Northville welcomed its first French war bride last week when Mrs. Earl Burchfield and her eight months old daughter, Eileen, arrived from Nice, France. S. Sgt. Burchfield of Northville-Plymouth Road is the lucky husband and father.

The mother and daughter left their home in Nice on March 18, sailed on the S. S. Brazil and reached Northville April 4, having made the last lap of the trip by train. Mrs. Burchfield reports a good crossing and says she was given plenty of assistance in the care of the baby, during the whole trip. When asked how she liked Northville, she replied "Wonderful."

The former Mademoiselle Lise, Dugard, and the American sergeant first met at the American Red Cross club in Nice, where the French girl was assisting in September of 1944. Their marriage followed.

Sgt. Burchfield has been in service for three and a half years, three of which were spent overseas, where he was attached to the 62nd Military Police Battalion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burchfield, Sr., who moved some time ago from Dearborn to a location on the Northville-Plymouth Road.

The Record carried a story some time ago concerning a letter written by Mrs. Burchfield to her husband, which was made an honorary citizen of Nice. Since returning to the States, he has re-enlisted in the Army. At the end of a sixty day furlough he will report at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. to receive his assignment. His wife and daughter will live on the new Post with him. For the present they are visiting their parents here and other relatives at Dearborn.

How're you going to keep 'em down on the farm when they have seen Parer?

This question, theme of a humorous ditty in World War I, is just as true today, according to Charles Figy, director of the state department of agriculture. But as a substitute for "Parer," which wasn't as gay as many G.I.'s had anticipated, Figy would nominate today's boom-time wages in Michigan cities.

"Not as many Michigan veterans are returning to farms as we had expected," said Figy this week, reviewing some of the problems ahead for 1946. "Veterans are being attracted to the cities by high wages and short hours. As long as this situation exists the trend to the city will probably continue."

Figy pointed out that farm price inflation in Michigan, which today exceeds the peak of the 1920 boom by 8 per cent, was discouraging veterans from buying arms. He said Michigan farm prices were 89 per cent higher than the average from 1935 to 1939 and 47 per cent higher than the 30-year average from 1910 to 1939.

While some Michigan farmers will get needed farm machinery in time for the 1946 season, most of them will not, in the opinion of Figy.

"The farm machinery situation isn't good either," he said. "Manufacturers have their problems, too, such as lack of steel due to the steel strike, labor troubles and other factors."

As for emergency farm workers, replacing the German war prisoners who were employed for fruit picking and packing, and beet sugar and truck crop cultivation, the prospect is fairly good. A. B. Love and James G. Hays of the Michigan State college extension service are now in Missouri and Arkansas, recruiting workers for Michigan farm work in 1946. Furthermore, Michigan will have a plentiful supply of Jamaicans and Texas Mexicans.

The 1946 production goals for Michigan ask for more corn more soybeans, more dry beans, more sugar beets, more barley; for continued high production of flax and milk; for less livestock, poultry and egg production.

Figy, owner of three farms in Lenawee county, is an optimist at heart. Confronted with an agricultural digest report that the agricultural economy of this nation is being thrown into a drastic and costly reorganization from which it may not soon recover, due to the government's decision to use grain for family food and to cut livestock and poultry feeding, Figy smiled and said:

"Unless the government compels farmers to sell their grain, the new order will not affect more than 10 per cent of the farmers in Michigan, in my opinion. Most Michigan farmers have general farms whereby grains are grown for feeding of livestock and chickens. They are going to see that their livestock and chickens are fed. However, the farmer who is dependent on outside feed supply for his poultry hog and cattle feeding may be caught short and badly pinched. Certainly the new feed order isn't going to curtail milk production anything like 50 per cent as was recently predicted in Michigan. In our own case, we recently used soybean feeding as a substitute for protein supplement, and the result was about 10 per cent decline in milk production.

"No, I am not alarmed over the government's decision to export wheat and other grains to the overseas famine areas."

The post-war victory garden program, according to Figy, is pretty much "on its own" this season.

To his knowledge, no organized campaign will be conducted such as was the case during the war when the Michigan War Council was the sponsoring agency with men out in the field.

However, gardeners have been urged by President Truman and recently by Governor Harry F. Kelly to continue the war-time program of food growing in 1946. If foods are to be sent abroad to save millions of our allies, as well as enemy nationals, from starvation in the next six or so months, then every pound of food grown in victory gardens will assure householders an adequate supply next winter—and at a thrift saving of money, too.

Voluntary conservation of food, particularly bread and other wheat products, fats and oils, is being advocated by the federal government in its nine-point emergency program.

Experts recently announced that 15 cent of each food dollar were wasted by food that is thrown into the garbage can or wasted in other ways.

