HOW'S YOUR Figure?
 THESE TWO IMPORTANT QUESTIONS ARE DISCUSSED DAILY AND EXCLUSIVELY BY—

Blood Supply Bolstered by Liver Shots
 BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY
 What doctors call maintenance treatment—that is, keeping the patient from relapsing when pernicious anemia has been practically cured—usually requires an intramuscular injection of liver extract twice a month.
 Liver extract so administered is the least expensive treatment.

Style Line Hangs from the Shoulder
 BY GRACE BARBER
 Although dress designers have been heeding out shoulders that need improving, clothes cannot be worn well nor is the figure really good unless the shoulder contour is attractive.
 Some of the more common shoulder faults are the slump which makes one look discouraged, the hunched-up look, and the rounded shoulders.

Why all this hew and cry to-day over food?

Newspaper headlines tell the encouraging news that Michigan farmers are rushing wheat to grain elevators in response to a national call for famine relief. It is forecast that nearly 1,000,000 bushels will be delivered by the end of next week (May 25) and that ultimately from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 bushels of an estimated 6,000,000 Michigan bushels in storage will be hurried to east-coast ports on the way to Europe.

Hurry, hurry, hurry is the appeal.

All of which prompts an observation: Why wait 12 months to do something about an emergency that was clearly foreseen?

The first responsible warning about post-war food shortages was voiced in April, 1945—a good 13 months ago—by Judge Samuel Rosenman who at President Roosevelt's request, visited Europe on the eve of Germany's surrender.

In July, 1945, Joseph C. Grew (then under secretary of state) repeated that warning.

Then on Sept. 29, 1945 the agriculture department said that only substantial food imports from outside sources can save millions of Europeans from starvation in the coming winter.

But that isn't all—not by a long shot.

On Nov. 27, 1945, the state department reported that 350,000,000 persons desperately needed food, and President Truman told Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada that we expect to ship all (the food) we can possibly spare. Remember that was in November, some 23 months ago.

On Feb. 7 of this year the President said the United States might have to return to meat rationing to save others from starvation.

Then on March 1 he set up the famine emergency committee with Herbert Hoover as chairman, and on March 17 Hoover was sent abroad to get the facts—mind you, to get the facts!

By April 18 the White House decided that American millers must set aside 25 per cent of the wheat they normally consume in making flour, ear-marking this set aside for export to Europe.

What did the country do about the urgency of hastening life-vital food to the distressed countries of Europe—especially to those who were our Allies during the war?

In the first quarter the wheat exports of this country were 12,000,000 tons short of our commitments for that period. On April 19 came a special price premium on wheat and corn, coupled with another administrative appeal for action.

Just last week Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, said the United States fell 150,000 tons short on its wheat exports in the first week of May. Our quota was 25,000 tons of food. We sent about 100,000 tons.

The difference for this one week—the 150,000 tons just mentioned—would have made 330,000,000 loaves of bread enough to supply the minimum ration for 71,500,000 persons—men, women and children. That much was probably wasted in this country by careless hoarders and restaurant operators. Americans have been always extravagant with their food; during the World War they consumed more food per capita than before the war—before it or not.

Why Washington has dilly-dallied for months, why a showdown on the food issue and hesitating to impose rationing, is probably answered by the fact that 1946 is an election year. Politicians don't want to do anything that might be unpopular with well organized pressure groups back home.

So don't continue the habit of young men after May 15. It might be unpopular with their parents.

So don't ration meat or food. The voters wouldn't like it.

So don't worry about price ceilings. After all, living costs soared 62.8 per cent in World War II; they went up only 29.5 per cent in World War II. Let's have some more inflation and whoopee. The country can stand it.

So don't do anything to antagonize the labor unions—John L. Lewis especially. If we must have national paralysis because of the coal miners' strike, it's just too, too bad.

Counter to this selfish attitude of the vote-hungry politician is the fact that American public opinion surveys demonstrated this, time and again, throughout World War II. It is Congress, plus the bureaucratic Washington, which lags behind the will of the home front to get things done. Congress is conservative.

