

Century Old Village Hall Keeps Charm Through Years

By Florence Bilinsky

Of Northville's many charming old houses, the Village Hall is perhaps best known to most residents. Built around 1820 by William Gregory, the house was bought by Jared S. Lapham when he married Martha Gregory, daughter of the builder.

Jared and Martha had two children, both born in the house built by Martha's father. Their daughter, Mary E. Lapham, studied medicine in Germany, and became a noted pioneer in the treatment of tuberculosis. She established a tuberculosis sanatorium in North Carolina. The hospital was later destroyed by fire and not rebuilt.

Dr. Lapham gave the building which is now the Library to the Ladies' Library Association and the Northville Woman's Club, to be used by them for meetings and activities.

Mary's brother, William G. Lapham, was graduated from Princeton University and specialized in bacteriology. For some time he was a professor at the University of Virginia. William and his family were the last to live in the house. His son, Jared II, was born there. He also taught at the University of Virginia. William died on October 18, 1925. His wife, Edith, and his son, Jared II, sold the old house to the town in 1926, according to Mrs. Mary Alexander, Village Clerk.

Edward H. Lapham of High street, is a cousin of Jared, the first Lapham to own the white, green-shuttered building. Mrs. Lapham says the house was beautifully furnished, and had four lovely fireplaces. What is now the office was the library, and housed a fine collection of books. The room which is used for voting booths was a large drawing room overlooking the grounds. The valuable stained glass windows facing Main street were put in by William, the last owner. Back of the house, where the pumping station is now, were a carriage house and barn.

At one time there were many trees on the land next to the house, and the entire area was enclosed with a hedge.

The first and second floors of the house are used for village offices, and the third floor, once called the "old attic," is now used for storage of Red Cross materials. When the Laphams lived in the house, the attic contained billiard tables and was used for a playroom.

It is said that houses acquire a character of their own through the years, and the mellowness of the old Lapham house cannot be completely hidden by typewriters, desks, telephones, and the other impersonal furnishings of a business office.

Dr. Ashton Installs New X-Ray Machine

Used primarily as an aid in diagnosis, just recently there has been installed in the Plymouth building offices of Dr. G. K. Ashton, chiropractic physician, a new X-Ray machine. The unit is one of the largest in the country, and one of the first post-war units of its type in the state. It is called a "North American Philips" 1000 unit and is capable of taking a picture of the entire spine, in a 36-inch long negative.

The machine is available to any person or doctor in the Plymouth area. Being the first of its kind in Plymouth, Dr. Ashton feels that it will be of great service to people of the area. He also has facilities to develop the X-ray pictures so that there will be no delay in cases where speed in diagnosis is important.

Prior to the second World War, Dr. Ashton practiced in Northville, his office being located on West Main Street at the corner of Wing Street. He served in the armed forces and then opened up his practice in Plymouth following discharge.

If Detroit House of Correction team wins, they will have captured the league championship and will be awarded a cup.

A crowd of about 600 persons were on hand last Friday night at Ford Field to see Detroit House of Correction team beat the Ford Read Merchants by a score of 4-1, thus eliminating the latter team from the play-offs.

In the second game that evening in thirteen innings, Detroit House of Correction went on to beat Cavalcade by a 4-2 score. Trumbly for the Detroit House of Correction pitched both games brilliantly, striking out 42 batters in 20 innings.

Be Cautious Over Labor Day Week-End

Be cautious over the long Labor Day week-end, or your last fling at summer vacation may be your last fling. The Michigan Department of Health advised today.

The Department pointed out that while this week-end's hazards are similar to those of all the summer vacation time, the added hazard, that of excessively heavy traffic on the main highways of the state, makes added precautions imperative.

More cars will be on Michigan's highways during this week-end.

than during any other time of the year. Not only will Michigan people be enroute to a last vacation or enroute home for school opening, but myriads of out-of-state visitors will be similarly occupied. Traffic on Michigan's main highways last Labor Day weekend stretched as far as the eye could see in either direction, without break.

