

NEW YEARS GREETINGS

Farmington Takes Overtime Game

Overflow Crowd Gets Many Thrills as Locals Lose to Farmington 21-23

Last Friday night before a packed house the Northville Musangans received their first setback of the season when Farmington took the game in the three minute overtime period, 21-23.

While hundreds were turned away from the game after doors were locked because of over crowding, the crowd inside had the thrill of their lives as each team led by one or two points throughout the game. Northville led at the end of each period except the last, when the game stood 21 to 21. In the three minute overtime period Farmington placed a basket that won the game.

The game was marked by more than basketball. Foul's and a bit of rough and tumble seemed to be in the cards as both teams were tense under the stress of a close game. In the first quarter Farmington was able to shoot better than the locals, who apparently were aware that the baskets didn't seem to be in the right place.

The next home basketball game is not until January 10th.

Sgt. Keith Simon arrived in the village the first part of the evening after day leave and visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stevens of City St. Rte. 1, Elkhorn, D. C., from election day.

Veteran At His Work

Post Office Has Biggest Xmas Mail

This week's veteran is Elmer A. Belko, who entered service Nov. 30, 1942 at Fort Custer. He was sent to Camp Clayborne for one year as Sec. Sergeant in the 163rd Infantry Division.

He then journeyed to Camp Haueze, France, where he spent another year as Sec. Sergeant in the Motor Section. He had one leave of fifteen days during the two years.

From Camp Shank, N. Y., Elmer left for overseas Oct. 16, 1944. He landed in Marshall, France, still with the 163rd Infantry Division. He first saw action at Epinal, France. He was hit in the left leg in Southern France by German artillery on the twentieth of November. Elmer received a battlefield commission as Second Lieutenant Jan. 14, 1945.

He was transferred to the 26th Division after that. He was wounded again in Oberndorff, France, when he was hit in the right leg, face and back by mortar. He was hospitalized in the Paris 48 General hospital for some time and then he was sent to the 123rd General hospital in England for four months. Later he was sent back to the 23rd hospital in France.

On Sept. 1 he left England for home. Sept. 4 he landed in New York and was sent to Camp Kilbourne, New Jersey. He received a 45 day leave from Camp Grant, Illinois. He was discharged Jan. 4, 1946 at Camp Crowley.

Elmer worked at the Ford Motor Co. for a while but started at the post office March 9, 1946. His job is to sort mail, deliver and take charge of parcel post. He estimates that he makes about $60 stops a day, delivering at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Elmer holds the expert infantry badge, Combat Infantry badge; two purple hearts, two bronze stars for every under fire, E-10, two

Youth Rally at Walled Lake Next Sabbath

Rev. C. C. Miller, young pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church of Detroit, an outstanding youth leader, will be the guest speaker at the Inter Lakes Youth For Christ Rally to be held Saturday, December 22, 8 p. m. at the Walled Lake High School.

The extra help who pitched in and made the local deliveries and cleanups possible each day were clerks — Mrs. Ruth Briggs, Buncha Dilenback, Mrs. Ruth Clark and Mrs. Georgia Johnson, and carriers Dale Bray, Jim Howick, Ray Hartner, George Rischer, George Koontz and Sprague Lester.

Postmaster clerks and carriers all took considerable pride in the prompt despatch of mail each day, with an clean up every night of the season to get a running start on the next day's volume. Mail Messenger Perini thinks he handled more mail to and from the trains this year than ever before.

According to Postmaster Fred VanAsta, the outstanding characteristic of the mail this last quarter was the large packages sent by localities to foreign countries, and an increase of about 10% in the volume of the money orders written here.

Veterans Told How to Buy Surplus Property

It was a long hard battle for veterans to buy surplus property on the home front, but at long last the War Assets Administration is trying to make it easier.

War Assets, now headed by Lt. General Robert M. Littlejohn of South Carolina, has a good booklet in stock, "Our Veterans' Guide to Surplus Property" and one "Surplus Property How - What - Where."

