New Record Heading Depicts Old Northville Spring and House

With this week's issue, the Record takes on a new masthead, conceived out of what is believed to be the village's oldest landmark, the old Northville spring located on Plymouth avenue.

The cool, clear, fresh water that flows from the spring now has been bubbling from the earth ever since the oldest residents of Northville can remember. The spring, so well known to villagers, is also visited by hundreds, who drive miles to fill jugs and bottles with the refreshing water.

Fred Fry of East Seven Mile Road, says that he had heard older residents say the spring was discovered by railroad workers when the tracks were put through this area. The water was piped through for use by laborers, and was later served in the railroad's dining cars.

Willard Ely of Linden street says he has known the spring since 1885. He said it served as a well for most of the residents of that section of the town when he was a boy. He can remember employees of the old Globe factory filling pails there to take back to the plant. Mr. Ely recalls the days when the Port Marquette railroad used to fill their tanks with the spring water.

The spring is on land that once was a part of the old Clark Griswold farm. The late Dean Griswold has been heard to say that it had been there as long as he could remember.

H. R. Richardson of West Main street said that when he was a boy, there was a tank at the spring. Railroad men going by on trains used to jump off the engine, fill their jugs, and then jump back on the caboose of the moving train.

In 1932, the Rotary Club built the structure which now covers the well. The work was done by volunteers of the club, and all the materials were contributed by members. Before that time, only a pipe jutting out of the ground with water gushing from it marked the site of the spring.

Ray Richardson donated the bucket, chains, and tile for the well which now covers the spring. Richardson built the wooden house over the well, and the stone curb on the bank back of the spring. Harry B. Clark donated the stones and drew them there with his truck.

The spring is on land which is now owned by the railroad. In the early part of the century, Elmer Perrin says that the depot was moved from the west side of Plymouth avenue to its present location. This entire area was filled in to raise the tracks and the depot to its present height, but the spring was not affected.

There are many theories concerning the source of the old Northville spring. It is believed it comes from the same vein of water as the Silver Spring, which is located just back of the depot. Some think the water emerges from somewhere in the west end of the old Griswold farm. Others feel it stems from Orchard Lake, and still others believe its inception lies in one of the many gravel banks around the village.

It is believed by many that Northville with its famed spring may have served as the inspiration for the nation-wide syndicated comic strip, the Nebbs, by Hess. It is a fact that the author of the strip and the late Frank Neal, then owner and publisher of the Record and village postmaster were friends. Hess visited Mr. Neal several times and it is said that the strip, which uses Northville as the town in the story, was fashioned after this village and the spring.

The Northville spring is one of many, for this entire vicinity abounds in springs. One of the most famous is the Silver Spring, the water from which is bottled and sold. It used to be known as the Deep Spring.

C. C. Verkes and F. J. Cochran first developed that spring about 30 years ago, and with Carl and Philip Bryan, old the water for a time in Detroit Newton Annex of the Annis Ford Company, Detroit, was also associated with the enterprise.

When the Deep Spring was in operation, the Silver Spring Company was selling water from a nearby spring. Their water became contaminated with oil seepage from railroad cars, and they bought the Deep Spring around 1920. When Verkes, Cochran, and the Bryans were marketing the Deep Spring water, they had it analyzed. It was found to be rich in sulphates, although it claimed no medical value.

Another well-known spring in the Northville area is the one near the Eastlawn Sanatorium on Eight Mile Road. Frank L. Thompson, found that spring when the Thompson family owned the land. Thompson's grandfather was using a peach or willow branch to find a water supply for his cattle. He found a spot where he believed water existed and his grandson began digging. A few feet underground he came to two pairs of locked deer horns, and when they were pryed from the earth, water spouted up.

The Thompsons piped the spring to Beck road, where it was used by farmers in the neighborhood. The water is now piped into the reservoir near the sanatorium.

One spring in this area, the Orchard Heights spring, was used in 1884 for the Cloverleaf Condensed Milk Company, the second such plant built, according to Harry B. Clark of Thayer Blvd. and John Rogers of Nine Mile Road. This spring was once used as a source of supply for village water, but became unsuitable and was abandoned.