Surveys made of garbage collections in 247 cities show that the average garbage waste contains more than 300 pounds of food per person per year—an average waste of more than 34 pound of food per person per day. If the waste among consumers is applied nationwide, the result is a conclusion that Americans waste .5 per cent of all food they purchase. The restaurant plate waste is calculated to be 6 per cent; the retail store over-all food loss is 3 per cent of total sales.

These are figures to think about.

While Chinese prefer to grow grains for direct food, the American practice is to use the grain for feeding cattle, hogs and poultry. We are meat-eaters.

The livestock numbers on Jan. 1, 1946 were about the same as last year. Yet the total supplies of food were less for each grain-consuming animal unit, and rates of feeding, so far this winter have been very high. The rate of feeding has been about 17 per cent above that of the same period of 1944.

With feed grain supplies short in relation to demand, Michigan farmers are being urged by the federal government to feed less grain to hogs and beef cattle, cull poultry flocks closely, raise fewer chickens and turkeys; that is, maintain milk production without wasting feed, and above all avoid "over-finishing" meat animals.

Counsel (to police witness)—"But if a man is on his hands and knees in the middle of the road that does not prove that he is drunk."

Officer—"No, sir. It does not. But this one was trying to roll up the white traffic line."

After a very thorough examination the army doctor eyed the tall and very thin recruit in silence.

"Well, doctor," said the recruit at last, "how do I stand?"

"Goodness knows," replied the M.O. "It's a miracle!"

Fly 'Em Safely!

Kite flying time is here again. A real sport for boys and girls everywhere! Yet there are certain dangers you must guard against if kite flying is to be all the fun you want it to be.

The greatest danger to a kite flyer is an electric wire. Fly your kite in the open—away from any wire. If your kite swoops over and touches an electric wire, the electricity in that wire can cause severe burns or even death.

Do not use a metal kite frame. Use only wood. If a metal kite frame touches electric wires, a short-circuit can result which can make the wires fall and cause great damage to you and to other people as well.

Do not use wire or tinsel twine for a kite string. The metal or tinsel can carry the dangerous electricity down to your hand.

Wet string can carry electricity too, so never fly a kite on a rainy day.

Do not climb a pole or a tree to get your kite down. You may be injured by electric wires or by a fall.

Serious injury can result from careless kite flying. By observing these rules, kite flying can be a safe and sane sport:

- Fly kites in open fields, away from electric wires.
- Use only wood for kite frames—no metal.
- Use no wire or tinsel twine for a kite string.
- Do not fly kites in rainy weather.
- Do not climb poles or trees to bring down tangled kites.

THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY

It's a neat trick

but we can't do it

ADVENTUROUS little boys risk their hides on hazards like this every day. But most grown-ups shy away from risks—especially if they have a responsibility to other folks. Here at Michigan Bell, we have a vital 24-hour-a-day responsibility to millions of Michigan people. We have to keep our feet solidly on the ground.

This rule applies to every phase of our business, including the company's earnings. Good telephone service depends on adequate earnings, and we must avoid any risks that might jeopardize them.

Here is why. Thousands of thrifty people have their savings invested in Bell System securities. Their money makes good telephone service possible. In fact, Michigan Bell's 5-year $150,000,000 expansion program will be financed by these and other investors. And that program will provide more and better telephone service for you.

So you see, our earnings are important all around. And telephone rates—such a small part of your monthly budget—must be maintained at a level which will keep our earnings adequate. Otherwise, investors would put their money into some other business, and the future quality and extent of your telephone service would suffer.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.

Technical improvements in the past brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. As rapidly as future improvements will permit, we expect and want our rates to come down still further. For, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.

Entertain and Reception at Veteran's Memorial Hall

About one hundred and sixty guests were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tarsitano of East Main street at a reception given at the Veteran's Memorial Hall, Sunday afternoon and evening. The affair honored the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite Rose, to Charles Spagnuolo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Spagnuolo of Owosso.

The Tarsitanos and Mr. Spagnuolo received their guests before the fireplace in the lounge. Marguerite wore a formal gown of pale blue-silk tulle, with a corsage of red roses. She also wore flowers in her hair. Mrs. Tarsitano's street length dress was a lavender and white print and carnations made up her corsage.

Following the reception, a dinner was served at three o'clock, bouquets of carnations and snap dragons centering the tables. Later a three piece orchestra furnished music for dancing which continued throughout the evening.

Guests came from Owosso, Cairo, Detroit, Lansing, Charlotte, Union City and Lake Odessa, as well as Northville.

Good Friday Superstitions Still Hold Place in U. S.

Superstitions and folk lore concerning Good Friday still govern the actions of many Americans as well as peoples of other lands. Among those still held are:

If the wind blows on Good Friday, it will be windy the rest of the year.

Baking on Good Friday will bring a death in the family before the end of the year.

If your hair is thin, cut it on Good Friday and it will grow thicker.

Plant potatoes on Good Friday, but do not sew.

