry candy and cranberry ice cream. They are also used to make cranberry cake and cranberry pie.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry jam and cranberry preserves. They are also used to make cranberry jelly and cranberry marmalade.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry butter and cranberry margarine. They are also used to make cranberry shortening and cranberry lard.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry oil and cranberry soap. They are also used to make cranberry candle and cranberry tallow.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry wax and cranberry resin. They are also used to make cranberry glue and cranberry cement.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry paint and cranberry varnish. They are also used to make cranberry ink and cranberry dye.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry paper and cranberry cloth. They are also used to make cranberry leather and cranberry rubber.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry glass and cranberry stone. They are also used to make cranberry metal and cranberry wood.

Cranberries are also used to make cranberry food and cranberry drink. They are also used to make cranberry medicine and cranberry cure.

Fast Feathering Is Desirable in Poultry

Superior Broilers Are Rapid Developers

Early development of feathers by a chicken is a good indication that it will make a well-feathered and otherwise desirable broiler or fryer. This is the conclusion reached by research workers of the U. S. Department of agriculture, after three years of scientific studies.

Prospects for superior market quality are still better if the chicken gains weight rapidly between the ages of 3 and 6 weeks and has a fairly broad breast at the end of that period.

These characteristics are found to be inherited. A poultryman, therefore, can improve his breeding stock, for the production of broilers and fryers, by selecting those chickens that feather and develop rapidly during the first few weeks.

FAST FEATHERING

of life. Differences among birds are not so readily apparent at a later date.

Selection for fast feathering can readily be made when the chicks are about a day old by noting those that have the fastest feather growth or partially developed quills.

Improved Machinery New Plow

New type plow adjustable for deep plowing with many uses.

A new plow designed by Oliver corporation, Chicago, has additional bases set a few inches below and behind, as well as to one side of the upper bases. The latter are adjusted to normal depth for conventional plowing, while the lower bases, by widening and deepening the cut, crumble the plowman, or hard, unbroken tuff to left untouched, making it slightly with the lower portion of the top soil.

New Poultry Disease

A new disease, known as "Newcastle disease," is said to be prevalent in many parts of the world, causing severe losses in poultry. It has made its appearance in the United States. Veterinary association authorities say that the symptoms include sudden deaths, drooping appearance, ruffled feathers, coughing and sneezing, and sometimes nervous disorders such as curled toes or wing paralysis. So far death loss in the U. S. has been low.

More persons between 15 and 45 die of tuberculosis than from any other disease.

"You've got nerve to ask me to let you marry my daughter Flossy? Why, you couldn't even keep her in underwear!"

"Well, Mr. Rich, I haven't seen anything that indicates that you have been doing so well yourself."

DREAMS

The Bible says: (Ezekiel 33:8) "When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die: if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand."

So, if my dreams are of God, I must warn the people—or else. Saturday morning, November 17, 1945 I had a dream in which I was given the following words: "In less than five years war will break out in the United States of America. The North American Continent will be a battle-field from the Atlantic to the Pacific; in Canada, in Mexico, and on into South America."

December 15, 1945, in a dream, I saw the shape of a stocking torn in the sky and then disappear. This manifestation was repeated in exactly the same manner. Next I saw a ball, or globe, shape itself into the likeness of the earth, with outlines similar to the earth's surface. After completing its formation it began to fall. As it fell it rolled over and over, shaking as with convulsions. It reminded me of Isaiah 24:20 "The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard." Then I dreamed I was making ready to go forth and tell the people what I had seen; and to warn them that the end was near for all wickedness; if any wanted to escape the destruction that was coming to the earth they must repent at once and obey the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Personally, I believe these dreams will be fulfilled; and for this belief I have two very good reasons: one is the promises are promised in the Bible (to those who obey the teachings and precepts—by putting them into practice) the other is the fulfillment of previous dreams and visions.

The promises: John 16:13 "When he, the Spirit of truth, is come he will guide you into all truth: and he will show you things to come."