One does a good brief job of summarizing rights to surplus as a veteran and points out that the more detailed pamphlet is available free upon request from the War Assets Administration, 335 Casswood Street, Detroit 25.

One is the pamphlet needed for a complete guide to surplus buying. It is well illustrated with photographs and sketches. It is briefly and concisely presented. It tells where to apply—the regional office or the government agent handling a specific type of surplus—or to apply, the priority and procedure of buying and paying.

5 Some rationing and priorities may continue into 1947, but both will rapidly be eliminated. Government regulations will gradually be lessened. World War II will officially be ended.

6 The retail prices of most manufactured products will be higher sometime during 1947 than at present. The prices of some

Sheng Dan Jieh —

A Holy Festival

The celebration of Christmas is gradually becoming widespread in China as more and more families are converted to Christianity.

Sheng Dan Jieh—literally, New Birth Festival—is the Chinese name for Christmas. Private homes are decorated with flags with posters interlaced with Chinese characters meaning Peace, Good Will, etc. The Christmas tree is also popular; somewhat called the Tree of Luck, it is usually made of paper mache and, gilded with paper flowers and ornaments, it is not artificially lighted.

Gifts are exchanged while passing circles and there are "surprises" for the children. American lead pencils, picture books and even cast Christmas cards are exceedingly popular.

Early mass on Christmas morning is the focal point of the religious observances. Lantern-lit processions enter dark churches before dawn and, after mass, wend their way home singing Chinese translations adapted to the original melodies of "Hark! the Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night," and other traditional Christmas carols.

One hundred more bushels of potatoes to the acre is a lot of spuds.

Neil Morrison, Grand Traverse farmer, astonished his neighbors by doing just that.

The surprising thing is that Neil did not employ some new kind of fertilizer and he did not have some new fangled brand of potatoes.

Some potatoes; same soil; same weather—yet 100 more bushels to the acre!

How did it happen? Well, listen to Russell G. Hill, secretary of the Michigan soil conservation committee.

"You'll have to take Neil Morrison's word for it," said Hill. "I even hesitate to cite his case as an example of the benefits of soil conservation. It is so remarkable, so hard to believe."

Agricultural experts insist that one of the problems of Michigan potato culture is soil moisture deficiency. Mr. Morrison has consistently obtained better yields of potatoes by doing a very simple thing. He planted his potatoes on the contours of the land. Contour plowing retained the rainfall, and the moisture seeped slowly into the soil, giving the potatoes added development. Result: A lot more potatoes than before.

Having attended a recent meeting of the Michigan Food Council at which Prof. Carl Card of Michigan State College referred to the bumper potato yields at the college's irrigated potato farm at Lake City, we agreed with Hill. Unusual as it is, Mr. Morrison's yield is 50 per cent less than the tested record of the Michigan State College demonstration farm. Irrigation is a sure way to insure adequate moisture for potato culture. Apparently it pays big dividends.

So does modern soil conservation.

Because it is profitable to do so, approximately 80,000 farmers in 36 Michigan counties have organized soil conservation districts under Michigan law of 1937.

These districts cover about one-third of the agricultural land of the state. Considering the fact that the 36 districts have been formed in less than ten years, such progress is encouraging.

Farmers are conservative by tradition. Michigan farmers, too, are mostly Republicans and many of them have been cool to ideas coming out of Washington in recent years.

Yet soil erosion is not a national or state problem. It is a world problem which has existed in many centuries.

Two British scientists, G. V. Jones and R. O. White, maintain that the loss of soil fertility due to water and wind soil erosion destroyed or scraped off the Mediterranean civilizations, ancient and modern, from Athens and Rome to Italy and Spain to say nothing of the once fertile plains of North Africa. General Smuts of South Africa has stated, "Erosion is the biggest problem confronting the country, bigger than any politics."

Plato gives an amazingly accurate technical account of deforestation and erosion in the mountains of Attica which destroyed the farms of the plains and drove the Greeks to become seafarers and traders.

It's not new—this thing called soil erosion.

The federal soil conservation service recently made a national soil survey.

Findings were sensational.