The shameful delay in sending food overseas certainly cannot be ascribed to the lack of knowledge about the coming famine. The failure to meet the issues of famine food exports, sufficient military strength for our army and navy, and protection of the public against racketeering labor leaders—just to mention a few—should be put on the doorstep of Washington, and no place else.

The public is ready for action as public opinion surveys have repeatedly proved. Isn't it about high time that Washington took the leadership and did something about it? We think so.

Sale of Auto Use Stamps Discontinued

Northville motorists should be pleased to learn that they will not have to purchase motor vehicle stamps at the post office building when next July rolls around.

Postmaster Van Atta has been notified by the federal government that sale of the stamps was to be discontinued March 30. After that date the stamps will not bear official value.

The act which brought mandatory stamp into being was the Revenue Act of 1945.

Have Luncheon at Clatfelter Home

Mrs. H. J. Clatfelter entertained ten ladies of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service at a luncheon, Monday, in her home on Garfield Road. During the afternoon there was a discussion of the Society's new project, that of buying books for the purpose of starting a library for the church. This is to include illustrated books of Bible stories for children as well as reference texts for Sunday School teachers.

The library will be installed in the League room of the church and Mrs. Clatfelter will be in charge.

The guests at the luncheon included Mesdames Lee, Cansfield, Ellison, Felker, Williams, Somers, Menge, Liebetreu, Walker and Proctor.

Celebrates 10th Birthday Anniversary

The Northville branch of the Women's National Garden Ass'n. held their tenth birthday party at the home of Mrs. Jos. Hoehl on Randolph street, Monday afternoon. In attendance were thirty-three members and two guests. Mrs. Ernest Kohler of Venice, Calif. and Mrs. T. R. Carrington of West Main street, both past presidents of the local club.

Following a business meeting came the program of the afternoon which was given over to the exhibit of hats trimmed to illustrate the themes of various songs. Judged the most unusual was that worn by Mrs. Frank Zeborick, contrived from a lamp shade, box cover and evergreen twigs for the song "Don't Fence Me In." "Yankee Doodle" was the theme of the hat assembled from bits of feather and ribbons in patriotic colors by Mrs. W. B. Chase of Eight Mile Road, which was judged the funniest.

The tea table was beautifully decorated with white lilacs and featured a birthday cake decorated by Mrs. Clyde Schoultz to represent the song "Sunbonnet Sue." Mrs. Kohler presided at the tea service.

Blue Star Mothers Meet

Mrs. Henry Wink of Verkes Avenue was welcomed as a new member of the local Blue Star Mothers' chapter at their regular meeting held in Veterans' Memorial Hall Monday evening. Reports showed plants sent on Mother's Day to eleven Gold Star Mothers of World War II and to three mothers of World War I veterans who lost their lives in service. This is an annual custom of the Northville chapter.

The mothers were Mesdames Card, Starkweather, Hunter, King, Reid, Lawrence, Rattenbury, Kuntz, Defino, Sackett and Douglas and Mrs. Filley, Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Herman Verkes.

Twelve new names were reported added to the village Honor Roll.

The chapter will march, by invitation of the Legion Post, in the Memorial Day procession, members to meet at Veterans' Hall at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Wm. Duguid received the handmade rug offered in a sale of tickets by the chapter. Reports showed well over fifty dollars cleared on this project with an equal amount realized at the recently held benefit card party.

Light refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by hostesses Coe, Turnbull, Reid, Wilsner and Warner.

Latin Group Visits Museum

On Thursday of last week about sixty members of the Latin Club of Northville High School took a trip to the Archaeological Museum at Ann Arbor, Miss. Shire, a museum guide, explained various museum pieces so that they might be more fully appreciated. Most of the pieces were brought by the University of Michigan expedition from Karanis, Egypt, whose customs were very similar to those of the early Romans. There were manuscripts, glass jars, jewelry, personal articles, household utensils, and many other items of interest. The club members saw many things which they have studied about in their Latin classes.

KNOW YOUR SCHOOLS

The Board of Education has shown the need for an 8 mill increase, to "put Northville Schools in the position they rightfully deserve."