The picture of the old Northville spring, which now appears on the Record masthead, is also printed on the checks of the Depositors State Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Van Hove and sons, Michael and Peter of Riverside, Calif. are visiting Mr. Van Hove's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Van Hove of West Main St. and other relatives in the Village. The Van Hoves are former Northville residents having resided on West Main St. and only moved to Riverside about three years ago.

Fined $100 for Drunken Driving

Charles Gum, aged 27, of 26376 Novi Road, Novi, was fined $100 plus costs of court, when he pleaded guilty Monday before Judge C. A. McCullough on charges of driving while intoxicated and without an operator's license.

It is said that Gum struck a car driven by Elmer Strong of Rochester Saturday evening on the corner of Griswold and Main street. Chief of Police Denton said that the car received minor damages but that no one was injured in the accident.

End Recreation Program Friday

The summer recreation program for Northville youngsters will close next Friday, August 22. During the final week of the program, recreation headquarters will be moved to the Scout Building. All activities will take place there and on Ford Field, except baseball and certain tournaments, which will be held at Cass-Benard Park and the school grounds.

A series of tournaments will be held next week to determine the champions for various events. Winners will receive ribbons and certificates.

A special program will end the summer play activities next Friday. It is to be called "On Wheels Day," and will be marked by a series of races for various age groups on bicycles, tricycles, scooters, toy wagons, and roller skates.

Entrants for the races should meet at the Scout building at 2:00 p. m. Friday, August 22. No entry blanks are necessary. Winners of first, second, and third prizes will receive ribbons. Free soft drinks will be served to all youngsters present.

It is estimated that approximately 5,000 youngsters will have attended the general program, and about 3,500 spectators and players will have taken part in the softball games.

Clinton Russell, director of recreation activities, says that he received a great deal of cooperation while conducting the summer program which resulted in much enjoyment for the village youngsters.

He suggested that businessmen in particular be alert to the changes brought about by the new law.

Finnish Widow Tells of Conditions in Helsinki, Finland

The following letter was received some time ago by the local post office from Saima Hakapalo. The letter was simply addressed to: Post Office Department, Northville, Michigan U. S. A. The letter was completely written in Finnish, and was translated by Eleanor Pelto of East Dunlap street.

Helsinki, Finland
My Esteemed Reader:
Hoping that someone in that faraway land can understand Finnish and our continued plight, I venture to write you, dear reader, to the address which I found at the place of my employment.

I am a widow from Helsinki; my husband died suddenly in 1944. Since that time I have been obliged to care for myself. Living with me is my invalid mother and my sister's family lives nearby on a farm. I take care of them as best I can. It hasn't been easy for it is difficult to get food and clothing on a small salary.

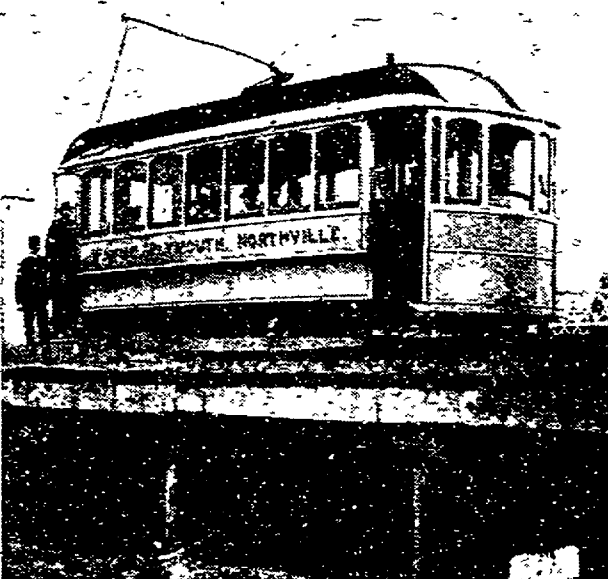

I have heard that you kind Americans have helped thousands of needy Finns. When I saw this address I decided to write to these strangers, for I have no relatives to whom I can turn for help. With humility I ask of you, dear reader, if there is someone (Continued on back page)

Home Damaged by Fire Tuesday

A fire of unknown origin broke out Tuesday, August 12, at the home of David Hopkins on Gerald Ave. The blaze was controlled by the local fire department before extensive damage was done.