Make a wish on Good Friday at 3 p. m. and it will come true.

If you set a hen on Good Friday, every egg will hatch.

If it rains on Good Friday, rains all summer will be either too hard, come at the wrong time, or for some other reason will be valueless.

Arbor Day Origin

J. Sterling Morton, once secretary of the department of agriculture, originated Arbor Day in Nebraska in 1872.

Arbor Day is now observed in a number of localities and states on different days. But in Nebraska, April 22, the birthday of "the Father of Arbor Day," has special significance.

California has also selected a birthday as its official Arbor Day, March 7, being the birthday of Luther Burbank, has been designated the official Arbor Day of that state.

The real purpose of Arbor Day, the planting of trees, becomes of special importance during 1945. The need for a future timber has never been greater. Special efforts are being made in many communities to establish timber parks, the planting of which will take place on Arbor Day. Some have set aside these parks in honor of the servicemen who are serving from their communities.

Harry Nitzel and sons, Gene and Dean, a son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paulger and their three children returned home Sunday from a visit near Hastings, Nebraska, with the former's mother.

Mrs. Earl Johnson will be hostess to members of the Northville Past Matrons' Club at a co-operative luncheon in her home on South Wing street, Wednesday, April 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Angove and daughter, Marie, of West Main St. were guests of the Fosters in Kalamazoo, Sunday. Pic. Murray Foster, Marie's fiancé, was discharged at Camp Atterbury, Ind., last week, following overseas duty.

Lorraine Lapham, a student at Michigan State college, spent last week-end visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lapham of North Center St.

Mrs. George Pickell of Eaton Drive is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Don McLean, and family in Detroit for a few weeks.

Nine Ways to Save Food for Europeans

Housewives of Wayne County are given nine ways in which they can help to save food to save starving Europeans. The suggestions come from Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent. She points out that the over-all needs of the war-torn world are so great that there is no limit to the American food that can be used to save human life.

Following are the recommendations by Miss DuBord:

1. Cut down on wastage of bread in every way possible. It is estimated that one slice of each loaf goes into the garbage.
2. Reduce the amount of bread through substitutes such as potatoes and oat cereals. Fruits may be used instead of cakes and pastries.
3. By use of alternate foods, use less wheat cereals for breakfast.
4. Save cooking oils by making more use of meat drippings for cooking and seasoning foods.
5. Hold down the number of fried foods that are served.
6. Save and re-use fats and oils for all cooking purposes.
7. Hold onto bacon grease for

State Deer Herd Has Good Winter

The short and relatively mild winter so favored Michigan's deer herd that only a few scattered starvation victims have been found so far this spring, and those only in the old "trouble spots" near Grayling, Mio, Alpena and Atlanta, the conservation department's game division reports.

The herd generally came through the winter in good condition. Near Roseconen they were not confined to the yards until February, and throughout the state they moved into summer range early.

J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the game division, and I. H. Bartlett, the division's specialist in deer investigation, report similar conditions in northern Wisconsin. In fact, a $25,000 experiment in feeding deer and grain in some Wisconsin yards last week, they found no losses either in the yards where feeding was in progress, nor in deer yards where no feeding had been done.

The Chapman School held its annual spelling bee Friday, April 5, sponsored by the Detroit News. The winner was Frederick Bernhardt, who has already won two bees. This is his last year at Chapman school as he will graduate this year. The runner-up was Ella Ragsdale and the winning word was "mostly."

The grade spelling bee was held March 15. The winner of the 5th grade was Ella Ragsdale. The winner of the 8th grade was Frederick Bernhardt.

Two Rambeau children have recovered from the measles and returned to school. James will be back soon.

At school we play croquet. We have lots of fun. We play baseball too.

Mrs. Ragsdale, our teacher, attended the Teachers' meeting at Pontiac last Friday.

Little Joan had just been punished by her father and was crying uncontrollably. "Mummy," she sobbed, "Is daddy the only man you could get?"

"I've been thinking it over," said the husband, "and I've decided to agree with you."

"That won't do you any good," said the wife, "I've changed my mind."

Garden Meeting

Tonite, April 12

A series of garden meetings has been arranged for 4-H Garden Club Leaders, Extension Leaders, Community garden leaders and others interested in garden work. The first of these meetings will be at No. 1 School, 29:55 Pardo Road, Garden City, near Southeast corner of Middlebelt and Ford Roads April 12, at 8 p.m.

The need for home gardens is greater than at any time during the war. At the National Conference on Gardening held recently in Washington, a goal of 25,000,000 gardens was set for the United States. Food grown in the home garden will help make more food available for shipment to the starving people of other countries.