If you will travel during the week-end, the Department advises these precautions: Before leaving home have your brakes, horn, tires and steering apparatus checked. Start early. Take your time. Give the other fellow an ever-break. Be especially careful of country intersections at dusk. Avoid drinking if you do drive, and avoid riding with a driver who has been drinking. Obey traffic signs; most automobile accidents are caused by failure to obey traffic laws.

Other than traffic, other hazards to be considered seriously during the week-end lie in careless swimming and boating, overexposure to the sun, and overexertion.

Northville School Staff Announced

The Northville Public schools are in readiness for opening day of the fall term, on Thursday, September 4. Registration of students took place on Thursday and Friday, August 23 and 24.

Grade school youngsters are to report at 8:30 a. m., September 4, to get their assignments and books. All except kindergarten pupils will be excused at 10:00 a. m. Those who come in on the bus will be taken home. Kindergarten children will be divided into three groups on Thursday, and told what time to report on Friday, when they will be excused. On Friday, each kindergarten section will report at the specified time and remain in school for an hour.

The book store will be open all day Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, September 2, 4, and 5.

Superintendent Russell H. Amerman reports that there are two vacancies on the faculty yet to be filled. An art teacher is needed in the Grade school and an additional commercial teacher is required in the High school to take care of the greatly increased enrollment in that department. It is expected that the art position will be filled before opening day.

Amerman stated that the Grade school was fortunate in having every teaching position filled this year. Because of this, it has been possible to add a third section of the kindergarten class, which was badly needed, and an additional section of the second grade.

Work on the Breast and Vein Clinic on West Main street is completed. Use of the two buildings will be as follows: the first floor will be adequately fitted out in the various clinics.

Work on the Neal Building, 200 N. Main, will be completed as soon as possible. Adequate space will be available in the building for the various clinics.

WHAT ARE THE DUTIES OF A VILLAGE COUNCIL?

Several years ago, I as a boy watched the harness horse races between Northville and other community horsemen as they sped down Dunlap street in the late summer and in the winter when snow was on the ground. The outcome of this friendly rivalry was that a group of outstanding citizens of that time got together and decided that if there was enough popular opinion, funds and donated work for a race track, ball diamond, etc., that they would go ahead with the project.

This was put up to the entire community as a whole and the result was that about 300 people in the community, then of about 1500 population, put in dollars; others donated materials, while others donated labor. This combination of the majority agreeing and working together for a common cause brought about what is known today as the fair grounds now occupied by the Northville Downs. Many of the old timers will well remember that all that agreed that if this project would bring in around 5000 people a year to see our town, the undertaking would be a grand success. With the outcome of the Northville Downs in their splendid yearly successes, together with their employment of much local help and their generosity in financial aid to various local causes, the living members of the original group must feel that their wildest dreams have been fulfilled. They must also think with wishfulness that all of those first few people could still be here and see the grand results of their efforts as now seen at the Northville Downs.

Now that we have a stream of money coming into the Village Treasury from the Downs in amounts that make us gasp, as well as thousands of people coming into town every night, along with the usual "hurly-burly" that makes our town stand out in the whole U.S.A. as an up and going community, there enters into the minds of many of the citizens one outstanding question.

The question is: "Am I as a citizen of Northville going to have a voice in the handling of funds received in the Village treasury?"

We realize that we all get in on the deal when it comes to raising money through taxation to operate our community according to the wishes of the majority. We also know that funds received from the Northville Downs and payable to the Village of Northville have been put aside in a fund in itself.

This procedure brings up the question to me of just what are the duties of a Village Council. It is noted in your paper that the money from the Downs is being saved for a Community building. This is a fine plan — IF THE MAJORITY WANT IT. Did they decide this? If not, who did? It is also talked around the Village that the community as a whole would enjoy having this money being applied against their taxes, thereby reducing them yearly to possibly 50%. This plan would give financial aid to each and everyone in the community. This plan would also offset some of the necessary inconveniences as expressed in your paper. This is also a fine plan — IF THE MAJORITY WANT IT. It is also stated in your paper that the Community building would take pressure of the local school district by giving them rooms therein. While I cannot see why the Village should intercede in the business of the school district, they being entirely separate institutions, I will still say: This is a fine plan — IF THE MAJORITY WANT IT.

