Church Project Wins Commendation

Speaking at the School and Church Night service held in the local Presbyterian Church Sunday evening, Dr. Jay J. Sherman of Wayne University, congratulated the Northville Community and the Presbyterian Church on its venture of a corporate service for parents and teachers "to renew the vows of their common calling." Dr. Sherman stated that this was the first meeting of the kind of which he had knowledge and recommended it for the start of each school year.

George H. Stalker, Dean of the School Board, welcomed the new teachers on behalf of the community. The Scripture Lesson on the various "gifts of learning" was read by the Superintendent, Russell H. Amerman. A splendid address on the relationship of the school and the church was given by Dr. Sherman. Both the fellowship supper and the service following was well attended by local townspeople and teachers.

Plagued by ill luck and the oaks of the game, Northville High lost to Log Cabin High School Friday night 6-0. During the first quarter both teams played in enemy territory when on the offensive and in the second half Log Cabin capitalizing on fumbles and the breaks that came their way made the only score of the game but failed to kick.

The third and fourth quarters found both teams within reasonable scoring distance but in each case were forced back to the center of the field. Both teams showing short periods of ground gaining tactics both through the line and by end runs and passing.

Between halves the local fans were treated to the first public appearance of the Northville High School Band with their new uniforms, caps, etc. The band formed a boxed "C" for Clawson and an "N" for Northville under the direction of the drum major, and Director Leola G. Lee.

The official opening of the station, licensed to broadcast on 1600 kilocycle wavelength, with 1000 watts of power day and night, has been set for this coming Sunday, October 5.

WHRV is a member of the American Broadcasting Company, whose rapid recent gains in popular favor, as revealed by listener polls, was reported in NEWSWEEK for Sept. 15. Since the transmitter is only a few miles from Northville, reception in this area should be clear and sharp. As a matter of fact, the point has been checked by WHRV engineers who have been making spot-tests throughout the area for several weeks, using mobile equipment.

The station is owned and operated by Huron Valley Broadcasters, Inc. Its principals, James F. Hopkins and Richard A. Connell, were for 19 years associated in WJBK, Detroit, of which they recently disposed. The combined studio and transmitter building, now nearing completion is located on Packard Road, just east of US 23.

To the Editor
 Atascadero, Calif

 Northville Record, Gentlemen:

Read in the September 19th issue, Northville Record the "solution" of the "Old Street Car Mystery" apparently clarified by Mr. K. Starkweather of Plymouth. He states that subject picture was taken in 1901 near the Phoenix Mills trestle which may well be the case. Mr. Starkweather further states that "its first service" extended from Wayne to East Ann Arbor Trail, and the railroad tracks in Plymouth and "after the turn of the Century" it was extended to Northville.

The "extension" I find peculiar due to the fact that I have discovered upon the flyleaf of an 1883 German Grammar, the following pencilled notation in the hand of my father who was then a Northville High school student: "First street car up main street (Northville) October 19, 1899 at 4 o'clock p. m."

He verbally supplements this information with the recollection that the car arriving from Plymouth was forced to "back up" to that township on its return trip until a "W" was constructed (sometime around 1900) located at Huron avenue, Northville. You take it from here.

Non-Partisan News Letter

Unlike the weather about which we talk constantly, yet never do anything about Michigan rural health is due for improvement.

Among Michigan rural youths, rejections for military service were higher than among city youths. Some of their physical defects were due—of all things—to faulty nutrition.

Because farmers have received only about one-tenth of the national income during the past decade or so, the following conditions prevailed in Michigan farm homes as of 1940:

Less than one-third had running water—a simple convenience that was available to 97 out of 100 Michigan city homes. Only one out of six farm homes had an indoor toilet, or a bath tub or shower. The city average was nine out of ten homes. One out of four farm homes had central heating, one of seven cooked with gas or electricity. One of eight had mechanical refrigeration. One of four had a telephone. In fact, in only one county—Washtenaw—did as many as one-half of the farm homes have a telephone.

Furthermore, better pay and a trend to specialization have combined to attract new doctors to cities. Michigan city doctors, for example, had 2,732 persons per active physician in 1943 (a war-time year) as compared with 823 persons per doctor in Washtenaw county. Deficient lack of modern hospitals in rural areas also contributed to

MARINE BAND TO TOUR... U. S. marine corps band, here arrayed on the steps of the Capitol building in Washington, will play 62 engagements during its annual concert tour scheduled for towns and cities in the Midwest and Pacific Northwest. Under the direction of Maj. William F. Santelmann, the band each year attempts to cover a different section of the country on its concert tour.