More than 100 million acres of our best crop land has been irretrievably ruined for further cultivation by soil erosion caused by

FANCY PANTS . . . Six-months-old Nancy Sue Fohn, daughter of Mrs. L. J. Fohn, San Antonio, Tex., wears an expression that says "Yip, it has come to this," as she waddles around the house in her new, gaily-decorated three-cornered pants. Material shortage brought about the startling change. Mothers in San Antonio took advantage of sale of hand towels hence the labels, "Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, etc." and in the case of twins there is always the "his" and "her."

rain and wind. Of the total crop land now in use—a bit more than 400 million acres—about 150 billion acres has been so severely damaged by erosion to make farming difficult or unprofitable.

Hard to believe is the experts' warning that man-made erosion is moving more than three billion tons of rich topsoil every year down into our rivers and reservoirs and out to sea. Carried out to a logical end, this loss of natural resource means the difference between food and famine.

The soil conservation district is a democratically formed cooperative campaign, voluntarily chosen by farmers and directed by farmers, to restore fertility to the soil, to safeguard the present topsoil that is left; to check the continuing damage of water and wind soil erosion and to get the best use of the land.

Here are some illustrations of benefits to Michigan farmers. Isle marshes in Ingham county have been converted into lush dairy pastures by seeding reed canary grass.

Tuscola county run-off plots have demonstrated that contour crop rows, instead of rows that go up and down the slopes of land, have produced 200 more yield per acre. More moisture is retained in the soil, nature's own topsoil is not washed away.

A survey of one Michigan farm where contour farming methods had been perpetuated, revealed a loss of $4,000 in farm valuation in 12 months due to erosion alone.

Close to 16,000,000 evergreen trees have been planted in Ottawa county, first in Michigan to utilize the benefits of soil conservation. Trees reduce soil erosion by wind and create new wealth for the farmland.

A newly developed tree planting machine, available to farmers in many corners of the districts, can plant 1,000 trees an hour. It can operate it.

The list of benefits is long. Your story is impressive. We remarked to Mr. Hill at the conclusion of our interview, "Why don't more Michigan farmers use these methods?"

More farmers are doing so every year, he replied. "It is a steady development. We are optimistic about the future because soil conservation is fundamentally sound. It sells itself."

Babies

Bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture has studied the rabies problem thoroughly. It favors a control program that includes vaccination of dogs, along with the other standard control measures, such as prompt segregation of any dog suspected of being rabid, prompt examination of the brain of any suspect dog, quarantines and impounding of all strays.

Christian Science Churches

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 29.

The Golden Text (1 Peter 2:9) is: "Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 107:15, 20): "On that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men." He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.

Need Much Space

Cucumbers require so much space and produce such a small amount of food per unit area of land they generally are not grown in the smaller gardens. They are not only frost-sensitive, but require warm weather for good development. They are especially susceptible to various insects and diseases, so that frequent spraying or dustings are necessary.

IT'S REALLY THE TRUTH

YOU CAN BOIL EGGS IN

COLDWATER.

IT'S ALSO TRUE -- THAT IT IS EASIER TO

DEAL HERE AND PLAYSAFE --

AND WE WILL PROVE IT!

Wild meat that is young and tender may be broiled, fried or roasted;

older meat is braised or fricassee

(smothered). If the hunter brings in game of different ages to be cooked together, the cook will be wise to use long, slow, moist cooking which makes tougher meat ten-durable. Allowing older meat to age for several days and then parboiling before cooking also helps.

What the Well-dressed Lamp Bulb WONT wear!

1. NOT THIS—Too small a lamp shade looks as ridiculous as a pill-box hat on an otherwise stylish coat. Insufficient, too, for only a tiny area is lighted. The moral: Lamp shades with flaring sides are better than straight-sided ones.

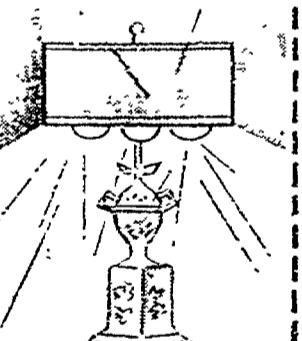

2. NOR THIS—The smartest Harry Carnegie creation is ruined if your slip is showing. And the same is true of your lamp bulbs. They're not only unsightly—their glass can tire eyes and brain—even cause headaches or harmful eye strain.

