

"Be Alive on the 5th"

This will be a peaceful Fourth of July. A year ago America was just hitting her stride in the fight to knock out the last enemy of a free and peace-loving world.

Yes, America is at peace.

But Americans are still dying. While you're reading this some American is dying a tragic, perhaps painful death, a death that might have been prevented had he or others instrumental in his death, been more careful. And Americans will die in greater numbers this Fourth of July than ever before unless you and I do something about it.

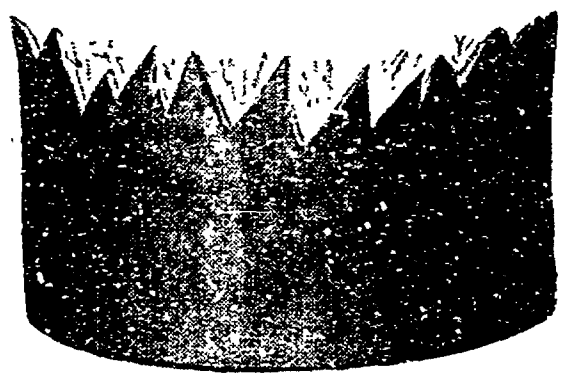

Thousands paid the supreme price to keep America free, still others fought to insure our way of life against the tyranny that Americans have hated since the dawn of our nation's history. Yet, in the months since hostilities ceased many of those who fought to defend our cherished heritage have died needlessly. And many more will die this Fourth of July unless you and I do something about it.

Perhaps some of us need to be reminded by figures and percentages, perhaps not—but it is a simple fact that 8,000 to 10,000 of us will die in July accidents this year, according to estimates of the National Safety Council, unless you and I do something about it.

What can you and I do about it? Well, we can be careful, more careful than we've ever been before. Sure you're looking forward to the holiday for a bit of fun and relaxation—we all are, but in our planning for that fun we should place the safety of our family and of others above all other considerations. Let our first thought be of safety and carefulness, and we'll stand a greater chance of enjoying the holiday without gaining a place among those who died tragically and needlessly.

You and I can do something about it! We can drive with greater care than ever before. We can hold our speed down to safe limits, determined by the condition of our car, that of the highway and the traffic upon it. We can wait an hour after eating before we swim out to the float, refuse to go beyond our depth and refrain from showing off. We can avoid over-exertion in our recreational activities and over-exposure to the sun. We can in all things exercise greater care than we ever have.

You and I can make this Fourth of July one of the safest in recent American history by following the slogan advanced by the National Safety Council. We can have our fun on the Fourth, but still "Be Alive on the Fifth!"

The senior group, under the direction of W. Funk, exhibited many handmade pieces of leatherwork. The primary group, supervised by Mrs. Frost, displayed a wall mural.

The Ways and Means Committee of the Vacation Church School decided that the offerings taken during the two week period should be sent to the children of India for relief. The total amount for relief for this purpose is $46.50. These funds were turned over to the American Friends Service Committee through Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, Mrs. George Stalker, and Miss Elizabeth Wickland.

The Vacation School concluded Friday morning with a party for the nursery and primary groups at the Presbyterian Church House and a picnic at Cass Benton Park for the older group. The Exchange and Rotary Clubs' spirit this year undertook the yearly treat for the youngsters. Two hundred frost bites were provided for the picnic by the Clubs, and part of their gift of $63.00 was used toward expenses in the leather craft work.

Village Tax Statements to be Mailed This Week

Rate is lower than last year, but assessed valuation has been equalized to meet 15 Mill Charter Requirements.

Village tax statements will be mailed this week to property owners according to Treasurer Russell A. Craik. The rate this year is $17.33 per M of assessed valuation as compared to $22.84 last year. This year's budget of $61,275.00 was spread on an assessed valuation of $3,577,719.00. Last year's rate was spread on an assessed valuation of $2,725,295.00. The budget last year was $59,556.97. Debt service included in this year's tax is $2.84, last year it was $4.14.

The increase valuation this year comes from increased building, adjustments of valuation and equalizing certain valuations also being necessitated by the charter requirement of the 15 mill limitation.

Veterans Need VA Certificates

Local Veterans Urged to Get in Touch with Village Counseling Center.

The Veterans Administration is urging all veterans who plan to attend school under the G. I. Bill for the first time next fall, to apply at once for their certificates of eligibility to that they may avoid the delay of application. If application is delayed too long, VA will be swamped at the time.

VA calls attention to the fact that its rules do not require veterans to have certificates of eligibility before enrolling, but that many schools do ask for them before they will admit veterans as students.

