Northville's Yesterdays

ONE YEAR AGO

A memorial service was held at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning during the morning worship service, honoring the memory of Pic James A. Reid, who was reported "killed in action" in Germany, June 12. Mrs. Ida Hendryx will teach her nephew birthday next Monday, January 7. Plans have been made for a big celebration of the event at the King's Daughters Home in Redford where "Aunt Ida" makes her home.

According to their annual custom, the young people of the Northville Presbyterian Church entertained the young people of nearby Presbyterian churches at an all day Snow Party last Friday. Two hundred and fifty-two boys and girls took part in the outdoor sports which included skating at Ford pond and tobogganning.

Last Monday evening fire broke out in the ceiling of the Budd Pool Room on North Center street. Games were confined to the ceiling of the building.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church was the scene of a wedding which united Phyllis Lyke and James Odgers MM 2/c in marriage.

The Weatherman reversed himself for the opening of the New Year after spoiling many of the Christmas plans of the people of the community. New Year's Day dawned cold and clear with the mercury about 8 above at 7 p.m.

FIVE YEARS AGO.

Following the annual custom of honoring the first baby born in Northville in the New Year, Neil Hannaford of the Northville Hardware, this week announces a most appropriate gift. The first baby born in 1942 will receive a Rogers baby Silver Set.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Casterline have purchased the Holmes Gift Shop from Mrs. Dayton Deal and are opening it in a new location at 125 East Main Street.

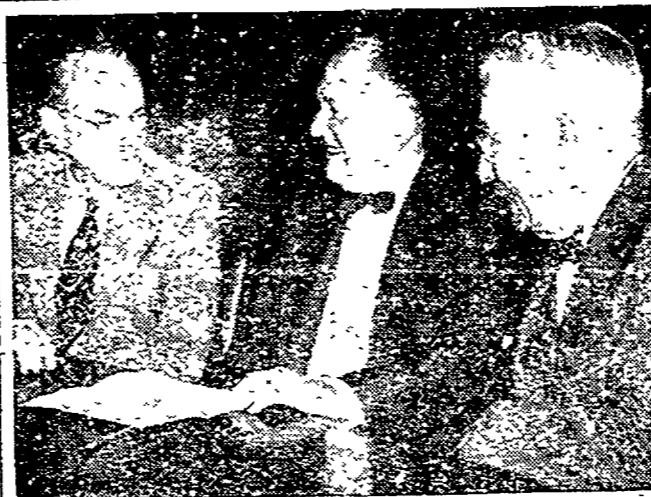

Pvt. Harley Balko surprised his parents Sunday morning with a belated Christmas gift by calling them from Houston, Texas.

Enough milk to amply provide for a newborn baby until he is old enough to eat has been produced in one year by a Holstein cow owned in the Wayne County Training School.

The annual Christmas Decoration contest this year drew heavy competition throughout the village. In the business houses competition, first prize was awarded to the Woolen Goods store. In the residence competition in the prize was for the first time divided between two homes, the Roy Howell home and the Higginbotham house.

DISCUSSION ON HIGH FINANCE . . . Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder, attends first of a series of meetings at the treasury department, in which bankers and insurance executives will be asked for advice in the shaping of a policy for government financing. At the meeting are, left to right, Secretary Snyder, Robert Fleming, chairman American Banker's association committee on government borrowing, and C. W. Bailey, vice president of the American Banker's association.

say for the shelving and placing of doors, the Christmas recess is not moving time for the grade school teachers who planned earlier in the year to move into the $85,000 building which is nearly ready for occupancy and which is to replace the one destroyed by fire January 13, 1936.

Funeral rites were held Dec. 30 for Joseph Blake, 44, who died Dec. 23.

Northville's death trap at the corner of Novi and Eight Mile Roads was investigated by an engineer from Wayne County's highway department.

Mrs. Melvina Carpenter, 83, died Wednesday.

Arlene Richardson and Elden Eberly were united in marriage Dec. 25.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO:

The depositors' committee of the Northville Lapham State bank has presented plans for the reorganization of these banks to the banking department of the state and the department has now framed a plan which is similar to the plan presented to Rudolph E. Reichert, state banking commissioner.

Northville's newly organized welfare committee, after considerable planning and careful study, is ready to proceed with a survey of the entire community, with a view to determining what resources will be available to meet the need in the winter months still ahead.

Northville friends of Bebe A. Northing were greatly shocked Wednesday to learn of his sudden death in Lakeland, Fla.

The spirit of the holiday season was greatly enlivened at the Cozell House in this city last Sunday by the celebration of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Cozell.

The assessed valuation of Northville township, both real and personal, has dropped, announced Supervisor Willard A. Ely, from $5,524,869 in 1936 to $4,757,833 in 1931.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

Our Little Ball team turned the trick on McMillan High last Thursday by a score of 24-24.