What's happening to change this picture? Well, two things among others:

First, price inflation has set a new high mark for farm income. Cash receipts in 1946 were 208 per cent above the average for 1935 to 1939, according to Uncle Sam's department of agriculture. Farmers came out of the war with cash in the bank. Many of them are depreciating their homes.

Second, Michigan physicians, members of the Michigan State Medical Society, have relied upon their shovels—to use a phrase—and a group of us something about lagging rural health. The first state rural health conference was held a few days ago at Michigan State College under auspices of the medical society. Cooperative agencies included the Michigan State Grange and Michigan Farm Bureau.

Out of this conference came several constructive steps.

Medical scholarships will be awarded to students who will practice in rural communities for a minimum period of three to five years. Local health care is to be established to assist construction and implement all programs contributing to the health of the people. Medical associations are to be recruited to assist factors in their actual work. Medical and hospital insurance benefits will be extended to Michigan rural residents by the Michigan Medical Services Blue Cross. The first community-wide enrollment is set for St. Johns Canton county in October.

Dr. Emory W. Morris, Battle Creek, president of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation and Dr. A. C. Funtzberg, dean of the U of M. Medical School, recommended that rural hospitals provide office facilities for doctors, nurses, dentists and public health officials.

The above program is a harbinger of what is coming. Better health for Michigan farm folk is on the way.

PONTIAC

A fine car made finer

Lasts long... and lasts well!

The records prove that no car lasts longer than a Pontiac—but this is only half the story! For Pontiac continues, throughout the years, to render fine performance—to give its owner the same thrill he felt when he first took the wheel. Owners who have driven their Pontiacs for five, seven, and even ten years will testify that their cars still give complete satisfaction in every way. For Pontiac is a GOOD car—designed and built to stay on the job. This is a basic Pontiac virtue—and is true of Pontiac year after year. So regardless of when you expect to get your next car, get a Pontiac. It will not only last long—it will last well!

DUE TO OUR UNFILLED ORDERS ON HAND, you may experience some delay in getting a new Pontiac. Place your order now to avoid further delay. In the meantime, let us keep your present car operating at top efficiency.

the twelve months of 1946 accounted for 33.1 per cent of the total switch-

A long bus that can turn short corners has been patented by a Cal-

Front and rear axles are fixed, and it is powered with its own en-the center joint through a hydraulic system, controlled by the steering

Hay Cured in Silos By Electrical Motor

Mechanical Method of Saving New Hay Crop
Although the barn mow still is more extensively used today than any other place for the mechanical curing of hay and other forage crops, it lately has been receiving some competition from other farm structures—namely the silo.
Use of silos for curing forage crops is gaining favor with farmers who do not have the space required for installation of necessary equipment in their one-story barns, as well as those who desire to use their mows for other purposes. The accompanying illustration shows a typical silo hay curing installation.
In the latest of many newer farm electrification developments, a center the hay through vents in the walls and passes into a vertical chamber which extends from top to bottom of the silo. It is exhausted from the structure by means of a fan, located above the entrance. The cost of curing hay electrically by this method with a 5 or 7 1/2 horsepower motor is about $1 per ton the same as in the case of mow systems. Tests show that the quality of hay, cured in this way also equals that cured in the barn, being worth from $3 to $10 more per ton in feeding value than that dried by the sun.

KNOW YOUR BREED
Dunloggin Mistress
La Princess

A new record price for Holstein-Friesian cows was received at a Cary, Ill., sale, when Dunloggin Mistress La Princess brought $2,500 to her purchaser, Elmwood Farms, Lee Forest, Ill. She was purchased by Ween Farms, Waukegan, Wis., which later resold her.

at a private sale to Rander Bros., Gladbrook, Ill.
Her record of 1,647 pounds of fat and 27,478 pounds milk, 3.8 per cent, made in 355 days, three times daily milking, established a new Illinois Holstein record. She was selected as the Reserve All-American aged cow in 1946.

U. S. Farmer Is Best

Through improved breeding methods, the farmer today is raising finer livestock than ever before. Through modern medicines, he has a type of on-the-farm control of disease and epidemic such as never before has been possible. This is the view recently expressed by Dr. Ward L. Beebe, authority on animal health care.