Subsistence allowances are payable from the date the veteran enters training, provided he has already applied for it. VA says. Application forms can be obtained locally from the Veterans Counseling Center located at the Village Hall, Northville.

Storms Bring Damage Here

Spagnuolo Apartments Damaged, Tabor Residence has chimney shattered. McKinney knocked off couch.

Electrical storms have hit this area rather severely during the past week causing at least ten fires in the vicinity of Northville. Lightning struck the F. J. Tabor residence on West Main street Wednesday, June 26, shattering the chimney and destroying the electrical wiring throughout the house.

Shortly after 4:00 p. m. on Sunday, the James Spagnuolo apartment on East Main street was struck by lightning with a fire resulting. The Northville Fire Department was called to put out the blaze. The place was gutted with smoke and gas fumes, making it uninhabitable for some time. The back stairway was destroyed by the flames and much damage was done to the furnishings and living quarters. Little damage was done to the store below or its contents. Mr. and Mrs. Spagnuolo earned insurance on the property.

The remainder of the fires were at widely scattered points outside the village limits.

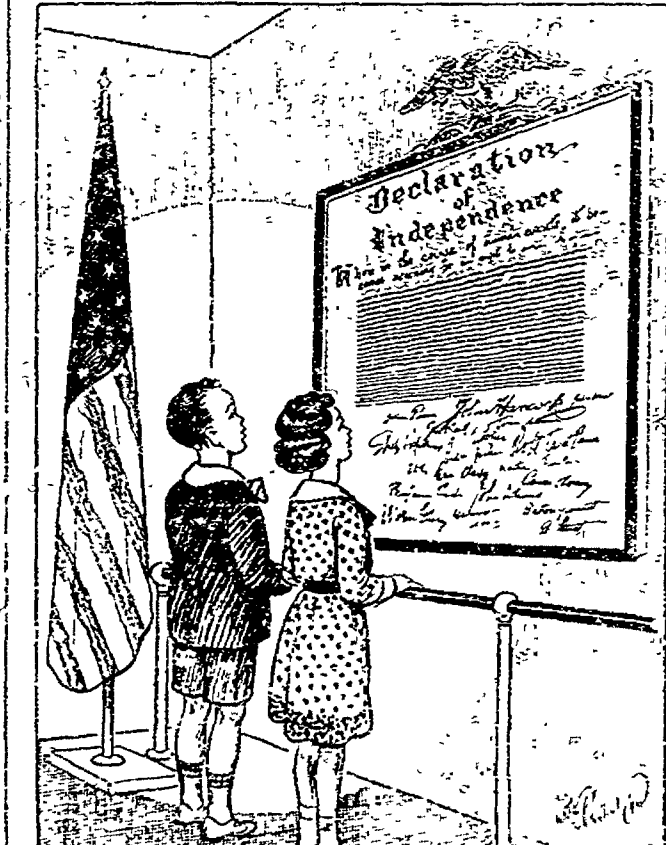

Former Police Chief J. L. McKinney was knocked from the couch in the living room of his home on West Dunlap street, by a stroke of lightning during Sunday's storm.

REDEDICATION -- JULY 4th

By NATE COLLIER

Swimming Pool Makes Big Hit

Pool is safe for all ages and grades of swimmers. Children must have permit. Supervisors on duty.

Superb swimming is being conducted now at the Pickett gravel pit on West Seven Mile Road. The hours are from 2:00 to 4:30 P. M. daily, permitting this transportation to provide for the youngsters. The pool will be supervised by an adult on July 4 as the Recreation Committee has made plans for a celebration to be held at Ford Field.

There has been some confusion as to the exact location of the Recreation pool for swimming, constructed for use under direction of the Recreation Committee. The pool is located on the south side of Seven Mile Road, just across from the eastern entrance to the grounds of Maybury San, on the property of the Pickett Gravel Co. Here swimming is supervised by Don Bray, Recreation director, and two assistants, Helen Ann Canfield and Alice Hahn. A number of children are reported to have shown up at another spot only to be met with a sign "no swimming."

Now that the Vacation Church School is over, Miss Genevieve Daley is back at her post at the Grade school from 9:30 to 1:30 each morning and from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. in the afternoon. She supervises the smaller youngsters in games and crafts.

2000 Witness Meadowbrook Match

2000 fans witnessed one of the most spectacular golf matches ever held in the area Saturday and Sunday at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Byron Nelson put on the greatest exhibition of golf ever seen in competition in the Detroit District when he fired a course record-breaking 64-29-63, eight under par, at Meadowbrook Country Club Saturday.