Almo had nice sleighing in the village.

The Board of County Auditors are inquiring to their joint annual scrap.

Word was received here yesterday afternoon of the sudden death of Dr. Fred Cartwright, dentist of Detroit, who for some time was a resident of Northville. He dropped dead on the street.

There was a regular picnic in the dining room of the Park House last Friday evening when a mace was discovered capering around on the floor. A rescue alarm was rung and the women folks lined up at one end of the room with the "short skirt grab" in their hands and a wild look in their eyes. Bob Peckell and Fred Taft started in to save the girls and become candidates for a Carnegie medal.

Early Rising

It pays a homemaker to get her family up 15 minutes earlier in the morning in order to avoid that breakfast-time rush and confusion which often results in upset feelings.

Former Pastor Active Spokesman for Moderation

The Rev. Dr. Thomas W. Smith, for a number of years Pastor of the local Presbyterian Church and although honorably retired is still an active advocate in opposition to the liquor interests. The following is an excerpt taken from a letter in "The Presbyterian Tribune."

LIQUOR ADVERTISING

To the Editor:

In your August number (page 23) you write, "Both Time and Life have been presenting accurate reports of newsworthy events in all Christendom — Of course the editor-in-chief of Time and Life—Henry R. Luce is the son of a Presbyterians minister, the late Dr. Henry W. Luce, long a great missionary in China."

I knew the late Dr. Luce when he was a fellow student in Union Seminary and I would expect great things of his son. You also tell us that the managing editor of Time is T. S. Mattice, the son of an Episcopalian clergyman.

Now, if I am not mistaken, both these magazines derive great income from elaborate advertisements of alcoholic liquors. I understand that Mr. Henry R. Luce was one of the speakers at the General Assembly, being a loyal Presbyterian. How does this fit in with the report of the Standing Committee on Social Education and Action adopted by the Assembly? "We deplore the fact that the advertising of alcoholic beverages is destined to have, especially upon the mind of youth." Also, "We, therefore, recommend that the General Assembly instruct the Department of Social Education and Action to prepare, with legal advice, a model bill prohibiting or regulating the advertising of beverage alcohol."

It may be that the editor-in-chief and managing editor may not have anything to say about the policy of the magazine they edit. We should expect that the sons of ministers would have strong convictions upon ending or putting so devastating a traffic in that beverage alcohol.

Kim Sigler, one-time Nebraska cowboy, became the 50th governor of Michigan this week.

Dubbed "the maddest man in Michigan" by Karl Deiter, a national magazine, Sigler did not appear to be particularly mad about his meteoric rise to greater responsibility and new opportunity.

One year ago he was a grand jury prosecutor, widely proclaimed for his fearlessness and legal skill. He was ready to release new batches of indictments in slot machine and chain barking cases. And after the trials, he contemplated a return to an excellent and profitable legal practice in Battle Creek.

What happened in the spring of 1946 was significant to the Sigler administration. It now casts shadows of coming events.

Sigler became overnight the most talked about man in Michigan.

Yes, such was the case despite two major reverses. Frank McKay, still placed in the villain's roll in the Siglerian drama, was acquitted by a court jury. McKay's acquittal led to an unexpected state senate investigation into Sigler's conduct of grand jury affairs. This inquiry, headed by a Mr. Clement, led in turn to Sigler being fired as grand jury prosecutor by Circuit Court Judge Louis E. Coash.

Loss of the McKay trial was bad enough. But being kicked out as grand jury prosecutor was a climatic insult. Instead of being a hero, Sigler was pictured as a bum. He didn't like it in fact, he was madder than a wet hen.

This writer tries to watch the Lansing parade of personalities and events with some objective detachment. We always regard the governor as a public servant in a democracy which needs full enlightenment of facts if it is to function for the welfare of the people.

We clearly foresee the logical reaction to the Sigler mind. This reaction appeared in the election of March 21, 1946, prior to Sigler's candidature: Why should Sigler want to run for governor, to be vindicated of his past on every count?

BOY MEETS GIRL . . . A romance at the Bronx Zoo in New York is no barrier to two lovers who do a bit of long range necking as they meet for the first time. Jack, right, a 15-foot 17-year-old giraffe, decided it was time to have a mate, so a 3-year-old female named Jill (left) was imported from East Africa. They'll occupy adjoining compartments because it will be a couple of years before the romance blossoms.

Sigler was to run for the governorship.

With no organization back of him, he accomplished a political impossibility. Why? Largely because of the public's admiration of a fighter. Kicked out as prosecutor, Sigler was smeared by a report of the senate legislative committee. The smear hit the press at the eve of the election.