The Hopkins moved into the house on Gerald Avenue during the early part of this week. Previously, they had lived in a trailer.

When Claude Waterman, Waterford plant protection, dug out the old negative of the Wayne - Plymouth - Northville trolley shown above he was quick to admit that he didn't know how old it was; but he explained that Charles Westfall, machine operator at the Plymouth Tap plant, used to be a motorman on the line and might know all the answers.

CHARLES WESTFALL

will keep him off the job until Sept. 1.

"Lord, no," said Charlie when he saw the picture. "That was way before my time. I can remember those cars when I was a kid and I'm 58 now. I didn't start as a motorman until 1920 and that was on the D.U.R. from Detroit to Jackson. It ran over the same tracks but was a long time after that picture was taken. My guess is that the picture is around 50 years old."

Following his discharge after World War I Charlie went to work for Ford at the old Dearborn Tractor plant, quitting a year later to become a motorman. "When Ford started building the Newburg plant in 1934 I hired on as a painter and worked both there and in the Plymouth plant until six years ago," he explained.

Then I quit painting and got assigned to Plymouth as a machine operator. As far as that picture is concerned you'll have to get some older timer than I and if you want the 'low down' I can tell you when and where the picture was taken or can you identify any of the people in it? The paper will publish any interesting letters submitted in the subject. Address them to Editor, Hydro Plants News, Ford Motor Company, Ypsilanti, Mich.

Northville Downs Now Employing Over 200 Northville People

As the Northville Downs enters its third year in Northville the relative importance of this industry begins to assert itself in our midst. Particularly is this evident in the economic structure of the community. A payroll check shows 213 from Northville and vicinity. The daily pay of these 213 totals $21,460.00 or $103,000.00 for the month.

The above payroll reveals the desire of the Downs to contribute to Northville's prosperity. Yet, it alone does not tell the whole story. The income of 150 households from room rentals and parking lots; the money rung up in cash registers on the Main street; the nightly stipend of $500.00 paid to the Village treasury; and the donations credited to local civic projects during the two year period should be mentioned.

While there is no way to accurately check the number of residents renting rooms to racing personnel, nearly 50 localities are making from $10.00 to $30.00 nightly from parking cars. In the business section a spot check showed 12 out of 14 businessmen answered "Yes" when asked "Does the Downs add to your cash register receipts?" Said Lou Stewart of the Northville Drug, "The Downs means added business to us during a relatively dull season of the year." Johnson's Gift Shop was thankful for the extra business in July and August and Leland Smith of the E.M.B. Grocery showed figures covering increased business during racing weeks. Northville Electric appreciates the business; Doreen's, Bretners and Atchinson's Gas Stations said "The Downs was additional business for them." No need to check the restaurants, they are filled to overflowing. Hendrix's Shoe Store, Brader's and the Northville Men's Store, Sibley's and Allan & Locke told how Downs business rated high with them, and they were glad to say so.

Residents receiving no direct income from the Downs offered varied degrees of tolerance and intensity to their objections. The loud speaker and the aroma from the stables were the two greatest objections. Some referred to the 2 o'clock "noisy groups." These objections are pertinent and definitely to be taken into consideration in appraising the situation.

108 at Baptist School Picnic

The Baptist Vacation Bible School had a picnic after its meeting last Monday, with 108 children attending. The beginners were taken to the home of Mrs. Fred Prescott on Randolph street, and Mrs. Theodore Parsons entertained the primary department in the City Park. Mrs. Walter Ballagh and C. N. Dahlager took their groups to Cass-Benard Park.

The School closes today with an achievement program. In keeping with the theme of the term, "Work," and when he saw the wagons (Gen. 45:27), the pupils have been constructing wagons and have shown one each day which answers the question, "Why Should I Be A Christian?" Parents and friends are invited to the program, which will be held tonight at 8:00 p. m. in the Baptist Church.

Receives Master's Degree From U.M.