Should any of these, or any other plan be decided by the Village Council without a voice of the majority as to their opinions? Should the voters right of expression through the ballot be taken from them in this instance?

Is this business deemed as a duty of the Village Council? I, as a citizen, feel that these questions should be brought out in the open and answered by the citizens themselves. Yes, if you please, by a vote on the issues and whatever way the majority goes, let us all pitch in and do it. The money received from the Downs is paid to the Village of Northville in a generous way services rendered by the Village. No clique or minority group could decide how it will be spent. It is a problem fit for the citizens to decide. It is inevitable that individuals in the U.S.A. have always envied and wished their communities could envy in this instance.

Finally, the Village may have a school building later. That has not been decided to be built out. If they do not agree with my opinion, then that is their right. I believe that the voters have elected them by the rule of the majority in a voice vote of the people. All of them could have voted for it, and seem to be doing a very good job of thinking for the area. I believe that an educated citizenry is a valuable asset to any community. I hope to speak with the editor again about this. Give them the chance to tell the Council of their ideas through the ballot. You in turn do your duty.

I assume that my "Records" have been returned to Northville as I learned yesterday upon my arrival, that all mail that had come before I did had been "returned-to-the-sender." That is what I found out, when I called at the post office yesterday.

I also learned that the above address is the correct way of sending mail—rather than Vanport City, Oregon So, will you kindly change the mailing address on my paper?

We've had a wonderful summer. We've been in Seattle since August 6th and I found my relatives even nicer than I had remembered them. Those I hadn't met are equally fine.

We arrived yesterday afternoon (5 hours' drive from Seattle) and were able to sleep in our apartment last night, but we won't actually move in until tomorrow noon, when they will have finished painting it. It looks like a very livable place and close to my school—MacArthur.

My room at school is large, has all desired music equipment, lots of bulletin boards, movable arm chairs and looks very inviting.

I met my principal this morning and she is most pleasant and helpful—as are all the personnel with whom I have come in contact.

I am now in the Teachers Lounge making myself at home and so not suffering from paint odor.

Sincerely,
Genevieve Daley.

While I cannot see why the Village should intercede in the business of the school district, they being entirely separate institutions, I will still say: This is a fine plan — IF THE MAJORITY WANT IT.

Should any of these, or any other plan be decided by the Village Council without a voice of the majority as to their opinions? Should the voters right of expression through the ballot be taken from them in this instance?

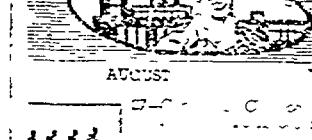

Is this business deemed as a duty of the Village Council? I, as a citizen, feel that these questions should be brought out in the open and answered by the citizens themselves. Yes, if you please, by a vote on the issues and whatever way the majority goes, let us all pitch in and do it.

The money received from the Downs is paid to the Village of Northville in a generous way services rendered by the Village. No clique or minority group could decide how it will be spent. It is a problem fit for the citizens to decide. It is inevitable that individuals in the U.S.A. have always envied and wished their communities could envy in this instance.

Finally, the Village may have a school building later. That has not been decided to be built out. If they do not agree with my opinion, then that is their right. I believe that the voters have elected them by the rule of the majority in a voice vote of the people. All of them could have voted for it, and seem to be doing a very good job of thinking for the area. I believe that an educated citizenry is a valuable asset to any community. I hope to speak with the editor again about this. Give them the chance to tell the Council of their ideas through the ballot. You in turn do your duty.

CONSOLIDATION OF HOUSING FOR STATE VETERAN AGENCIES

Because of curtailment in the personnel of the State Office of Veterans' Affairs, space became available in the building at 411 W. Michigan Avenue, Lansing, which housed that agency. As a consequence, the Michigan-Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees moved its personnel from the Cadillac Square Building, Detroit, to the Office of Veterans' Affairs location.