Practical Gardening

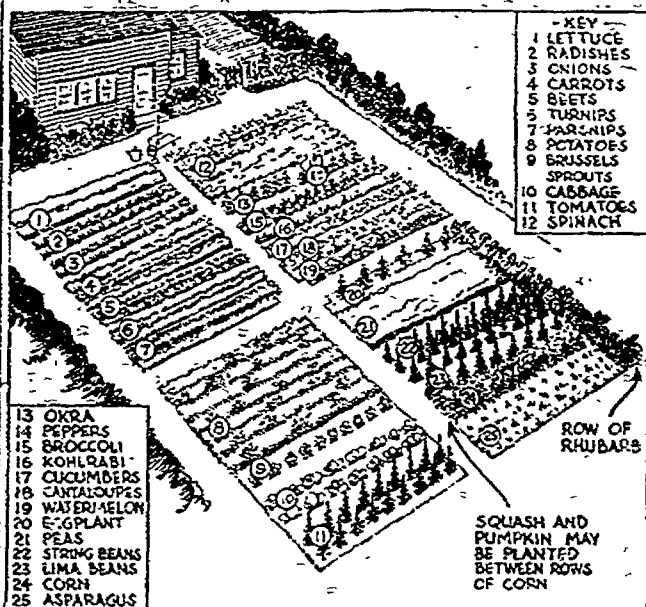

Lay Out Garden for Continuous Harvest

By W. J. DRYDEN, WNU Farm Editor.

The home garden should be laid out with the idea of productivity foremost in mind, but the matter of time and work saving should be big factors in determining final arrangements.

Rows should be in straight lines and parallel and spaced far enough apart that the cultivator or weed-not producing vegetables or flowers. With proper lay-outs and planning, it is possible to have seeds or plants always ready as soon as one crop has been harvested. Only unfavorable weather should make it necessary to detour from this plan. The drawing, shown on this page, may be modified to suit the ing tools can be operated between rows without injury to plants. Root crops may be spaced as closely as 10 inches unless more space is required for cultivation. As a general minimum it would be better to space all rows 16 inches apart.

It is usually possible to grow the vine crops along fences. The tall growing plants should be placed so that they will not shade the smaller varieties.

If the garden is well planned there will never be a vacant row that is requirements of your particular garden. Vegetables not relished by the family may be omitted and the space taken by others which meet the approval of the gardener.

Vegetables will be short this year, some prospects indicate that they will be even shorter than during war years. With this in mind, the gardener should not only grow the vegetables that the family likes, but those rich in vitamins to supply the lack which a food shortage might bring about.

8,000 Summer Camp Positions Open

More than 8,000 summer camp positions are available in the State of Michigan this season. Michigan camps need nurses, dietitians, cooks, cabin counselors, and counselors in charge of tidying, arts and crafts, music, water-sports, nature study, dramatics, nature lore, campcraft, various sports and pioneer camping.

To facilitate application for these and other camp positions, the Michigan Camping Association, in cooperation with the Group Work and Recreation Division of the Council of Social Agencies, is sponsoring a Personnel Bureau again this year. Located in the Council of Social Agencies office, 51 West Warren, Detroit, the Bureau is a central place where camp directors can find the camp staff they need and where prospective camp workers can find the camp which needs their particular skills.

Applications of those interested in camp employment are now being taken by Holms Vick, Council of Social Agencies, 51 W. Warren, Telephone 1-1600. Write or call Miss Vick for an application blank. There is no charge for this service.

Enlistments Opened in Naval Aviation

Enlistments were opened this week for the fall class of the Navy's peacetime Naval Aviation training program which will train flyers for the nation's post-war Navy.

High school seniors who will graduate in time to enter college in the fall are eligible provided they are 17 through 19½ years of age, are in normal good health and are capable of successful college work. College students 17 through 20½ years of age are also eligible.

Enlistees will select their own college (military), and pursue any course of study chosen. While in college enlistees will wear civilian clothes and will be on inactive duty. The Navy will pay for tuition, books, food and $50 a month for other expenses.

After completing four college semesters enlistees will spend 10 months in flight training before being commissioned ensigns. After receiving their "wings of gold," the officer-pilots will serve with the Fleet before returning to civilian life.

Interested high school or college students should write Naval Officer Procurement, 947 Book Building, Detroit, or visit their nearest Navy recruiting station.

Thou Art Dust and to

Dust Thou Shall Return

The ancient ceremony of the imposition of ashes, symbolizing penitence, will be observed, March 6, Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent in our modern observance.

In this ceremony the faithful approach the altar and the priest dips his thumb in blessed ashes and marks the Sign of the Cross on the brow, saying, "Memento homo, quia pulvis es et in pulverem reverteris." (Remember, man, that thou art dust and to dust thou shalt return.) The ashes used in this ceremony are obtained by burning the remains of palms which were blessed last year on Palm Sunday.

Said the toe to the sock, "Let me through, let me through."

Said the sock to the toe: "I'll be darned if I do."