Leila Rossow, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Rossow of Elm street, received her master's degree in German from the University of Michigan this week.

Leila, who is only 23, earned her A. B. degree in languages and literature from the University in 1946. Her minors were in Latin and English.

Although she intends to teach in the fall, Leila plans for the immediate future are not yet definite. She already has one semester of teaching to her credit, having served from February to June of this year in the Bethlehem Lutheran School, Detroit.

Leila was graduated from the Northville High School in 1942 and entered the University of Michigan in the fall of that year.

Bank Installs New Proofing Machine

In harmony with its avowed policy of keeping modern in its service, the Depositors State Bank of Northville has installed a new National Cash Register Proof and Distribution Machine.

Messrs. McLendon and Vetrano of Pontiac have been installing this latest device for up-to-the-minute banking and carefully instructing local operators in the use of the machine.

Under the new system deposits of checks are promptly distributed and proof of correctness available at once. Tellers need only to check depositor's cash and leave the checks to be proven and shown in balance through the use of the new machine. With the use of this new device and banking system tellers will be able to wait upon customers more rapidly and with equal accuracy.

Last Flickers Shown-Tonight

A real-for-true magician, Johnnie Wojtala, will be at the Northville Library tonight, Aug. 15, to entertain teen-agers following the showing of the last of the Friday flickers. Presented by the library and the Northville recreation committee, Wojtala's act will consist of fascinating feats of magic and will be a special feature terminating the series of movie programs. Because of this added attraction, the show will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m., according to Miss Margaret Burton, children's librarian, who is in charge of details for the evening.

Movies to be shown tonight are "Land of Liberty," an historical picture starring Claudette Colbert with Fred MacMurray, and a March-of-Time production called "Music in America."

Easy Nailing
 Dry native lumber is rather difficult to nail, but the following suggestions may help: 1. Lubricate nails with beeswax or transmission grease. Beeswax can be inserted into the hammer handle by drilling a hole in the grip. A small amount of the tip of the nail is sufficient. 2. Splitting can be reduced by blunting the tip of the nail. 3. Ease the nail in with light blows.

SERVEL HOLDS A BUSHEL OF FROZEN FOODS

Every meal will be more exciting—when you have one of the new 1947 Servel Gas Refrigerators. For its big clear across Frozen Food Locker holds a bushel of frozen foods—to provide you such out-of-season delicacies as strawberries, asparagus, spring chickens, all year round.

For fresh foods, the new Servel has both moist-cold and dry cold protection. Two de-aeration fresheners actually crisp up garden vegetables, keep fruits fresh and appetizing.

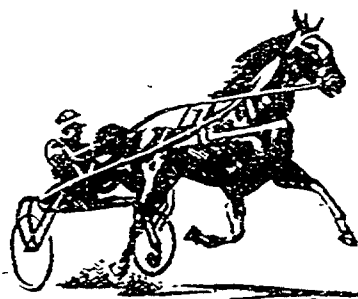

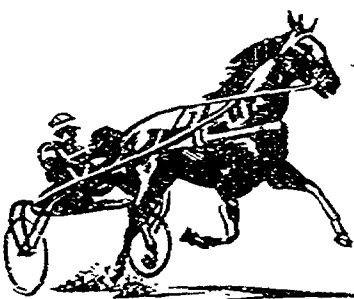

And the big Servel meat keeper protects meat tenderness for days. Shelves give extra usefulness because they adjust to eleven different positions.

Famous for silence, the Servel Gas Refrigerator is the only refrigerator with no moving parts in its freezing system. Instead, a tiny gas flame does the work. More than two million happy owners have proved Servel stays silent, lasts longer. Come see the new Servels on display today.

ON CAPITOL HILL--

By—
Congressman George A. Dondero
LAST NEWS LETTER: The first session of the 80th Congress came to a close on July 25, so this will be the last issue of "News and Comments from Congressman George A. Dondero" until Congress reconvenes. This column has been brought to you through the courtesy and kindness of the Editor of your local paper and I am sure that every reader has appreciated it as I have you. I do it for you. I have an opportunity to report to the people on what was happening in Congress and particularly on items in which the people were interested.
A large volume of work was accomplished in the seven months Congress was in session. A recess permits Members to return to their home districts to further serve their people. I plan to go over the district during my stay in Michigan and to confer with people. I have again opened my Congressional Office at 527 Washington Square, Building Royal Oak. If I should be away from the office, my secretaries will provide every possible service. Mail addressed to me will be answered promptly as usual.