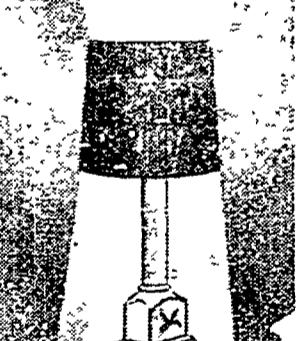

3. NOR THIS—One gloomy bug can spoil any party. Don't let your lamp shades be funeral or depressing. They can affect your entire room. Outfit your lamps with light-colored shades, preferably those with white linings.

4. CERTAINLY NOT THIS! Do your lamp shades bulge at the seams? They're flashy and garish—hard on the eyes and on the nerves. Make sure that your lamp bulbs aren't too big for their shade.

5. GOOD HEAVENS, NO! Like any lady with self-respect, a lamp bulb wants to be perfectly groomed—immaculately dressed. Keep bulbs, shades and reflector bowls free of light-sealing dust and grime.

6. IT'S SO EASY TO BE SURE— Your eyes' best friend is the "Light-Meter," a scientific instrument that tells the quantity of your lighting. With it, your Edison Home Service Advisor can quickly check over your lamps and fixtures... if necessary show how your lighting can be easier on the eyes. Arrange for a Home Service Advisor to call on you today.

THE NORTHVILLE RECORD

Northville's Yesterdays

ONE YEAR AGO

Last week the Northville Exchange Club elected officers for the ensuing six months. Orson Johnson is the new president.

Northville Varsity and Freshman teams gave Clarenceville a double-ease or defeat in the two basketball games on the local floor Friday night. Freshman score was 46 to 36; Varsity 29-14.

Funeral services for James Ray Lansing were held at Schrader's funeral chapel Saturday, December 19.

The W. A. Rossows of Rayson street had a harrowing experience Christmas afternoon. While returning to Northville on Seven Mile Road a carload of colored people broke over the hill at a terrific speed skidded and whirled around striking the Rossow car broadside. Several injuries were sustained by the family, one boy breaking his arm.

The Presbyterian church was crowded to capacity Sunday evening for the annual rendition of the "Messiah."

A fire practically destroyed the Walled Lake Packing Co. last week when flames broke out in the Men's locker room Wednesday, Dec. 19, at 2:30 p.m. and lasted until about 12 p.m.

The weather man really gummed up the Christmas plans of hundreds of local people when Christmas eve falling rain froze and covered the highways with sheets of glazing ice.

U. S. DELEGATION TO UNITED NATIONS . . . Members of the U. S. delegation attending the United Nations general assembly at Flushing Meadows, New York City, talk it over before session. Left to right at the meeting are: Rep. Charles A. Eaton, New Jersey; Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the former president; Warren E. Austin, Vermont, senior representative; Rep. Sol Bloom, New York, and Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas, California.

The Northville Presbyterian old Armstrong, Paul B. Thompson and Harry Rattenbury, were standing in the balcony.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Gleason are rejoicing over the recent arrival of a ten-pound boy.

B. J. Thompson is usually robbed about four times a year. The semi-annual holdup occurred Saturday night while he was returning home. Bryant claims that the loss this year was two watches and a small amount of money.

What might have been a serious accident occurred between here and Plymouth Sunday night. Dr. D. B. Henry's team ran away, going down Main street and following the D. U. R. track to the bend near Cass Benton where the horses stumbled through the culvert. The 6 30 car would have run over and killed the horses in coming around the bend had it not been for the quick action of the motorman in throwing on the brakes, stopping the car about six feet from them.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thirty-five old friends and relatives gathered Dec. 21 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Murdoch to renew them that it has been 50 years since Mr. Murdoch brought his young bride from her home in Ypsilanti. Less than five years have been spent away from the home of their choice.