While Sigler did not get a majority of the primary vote, he did lead other contestants by a hefty margin—enough to prove that a lot of Michigan men and women, independent in their political thinking, resented what appeared to be grossly unfair accusations.

These accusations were deemed unfair because the accuser himself was suddenly indicted for alleged graft and corruption in his own county—an overnight development that crystallized public sentiment like a rolling snowball.

Sigler, the political miracle man, owes his election to the acquittal of McKay, an arch enemy.

The above background of events is important, as we see it, in judging the new personality of the Sigler administration.

Child Care Tip

Here's a solution to the old problem of keeping a youngster covered at night: Sew two of his largest crib blankets together on both sides and at one end, forming a sleeping bag.

Tuck baby in the bag first, then put on the other covers. If he kicks off the covers, he still has the protection of his sleeping bag.

OBITUARY

ARTHUR T. ROSS

Arthur T. Ross passed away December 26 at Receiving Hospital, Detroit, of a heart ailment. He was fifty-two years old.

Funeral services for Mr. Ross were held at the Casterline Funeral Home last Saturday afternoon with Rev. W. Leslie Williams of the Methodist church officiating. Interment was made in Oakland Hills Cemetery.

Surviving are two brothers, Norman L. Ross of Los Angeles, California, and Walter F. Ross of 4420 West Ten Mile Road, and a sister, Mrs. Edward McLean of Alvinston, Ontario.

Mr. Ross's home was in Detroit. He was a machinist by trade and had been employed at the Budd Wheel Company of Detroit.

DAVID HAY SR.

David Hay Sr. passed away at his home on Beck Road December 30 at the age of fifty-nine years. Mr. Hay had been in poor health for some time and died of a heart attack.

Funeral services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home Thursday afternoon with Rev. Harold Fredsell of the Presbyterian church officiating. Interment was made in Ruval Hill Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eleanor Hay, of the home, a son, David Hay Jr. of Northville Road, two brothers, Arthur Hay of Detroit, James of California, and two grandchildren, Joseph and David Hay II.

Mr. Hay was born in Canada and he and his family have resided on Beck Road for about fifteen years. He was last employed at the Kaiser-Frazer plant.

PRESSING

To give a repaired coat a finished look, steam press wool fabric. Protect it with one of the treated press cloths which can be bought with directions for use, or by covering the wool with a dry wool cloth, then a dampened cotton cloth. To steam press, set down, then lift the warm iron with just enough force to drive steam through the wool, and after pressing hit the cloths and beat the fabric by hand with a wood block to drive out steam. Be sure that the iron lies smooth under the coat.

NEWS AND NOTES OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

MEDLER - RAYMOND

A wedding of interest to Northville folks is the one which occurred recently in Flint which united Ruth Joan Medler of that city to Russell J. Raymond of Gladwin. Joan, as she is known here, graduated from Northville High School with the 1942 class.

Rev. L. LaVerne Finch read the ceremony over an altar flanked with cathedral candleabra palms, and tiffany baskets of large white pompons and gladioli. Given in marriage by her father, Hugh W. Medler, the bride was attired in white satin styled with sweetheart neckline and trimmed with seed pearls, the full skirt ending in a circular train. She wore a white accessories and an orchid finger tip veil of illusion net held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a white prayer book topped with an orchid.

A cousin of the bride, Mrs. Frank Kestel was matron of honor, and she wore a pastel pink net and lace gown, and carried a bouquet of roses.

KINGS DAUGHTERS TO MEET

The annual meeting of Mizpah Circle of Kings Daughters will be held at the home of Mrs. John Litsenberger, 132 W. Dunlap St., Tuesday, January 7.

A cooperative luncheon will precede the meeting. Members are asked to furnish their own table service and a passing dish.

HAS WEEK-END GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eaton of Eaton Drive entertained last week-end their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eaton of Ann Arbor and a classmate of Frank's at the University of Michigan, Ramesh Engineer of Bombay, India.

Sunday afternoon they attended the S. K. Stephens open house, and in the evening, they helped David Scott, small grandson of the Lee Eatons, celebrate his third birthday. David's parents are Mr. and Mrs. David McCullum and Mrs. Frank Clark presided, serving fruit cake and individual cakes decorated with yellow roses, served with tea by Miss Mary Flent and Rev. and Mrs. M. J. Roman among several selections.

Guests came from Highland Park, Woodlawn, Northville and Farmington. Mr. and Mrs. Rice received a complete collection of their friends' telegrams, bouquets of flowers and gifts of gold.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stens of Grosse Pointe and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stott had Christmas breakfast and exchanged gifts with the Alfred Gow family. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gow had dinner with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gow.