RECORD ACCOMPLISHMENT: The 80th Congress, in its first session, with no cooperation from the Administration and with active opposition, has an outstanding record. It made a determined effort to carry out the mandate of the people as given to it in the 1946 election. The Presidential budget for the fiscal year 1948 was four times as large as any peacetime expenditure.

Take the Man out of Manure Handling

MANURE HANDLING is a great muscle builder for the farmer who has no other form of exercise. You know, farmers have plenty of tough, back-breaking chores, besides pitching litter out of the barn. Today, though, this time wasting labor can be a thing of the past, thanks to the electrically powered gutter cleaner.

Some barn cleaners work on an endless metal chain which runs in the gutter, removing litter by the conveyor principle. They clean the barn while you do the chores... needing no more than push-button attention for the entire operation. Driven by a small electric motor, and designed for any barn, this mechanically-simple device takes only a fraction of the time formerly needed by the pitchfork and wheelbarrow method.

The Farm Service Advisor at your nearest Edison office will be glad to give impartial advice on tested gutter cleaners. As a first step in mechanizing your barn cleaning, why not have him arrange for you to see one in operation? Talk with the owner and see for yourself how simple and inexpensive the chore of gutter cleaning can be when the man is taken out of manure handling.

Health NEWS
"Health News" is presented by your Doctor of Medicine as a health service of the Michigan State Medical Society.

Poisonous Plants
The wise woodsman is well acquainted with the plants and shrubs which grow in Michigan and he is very careful to give a wide berth to three: Poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac.

From personal or observed experience he has learned these innocent looking vines and shrubs can cause a great deal of grief when the unsuspecting person brushes past their leaves. Minute amounts of oil in these leaves cling to the skin and cause swelling and itchy blisters to form on parts of the body which have been touched by the poisonous leaves.

Some people seem to be immune to one or all of these poisonous plants while others are so susceptible that they become extremely ill when exposed to them. As a general rule, poisoning is more likely to occur when the skin is covered with perspiration or when one has just come from swimming.

Your best protection against such poisoning is to learn to recognize these poisonous plants and to steer clear of them.

Poison ivy and poison oak both have characteristic groups of three notched shiny leaves and are found as a low shrub, a rambling vine on the ground, or a climbing vine on trees and fences.

Poison sumac is a shrub and may grow 20 feet high. It can be distinguished from the harmless sumac by its loose, drooping clusters of white berries.

Wash with plenty of hot water and soap if you know you have been exposed to these poisonous plants. If the skin does become red and swollen and itches violently in one to nine days after exposure, consult your doctor of medicine.

NEWS AND NOTES OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

RICHARDSON - SMITH
Sally Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Richardson of Walled Lake, and Herman A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Smith of Novi, were married at 7:30 p. m. August 9, at the Baptist parsonage in Novi. Reverend M. J. Reinlein performed the single ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride wore a white gabardine suit and a large white picture hat. Her corsage consisted of pink roses. Sally's only attendant was Mrs. Homer Kent, of Novi. She wore a black dress and a corsage of yellow roses.

Homer Kent acted as best man for the bridegroom. The bride's mother was unable to attend her daughter's wedding because of illness. Mrs. Smith was dressed in brown for the occasion.

Immediately following the ceremony, 35 guests attended a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The young couple left for a week's honeymoon trip. When they return, they will make their home in Wixom. Herman is employed by the Novi Equipment Company.

Sally is a graduate of Walled Lake High School, and Herman is an alumnus of Northville High School.

Big Labor Savings By Modern Methods Improved Machinery Results in Profit Gain

The modern wheat farmer's labor is 14 times as productive as that of his great-grandfather.