1. Three mills for salaries of present teaching staff.
2. Two mills to meet salary demands of new teachers to supplant weak spots on the staff.
3. One mill for additional janitor service.
4. Two mills for maintenance.

This does not mean that each tax payer will pay an additional eight mills, because two mills formerly levied for debt service will cease; therefore this will actually mean a six-mill increase... $6.00 more per thousand on your assessed valuation.

You Will Be Glad To Know... PLENTY OF NATURAL GAS IS ON THE WAY

ABUNDANT SUPPLIES of natural gas, beginning late in 1947 and extending over the next 25 years, are assured to all of the Michigan cities, towns and industries served by Consumers Power Company through a new contract just completed with Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company.

Since extensive new construction of pipe lines and compressor stations by each company will be necessary, only a nominal increase in gas supply will be possible this year. However, beginning late in 1947 the amount of Panhandle Eastern gas available to Consumers Power Company, will increase steadily, year by year.

For example, as compared with 5 1/2 billion cubic feet of Panhandle Eastern natural gas sold to Consumers Power Company in 1945, it is anticipated that a total of 27 1/2 billion cubic feet will be delivered in Consumers Power territory in 1950!

Important feature of the new contract is its provision to use the extensive Winterfield and Cranberry Lake gas fields in north central Michigan as huge underground storage tanks. Into these, Michigan Gas Storage Company, a proposed subsidiary of Consumers Power, will pump billions of cubic feet of Panhandle Eastern natural gas, brought from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas during the months of each year when domestic consumption of gas is low. By this means, a vast reservoir of natural gas will be built up and made available to Consumers Power to meet the heavy demands of winter.

Panhandle Eastern is glad to join with Consumers Power in announcing this happy solution of a serious and complicated problem... one which threatened to interfere severely with the growth and prosperity of your own community and many others.

Officials of Consumers Power and Panhandle Eastern have recognized for several years the need to provide more gas to meet the heavy demands that inevitably would develop after the war... especially since Michigan's own gas fields are rapidly becoming exhausted. However, until recently, Panhandle Eastern's entire supply was under rigid controls imposed by the War Production Board. Similarly, all new construction was prohibited except as ordered by the government to serve critical war areas.

Now the road is open. Consumers Power and Panhandle Eastern are moving with utmost speed to assure your future gas supply.

Given the approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission and the Federal Power Commission, the new Michigan Gas Storage Company will start construction of the pipe lines and compressor stations it will need.

On its part, Panhandle Eastern is awaiting authority of the Federal Power Commission for its own $27,000,000 construction program which will bring additional natural gas from the Southwest.

This large-scale construction by both companies, even under the most ideal conditions, will require all of this year and most of 1947 to complete. Meanwhile, we wish to thank users of Panhandle Eastern gas... gas customers of Consumers Power Company... for their patience and understanding.

Panhandle Eastern produces and transports natural gas from the Southwest and wholesales it to Consumers Power Company for distribution to its customers.

One Burp, One World

The following letter written by Lt. (j.g.) Fred Warner Neal to his wife in Washington, appeared in the May issue of the Ladies Home Journal. We publish it because we know a lot of people will enjoy it, knowing its author.

Petrus (Petrus, Russian Siberian). Dear Grisha: I miss you and baby Sue all the time, but I want to tell you of an episode that really made me feel nostalgic.

There are four Russian army guards here at our Naval aerological station. They are all big, good-natured fellows, as far away from their homes as we are. Their chief is a very checked, rugged, about thirty-five-year-old Alexei Ivanovich. I now know that he was a school teacher. Despite the fact that he knows no English and few I know Russian, he soon became popular with the American officers and crew.

The other night Alexei Ivanovich appeared in great excitement. His wife Anna, and a six-week-old baby, who live on the other side of the Kamchatka Peninsula, were here in the guard tent. It was bitterly cold, and the small, patched tent furnished little protection from the incessant winds which sweep down off the Kuring Sea.

"Bring them inside, Alexei," I told him, motioning toward our round, tin-roofed Russian domk.

Alexei Ivanovich was delighted. "Spasibo, spasiibo," he thanked me.