As a result, the 34-year-old Toledoan, and Chick Harbert, Meadowbrook professional, have a one-hole lead over Jimmy Demare, of Houston, Tex. and Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., in their 36-hole best ball match.

Sunday a downpour of rain soaked the contestants and spectators alike. They stood through half an hour's chattering downpour, then, wrinkled and bedraggled, eagerly poked the fairways again to see Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demare defeat Byron Nelson and Chick Harbert, 2-1, in their 36-hole best ball match.

With the record at stake, on his eighteenth, Nelson called on his old "double duty" club—a niblick with a heavy flange that had been serving him brilliantly—for the second shot, dropped the putt, and broke the mark while the crowd cheered wildly.

Hold Picnic And Study Hour

Members of the Northville group of Home Extension classes will enjoy a picnic at Walled Lake on Thursday, July 13. The hostess will be Mrs. Wm. Hill, 14 Mile Rd. The party plan to leave town on the 11:25 bus and each lady will take a passing dish and her own table service.

Pere Marquette Will Commission New Streamliners

New Diesel Engines now in Service. Complete streamliners expected on Detroit-Grand Rapids Division Soon.

The Pere Marquette Railway took delivery last week of the two new Diesel locomotives which will power the "Pere Marquettes," Michigan's first diesel-drawn trains and the country's first post-war streamliners which are to be commissioned into service this summer. The Diesels are of the type used on the nation's fastest scheduled passenger trains, Pere Marquette officials asserted.

The locomotives, built by General Motors, are of 2,000-horsepower. The power plant of each consists of two 1,000-horsepower, 12 cylinder, V-type, 2 cycle Diesel engines, each directly connected to an electric generator.

Current is fed through control apparatus in the engineers cab to the four traction motors, located two in each 6-wheel truck. Each traction motor is geared directly to a driving axle, eight in power at the rail at eight wheel points. Each locomotive weighs, fully loaded, 315,000 pounds, is 71 feet long, 14 ft. 10 inches in height, overall, 9 ft. 6 in. wide and carries 1,200 gal. of fuel oil and 1,200 gallons of train-heating boiler water.

The first streamline locomotive passed through Plymouth last week on the P. M. Ry., going west on the morning flyer and back at night. It is reported that as soon as possible, modern coaches will replace the ones used at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlynn Elber, who have moved into their newly built, ranch style home on Seven Mile Road near the Mar-burger place. The family is from Detroit, where Mr. Elber is employed and the couple have two sons still in service.

PARIS CELEBRATES AGAIN ... For the first time since the war Paris burst forth with all its pent up gaiety in a colorful carnival that brought forth its brightest costumes and floats. The holiday spirit penetrated downward into the younger brackets, too, and here we see three children of the many who marched through the streets of Paris in masquerade, the hardships of war a thing of the past.

UNEARLY FOSSELS ON FARM ... On the Arthur Antholt farm, near Cedarburg, Wis., three perfectly preserved teeth and a jawbone fragment of huge mastodons was recently found. At least 10,000 years before humans appeared upon the earth these huge mastodons roamed over Wisconsin land. Photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Antholt and Linus R. Nelson, 12, 11, Milwaukee museum, examining fossil items.

BILL SESSIONS AT "OLD MEN'S TOWN" ... Discreetly summed up man's life cycle thus: "Youth is a blunder; manhood a struggle; old age a regret." The state of Maine has taken a mighty step towards eliminating the regret from old age with the establishment of the community for old men outside the town of Jefferson, near Augusta. The rocking chair statesmen are prepared to give opinions on everything from OPA to the atomic bomb and many verbal battles result nightly.

HIGH COST OF LIVING IN A CHICKEN HOUSE ... A few weeks ago this was a chicken coop on the farm of Herbert Stodabaker, Waterloo, Iowa. Today it is converted into eight one-room kitchenette apartments, with a utility room for use of all tenants. There were more takers at $27.50 a room per month. Now the Stodabakers could handle on their poultry farm. More revenue from renting than raising chickens.

Who could blame her husband for getting cross once in a while? She never seemed to know where the household money went. It just went.

How different now. When hubby asks about the finances, she confidently reaches for the old check book. There in the stubs 's the whole story—a business-like record of the month's expenditures. It is so simple to balance your budget when a checkbook record is kept of each expenditure.

Units' Locations a Secret

The war department has announced that as of March 19 no further information will be furnished as to the whereabouts of various units in the armed forces as they have been during the past several months. The army explains that during the period of redeployment
when so many units were in transit from one sector to another they permitted publication of the positions of these units.
At this time, however, the army
says that at the height of the war
there were more or less secret units and that again there were many secret units. It says that it will not be published.
So the army says that it will not be published.