Figures presented in the new Encyclopedia Britannica reveal that the hand methods of 1830 required 57.7 man-hours of labor to produce 20 bushels of wheat on one acre of land.

By 1896, machine methods had cut the time to a little under nine man-hours. In 1940, using tractor power, gang plow, tandem disc, harrow, drill, combine and truck, the amount of labor to produce 20 bushels of wheat was only slightly more than four man-hours.

Local Race Track Hits High Attendance, Halfway Mark

Northville Downs is nearing the halfway mark in its summer meeting, and betting and attendance figures for its fourth week of racing, now underway, indicate new all-time highs.

As of last Saturday night 107,100 harness fans flocked to the Downs, and they had wagered more than $155,600 a night during the first three weeks of the season. The attendance total represents an increase of more than 40% over the same period in 1946, and the pari-mutuel play is up more than 30% over the first three weeks of racing last year.

With the caliber of racing now being seen at the Downs, and with the arrival of more new horses daily, it is certain that the second half of the summer meet will sustain the betting and attendance performances already registered. More than 30 new trotters and pacers shipped into the track last weekend.

One of the new arrivals was Glenyce, Lou Huber's great trotting mare from Cincinnati. Glenyce is familiar to Northville fans, having established two new world records here last season, and her return to action will liven the trotting competition that has already been driven to high pitch by such stars as Moses, Porter Day, Gypsy Prince and Lingo Direct.

An innovation introduced at the Downs this week was the mile and a half classified trot. Tuesday night the three-lap distance feature was the first of the season here and track officials plan to run several more in the next few weeks.

Pacers on the grounds will be given a chance at the long grind and can shoot for the world record of 3:15 at the distance, set at Northville in 1945 by the fleet Little Jack.

Northville's feature stake races, scheduled for late this month and early in September, now loom as three of the top harness classics in the nation this year. The Michigan Pacing Derby on August 29, the Northville Driving Club Trot on September 5, and the Governor's Trophy September 12, all have attracted some of the speediest competitors now in action. Full fields for the $5,000 stakes will be announced late this week.

In both the Derby and the Governor's Trophy the sensational Dr. Stanton, Lindy Fraser's Canadian gelding, is expected to renew his bids for national racing supremacy.

Downs Employ

(Continued from Front Page) action. Each year the loud speaker has been toned down and it was lowered again last week upon request. Race officials state that new speakers have been ordered that will confine the announcing to the grandstand. Undoubtedly in certain weather conditions the inane smell is noticeable. Here again the management is aware of the situation and is doing everything in its power to reduce this nuisance to a minimum. As to the night prowlers, perhaps the owl police patrol might help.

Another Downs contribution is the $30,000.00 paid to the Village treasury each meet. The net after deducting determined expenses is earmarked for the building of a $200,000.00 community building. $50,000.00 is now invested in U.S. Bonds for this fund. This fall another $30,000.00 will be placed in this fund. There is some possibility now of the Downs advancing the 1948 payment so that the community building may be started next Spring. If this can be done some think this plan may save the school district thousands of dollars in providing housing for the present overflow of pupils.

Little is generally known about the direct and indirect donations of the Downs to local civic projects. We'll list major ones—

High School Band Uniforms $2500.00
Henry Ford Field 2000.00
Village Recreation 1001.50
Park Hospital project 967.50
Local Red Cross Fund 200.00

Indirectly the Driving Clubs contributions of $5000 to the Ford Field and $1000 to the Veterans Memorial Hall was made possible through the Downs. Other miscellaneous contributions to the Cubs Scouts etc. totalled something over $1400.00. The total of these donations passes the $3000.00 mark.

Thus in discussing the relative advantages and disadvantages of this enterprise Northville should know the related facts in order to make a just appraisal of the value of the Downs to the community. No business or enterprise is all "a bed of roses" and the presentation of facts leading to a fair appraisal of the Northville Downs must rate highly in its contribution to the economic welfare of the community.

Dairy Costs
Work in the dairy barn makes up more than 50 per cent of the labor of producing milk. Dairy barn arrangement, barn equipment, and methods of feeding and milking offer the most opportunities for cutting labor costs.