All the more remarkable is the fact that the farmer has accomplished this despite a ratio of only one veterinarian engaged in farm work for more than 25,000 farm animals.

Outdoor Sport
A Twentieth Century Fund survey reports a definite trend toward greater interest in outdoor sports. Over a million dollars has been received in admissions for one baseball world series, and the gate receipts at a single world championship prize fight have exceeded 2.5 million dollars. On the average, 13 million people pay 40 million dollars weekly to watch football during the season, while annual horse and dog racing receipts are twice as large.

Efficiency, Large Farm, Often Key to Good Income
Could you use $15,000? That's a pretty easy question to answer, isn't it?
—John Doneth, farm management specialist at Michigan State college, points out that some farmers have made that much more net income than other farmers over the last eight years.
Records kept by the MSC farm management department from 1938 to 1945 show that farmers made more money by having their farm businesses more efficient and larger. Well operated large farms (averaging 244 tillable acres) paid the operator an average labor income of $3,476 while poorly operated large farms only paid $1,674. Even small farms (averaging 86 acres) that were well operated paid an average annual labor income of $1,569. This shows the value of efficient operation.

Times ahead may not be as favorable for farmers as during the period when these records were kept. Changes in the farm program will be necessary to help keep incomes up. Increasing crop yields and livestock production are two of the best ways of doing this. Changes to be justified, should still pay even if prices decline some.

Doneth lists the following questions that farmers should ask themselves in planning for future farm operations.

1. What opportunities are there to increase the gross income?
2. Will these changes result in better use of labor, machinery and buildings?
3. Will crop yields and livestock productivity rates be maintained or improved?
4. Will the amount of income per dollar of expense be increased by making the proposed changes?

Sulfathiazole Used Against Calf Scours
Calf scours treatment with vitamin pills or tablets does no good. That's the latest word on the subject from Cornell University. Those in charge of the Cornell work say: "Studies involving approximately 60 heifer calves of various dairy breeds show that supplementing a normal diet with capsules or tablets containing vitamins A, D and E, ascorbic acid and several of the B vitamins did not reduce the incidence or severity of scours."

Remove 2,4-D Residue From Spray Equipment
Injury to plants, such as stunted growth and reduced crop yields, may result when spray guns for insecticides and fungicides which contain 2,4-D residue. For an effective means of eliminating 2,4-D spray residue, use hot water and trisodium phosphate. Dissolve trisodium phosphate in water, then fill to capacity with water under boiling and ammonia to 1000-1500 psi per quart of 4% solution.

Farm Hints That Pay in Better Products
The Cornell results are in line with earlier tests of vitamins for calf scours in Michigan and Ohio. Even though the use of vitamins lacks encouragement, there is promise in another direction—the salts drugs. Sulfathiazole has been found helpful. Sulfathiazole, one of the faster acting sulfas, which has been used against dysentery in humans, also has been used successfully in a calf scours treatment. In tests, a combination of sulfathiazole with sodium bicarbonate was more effective than either sulfathiazole or sodium bicarbonate alone.

Don't use brack water for dye dyes. Use paper tote instead. When brack water is used pieces of the fiber break off and get into the wool. These fail to dye color when dyed. "Who does?" The sheep man.

Close Knitting

When sharp winds blow, fabric construction can offer wind protection. A closely woven fabric slows up the flow of air whereas a loosely constructed material lets air pass through freely. A person may feel warmer in a closely woven cotton coat or jacket than in a heavy knitted wool sweater on a cold windy day.

Issued Good Conduct Cards to Hunters

Seeking to encourage better relationship between hunters and farmer land owners, the Wayne County Sportsman's Club has issued cards to its members to present to land owners introducing the member-hunter as a sportsman and gentleman who will respect property rights and assuring the land owner that the Club will be responsible for any damage done by the member up to $100.00.

The cards will bear the name, address and membership number of the hunter, and the address of the club secretary who is to be notified of any damage done.

This step was taken by the club officers in an effort to counteract the wave of vandalism and hoodlumism that featured the last small game season and caused many farmers to justifiably close their lands to hunting.

The W.C.S.C. officers believe that it is not the organized sportsman who does the damage but the irresponsible unattached hoodlum and they feel that this new farmer-hunter relationship plan will go far to prove this to the farmer land owner. They feel that the future of our wildlife conservation rests upon complete cooperation between the farmer and hunter and take this step to show good faith on their part as well as to seek lands upon which their members may hunt.