Ten thousand of these units have been redeployed since the war ended and the army says that it will not be published. The army says that it will not be published.
The army says that it will not be published. The army says that it will not be published.

Questions and Answers

Q. When I was shipped to the states for discharge, I was told I had to take with me my personal supply officer and he was shipped to my home. I did and I have been home six months and so far better. When can I write to him in a case like this?
—J. M. E. Seattle, Wash.
A. Write to Personal Effects division, U. S. Quartermaster corps, U.
S. Army, Kansas City, Mo.
Q. My brother enlisted in May,
1941, for the ASTP. He went to college for eight months, then was transferred to the infantry. Will his time in ASTP count as time in service? Is he considered a volunteer?

—L. G., Chicago, Ill.

A. If he was on active duty during his ASTP service, his time counts.
If he was in the enlisted reserve status, his time does not count. The army says eleven of draft age are considered volunteers.

Q. My son, a private first class, is now in a hospital from wounds received in Italy. In a big push, his sergeant and corporal were killed.
He was placed in command and led his squad for five days when he was wounded. Should he not receive a sergeant's pay from that time on? —Reader, Bensenville, N. Y.

A. Not unless he was promoted to a sergeant.
Q. I entered the army in December, 1915. My father had an accident, my mother was sick and unable to care for him, so out at home, so I was discharged from the army to care for them and run the farm he rented. I lacked a few days of staying in three months.
Am I entitled to any of the 50% of rights? —A worried farmer, Dan-ielville, Ga.

A. If you have been in the army at least 90 days in active duty, you are entitled to the 50% of rights. You can get it. You can get it. You can get it.

Q. My son is a second lieutenant.
He entered the service January 6,
1945, went overseas December 21, 1945. How long before he can be discharged? —Mrs. T. A. W., De-bary, Iowa.

A. Civilian post service is for 12 months. As of Sept. 2, 1945, he would have about 8 months
left.

Q. I have been receiving servicemen's readjustment allowance for 10 months on self-employment as owner and part-operator of a business. Am waiting on appeal a service-connected disability. Will the readjustment allowance be stopped after one year or one year plus time in service or until result of my disability appeal are received? —C. D. V. D., Alva, Okla.

A. The law says 52 weeks is the maximum for drawing servicemen's readjustment allowance.
Q. Can a former wife receive an allowance from a retired army man through the U. S. treasury if she has a court decree stating it be paid in this manner each month?
—Reader, Chattanooga, Tenn.

A. That is purely a legal question. Consult your attorney.
Q. My husband was retired with a pension from the regular army after 30 years of service. Can I claim any support for my child and myself from his pension? —
Mrs. L. B., Philadelphia, Pa.

A. This is a legal question and must be settled in the courts.

NO COMPETITION ?... THERE'S PLENTY OF IT

More than any other private business, the utility is in direct and continuous competition with the theories and, in some sections of the United States, with the works of those who would turn private business into government business.

The Detroit Edison Company competes for your business in your home,
because there is nothing which compels the use of electricity exclusively in the operation of many household appliances.

Industries are free to build plants for the manufacture of their own electric power, and a few have done so.

Because of the existence of real competition, The Detroit Edison Company is required to produce so efficiently that the industrialist cannot afford to generate his own power.

Detroit Edison is required to serve the home so well that its occupants will PREFER electricity.

Beyond all this is the ever-present fact that our customers—you, the householder, the farmer, the merchant and the manufacturer—expect nothing less than the BEST from The Detroit Edison Company. We are in constant competition with that standard of price, dependability and service which you fix for us—with your idea of what Detroit Edison should be.

Upon our ability to meet that competition depends our right to survive and prosper.

Direct competition by another electric company is eliminated by law as a matter of public policy. That policy permits exercise of the economies of mass purchases and mass production without wasteful duplications. The safeguards of public regulation are combined with the enterprise and efficiency of private management.

The objective and the result—extraordinary service at reasonable cost.

Control Corn Earworm

By Proper Treatment

In order to prevent corn-earworm Cornell has found that an inexpensive medicinal type of mineral oil, heavy grade, will prove satisfactory. The ears should be treated after the silk has started to turn brown at the tip, from three to five days after silk first appears.

Apply the oil with an ordinary medicine dropper. Fill half full, about 20 drops, for small ears, and three-fourths full for large ears. Insert the dropper into the silk just inside the top of the husk as shown. The oil penetrates the silk "channel" and kills the young worms as they enter.