MICHIGAN Motoring

Michigan's calendar of special events is booked full for the month of August, offering the motorist unlimited horizons for interesting trips and vacation highlights.

If yachting takes your fancy, there is the West Michigan Yachting Association Regatta at Whitehall, August 1-3. Music lovers will want to go to Grand Haven, August 4, for the Music Festival, and to Interlochen for the final concert of the National Music Camp, August 18.

Planned for water sport fans are the Mid-West Outdoor Races at Mona Lake, Muskegon, August 10, and the Pentwater Homecoming Mona Lake, Muskegon, August 10. The Pentwater festival will include exhibitions by members of the Macatawa Ski Club on Pentwater Lake.

Motorists going to these special events should avoid last-minute speeding by allowing plenty of time for the trip. Sight-seeing is fine—but not when you're in the driver's seat. The motorist owes it to himself and his passengers to keep his eyes on the road, especially when traveling over unfamiliar highways.

VETERAN NEWS

From the OFFICE OF VETERANS' AFFAIRS LANSING
Permanent Overseas Cemeteries To Be Approved

A revision of the 1946 law authorizing return of bodies of war dead from overseas is now on President Truman's desk for approval, having been passed by the Senate in the closing hours of Congress.

The measure gives positive authority for establishment of permanent cemeteries overseas for the bodies of those not returned. A Senate amendment accepted by the House insures that the American Battle Monuments Commission will design and construct the cemeteries.

Other changes in the 1946 act give the Secretary of War power to leave bodies of unknown dead overseas instead of requiring him to bring them home, and give a fifth option for disposition of remains to next-of-kin.

This fifth option permits bodies to be sent to the home country of the nearest relative. The earlier options are not changed by the bill. Bodies may be brought to the United States for burial in a private or national cemetery, or may be left in the permanent cemeteries to be built overseas, or may be sent to the foreign homeland of the deceased serviceman.

ONTONAGON - The airplane just made a piker out of me. By steady driving and not tarrying in too many towns, I arrived here from Lansing with my 19-foot house trailer, ready for an Upper Peninsular newspaper conference and a vacation, all in a little less than two days and a half.

Considering that Michigan is such a big state and that the North peninsula stretches out over 320 miles from Sault Ste. Marie to Ironwood, I thought I was doing pretty well. In fact, I was about to drag about the accomplishment until Colonel Floyd arrived with a party of five newspaper editors.

Taking off from the Lansing airport around 1 p. m. Colonel Evans flew a Beechcraft airplane to this Lake Superior gateway to the Porcupine Mountain State Park in less than two and a half hours. Yes, only 150 minutes.

Colonel Evans' passengers ate luncheon at the state capital city and dinner at Ontonagon. And they did it easily with time to kill. Such modern air transportation promises to bind the Upper and Lower Peninsular together as nothing else could possibly do.

"There is every reason to believe that Michigan's tourist business, now doing a total volume of well over one-half billion dollars a year, can be augmented materially by the airplane and good airports," said Colonel Evans, director of the state department of aeronautics.

Tourists are able to come greater distances by air. Land and water are not barriers.

The airplane is still in its swaddling clothes. Back in 1929 when the legislature created the department of aeronautics, Michigan had only 27 airports. Today, it has 202 licensed airports and 16 seaplane bases, all meeting strict requirements for public safety.

We learned from Colonel Evans that Michigan leads all states in pilot training schools and in number of students. Today the Trans-Canada air line, a Canadian company, has been spending thousands of dollars to develop fields at Grand Marais and Houghton. Planes cross the border at Sault Ste. Marie and fly cross the Upper Peninsular rather than risk flights over the wilderness north of Lake Superior.

North Michigan is air minded in a big way. New airports are being pushed at Escanaba, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Marquette and Menominee. By 1950 the state hopes to lead all states with a comprehensive network of 300 safe airports and 25 seaplanes bases. All communities are being marked for guidance of pilots.

This country, north of the Straits, is looking more and more to the airplane for freedom from isolation. Next week I will tell you about packing in over-nights to Mirror Lake in the Porcupine Mountain State Park. The missus and I are enjoying a vacation in the north country, and we love it.