Mrs. C. N. Wesley of Chicago has been visiting her mother and sister, Mrs. Jeanne Belnap and Mrs. Loren Leavenworth for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. David O'Leary entertained for several days the former's relatives, Mr. and Mrs.

FAMILY GATHERING

With their two sons home from service in the South Pacific, Christmas took on a different meaning this year, when the children of Mr. and Mrs. John K. Nelson gathered together Christmas Eve. To add to the real happiness of the day, Mrs. Nelson's sister and niece, Mrs. M. Mollach and Mrs. C. Enos, came by plane from Los Angeles, reaching the Detroit airport Christmas Eve. All gathered again on Christmas day. Those present besides the parents were, Mr. and Mrs. John Wohl and four children of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nelson and daughter of Redford, Jerry of the home, Corine Clark, Mrs. Mollach of Los Angeles and Mrs. Enos of San Diego.

HELD OPEN HOUSE

As in past years, Rev. and Mrs. Harold F. Fredsell entertained friends at an annual New Year's Day Open House at the Presbyterian Manse on East Main St.

Callers arrived between three o'clock in the afternoon and eight in the evening to greet the Fredsell and view their interesting collection of curios from Alaska.

How the School Is Rated

In the Student Council assembly Mt. Pierce brought to our attention that both the officials of the school and the referees rate each other during every game. This came as a surprise to a great many of us.

During every game our officials rate the referee on his ability and knowledge of the game. The referee is also rated on how he handles the boys on the floor. The reason for this rating is to determine whether the referee is capable of saying who makes the mistakes and what they are.

The referee rates us on clean playing and how the spectators act. Boeing lowers the rating of the school. During a free throw, silence should be maintained. If the students follow the cheerleaders in the yells the rating is better.

The result of low school rating is that other schools judge us by

HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

Last Sunday, open house was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Chapman of West Dunlap street from five until seven o'clock in the evening honoring their daughter, Lois, who recently returned from Italy and Greece, where she served as a member of the Red Cross.

About one hundred and twenty-five guests from Detroit and the village attended the affair. Assisting Mrs. Chapman were Mrs. Blake Northrop, Miss Katherine Kearns, and Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, all of Detroit, and Mrs. M. W. Miller of Northville.

About thirty-six members of the Northville Leathercrafts group set out for Howell last Monday evening, where they were to be entertained by Miss Joan Morgan of the Occupational Therapy Department of the Howell Sanatorium. Because of car trouble, the group was forced to turn around and come home. They then gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ford of North Center street and visiting end refreshments were the evening's diversion.

Last Monday evening, Dick Grinshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grinshaw of Grace Ave., was host to Jack Wilson, Peter Mellen, and Terry Chappell for dinner. The boys then went to the movies.

A few simple precautions may save a "simple" accident which could put you in the hospital or grave.

E. I. Besemer, county agriculturist, said drivers of tractors are in a greater danger in the winter than in the summer, but points out that accident hazards are even greater.

Winter tractor operation calls for extra care to prevent serious injuries.

Tractor engine oil, cold and unwarmed-up, inside tank and carburetor side canals become clogged by ice. If you have to start the tractor, turn up top a bit low, or open up plenty of ventilation.

Use sand or ashes in the road to get a firm footing for cracking. And be certain the tractor is out of gear.

Keep ice and snow clear of off-hat places, stepping places, and the driveway.

Wear safe clothing—slip belt, no jackets rather than long overcoats. Keep your coat tucked in and wear gloves or mittens with non-slip palms.

Don't refuel without stopping the engine.

Most farmers know the proper precautions they should take. All they need to do to prevent winter tractor accidents is to think before they act," the Agricultural adviser stated.

The cavalry recruit was instructed to bindle and saddle a horse. Ten minutes later the sergeant-major came along for his mount and found the recruit holding the bit close to the horse's head.

"What are you waiting for?" he roared.

"Until he yawns," answered the recruit.

The hunter came panting up to one of the party.

"Just met a great big bear in the woods," he said breathlessly.

"Good!" said the other. "Did you give him both barrels?"

The hunter wiped his perspiring brow.

"Both barrels," he returned. "I gave him the whole gun!"

The weather man arrived home in great excitement. "Guess what, dear?" he exclaimed. "I've been transferred to California."

"Well, that might be better for you," replied his wife. "The weather around here hasn't been agreeing with you lately."

Pupil: "Do you think it's right to punish folks for things they haven't done?"

Teacher: "Why, of course not, Willie."

Pupil: "Well, I didn't do my home work."

A sweet young lady was watching some soldiers drill. A rifle volley rang out. With a scream the lovely lady shrank back into the arms of a young soldier.

"Oh!" she exclaimed, blushing.

"I was so frightened by the rifles. Won't you please forgive me?"

"It's all right, the soldier assured her. "Let's go over and watch the artillery."