The use of the Penniman-Allen theatre and its attractions for one evening, without charge, has been very generously offered by the management to the newly organized welfare committee of Northville.

Three things carried on a profitable business in their particular line of work Dec. 17, when they collected a total of $193 from three Northville residents. The robbery took place in the house adjacent to the Shill gas station at the intersection of Plymouth Avenue and Johnson street, the victims being Leo Petz, Clarence Voi and Myron Taylor.

PRESSING
To give a prepared coat a finished look, steam press wool fabric. Protect it with one of the treated press cloths which can be bought with directions for use, or by covering the wool with a dry wool cloth, then a dampened cotton cloth. To steam press, set down, then lift the warm iron with just enough force to drive steam through the wool, and after pressing lift the cloths and beat the fabric by hand or with a wood block to drive out steam. Be sure that the lining lies smooth under the coat.

To Special Reconversion
It's an old story now, but still vitally important. Save all used kitchen fats, put them in tin containers and deliver to your butcher who will give you four cents a pound for fats. Every pound of fat saved speeds reconversion.

Saint Nicholas

Day in Holland

When Christmas rolls around in Holland, it is quietly and religiously observed: St. Nicholas Day, December 6, is the day of gift-giving and jollification.

For weeks, life-sized figures of St. Nicholas have decorated shop windows and men dressed as Nicholas have stood in front of business establishments and driven around in horse-drawn carts delivering presents.

At last the great day arrives: there are several children in the household, sometimes they are gathered together from neighboring households. Bishop Nicholas (dressed in full vestments and accompanied by his Moorish servant) attends the children's party and impresses them by his knowledge of their shortcomings and chides them fatherly before distributing the dainties and gifts he has brought for them.

After the youngsters have had their fun the grown-ups sit around a festive table and open the surprises. Small gifts are baked in loaves of bread, packed in cans or crates, wrapped in bales of paper—each wrapped directing the present to a different person; the longer the chain and final recipient remain unknown, the greater the general jollification.

Indicative of the spirit of the season, packages containing gifts are often entrusted to strange passers-by who are instructed to leave the parcel on such and such a doorstep and ring the bell.

These few short words are the only way we can think to express our gratitude to you and our wish for your health and happiness this coming year.

BABSON

8. The great question mark of 1947 will be how labor is to behave. Higher wage rates and less production per man, inevitably mean higher prices.

FARM OUTLOOK

9. Pending a weather upset, more bushels of corn and wheat and of some other products will be raised in 1947 than ever before in our history. Although some prices may slide off, the total farm income for 1947 should hold up fairly well. But farmers should diversify more in 1947.

10. There should be an increase in certain fruits, fish products and vegetables with a decline in prices. The United States will have more to eat in 1947 than in 1946, probably 10% over the present level.

11. Dairy and poultry products will continue to increase in volume with no increase in price, but fats, sugar and some canned goods will continue short.

12. Farmers will start in 1947 to work to extend legislation on their parity program due to fear of a collapse in farm prices.

TAXES

13. Taxes will not be increased during 1947 and there should be further reductions. More business taxes may be eliminated altogether.

14. The Federal Debt will be decreased during 1947 and the Federal Budget may be balanced by June 30, 1948.

15. The cost of living will continue to rise during 1947 due largely to the lack of interest in their work by so many wage workers.

INFLATION

16. The inflation era, which has been forecasting for several years, will be in full swing, but the effects of inflation will not come until after 1947. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decrease.

17. The relative value of oil, rubber, cotton and the same items in 1947, as quality goods will still be more expensive than raw materials purchased.

18. The value of foreign currencies will be determined by the political situation.

19. The relative value of all retail sales will be the same in 1947. Price stability needs will still be more expensive than raw materials purchased.

20. The Government will try to demand better management and closer labor-management relations. Such prospects are not bright for 1947, but Congress will speed or amend some of the labor laws which are very unfair to management.

21. The inflation era, which has been forecasting for several years, will be in full swing, but the effects of inflation will not come until after 1947. The purchasing power of the dollar will continue to decrease.

22. All wage increases will be greater than price increases.