The United Spanish War Veterans, who have been located in the State Office Building on Walnut street, Lansing, also moved into the building John Stromack, Jr., Department Adjutant, is in charge of the United Spanish War Veterans' offices.

Lawrence J. LaJone, Executive Secretary for the Michigan Veterans' Trust Fund Board of Trustees, is in charge of that agency's offices in the new location. Elmer J. Hanna was recently appointed head of the Office of Veterans' Affairs.

All three agencies may be reached through the same telephone switchboard. The telephone numbers are 2-1221, 2-1222, 2-1223, 2-2526, or 5-8144, extensions 824 and 825.

This consolidation of housing of agencies serving the veteran affords much closer co-operation of effort as well as effecting a financial saving.

Ingenious Inventor

Already holding over 100 patents in the field of facsimile radio transmission, New York inventor has granted more. It covers a new principle of a continuous synchronized mechanism for keeping both facsimile transmitter and recorder in perfect synchronization. The mechanism can be operated from any legal power line or a portable battery such as used in airplanes or ships.

Outdoor Sport

A Twentieth Century Fund survey reports a definite trend toward greater interest in outdoor sports. Over a million dollars has been received in admissions for one baseball world series, and the gate receipts at a single world championship football game have exceeded 2.5 million dollars. On the average, 12 million people pay 40 million dollars weekly to watch football during the season. While annual horse and dog racing receipts are twice as large.

NEWS AND NOTES OF COMMUNITY INTEREST

CAPACITY CROWD HEARS PROFESSIONAL SINGER

From the Republican - News and St. Ignace Enterprise comes the following item of local interest about Rev. W. Leslie Williams who for several years was pastor at the local Methodist Church.

A capacity crowd at the Methodist church Sunday morning were treated to an impromptu rendition of two appropriate numbers by a noted vocal artist who sang following the morning service. Jack Gill, with Mrs. Williams, a noted organist, and their two daughters are here visiting his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. R. C. G. Williams, and brother, the Rev. W. Leslie Williams and family. The Williams are vacationing at Silver Sands. The visiting vocalist, who has sung with Nelson Eddy on radio shows and has appeared in numerous pictures, is a professional singer and his renditions Sunday morning were thoroughly enjoyed as an unexpected pleasure by the large congregation at the service.

MARRIES COUPLE

Rev. E. E. Rossow, of the local Lutheran Church recently united in marriage Beverly Joyce Moore of Detroit and Robert William Kuschel of Milford.

Witnessing the ceremony were a close friend of the bride, Barbara Ann Stinson of Detroit and the groom's brother, Glenn Kuschel of Milford.

Remedy Given for Black Beetle Bug

Several Northville families this summer have been bothered by a small black beetle which has invaded their households.

One Northville housewife, desiring to know the name of the insect and how to rid her home of the pest, wrote to Michigan State College and sent a sample to have it analyzed.

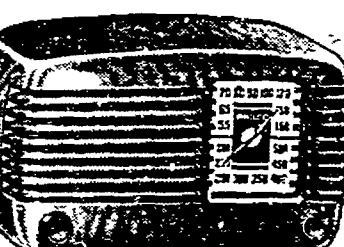

Prof. E. I. McDaniel of the department of entomology claims that the bug is the adult of the strawberry root weevil who likes to frequent houses seeking moisture and warm place. He recommends a solution of white arsenic or paris green bait or a sodium arsenite bait to combat the pests.

The post office, bank, and stores will be closed next Monday and operate on the holiday schedule applicable to Labor Day.

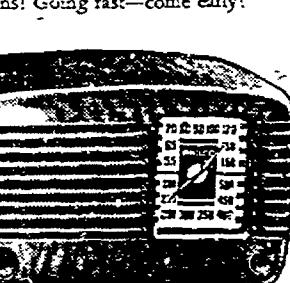

Mrs. Sidney Mengé and son, Sidney of Thayer Blvd. returned this week from a stay at their newly purchased home in Fort Myers, Fla.