Soon our domk was filled with the loud wailing of Grisha swaddled in baby clothes so you could hardly find him.

"What's the matter?" I asked Anna anxiously.

"Nichevo, nichevo" (nothing, nothing), she said. "All Russian babies cry when they are little. It shows they're healthy." (Grisha was her fourth.)

"Well, I had read baby books before Susan came, and I know better. When did you feed him?"

"Just a minute ago, in the tent," she said.

"Nichevo, nichevo," she said again, when I suggested tiny Grisha might have indigestion. Anyhow, she let me hold him. I put him to my shoulder and patted his back gently.

"Burrro, burro." And up came some of Grisha's milk, all over my parka. Then as a smile of amazement came over his mother's stolid, Slavic features, Little Grisha stopped crying and cooed. I chuckled him under the chin, as we used to do to Susan, and sure enough, Grisha smiled.

"Shitara koye?" asked Grisha's mother, which means, "What goes on, anyway?"

I told her that in the United States we always "burped" babies after they finished feeding.

"And does your baby never cry after feeding?" she asked.

"Never," I answered (somewhat guiltily, remembering an occasional howl).

"How do you do it again?" I put Grisha in the burping position, over my shoulder.

"You are a good father," she said. "We will try it."

It was the nicest thing said to me since I came to Russia—a land where everybody says nice things about you—and I swelled with pride.

Well, Folks, if we did have meat it might be tough . . . so how about a nice tender chicken!

DOES YOUR BEST
FARM HAND SLEEP
TOO MUCH? . . .The most powerful worker on the farm is electricity. He is never tired, he never talks back, and the more he works the lower his hourly wage.
He is ready to pitch in at any hour of the day or night, and he never wants a day off.Start him on a job and he won't quit for a minute until you switch him off and on to something else.But, unfortunately, he can't think for himself. YOU have to think up the jobs for him to do. You have to find out all the things he can do, get him the tools, then give him the "go" sign, and he will work for you for pennies where other hired men will cost you dollars.A well-known farm paper has estimated that farmers and their help spend 65 per cent of their working time around the barns, cribs and other homestead buildings. That is where the "electric hand" can do his best work. He can milk the cows, saw the wood, pump the water, crib your corn, hoist and dry your hay, grind the feed... and perform a surprising number of additional tasks if you will find them for him. Electricity is right at your elbow now... awaiting your next command. Don't let him sleep on the job.

School Exhibit

instructor, Mr. Miel. Miss Mollie Saxton is instructor of the art classes.

Miss Betty Garlick's Home-making classes, one, two and three, and the eighth grade, conducted a fine style show at eight o'clock in the High school auditorium. A large number of girls in the sewing classes modelled dresses and other articles of wearing apparel which they had made. Alternating as announcers were Florence McCluskie and Pauline Rodgers who pointed out the special features of each costume and stated the cost of each. Prices ran all the way from $1.25 for a cotton sport dress to $14 for a wool suit. Fine workmanship and a good sense of style among class members was evidenced in the showing, also tenacious shopping ability in view of the scarcity of yard goods throughout the country. Besides new materials, the girls had contrived new garments from old.

Julianne Lewis played incidental piano music throughout the program.

A play "Mabel's Fable" was put on by members of Miss Saxton's art class with Gail Ann Peters, Beatrice Ranage, Marilyn Goza, Esther Stanford, Howard McLellan, Marcella Brady, Betty Heintz and Stella Poulos in the cast. This venture was offered by the class for the purpose of raising free-will offerings to help the purchase of a kiln to be used in baking pottery articles.

Pupils acted as stage managers and hostesses for this annual event.

Buell House Being Used by School

The Buell residence (known as the Brock house) on the corner of West and Main streets has been loaned by the village to the school for the latter's use.

The two front rooms downstairs will be used to house the new Veterans' Institute. Mr. Berton, one of the school janitors will occupy the rear rooms of the first floor and will also act as caretaker of the property. The two apartments upstairs will be occupied by members of the teaching staff.

Mayor Doren states that "the building may be used by the school until more definite plans are made towards the building of the Community Hall on that site which was recently purchased by the village."