The Club mailing address is P. O. Box 96, River Rouge 18, Michigan.

Need License to Operate Scooter

An increasing number of individuals are applying for an operator's license for the purpose of operating motor scooters or motor bicycles. Some of these applicants have never driven a car and desire a license only that they may be able to legally ride a motor scooter.

Police Chief Denton has received the following instructions making it no longer necessary to be able to manipulate a car in order to secure a license to operate a motor scooter:

"Upon applying for license to operate a motor scooter the applicant will be given the written, oral, vision, color perception and hearing test in the usual manner.

If the applicant has not previously been licensed, a road test shall be given to observe the ability of the applicant to ride the scooter. This shall be done by directing the applicant on a predetermined route with the examiner following in a car.

If the applicant cannot drive a car but can safely operate a motor scooter or motor bicycle he shall be issued a restricted license limiting the licensee to operate only the latter vehicles.

Whenever such licensee wishes to operate an automobile he shall return to the examining bureau and take a road test."

Guests at Exchange Wednesday, were Bill Elliott and Elmer Houston. Delegates Merritt Mealer and Lee Eaton presented interesting reports of their attendance at the program of the national convention of Exchange at Cincinnati, O., last Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Several projects were presented for the consideration of the club.

Lutheran Church

The Northville Lutheran Church, Detroit, and a former pastor of St. Paul's Church, will talk. He will speak on the occasion of the ingathering of special offerings for St. Paul's proposed building program. On the afternoon of the same day at 3 p. m. Rev. Alvin Scannute, pastor of Unity Church, Detroit, will be the speaker at a Reunion Service of all confirmed at St. Paul's including both present and former members.

The following pastors have served the church during its fifty years of existence: Rev. F. J. Reinhardt, 1898-1898; Rev. M. Philipp, 1898-1902; Rev. L. Muelleg, 1902-1909; Rev. E. F. Maniske, 1909-1913; Rev. E. Englehart, 1913-1914; Rev. Earl Lorenz, 1914-1922; Rev. G. H. Peters, 1922-1923; Rev. C. Eissfeldt, 1923-1925; Rev. O. G. L. Riess, 1925-1928; Rev. L. Eckstaedt, 1928-1936; Rev. E. E. Rossow, 1937-.

The congregation has grown so rapidly in recent years that the present structure is no longer large enough to meet the needs of the community. Therefore plans for a new building unit have been under consideration for some time past. An additional acre of property was recently purchased by the congregation, thus affording ample space for parking, recreation and future building expansion.

Movics are being made of the entire anniversary celebration for the purpose of preserving for the records this golden jubilee. Henry Schmutz has charge of the affair as General Chairman.

Canfield presented information concerning the Community Building Fund.

Mineral Output

In 1939 physical production of minerals in the United States was almost four times as much as Russia, our nearest competitor, and larger than the combined output of Russia, Germany, the British Isles, Canada, Venezuela, France and Japan.

Revolutionary Washer

"Revolutionary" is the term applied to a new automatic washing machine to come off the production line. Containing only 30 moving parts against 60 to 200 in other machines, the new low-cost washer is said to be the first that can be operated in a home without a water heat.

Virus Proteins

In cancer, one of the great killers in this modern age, no less than three virus proteins have been recognized as pathological agents.

Soft Corn Requires Special Attention Several Methods Given For Profitable Feeding

Saving soft corn will be a problem facing many farmers this year. Much of the crop went in so late that frost became a factor in maturity, as well as in winter handling of the corn.

Next to chopping and feeding green, one of the best ways to get full value from soft corn is to cut immature cobs in the silo or pasture them off with cattle, hogs or sheep. Capper's Farmer points out:

Another method used by many growers in the last big soft corn year, 1945, was to build emergency cribs five to six feet wide. The farmers set two rows of poles in the ground, wired the tops together to keep the cribs from spreading, and fastened woven wire or slat cribbing on the inside of the posts. These cribs, built in east and west directions, took best advantage of prevailing winds.

Farmers in many northern areas where corn is likely to be caught by frost before it is mature, regularly cut up large quantities and cure-it as fodder. Ears later are husked by hand or with a shredder.

Most hybrid-corns are stiff stalked and have a good root system. They will stand with few stalks left into the winter. Since ears will dry with less spoilage on a standing stalk, many farmers prefer to let hogs, cattle, or sheep harvest the crop.