The fulfillment: Before World War II broke out I had a dream and saw a vision: I saw, from the United States, war material and multitudes of able-bodied men being shipped to foreign lands to aid and strengthen the armies of Great Britain who was plunged into a bloody war. Later, in another vision, I saw the form of a Japanese soldier rise stealthily from obscurity and through his beady eyes roveously survey the length and breadth of these United States (March 28, 1939 I sent this information to the commander-in-chief of the United States Army and Navy, and to the Church of Jesus Christ (Mormon) Salt Lake City, Utah. Both of which acknowledged the receipt of same).

A few months after making known the above visions I had other dreams: I saw a devastating war raging in the United States; great fear came upon the inhabitants; no life was safe; cities were falling; destruction was everywhere. Then I saw a violent commotion, with increasing intensity manifest itself: the North American Continent was undergoing an upheaval and eruption of volcanic proportions. The things I saw brought to mind Revelation 16:19-20 "And the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found."

These dreams and visions, together with other information, was published in February, 1944, and sent to the War Department; to Senators, Representatives, Churches, Newspapers, Radio Stations, Men of renown, and to every Governor in the Union. Some said I was crazy; some said it was of the devil, and some said it was just a dream. But no matter what people said, or say, or what the dreams came from, two of them came to pass exactly as I saw them—and the others are fast making for their fulfillment.

Since the beginning of the world, evil has been a constant factor in the life of man. The Lord has sent prophets to warn them. And when a prophet of God has appeared upon the earth there have been controversies and opposition. But the Lord has made plain his will and intentions, where the true prophet may be known from the false prophet.

"When the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the Lord hath truly sent him." Jer. 23:18

Here now my words: If there is a prophet among you, I the Lord will make myself known unto him in a vision and will speak unto him in a dream." Numbers 12:6

This saith the Lord God, Who saith, the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit and have seen nothing." Ezekiel 13:3

HAS ANYONE SEEN JESUS? According to the Bible, which over half a billion people believe (or at least profess to believe) Jesus himself said: (John 14:15, 21) "If ye love me, keep my commandments. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him."

Today there are hundreds of beliefs; scores of sects and religious organizations, each one claiming to be right; picking out certain passages of the Bible to prove their belief and doctrines are right. They testify to this and that saying: I know this is true; I know I am right; but at the same time they differ so in their interpretations and organizations.

To be consistent, those who say they believe the Bible, should obey its teachings and put into practice its precepts—that is the only way I can know the truthfulness of its sayings. If I receive its promises I know its true. If not, either its false or also I do not obey. Without its promises I would be a false prophet, to use it as a mere ticket, for Jeremiah 23:30-31 says: "Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the Lord, that say, 'I will build a temple, and I will dwell therein,' saith the Lord, that use their tongues, and say, 'He saith.'"

And John 3:11 says: "We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen." I could not say I know the Bible is true if I did not receive the promises as promised. Neither could I testify to the existence of something which I had not seen. I might believe, but James 2:19 says: "The devils also believe, and tremble." While John 14:12 says: "For that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he also do."

How is the world (strangers to the Bible's message) to know, or believe, the Christians' doctrines and interpretations when they too profess to be followers of its teachings, are so void of exemplary fruitfulness?

First John 2:3-4 says: "Hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him."

The Lord said to me in a dream, "The prophets prophesy in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart."

And to those who curse and swear, the Lord gave to me, in a dream, these words: "If you do not stop your cursing and swearing, the Lord will stop your tongues." And to those who use tobacco, the Lord said to me, in a dream "Can you smoke and smoke and chew tobacco?" If you want to go to heaven, stop all they must stop using tobacco.

The Bible, and other scriptures, will never write the intentions that they should have a moral ticket. But the rather, obeying the precepts and commandments contained therein, one might learn how to obtain a moral ticket.

The prophets of God say, (in the Bible) Isaiah 55:1-2 "Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy, and eat: yea, buy wine and milk without money and without price. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? Revelation 22:17 says: "And the spirit and the bride say, come. And let him that heareth say, come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely."

While the false prophets say: "Come unto me, and for your money you shall be forgiven of your sins." For Micah 3:10-11 says: "They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the Lord, and say, do not the Lord among us? no evil can come upon us."

The whole (of Revelation, chapter 17) that sitteth upon many waters, on whose forehead is written: "MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH." Together with the seven-headed beast that carrieth her.