DDT May Not Always

Be Dangerous to Bees

Latest findings indicate that DDT may not be as fatal to bees as was formerly believed. It is true that if the hives are sprayed with DDT the bees will die. Tests at Michigan showed that bees in orchards which had been sprayed did as well as bees in an orchard where DDT was not applied. It was found in California tests that DDT proved no more harmful to bees than other sprays.

Dear Friends:

I am taking time tonight to send a gay greeting to my friends of Northville, from the tropical land of Panama. Also I want to send hearty congratulations to the N. H. S. graduates of the '46 class, and wish them the very best. In receiving my Northville paper regularly so am keeping up on who does what.

As for news there isn't much. Down here there are only two things of interest, Sun and Rain. When it rains we wish for sun, and when the sun is out we wish for rain. So life here is one big wish. As for the night it plays the same palm trees, citrus trees and flowers I remember a beautiful bed of orchids the other day. It really made me stop and look. The many different tropical flowers often catch one's eye.

The big talk around the bricks is "when we are going home." Myself being in the Regular Army have a certain time to serve. The latest I've heard, October, should see me on my way back to the good old U.S.A. The hospital is keeping us all quite busy. The most prevalent cases are the queer tropical fevers and skin irritations, which some times stump medics. But the average flow of patients soon leave in the best of health.

Well, guess I'd better end this and get the lights out as I am in charge of quarters tonight. Again a greeting to all my friends. Hoping I'll be seeing you all soon, I remain,

Practical Gardening

Use Cold Frames Continually

By W. J. DRYDEN, WNT Farm Editor.

Cold frames serve as bulwarks against frost and provide means by which the gardener can be assured of an early start with his plants. They also provide space for him in which to grow plants that are ready for transplanting. After the garden season is over, cold frames may be utilized to store plants that require some protection against the elements. The cold frame is usually made in multiple of three feet as standard window sash are of these dimensions and always available. In some individual cases it might pay to shop for second hand window frames and to build the cold frame to fit the available windows. There are several excellent window substitutes on the market which will prove worth investigating. A sturdy sash in the garden provided to the hot bed. The sash should be at least on inch thick and the corners well-braced. In installing the frame, dig a hole about a foot deep. The sides of the frame should extend about six inches into the ground. This will prevent drafts from entering. The extra soil should then be banked against the frame.

Windows should be on hinges so that they may be raised and securely fastened as desired. On warm sunny days, the windows should be left open. Plants and seeds require fresh air.

The used traces back before the beginning of the Christian era. Twelve-day-old New Hampshire chicks show fast feathering, left, and slow feathering, right.

In which to make accurate selection of the most efficient birds by their body weights. At this age, Dr. Charles W. Knox of the USDA says there are maximum differences in weight between the slowest growing, the average, and the fastest growing individuals. The lesson from these experiments would indicate that culling should start when the chicks are still in the brooder stage. As Professor Rice once said—a real poultryman has the eye to cull and the heart to discard. Culling as an art of optimism—the art to see and the will to discard.

Cattle Brucellosis
Checking Possible
Testing of Cattle
Eradicates Disease

There was a further increase in brucellosis last year, according to the American Association for Animal Health, as the increase in the number of the disease practically doubled in the last five years.

Early testing and culling of infected herds is the only way of eradicating this costly and dangerous disease. The increase in the number of infected herds is a serious problem. The disease is spread by infected milk and by contact with infected animals. The disease is a serious problem for the dairy industry.

Guard Rail for Pigs
To decrease the large number of litter pigs killed by the sea shipping or rolling over on them, the guard rail arrangement in farrowing house taken at Texas station has proven satisfactory.

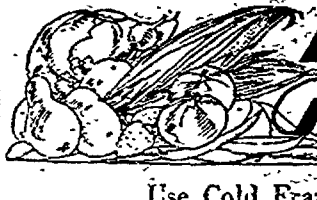

Easy to construct from lumber found around the farm, it will aid in preventing the heavy toll in the farrowing house.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE WITH FAULTY STEERING

Play safe with safe steer- ing controls! Brakes, steering, lights, tires and horn should all be kept in tip-top shape, if you want to insure safe driving.

BRING YOUR CAR IN FOR A

SAFETY CHECK

BRAKES—Do they need adjustment—brake fluid added?

HORN—Is it in good condition—sure to give a signal when you need it?

TIRES—Are they safe? Cuts or excessive wear may cause a blow-out accident.

LIGHTS—Do any bulbs need replacing? Are your headlights properly focused?

STEERING—Is there too much "play" in the wheel? Do controls operate easily?