They days are numbered: for the voice of the seventh angel (of Revelation, chapter 10) is beginning to be fulfilled: "In the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets." The seven heads, also saith the Bible) on which the woman sitteth, are seven mountains, and the waters, on which the whore sitteth, (with her harlots and abominations) are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

There is only one way to prove who the true prophets are, and that is the power by which Moses and Elijah proved their prophetic calling.

The Lord said to me, in a dream, Ask the professors of religion to show you a miracle. No peace conference, of nations or groups of men will ever bring peace to the world until they first make peace with Jesus Christ. He is the answer to all our problems. He controls the elements and rules in the heavens above, and among the armies of the earth.

Isaiah 45:7 says: "I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things." Amos 3:6-7 "Shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it? Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets."

There are many potentialities standing at the heads of various organizations, as their converts say: "Ready to send them"—but standing in some principality or appointed position, waiting to receive revelations and instructions from God and actually receiving them is two different potentials: the one receives, while the other waits to receive.

Pharaoh had a dream—and Joseph interpreted it. Belshazzar saw the hand writing on the wall—and Daniel interpreted it. Today the hand writing is on the wall of the "Signs of the Times" and Kings and Presidents are asking for the interpretation—but where among the potentialities, is the Joseph, or Daniel to interpret it?

Where is the discreet and wise man, in whom the spirit of God is, to lead the world out of its present crisis which threatens to plunge the whole fabric of this present creation into the very depths of chaotic disorder, misery, pains, dissolution, and death? George Elery. 35 adv.

The fourth resolution commended the Mayor and the Board of Commissioners of Northville "for their action in providing a sight for an auditorium and gymnasium for the use of the school and the community and pledged the support of the club."

The final resolution asked the civic improvement committee to "continue investigations by conversation with Dr. David Littlejohn and staff of the Wayne County Health Center and to report to the club as to how best to show neighborly interest in the newcomers in outlying districts of Northville."

The adoption of these resolutions was the result of a round table discussion held at a previous meeting of the club, in which members talked over current civic problems. Much interest was made manifest in these matters and the club action of last Friday was a sequel to the earlier program.

State's Youths Offered Awards

Michigan town and country boys and girls are entering competition for college scholarships in a nationwide contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association, M. H. Avery, Ingham County agricultural agent and adult representative of the Junior growers in the state, announces.

Outlining the sixth annual vegetable production and marketing project in which awards of $8,000 have been made available by A & P Food Stores, Avery said:

"Working with the soil is an education in itself, and the contest is designed to give awards as an incentive to efficient gardening and marketing. Size of project is not a factor, since contestants are scored on efficiency, improvements in methods, leadership in community and school activities, and scores attained in a study course."

Scholarships to be awarded in 1946 include $500 to the national champion, a $200 scholarship for each of the four regional winners, $100 checks to 33 sectional winners and the remainder of the award money in lesser awards within each state. The contest is open to all boys and girls between 12 and 21 years of age.

Complete details and entry blanks can be obtained from county agricultural agents, F.F.A. leaders, 4-H Club agents, vocational agriculture instructors, or by writing to M. H. Avery, Court House, Mason, Mich.

Watch This Space for WEEKLY REMINDERS

Knowledge is an accumulation of facts and precepts. Intelligence is the ability to assemble facts and precepts and then apply them so they will produce a maximum of dividends.

The Bible says: (John 8:32) "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

A prophet of God said: "Truth is knowledge of things as they are, and as they were and as they are to come."

"The glory of God is intelligence, or in other words, light and truth."

"If a person gains more knowledge and intelligence in this life through his diligence and obedience than another, he will have so much the advantage in the world to come."

The Spirit of truth is of God. And no man receiveth a fulness unless he keepeth his commandments. He that keepeth his commandments receiveth truth and light, until he is glorified in truth and knoweth all things."

This space will be devoted to truth, knowledge, intelligence, and freedom.

There is only one way to prove who the true prophets are, and that is the power by which Moses and Elijah proved their prophetic calling. The Lord said to me, in a dream, Ask the professors of religion to show you a miracle. No peace conference, of nations or groups of men will ever bring peace to the world until they first make peace with Jesus Christ. He is the answer to all our problems. He controls the elements and rules in the heavens above, and among the armies of the earth. Isaiah 45:7 says: "I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the Lord do all these things." Amos 3:6-7 "Shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it? Surely the Lord God will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets."
